ANATOLI YAKOVLEV departed from New York for Des Moines on this date by train, traveling alone. He arrived at Des Moines the following day and his activities while in that city are set out in the report of Special Agent Robert E. Dowd dated February 25, 1946 at Des Moines in

the instant case. This report reflects that he was met and escorted to the Hotel Ft. Des Moines by JAMES WALLACE and CHARLES F. RANSOM. He attended the Eighth Annual National Farm Institute in session at that hotel on February 15th and 16th, 1946. He read a speech allegedly prepared by STEPAN CHOUNDENKO who was unable to attend. He made no contacts other than those at the Institute and departed from Des Moines on February 16, 1946. RANSOM accompanied him to the train upon his departure.

The Des Moines Field Office files reflect that RANSOM is a member of the National Federation for Constitutional Liberties, the Civil Liberties Union, and is an editorial writer for the Des Moines Register and Tribune. The Chicago Field Division subsequently advised that YAKOVLEV made no contacts in Chicago.

ANATOLI YAKOVLEV departed from New York for Des Moines on this date by train, traveling alone. He arrived at Des Moines the following day and his activities while in that city are set out in the report of Special Agent Robert E. Dowd dated February 25, 1946 at Des Moines in the instant case. This report reflects that he was met and escorted to the Hotel Ft. Des Moines by JAMES WALLACE and CHARLES F. RANSOM. He attended the Eighth Annual National Farm Institute in session at that hotel on February 15th and 16th, 1946. He read a speech allegedly prepared by STEPAN CHOUNDENKO who was unable to attend. He made no contacts other than those at the Institute and departed from Des Moines on February 16, 1946. RANSOM accompanied him to the train upon his departure.

The Des Moines Field Office files reflect that RANSOM is a member of the National Federation for Constitutional Liberties, the Civil Liberties Union, and is an editorial writer for the Des Moines Register and Tribune. The Chicago Field Division subsequently advised that YAKOVLEV made no contacts in Chicago.
