Mr. Jeff Young, Investigation Branch

Re: Peoples Temple

Dear Mr. Young:

This confirms our telephone conversations of June 26 and June 28, 1978, in which I informed you that as of Saturday, June 24, transmissions emanating from WB6 MID/8R3 in Jonestown, Guyana, have been obstructed. You informed me at that time that both stations in Guyana,1) WB6 MID/8R3, Jonestown, and 2) WB6 MNH/8R1, Georgetown are in fact legitimate operating stations in good standing and since they are not within the borders of the United States, they are not within the jurisdiction of the Federal Communications Commission (F.C.C.).

Since our conversations of June 26, I have received further clarification of the nature of the interference. Each time amateur radio station WB6 MID/8R3 has tried to utilize services of the Maritime Mobile Net (14,313 Kilohertz) for phone-patch traffic, the operator has been denied service. He has been informed each time by a man who called himself a "Net Coordinator" that the Net could not and would not help him because they had been informed by the F.C.C. that WB6 MID/8R3 was operating illegally. They were further informed that a letter would be forthcoming from the F.C.C. verifying this.

You further informed me that no such interference was authorized by the F.C.C. and that the interference was not caused by the F.C.C.

My clients (Peoples Temple), operators of these Guyanese stations, are participants in a church Agricultural and Medical mission. They have used the Maritime Mobile Net over the past several years in locating and contacting medical doctors to assist them in medical emergencies. There are no telephones available into this remote South American jungle region. The health and safety of well over 1,000 mission residents and the success of their medical outreach program to the entire northwest region of Guyana are seriously jeopardized by being deprived of this vital amateur radio service. It is the only means of communication for emergency, life and death medical traffic.

We would appreciate your informing the members of the Maritime Mobile Net that stations WB6 MID/8R3 and WB6 MNH/8R1 are in fact legally operating stations and also convey this to the Net Coordinators who are selecting out and blocking their phone-patch requests so they will understand that they have been misinformed about the status of the two stations.

Please be informed that Peoples Temple is hereby registering a complaint with the F.C.C. for these interferences with their transmissions.

Yours truly,

Marshall R. Bentzman

TRAFFIC

Chuck Clark, K4ZN

International third-party traffic

This topic has been touched on several times recently in this department, but it seems that more needs to be said. The FCC, as well as several Amateur Radio groups, have felt it necessary to call to mind the rules governing third-party traffic handled between amateur stations of different nations because of abuses by too many amateurs, and because of the importance of a clean record when Amateur Radio's frequency allocations are up for grabs in 1979.

The rule in question is quite simple and categorical. It is not couched in obscure legal jargon. Article 41 of the General Radio Regulations says simply, "It is absolutely forbidden for amateur stations to be used for transmitting international communications on behalf of third parties." A third party, the FCC adds, is any person other than the control operators of the stations in contact.

International law provides two exceptions to this sweeping rule: "All radio stations are obligated to accept with absolute priority, distress calls and messages regardless of their origin, to reply in the same manner to such messages, and immediately to take such action in regard thereto as may be required." The second exception is that special agreements may be made between countries to permit the handling of third-party traffic.

As mentioned last month, similar suggestions have been made in the past, but this one seems to have stronger support than previous ones, and, if adopted worldwide, just might work out. At any rate, the FCC wants to know what U.S. amateurs think of this proposal.

As for communication with countries with third-party agreements, it's an everyday occurrence for those of us who operate on the HF bands, and so it's important that we know which countries have such agreements. Here's the list of countries with which the U.S. and Canada have third-party traffic agreements.

U.S. has agreements with: Argentina, Barbados (only U.S. stations operating with calls like K4ZN/8P6), Bolivia, Brazil, Canada, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, El Salvador, Ghana, Greenland (XP calls only), Guatemala, Guyana, Haiti, Honduras, Israel, Jamaica, Jordan, Liberia, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Paraguay, Peru, Trinidad and Tobago, United Nations (only 4U1ITU in Geneva), Uruguay and Venezuela.

Permitted prefixes: CE, CM, CO, CP, CX, EL, HC, HI, HK, HP, HR, JY, LU, OA, PT, PY, TG, TI, VE, VO, XE, XP, YN, YS, YV, ZP, 4X4, 4Z4, 8R, 9G1, 9Y4.

Canada has agreements with: Bolivia, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Guatemala, Guyana, Honduras, Israel, Mexico, Nicaragua, Peru, Trinidad and Tobago, U.S., Uruguay and Venezuela.

Permitted prefixes: AA, CE, CP, CX, HI, HK, HR, K, N, OA, TG, TI, W, XE, YN, YS, YV, 4X4, 4Z4, 8R, and 9Y4.

Restrictions

All such third-party agreements incorporate restrictions. The exact wording varies from one agreement to another; thus, the agreement made with Canada back in the early 1930s reflects the fact that at that time telegraphy was the ordinary means of party traffic is permitted where "recourse to public electric communications is not justified," and makes no mention of the mail service. All the same, just now it's better to err in that direction than it is to bend the rules by handling traffic of questionable legality.

One group that has come under scrutiny lately is that of missionaries, taking the term in a broad sense to include, besides church people, other volunteers working in the Third World. For these people, separated as they are from their homes, Amateur Radio provides a welcome way to maintain contact with their families, and can be a lifesaver in emergencies, whether the emergencies involve the missionaries themselves or the people with whom they are working.

But, as any genuine missionary organization is chronically short on funds, the temptation can be great to use Amateur Radio also for communications directly concerning the organization's work itself, especially as such work is often in an isolated place where mail comes by oxcart, air mail by carrier pigeon and telegrams by tom-tom. In addition, the non-profit nature of the work may cause some to feel they are not prohibited from using Amateur Radio to pass traffic in connection with the work. It's all right, they feel, because this traffic is not commercial.

But note the third-party agreements and the FCC rules say nothing about whether or not a group is organized for profit, but rather, internationally, whether the message is important enough to justify the use of commercial telecommunication channels, or, domestically, whether the message concerns the regular business affairs of any person.

Granted, there is a gray area here, where some would consider a cablegram or an overseas phone call justified and others would not, but there are also many instances where there is no question. If a $20 phone call saves the caller $200, there's no question that recourse to public communication too, stricter than the administrations of many other nations, because of the size of the U.S. Amateur Radio Service, and because of the large volume of domestic traffic being handled by U.S. amateurs.

As for asking for a clarification from the FCC, don't do it. On previous occasions the FCC's staffers have replied that they think the rule is clear as it stands, couldn't be any clearer. Furthermore, the FCC is already overworked and understaffed and underfinanced, and to make such a clarification would only add to the burden and the expense. For the FCC must follow all the requirements of the Administrative Procedures Act if its ruling is to be legally binding, and what good would an invalid ruling be?

If too many questions are raised on this matter, the FCC might even in frustration decide that the whole question of third party traffic is too much of a nuisance, more trouble than it's worth, and so it would be simpler just to prohibit it entirely. In that way the rule would be clear, which is what the petitioner requested, but certainly not what the petitioner wanted.

WARC-79

With the World Administrative Radio Conference coming up the thought may arise of amending the General Radio Regulations to permit amateur stations in isolated locations to handle third-party traffic, or else to make a special arrangement for missionaries and others in similar work to have their own radio communication service. But don't hold your breath until either happens. To secure passage of either proposal would require a huge selling job.

Many of the frequency-hungry delegates will be more inclined to dump Amateur Radio entirely than to grant it any additional privileges. That's one reason why it's important we scrupulously observe the rules at this time, leaving no doubt that we are a law-abiding group.

A clean record by itself won't mean much

And so, except for life-and-death matters, and except where special agreements have been made between the countries concerned, the rule is simple and clear: absolutely no third-party communications.

This means not only no formal traffic, it means no phone patches. It even means that you may not permit a visitor in your radio room to talk to an amateur in another country, nor may you address a person in the other station's radio room other than the control operator, unless there is a third-party agreement between the two countries.

Only if the visitor to your station is a licensed amateur qualified to operate on the frequency you are using may you allow the visitor to communicate with the other station by turning the control operator's function over to the visitor. It seems stupid to some of us, your columnist included, but it's the law.

Third-party agreements

The first exception, distress traffic, is rare enough that few of us have to make use of it, but it's good to bear in mind. On occasion, operators trying to handle such traffic have been obstructed by lids objecting that, "It's third-party traffic with prohibited countries," and proceeding to cause such interference that communication becomes difficult or impossible, not realizing that they themselves are violating a law, as deliberate interference is always prohibited. In this case there's the aggravating circumstance that they are interfering with distress communications.

Incidentally, paragraph 33 of the Eighth Notice of Inquiry in Docket 20271, the FCC's ongoing preparation for WARC-79, proposes to add a footnote to the table of allocations that would provide for setting aside the top 10 kiloHertz of each HF amateur band worldwide for disaster communication. It would be open to general amateur use at other times.

long-distance telecommunication and directs that important traffic be put on commercial telegraph circuits at the first opportunity. Back then, long-distance phone calls cost much more than telegrams, a coast-to-coast phone call running maybe $12 for three minutes. More recent agreements have no such provisions.

In actual practice, however, the agreements are all much the same, and, since the FCC's ruling in the Eye Bank matter (Docket 19245) back in 1972, international and domestic traffic are for practical purposes governed by the same rules.

Only personal messages may be handled, not business messages, not commercial traffic, except for emergency traffic. And emergency traffic does not mean any traffic in times of emergency, but only such traffic as is necessary for protection of life and property. If it's a message that would otherwise be sent by commercial circuits, it has no place on an amateur net.

Some amateurs are a bit too strict, however, and object to handling traffic where one would otherwise write a letter. The international agreements say that third-services is justified, and such traffic should not go by Amateur Radio.

Such a rule does impose a hardship on workers in remote areas who don't have any available means of telecommunication except Amateur Radio and who are forbidden to use it except for emergencies. The only agreement that makes provision for this is the one between the U.S. and Canada where amateur stations may handle any traffic from persons in isolated places with no other means of telecommunication available, with such messages to be put on the regular public circuits at the first opportunity.

Write to FCC?

Some, faced with this problem, have suggested writing to the FCC to ask for a clarification or for a rule change. As far as changing the rule, the FCC did not make the rule governing international third-party traffic, either the general one prohibiting it entirely or the special agreements between countries permitting it. The FCC has only the responsibility to enforce it as it stands, and has to take a rather strict position on it though, except to make it a little harder fo those who want to take our frequencie What is really needed is something positiv something to make the delegates, in pa ticular those from nations without muc Amateur Radio activity, to want to suppo our Service.

In the past we had the discovery of th value of short waves back in the 1920s, extended-range VHF propagation in th 1930s. We have our ongoing public-servic record, and our efforts to improve and e tend our ability to serve the public are mo important at this time.

To clinch our position, though, a technic break-through would be most helpful fo convincing skeptical delegates that makin frequencies available for amateurs is not waste but an investment. So get smar somebody, please!

DIVERSION

Sirs,

went out except for TV

~~I would like for you to take this opportunity~~
I would like for you to take a few moments out of your busy schedule to read this letter because I am sure that the facts it relates have not been yet brought to your attention. The facts are those surrounding a person named Timothy Stoen, a man whom ~~I know~~ I know to be misrespresenting himself in ~~an effort to damage the organization known~~ an effort to discredit and damage a large human service organization known as Peoples Temple. Mr. Stoen, from what I gather, is currently presenting himself in the role ofanupstanding Chriatian parent who is somehow being deprived of his parental rights by Jim Jones and the PT. Mr. Stoen is not a bad actor but I am afriad he has ~~played this role before~~ misgudged peoples intelligence and ability to remember past ~~theatrical performances he has~~ posturings.

I would like to briefly note several things which I am certain were not a part of Mr. Stoen's "script."

First, I am sure he ~~did not~~ has not revealed that Jim Jones initial involvment with Grace St en came about [redacted] (her husband was at the time in the Mendicino D.A.s office) she would divorce him and publicly state the grounds, first, rather than be made a fool of when he was discovered which would be inevitable. Rev. Jones counseled him for mnay hours, but to no avail.

~~Mr. Stoen then proposed that Grace had an obvious interest in Rev. Jones that~~

It was at this point that Mr. Stoen proposed that Rev. Jones becaome sexually involved with his wife,because, he sated she was obviously interested and he, Stoen, could not fulfill her sexual needs. He said that his position as D.A.,as extrememly important to him, ~~and~~ and a divorce ~~that~~ at that time, wit his "secret life" opened up for the public to see would destroy him. His insistence upon this plan-- which he presented as the only way out of his personal dilemma -- was intense. He pushed for the realtionship ~~to be~~ and ~~made so many veiled and even open threats of suicide that~~ stressed over snd over that "it was the only way out". The veiled threat of suicide was apparent.

However, there was another angle that at the time was not so aparent but which, in retrospect, is evident. Provocateurs are a well known phenomenon on the landscape of social activism. From an analysis of events over a period of time, it has become quite clear that Mr. Stoen [redacted] was also using the opportunity as part of a design to disruptxothe organization. There are several things which point to this conclusion. I will outline ~~them~~ in brief.

Just a case of [illegible]

1. Mr. Stoen has recently made a great "to- do" abouthis supposed ouster from Guyana, when, in fact, there was no issue about his leaving the country at all. But his "outrage" rings a slighlty sour note when one discovers that several years ago, in East Germany, he pulled the same act., ~~He managed to "refusing to leave that country when in fact he was not~~ making a very loud noise about something that was not even an isuue to the East Germans— his presence in ~~the~~ East Berlin, ~~Interestingly enough, in all the years~~ in an attempt to embarrass that government. Interestingly enough, in all the years that he was with the church, as a supposed ~~[illegible]~~ he never once mentioned that experience, or even that he had been in that part of the world. It would appear that the "outraged American act" is a standard part of his repitoire. and when he every stated he had never been in that part of the world

"radical" and Mr. Stoen was

2, On yet another occasion, Mr. Stoen was the only person who knew that Jim Jones was going to be in a certain place at a particular time. He was insistent that Rev. Jones ~~be at that place~~ [illegible], although Rev. Jones was going to cancel ~~[illegible]~~ because he didnt see it as all that important. At the time, Mr. Stoen's intense, ~~almost passionate argument for Jones to be there~~ [illegible] was most puzzling.

NOT FOIA DELETIONS

E-1-B-2a (over)

Now, from other facts that have come to light, it is clear that he was actually trying to "set Rev. Jones' up". The office where Mr. Stoen urged Jones to go was a ~~fictitious~~ fictitious address-- no such office number existed-- just a very dark corridor ~~in a frequented part of a large building, in~~ in the factory d strict of another city. It was Stoen who arranged the "appointment" in the first place.

I would not bother you with all this had it not been so clear that Mr. Sto. is now trying to palm off his ~~pious~~ pious role ~~in such a blatant~~ in such a blatant fashion. I think his current campaign to get "his" child back is merely part of this broader effort to destroy a very fine, outspoken leader. ~~He~~ Stoen well knows and has always known of the deep attachment and love Rev. Jones has for ~~his son, John~~ Jones' son, John. To those of us who, although not members of his organization, have nevertheless seen the two together, the ~~physical~~ exact physical resenblence and more significantly perhaps, the warm, close father- son realtionship is unmistakeable. Stoen cannot be unaware that to take this child ~~from his biological father would kill Rev. Jones~~ from Rev. Jones, his biological father, would kill ~~h~~ Jones. I cannot believe he does not know that and is acting with a very cruel design. ~~If he didn't know that, he ought to have~~ And, if indeed he did not know this, then he ought to have. Any sensitive human being would.

Done Lilly 3/19/78

Dear President Carter:

Our church has established a mission/community of over 1000 people of all races in the interior of Guyana, under the leadership of Rev. Jim Jones. We are pursuing a co-operative lifestyle as a kind of confessing community, according to the Acts of the Apostles, and live by Christ's commandment to feed the hungry and house the homeless.

We are engaged in practical projects centered around agriculture and livestock development, and are building much good will, showing the best of the American character (practicality, industriousness, neighborliness), and helping to eradicate the "Ugly American" and "Yankee" stereotypes among the local people which have been such an obstacle to Hemispheric co-operation. We have won countless no of friends, and have been most praiseworthy of your Administration's efforts towards better U.S.-Caribbean and Latin American relations. The government of Guyana has been most friendly to us, and it is clear that our presence here is a healthy factor towards continued improvement of U.S.-Guyana relations.

In addition, thousands of amateur radio operators in the United States are also aware and sympathetic to of our work (Rev. Jones makes contacts nightly on the band), as well as many local government ministers and U.S. officials who have visited us here. We have been recently praised for our work by the World Council of Churches, as well as by many civic, religious and governmental officials, both locally, and in the United States.

You may be aware, however, that reactionary elements within the United States -- from the same quarters as those who have tried to sabotage your efforts to make the Panama Canal Treaty a reality -- have conducted a relentless campaign against us, that has included efforts by various governemt agencies to harass us. Our mail has been tampered with; we have been reliably informed the IRS has initiated efforts against U.S. and we have received formal notice which has confirmed there is some new harassment in this area; Social Security checks were withheld from our almost 250 senior residents here (though the situation is now under control because of your office intervention), and various schemes have been engineered, including attempts to pressure Congressmen and State Department officials to collaborate in a very strange form in the attacks and harassment. Just recently, the FCC has begun a form of harassment by dredging up some issue that was a minor technicality and was resolved over a year ago. ~~tried to cut off our only means of communication~~ --amateur radio-- by dredging up a situation that was resolved a year ago, when it arose. The efforts have one purpose: to destroy our work and the good will we have been building up. We regard the whole thing as politically motivated, and an indirect attack on your Administration, as well as upon this small nation that is trying to build a co-operative society out of the shambles of a long, painful colonial past.

It is difficult for us to understand why something cannot be done to protect us from these vicious efforts. How much can people be expected to bear? We need to be able to be free to pursue our work, to grow food, extend medical services, to educate children, to build homes -- the campaign against us is disrupting and undermining our work, diverting our funds into legal expenses, making it most difficult to function.

END

Finally, With so much being expended by our government to safeguard human rights in various nations, it is ironic that efforts origninating within the United States that would endanger the human rights of American citizens trying to do good for our country, would be an area of concern!

It is our desire to move forward in a progressive direction to build bridges of understanding, and in this we feel we are acting in the highest interests of both our host nation here (which, although socialistic, is pursuing an independent, non-aligned course, and wants to be on friendly terms with the United States), and our American homeland.

END pick up here

We wish to make you aware, again, of this serious situation, and we appeal to you to protect our community and our efforts of good will, from the kind of schemes and undermining activities that have make it difficult for us to serve to our fullest capacity. We have made an impact here for the good intentions and helpfulness of the American people, and should efforts against us succeed, it would reflect very badly on the United States, needless to say.

It is our desire to be of service to the ideals of brotherhood and human service which are at the heart of our faith, and which we have see given a very high priority in your presidency. We look to you, Mr. President, as a man who can do something to ameliorate our situation. Thank you very much for your concern. (Rg. from JJ, etc.)

Insert #1:

I would also like to make special mention of an incident that took place at our San Francisco headquarters church on March 8th that was most disturbing to us. A U.S. Government automobile (Lic. F-612658, California) parked behind our church, and one of the inhabitants proceeded to extensively photograph our church from several different angles. This was profoundly alienating to us, serving no purpose except to harass.

Furthermore, With regard to the IRS 'auditing' procedures: many of our members are completely 'fed up' with this obvious harassment. Friends have told us that they ~~are tempted to just lose all~~ have all but completely lost faith in the integrity of governmental institutions becuase of such blatantly ~~xxxxxxx~~ abusive prodedures, attacking the constitutional rights of literally thousands of people. Hundreds of people have told us not to even bother to protest these actions: that there is just no use. We haven't lost faith, and we will continue to demand integrity from our governmental institutions. These IRS activities are preposterous, especially in light of the fact that for many years our members have restricted themselves to asking only for a standard 10% deduction for contributions, though many were entitled by law to more. Our policy (instiuted by Rev. Jones) that we ask for no more than 10%-no matter how much we have contributed,- was even mentioned admiringly in the press, as a testimony to our consideration of not wanting to ~~claim more~~ take more of our rightful claims in light of the general needs of the nation's general health, educational and welfare needs. Some of our members have followed this policy for as long as ten years. Our people have concluded in town forum meeting that for the no of years that we've been entitled to more deduction as well as our churches these. I am sure you understand. It has already been decided that if the harassment doesn't stop because all we are trying to do is to help with your efforts to support peace and goodwill and understanding.

So though we have done nothing wrong, we are now forced to pay for legal counsel to fight these reprehensible actions being undertaken by the IRS against us, as part of the efforts cited above. The feeling among many of our members now is such that, though we haven't received in our tax returns what we could have by our 10% policy, we will try to collect that money if we continue to be harassed, if only to recover some of our legal costs. These efforts against us, we are convinced, have one purpose: to destroy our work (CONTINUE WITH TEXT)

INSERT #2:

A factor behind much of the harassment may revolve around our church's communal (some would say 'socialistic') lifestyle and organization. But it would be outrageous and ridiculous for anyone to seriously argue that efforts against us for this reason could possibly be justified, if only for the fact that our government has supported nations such as Israel which practice communal and socialistic practices (kibbutzim), to say nothing of socialist regimes ~~that we~~ the US supports that are not ~~particularly~~ at all friendly to the ~~United States~~ capitalism such as Somalia. The US has even normalized the relations to China that calls the US imperialist. There has been not time that we have ever said a/t about the US no matter what our hurts have been or we have victimized we have been by this horrible conspiracy.

But, in view of the good work we are doing, the efforts we are expending that are helping to ease international tensions, efforts against us can only be looked upon as pernicious, and counter-productive to America's best interests. We should be receiving official support rather than this harassment.

Letter to Carter:

We are very tired and have now been the subject of harassment of several agencies of government. First it was Social Security, which through your intervention has been correct, but now it is The IRS, The Treasury department, and now theFCC are trying to cut our lifeline. These same agencies which are out to get us ane the ones that would destroy a populiat President like yourself. Every night on ham radio we build the Carter administration by praising the forward strides you have made throughout the world. We do not understand why the FCC would want this good will cut off.

Radical terrorist elements which defected from our church when we would not follow their posture, in our more idealistic days are now out to destroy our organization. Challange one Mike Cartmell, and one Jim Cobb--ask them, did they not make ammunition for weapons, until we called a halt to it, in an attempt to try to provoke our organization into violence.

We are 1000 Americans strong here, trying to save US dollars and build a beautiful cooperative model which portrays the American in an new image--not as the "ugly American". Even the Soviet press has recognized whay kind of [redacted] program we have iniated. I don't believe they will stand by and ignore the kind of persecution we have recently undergone by the IRS, and FCC--both of which have tried to reach thousands of miles off US soil to the [redacted] Guyana, a country abundant in resources and potential. We cannot believe you would want to [redacted] see this kind of endeavor destroyed. We certainly would not want to see this bureaucratic harassment blown into an international incident--which it has all potential of being.

Dear Jimmy,

We at PT have been the subject of harssment by several agencies of government, and are rapidly reaching the point at which patience is exhausted,Radical terrorist elements which defected from our church when we refused to follow their violent course have been orchestaring a campaign against our organization. Two of these persons,Jim Codd and Michael Cartmell,were actaully discovered making ammunition for weapons several years ago. These same two persons have vowed recently to several witnesses that they would see to it that our group of over one thousand American(currenlty conducting a highly successful agricultural project in Guyana) were "starved out" by having funds cut off from the U.S. To date several agencies have been tattempting various forms of harassment. First , Social Security tried to deny legitimate beneficiaroes of their rights by cutting off all checks coming to Guyana. Through the intervention of your office this was prewented and indeed, we are grateful. Now, howver, we see that the IRS, Traeasury, and even the FCC are trying to initiate moves to cut off our life line.

The FCC has suddenly decided to pursue a very minor complaint that was registered a year ago. It seems clear that the intention is to disrupt our essential medium of cimmunication---amateir radio, As you may know each week we contact thousands of amateir radio operators. Cpntacts and consultations with docyors in the U.S. have lieterally saved lives and have engendered tremendous good will for the U.S. in this part of the world. We consistently prause yoir administration over the airwaves as having been the pivotal factor in bringing a new wind of change into relations with non-aligned nations. It seems utterly cruel to deprive such a large group of U.S. citizens of their only means of quick communication with the U.S.

We cannot believe that you would want to see this, or would in any way condone such an organized effort to "satrve-out" hundreds of Americans who are seking to live in peace and be a credit to the U.S. abroad. These same agencies and elements in the press would seek to destroy a populist President like yourself-- in fact, the same kind of "trial by media" was conducted against one of your appointees not long ago. Our cooperative agricultureal project here has been cited by people the world over as an example of a new American image. Even the Soviet press has praised this work and has done so in spite of our strong support of Soviet Jews and dissidents and our obvious disagreements/ We recieve leetters weekly from Soviet citizens as well as citizens other nations who have heard of the project, offering advice and assistence. In fact, several overtures have been made from the Soviets who see our current harassment as a form of political persecution. We do not want to take assistance from any people, nor do we want to become an international issue. But we also do not intend to be "stawed out" by having our legitimate earnedfunds cut off through the efforts of rdaical terrorists and embittered malcontents. ~~We have no political ambitions whatsoever. We want to continue our agricultural development and without as we have been doing for the past eight months here in the U.S. We want to continue~~

E-1-B- 3g

We have no political ambitions whatsovever--Rev Jones has s ent the last eight months working to develop the agricultural project in this remote MWD of Guyana. We wish to cont inue to do so-- unmolested, and unhampered. This project has done a great deal of practical good for the U.S. not only in promoting a postive image in a country where many of the populace lean towards the more pro-Soviet Oppposition party, but also in a very tangible financial way. The amoint of tax doallras that we have saved the U.S. by taking people off of welfare, off of SSI and steering some away from inevitable lives of crime would conservatively total in the hundreds of thousands. It seems clear that no onw would want to escalate this beaurocratic harassment into an internatioanl issuue, but it is equally evident that epople cannot forveer be contiunually harsassed and beleaguered by such tactics without seeking alternatives that have been presented. I can say wothout hestitation that we are devoted to you as our President, but at some point one's dignity and self-respect compell a decision that it is even better to die than to be constantly harassed from one continent to the next. I hope that you can look into this matter and protect the rights of over one thousand U.S. citizens abriad to live in peace.

E-1-B 3h

I will make this brief. As you may already know a very fine organization-- PT of DC and its pastor JJ have recently become the victims of what has been described by many persons to be an organized political conspiracy. Over one thousand members of this multi-ethnic church have recently left the US to reside in the Third World nation of Guyana where they are very success fully engaged in an Agricultural rpoject and medical service program. The reknown of this project and the injustice of the conspiracy directed aginst PT and its pastor is beciming known on a world wide scale. Just recently the Projectwas praised by the Worl Council of Chutches publication One World as well as by a leading Soviet magazine with distribution. Both publications also commented upon the conspiracy, the Soviet magazine making a particular point by saying that we at PT have been pro-Soviet all out lives and so are being attacked. It cannot be denied that there have been overtures made by factions that are very anti-U.S. to make the departure of a large multi-racial group pf Americans a "cause-celebre" and it is notable that the Soviet Publication would praise the Project and decry the organized efforts against PT, even though the Soviets support the more extre me Opposition party, while Rev. Jones is working in cooperation with the more moderate government currently in power. It is frankly true that this large group left the U.S. because of an adverse racial cliamye, yet we have no desire to make a public issue of that, although the civil rights movement-- both with in the U.S. and in other countries-- have offered to take our case to the U.N. We did not come to Guyana for the purpose of creating an international issue or to cast aspersions on the U.S. On the contrary, through the concrete achievements being made daily on the project we have consistently tried to foster good will between the U.S. and Guyana. Indeed, any night on the amateur radio we talk with hundreds of amateur radio operators and are always promoting good will via this medium.

However, we do not intend to quietly acquiesce to the latest form of harassmebt directed against us-- the IRS. All of our resources gotten legitimately and we see this latest effort by that branch of government as nothing less than harassment stirred up by a man named Timothy Stoen, who is conducting a " campaign" against our organization for personal reasons. I am enclosing a docu,ent that clearly indicates tha we have been targeted for harassment by elements within other agencies of government. Mr. President, we are doing a very constructive work here, one that is a credit to the U.S. I submit that we do not intend to sit quietly by and allow our honestly earned funds to be cut off, and slowly satrve. We will take our case to whatever forum will give an open and fair airing if necessary. We do not wish to create any international embarrassment. We are doing out job here and I hope this work will be allowed to continue unhampered by the efforts of some reactionary elements who seem very bent on pursuing a course that cannot serve to help the U.S.- Guyana relations nor promote a positive image for the U.S. in the internatio arena. ~~I hope that you may use that~~ I ask that you use your influence to see that this harassment stops.

HERB

Mrs Brown conveyed to me over our amateur radio your kind thought about my being needed in San Francisco. Hearing that from you, who I have always respected and felt a certian kinship, helped a great deal. Your are right Herb, I am doing what I must do-- for many, many years (too many to count) I have existed solely on the premise that I am needed, because long ago I realized what a cruel hoax life is, how false its illusions are and how unjust. Even here, in this couuntry of great physical beauty and tremendous potential, I am not " happy." Its just too much of a responsibility, too great a burden to be the administrator of this collective society. The long hours of planning are burdensome in themselves, but the weight of responsibility for so many person's lives and futures is what really gets heavy. And then again, even if I did not have the administration of this cooperative on my shoulders, I doubt I could ever be happy knowing that two-thirds of the world's children have no future but the prospect of starvation and lives, "~~short, brutish and nasty~~" nasty, brutish and short that Hume discerned centuries ago, and the world has glossed over ever since. I just do not think I have a right to happiness in the personal sense with so much misery in the world. If you ever do get the chance to pay us a visit I know you will like what you will see. We are building a secure society-- where all one thousand residents are guaranteed the best, most thorough medical care that can be provided. As costly as it is, nevertheless each person is covered by insurance in case hospitalization is needed. Our medical staff here, as you know, is well-equipped and highly trained. And everyone has plenty of food-- in spite of the efforts of the IRS and Social Security, and Senatror Stennis to destroy us or starve us into collapse.(I don't know if you were given the materials relating to the conspiracy against our organization, but it's quite a chilling story. I firmly believe that if the web could ever be completely unraveled we would find Mr. Stennis and his reactionary fanaticism behind it-- behind even the cruel attempt of Mr and Mrs Stoen to take my son John from me, a child they never showed the slightest genuine ineterst in.)

I think I will always bear the guilt however, of knowing that this cooperative society should have been built in the United States. Perhaps, if I had communicate somehow differently, or more intensely, I could have exposed these liars that have so callously tried to ruin what has been for many people, the only chance they ever had to make something out of their lives. I know that we have said that this organizat has saved taxpayers countless dollars getting people out of crime and off welfare, and it's true. But more than that, ~~this society, especially~~ the society we are building in Guyana-- has given people who were considered the refuse of urban America a new sense of pride, self-worth and dignity Its so much more than just saving the taxpayer a welfare check or taking a purse-snatcher off the streets. This cooperative [illegible] to these people-- its theirs, and for the first time they can look upon themselves as something more than a commidity, a thing with a price tag that any society ~~that~~ reveres property above human rights attached to the individual. Many of the young people who came here were absolutely alienated, angry and frustrated-- they knew that America had put a dollars and cents value to them, and they were tired of the hypocrisy that ~~human rights and self~~ cried over "human rights" while they were ~~being~~ being buried alive. If we could have done this in the U.S. how many more young people, how many more senior citizens could have benefited? I'll always live with that thought, and feel guilt about my failure to make it succeed in the U.S.

Dear Ms. Houston:

How do you know what I've heard? I'm responding to your letter because it is the least presumptuous of all the 70-odd missals I've received from Peoples Temple members -- all of which betray a vacuous ignorance of both the Amateur Radio Service and the international and domestic regulations governing it.

Let it be said once for all: I have no qualms whatsoever with the Temple, or with its programs. My contention is with the illegal use of Amateur Radio to accomplish your goals. Period. I wish I could make it plain to your people that this is simply not a question open to debate: it is the conclusion of the Federal Communications Commission, and I expect it will soon be that of the International Telecommunication Union in Geneva, as well.

If you construe this to be evidence of a conspiracy against your movement, I pity you. For it is nothing more than a fair warning put forth to American radio amateurs that their licenses are in jeopardy if they engage in handling any illegal third party traffic emanating from WB6MID/8R3 in Guyana. We have more than 167,000 licensed members in our organization, and we are sworn to uphold their interests.

I urge you, then, to withhold judgement until you have thoroughly familiarized yourself with Part 97 of the FCC Rules & Regulations, and Article 41 of the International Radio Regulations. And to be assured that I am not in communication with anyone opposed to your movement, and hold no ill will towards The Peoples Temple.

Think ... Before You Run That Patch

Is the ARRL against phone patches? Well, aren't you the ARRL? Here at ARRL headquarters, we certainly haven't filed any petitions with the FCC regarding patching. Well, then what's all the furor about? Simply this: We have confronting us the most crucial World Administrative Radio Conference ever. And the indiscriminate phone patching one can hear any afternoon on 20 meters is beginning to cause radio amateurs the world over a lot of unneeded grief and concern. (We're talking about phone patches between the amateurs of different countries, of course, and not discussing in this column the domestic phone patch.)

Are international phone patches illegal? Yes – unless a third-party agreement has been signed between the countries involved. We print the list below; and we'll be printing it more often in the pages of QST. We can't use the patch to substitute for a landline call, either. Listen to what the international radio regulations have to say about that: "When transmissions between amateur stations of different countries are permitted, they shall be made in plain language, and shall be limited to messages of a technical nature relating to tests and to remarks of a personal character for which, by reason of their unimportance, recourse to the public telecommunications service is not justified." (Article 41 ITU Radio Regulations)

So what you can talk about under the third-party agreements is rather limited. You can say "hello" to Aunt Min, but you can't say, "Sell Aunt Min's stock in Consolidated Ball and Chain!" You can say, "YA1XX will listen for you Friday at 1900Z," but not, "YA1XX is asking fellow amateurs to contribute pesos for a new tower." You can say, "We're praying for Father Jones and his mission"; you can't say, "Father Jones needs three gross more of hymnals in Swahili!"

If the third party for whom you are running a patch speaks in a language you don't happen to understand, you are still responsible for what that party says. So you should brief him before the patch as to what he can and can't talk about. We need hardly point out that all business communications are strictly prohibited.

On occasion, someone will write or call ARRL headquarters and say that we're making a mountain out of a molehill. Nothing could be further from the truth. Amateur radio has been stamped out in several countries already because of violations of this regulation, and its second part: "It is absolutely forbidden for amateur stations to be used for transmitting international communications on behalf of third parties" – unless third-party agreements exist between those countries.

We all know that WARC-79 will shape the future of amateur radio for the rest of this century. But are you aware that of the 153 member-countries of the International Telecommunication Union (which hosts the WARC and determines international telecommunications regulations), almost half (67) are not members of the International Amateur Radio Union – and that almost the same number have no organized amateur radio service? These countries comprise what is popularly referred to as the Third World. And at the present time, they hold nearly a majority of the votes at ITU. You can be sure that they are watching us closely, to see if what the ARRL/IARU WARC team has been saying about the need for amateur radio in developing countries is true. (We've been stressing, of course, that amateurs are law-abiding, professional communicators who provide vital technological expertise, emergency communications, and wide exposure to a developing nation's image.)

While we may not always agree with the severe restrictions imposed by international law (and the laws of other countries) concerning third-party communications, we had better adhere to them – or risk losing vitally needed frequencies at WARC-79 and, of course, the hope of signing future third-party agreements with other countries.

So, all we ask is that you think before you run that patch.

SUBJECT

Neither I nor the ARRL ever said the "radio" or operators of the Guyanan station are illegal. It is what is being done with the equipment in the name of Amateur Radio that is illegal. Perhaps you would care to pursue this further with the Federal Communications Commission in Washington, D.C.

Think ... Before You Run That Patch

Is the ARRL against phone patches? Well, aren't you the ARRL? Here at ARRL headquarters, we certainly haven't filed any petitions with the FCC regarding patching. Well, then what's all the furor about? Simply this: We have confronting us the most crucial World Administrative Radio Conference ever. And the indiscriminate phone patching one can hear any afternoon on 20 meters is beginning to cause radio amateurs the world over a lot of unneeded grief and concern. (We're talking about phone patches between the amateurs of different countries, of course, and not discussing in this column the domestic phone patch.)

Are international phone patches illegal? Yes – unless a third-party agreement has been signed between the countries involved. We print the list below; and we'll be printing it more often in the pages of QST. We can't use the patch to substitute for a landline call, either. Listen to what the international radio regulations have to say about that. "When transmissions between amateur stations of different countries are permitted, they shall be made in plain language, and shall be limited to messages of a technical nature relating to tests and to remarks of a personal character for which, by reason of their unimportance, recourse to the public telecommunications service is not justified." (Article 41, ITU Radio Regulations)

So what you can talk about under the third-party agreements is rather limited. You can say "hello" to Aunt Min, but you can't say, "Sell Aunt Min's stock in Consolidated Ball and Chain!" You can say, "YA1XX will listen for you Friday at 1900Z," but not, "YA1XX is asking fellow amateurs to contribute pesos for a new tower." You can say, "We're praying for Father Jones and his mission"; you can't say, "Father Jones needs three gross more of hymnals in Swahili!"

If the third party for whom you are running a patch speaks in a language you don't happen to understand, you are still responsible for what that party says. So you should brief him before the patch as to what he can and can't talk about. We need hardly point out that all business communications are strictly prohibited.

On occasion, someone will write or call ARRL headquarters and say that we're making a mountain out of a molehill. Nothing could be further from the truth. Amateur radio has been stamped out in several countries already because of violations of this regulation, and its second part: "It is absolutely forbidden for amateur stations to be used for transmitting international communications on behalf of third parties" – unless third-party agreements exist between those countries.

We all know that WARC-79 will shape the future of amateur radio for the rest of this century. But are you aware that of the 153 member-countries of the International Telecommunication Union (which hosts the WARC and determines international telecommunications regulations), almost half (67) are not members of the International Amateur Radio Union – and that almost the same number have no organized amateur radio service? These countries comprise what is popularly referred to as the Third World. And at the present time, they hold nearly a majority of the votes at ITU. You can be sure that they are watching us closely, to see if what the ARRL/IARU WARC team has been saying about the need for amateur radio in developing countries is true. (We've been stressing, of course, that amateurs are law-abiding, professional communicators who provide vital technological expertise, emergency communications, and wide exposure to a developing nation's image.)

While we may not always agree with the severe restrictions imposed by international law (and the laws of other countries) concerning third-party communications, we had better adhere to them – or risk losing vitally needed frequencies at WARC-79 and, of course, the hope of signing future third-party agreements with other countries.

So, all we ask is that you think before you run that patch.

Dear Ms. Ellzey:

Yours of 18 October was a kind letter, and I want you to know that I appreciate it. Please rest assured that I am neither "the target of an effort to create problems for the radios of the Peoples Temple through questionable means," nor the bearer of ill will against your church.

Rather, I am a concerned radio amateur who has on my own time monitored the communications of WB6MID/8R3 and have found them to be blatantly illegal in several ways. Specifically, their communications violate Part 97.114 of the FCC Rules & Regulations and Article 41 of the International Radio Regulations. This is not to assail the operators for their commendable humanitarian acts, but merely to state for the record that their communications jeopardize the many privileges presently enjoyed by 347,000 licensed radio amateurs in the United States. Since the American Radio Relay League has as its chartered responsibility the protection of these privileges, I feel it my responsibility to point this out -- to you and to our members.

Important

Conversation between Jim Weisman and Tom Adams 745 am 11/6/78

Said He's seen my name on Confidential teletype communications. All monitoring stations have instant communications. Field Operations is the monitoring department of FCC - Safety and Special Radio Services is the law enforcement/prosecution department. Safety and Sp. Svc. will prosecute you in court - Field Operations would come in and shut you down.

Confidential memo to Washington mentions informant who notified Washington we were going to switch licenses - before the switch ever took place. By the time Goldwater got into the picture, Field Ops had been on to us a long time, the Goldwater letter was not written by him, it was by someone else on his letter head. Didn't amount to much. What does amount to something is all the field ops stations are hot to shut us down. Spec. Svc. is reluctant to prosecute until their case is absolutely air-tight, because if they lose a case in court, it opens the way for other groups to do the same thing. There were at one time, and may still be, up to ten station s monitoring us and taking bearings and voice graphs of our transmissions, while maintaining teletype comm'ctns with each other about it. ~~IMXMXMXMX~~ One memo says, "it appears the group has considerable political influence. No indication in the file that other agencies were using our transcripts for info. It wouldn't show up in the record if they were.

My response to the violation notice should be - " I am taking steps to rectify my mistake re. identification every ten minutes. In re. to the allegation of business traffic, (don't admit anything that can be used against me) I was unaware that I was in violation, I don't believe my transmission was a violation of this section of the rules - My traffic consists of communications between persons in the U.S. and family, friends, relatives, and associates working and living in a missionary outpost in the jungle of Guyana. The nature of the meg. traffic in my mind conforms to the letter of the rule and other guidelines brought to my attention. I don't feel any violation of 97.114 took place, or will take place as I am scrupulous in observation of Rules. However, in view of the allegations, I would find it instructional if the FCC could further advise me as to interpretations of 97.114(c) with illustrations which might be further informative. I always have and always will conform to the letter of the rules - I appreciate what the FCC does, etc. and am looking forward to their further instruction.

Must protect my american license in order to get a reciprocal Mexican license if that were the way we wanted to go. Their is a recirocal licensing agreement between U.S and Mexico. Don't have to take a test - they issue it.

J.W. thought our sending a letter to FCC complaining about harassment was ironic.

We need to do research here on rates for various phone lines from here to Mexico, here to San Diego, etc.

FCC won't revoke license for previous actions, if I keep it clean from this point forward. This notice was the first wheel turning in that direction, though, and every violation will be cited now, and the huge file built up on us will be used to substantiate their case in court if we ever try to fight it. Ben Bowers will not very likely be bothered if he stays away from our operation.

Al needs to get a QSL card to J.W. - he can't remember the date, but he QSO'd with Al & never got the card. Wants it very much.

Charles wants us to look into cheapest phone rates avail. between Gtwn and SF - probably unworkable but would be a shame to overlook it completely. Why don't we fly more reports into Gtwn?

Charles came in after the call - we explained to him what we had learned, and he had Marshall call the guy back and tell him to demand to know who the informants were - Marshall said they had a clause that would enable them to refuse to answer that, Charles said he knew that, but it would slow down their proceedings against us, because it would make them work more cautiously, knowing that we were demanding the names of informants. He asked me to convey to Jonestown his extreme displeasure over our press conferences, Mark saying we were going to sue government agencies in 90 days, etc. He also delivered a tirade about the "garbage we put over the radio that is turning up in lawsuits. He says every problem we are having in court stems from our going against his advice on press conferences, and the stuff we are putting over the radio is going to put us in an impossible spot in court. So here it is, duly conveyed.

Re: Peoples Temple/WB6MID

Dear Marshall:

The file which the Commission has on Peoples Temple and related activities is immense. We have examined not only the materials which the Commission has agreed to release to us but other files as well, including those containing thousands upon thousands of letters in support of the Peoples Temple.

Of primary interest to you will be a three-inch thick internal FCC correspondence file. This file contains copies of FCC intercepts, monitoring assignments conducted by members of the Field Operations Bureau, personal inspections of the Peoples Temple as well as complaints filed by members of the public against the Peoples Temple. The file is too voluminous to describe here. We have made arrangements to copy all of those documents which we feel may be of interest to you and your client.

These should follow in approximately one week.

Parenthetically, in our examination of the files, we did not see any letter from Barry Goldwater although we are digging deeper since we know it exists. We will be back to you shortly.

Sincerely,

James M. Weitzman

Dear Ms. Houston:

How do you know what I've heard? I'm responding to your letter because it is the least presumptuous of all the 70-odd missals I've received from Peoples Temple members -- all of which betray a vacuous ignorance of both the Amateur Radio Service and the international and domestic regulations governing it.

Let it be said once for all: I have no qualms whatsoever with the Temple, or with its programs. My contention is with the illegal use of Amateur Radio to accomplish your goals. Period. I wish I could make it plain to your people that this is simply not a question open to debate: it is the conclusion of the Federal Communications Commission, and I expect it will soon be that of the International Telecommunication Union in Geneva, as well.

If you construe this to be evidence of a conspiracy against your movement, I pity you. For it is nothing more than a fair warning put forth to American radio amateurs that their licenses are in jeopardy if they engage in handling any illegal third party traffic emanating from WB6MID/8R3 in Guyana. We have more than 167,000 licensed members in our organization, and we are sworn to uphold their interests.

I urge you, then, to withhold judgement until you have thoroughly familiarized yourself with Part 97 of the FCC Rules & Regulations, and Article 41 of the International Radio Regulations. And to be assured that I am not in communication with anyone opposed to your movement, and hold no ill will towards The Peoples Temple.

The method of assessment here, is done from the blood samples I draw, and tissue samples I obtain from autopsy proceedings. I collect various types of specimens for identification of diseases that affect our animals, poultry and ourselves. On duty 24 hrs., 7 days a week (24 hr. call) for Veterinary duties for all animals alive or dead, domesticated or I order & dispense all animal medications, spot check and frequently individually check each animal or bird slaughtered for human consumption. I check all suspected foods & water for pathogenic organisms without letting anyone know but Jim Jones, and the other persons are notified by him if necessary.

The Big Problem is that too many lay persons who have no formal training in tissue evaluation repeatedly make decisions for me and also for animals that I have to treat.
