Purpose

Document Owners Consent to Enter a Property located at 363 Eddyville Blacktop, Golconda, Illinois

On Sunday, May 15, 2016, I, Lieutenant [redacted] was assigned to the Tactical Operations Center at the Delwood Church Camp on Illinois Route 145 about 10 miles south of Harrisburg, Illinois. I was representing the Illinois State Police (ISP) Statewide Terrorism and Intelligence Center (STIC) during a manhunt in the Shawnee National Forest for fugitive Dracy "Clint" Pendleton. A perimeter had been set up in an effort to contain Pendleton in a wooded area where he was last sighted just south of the Sulphur Creek Church. Just before 5:00 AM, members of the Chicago FBI SWAT team reported seeing a brief light in what was believed to be an abandoned house just south of the wooded area. At about 5:07 AM, that team reported the screen door was popped and there were pry marks on the interior door of this house located at 363 Eddyville Blacktop.

b7C

Utilizing the Property Records from Pope County, I was able to determine the owners of this property were [redacted] and [redacted] STIC was able to provide a phone number of [redacted] for [redacted] and [redacted] for [redacted] At about 5:08 AM I called the [redacted] number and spoke with [redacted] identifying myself and stating I was with the Illinois State Police (ISP). I told her the ISP and the FBI were conducting a manhunt and looking for a fugitive; which was in the area of her house. I advised we had found evidence on the door to the house that someone may have forcibly entered it. I asked [redacted] if we could enter the house to determine if the fugitive was inside or not. [redacted] gave me permission to enter the house and advised the house was abandoned. She stated that they were planning to tear it down anyway and had just bought the property so they could farm the ground. I ended the phone call and advise the ISP Officer in Charge (OIC), Captain [redacted] that we had permission to enter the house.

There are actually two houses located south of Sulphur Creek Church which show an address of 363 Eddyville Blacktop. Captain [redacted] was concerned about whether or not we had the right house. The property records for the second house show it was owned by [redacted] to the same address on [redacted] in [redacted] At about 5:22 AM I again called [redacted] and asked her about the second property which, she said they also owned. I was able to clarify that the first property to the south of the church was visible just off the curve on Eddyville Road to the west and was the abandoned house. She stated that no one lived there and we had permission to forcibly enter that property. The second house south on Eddyville Road, was farther west of the blacktop had a longer driveway, with a few more outbuildings around it. [redacted] stated this house was a two section modular home; which was utilized by themselves and their parents as their summer home. [redacted] advised this house had an alarm through ADT which had not been triggered. She advised there were a number of firearms in this house, but was confident that they were secured. [redacted] stated that if the interior doors of this house were not compromised, then we did not have permission to forcibly enter the second home. I again passed this information along to the ISP OIC as well as the FBI Special Agent in Charge (SAC) Sean Cox from the Springfield Regional Office.

b7C

At about 6:27 AM I called [redacted] again and she told me that the power and all utilities to the house were turned off. At the request of FBI analyst [redacted] assigned to their Hostage Rescue Team (HRT) I again called [redacted] at 6:46 AM and asked her about the floor plan for the house. She walked me through the location of the exterior cellar door, the two entry doors to the residence, as well as a floor plan which included the rear porch, front entryway, two bedrooms, a bath, kitchen area, and living room all on the main floor. She advised the upstairs was an open attic room and told me where the stairs were located in the house. [redacted] also advised there was no furniture in the house but she had only been inside a few times. I drew a diagram of the house based on her information I gave it to [redacted]

HRT utilized Negotiators to do a surround and callout at the abandoned house, followed by explosive breaching of the doors, and the use of distraction devices in an effort to get a response from anyone who may have been hiding inside. After making entry to clear the structure, shots were fired at HRT on the second floor resulting in a firefight and the injury of an FBI Chicago Agent. HRT retreated to the first floor to regroup while the ISP Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) Teams moved to the structure to assist and returned fire at the suspect who was shooting out of the second floor at them. HRT then moved outside to positions of cover by the armored vehicles while evacuating the injured officer for transport to a hospital. During this delay in action, I again called [redacted] at about 7:52 AM. I advised her that the fugitive was in her abandoned house and that there had been a gun battle which probably caused significant damage to the residence. I then reaffirmed with [redacted] that they did intended to tear down the house and asked her what restrictions we had on any actions which could cause further damage to the structure. She asked me if the fugitive had killed a police officer, and I stated he had shot a police officer [redacted] then said to "burn the house down" or to "blow it up" or whatever we had to do to the house to "kill him". I explained we were unable to do those things because of the rules and laws we had to operate within. I did tell [redacted] that some of the future action may cause more damage to the house and he advised to do whatever we needed to do and that they did not care about the abandoned house. I passed this information on to the FBI SAC and then to the ISP OIC.

b7C

During subsequent actions HPT had to breach the ends of the abandoned house prior to locating the fugitive inside deceased. Following this conclusion I again called [redacted] at about 1:19 PM and advised her that the situation was concluded. I explained to her about some of the substantial damage to the abandoned house including the doors, and second floor and walls. She stated they did not renew the insurance on the house but that it might not expire until June. We had a conversation about whether or not insurance would assist with demolition of the house, and I advised her she needed to check with her insurance company about that if it was in fact still insured. I explained about the crime scene processing and she asked how long it would be until they had possession of the house back. I advised someone would be contacting her to follow up and let her know that information. [redacted] advised they had planned on coming up from [redacted] on that Monday, but because of the rain they would not be able to start planting crops yet. She advised they were now planning to come up on Monday, May 23. The phone number for [redacted] was passed through my supervisor [redacted] to the FBI on Monday, May 16

Purpose:

To Document Medical Assistance to Law Enforcement

On May 15, 2016 I, Sergeant [redacted] of the Illinois State Police (ISP), was assigned as a negotiator to assist the Federal Bureau of Investigation Hostage Rescue Team (FBI/HRT) in an attempt to call out Dracy Pendeleton, W/M, DOB: 10/06/1981 (AKA / "Clint") from a residence on the Eddyville Blacktop in Pope County, Illinois. Pendleton, the subject of state and federal arrest warrants stemming from his role in the shooting of a Mahomet Police Officer the week before, was believed to be hiding inside the residence. The following is a summary of the events. All times are approximate.

b7C

At approximately 6:36 a.m. I, along with FBI/HRT Operators and Special Agent [redacted] of the Federal Bureau of Investigation Chicago Field Division SWAT Team (FBI/Chicago SWAT), approached the residence in an armored vehicle. I attempted call outs via the public address system of the armored vehicle. The process beyond the initial call outs involved tactics aimed at verifying occupancy within the residence. I conducted call outs between FBI/HRT attempts to verify occupancy. After receiving no indication of occupancy FBI/HRT Operators and FBI/Chicago SWAT Operators began to clear the residence. I remained seated within the armored vehicle. At approximately 7:45 a.m. as the operators were clearing the second floor of the residence they encountered Pendleton hiding within the attic crawl space. Pendleton immediately fired upon the agents, striking Special Agent [redacted] A few moments later, as the operators were still engaged in a gunfire exchange with Pendleton, I observed an FBI/HRT Operator accompany Special Agent [redacted] from the residence to a position of cover behind the armored vehicle. Special Agent [redacted] injuries appeared to be significant. I exited the armored vehicle through the rear doors and proceeded to the position of the FBI/HRT Operator and Special Agent [redacted] to assist in addressing his injuries.

b7C

I observed Special Agent [redacted] right and left arms covered in blood. Special Agent [redacted] also appeared to have taken a round to his body armor. The FBI/HRT Operator and I used my trauma shears to cut through Special Agent [redacted] clothing to further assess the injuries to his arms. I observed multiple gunshot wounds to Special Agent [redacted] right arm and one gunshot wound to his left arm. I also observed an apparent arterial bleed from a wound on Special Agent [redacted] upper right arm. The blood flow appeared to be rapid and pulsating. I applied a tourniquet above the wound, below Special Agent [redacted] shoulder, while the FBI/HRT Operator applied pressure to the wound. I returned to the armored vehicle and retrieved additional medical supplies. The FBI/HRT Operator, other operators, and I packed and dressed Special Agent [redacted] other wounds with sterile rolled gauze.

b7C

I observed an additional FBI/Chicago SWAT Operator with blood on his right sleeve behind the armored vehicle. The operator appeared to be disoriented. I asked the operator if he was injured. He replied that he did not know. I used my shears to cut up the operator's right sleeve. I observed no visible indication of injury.

A short time later, I proceeded to the ISP/SWAT armored vehicle. Special Agent [redacted] was evacuated, via helicopter, from an area east of the residence.

COMPLAINT FOR SEARCH WARRANT

Special Agent Jared Freeman #5617 of the Illinois State Police, complainant now appears before the undersigned judge of the Circuit Court of said County and requests the issuance of a search warrant to search the Premises of 1995 Nissan Pickup, with Vehicle Identification Number (VIN) 1N6SD16Y7SC456656, currently registered to JOSEPH T. EFFLAND, which is and operated and/or used by Arnold Cornett to seize the following instruments, articles and things which have been used in the commission of OBSTRUCTION OF JUSTICE, and CONCEALING OR AIDING A FUGITIVE, or which constitute evidence of, the offense(s) of violations of 720 ILCS5/31-4 (a)(1), and 720 ILCS5/31-5 (a) for the installation and utilization of a coded transponder and electronic sensing device, also known as Global Positioning System (GPS) device, onto the 1995 Nissan Pickup to track the movements of the motor vehicle to assist officers in locating and identifiying fugutive Dracy Pendleton, date of birth 10/06/1981, wanted on an arrest warrant from Champaign County for the offense of Aggravated Battery with a Firearm.

Complainant has been a police officer for 11 years during which time he has been assigned to the Illinois State Police for 11 years. Complainant says that he has probable cause to believe, based upon the following facts, that the above listed GPS device is necessary to assistant in the investigation of offenses listed herein.

Complainant was informed of the following: An arrest warrant has been issued in Champaign County, Illinois, for Dracy Pendleton for the offense of Aggravated Battery with a Firearm, after Pendleton shot at a peace officer following a traffic stop investigation on May 7, 2016. Pendelton is a prior resident of rural Pope County, and previously resided on the land belonging to Benjamin Effland.

During the course of the investigation, Agent Chad Brown, interviewed Benjamin Effland. Effland advised Agent Brown that Pendleton arrived at his residence in Pope County on Sunday May 8th. Pendleton admitted to Effland, Cornett and Elizabeth Crossing, that he had been involved in an officer-related shooting. Pendleton was under the impression that he had killed the officer. Effland reported that after Pendleton disclosed the officer related shooting, he (Effland) disagreed with Cornett on whether or not to provide assistance to Pendleton. Effland wanted to report his whereabouts to authorities, and Cornett wanted to give Pendleton assistance and help him evade the police.

On May 10,' 2016, during the course of the investigation, I, Agent Freeman, have interviewed Arnold Cornett on two occasions. The first interview was a preliminary interview conducted during an investigative stop on May 10th At the time of the stop, he was driving a 1995 Nissan pickup truck, with a VIN no. 1N6SD16Y7SC456656. During the initial interview, Cornett advised that he had not seen Pedleton in years, later recanted, and admitted that he had seen Pendleton and rendered him aid.

Later the same evening, I made contact with Cornett at his residence located in Stonefort, Illinois. At the time of that contact at this residence, the Nissan pickup truck driven earlier in the day by Arnold Cornett was located at the residence. The Nissan is registered to a Joseph Effland. I have been informed Joseph Effland is the son of Benjamin Effland. Joseph Effland's whereabouts are unknown. Benjamin Effland has reported that Arnold Cornett has free access to operate the truck that is registered to his son, Joseph. Cornett was taken to the command post and a second interview was conducted.

The second interview was conducted the same day, but later in the evening at 9:41 p.m. Due to Cornett's inconsistent and false statements during the first interview, the interview was audio recorded. During that interview, Cornett advised that on Sunday, May 8, 2016, at 7:00a.m., Cornett, observed fugitive Dracy Pendleton, at the residence of Benjamin Effland in rural Pope County. Cornett advised he was at the property of Benjamin Effland with his girlfriend, Elizabeth Crossing, on May 8th when Pendleton arrived. Cornett advised that Pendelton arrived and disclosed that he had shot and thought he had killed an officer in Mahomet. Cornett described Pendleton has having an injury to his neck and leg, and Cornett admitted to dressing the wounds to aid Pendleton. Cornett further disclosed that he (Cornett) offered Pendleton money and financial assistance for his flee from authorities, and he admitted he advised Pendleton how to conceal his truck. Cornett indicated his last encounter with Pendleton was the morning of May 8, 2016. Cornett, Crossing, and Benjamin Effland, all left the property on ATVS, at which time Pendleton was still present on the property. Effland contacted the Pope County authorities of Pendelton's whereabouts. Cornett was contacted by police and interviewed based upon Effland's disclosure. Cornett reported Pendleton's statements to include that he (Pendleton) came to Pope County to take his final stand, he was not going back to jail, and he was going to shoot to kill.

Based upon Cornett's willingness to provide aid and assistance to Pendleton; his failure to report Pendleton's whereabouts to authorities; and his statement's to Benjamin Effland that he wanted to help conceal Pendleton, the complainant has probable cause to believe that a Global Positioning System (GPS) tracking device on Cornett's vehicle is necessary to assist the investigation and the whereabouts of the fugitive Dracy Pendleton. Any notice to Cornett would jeopardize the investigation.

Complainant anticipates that the vehicle will be moved throughout the State of Illinois and possibly secreted in a garage, storage facility or in or on other private property, thereby making it impossible to be followed by traditional surveillance methods. Thus, other investigative procedures appear unlikely to succeed if tried.

Based upon U.S. v. Jones, 132 S.Ct. 945 (2012), use of GPS devices by law enforcement constitutes a search within the meaning of the Fourth Amendment. U.S.C.A. Const. Amend. 4. U.S. V. U.S. v. Jones, however, did not address the length of time the device may be used to monitor the target's vehicle. Based upon the Freedom from Location Surveillance Act, 725 ILCS authorization finding of probable cause is limited to a period of 60 days, renewable upon a showing of good cause.

Based on the above information, Complainant states there is probable cause to believe that the GPS device is necessary to assist in the on-going investigation and subsequent prosecution of Arnold S. Cornett for violations of the OBSTRUCTION OF JUSTICE, and CONCEALING OR AIDING A FUGITIVE, or which constitute evidence of, the offense(s) of violations of 720 ILCS5/31-4 (a)(1), and 720 ILCS5/31-5

Cornett further disclosed that he (Cornett) offered Pendleton money and financial assistance for his flee from authorities, and he admitted he advised Pendleton how to conceal his truck. Cornett indicated his last encounter with Pendleton was the morning of May 8, 2016. Cornett, Crossing, and Benjamin Effland, all left the property on ATVS, at which time Pendleton was still present on the property. Appendix A: Methods, Limitations, and Interpretations

Friction ridge skin consists of ridges, which are raised portions of skin, and furrows, which are the valleys in between the ridges. Friction ridge skin is found on the fingers, palms, and soles of the feet. A friction ridge print is a transfer of the ridge arrangements from the friction ridge skin onto an item. Items of evidence submitted to the Latent Print Operations Unit for examination may be examined visually, examined with various light sources, and processed with chemicals and powders to detect the presence of friction ridge prints. The specific sequence of examinations and processes depends upon the nature of the evidence.

Friction ridge print examinations are conducted using Analysis, Comparison, and Evaluation (ACE) (1), which includes an assessment of the quantity and quality of the information present. The steps of ACE are applied to friction ridge prints as appropriate.

Analysis is the assessment of a friction ridge print by a qualified examiner, accounting for the quantity and quality of the features detected in the print. An examiner will assess the types of features and the spatial relationships of the features to one another, which may be affected by factors such as pressure and movement when the print is transferred (2) (3). The print is deemed to be of value when the examiner determines that sufficient reliable information is present, such that, when compared to another print from the corresponding area of the same source, an identification decision can be reached. A thorough analysis is conducted on friction ridge prints prior to conducting comparisons. Analysis is documented by marking observed information in accordance with the Latent Print Operations Unit's standard operating procedures (4).

During Analysis, an examiner designates a friction ridge print as one of the following:

- A fingerprint, coming from any part of a finger
- A palm print, coming from any part of the palm area of a hand
- A toe print, coming from any part of a toe
- A footprint, coming from any part of the sole of a foot
- An impression, whose anatomical region cannot be determined and may have come from any of the above sources

Comparison is the direct side-by-side observation of friction ridge prints of value to determine whether the information observed during Analysis is in disagreement or agreement between two prints. When determining if features correspond, an examiner accounts for variation in the appearance of the friction ridge prints due to factors such as pressure and movement (2).

Evaluation is the formation of a conclusion based on the examiner's observations, assessments, and documentation generated during the analysis and comparison of the friction ridge prints. Decisions that may be reached are as follows:

- Identification is the determination that two friction ridge prints originated from the same source because there is sufficient quality and quantity of corresponding information. While an identification to the exclusion of all others is not supported by research, studies have shown that as more reliable features are found in agreement, it becomes less likely to find that same arrangement of features in a print from another source (5).

- Exclusion is the determination that two friction ridge prints did not originate from the same source because there is sufficient quality and quantity of information in disagreement.

- Inconclusive is the determination that an identification or exclusion decision cannot be reached because there is insufficient quality and quantity of corresponding information between the two prints.

While the examination process is subjective in nature (6), the Latent Print Operations Unit has quality assurance measures in place to minimize variability and reduce the chance of error. Examples include but are not limited to verification and blind verification, which are implemented in accordance with the Latent Print Operations Unit's standard operating procedures (4) (8).

- Verification is the independent application of ACE to a friction ridge print by another qualified examiner.

- Blind verification is the independent application of ACE to a friction ridge print by another qualified examiner with limited awareness of the details of the case and no knowledge of the conclusion of the primary examiner.

There is no meaningful predictive rate of error for the entire comparison process (9) (10); however, recent studies have demonstrated that examiners reach accurate and reliable conclusions under specific test conditions (7) (11) (12).

The presence of a friction ridge print on an item of evidence indicates contact was made between the source and the item. The presence of a friction ridge print alone does not necessarily indicate the significance of the contact or the time frame during which the contact occurred.

Due to a variety of factors, the recovery of friction ridge prints on items of evidence is not always successful. A lack of friction ridge prints on an item or the exclusion of a friction ridge print from a given source does not necessarily mean that the given source did not come into contact with the item.

Thanks for your call yesterday advising that the previously provided information that no FBI agent was present when [redacted] was first spoken to on May 10th (along the roadside as I understand it) was incorrect. During that brief encounter, I now understand that [redacted] initially denied having seen Pendleton, but then corrected himself and admitted that he had.

As I indicated, before completing my review of this matter I will await a report relating to that conversation which documents: 1) the time, date, location, and duration of that contact; 2) the identity of all individuals present; 3) any statements made by [redacted] 4) any corrections/changes by [redacted] to statements he made; and 5) the sequence of events/reasons which led [redacted] correct his denial regarding having seen Pendleton.

Apart from the report, I would also be interested in the FBI's position on the materiality of [redacted] initial false denial of having seen Pendleton where, again as I understand it, he admitted the falsity of that statement in the same brief interview which lasted only a few minutes.

Thanks.

State Police officer from Benton receives FOP Award for saving the life of an FBI agent

THE SOUTHERN

A State Police officer from Benton who saved the life of an FBI agent during a shootout in Southern Illinois was presented with the Fraternal Order of Police State Lodge Life Saving Award during an Illinois Drug Officers Association meeting Oct. 27 in East Peoria, according to a news release from the Association.

The FOP's Life Saving Award, given for outstanding efforts in performing actions or applying techniques that result in saving or sustaining a human life, was awarded to Sergeant Jonathan Edwards, a member of Illinois State Police FOP Lodge 41.

"This trooper's quick and determined actions saved the life of a fellow officer," FOP State Lodge President Chris Southwood said in the release. "He set an example of service above self that is a model for all law enforcement officers."

The release states that, in May 2016, a suspect shot and wounded a Mahomet Police officer and fled the scene. This shooting of the officer led to an extensive manhunt by local authorities, the Illinois State Police and the FBI. The suspect was located in the Shawnee National Forest, which led to a gun battle, during which an FBI SWAT officer was wounded.

Edwards was on scene assisting with the crisis negotiation team, located the wounded FBI agent while the gun battle was continuing and applied a self purchased tactical tourniquet to control the bleeding. Edwards' combat medical training assisted in preserving the life of the FBI Agent.

FBI Laboratory Evidence Designator(s):

Item 39 Buccal sample from Dracy Clint Pendleton (Item #29) (1B33, E5086820)

The item listed above was subjected to nuclear deoxyribonucleic acid (DNA) typing using short tandem repeats (STRs).[1]

RESULTS OF NUCLEAR DNA EXAMINATIONS:

The DNA typing results from PENDLETON were compared to the DNA typing results from item 1 [previously reported under FBI Laboratory Number 2016-01505-3 in the report dated June 15, 2016].

Item 1 (Swabbing from textured regions of rifle)

Male DNA[2] is present in item 1. Interpretation of item 1 was performed assuming that the DNA originated from two individuals. PENDLETON is the source[3] of one of the contributors to the DNA obtained from item 1.

Database Entry Information:

The DNA results obtained from the tested item are not eligible for entry into the Combined DNA Index System (CODIS). These results will be maintained by the FBI Laboratory for possible future comparisons.

No other nuclear DNA examinations were conducted.

Methods/Limitations:

The following methods and limitations apply to the results/conclusions provided in the results section(s) of this report and are referenced by number in the body of the text for clarity.

[1] The AmpFℓSTR® Identifiler® Plus PCR Amplification Kit includes the amelogenin locus and the autosomal STR loci (from non-sex chromosomes) D8S1179, D21S11, D7S820, CSF1PO, D3S1358, TH01, D13S317, D16S539, D2S1338, D19S433, vWA, TPOX, D18S51, D5S818, and FGA. The amelogenin locus is used for sex determination.

[2] The presence of male DNA in a mixture may limit the ability to determine if female DNA is also present in that mixture.

[3] This opinion is based upon obtaining a likelihood ratio that is equal to, or greater than, 700 billion in each of the African American, Caucasian, Southeastern Hispanic, and Southwestern Hispanic populations.

The Pendleton Files: Man had history with Mahomet police

Tue, 11/29/2016 - 7:23am | Marcus Jackson (/author/marcus-jackson)

MAHOMET — The late Dracy "Clint" Pendleton, whose alleged shooting of a Mahomet police officer sparked a statewide manhunt that ended in a shootout with authorities in southern Illinois, had two previous run-ins with local law enforcement, newly released documents show.

On Monday, nearly seven months after the Saturday-night traffic stop in his village that prompted the weeklong pursuit, Mahomet Police Chief Mike Metzler made available to media outlets a slew of files, including police videos, crime-scene photos, transcripts of interviews with officers involved in the case and Mr. Pendleton's autopsy report.

What wasn't included was any detail about the southern Illinois manhunt or who fired the fatal bullet during the May 15 shootout in Shawnee National Forest — members of the FBI SWAT team, state police or Mr. Pendleton himself.

Open-records requests filed in recent weeks by The News-Gazette with state police and the FBI were denied, with officials citing the "ongoing" nature of the investigation.

According to the autopsy performed by the office of Pope County Coroner Mark Aly, the body of Mr. Pendleton had 12 gunshot wounds, two of which were covered with Band-Aids, presumably wounds he sustained during his scuffle with Mahomet police on May 7. One was on his left thigh, the other on the left side of his neck.

The coroner ruled the cause of death to be a laceration of the aorta due to multiple gunshot wounds, including multiple ones to the right side of his chest, one to his head and one to his heart. The manner of death was ruled homicide.

May 7: Stopped for not having taillights on

The ordeal that made national news began on May 7 with a traffic stop. It was 10:37 p.m., a quiet Saturday night in Mahomet.

According to documents, Mr. Pendleton was pulled over as he entered the village on Oak Street after Mahomet Officer Ryan Rich noticed the pickup truck the Bellflower man was driving didn't have its taillights illuminated.

Mr. Pendleton appeared agitated during the stop, telling the officer that police harass him and they needed to stop, Rich said later.

Rich issued Mr. Pendleton warnings for the infraction and for failing to notify the secretary of state's office of an address change.

As Mr. Pendleton drove away from the stop, he yelled obscenities at the officer, which can be seen on the dashcam video released Monday.

During the stop, Rich noticed a white pickup truck stopping nearby. It was later revealed that the driver was Kyle Dollahon, Mr. Pendleton's half-brother.

A little while later, another Mahomet officer, Jeremy Scharlow, saw the same pickup, which he said was driving without its headlights on. Scharlow followed it to 504 S. Vine Street. He stopped just past that address, intending to let the driver know his lights weren't on.

What Scharlow didn't know is that Mr. Pendleton had already arrived at the home he shared with Dollahon. Shortly after Scharlow pulled up, he said, he was attacked by Mr. Pendleton, who called him out by name before he could even completely exit his vehicle.

Scharlow punched back and used his Taser on Mr. Pendleton, though neither had much effect.

According to the reports, Mr. Pendleton then produced a small handgun and began shooting, striking Scharlow in the arm. After the officer returned fire, Mr. Pendleton retreated to the home, returning moments later carrying a long rifle.

He shot and struck Scharlow's squad car numerous times, according to reports.

Mr. Pendleton then got back in his truck, rammed Scharlow's squad car and fled the area.

Scharlow was evacuated from the area by fellow officer Rebecca Bragg and taken to the Corn Belt Fire Department for treatment. He was later transported to Carle Foundation Hospital in Urbana.

2013: History started with wife being pulled over

It wasn't the first time Scharlow and Mr. Pendleton's paths crossed.

In August 2013, it was revealed Monday, Scharlow stopped Evelyn Pendleton, the deceased's wife, for speeding. During their contact, the officer noted that she was extremely upset. She told him that she was five months' pregnant and that her husband had just left her after a fight at their home, according to interviews.

Scharlow informed METCAD, which dispatched the Champaign County Sheriff's Office to investigate the domestic incident. But when deputies arrived, both Mr. Pendleton and his wife were uncooperative, saying it was none of their business, according to reports. Both also denied that any physical altercation had occurred.

A second encounter came six days later, when Scharlow responded to call of a disturbance at the Mobil Super Pantry near the corner of East Oak and South Lombard streets in Mahomet.

Witnesses said a man, later identified as Mr. Pendleton, was yelling obscenities and racial slurs at a black man who was walking into the gas station.

"Hey, you don't belong in this town, (expletive)," Pendleton told the man, according to the report.

Mr. Pendleton and the man exchanged words, though there was no physical altercation. The man's mother called 9-1-1 and provided a license plate number that was registered to Mr. Pendleton's vehicle.

After another witness attempted to calm Mr. Pendleton and told him "everyone is welcome" in Mahomet, Mr. Pendleton got in his vehicle and drove away.

Scharlow responded to the call and later followed up with Mr. Pendleton at his home. Scharlow spotted he and Evelyn in the back yard and concluded that Mr. Pendleton matched the description of the man involved in the incident at the gas station.

He recognized Evelyn from their previous encounter.

As Scharlow approached the house, Mr. Pendleton walked toward him quickly and "with a purpose, clenching his fists loosely," the officer said.

Scharlow, dressed in full uniform, identified himself verbally as Mr. Pendleton yelled "Do you have a warrant?" He then informed Scharlow that he was on his property and that if he didn't have a warrant, he needed to leave.

Fearful that Mr. Pendleton was going to hit him, Scharlow put up his left arm to block a potential strike while also unsecuring his Taser.

Scharlow then turned on his Taser, aimed it and informed Mr. Pendleton that he was under arrest. He ordered Mr. Pendleton to turn around and place his hands behind his back before notifying METCAD that he had a subject at Taser point.

Scharlow said Mr. Pendleton asked him if he felt like a big man holding the Taser. To prevent Mr. Pendleton from lunging at him, Scharlow ordered him to drop to his knees.

"After approximately the sixth time, he complied," Scharlow said in the report.

'Mahomet is gonna be as bad as Champaign'

As Mr. Pendleton's wife approached the two men, Scharlow lifted his left arm and ordered her to stop. Her husband then jumped to his feet, clenched his fists, took a step toward Scharlow and yelled at him not to threaten his wife.

Mr. Pendleton was then ordered back to his knees but didn't comply, though he didn't come any closer.

He then yelled at Scharlow "You're wrong" and "If we keep this up, Mahomet is gonna be as bad as Champaign because of those people," presumably referring to the incident at the gas station with the black man.

Officer Kevin Beckett then arrived to assist Scharlow and placed Mr. Pendleton in handcuffs. Scharlow secured Mr. Pendleton in the back passenger seat of the squad car after denying his request to let him kiss Evelyn goodbye.

Evelyn Pendleton was informed by Scharlow of why her husband was arrested. She said she understood why Scharlow feared for his safety but said her husband wouldn't harm anyone, according to interviews.

Scharlow informed her that her husband was being taken to the Champaign County Satellite Jail in Urbana and he would be able to post bond later.

She thanked him, the officer said later.

During the ride to Urbana, things got tense. Mr. Pendleton verbally berated Scharlow, asking him to pull over so they could fight. He accused Scharlow of trying to enslave the population and said that the government — not the hard-working white man — was the enemy.

Mr. Pendleton said he was angry that Scharlow showed up to his home armed. He then began yelling "almost in a growl" and stated that "you wonder where all the real men are, they're dead or locked in cages."

Scharlow said Mr. Pendleton then yelled something in German.

Once at the jail, Scharlow explained to Mr. Pendleton that he was going to read him his rights, then asked him about the incident at the gas station. Mr. Pendleton opted to remain silent, though he took one more opportunity to berate the officer for pointing his Taser.

State's attorney: No wrongdoing by Scharlow

The morning of May 8, Scharlow was released from Carle, fewer than six hours after his initial encounter. Mr. Pendleton was charged with aggravated battery with a firearm to a police officer and a warrant was issued for his arrest.

Included in Monday's batch of documents was a letter from First Assistant State's Attorney Steven Ziegler, who said he determined through witness statements, audio and video recordings and physical evidence that Scharlow was attacked by Mr. Pendleton without cause or provocation and that the officer acted appropriately in response.

There were no indications of any wrongdoing on his part, Ziegler concluded.

The FBI and state police took the lead on the case after Mr. Pendleton was spotted in Shawnee National Forest. The FBI issued an arrest warrant for Mr. Pendleton for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution and offered a reward up to $10,000 for information leading to his capture.

On May 15, eight days after he was initially stopped, Mr. Pendleton was found dead following a shootout with authorities in Eddyville.

Hello,

INSD had requested that the laboratory expedite the release of some of the firearms submitted in this case that were from HRT due to the inauguration. The Lab's Firearms/Toolmarks Unit (FTU) and the Training Div.'s Defensive Systems Unit (DSU) expedited the processing and review of some items. I've attached a list with the description of items, who/where collected from, and the 1B and barcode #s. I believe that some of the items may not need to be picked-up by HRT and that they should be returned to SI Evidence Control Room at the conclusion of all examinations (Possibly, Items 6, 12, and 13). I spoke w/ SA [redacted] today regarding INSD request; I advised that I'd send an email to all parties with the requested information and list of items.

[redacted] – please review the list and advise on which Item numbers HRT is requesting back, who the HRT POC will be for picking the items up from the Laboratory directly, and what time tomorrow they were wanting to get the items. b6 b7C

[redacted] – the 1B#s are charged out to the laboratory. Please let me know if making this email chain a record for Sentinel will suffice for the Sentinel management of the items for your chain of custodies.

I will try to have the items being requested by HRT, properly secured and ready for pick-up by tomorrow morning. Feel free to contact me should you have any questions/concerns.
