The "New York Times" of May 27, 1959, page 23 column 1, contained an item captioned "Mrs. ROOSEVELT Aids Integration" which reflected that Mrs. ROOSEVELT on May 26, 1959, appealed for support of the pro-integrationist SCEF.

According to this article, she told a fund raising meeting at the Hotel Delmonico that she thought that the SCEF was probably the only organization in the south where people of different colors can work together and appealed to those in attendance to support it both spiritually and financially.

The article concluded, noting that HUBERT T. DELANY, former Domestic Relations Justice, appealed for funds and raised more than $17,260 from the 200 persons present.

The "New York Post" of May 27, 1959, page 18, column 2, contained an item reflecting similar information as that above.
