Historical Events in L.A. & Elsewhere (1)

1. Ceasar Henderson found a bomb on the back door in L.A. – But somehow the bomb disappeared. (I don't think police were called.)
2. On a Thursday or Friday nite when John Jones came down to hold services Church was evacuated due to bomb threat. No bomb went off as prophesized No one was hurt. — — Many times L.A. Temple received phone calls regarding bomb threats and times that bombs would go off. Jim would prophesized that no bomb would go off and we would have count downs in church.
3. Rocks were thrown in dash board of bus on highway – windsheild broken
4. In Philadelphia, man who was white disguised as old black man came in meeting to assasinate Jim. Jack Beam and Jim McElvane escorted him out.
5. Several devious acts committed by David Wise.
6. Story of Ruthie Quinn being sought by FBI who charged her with several felony charge etc.
7. The day we almost had a riot in L.A. Temple Rampart division arrested Merceline, John Jones, C.J., Mike Prokes then Jim Jones.
8. On summer trips, in some meetings we would have BLACK outs (all lights were turned off)

X-2-q-2(a)

9. On some trips we would be discriminated against at Parks & recreation centers. All the water was turned off at Parks

10. Lenore Smith would threaten to kill mom in LA. Temple. (Half crazed woman who ~~[illegible]~~ would make regular visits to LA temple talking crazy. She also pulled a gun on John Jones.)

11. Before we got our church in L.A., a preacher on Central Ave. agreed to let us rent out his church. Name of church (& minister) was Croach Temple. After group of ministers got together and protested us using the building, calling Jim the anti-Christ, the preacher went back on his word and asked us out of his building. However one preacher told Jim that if he would pay him some money under the table, he would let us rent the church anyway.

12. Senior Rev. Jackson arrested in L.A. Jim Jones bailed him out of Jail.

13. When we walked in Fresno in support of the Newsmen, Infiltrators from FBI or police dept. etc walked the picket lines with us trying to provoke incidents. Some agents tried to start a fight with Joe Wilson late one night. (They were plain clothed.)

19th September, [illegible]

Dear Mark,

I send herewith a Synopsis of the Chapters of my biography and the Introduction. This is the work of Fred Archer who has written several books and who is seeking a publisher in the United States. If you could send this copy to your agent on the basis of finding a suitable publisher and if the arrangements are satisfactory to the author Fred Archer, 126 Old Hope Road, Kingston 6, Jamaica, W.I., then such sum as is agreed between your agent and Mr. Archer will be payable out of the proceeds.

I would prefer that all arrangements be conducted between your agent and Mr. Archer as I do not wish to be involved financially.

There will be a wide market in the entire Caribbean for my book. Already the Sun newspaper, the Trinidad Guardian are seeking rights of republication. I have no doubt the papers in Jamaica and indeed the entire Caribbean will be making the same approaches.

From the U.K. point of view my own contacts - Lord Cudlipp formerly of I.P.C. and my B.B.C. and I.T.V. contacts in London will be given an opportunity of using the material under suitable arrangements.

We are concerned with getting a reputable agent who could do the ground work and enter into some agreement with Mr. Fred Archer for the U.S. market.

It was a pleasure meeting you and I look forward to our renewed association in the near future.

Yours,

Lionel

[illegible] Life of Sir Lionel Luckhoo

by Fred Archer

Synopsis of chapters:

The Case of the Conquering Counsel

Meet the real-life Perry Mason! The world's most successful lawyer (vide Guinness Book of Records), he has to date defended 213 clients charged with murder and has not lost a single case. Six cases lost at first trial he won on appeal, two before that ultimate legal tribunal, the Privy Council. He has defended in the U.K. and most of the British Caribbean Countries - except Trinidad where the then Bar Association objected. Was it felt he would monopolise criminal practice?

The Case of the Dubious Doctor

Son of Guyana's first Indian Solicitor, nephew of first Indian K.C., he and his two brothers (both now eminent lawyers) played court trial games as children. Started school debating society, and argued first mo so persuasively that even his opponent joined in unanimous vote. Family had too many members in law already (present total, 16 judges and lawyer and insisted Lionel should become a doctor. Two years of medical study at Bart's in London ended abruptly when, witnessing his first operation, he fainted at the sight of blood. Sent back to London to do law he got through 18 months' work for bar finals in three months.

The Case of the Unexcelled Uncle

His uncle, J.A. Luckhoo, was the country's leading trial lawyer, and defended in 50 murder cases without defeat (69 outof 71 was his final to

X-2-a-3(4)

[illegible] his uncle. His [illegible]

[illegible] acquittal.

The Case of the Lucky Thirteenth

The goldsmith's wife had died after drinking a poisoned glass of milk. A previous wife had died in a similiar circumstances. For the first time Lionel Luckhoo heard the death sentence pronounced on a client. There was then no right of appeal. He fought up to the Privy Council for a hearing. When leave was granted and he won the appeal his thirteenth murder case that had seemed to be dead unlucky, established his reputation and gained place in the law books. At a celebration party the client offered him a ceremonial drink - a glass of milk.

The Case of the King-of-all-Trades

No less likely Trade Union boss could have been imagined than the suave young lawyer. Yet four workers' unions in turn invited him to become President. He won them benefits without strikes, and defended a worker accused of murdering a wife-seducing estate manager.

The Case of the Counterfeit Coiner

Taking time out from murder, Lionel Luckhoo has fought many unusual criminal cases. In one of these stories crime paid double because the money was genuine -- it was the 'coiner' who was counterfeit!

The Case of the Archdemon Rum

Rum has triggered murder many times. In one case it became the agent of a classic 'frame-up' that Lionel Luckhoo prevented in the last dramatic moments of the trial.

The Case of the Unseen Hangman

Four men had been seen to attack the victim that morning, leaving him prostrate but alive. When evening came his dead body was found hanging from a tree -- but no one had seen the hangman.

X-2-a-3(5)

[illegible] U.S. [illegible] total one worth million [illegible] stake. Offered fees in cash or [illegible] shares they lost the chance of becoming millionaires.

The Case of the Gallo[illegible] Mayor

Leading hectic life in politics and sport, Lionel is four times Mayor of Georgetown, President of Turf Club for 15 years, member of the Legislati Council, Minister without Portfolio, President of the Olympic Association and much more. His reforms as Mayor and an original theory of horse-breeding.

The Case of the Murderous Malady

No one knew why he had committed the murderous attack until Lionel Luck propounded the theory that the disease had driven him to kill.

The Case of the Cagey Communist

Prime Minister Cheddi Jagan (like Fidel Castro) did not admit he was a Communist when he came to power. A four-hour cross-examination in Court by Lionel Luckhoo forced the admission from him for the first time.

The Case of the Dying Bridegroom

The prominent U.S. politician absconded to the West Indies with a suitc full of money and a gold-digging girlfriend. Luckhoo's cross-examination of a priest caused their death-bed marriage to be annulled.

The Case of the Duplicate Diplomat

He looks like Napoleon, but has the diplomatic flair of a Talleyrand. As High Commissioner to London, Ambassador to Paris, Bonn and the Hague, h was the only diplomat to represent two countries, with two flags on his ca and two separate missions. When the Queen met him she would ask, "Which h are your wearing today, Sir Lionel?" The critical and amusing situations this dual representation brought about. His reminiscences of de Gaulle, Harold Wilson and other political leaders.

X-2-a-3(6)

After this victory a new client confessed he had not [illegible] to his own house murdering his wife and two children - the only case Luckh[illegible] ever turned down flat. Singlehandedly, he has raised his four children since the divorce. His 16-year-old daughter said recently, "Daddy, you ar[illegible] the best father and mother in the world."

The Case of the Disappearing Double

The country boy came to the big city and found himself accused of rap[illegible] and murder. Lionel Luckhoo proved that the street lamp the witness claime[illegible] to have seen him by had not bee lit - and the 'double' of the accused he pointed out to the jury made a hurried exit from Court.

The Case of the Political Cow

Political enemity between a Prime Minister and an ex-Prime Minister lea[illegible] to a legal wrangle over a cow. Lionel Luckhoo has represented the Prime Ministers of four countries in civil actions. One says of him, "Not the world's most successful lawyer but the world's biggest sucker!" - because the modest fees he charges.

The Case of the Blindfolded Witness

The country's biggest bank robbery, a guard murdered, five employees he[illegible] as hostages. Only one of the witnesses had been blindfolded, but it was she who was certain she could identify the accused.

The Case of the Offending Hands

Even after they chopped off his hands the thieving giant was still the most dangerous man in the community.

The Case of the Judge's Dilemma

After many times declining, Lionel Luckhoo accepted an appointment as a High Court Judge - and found himself still [illegible] as defence counsel when relevant questions went unasked or unanswered. Despite his fairness, one notorious criminal blamed and [illegible]atened him after being convicted - then engineered a daring escape by leaping from a court window to a confederate' motor-cycle below.

The Case of the Dumbstruck Defendant

The Case of the Angry Amazon

She was ~~blonde~~ brunette, statuesque, had flirted with the Prince of Wales (later Duke of Windsor), so strong that she could lift up two men and throw them out of a bar-room. Then she was found dead with 24 cutlass slashes on her body, and her diminutive husband was accused of murder.

The Case of the Constant Christian

Lionel Luckhoo as a firm, not fanatical, upholder of the Christian fait He writes on religion from the layman's point of view, and speaks in church of all denominations.

The Case of the Vicarious Victor

A legal case that is unique. Because Lionel Luckhoo is unavailable and he will accept no other counsel, a man accused of masterminding a plot to kill his mistress's husband defends himself on a charge of murder. Luckhoo visits him in his prison cell during the three weeks trial, advises him on the cross-examination of witnesses, what arguments to put to judge and jury

X-2-a-3(8)

[illegible]

His latest triumph, or the first defeat. The case continues.

Not listed above but to be included are the cases of the headless corpse the parents charged with the ritual murder of their child; the uncle who framed his boy nephew for murder; the man freed of murder who was awarde a Purple Heart; the man who killed his best friend in defending his fa the wedding night murders; and others.

Also Lionel Luckhoo's comments on his cases and his views (as told to th writer) on criminals, judges, juries, prosecutors, witnesses -- formed during 38 years as a trial lawyer with an unrivalled record of success.

Many photographs are available, including Lionel Luckhoo being knight by Queen Elizabeth (the first time a picture of the ceremony was allowed with de Gaulle and other world-celebrated figures, with family, and with grateful clients freed of murder charges. Also scenes of crimes and cou exhibits.

1. The Case of the Conquering Counsel

Who can match his record of triumphant advocacy and the wonderful verdicts he won from the juries?
-- Lord Birkett on Sir Edward Marshall Hall

The feud with the neighbours had come to crisis point. Blood was about to run. 'Me too old,' Karamat said to his son. 'You kill 'em, one-one. Me got money. Me take Lionel for you.'

Young Karamat went out and killed. Two people died.

Incitement to murder? That was what the prosecution called it. Words a witness claimed to have overheard became the main basis for charges of wilful homicide.

Whatever else they might mean, those words include one of the highest tributes ever paid to a lawyer. Old Karamat and his son were willing to gamble their life on Lionel Luckhoo's ability to save them from the gallows.

Case No.2 The eminent Guyanese lawyer, wealthy landowner and former Cabinet Minister was about to be arrested for murder. Two eye-witnesses were ready to swear that he had shot an unarmed man at point-blank range. His wife said she would go to England to find him a lawyer. 'I want you to have the best lawyer in the world.'

The husband said, 'I agree with you. I need the best lawyer in the world. Don't go to England. Get me Lionel Luckhoo.'

*This and other cases referred to in this chapter are dealt with more fully later on.

X-2-a-3(10)

[illegible] No.) The [illegible] of the [illegible] victim came to [illegible] home at night. They offered to pay double the brief ice he would [illegible] for defending the accused if he agreed to relinquish the case. He told them it was not possible.

'Very well,' they said. 'We understand you have to appear. We will still pay you any fee you name, and all we ask is give a little slack.' Meaning, don't try your hardest.

Neither heaven nor hell issue statistics. God alone knows the numbers of souls His vicars on earth have speeded on their upward flight, or saved from stumbling into the fiery furnace. As with priests, so with doctors: their worst mistakes are quietly buried; and to trumpet success is forbidde by a professional ethic that makes a pretence to equality the keystone of conspiracy. By contrast the work of a trial lawyer is on public display. When two sides are in opposition there must be a loser for every winner. Toss a coin a million times and you will get an equal division between heads and tails. Similarly it can be predicted that over a long run the absolutely average lawyer will show an absolute 50% record of success and failure. A lawyer who wins 60% of his cases must be good, with a 75% scor he becomes outstanding, and at 90% ... what shall we say? Phenomenal? What word then is left to describe Lionel Luckhoo, who has won the verdict for the defence in ~~209~~ 213 murder trials without a single defeat?

Maybe it is simpler to illustrate it as an instance of fact having outdistanced fiction. Erle Stanley Gardner, a lawyer himself, was often accused of stretching the bounds of possibility by allowing Perry Mason to win every case. Literary licence was the only plea his critics would consider in mitigation of the offence. Yet Gardener, in his novels, [illegible] Perry Mason through fewer than 70 courtroom trials, [illegible] told. Lionel Luckhoo's unbroken run of success in murder cases is three times that number.

X-2-a-3(11)

The first of many mornings I spent in Lionel Luckhoo's office was like walking into the beginning of a Perry Mason story. His secretary, Miss Indira Singh, comes him and cajoles him in Della Street fashion into seeing an unexpected client. Two people entered, husband and wife. The husband has shot an unarmed man the night before, and is expecting to be charged with murder.

Luckhoo gives the advice Mason might offer. 'Go home. If the police come and arrest you, don't make any statement. If they hurt you, even if they use a tourniquet, still say nothing. They won't kill you -- and it's your neck you are saving, remember! Tell them only, "When I have seen my lawyer I will make a full statement." Just keep repeating that. Nothing more.'

The man looks scared and doubtful.

'Don't worry,' Luckhoo reassures him. 'You won't afterwards have to make the full statement. Once I am called the onus for refusing will then be on me.' He adds a last warning. 'Don't tell me later you have made a statement saying how the killing tock place, or how you believe it happened.'

He turns to the wife. 'If the police take him let me know at once. I will find out where he is being held and go see him. Were there any witnesses?'

The wife, a handsome woman, is calmer than her shaken husband. She says there were several witnesses whom she knows.

'Give me their names. Probably the police will have taken statements

X-2-a-3(12)

[illegible] all by now. [illegible] have I can't take statemen[illegible] [illegible] not given any statements I can inquire into their version.'

There are investigators -- ex-police detectives and law clerks -- he uses part-time for leg-work. Now he calls one of them and instructs him to interview the witnesses the wife of the client has named.

But again like Perry Mason (the repeated comparison just cannot be avoided), and unlike any other practising lawyer one can think of, Lionel Luckhoo cannot resist taking part in investigations himself. Once he walked 15 miles to find and interview workers in the fields who might have seen a fleeing suspect. In a dozen or more murder cases his own investigations at the scene of the crime have played a decisive part in winning a verdict. Sure enough he later went to view the scene of the shoo in which his new client was involved. It was a pool room behind a bar-restaurant. Lionel noted from the bloodstains the direction in which the body had fallen. He estimated the distances from doors and tables that might prove to be important, the width of the meshwork round the bar that obstructed the view from certain angles. When the time came to cross-examine witnesses in court he would know what they could or could not, should or should not, have seen.

The second client that morning is a man accused of forgery. Middle-age respectable, his whole career now in jeopardy, he weeps and literally kneels before the desk as he pleads with Lionel Luckhoo to save him. The tears are not uncommon in that office, but the kneeling is more than Luckh can stomach. 'Get up!' he says harshly. 'You kneel only to God, not to me.'

The third and fourth are both civil cases. One concerns a dispute over a will, the other a matter of habeas corpus. Apart from the last, so startlingly unusual that it could make legal history, it is all fairly typical of a morning when he is not in court. At this time Lionel has eight murder cases pending, which is about average. Once, [illegible] the [illegible] cases awaiting trial had shot up to twenty, he stopped taking new cases, but resumed when the number dropped to sixteen. He is vastly overworked. With 70 cases in hand altogether, half of them criminal, he decided that very week to take no more until the list was reduced.

Lionel Luckhoo is easy to describe. He looks like Napoleon. When he was High Commissioner to the Court of St. James, the London Press photographers asked him to put his hat on sideways and stick a hand inside his jacket in the traditional pose. Such flummery was superfluous. Without props or make-up he is a closer lookalike to the Emperor than Brando, Boyer or Steiger ever achieved on film. In repose, after working on a brief until weary, it is the brooding look of a Napoleon in exile.

Yet in a way the comparison is deceptive. The stern, unyielding and imperious Napoleonic traits are seldom in evidence, and when evident are merely assumed for courtroom effect. His natural powers a charm and gift of persuasion more reminiscent of a Talleyrand.

When he determined to 'set his cap', as he puts it, at being a great lawyer, Lionel took stop of his physical assets. They did not please him as being of the kind that could dominate a courtroom. He was five feet five-and-a-half inches tall. He could not forget the half foot that was lacking, not even the half inch. The commanding height of a Marshall Hall had been denied him. Neither in those days did he have a frontal bulge he could decorate with a gold watch-chain. (That touched of Napole embonpoint has been added since!) So what had nature given him? A candi

A-2-a-3 (14)

[illegible] friendly eye. Lionel Luckhoo [illegible] and he likes people to like him. His common greeting, 'Hello [illegible] my friend,' makes those he meets feel that it is more than a formal salute. Friendliness does not win cases in court, but it keeps judges and juries in a mood to listen.

Nonetheless, he does dominate the courtroom. Normally with a witness he is coaxing rather than combative. Needless belligerance can rebound if a witness made defiant then withholds the revealing answer. Yet when it is called for the velvety voice can change, can pierce like a stiletto. Lionel treats judges with an old-world courtesy that has gone out of fashion. Even when angered he does not lose his temper, but he has been known to respond to blatantly bad rulings with smooth sarcasm. One judge, after much prevarication over a submission, ended by saying, 'I'm afraid I must rule against you.' He was answered: 'You are perfectly right to be afraid, Your Honour. When this matter is considered by a higher tribunal your fears will be fully justified.' They were.

One day a man came into Lionel Luckhoo's office. 'Is talking to you like talking to a priest?' he asked. 'Nothing I say can be repeated?'

Lionel confirmed that their conversation had absolute privilege.

'Then name your fee. I'll pay you anything. I want to get rid of my wife. Just tell me how to do it safely, and I will do it.'

That was one time Lionel Luckhoo did lose his temper and threatened to call the police. He was incensed at being asked to devise a foolproof method of murder. Yet when another would-be client walked in and confessed, 'I have just killed my wife!' Lionel offered the cheerful comfort, 'That's a minor offence.' It may have been just what the man needed to pull him together. Otherwise the seeming flippancy is out of character for he is the least callous of men.

X-2-a-3(15)

Yours, his sense of [illegible] has a tinge of the macabre. cut in unlikely places. To believe that to be serious is to b is a confusion of trivial minds. The first time he was knighted by Queen Elizabeth (he has been knighted twice; once for legal, once for diplomatic services), she said to him after the dubbing. 'You looked very grave, Sir Lionel.'

'Yes, Ma'am,' he replied. 'I was thinking of what would happen if you took a short cut from one shoulder to the other with the sword.'

His most harrowing moments are while waiting for the jury to bring in a verdict. He passes the time doodling and reviewing the evidence for an appeal -- just in case. Six times Lionel has heard the death sentence pronounced on clients, and has then won the cases on appeal. Twice, to achieve victory, he has had to go before the ultimate legal tribunal, the Privy Council in London. Far more often, of course, after the harrowing comes the immediate reward of hearing the foreman of the jury declare, 'Not Guilty.'

Lionel Luckhoo has never kept a judge waiting. It upsets him if he has to rush into court at the last moment. He likes to arrive early, get his books and papers in order, and settle down for at least five minutes before the court is in session. Whether the issue is large or small, Lionel is in a state of nerves, like an actor awaiting his opening line, until the moment comes for his to rise and say, 'Your Honour, I represent the defenda Then the tension vanishes and he is completely immersed in the case ... unt next morning when it starts all over again. After all the years, the hundreds of cases, 'It's still a hell of a thing,' he says, 'To know that a man's whole future may be decided by your presentation of his case -- no matter whether it's a question of money, imprisonment, or saving him from being hanged.'

X-2-a-3 (16)

It was charged against Socrates that he made the worse appear the better case. Demosthenes, Cicero, every advocate in every age, has had to face the accusation. Why do you defend an unworthy cause? Beyond all doubt, many a guilty man has owned his freedom to a clever counsel. And law-bidding citizens, who cannot imagine they ever will bein need of a defender, find this disturbing to their peace of mind. Inevitably, the question came before Dr. Samuel Johnson. Sir William Forbes had said he thought an honest lawyer should never undertake a cause which he was satisfied was not a just one. Boswell records the blunt answer.

'Sir,' said Dr. Johnson, 'a lawyer has no business with the justice or injustice of the cause which he undertakes .... The justice or injusti of the cause is to be decided by the judge. Consider, Sir, what is the purpose of courts of justice? It is that every man shall have his case fairly tried by men appointed to try causes .... A lawyer is not to usurp the province of the jury or the judge and determine what shall be the effect of the evidence or the result of legal argument.... If lawyers were to undertake no such causes until they were sure that they were just a man might be precluded altogether from a trial of his claim, though were it judicially examined it might be found a very just claim.'

The greatest of English advocate Thomas Erskine, put it as plainly when he defended Tom Paine. 'If the advocate refuses to defend from what he may think of the charge or the defence, he assumes the character of th judge nay, he assumes it before the hour of judgment .... and puts the influence of a perhaps mistaken opinion into the scale against the accuse

*Lionel Luckhoo's views on how many of his clients were guilty, and th proper roles of defender, prosecutor, judge and jury will appear in other chapters.

X-2-a 3(17)

Under the rule of law a man is legally innocent until a jury has decided he is guilty. Every accused is allowed a defender, whose duty it is say for him what he would say for himself were he able. If the State, with all its resources pitted against a lone advocate, cannot then prove to any twelve ordinary citizens that the accused is guilty beyond a reasonable doub surely he is entitled to go free.

What the defender should be, and seldom is, given credit for is the salvation of those who, deprived of his advocacy, might have been wrongfull convicted. Under the best legal systems there are more miscarriages of jus than most of us care to remember. Such lists should be immeasurably longer if we had to add the innocence freed through fine and fearless advocacy; conversely, they would be shorter if the best counsel had been available to all.

While admiring the art of the advocate it is easy to lose sight of the fact that human lives and happiness depend on his every performance. Lionel Luckhoo does not forget it nor could he if he would. To walk down the street with him, to pass through any town or village in Guyana, is sure to bring a reminder.

A young man comes up to him. 'You don't know me,' he says, 'But you got my father off a murder charge. If you hadn't I wouldn't be here, because I wasn't born then.'

Two middle-aged men come from two hundred miles up-country to bring him a gift of paw-paw, a fruit he specially likes. Years ago they were jointly accused of murder, and his skill saved them from the rope. They still remember.

His car stops outside a country store. The group of men standing there become wildly excited. They call out to someone inside: 'Come quickly, George! It's the man who got you off the murder charge. It's Lionel.'

X-2-a-3(18)

Such scenes are enacted wherever he goes. The three best [illegible] in Guyana must be those of Forbes Burnham, The Prime Minister, Cheddi Jagan the Leader of the Opposition, and Lionel Luckhoo. He, too, has been in politics. In the nineteen-fifties when Burnham and Jagan were allied he formed a party to oppose both, and met with disastrous defeat at the polls. It is a deeper and more personal recognition than that awarded to the political figure which he now receives. He is greeted as the friend of people in trouble, the defender who won freedom for them, their relatives or their friends, when a situation seemed hopeless.

The Victoria Law Courts, scene of so many triumphs are across the street, directly facing Lionel Luckhoo's office. But even today he will travel the breadth of the country for a preliminary inquiry into a capital charge. It is not for the money. Errol Barrow, when he was Prime Minister of Barbados, once said to Lionel, 'You are not the world's most successful lawyer but the world's biggest sucker,' as a comment on the fees he charges.

For a long time now, judges, lawyers and friends have been asking Lionel Luckhoo why he does not stop and so preserve an undefeated record. Partly his pride will not allow him to ease up, or to weight the odds by taking only the less difficult cases -- at least two of the trials now pending are likely to rank among the toughest he has faced. But the real answer, I think, is that he can resist neither the human appeal nor the challenge of his skills.

Lionel's own comment on his stupendous record is, 'I think I have an incredible amount of luck. It has stood me in great stead over a number of cases and over a number of years.' No doubt luck, by whatever name you call it, does play a part in life. It does not come 209 213 times in succession. If luck went his way on some cases, they are counterbalanced by others in which it seemed, as with Sisera, that even the stars in their courses were against him.

Certainly anyone booked on a murder charge needs either luck or Luckhoo. It may be better to have both, but given a choice .... well, Lady Luck is an inconstant nymph, Luckhoo is ever indomitable in the fight for victory.

Two hundred and nine. That number will be out of date before you read it. Will it still be rising, higher and higher? Or will the longest run of success in legal history have come to an end?

X-2-a-6(2)

Guest Bathroom On meeting night too many are using it and it is beginni to smell. Dad gave permission for specific ones to use it.

Rally MOTION PASSED that an announcement be made in rally that unless authorized by Dad you are subject to a warning for using the guest bathroom. Others must use the other bathroom --seniors may use one back of senior center.

Johnny commented make a note that people should not be using the ground behind there or around there until after the guests are gone, or it will be smalling.

Back bathroom Is for use of those in senior center or in ICU..medical. Others must use the #3 bathroom in cottage area.

Railings to be moved back on pavilion
Ron Talley would like to have the seats taken out around the pavilion and the railing moved to the outside of the room, and the pix moved out so that the room is enlarged and some areas are not blocked from Dad's view.

MOTION PASSED to move the boards to the outside and make permanent seats that go there, and move the maps to outer poles also.

Side platform Earnestine suggested that we consider a side platform for Dad that would cut down the distance from him the people would be placed.. many problems with this including the roof too low at that point, direct line of incoming rain from that side, etc.

MOTION PASSED to raise the dirt flooring up 12 inches now and when another section added behind that, move it up another 6 inches --or two levels, 12 inches and 1[illegible] inch

Bob Christian abstained from voting.

Johnny commented though we can vote these things in now, they will be pl on a priority list --and a ways down the list --nor can they be done bef their turn... all understood.

Incentives In the ACA meeting, the medical staff had commented they had hard time getting people to work overtime now that the the incentive of treats had been removed. N-ed something t keep up the morale. Get ideas to Stephen or the CAO's.

Paint for cottages--CT pointed out that paint must be ordered for our ne cottages and he presented a color chart requesting the dec ting committee select the paint. Nancy Sines and Rosie Hug names are on list to be included.. VERNETTA TO GET THE [illegible] FOR JOHNNY of those on the committee. Maryann took the lis of paints from which the color is to be chosen and present to Dad for final approval.

Cottage 30 request-- ould like to get their porch steps and shoe rack pa MOTION PASSED TO TABLE indefinitely until paint is secured. Right now we are out of paint.

Flower pots Some are piss cans, half painted, carnation & other cans.. are unsightly and need covering or..[illegible] on th day guests are coming through. Advance inspectors see this is on their list to inspect for..Inside on that day for pl in unsightly containers.

MINISTER WILLS 2/78 (after we revealed to him what Paula overheadd between Perm. Sect. Collins and Bunny Mann about Wills)

-said he talked to Burnham last night about the Bunny Mann/Collins incident, he said that there were still gray areas to clear up with Bumnham. He couldnt get a word in at first with Burnham because Burnham had all the faets. Collins and Bunny had gotten to him first and complained about Wills.

-Bunny has direct access to Burnham

-Wills has a plan tho to get to Burnham through a woman who once had an affair with Burnham, a Miss Collins. She no longer is having an affair with Burnham but he Burnham has a sympathy for her and she has direct access to him

-however Miss Collins has total loyalty to Wills and he will tell her to talk to Burnham in his favor. (Strange that Bunny has more access than Wills and was believed at first)

-Wills knows how to have her bring up the subject of Wills to Burnham

-this is the time for Bunny and Collins to be reposted in their positions/ Wills said they don't necessarily (???) want his kjob but they want to shack up the Foreign Ministry so that Burnham will have his mind off them and (in other words not repost them)

-Wills had a problem with Burnham as Wills couldn't deny that the facts that Bunny and Collins mentioned were true/ he did spend time alone kwith Tumminia and it was a long time. (However, he had arranged the visit with Tumminia through channels and Collins had helped in the arrangements as Tumminia reqaested to xxx talk to Wills.

-Wills was worried that Burnham would be suspicious of the fact that Wills was talking so long to an American (who could be CIA), he said he couldn't prove what he talked about, it was about us and kx a book that they had read in common. He said however the subject of PT didn't come up with Burnham.

MINISTER WILLS Friday 10/2/78

-Tim Carter wrote up adequate notes on this however I wanted to clarify one point

-the fact that the Human Rights report stated nothing about PT was mentioned to be positive for us because they would have indicated the Stoen matter as a violation of Human Rights if that was considered to be so. However, it was mentioned that PT could have been xxx mentioned as a positive indication of Human Rights in Guyana. The fact that Americans were allowed to immigrate xx and were supposedly treated fairly (supposedly konly because we know what hassles we've gone thru). The fact that PT wasn't mentioned as a positive factor for Human Rights was Wills thought because US is embarrassed about US citizens leaving the US to find a "better" home. It wasn't negative for Guyana but just a shame wills said that it wasn't indicated as a Positive.

-Wills also stated that Israel kx was given a poor rating on the Human Rights ratings

-Wills said there is no way to keep Mxxxx Marcie's visit to Washington a secret from Bunny. He's going to try to think of ways to deal with the fact that bunny might try to mess up her visit and he'll think of things that Marcie can say that will help

-he did state she could mention how Guyana is a great place for the recognition and protection of human rights and the law.

-Wills told us to definitely tell Mxx Mingo that the Interpol report kx about guns is what caused our crates to be held up even tho the crates were all checked and okeyed before this report came out and yet the report was believed.

-Wills wants us to write Burnham and Reid about the situation with Collins and Bunny talking about him and Tumminia/ however Paula xxxxxx felt that we should be careful about any mention of Bunny to Burnham. Bunny saw Burnham 3 times recently/xxx I said well maybe Burnham chewed him out as Wills told us that Burnham did chew out Bunny for "fornicating" when he was supposed to be doing official business. Paula said "Well, that may true but each time Bunny has seen Wills, he has come back in good spirits and that is not a good sign.

WE WERE TOLD TO TELL WILLS THE FOLLOWING MESSAGE WHICH WE DID
-JJ is beeing isolated, shot at, people are working on it to get him
-some of the government people (PNC) are working very closely with the US and we have been told by one (who is friendly to socialism and who is black and not pro-Jagan) that they are destined to replace the old staff. We look at such reports with a jaundiced eye but thought we should pass it on to you
-this person said that others in government will be removed to make the staff more cohesive

(WHEN WE TOLD HIM THE ABOVE MESSAGE, WILLS DIDN'T TAKE IT TOO SERIOUSLY, HE SAID HE'S HEARD SUCH THINGS, BUT HE'S ALSO HEARD THE OPPOSITE; HE JUST KEEPS ON WORKING) - I think he didn't take it seriously as he had just met with Burnham and was told that Burnham would chew out Bunny because Bunny was "fornicating" when he should be working for the government.)

WILLS CONVERSATION 8/2/78 Re Bunny Mann
-he said that he was very concerned that Bunny would talk where Paula could hear his conversations/ he said the facts Paula related were true so the info must be true
-he said he thought he had Bunny "covered"
-he said the key positions of power were in our camp (PT), all governments are oligarchic and the oligarchic power (Wills, Burnham, Reid) are pro-PT
-he said Bunny was trying to get his job/ later he said that wasn't so but Bunny was just trying to shake up Wills job
-he referred to Paula's work as "your people's intelligence service"
-Barnwell he said is the Registrar of the Supreme Ct and he controls all orders (CODE NAME IS RODNEY FOR HIM)
-makes him feel "blue murder" that Paula has to endure Bunny's use of her body
-Wills knows that Bunny is the source of the rumors that say Wills is sleeping around
-Wills said "The PM must fire him." Wills said, "Reid has a campaign against Bunny"
-Wills said, "The child must stay.
-he said that Burnham told Bishop thru Mingo that Bishop should back PT (Wills talked to Mingo while we were in the office or pretended to, some of his calls are real because he did call the GAC on our behalf as they told us he did, he did call Kennard about the swimming pools, he did call Davis head of Guysuco and he once did call Mingo because Mingo told us he did, but some may be phony.)
-Wills said there is no way John will leave this country
-Wills refuses to be left alone to fight for socialism in So. America (this is grandiose but if Wills feels a little insecure about his job with Burnham listening to Bunny, he may feel it is in his interest to have us giving him info about Bunny and other info that could help in his job)
-Wills said he knows where he can retire to (Jonestown)
-If in any case, as we askedwhat would happen during an appeal, Wills said the situation would be stayed pending an appeal (he didnt bring this up, we did as we said we wouldn't allow the child to be taken)
-if nothing is ever served there will be no problem (we mentioned the people that sell out their grandmothers), he said they could serve papers but they'd have to go thru a proceedure all over again of getting the judge to sign and the registrar has to stamp it. Wills said he will not allow that to happen tho.
-he said Burnham wants Bunny to be brought back home to Guyana (if reposted)
-Bunny's only friend is McCabe
-the Bishop (Judge) is a Rotarian as are Blacken and Stoen

X-2-a-8(3)

MINGO 6/2/78

-he can't come with Dymally to Jonestown, he has Parliament on Wed
-he has received a complaint about our people going door to door collecting donations at Linden and Georgetown, they need legal permission from the police to do so (I spoke to Attorney Clarke about this and he had told me this law about this was rarely implemented)
-Mingo made a call to Cde. Roberts at GAC to seek if he could help us with Dymally's flight/ Cde Roberts wouldn't do it but said he would personally fly Dymally into the interior and out but wouldn't do the rest of the trip/ he said he didn't know much about us and were we religious (we said we'd bring in some material on us, and we were humanitarian)
-he said he goes to church but isn't religious

CRATES
-he said he couldn't help us as Hope is locked up in a room and no-one can get to him. he said Mills will have to speak to him/ Mingo doesn't want to interfere with this tho he called White for us about the swimming pools and told White that Dr. Reid has an arrangement with PT to come to Mingo
-he stressed to White that the swimming pools were needed for agriculture for water storage as the No. West has dry periods
-White was not particularly nice to him and asked why Mingo was interferring

-Re; John's custody case, he said "justice must not only be done but appear to be done" / we'd just have to wait for a decision on this

GOVT WITHIN A GOVT
-he said that regarding our school it must be registered, the fact that we have written out our program and submitted it or have gotten assurances that aren't in writing don't mean we have done the proceedure officially and it must be in writing
-he said some have accused us of being a govt within a govt. (said when we asked who had said that, "I'm not supposed to tell you that") around 6/2/75?

X-2-a-8

WILLS, WHEN HE MENTIONED THAT THE MOTHER HAS THE PRESUMPTION OF THE RIGHT OF THE CHILD/ AFTER HE TALKED TO TUMMINIA

-he said it bastardizes the child when you consider the case of the "real" unmarried father over the "legal" father
-however, our rebuttal would be by showing all the interests of the child are not properly cared for by the mother
-he said that he gave Tumminia a good word about us but didn't oversell us, Wills said he "acted like he didn't give a damn" but that was Wills' way of showing Tumminia he really did like us but didn't want to oversell (This is typical Willian double talk)

-Wills told Tumminia about the freitas letter, said Freitas must be a Nixon (Wills said that), We told Wills that we heard from Tumminia that Wills wasn't partisan on our side. Wilss countered by saying that if he Wills communicated to Tumminia that he was partisan, he'd be throwing out just what Freitas would want and then wouldn't help our case.

-regarding the Stoen case, he knows (after we mentioned that it is non-negotiable) that it is not.
-we mentioned that it would involve 1000 deaths/ that's when he changed the subject and talked about giving up smoking. I later confronted him about doing so and he said he did so to avoid crying. Said that when a subject gets emotional he will change to a lighter subject as a "defense mechanism"

-he said he had received 50 Guyanese letters in support of PT (he knows they aren't phony. They were overwhelmingly positive. All saw it as a case of US vs Guyanese sovereignty

-said that Minister Jack had given everyone in the cabinet a copy of the letter of his signing that he had asked JJ to "sire" a child / also he had copied the letter about [redacted] and given that out. A joke was make, "You have to concede this man is a Christian gentleman as there is no greater gift than to give your wife to your friend" (this joke was made to Reid) -

b7C

-regarding E Carmichael, Wills felt that Min. Teekah (Of Education) and McCoy had set up the visit of Carmichael to upset the visit of Tumminia and Blacken. But Wills called Teekah and he didn't know anything about the visit so Wills guesses Carmichael did it on his own.

SIR LIONEL / VISIT AFTER THE INCIDENT REGARDING BLACKEN AND TUMMINIA
-he feels that if Blacken said anything about no paper being served, it is because Wills talked to him (that was just his opinion)
-but in regard to the case, he thinks everything is favorable, I needn't worry my head about it. They can do nothing, can do nothing unless they serve papers. There are no orders seeking to do so

WILLS RE BURNHAM:
-he said that "if Burnham was CIA that would be a great disappointment" but Tumminia you could expect to be CIA ashe is working for the US govt. / it struck us funny that he would even mention Burnham being CIA even if it was hypothetical

Y-2-a-

WILLS 30/1/78

(answers were given to the weaknesses he felt PT had and he talked about Tumonia Caribbean affairs officer from us and other matters)

FREITAS LETTER
-we told him that we didn't believe Freidas wrote the letter, as Tim could have taken Freitas' stationary and written it himself/ people from US don't believe Freitas wrote it
-Wills said that he is a lawyer and Freitas is a lawyer/ the countries US and Guyana have the same basis of law, British, and Freitas should know better than that to ask Wills to use his potitical influence, it's an impertinance and he's writing Freitas a letter to that effect. He's telling Freitas "you should know that it's against the constitution" (he said he showed the letter to Tumonia and Blacken and told Tumonia it is unfair interference and Tumonia agreed

TUMONIA AND BLACKEN
-Wills talked to them and the discussion was about PT
-Wills told Tuminia that PT is important to Guyana for two reasons, migration and agricultural production, and the psychological reason that Guyana has a psychological sympathy for people who can't tolerate the system. Blacken and Tuminia understand this (Wills is sure of this), Blacken understands that Guyanese came as indentured laborers and thus they are more internationalists than nationalists
-he said Tumonia is Italian or Green
-Wills said to Tumonia that there is a problem with the US State Dept, Guyana and PT and prevention of aid, Tumonia denied this (but Wills said that Tumonian's denial is"political posturing"
-he said that the Freitas letter switched the heat to him on this case (To Wills)
-he claimed that Tuminnia brought up the question of human rights in regard to the stoen case (tho Tim Carter thought Wills brought up the question of human rights) We'll have to check this out
-Wills did say to Tumminia "you're using the human rights issue in the Stoen case as a deterrent

ISSUE OF STOEN CASE
-he said (Wills did) that the issue of John is not settled by a claim that JJ is the father but whether Grace Stoen is a fit and proper mother/ the presumption is in favor of the mother. Wills says he himself doesn't think she is a fit mother.

FOREIGN AID
-he said the US stopped aid to Uganda because Uganda let the Palistaneans land a plane / said that at first both US and China and USSR pumping aid into Uganda but they stopped when the Palistinians landed the plane (don't know about USSR but China and US stopped/ he said the Jewish lobby in the US stopped it)
- We stated that it didn't seem like they would stop aid over this one small thing and that they'd have to have other reasons to do so and he agreed that it would be a flimsy excuse and they'd have to have other reasons/ also he said that US has already signed for aid, it's an official agreement Loan at 8 1/2% that Ambassador Burke, one is for 2.5 million and one for 10 million, it's thru the Commodity Credit Cooperation
-he says that Tuminia looks at one issue at a time in regard to PT, like the Stoen case, and the Oliver case. Wills said he told Tuminia you can't divide up the issues or you defeat them in detail and erode them slowly/ he says you must look at each problem in the total context
-Wills showed Tuminia Freitas' letter/ Tuminia agreed that the letter was wrong for Freitas to ask political influence in the case
-Tuminia he said is a faceless person (a bureaucrat)

BLAKEN
-Wills says that Blaken got the Ripkin award for standing up on several things/ he said that Brazil was torturing people/ he's tried to get changes in policy/ did work in Africa and promoted a treaty with Panama/ he wanted to build bridges in Guyana when Kissinger said hands off

X-2-a-Y(6)

BURKE (Ambassador)
-he was in Tiland (spelling??) when there was a fascist coup/ he was the #2 man there and Wills said that man is usually CIA
-he's an Isolationist and thought Nixon was a great guy / Burke said nothing about us when Wills saw him today
McCoy
-Wills says he has to live with the fact we exist
(Tim cArter told Wills that McCoy was a blabber mouth which I didn't think was too cool to do as I worried it would get back to McCoy)

-Wills accused the US embassy of being unconcerned with American Citizens in their midst (he said he talked to them about this), Tim Stoen Wills says is a waste of his time

Norman (becoming a pilot)
-he told the man that interviewed Norman and said "we don't need pilots right now" don't say that
-Wills will forward Norman's resume to Hamilton Green who handles jobs (Dept of Labour)
-pilots are striking (they get free air travel on holidays, other employees get $1000 for holidays but no free air travel/ the pilots want free air travel and the whole $1000 also (which Wills said was rediculous)

CUBA AND RUSSIA
-Wills said he knew of their trip to seeus and he cleared it
-he said that he could u-derstand for our security why we would want them to come
-he said the Soviets are positive to us in their speech 98% positive but 2% they look at us like the US Solzinetzins, dissidents/ I asked how they could do that because of our leaving a capitalist country/ he said well it is in their self-interest which was slightly different but in other words in their self-interest to see that people would be leaving the American system, to see socialists "escaping" from the US
-he said that the Ambassadors from cuba and Russia are personal friends of his

-SOAP
-he said we should perfect our soap and show it to ministers and others

ANSWERS TO HIS ALLEGATIONS OF OUR WEAKNESSES
-he said one of our weaknesses is that we expect total assurances, he understands we want assurances in the area of John, our doctor, our school and customs tho some people are only prepared to give a qualified committment and instead of asking for total assurance we should say, "How far are you prepared to go?" otherwise some would say nothing at all rather than give a qualified answer

CUSTOMS:
-he can assist in a qualified way, it's not his jurisdiction and you have to put the issue to the Finance Minister, Hope now is into finance raising because of the budget being now and he has to show increase in production
-he said it was rediculous we were being penalized for being communal and packing that way/ when we said we were quoted an old English law, he said, "The law is not as important as the application of law"
-he said it's unproductive to argue with a man like White, don't buck him, he's a system's man, he said he will bring up the issue of customs tomorrow in Cabinet with Burnham and later there should be a meeting with Wills, Burnham and Hope over it
-Hope and Wills are both senior ministers so it's a problem telling Hope anything, Wil Hope, King, Hoyt, Jack, Reid, Green, Harrian, and Canard are all Senior Ministers
-Mingo, Teeka, Nacimento are jr. Ministers
-you can't give a senior minister an order, they are supposed to cooperate so can make suggestions

X-2-a-8

OUR WILLINGNESS TO TAKE A STAND WITH WILLS IF HE EVER IS THREATENED
-he seemed moved by this

SAID WE DON'T SIFT THRU INFO (REACT TOE EVERYTHING)
-no sifting between heresay or any allowances between any human deficiency
-we over-react for instance when Hass came to town
-we assume the worst and then dissapate our resources (like the threat of a hunger strike and yet nothing happened to us at that time)
-we react to the arrest of JJ and yet nothing can happen to JJ because of the papers not being served

WILLS:
-he is upset that we ever question his motives (if you question him too much), he is the shit rock we have, he's shit

WHEN THAT HE ASKED FOR OUR WEAK POINTS AND THEY WOULD COME BACK WITH ANSWERS
-said If I had not had a dialogue with you in the first place, I wouldn't have had to go thru all this
-don't give me your California Hard Sell, I am already committed to you

WE ARE VULNERABLE
-said we could be infiltrated/ we said it would be too hard work at the farm and a lot of structure
-he said "Baldersdash", man have infiltrated prisons and have lived prison life in order to do CIA work, they have worked in hard labour in Siberia to get credibility
-it's important enough (our cause) in terms of the destruction of the big image of the US/ for us to leave the US is bad for PT for the US
-we are the first clear example of a socialist group in US history, we not only say it but live it / this is bad for the US
-he said a woman could come in with a drug problem and appeal to our humanity/ she would be sent to Jonestown, later she might have to go to Georgetown and would have drugs on her and get herself arrested and it would look bad for Jonestown
-however he has checked it out(His intellizence) and as far as he knows we are OK, but we are too wide open. Everyone has their weaknesses and he says ours is that we are humanitarian and thus vulnerable tho he said JJ has the capacity to evaluate people
-he said a technique to get us would be a sham attack to divert our energies and weaken us
-use of diversion, it might not be the main attack
-he said all the above is hypothetical, he doesn't think it will actually happen
-like an old person, a cripple/ we are overtrusting and could fall for something like that, CIA studies you and looks at your weakpoings
-he did say what would be hard for an agent is to live under such solidarity and under that "moral force"
-another factor that might mean the CIA couldn't do too much with us is that they are dispersed all over/ their ability to concentrate on PT is limited because of their work in Angola, Ethiopia, Europe, Turkey etc.
-we said that we would go with Wills and if he were replaced we'd say "the hell with whoever replaced him"/ he said -"see that's what I mean you don't sift thru things, first we should see if the person replaced him because Wills was tired or sick or if the person was a good person/ he said we are oversuspicious of things. He said that unless Wills told us that he was tired or sick, we would wonder why they replaced such a good socialist

-he said our methods are good for California but not good automatically in Guyana

OSL's
-he did ask why we were telling him all this (what did we want), we explained about good will for Guyana etc. He said that JJ did make a virtue out of necessity (JJ used his time well and tho he was limited in moving around, JJ was making good use of the situation)

X-2-a-8 (8)

-we said that JJ talked to a man who was a racist and when JJ finished the man admitted yo have to learn to live with all races

-Wills first jumped on this and was hyper-critical. He said that it is still a racist statement to just say you have to live with all races, racists say that. We said that this statement was a long way from how the man started in talking and Wills finally admitted that if you can move a man somewhat from his initial position it helps

WILLS SAID HE WAS TOTALLY COMMITTED TO US

-we don't have to tell him about how we share oil with the community, we don't have to reinforce with illustrations that we are socialistic, he knows that

-we oversell, others would have terminiated the interview with us; others that might not be as committed as he

-seeing PT didn't reinforce or increase his feeling for or against us as he already had a strong feeling for us, it was an emotional reinforcemnt to see it tho

-asked if JJ sent us to tell him all this (about our weaknesses and the rationalizations etc.) or not (I said it was my decision as he was kind of negative about it)

Specific examples of our overreactions

-our actions "We shall not be moved" type actions

-we should have 98% trust of him, he knows he's too proud and his vanity gets hurt, he knows he's touchy, he will work on it

-we have few weaknesses anyway

-Tim Stoen

-Wills said he's a sexual pervert, he lives for passion

A] Why I want to leave Guyana From Yolanda Crawford X-20-b-2(1)

1. At this point I am very hostile and rebellious and I refuse to stay.

a. because I hate Jonestown:

1. I feel the discipline is to hard (ex Kenny was made to jack off with a hot pepper & also put it up his butt.). (ex. if a child has a bowel movement in his pants he must wear them on his/her head.)

2. It's really not what I expected I am sure it is because of the beogiose life that I have had.

3. I just can't stand it people are always afraid they are going to get in trouble.

b. I hate Georgetown

1. People walking streets w/ no shoes on or clothing ~~[illegible]~~ living in shacks of course it happens in the ~~states~~ but this is suppose to be a socialist country.

2. There is nothing to do as far as excitement in this country. The Prime Minister seems to be living well though & enjoying life.

3. I don't like not having a dime in my pocket while others do.

B] What would I do if I went home (to the U.S.)

1. for Discipline for Father using $ to send me here. [illegible] work for 2wks. nite & day doing anything [illegible] of 3hours sleep/nite (maxium)

[illegible] I will take on a job and as soon as I do [illegible] a matter of 3months pay back the expenditure for air flight & phone calls. I'll also work on procurring items there w/ all my spare time.

2. I will spend at least 2hours after work/nite helping in any way.

2. I will not discuss any negativity, not even to Harry.

3. I will sign any papers you want me to upon ~~[illegible]~~ leaving Guyana

(OVER) →

I ask Father to please let me come home X-2-b-2(2) and I swear I will not breed any negativity.
I will encourage others to come. If I ever want to come here again I will pay for my own way. Please let me go back.

Innerspeculation:

I've had lye to easy, I am a black narcacistic bitch. I am selfish and I indulge myself. But I cannot make it here, please send me home. I will not be a negative influence to anyone. If you let me come home I'll work my ass off and not let Father down when he says
I came back to do work.

I will not do like Mae Harris and run off. I know I am copping out but someone should respect my hunesty and let me go even if upon that alone.

I know the revelation Father gave me and when it happen I shall never blame
Father but only say he was right. Father
I ask you to please do me this service of letting me go back to the capitalist states.

X-2-b-3(1)

Dear Densil,

I hope this letter finds you in the best of health. Both Nyoki & I are doing fine, but we haven't heard from you in quite some time so we're very anxious to hear what's happening. How is your son doing? fine I hope.

Well as you already know I am in South America Georgetown, Guyana and the country is celebrating it's 11th Independence Anniversary and wow have they been doing it up, with alot of festivals & Music Jam Sessions. The best one I've been to is the Guyanese National Service Steel Ork Bank. It was really live they played jazz, soul, pop music and even Dr. Wooten's kind of music. Tell that ole square face I said hi and be sure to tell Ram I said "hi" and the white poon. I am going to try and get a recording of the band and send both you and my brother one. I know you both will really dig the music they play. The way it is set up is with old oil barrels and each barrel have various notes when hit in various spots. When the whole band plays it sounds like electric guitars xylophones and drums. The group ranges from ages 16-22 yr old with two women included. It only takes them 1-2 hours to learn a new song all done by ear.

When I first got here I was more less on my own but it took me time but I decided to join in with the People's Temple Agricultural Project in the Northwest District. I know I never got to explain to you my existance and the loss of my time that I couldn't account for when you asked me about it, but I will now. I once told you I was a total atheist at heart where religion was concerned this I still hold to be true. But I am and was a member of People's Temple why? Because they did and were doing things for people not just members but strangers not just San Francisco but foreigners, not just American citizens but other nationalities as well. And the character of Jim Jones founder and leader who legally adopted eight children (including a black son named after himself Jim Jones Jr.). They didn't preach about heaven, hell and damnation. Those were just myths that were not reality. I never knew how you would have accepted this but I should at least given you a chance and thought positively about the situation. But you always said I had to believe in something and I do believe America has been built on the bloodshed of mine and your people and there is no hope for a just society there for any self-respecting person of our color (We be all been persecuted at some time or other). And a man of your age, character and strength and intelligence deserves more than that country has to offer you and here there is hope in this black self-built country.

I just read a paper from San Francisco our People's Forum about how the parents are out to get a nigger and Jew. Also how the young children are being programmed at an early age to hate all niggers and Jews.

Now you are probably wondering X-2-6-3(7) where the money is going to come from but don't worry about that it can and could be taken care of. Even the job market is no problem there are plenty of jobs and excellent doctors. Mom's has been doing excellent and she hasn't had any reoccurance of her back ailment. Denzel even if you come here and decide you don't want to make a family setting around me that's cool too. But at least consider the choice and even consider visiting Peoples Temple 1859
Geary the invitation is extended and ~~the~~ Jim Jones is interested in meeting the man. I have been concerned about you ~~might~~ phone #922-6418 ask for ~~Jean Brown~~ Lee Ingram & please ~~should~~ Denzel ~~it's~~ so beautiful to see black children and children of color to be able to walk the streets without fear of being mugged or degraded by name calling. The main thing I want to do is maintain our contact and to be sure you are safe. I moreless flew into your life ~~changed~~ altered your lifestyle somewhat and mine and I cannot identify yourself that you are a friend of mine.

just walk away and don't look back. But now I'll have to ask you to fly 5,000 miles if we bound to meet in flight. [illegible]

Everyone must change, nothing stays the same! You always said that there is nothing that you can ever be sure of, but you can be sure that this move was best for the both of us. Not because I wanted us to depart but because times are getting harder and I could make the way for you to get here to see opportunities like you never before knew existed. I'll be sending you some pictures because it's hard to visualize with out seeing.

So tell me how have things been going on with you what have you been doing to preoccupy yourself? Nyoki is sleeping right now but she has become a very determined independent child, and is always saying "no." She has gotten alot bigger if you tried to lift her now or even hug her you would know that she has really grown and has a good appetite. Yesterday I made some B-B Bued Chicken, Greens, Fried Bread and Rice I must say it was real good.

Who's been taking care of the house for you in my absense or have you been managing you know I appreciate the truth even if it hurts. I haven't seen you in so long. Why don't you send me a picture of you in your next letter. Are you still upset about the car? How is it running now anyway? When's the last time you saw Ronald? I am releaved that I heard from Ayolla, she is doing better I hope. I know my letters full of questions but it's been a long time. ~~Tell~~

Tell Solomon, Larry, Pam, Dr. White, Dr. Anderson, Robert Sistin, and San Francisco I said "hi" you still making it with two jobs? The mail comes slow here. [illegible] gave you the address already it takes at least 5 days for me to recieve a letter so if you wrote and answered some of my questions just ignore them and just write me. Thank you for the going away present. Oh and how is your back and cold doing? fine I hope. I'll be sending you some snap shots of all of us ~~[illegible]~~ as soon as I get through with the roll and have it developed.

I love you and miss you very much x-take care until I see you again

My Self Evaluation!

I work in the sewing department. I need to talk less and get more production done I have been in the sewing department longer then some of the other workers and I should show a better example than I do. I walk off without letting people know where I am going. I also dont help out with the organization like I should by giving idea's. I also instead of the supervisor should confront my peers to show I am backing them up. I will change these patterns starting now. There will be a change concerning sewing. X-2-C-3

When project first started I was enthused & liked the idea of it I worked good - I feel, but 2 wks later I have been a drag - I cut from 7:30 to 12 evenings - even if I have extra time I could devote I quite to some other place of my office work. One reason I guess I drag I get tired of doing the same thing I want to change off - I wld rather pens but do know that there must be centers also. When the time schedule changed I lost interest, I liked the night schedule better because there wasn't alot of people around but the top did not get produced like they have since changing. I can always do better.

I am connected in the factory & I really enjoy working with making toys. When I first started I didn't think I would be able to make them right I don't have enough self confidence in my [redacted] self. I feel that [redacted] I don't know how to do it well enough so I put it up with I say to myself you can do it and once I make up my mind I don't quit until I get it right I feel I [redacted] am slow sometimes but I want to do it right or not at all.

Since I've been working in the sewing department my attitude has changed and I can see more beauty in working for the cause and I work harder than I did at first. My attitude at first was do what I have to do and thats all. Now I do what I have to do & more. If my body could stand it I would work longer hours than I do. I really enjoy sewing.

I never knew what I would like to do ~~but~~ because nothing would hold my interest long. I would always wonder what my life would come to & what would I end up ~~like~~ life would

Thanks to you Dad I've learned to do & accept [redacted] & appreciate things that I said & would never dream I would be doing. Socialism ~~has~~ taught me a lot and I want to learn a lot more. I don't feel empty & ~~out~~ useless any more. Thank you Dad

I would like to stay in this department

I am a seamstress & I like working with Ruby Carol. I feel like I not progressing sometimes & I get upset sometimes when we're not producing our quota for the day. I know most of us is doing ~~[illegible]~~ as best that can be expect because none of us is experienced in making toys. It's just like to [illegible] when you're trying to drive a car & don't know how to drive. I get upset when our production down down. Other than that I like doing it. Everyone just has to have patience because it's very [illegible] & no one animal comes out exactly the same. Sometimes I get upset because [illegible] I can't do it fast but its something I have to be patients with.

I am one of the supervisors under Ruby Carol. I also get upset sometimes when I show other people how to do certain things and they do not do it right or ask me over & over the same thing & I show them over & over. I know this is wrong but I do not show it or tell them that I am upset. I guess I feel that they should be able to catch on like I do but I know every one's not the same. I know this is the wrong attitude to take & I will change it. I myself must realize that you cannot speed & do everything.

I like making toys, but I don't like doing somebody elses toy over when they messed it up and wont claim it. To me I work slow, cause I feel if I go fast it'll mess up, so I take out time and do it. I feel that every toy that each person make should be checked well, so that if something is wrong with them, it can be done over then. I feel I work better when I am not talking alot. Eventhough other people mess up toys, I still do some over, cause I know they need to be done. Sometimes I feel I work too slow, so I'm starting to go a little faster.

X-2-C-8(1)

I enjoy working here but not all day. I don't like sitting this much. I prefer to do fast work in the mornings & this in the afternoons, but I realize it is necessary to work here for time to get the order out. After this project is over I'd like to stay in sewing ½ day because I like it & can sew good. I'd like to evaluate myself because I find it hard to speak about any gripes to the supervisors. I feel we have too many supervisors in this dept. & they are not trained or organized on giving us instructions. There is unnecessary wasted material because of unorganization. We do a lot of double work which if we were given proper instructions in the first place it wouldnt have to be done over. The hours do frustrate me because its hard with a child but I dont mind it because it is necessary for the cause & the least I can do, considering what Dad does.

X-2-C-E4

Cathy Barrett Evaluation: Toy department
X-3-C-9(1)

I feel as far as myself I could work with talking less. But as far as my job, I'm doing it well & following instructions that are given. As far as the whole dept. is concerned I feel it could be more organized. This week alone were wasted much time & material cutting the wrong sized patterns. If we're going to experiment on a new size of toy, one should be cut out & sewn before cutting out more, so to establish that it is right. As far as the people I work with, I feel there are too many supervisors. I think the original 3, Ruby Carroll, Maude Perkins & Carol Guevara, should be left as supervisors & all the rest be considered workers. There are too many contradicting orders being given by people I feel don't know what they're doing.

When we first started our schedule of working 7am midnight on toys. I was resentful, I know I didn't and don't have any right to be. My head is straight now. It is the least I can do to make money to help feed us and get the others out of Babylon. I'm working on becoming a better seamstress and feel I am doing fairly well in my work. I do talk to much and feel there is too much talking. Talking isn't always bad because alot of times a day we talk Russian But I get involved and my production slows down a little I won't let it effect my production. I get frustrated sometimes with the mistakes the cutters and stuffers make which is wrong because I don't always sew perfect. Maud is my superviser. She is very willing to be the bad guy and is a good teacher but we all do too much talking including the supervisors. I enjoy making toys

I've always liked doing any type of work making things with my hands. I don't like to go over other peoples work through as I'm sure they don't like going over mine. I feel most of us are getting the hang of making toys. It is a first for all of us.

Work: Could be better

Criticism: I criticize my self for not putting my self into my work, where as i could get more done, actually I see no one in thi department trys hard enough as should could be done, it seems there are certain placements for each one of us I maybe wrong but that is The way I see it; also concern toward each other isnt close at all I mean I see it as a jealousy shown why I dont no because I don't have any thing toward any one in the toy department I Feel if we can all rotate around doing the animals there would be more done. Today I menstioned to Jackie Rochelle why does Arin Leroy watkins is told less what to do so this is why I feel we should rotate around.

I Feel if there is any thing wrong about me that person can always come to me and tell me where I am wrong.

What I Feel about The Toy department:

personally I like The Toy department it is Interesting to me something That ive never done before, I do what I am told to do when it comes down to making toys; I mentioned to mary Griffith today didn't she think we could make other Thinks such as maccromate work, etc.

Talking To my supervisor:

I don't feel I could go to her and Talk to her about it because I don't Really see her as and easy person To Talk to This is why I hold it in and try to correct for my Self Sewing Dept.

Supervisor = Ruby Ca

Dear Dad,

Thank you for allowing me to wo in the sewing department. I enjoy the work because I have always liked sewing. Sometimes when we make tops we are told to redue them because some thing is wrong. We had a meeting to try and solve this. One thing that was brought out is that the supervisors contr dict each other. One will tell us to do something one way and another will say its wrong take it apart. Time is lost when we could be moving on. We are all trying to improve ourselfs with this problem. Ruby Carroll is very good wit her job, always watching and correcting us when necessary. I think she is a pretty fair person and has the exper ience to go with it. As for me I find myself feeling very tired before or at the end of the day and sometimes I gi mad because I say working a double shift leaves no time for washing or other little things. I have felt guilty and depressed lately and try not to let it effect my work. I wrote you a letter concerning my daughter this week. She mailed the letter to me

August 2nd and I got it this week.
She wrote to say that she would have her baby by the end of September. I had heard through the grape vine that she was pregnent. When I left she was with my brother and his wife.
She went from their to the church to tru

Subject: Self Evaluation

I've been working on making animal project [illegible] I month now. I like the work but I can improve by working faster. I get along with my other workers and I don't have any quarrels with my supervisors. I am quite quiet at work. I don't like to talk much. This is a good experience for to learn to ~~maken~~ make things - learn to be creative because I don't have any [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] not just [illegible] [illegible] I [illegible] work. Working on this project give me the feeling I am doing something productive to have this cause. ~~Commen~~ [illegible]

Self Criticism.
I am not sociable enough. I tend to be by myself frequently. ~~I should~~ be more sociable ~~[illegible]~~ [illegible] a person is alone [illegible] is [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] but I [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] sometimes. I don't want to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] as an excuse that I [illegible] [illegible] child that's [illegible] I [illegible] used to [illegible]. I am trying to get over the pattern of being not too sociable. I do associate with [illegible] of my friends here. indeed that's wrong. I realized that I am doing it. I am trying to be more aware of my defensiveness when confronted or criticized so I will stop. In my opinion, I am a very determined + stubborn person if I want something I will not give up no matter how long it takes. I am easy to lose my te[illegible] and easy to calm down. When I am angry I ~~round~~ roll my eyes at people. This is not a socialist attitude. I will stop. Lastly I also feel I am not ~~completely~~ a true socialist yet because I realized one time my clothes get lost and was taken I get upset over it. That proofed that I still valued material. I realized this at that time but I ignored my ~~feeling the~~ right thinking. I knew I was suppose to be grateful for what I have and think of the people in other parts of the world who dont even have any clothes. But I was too self centered.

I know I do be having bad attitudes once in a while comming in late or nite don't come in at all at times but that have improved but I still do my work right I don't have ass do my Job. I do what I am told and do it right but some of my Bad attude was comeing from having to do Many of the dolls over that other people rushed over and didint do their Job right and from not wanting to continue to work in the Sewing room I know it is a Money makeing project and is helping us a real lot by bring Money in I do want to go back to the fields but Sience I know I cannot not I guest I will not I will remain here and do My Job just as well as I do all My others Job's. I didint have Much time to do the things I wanted to do like before I was in the Sewing department I was into Medicae and I still want to remain this and I am a bare foot dr and still wish to remain this I enjoy Sience I have the opperturnity of all way wanted. ~~Saturday~~ I would like to work Saturday night because it is the only time I have to study is in the morning on sunday. Dec in the afternoon on sunday I work in their and have no time to go through the books. thats just what I feel I have nothing against my Supervisor Ruby + Maud. Sometime I just get ~~Bord~~ Bored and flip off. I get alone with all my comrades working here. I do have concern for others people and their problem and that they need like to have the chance to do the things they want to do are ask for the free time but I can also question what is the free time they want and what are they going to use it for is it going ~~to~~ to help us are is it just bull Shit I feel ~~my~~ mind is not bullshit I feel it is needed thats why I am asking for this opperturnity.

Erin Watkins - good worker, creative, keeps busy, puts in overtime every night.
Daisy Stroud part time worker, works good and steady. quiet Kathie Quinn part time worker, good worker, takes on responsibilities, volunteers extra time. Anxious to learn.
Jackie Rochelle bad attitude since she worked for the sewing room. Doesn't followed with simple work of extra stuffing of toys. Wednesday she stuffed 25 and Thursday she stuffed 23. After being confronted she agreed to finish her 50 on Wednesday and she did.
Maria McCann doesn't follow instructions but she could do it right if she wanted to. Can be a good worker. Talks too much. Doesn't work much extra time. Last couple of days attitude has been poor. She wants out of the sewing dept.
Kathy Barrett slow quilting up on the sewing that needs to be done on toys. Good worker when she gets started. Talks to much with Maria McCann. Puts in extra hours of work.
Bessie Wesley excellent worker no complaint
Irene Edwards part time worker does very good work. Sews well.
Wanda Sander good worker helps supervise not afraid to get on others. Sews well puts in extra hours.
Diane Marshall good worker, quiet, sews well
Part time worker, volunteers extra hours

X-2-C-17(2)

Kim Fye works on medical excuse for sewing dept. talks to much, ~~fungs~~ she didn't come to work today. She said she was in nurses office all day but Sylvia said she wasn't there all day and was seen walking around a lot. Didn't tell supervisors anything.

Karen Lewis work is improving, doesn't talk as much, slow worker needs to increase speed.

Lisa Lewis slow worker, ~~[illegible]~~ new to the sewing dept has to learn. Takes confrontation well.

Mary Griffith good stuffer, works well when she wants to. She wants out of the sewing dept. Does a lot of playing around lately. Can be a good worker.

Lisa Wright good worker, starts early, good production on the sewing machine. One of the best producers.

Ava Ingram good worker, works extra hours, trys hard to learn what needs to be done.

Eileen Jackson school student, good worker, volunteers evening hours.

Terry Borgman school student, quiet and does good worker.

Loretta Chavez volunteer worker, good worker, follows instructions well. Does about six hours every evening outside her regular job in the baby nursery. She has a good attitude.

Denise Hunter full time worker plus does dishes every dinner time, kitchen worker. Turns out good work. Fast worker

X-2-C-17(3)

Carol Dennis works full time in sewing dept plus a half day in the agriculture office and checks stock when it comes in. She works good and has an excellent attitude.
Stephanie Chaikin moody, gets frustrated sometimes slow but she does try.
Mary Martin slow worker, has good attitude. trys to follow instructions.
Estelle McCall good attitude, good worker, a little slow

Supervisors - evaluation (self)

Maud Perkin - I am very short tempered sometimes, but trying to work on it hard. I think I may push too hard for the knowledge of toy making of the workers. I'm trying hard to be equal with the workers but along with getting the jo done on time. I snap at people to often too many time also working on that.
Barbara Geeman (Cordell) Doesn't get on people enough when they are messing around. Don't like to be disturbed from my work. Produces well.
Ruby Bright something nading at night full asleep and sometime slow worker sometimes I think I have a good adertude but I am will to follow Instruction.
Ruby Carroll I do not have the ~~[illegible]~~ patient I should have some time and people are a presher on me at this time and my temper is on Edge I try to not show my feeling but I am a Real Ass to people and this I try to supervise the Sen and try to keep Love as you wish. I am try Dall

Phone Patch with SANDY ROZYNKO: 12/2/77

Sandy: "I'm glad to know that you are alright. I haven't seen or spoken to you in two years."

Joyce: "I'm just fine- I don't know what you are talking about."

Sandy" "Well, everytime I tried to get ahold of you- they wouldn't let me talk to you." "Because I tried- you never got any of my letters."

Joyce: (inaudible- something about I will write to you)

Sandy: "Well, I would rather have talked to you ".

Joyce: (inaudible)- I'm happy down here- why don't you come down and see what its about?"

Sandy: "Because right now I have a very busy life of my own, but I just wanted to tell you I loved you."

Joyce: "I am happy Sandy, I hope you are happy. (inaudible) are alright."

Sandy: "I also wanted to tell you that I am getting married."

Joyce: "congratulations"

Sandy: "Thank you, I was hoping to invite you to the wedding."

Joyce: "I'm not coming back to America."

Sandy: "Well, I'm going to miss you an awful lot mother. I hate to think that I'll never see you again." "You don;t sound like my mother".

Joyce: "Well, I am"

Sandy: "Well, can I talk to Mike and Chris?"

Joyce: "Chris doesn't want to talk to you- but Mike is here- he will.

Mike: "Hi, Sandy".

Sandy: "Mike?"

Mike: "Yes, this is Mike, how are you Sandy?"

Sandy: " I love you Mike."

Mike: "Much love to you also".

Sandy: "I don't know what you heard about me Mike, but it isn't true. I am living a very happy life now and I like it where I am. I am doing what I want to do and I'm going to college and I doing gre

"I have a good life here and it's not what he said it's like. I swear to you Mike- it's different."

Mike: "Good, but you couldn't be as happy as I am."

Sandy: "Well Mike, I'm really glad you are happy. But if you ever wan to come back to the U.S. please tell me."

Mike: "You people all know I am happy."

Sandy: "Yea Mike, I think you are. But if you ever don't get happy, if you ever want to come back, please call me, call dad- he says he will get you a plane ticket out of there. He'll send you thru school, he'll pay for your college education, he'll give you a new life. We all will. We all love you. We don't ever want to think that we will never see you again. We want to give you a chance."

Mike: " Why don't you (inaudible) for us, instead of connecting yourself with people who are up to so much evil?"

Sandy: " Mike, I love you. I'm not connected with anybody who is doing anything evil to the church."

Mike: "Oh, you know what I am talking about."

Sandy: "Mike, I know what you are talking about, but whatever you thin it's not true. I love you, I love mom, and I love Chris, and so does dad and he wants to see you happy and he wants to see you again. He doesn't want you to stay down there forever."

Mike: "negative copy"

Sandy: " Mike, whatever you heard- it isn't true. I love you and I love Mike, I love Chris and I love mom and so does dad.. He loves you and he wants to seeyou- he doesn't want you to stay down ther forever. He doesn't want to think that he willnever see you again He loves you. And I want to make sure that you know that. We love you. We don't want to hurt you."

Mike:" Well, then- quit it- cause I've seen what you have done with my own eyes."

Sandy: "Mike, what did I do?"

radio operator interrupts- asks all parties to state their names and the date...

Sandy: "Mike, I want to know what I did, that you feel so bad about."

Mike: "You know what I feel mad about- lets not go into that now."

Sandy: "I don't know Mike, I don't know what you are so mad about. Tel me".

X-2-e-1(3)

Mike: " All the things you have done to hurt me and my best friends and I have seen it with my own eyes."

Sandy: "What Mike? I assume if you can't go into detail, then you don even know yourself. I guess somebody is trying to tell you, but whatever they are telling you- it isn't true- you must believe me

Mike: "Hey, I have seen with my own eyes. I have no need for anybody to tell me.. I have seen with my own eyes what you have done."

Sandy: "Well Mike, I'm sure that they have told you things like we are racists etc. but we are not.. Patty and Paul, remember those two little interracial children- they are living with us now. Andrea is living with us now. We are not racists, Mike- we have black people living in our home, we associate with them every day. They are our own children now- don't you understand? We aren't racists, we're not Facists. We don't believe in Germany and Hitler- like they tell you. We're just normal people."

Mike: "negative copy, negative copy"

Sandy: "Mike, I'm sure they have told you different things about us- like we are racists, or we are Nazis or something like that- but it's not true. Patricia and Paul Pettit, they are living with us now, Andrea is living with us now. They are Deanna and Merts own children- they have adopted them. We are not racists, we are not Nazi's. We don't believe in the KKK. We are just regular people living normal lives.. getting back into the swing of things-Ok?"

Mike: "Listen, there is not need to debate this.. I am happy. I am living my own life- andyou live your own life."

Sandy: "Ok Mike, let me atleast tell you about some things that are happening here in the U.S. so you will know what is happening. (whispering heard in the background)- she continues.. Mike, the Kl is not marching in the streets, there are no riots of blacks in the streets. Marshall Kildolf is not dead. Whatever you have heard.. it's probably a lie Ok? But life is going on in the U.S. as normal- there are no racists hanging blacks in the parks.

Mike: " Sandy, why don't you live your own life? I am in agriculture and I am enjoying it very much."

Sandy: " Well, how come- why don't you come back and you can go to college and you can do the things that I know you have always wanted to do- I know you wnated to be a dr. more than you wanted to live even. You can come back and you can cont. your photography. I mean- why did you go down in the first place? Tim Clancey is taking the pictures now and I know he can't be as good as you. I mean why would you give that up? You have your whole life ahead o you- you can go to college, I'm giving you the chance to do what you wanted to do and I know you can be happy doing it. I just don' understand".

X-2-e-1(4)

Mike: " I am a free moral agent and I came down here because I wanted to! I love you Sandy.

Sandy: "I love you too Mike. But please remember, if there is ever anything you need from me, you know what to do- call me, write aletter, somehow, go to the Consulate, down there- they will hel you. You know if you need me, if you need dad, if you want to leave, and they won't let you- call me and I will send a ticket down- or I will come down myself and I will make sure that you get out. You can come up here. We have a home for you- we can get you a job, we can send you to college. I just wanted to let you know that you have an out... and we can (long pause- voices in background)... and if you need so- we can get you an emergenc passport."

Mike: "I don't need a passport.. I have a passport. No one has a hol on me.. I am here on my own free will and I will NOT come back!

Sandy: "Okay, Mike, remember, if you need me I am here. I love you. And tell Chris I'm sorry he didn't want to talk to me- but the same goes for him. and the same goes for mom and I love everyone of you very much. So does dad and so does everybody up here."

Mike: "I love you too- but I just don't like the way you try to hurt people."

Sandy: "Okay Mike, well, I love you. Bye-bye

Mike: "bye-bye"

PHONE PATCH: MICKEY TOUCHETTE 12/3/77

(all parties state their names and date)

Charlie T: This is Charlie Touchette. I am living in the most beautiful place in the entire world. Hey, Mickey.. last I talke to you- you stole a check for several hundred dollars and you we off on a terrorist spree to blow up a bridge."

Mickey: My name is Mickey T. and this is Dec. 3. negative copy

Charlie: "Hey, Mickey- it's strange that I haven't heard from you for several years since you forged that check for several hundred dollars and went off on a terrorist spree- I believe to blow up some things."

Mickey: "Okay, daddy- I miss you very, very much. I can't wait to see you again. I love you. And whenever you decide to leave the church, whenever you decide to come back to the states, I am her in S.F. and you can get ahold of me.. I am listed. I love all of you and I miss all of you. Umm, what you just said to me, was n true at all daddy. I was never going to blow up anything. You kn me better than that. You know ah, we left the church because of ah, Jim Jones and because of ah,and his sickness, daddy and I don't even want to get into that. I want to talk to you and I want to make sure that you're alright. I want to know how your health is, I want to know what you do and I want to know how all my family is Charlie: "What about that check you forged on us"?

Mickey: " Daddy, I didn't forge a check. It had, I don't know- it was either your signature, or my mothers signature. I asked for some things that I needed. I did not forge a check- that is a lie."

Charlie: " Use either (inaudible)- but I've still got the check daugh

Mickey: "Okay daddy, the check that's a different issue you know, we can talk about that when we can see each other. How are you?"

Charlie: " Mickey, I'm doing just fine. I couldn't live in a better place in the entire world."

Mickey: "Well, I'm glad you are happy. I just wanted you to know tha when you decide to leave.. I am here and I love you and I miss you. I wish we had been able to talk before I left the church.. I wish we had been in private. I wish we could have talked like a fathe r and a daughter talk, instead of with tape recorders ar with Planning commision members around us. I wish we had had sc privacy. Is mother there?"

'negative copy":
Mickey told to repeat last transmition- "Let's see, what did I say? daddy, oh,is mother there? Can I talk to her?".

Charlie: "Joyce wants to know if you are still involved in those terrorist activites?"

Mickey: "Ah, is mother there? I want to speak to my mother/" Is she there?"

Charlie: " I am asking a question"

Mickey: "Daddy, you are not asking me that by yourself, Jim Jones is prompting you to ask me that question. Is my mother there? Cha Garry told me I could talk to her".

Charlie: "Nobody is prompting me to ask that question.. you jus t do want to answer that question and you know it.

Mickey: " No, I am not involved in terrorist activites.. Is my mothe there- I want to talk to her. (she repeated the word 'terrorist and laughed in background) (more talking to someone in the back ground-"what's a good thing to... inaudible.. want to talk t to say hi to people"- this is said aside.. then- Tom, what is going on?
(Tom says he's waiting for her to finish)

Joyce: "This is your mother" (inaudible)

Mickey: "I'm fine mom, how are you?"

Joyce: " Couldn't be better. It's beaufiful down here Mickey.

Mickey: "I want you to know mom that I love you. I miss you and wh you come back to S.F. I can be easily reached- I am listed."

Joyce: "I love you but I hope you change your ways Mickey. We have a new little baby that we have adopted- a beautiful little chi Mickey: " I heard, I heard that you adopted a child that's wonderful You should see your new grandson- he's beautiful, he's 2 yrs. And he is very intelligent and I would like for him to know al of you- when are you going to come back to the states?

Joyce: " No intention to- I wouldn't leave this place for a nything. We also have an anteater Mickey. You know Mr. Muggs- he is he also. We also have a little baby monkey that lives in the hou with us."

Mickey: " Ok mother. I just wanted you to know again that I miss you very much and ah, I wish you had been close to me when I had m child, I wish you were all close to me right now. Um, is Mich there? I want to speak to Michelle.

Joyce: "I love you too but I know without a doubt- the terrorists activities that you have been into."

Mickey: " You know, I have never ever believed in my life that it wo get to a point where my two parents would accuse me of being involved in terrorist activitis. Mother you a re listening to that man, you are listening to lies. Until you ask me persona and until you talk to me, and ah, get my side of the story then you don't have any right to form an opinion against me. I'm your daughter and you know me better than he does and I know yo better than he knows you. I know he is telling you to ask me those questions, so (inaudible).. I'm just letting them slide t they are invalid. Is Michelle there? I want to speak to her.

Joyce: " I do know you real well. And I do recall you did tell me all about your activities from your own mouth!"

Mickey: " Mother, don't lie! Nothing, nothing in this world is worth lying against your own daughter like that for, nothing is. I want to talk to Michelle! (more talking aside to others-inaud

Joyce: " Mickey, I just hope you get a way from those revolutionary violent activities. Do you copy?"

Mickey: "Yes mother, I copied. I want you to know I work 8 hrs. a day at a very hard job. I take care of myself, I take care of my job, I take care of my son. We're both healthy, we're happy, a we're doing the best we can to have a productive, good life and I wish for you all the same. I want to speak to Michelle.

Joyce: " Ok, Michelle is right here. But did you ever get married?

Mickey: "I'didn't copy"

Joyce: "Mickey, I hope you changed your ways. But did you ever get ma rried?

Mickey: " No. I never got married . I want o speak to Michelle!

Joyce: "You really should get married for the child's sake."

Mickey: " Thank you for the advise. I want to speak to Michelle."

Michelle: " This is Michelle."

Michelle:" Yes, this is Michelle and you know it."

Mickey: " Michelle, I tried to reach you at the dorms but they wouldn' let me see you. I miss you very much . I want you to know th I love you and I want to see you as soon as possible. If you ever decide to leave the church- try to contact me. I am here in S.F.. and I am available for you to reach me. I know what life is really like in that place Michelle and ifyou want to g you've got a safe place to come to."

Michelle:" Are you suggesting that I leave this beautiful place and go see the people that you are involved with?

Mickey: " I don't know anything about that Michelle. That doesn't mak any sense to me- that's coming out of Jim Jones mouth, nobody elses. I want to know Michelle are you happy there and do you want to comehome?"

Michelle:" Yes, I'm happy here and I never want to come home and Jim Jones has told me nothing about you."

Mickey: " Ok, Michelle well I would like to speak to you alot more. I me speak to Michael- is he there?"

Michelle: "Mike doesn't want to talk to you- but Albert is here."

Albert: " Mickey, this is Albert."

Mickey: " Albert, hello. I miss you sweetheart and I want you to com home. You want to come to S.F."

Albert: " You sound like Sarah Bernhardt."

Mickey: "I didn't hear what you said- say it again"

Albert: " I said you sound like Sarah Bernhardt."

Mickey: " well whoever, I don't know who that is tho- how are you?"

Albert: " Why did you (inaudible).. this is the first time in 4 yrs. that I have heard from you."

Mickey: " Because Albert, Jim Jones said whoever left Peoples Temple would be killed. And I was afraid- I was hiding, I was stayin away from Jim Jones and Peoples Temple Al, do you want to leave If you do, I am here in S.F. Do you want to come to me.?"

Albert: " Mickey, that's a lie, you know that's a lie. I am happy he and I never want to leave."

Mickey: " Ok, Al, and this goes for everybody, this goes to all of my family- if you ever change your mind and if you want to leave Peoples Temple, you can do it. Jim Jones has no power over you at all! You can leave Peoples Temple. You can live lives in the United States. And I am here and you can contact me whenev you want to contact me. I don't believe that Michael won't tal to me, I think they are keeping him from me. I want to speak Grandma."

(this is Charlie)

Charlie: " Mickey, your grandmother does not want to speak to you."

Mickey: "Al your voice has really changed. You sound so grown up. Is grandpa there- I want to speak to grandpa then."

Charlie: "He's not around, I don't know if he wants to talk to you. W call him and ask him."

Mickey: "Ok, how about uncle Tim? Is he there ? Iwant to speak to him

Charlie: " Your uncle Tim definitely does not want to speak to you c you got some things to settle with him."

Mickey: "Because I have what? I didn't understand the last part."

Charlie: " Mickey, by the way, while we are talking- you're the one t sounds like a robot"

Mickey: "Is uncle Tim there Albert, I didn't hear what you said- Let me speak to uncle time.

Charlie: "Your uncle Tim does not want to speak to you Mickey."

Mickey: "Ok, that's alright. I want you to know plese tell Michael and everybody else there that I love them and I miss them. And when they decide to leave Peoples Temple, they can call me, they can contact me, and I will do all I can to get them back here. I miss you all and I know what your life is like down there- I kno how awful it is. I know how miserable it is. So please call me when you want to leave. You don't have anything to be afraid of there is nothing to be afraid of. I know how much, I know how a few of you want to go, now please leave there as soon as you car it's not worth it."

Charile: " We definitely don't want to leave here. Why would we war to leave here? It's such a beautiful wonderful place... we pla on living here the rest of our lives."

Mickey: " Ok, alright. But if you ever change your minds please do- please contact me. Does anybody else want to talk to me? Does anyone have another message for me?"

Joyce: "This is your mom Mickey. You really sound crazy! I'm just wondering who's been talking to you. I've never heard you talk so silly."

Mickey: "Ok mother, I want you to know I love you, and I miss you ar I'm doing everything I can to get you back to the U.S."

Joyce: "I don't want you to bother me anymore. (inaudible).. good-by Michelle: " This is Michelle. I want you to stop bothering us- and don't want anything to do with you." good-bye.

Mickey: " Michelle, I don't believe you. I believe hat all of you d there that are my family, I believe that you do love me. I believe that you do miss me. And I believe that eventually you will be away from there, and when you will be away from there, we will be a family again. I will not give up on that. I belie it will happen. We will again be a family away from Jim Jones because he is not going to be able to keep all of the people do in that jungle the way he is trying to keep you down there. And he is probably there listening to me right now, is He?

Michelle: 'inaudible except for "leave us alone" .

Mickey: " Alright Michelle, does anyone else want to talk to me?

Cleve: "This is your grandpa Mickey".

Mickey: "Grandpa Hi, I'm s o glad to hear you. How are you?"

Cleve: "negative copy"

Mickey: "grandpa, I want you to know that I have your first great-grand child here- would you like to see him?"

Cleve: "negative copy"

Mickey: " grandpa this is Mickey, I have your first great grandchild with me. Would you like to see him when you get back to the U.S.

Cleve:" I just came down here to the most beautiful place in the world. good-bye."

Mickey: "I hear that grandpa- all of you are telling what a beautiful place that jungle is- that's fine. What I am telling you is that when you decide to leave there- I am here in S.F. I am here waiting on you. I want to have another Xmas, I want to have another Thanks-giving, I want to have a family. I want you all to get out of there as soon as you can."

Cleve: " Then you'll have to wait until I'm as old as Methusal."

Mickey: "That wasn't real clear- but I understand that I have to wait. I am willing to wait- I have waited all these years and I will wait more. I will wait as long as it takes for Jim Jones to give up.. what he is doing to you and to everybody else. Does anybody else want to talk to me?"

Cleve: "unaudible... I'll never come home."

Mickey: "Ok. that's alright but you tell me that over the radio but believe whatever you want to believe in your heart and follow what you feel to be true to yourself. Is grandma there?"

Cleve: " She's here- but she does not want to talk to you honey".

Mickey: " Well, tell her that her grandchild loves her and I love her and I miss her and I wish that she would talk to me. There is nothi I can say that would hurt her. I want to tell her that I love her and I miss her and I want to see her as soon as possible."

Cleve: " We know that there is nothing you can say that would hurt us.

Mickey: "I want to speak to uncle Tim".

Cleve: "He doesn't want to talk to you child".

Mickey: "Well, Tell uncle time that I miss him and I love him, and tell them all that their nephew and their grandchild is here with me and want them all to see him, we are a family and I want us to be a family again. Jim Jones is not strong enough to break up a family- no matter how hard he tries. It may take him a few years but we w i get back together again. "

Albert: "negative copy, repeat".

Mickey: " What I said is, I have your grandchild here, and your nephew here and I don't care how many years Jim Jones tries to keep you away, he cannot break this family up forever. Nothing is stronger than the family and ah, over."

Albert: " Mickey, nobody destroyed the family, nobody destroyed the family. You went out and left your fa mily."

Mickey: " Ok, Al, but you understand why I had to leave you like that. Al, you understand because Jim Jones said we would be killed. That why, I left on my own. Albert, you can leave on your own too. You can leave just like I did. You have to make that decision yoursel: You have to decide that you want to leave Peoples Temple. You have to decide that you want to leave Jim Jones. You have to decide th your not afraid of him. You have to do it yourself. And when you decide that that you want to get out of there- to just leave. You know there's alot of people here who will help you- You don't hav to stay there the rest of your life. Nothing is telling you you have to stay there. You will not be uh, you will not drop dead w you leave. He does not have a gift. He is not metaphysical. He cannot heal. You have no reason to be afraid of him."

Cleve: " I say, I want to go back to my little cottage here where we are really happy." Now I am saying 73's."

Mickey: "That sounds like grandpa and if it was grandpa- I'm happy to hear your voice. I hope that you are getting the proper medical c down there that you need. You're probably not, but I hope you are (she says hmm? to someone aside who a nswers) and says- " ah, uncl Marvin is very concerned about you and he wants me to say hello to all of you and that he misses all of you. Uncle Bob feels the same way.. and all of the Touchette's. They are all rooting for you. An they hope that you will leave there as soon as possible. They mis you, they hold no grudges against you, they understand. The under- stand the sickness of Jim Jones also!

Joyce: " Mickey, I don't really know what you are talking about becaus we just s poke to Emily the other night. And she knows how news- papers lie and she is very happy for us down here."

Mickey: " Well, she wasn't a member of Peoples Temple the way I was" So maybe she doesn't know some things- that's alright. But she st hopes that you leave the church, she hopes that you leave and she hopes that you get out as do al. the rest of your family. They al miss you as a family, they all want to be a family together. Like I said- he dannot break up the family the way he is trying to. Tha was one of the first things he told us in that church was to break your family ties and call your parents by their first names. And swear and deny your family ties like I said before. And he has tried to do that within the church also. (more talking to some one in the background)

Joyce: " You guys, the children always called us by our first names eve before we came to the Temple. I don't know what you are talking about."

Mickey: " Mom, that's a lie. I never called you Joyce and I never call my father Chuck- until Jim Jones encouraged us to do that. He tri to break up the family. Now, I wanted to tell you, mom, how much, to get away from Jim Jones, he's not the reason I called you. I called you to see how you are doing and to tell you how much I loved you and that I missed you. There is alot of things that I want to talk to you about in regards to raising a child. I really want your advise on alot of things. It is kind of hard to talk to you screaming like this over the radio, but if you get a letter to me, if you can write without it being censored do that and if you can- send me some private thoughts that he, that Jim Jones will no know about."

Joyce: " Mickey, I'm really tired about you talking about the best friend I have ever had! I a m really tired of talking to you. I dom have some advise- you really should get married for the child's sake. Good-bye Mickey."

Mickey: " good-bye mother. It was good talking to you and I am glad to hear voice. I am glad you are still alive and I have not giv up that you will be back in the U.S. again to where I can talk to you like my mother without having Jim Jones interferring. I want to talk to my father."

Charlie: "Mickey, this is your dad. I'm not interested in talking t you a ny longer. Good-night."

Mickey: " Good-night daddy and I know that you are interested in tal to me and if Jim Jones wasn't there you probably would have alo to say to me. When you come back to the U.S. we will have alot time to talk in private. Good-bye and I love you all. Tell Mik that I am sorry he wouldn't talk to me- I miss him and I love h too. and the same for Albert, the same for Michelle, grandpa an grandma, uncle Tim and alot of people there. I want to know ho Ava, I want to know how the Cobbs are doing too. I want to know everybody there is doing, how they are really doing.

Charlie: " inaudible.. I can see thru your games. I am never coming back to the states! good-bye!"

Mickey: "I don't know if that was my father or not talking- was that Charlie?

Charlie: "Mickey, this is your father and I am tired of this nonsens

Mickey: "Ok daddy, call it nonsense, but I know I am telling the tru and I know that in your heart you know that I am telling the tr I want you to know that am here in S.F. and I can easily be rea Call me then you want to get out of Peoples Temple. You don't to stay there and live that life you are living for the rest of life. You can get out and be free and be your own person and m your own decisions."

Charlie: "Mickey, governement people from all over Guyana look at th place and tell us how beautiful it is and what a good job we ha done here. You talk like a fool!"

Mickey: " I'm sorry you think that daddy, but like I said when you decide to leave and when you want to leave. and when you want t get out of there, come out. We are not going to give up here. Jim Jones that, we are not going to give up. And he can sit ba there and he can laugh and laugh and laugh because we in the U. are going to cont. until our families are returned to us."

Charlie: " Mickey, are you going to kidnap us?"

Mickey: "No daddy, that is your word- I didn't say that. We'll do i legally, everything will be done legally. And like I said Jim J will not be able to cont. ripping up families and controlling p minds the way he does it."

Charlie: " Mickey, I am an adult and I have made up my own mind."

Mickey: "Ok, but I am telling you daddy, that just to keep talking to you- it is wonderful to hear your voice. It's great. I'm glad th you are ok. and I'm glad that you are able to atlease keep talkin Um, over..." (pause- laughing- then she says "oh, good.." "Hey, can I keep talking tom?"

radio operator: "yes,go ahead".

Mickey: cont. " I want you to know that your grandson needs a grandfa and he needs his aunt and his uncles and his grandmother and ah, soon as you get back here... you will love him.. you should see h he is a little athlete.. already he's a little athlete. He p lay baseball, he tosses a tennis racket and he ah, he is a lot of fun you would have a ball with him you would enjoy him so much."

Charlie: " You can bring him down here- we have a beautiful 3 bedroo home."

Mickey: " Well, I ha ve a beautiful studio apt. and I did my time wit Peoples Temple and I am not going to do anymore time daddy- I had enough of it. I don't want Jim Jones. I don't want Peoples Templ I want my son out to where he can make up his mind to do what he to do- when he wants to do it. I don't want anyone telling him to say over a radio.

Charlie: " I want to know who is paying you for your campaign of hat

Mickey: " I have no hate...all I've told you is how much I love you a how much I miss you and how much I can't wait to see you again. A your little grandson here, he can say, he has been taught how to Aunt Michelle, he has been taught how to say uncle Mike, uncle Al grandma and grandpa, uncle Tim, aunt Ava, aunt Sandy, aunt Brenda uncle Johnny and uncle joe. He can say all those things. He is waiting on the day when all of you can come back and see him."

Charlie: " Mickey what are you trying to do? You know that we useaunt and uncles, grandma's and grandma's mom's and pops."

Mickey: " No you don't, no you don't. Why even tell me that? Why did Jim Jones own daughter leave the church if it is so fantastic."

Charlie: " Mickey, you are an absolute liar. You know that we do."

Mickey: "Daddy, I'm not lying to you. You did not teach me to lie, you taught me to tell the truth. You taught me to think for myse You taught me to be individualistic and you taught me to be indep ent. And that is what I am being right now- I am not lying. He told us to break family ties, he told us to call our parents by their first names. (pause) and I don't want to adapt, I don't wa to be what somebody else tells me to be. I am Mickey Touchette a for me to adapt to Jim Jones wayoof living is sick and degenerate

Charlie: " I said I did not teach you to get involved in drugs and in violent revolution."

Mickey: " You are right. you never taught me to do that and I never d it."

Charlie: " You are a liar"

Mickey: " Well daddy if that can a ll be proven, please do it, pls. prove it. Tell Jim Jones to produce records that shows me getting involved in that kind of things. When I left the church, he told you that I was in jail, make him prove to you that the jail copy. I never did anything like that."

Charlie: " Mickey, I didn't know that you were in jail. Were you in jail?"

Mickey: "No, I wasn't but Jim Jones said I was."

Charlie: " first time I heard of it (inaudible).. I didn,t know you were in jail."

Mickey: " Like I said daddy, I wasn't, but if I had been in jail, th copies could be proven. Daddy, look at us, me and you are fighti daughter and father are fighting over Jim Jones. Daddy, that is even right- it's not natural. I don't want to talk to you like t I want to tell you how much I love you and I want to talk to you about raising my child and you being a grandfather. That's what am interested in.. and if you can ever leave the church.

Charlie: " I'm glad to be a grandfather - but I've got 5 acreas and you've got an apt... why don't you come down here.?"

Mickey: "I have no desire to go down there. I want you all to come up into the U.S. I know you want to leave daddy, and that's good enough for me. When you decide to, I'm here in S.F. and I know w this conversation means and I know what is prompting it. 'that's ok, that's ok, I understand. I love you and I miss you. Nobody understands Peoples Temple and Jim Jones better than people who h gone thru it... ex-members. When you decide to leave, I am here, I am waiting for you."

Charlie: "Mickey, any psychiatrist can tell that you are filled with hate. And I don't want to live in your apt.!"

Mickey: " Ok, but I want you to know that if I can, if there is any way I can get to Guyana. I will try to get to Guyana to see you. Will Jim Jones pay my way to Guyana and back ?

Charlie: " negative copy"

Mickey: " It figures that would be a negative copy!" I wanted to kn but I'll try to get to Guyana whichever way I can. Will Jim Jon pay my way there and back?"

Charlie: "Mickey, with all the hate that you have, I wouldn't let Ji Jones pay your way down here and back."

Mickey: " I have no hate daddy, I have no hate. I'll go even if I have to pay my own way. Then what will you do?

Charlie: " fine, fine Mickey."

Mickey: "(she says in background "fine, oh well") "How are you doing with your time during the dy? Besides all that what are you doi I am interested to know how you live.

Albert : " We are finished with this converstaion. We are finished with this conversation. Terminate the phone patch."

...talk about buying things and the kinds of things needed in Guyana...
Look at all this stuff
Where did you get this?--Vee talking

There sending a lot of it
She's sending it out to the President in Guyana

Oh she is

Uh huh, and she sent some to Carter.

My goodness (pause)
Did they have it sitting out where you went to one of the meetings?

No, I said the Girl's house and she was sending it out.

Oh, you went to her place.

Ya

Where she live?

She live on Purson.

Purson? here in LA?

Ya.

Who does she stay with, Mobley?

No, Mobley. This is where I went to Mobley's house.

Oh Mobley's house.

She's the one, she ahh ... she was this is the stuff that was in that New West magazine

Oh yea

She's the one. She's his secretary, and she's doing all this writing and sending all this stuff out. to people.
And then she got some more stuff--that newspapers and I couldn't... by the time I was looking and all...

Isn't that something...

X-2-f-1(2)

Do you know anything about any meetings? soon?

Oh, I would know when one is going to be. Tim said that Jim had paid somebody $3,000. to knock him off.

Uh huh, to knock him off?

something may know... him?
and he said
he had been--~~said~~ make his steff short now, he didn't want to come to some one he hated.
That's very something

... and this girl, Mobley called Lt. Rev. Dymally and she said I hear you've been over there. Her cousin, I think, he's a used to work for him and he's very close, and she knows him personally. She was good friends of his, and he wasn't at home and so she had him to call her back
~~He called her back and he said~~
She said that he called her back, and she said I want you to tell me the truth. "You've been to Jonestown Guyana and visited relatives?" and he said Oh yes I was over there a few times. And she said I want you to be honest with me and tell me. She said what is it like over there? she said because people have relatives over there and they can't go over to visit--they have been over there and they haven't you know, to visit with them. He said "you don't mean it" she said yes. She said "How do you like it over there?"
He said "I'll give you some tips, don't go."

He told her that? Lt. Governor Dymally? Well I'll be..

He told her don't go over there:

This is what she told you he said?

Uh huh.

Isn't that something...

said don't go over there ain't that something...
Now, we know that he's planning on building a school over there, so that's questionable as to what she told you. What else happened?

And then, this guy that got his behind beat--I haven't seen him, see, the one that came from over there. And she said maybe you know him if you'd been to San Francisco. You know I never paid people that much attention.. really in the Teemple, cause I never talked to anyone really. She said that he worked at the gate and he wore a coat--long coat all the time. And he told Johnny Brown that he would rather be dead, and Johnny Brown took him out and beat him up. and said that everybody over there is sick.

X-2-f-1(3)

She said, listen to this, that everybody over there is sick. She said that they have diareeah so bad, and they are drinking all this stuff, and all the stuff th in the paper. And saidJohnny Brown beat him and made him come inside and tell Jim what he had said to him that he'd rather be dead, so he looked at Jim and said I'd rather be dead and said they have toilets out there and after he beat him up, he told them he had to go to the bathroom. The bathroom is the woods where you go-say no toilets over there, so they thought he was going i the woods and they say he saw a big light and he thought maybe he was being followed and this light kept moving forward into the jungle and so he followed behind it likethe light kept going off and he would move forward again because he wanted to really die and so thislight kept coming on, stay on, and then when whe would walk up to it it was gone again. So he got up to these people, there was a house up there for he had walked for miles and miles And these people saved him and took jhim to the president overethere, and the President told Jim said that this had better never happen again. So Jim and Johnny bought him a ticket to Florida.

You don't know who this man is?

No

He worked on security in San Francisco? at the gate?
wore a big long heavy coat?

Yes to each of these questions.
I wonder who it is...
Well, How did...

And then these people took him you know, when he'd got help to the President, and the Presiden told Jim not to ever let that happen again and they bought him a one way ticke to Florida, and when he got to Florida he was telling that these people about what had happened to him over in Guyana about his chruch he was with and everyth and so some strange people paid his way back to San Frncisco. He was in his room for two days...

He's back?

Yea, he's back and his behind was beat into hamberger. And this girl, ahhh Liz Forman--she's got all kinds of stuff hid in a bank vault, and she's going to come out against the Temple--said that they told her not to talk so she's just waiting for theme to say just one word to her and she's going to tare that place apart.
(pause)
And Marcy got, Marceline's somewhere in a hospital supposed to been rest Said Marceline got Cancer and Jim sent her back to her mother to die. they said she is sick.
(pause)
And you know she just sit and mailed letters to all them governors and people--they a really reaching them all.

Who was helping her, do you know?

These members, I don't know--there're former members. I don't know thme

I see.
...too much..
(pause)
Who was telling you this about this man who was supposed to have gotten beat?

Fanny.

Oh, Fanny was telling you? And she heard this from who?

From the man--the man is back--he was in the last meeting that they had Ohhhhhh.

And he was there, you See when they come back they contact Tim Stoen

uh huh.

And she said there were a lot of members in there that go to the church right now.

That's attending regular meetings?

That come to the church every Sunday. And when they go to church, they com back and tell everything. And she tells Tim Stoen.

(pause)

And she said I believe you're honest and I wouldn't trust ~~any~~body else but you (laulghter)
She said that some of us has diarrea, and I said to myself, she don't know...
(laughter)

That is too much

And the girl said she think that Jim has lost his power because he's got guard around him all the time overethere and telling them that he's got sugar in his blood.
(pause)

Ah..what's his name? Sly...

Don Sly?

Don Sly, he's the one that beats the men up and then they got this place whe they put the children in the ground with something...
(pause)

x-2-f-1(5)

I don't know where they get all these newspapers that you donet even know about. cause she's got a whole mess of newspapers from all over the place that she's going to have Xeroxed.

Vee says something about San Francisco... .

And they went to this... This girl from the Television Station they was all taping something.

Do you know what station that was?

No. And then they got This Debbie--they are going to get her to tell her story on TV.

Is that on Channel 2?

I don't know. She would let me know, she said when it's going to be on.

And Debbie Layton is staying on Crisson? Crisson...

~~No, Mosley is on Crisson. She's at 1427... She's got a duplex there~~
No, Mosley is on Cursson. She's at 1427... Cursson. She's got a home there. A duplex--she lives downstairs and upstairs she's got it rented out. And so she's looking for a good healer to heal her mind she says. (laughter)

Ain't that something.

Ya, she's looking--the girl that took her there--they got into a fight for taking her to this girl. The girl took her there to see Jim and then the girl didn't join and she joined, and she had a big blow-out with theigirl yesterday(?) for tak her. She's looking for a healer--some~~one~~body to heal her mind. so she's writing to Leroy Jenkins.

...she thinks she's crazy now... She's writing to Leroy Jenkins somebody to heal her...

Too much...

And Jim told Westerly(?)... Oh he told them that they let him his members out over there tried anybody come in to get him that it would be a mass murder and all of them was going to lay down and die. And so the President was scared of them something...

Can you imagine a little group like that ~~threatening~~ giving a theater the whole Guyanese government. ?

...that the President ~~was~~ would be scared of him... and she said she noticed when they had guests at the Temples that they were having--that all the time they would eat ~~right~~ nice 3 times a day. And when people were coming to visit they would be treated ~~to~~ with an egg or a little meat ~~or baked potato~~ and vegetables.

Who said this? Debbie?

Uh huh.

Is this taping here?

Some of it is--a lot of it's not...

And Fanny said that Jim would never let people know that he could heal until like when he'd get peole to visitl... come and visit him in the Temple down here, there was never a healing, and said that he would never collect money and wouldn't let the people know what he was doing. And said that the people came in and they were never searched for their... But they searched the members--I don't blame them--the members are tearing it apart... I kdon't blame 'em.. You have to start worrying once you get around the members--they would take you apart... something... they would. I DON'T BLAME 'EM I'm not afraid of people on the outside--maybe because they don't know--you know if you're going to church, you've got to watch your step. When you leave there, you had better turn and walk backwards, because they would knock you in the head in a minute. And don't say that you done something that they didn't do--that's when they start in--you know they try to twist your little mind, pardon your mind or be jealous. ah huh

And Kay's husband is about to go crazy about her.

But how do they know that? they contact him?

No, Kay hasn't wrote a letter since she left here. She said that she was at the house the night WHEN Kay was leaving, that...

Who was at the house?

Fanny was there.

At Kay's house?

laughter

She said that when Kay was leaving --she was there that night or the night before she left something--and said that Kay didn't even take all of her clothes. And said that Kay asked her and said Fanny, when do you think that you will be ab... ready to go? And she told her she said I'm not ready to go, I'm not going right now because I have to understand a little bit more. And so Kay said Well, I'm going over there for a couple of weeks to see what's happening to say hello and I'll be back. So she left her husband like that, said that her husband was real sick, so he just don't know what to do. And one of the girls up in San Francisco that called him after the meeting is over, every Sunday. Somebody calls him and gives him all the dirt.

x-2-f-1(7)

So somebody up there is attending service there and calling her.

Yah, and somebody here too, and they told her that Kay had called in and said that it was such a beautiful place and how she loved it ethere and everything, but she just don't understand it. So she has members that are going to the church in San Francisco and LA. And said...

You know the thing is that when she talkes to you, I guess once I build my confidence in her, she jwould start telling me names; because she talkes she says this girl she's got this woman's got her daughter and 4 grandchildren over there and the reason why she goes to church is ~~that~~ because she don't want to be cut out completly away from them. Now waite a minute--somebody that's in San Francisco this girl she works for the post office.

What about her?

Do you know her name? If you tell me her name...

Is it Carolyn or something like that?

Yes that's it Carolyn. Carolyn. She works for the post office.

What about her?

She lives in San Francisco. She gives her information to her.

Carolyn, Carolyn, Carolyn, why did I think of that name?

She gives information and they talk--they communicate quite frequently over the telephone. She asked her if she was going, she says no she wasn't going. because she was making good money. WShe wasn't going because she don't see where they doing much better over there than they ~~were doing~~ here. and something...

Carolyn... pause

~~something~~ learned a whole lot--its I know doing good to know what you have been under.

Uh huh... and then ripped them off--laughter

Did she have ~~a lot of~~ other papers with (~~or like~~) this? did she have a lot of papers like

She had more stacks like ~~this~~ this when she was going to send

Mail them out

So I put them a little close together while she was going the bathroom slipped that one.

X-2-f-1(f)

laughter

She was going to send them off. So you know what she had sent to the President.

Uh huh.

And then plus she had more stuff that she was going to have .Xeroxed and paper--more newspapers things that she was going to get together. And I put it like this: I said, Gee I'm getting a headache--I'd better go home and take a nap. I sure would like to read these papers but I don't have time. She said oh, when I get them Xeroxed, you can come over and read them and then I'll send them on. something

~~And so what Jim is trying to do~~

And so what they're planing to do I think is to get the some cooperation President of the governmen trying to push them a little bit, and scaring that Jim had lost his power and she doesn't think that Jim would let anyone take him--that he would take his own life first. That he said that--that he would take his own life first before he would let them take him. bring him back here and tourture him to death.

That's what Debbie Said?

If they get this thing going, the people 's minds have been programed so--they have been told that if they come back here they are going to die--lso they are programmed so that when they take this stuff that he gives them, that they would lay down and go to sleep and let somebody else kill them. And then this girl would be doing it to her children--they have tests over there like drills--they have them get up and search camps and all that stuff, ~~and go around~~--children and allkinds of stuff go around and then they were taking some stuff one night they were supposed to die and Jim told them that they were going to die in 40 minutes, and then he said that it was just a test for when the time comes, you know.

Vee says something...

That they all wanted to die together, and they have to get a train--they have were going to rent a plane or helicopter first to get something to put them to sleep and they would go in and bring them outbecause that 's what they are going to do, you know, Jim knows the something that it would be a mass murder and would look bad on his country--he would let people come in and take him.

I think my mind is something from telling all this stuff...
Vee Agrees...

(laughter)

And this girl said that all she wanted to do was just die because she could not believe that Jim would do--that he was doing all these things.

Than's bad.

And everybody over there is so scared and working from 5:30 to 6 in the PM.

X-2-F-1-(9)

Work that much--what are they going to work on? We've got land, but we ~~xhx~~ haven't got that much land... every day?

And she said when it its a good job is when you get black around the eyes and tired. When you do a good job when you're really tired like that. (pause)

That's bad.

I've got some more stuff, but I can't tell you right now 'cause I'm not sure. I'm going to waite. I'm have to waite two weeks 'scause I don't want to be saying somethi ng I don't know what I'm talking about. I have to waite. You see I dno't want to say it, but I guess it was something that I was by just talking to somebody, they were telling me what they were going to do, and they said in two weeks, and I waite in two weeks, and I'll see what's going to happen.

Somebody is going over there--I think all out of my something.

Did they say who was going?

Yes, Monica Peterson.

Did she contact someone?

She wants to go over ethere--I don't know wether she's got a picture or what about--a picture from her son and the baby, and she didn't like the way they looked. And she is trying to get over there.

So we will know in two weeks if she's going.

Did she turn in her passport or something?

No, she has her passport.

No, but she does not want to go through the church. She is going to contact--talk to the President. What she thinks she is going to do something nobody else can do--I don't know. And she's going to go in there...

Fanny Mobley told you this?

Yes, somebody--well you see I've just what you see I have to build my confidense soethat she will start telling me--she said that a girl told her that Monica Peterson--the girl--I don't know the girl. I want to waite and find out, she was going becauses she didn't like the way the baby's face looked ~~xxx~~ and her son She got a picture or something from overthere, and she didn't like the way they looked. She said--My memory is getting so good!

Ernest Jones and his wife, before they left, and she said that she called them up and ~~said~~ begged them not to go over there, and she was telling them what it was like over ethere because she knows that Earnest and his wife will be dressed and wear ~~fixxx~~ fine clothes and that they were packing up all their stuff all these suitcases. She said that a girl told them that thieir money was still in SF now

She said that she begged them not to go because she knew that they were going to go over there and be dissappointed.

Everybody overthere is satisfied.

You've got to be kidding...

Somebody told her--this came from San Francisco--said that they had to be out of here no later than September because Jim is going to turn loose 5 horses of the something laughter And one of these horses represnats something Vee: then you haven't got any problem...
That's what I'm telling you--in September is the deadline--Jim is going to turn loose the 5 horses of the something (same as above) and said that the reason why he had to use these effects is to scare the people something because if the people a prayer they wouldn't something him, so he has to use earthquakes and hunger and slavery and concentration camps to scare them. because if they didn't believe in him they wouldn't follow him. So he has to use that.

September that's what he told the people--September. September is the last because they are going to turn this place upside down.
Waite let me tell you about these 5 horses. One of these horses represents earthquake, another one is fire, and then the other one water, hunger--hell if you burned up and washed up, how in the hell can you be hungry? laughter...

And how can y ou get hungry? and all these dance pipes going to be broken and burning. Well, once the place isn turned upside down, could you be hungry cr know that you were burning? And then you are going to be put in concentration ca mps. If the place is turned upside down and you're going under there cannt be a concentration camp.

There won't be anybody to put in it...

No, how are you going to put somebody in it? When you are through this thing--you're living and coming to him because he is god. This girl was over there trying to interview him, and they had a big mess about that They kept her in somewhere for two weeks.

The reporter?

Yes, and he finally denyed that he was god or ever said that he was god weather he ever burned up a Bible or weather he ever said that the Bible was a lie.

She asked him one time, you know, and he said she asked him why when the white murderers and tell them to quote the bible, why did he tell them to quote the bible when they aren't supposed to read the bible? And he said to shut up and don't ask questions--it'll bring sickness to you

And she said she told Jim that if it brings sickness, then there were a lot of people in this world that should be dead. You know, for reading the bible.

That's what Debbie said?

That's what Debbie told Fanny. Said that everybody should be dead from reading the bible. if it brings sickness. And Debbie said that she knows that if you believe what a person tells you, it can really exist. If a person told you that you were going to walk out at 6 o'clock and you believed that you were going to walk out at 6 o'clock and somebody was going to run over you, you could go out and your nerves would be so bad that you would actually get run over. She said that she has learned so much from being in the Temple--she said that she would rather be dead than to find out that Jim had done all this. to the members. kAll of them wanted to come out of there.
I don't think they are getting paid.
I think that a lot of those members just like Fanny said, they are working and they are contributing money towards this. And like all this liturature and stuff they are getting up here to send to the President, they are paying it themselves.

Maybe not that part (Vee)

Oh no honey, they have asked (Now) for money and give whatever you can because they want to charter this plane to go over there. They want to charter this plane (top secret) but first they have to get this helicopter to go in and drop this sleep on them--whatever it is--and then they go in and bring the people out. But Tim Stoen said (told Fanny) that he didn't think that he know that Jim would rather be dead than come back here, and before he come, he would take his own life. Jim said that before they would let them take him, he would tie a rock to his neck and go down to the deepest ocean. He would not come back here.

I know the whole mess is so twisted around first Jim would take his own life and then they are programmed to kill each other.

I think that they programmed their own minds--you know that?

Oh, and over there when you're married, you don't sleep with your husband.

You don't?

Oh, no you don't. Like you leave and you have a wife that's going through her menopause, and your husband's young, he is supposed to go out with the young girls and get babys. And the girls can go out and do whatever they want and raise up with nature.

That's insane.

Tim Stoen said that Jim lied when he told them about the nature tree where you go over and there is this tree where you eat for your nature--the bark off this tree. That there is a tree with icecream coming out of it and all them niggers left with spoons and cups going over there to get this icecream. This whole thing would make you vomit, Vee.

No, thisis a fairy tale--you read about these things in books and you see movies about it, but not in real life, you don't hear tell of stuff like this. I doubt very much if the people that are listening to all thistelevision station and stuff that have them on they don't believe--they think that these people are absolutly bezerk. That they are going berzerk.

Its unbelieveable.

That they are going over to get this icecream and said that Jim told them that when you get there there is no more sickness, no more death, no more hunger, no more pain. and everybody over there is sick. Brother Keaton has had surgery, Jim told them that the only way he wanted them to keep in touch--now first he said that you're not supposed to keep in touch at all with your family, so now she said that you have to keep in touch with your family just in case they've got money. To make out their will and everything like that and then you turn it over to the cause.

Too much...

I guess the little girl, Steve's daughter, and John John, Tim Stoen's son are living with Jim, and there is another girl. And John is so confused that he is calling Marie--that's her name--calling Marie mama.

Too much...

I'll tell you one thing--you're mind is a walking tape recorder.

I told you that girl. Couldn't nobody pay me, nobody could come to me and say now Carrie, I'll give you --I don't care what they offer me, I couldn't tell it to the members--that's why I tell you to never repeat this--only you and McElvane is all right. But don't let it go becaues you know when you are weak, you will really start going backwards. I guess if I were weak, I would too. You know, people could find me out. But you see that I'm not for sale. I'm not for sale. I can't be bought.

I mean the thing is Vee if there was somebody a dodo like me, a dummy, just walked in there off of the street, I was never under Jim's teaching--does it take 20 years to learn a person--or 8 years?

No.

Now if I were doing something like that the way you were saying, she don't know because she was never under his teachings, but somebody else you would think that they would know better.

Re: Interp. Report--given in phone conv.
Washington office October 22 letter to the capitol here office from : Mr. Louis Sims
Subject: Traffic in areas mentioned as per phone call

The cover letter was accompanied by a report given by an intermediary agent S.E. Murtagh. Murtagh was reporting on information provided by an agent who met with 13 former members on Feb. 24, 1977. The agent was unidentified. (Feb. 5 the initial contact was made) from information given it was clear to us that one of the 13 was Betty and Danny P. their same old traditionall lies.

Points:
-one source mentions a person having stored 170 in her home (Betty) and then claims this was sent to this area
-Mary Ruth is named as the person who received Maxine--absurd
-one source mentioned having had 200 or 300 of Maxines books kept in her place
-mentions political influence of us in SF, thru the DA and other departments but says no investigations of allegations possible, therefore the 13 had contacted investigative reporters, and subsequently articles appeared in the media
-claims that M. is seeking policital influence in G.--possible an ambassadorship// (this could possible refer to letters to Mondale from George)
-sees him as seeking to influence and become a factor in G. politics
-mentions support of Black Panther Party and Black Muslims
-no mention of us a Socialist--perpaps because the two above have a reputation for violence that fits into their world view better.
-mentions talks in code on radio
-says that G. and us have agreement of no inspection of crates marked ag. supplies or used clothes--infers shipping with cooperation of govt.
-observers now located at Houston, New Orleans, Miami to watch shipments going out
-SF immigration confirms being deluged with requests for passports for people going to there.
-they recommend furture action: more observers and immigration to watch for traffic, investigate , more outposts to observe
-also mentions meeting with Mark Edwards, that conversations was taped and the tape turned over to us. Subsequently 5 letters received that contained references to parts of conversation.
-State Dept. also referred to as interested in activities of organization

3 pages long list of allegations--all abusrd lies, one even claiming Hill tear gas a demons. in this place--in a year when he was not even in the country.

P R O L O G U E

The events contained herein are all verifiable. They have caused us to believe that Peoples Temple is the object of individuals and/or agencies whose single intent is to disrupt and systematically destroy our work and programs, and our pastor, Jim Jones. The scope of their attacks is from our local programs in San Francisco to our agricultural project in Guyana, South America. Attempts to destroy us have been most unsuccessful, but we believe the actions of people we know to be involved are immoral in a country that claims to grant and protect freedom of religious and political expression within its bounds.

This is by no means the full story of hate and harassment Peoples Temple has experienced: the destruction of our church building by arson; the threats on our Pastor's life and the lives of his family; the numerous other abuses that would take too long to tell. What follows are selected events which have taken place over the past few months and which we believe constitute evidence of an organized effort to tear down our work. We also believe that the collusion we have discovered here is only the "tip of the iceberg." It possibly involves the highest levels of government and the military.

I N T R O D U C T I O N

What follows is background information gathered from various sources on Mr. David Conn. Mr. Conn's name comes up repeatedly in these pages. Our first recollection of him was seven years ago when he attended Peoples Temple Christian Church. He did not like the services and did not return thereafter.

However, in recent months Mr. Conn has made himself known again. He approached Dennis Banks and asked him to sign a statement against the Temple. (Mr. Banks notified us immediately of Mr. Conn's visit.) We have heard him and his wife Donna talk about having "high priority numbers" with the Treasury Department. We have evidence that he has contacted various ones who have left the church membership and asked them for information about us. He was seen sitting in the background of a recent press conference held with people who have come out against the Temple. He has called in his name and telephone number to a local radio station as a source of information on Peoples Temple for anyone wishing to contact him.

We believe that David Conn has been conducting an investigation on Peoples Temple for some six or seven years.

X-2-h-1 (8)

We have reason to believe, also, that he is conducting a concerted campaign to destroy our organization. We believe he is being sponsored in this campaign. We do not know for a fact who is sponsoring him, but from the things that we have heard and seen, we do surmise he is in some way connected with the Treasury Department. We submit the following papers to document conversations and activities which we feel constitute an investigation of Peoples Temple and our pastor, Jim Jones, by David Conn working as an agent of or somehow in collusion with the U.S. Department of Treasury.

CHAPTER ONE

Peoples Temple received a call from Dennis Banks and Leighman Brightman saying that two people were coming over to Brightman's house that night with " some information " they claimed to have about Peoples Temple. Banks and Brightman invited the church to send some of our members to their house to listen to this meeting. They said they would notify us when the people had arrived.

We received the arranged notice from Mr. Brightman and several church members went over to his house. They stayed outside on the sidewalk and on the driveway until a young Native American came out of the house and got into a car. One of the Temple members photographed him at the time. Immediately thereafter Mr. Brightman came out of the house and stated that no pictures were to be taken. He then invited the group of Temple members to come up on the property and listen in on the conversations going on with Mr. Conn from a position he directed them to under an open window. The group did as he instructed, but found it difficult to have more than two people stand by the window without risking exposure. So one of the persons stayed under the window to take notes and the others took turns listening in.

When Mr. Conn and his Native American associate had both left Brightman's home, two of the Temple members went into the home at Mr. Brightman's invitation. Present were Dennis Banks, Leighman Brightman, two or three other young Native Americans, and the two Temple members. One of the young Native Americans had been taking notes during the previous conversations. Banks and Brightman also had taken notes throughout the meeting with Conn. (These notes are included as exhibits herein.)

Brightman said he had been contacted several months before by this same young Native American man who had accompanied Conn that night. At that time he had asked to set up a meeting with Conn and Banks regarding Jim Jones, but Brightman had refused saying that he had appreciated what Jim Jones had done for him earlier in Ukiah.

It was this same person who had set up the meeting that actually did take place that night. The man had contacted Brightman's wife and Brightman had returned his call. At that time Brightman had agreed to set up the meeting with Conn and it was scheduled for a future date. The man had called back, however, saying that the meeting would have to be sooner and asked for it that night.

Brightman said, and it was confirmed by those who had been listening outdoors, that the young Native American man did not know all the things about Peoples Temple that were discussed that night. Brightman concluded the man was being used by Conn as a means of gaining access to himself and Dennis Banks.

(Brightman's neighbors observed the people who were listening under the window. They said later they could see clearly what was going on from the windows bordering on his property.)

CHAPTER TWO

INFORMATION GATHERED FROM UNDER CONNS' HOUSE

Dennis Banks, leader of the American Indian Movement, showed his notes and information on David Conn to Peoples Temple members. Members then checked out Conn's address and found it to be 2314 Damuth, Oakland, California. To discover the identity of this man David Conn, we gained entrance to his house through an open garage door and smaller trap door that led to the area beneath the house. We went under the house a total of five times. From there we could distinctly hear conversations of Donna Conn, her ex-husband David Conn, and Donna's daughter Susan. Sounds in the house were so audible to us that we could hear even a deep sigh. The hearing was augmented by the fact that the house's central heating system provided a natural sound duct from all parts of the house to a central opening under the house.

On the first occasion, we went under the house at approximately 10:30 PM sometime in early May, 1977. Entry under the house had followed upon a planned phone call to the Conns which was intended to provoke conversation related to Peoples Temple; it was our objective to flush out the alleged information Mr. Conn claimed to have and to determine in what capacity he was acting. The conversation going on as we came within earshot related to international politics,

"monolithic communism," the Korean situation -- all from a radical right-wing point of view. The intended phone call came within two or three minutes, and Donna Conn received it. She became extremely agitated and began talking in a near hysterical voice. The caller claimed to be a free-lance reporter who had heard Conn's number quoted and wanted information regarding Peoples Temple. Donna Conn became alarmed when the caller would not leave a return address or telephone number. She was not convinced this was a reporter at all. She and David, who was visiting there at the time, speculated as to who it might really have been.

At this point, Donna asked David and his friend, someone by the name of Larry, to leave the house. She told David to park his car down the block and not in front of her house in the future. She said he was followed there. Evidently she felt that the phone call was a result of David's being there. She told him that several unrelated and unexplained incidents had occurred recently. Her water hose had been left running "for two hours," her "car was messed up," her gas had been turned off, and she said this was the third such anonymous phone call she had received. She associated David's presence in her home with these incidents, apparently because she knew of some "investigatory" work he was involved in. She asked him to take precautions next time he came and to call an agent for help. His response was, "What can he do about it?" David left shortly thereafter.

When David and Larry left, they drove around the block twice and were followed by one of our members who was watching from the street. David came back into the house to tell Donna she was right, he had been followed there. Then he left again and drove off.

When David was gone, Donna called her daughter on the phone and told her to come home immediately. She told Susan to have her boyfriend walk her to the door when they arrived. She then began calling a series of friends, perhaps five calls in all. The first person she contacted was named Ann. She explained to Ann that certain strange things had been happening to her, the same things she had described to David earlier, and about the phone calls she had received. Part of her conversation was that she had a "high priority number" that she could call and, with no questions asked, she could get people there with guns in five minutes. Her exact words were, "They have guns and everything." In response to whatever comment Ann made at that point, Donna answered, "No, it's higher than that," referring to the high priority number.

After she talked to Ann, Donna called a person named Bruce, whom we later heard her refer to jokingly as "Bruce Alexander." She told him she was just letting him know there could be a problem and he should be ready to leave immediately, if she should call back.

Next she called another friend, no name ascertained, to whom she mentioned that "Bruce didn't know very much." Details that were remembered in subsequent, random fashion from further phone calls were: "The number is known now, but I am afraid to change it because then they will know there is no man in the house. I have gone to great lengths to show there is a man in the house." She said she had been thinking for a long time her phone was tapped.

A half-hour later she called Ann back and told her to talk to Susan and convince her to stay the week-end at Ann's house, since she did not want to leave Susan alone in the house, especially since the last phone call.

Then we overheard an argument between Donna and Susan and heard Donna scream, "They will get you, trying to get to your dad!"

A half-hour later Bruce showed up. Donna tried to get Susan to go to into the other room so that Donna could talk to Bruce. Susan was watching a TV show and refused to go. All three watched the show together. It involved civil rights and black people, apparently, because Donna and Bruce made racist remarks throughout the movie. At one point Donna said, "I wish Larry were here, he would crack up." The story line, as best we could discern it, was about a black lawyer from the North who went to the South and experienced severe oppression there.

Bruce went in to take a bath when the movie ended. Donna went into the bathroom and began talking about Peoples Temple in general terms to Bruce. She had something she wanted to show him, and at first she could not find it. She was afraid she might have thrown it out, because she said, "I am afraid to have it on me. " Then we heard the words, "Treasury Agent..." Laughter. "Treasury Agent..." Again laughter. Then, "I am official, too. I have the secret code. A secret number ..." Bruce replied, "How much does Sue know about this?" Donna replied: "Enough to be scared to death...But not that much...But enough to know not to go to the authorities. And that's just where we want it."

At this point, almost 3:00 AM, Bruce asks Donna to tell him more about all this. Donna refuses to discuss it further saying that it would take hours to explain it all. "I don't know all the pieces myself," she said. "David is more informed than I am and one of my sources has clammed up. The way I understand it works, if I am not involved, I shouldn't be bothered. " Then she went further and said, "David didn't do anything wrong, but he was involved in the investigation." Then she suggested they talk about it Friday or Saturday. Donna continued to express anxiety about the phone calls, and Bruce made the statement, "Haven't you read enough books to know what is going on? Haven't you read...(inaudible)... blackmail?"

In the bedroom she made the statement, "A nice man from the Company... The Company is the CIA..." They went to bed and after an interval of small talk, Donna asked Bruce, "Have you ever heard of Jim Jones?" He replied with something in-audible, and she said, "Never mind." She went on to say, "Isn't there something we can do?...It is private property... Police.." (This part to the end is very inaudible.)

On a subsequent occasion, we went under the house at approximately 9:30 PM and heard Donna talking to her friend Ann, who was also in the house. They were discussing David's involvement in surreptitious activities about which Donna was confessing extreme curiosity. She told Ann that she was "Extremely curious about David's connections. For example, I am just dying to know who was on the other end of that phone call." Donna called David on the phone and pumped him for information, especially regarding Peoples Temple and what he knew about other radical organizations. She tape recorded that conversation and played it back for Ann to listen to, and both gloated over Donna's considerable skill at getting information out of David. We could understand quite a bit of the tape replay.

In the course of the tape, we heard David describe Temple history from the time Jim Jones was Human Rights Commissioner in Indianapolis, and his exodus to California. David quoted old articles that appeared several years ago in the press authored by Lester Kinsolving. He named the journalist and the newspaper, the Indianapolis Star. He brought Donna up-to-date in general terms of our settlement in Redwood Valley and the relocation and growth in San Francisco. During the course of the conversation, Donna asked questions about "Mert" and "Larry Tupper" and particularly about Mert's involvement in Temple activities. She was curious about his role as the church photographer and about Larry Tupper's court case for the custody of his children. Donna also asked David about Deanna Mertle's role in the Temple and "what they had on her?" David's response was inaudible, but Donna's reply was, "Oh, that's gross!"

Donna and Ann spent some time congratulating themselves for being able to "work David like a pump." Donna raised the question of Jim's self-proclaimed socialist posture: "Why can he get away with openly calling himself a communist in his public meetings?" Ann explained that "When you proclaim yourself a member of a minority organization such as the Panthers or the AIM, then you are suspect and can no longer walk the streets safely. But, if you proclaim yourself to be a communist, you can do just about anything you want...."

A third visit produced no information, probably because the daughter had friends in the house. The phone call provoked no comment from Donna. Even though her daughter asked questions about the call, Donna passed the call off lightly.

In a subsequent visit, David and Susan were home alone. There were no conversations pertinent to Peoples Temple except one thing. Immediately after the phone call, Susan said to David, "What are they bothering us for?" She made the remark, "I wish they would sink them to the bottom of the ocean." David went into the bathroom and called out from there to Susan: "What do you think we ought to do about it, Susan? Call the police or something?" She replied, "What good would that do?" His query to her was in a testing tone of voice, obviously staged and intending to sound her out on her guard against alerting the authorities.

At one point Susan asked David why Peoples Temple was harassing them like this. He replied to her that the Temple was running scared. They knew the articles on them were about to break, and now with John Barbagelata's initiative coming up...(at this point his voice dropped off). Susan, at some point in the conversation, remarked to David that the garbage was missing. He said, "Susan, are you sure the garbage is missing?" She said, "Yes, it was half full and I went out the next morning and it was all gone."

On one occasion we heard Donna ask how Peoples Temple had gotten the number of the house,and then she said something about how the number must have come off of a letter that she had written to Van Amberg. She surmised Van Amberg must have told Peoples Temple. She also talked about the tape of the last call that she said Peoples Temple had made to their house. She said the caller had threatened to burn the place down, and that she had taped the call. She said she had sent the tape to the lab, and wanted whoever it was she was talking to to hear it sometime.

Our entrances under the Conns' house ended with this last episode.

CHAPTER THREE

Treasury Department: Response to Peoples Temple Inquiry about David Conn and other apparent Treasury Department representatives' probes with regard to Peoples Temple.

After hearing that David Conn was in some way connected with the Treasury Department, Mr. Prokes wrote to that Department asking them what the facts were about any investigation that might involve Peoples Temple. The letters included here are the responses to our inquiries. Both Mr. Tropp and Mr. Prokes wrote letters of inquiry. Responses came from the Internal Revenue Service, the Treasury Department, and U.S. Customs Service.

In April, 1977, Rev. James Purifoy, a former member of Peoples Temple, reached Jim Jones by telephone in Guyana. He was calling because he had received a call from a person who said he worked for the Treasury Department and wanted to know anything Mr. Purifoy could remember about Jim Jones and Peoples Temple. Rev. Purifoy did not talk to the agent other than to say that he had nothing to say. Mr. Purifoy's address, as we last knew it, is 35 E. Santa Ana St., Fresno, California. His phone number is 227-8068. Following the letters included herein, is an affidavit of Sandra Bradshaw and Tom Adams, members of Peoples Temple who were present at Rev. Purifoy's home when he made the call to Jim Jones. They verify the fact that Rev. Purifoy did indeed call Jim Jones in Guyana and relate to him the account of his call from the Treasury Department agent.

(It might also be noted here that in the notes which Dennis Banks took during the meeting with David Conn, there is mention that "Grace (Stoen) had been visited by the Treasury agents.")

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY
U.S. CUSTOMS SERVICE
SAN FRANCISCO, CA

JUN 27 1977

REFER TO
ADM-3:C

Mr. Richard D. Tropp
Post Office Box 15157
San Francisco, California

Dear Mr. Tropp:

Your letter dated April 20, 1977, refers to a letter written previously by a representative of the Peoples Temple to several governmental agencies indicating officials of the Peoples Temple were under some type of official "scrutiny". You have asked us to clarify what you term to be a "fishing expedition".

Although this office is unaware of such a letter being directed to this agency, we did receive a copy of a letter from Mr. Michael J. Prokes, addressed to the Internal Revenue Service, Washington, D.C. The letter mentions no activity or incidents involving the United States Customs Service.

We are unaware of any activity by Customs officials in this Region of the Customs Service which would be in the nature of a "fishing expedition" as discussed in your letter.

The Customs Service does have broad responsibility for enforcing many laws and regulations concerning the entry of merchandise and other items into this country, as well as the exportation of many items. Necessarily encompassed within this responsibility is the requirement to investigate any suspected violations of those laws.

I trust that this clarifies any concern that you might have with the functions of the Customs Service. Please let us know if we can be of further assistance.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Sir:

Reference your letter of May 20, 1977, to Mr. Stan Long.

This office is not conducting an examination of your organization at this time.

If an examination is conducted in the future, it will be carried out under procedures that are in effect at that time.

It is recommended that if your organization is contacted by someone claiming to represent the Treasury Department that you ask them for Treasury Department credentials. All Internal Revenue Service employees are issued pocket commissions which will identify them as Treasury Department employees.

Dear Mr. Tropp:

Before we responded to your letter dated April 20, 1977, regarding any investigative action by the Internal Revenue Service concerning the Peoples Temple of the Disciples of Christ, a delegation from the Peoples Temple visited our office. The delegation was lead by Mr. Michael J. Prokes. Mr. Prokes spoke with Group Manager Paul H. Wall of our office.

It is my understanding that Reverend Prokes raised the same questions that are expressed in your letter. Group Manager Wall explained to the delegation the rules and regulations pertaining to the Freedom of Information Act. Subsequently, Group Manager Wall wrote to Reverend Prokes outlining the Freedom of Information Act procedures.

If you do not have convenient access to the material regarding the Freedom of Information Act procedures which was sent to Reverend Prokes, please advise, and I will send you the same material.

(c) Is the Peoples Temple Christian Church presently under investigation by any division of the IRS?

After reading the enclosed regulations your attorney may wish to request additional information or use a different format.

I would suggest that a separate request be made for each individual or organization. If a separate request is made for Reverend Jones, he should be identified by Social Security Number and sign his own request.

If the church's main office is within the San Francisco District, the inquiry should be made to the San Francisco District.

If the church has headquarters in another district, the request should be sent to that District Office.

Indian leader regains his family

By James Schermerhorn

American Indian Movement leader Dennis Banks stood for a long moment before the Disciples of Christ Church. In his arms was his 4-month-old daughter he had not seen until his family arrived by plane last night.

His wife, Ka-mook, freed on bail from a federal charge, in Oregon with $20,000 of the church's money, stood beside him. In her arms was an older daughter, 18-month-old Tasina.

When he finally found words, Banks said softly, "A week ago my wife was behind an iron door, my children were in Oklahoma. You in your love, have moved the iron door."

The Rev. Jim Jones, pastor of the Peoples Temple here, led more than 4000 men and women in the crowded church in singing, "We Shall Overcome."

Then in his strong voice, Jones affirmed his congregation's support of Banks and declared, "We shall not settle for anything less than his liberty!"

Banks is wanted in South Dakota, where he was convicted last July of possessing arms in a riot and assault with a dangerous weapon "without intent to kill."

In the trial, defense witnesses said they would not testify because they were threatened by the prosecutor, the state's attorney general, and in mid-trial, Banks' counsel withdrew for the same reason, leaving him to defend himself alone. His appeal for a mistrial was denied.

He and his wife also face charges of possessing destructive devices in Oregon.

Extradition to South Dakota, he declares, will mean his certain death, and he has appealed to Gov. Brown to deny extradiction.

Jones said he asked the church board and congregation last week to take the action.

BANKS RALLY—SAT.

With placards and banners calling for "No Extradition" and "Drop the Charges," thousands will join together this Saturday on behalf of Dennis Banks, leader and co-founder of the American Indian Movement (AIM). They will protest what they see as another tragic chapter in a long history of persecution of Native Americans by the U.S. Government and its agencies. Participants will assemble at 11 AM at 25th and Harrison. The march will proceed to the Civic Center Plaza for a 1 PM rally at the State Building, where Banks himself will be speaking. Lehman Brightman, leading Native American educator and the man who gave Banks sanctuary in California, will also address the rally. Other speakers will include Rudolfo "Corky" Gonzales, William Kunstler, and John Trudell. Over one half million signatures have been collected on petitions asking Governor Jerry Brown to deny extradition to South Dakota.

Banks is wanted in South Dakota on a controversial conviction for possession of arms in a riot "without intent to kill." According to the San Francisco Examiner, defense witnesses reported that they had been threatened by the prosecutor, Attorney General William Janklow. Receiving similar threats, Banks' own attorney also quit the case in mid-trial, leaving him to defend himself. The appeal for a mistrial was denied.

Banks' bitter plight has been compounded by the treatment of his wife, Ka-mook, in an Oregon prison, where until recently she was being held. Ka-mook birthed a baby girl while in jail and named the child "Iron Door Woman." Immediately after birth the infant was separated from her mother by prison officials.

Touched by this mother's plight and moved to action by reports that she was in ill-health and receiving inadequate medical attention, the multiracial congregation of Rev. Jones' church came to Ka-mook's rescue. They raised the necessary $20,000.00 bail to secure her release. Banks thanked Rev. Jones and the more than 2,500 people who were on hand for his reunion with Ka-mook. In a voice choked with emotion, he said, "A week ago my wife was behind an iron door, my children were in Oklahoma. You, in your love, have moved the iron door."

Attention remains focused, however, on Banks extradition. Recently, several groups have become aware of the dangers that await Banks upon his return to South Dakota. Attorney General Janklow, in an affidavit filed by Banks' former attorney, stated that the solution to Indian militancy was a bullet through Banks' head, reported the New York Times. Banks quoted South Dakota prison authorities as saying that his life expectancy would be but 20 minutes if he were returned. It is agreed that racist elements within and without the criminal justice system there have vowed to kill him. Two other AIM leaders have met violent deaths in recent years. Neither case has been solved.

– BANKS ENDORSED –

Subsequently, Banks has been endorsed by other Bay Area groups: The League of Latin American Citizens, The Western Addition Project Area Committee, the Mission Youth Project, the Real Alternatives Program, the Bay Area Urban League, Delancey Street Foundation, and the Mexican American Political Association.

Dennis Banks and his supporters are anxious to see the extradition request refused and the charges dropped. "For the first time in this country's history, non-Indians need to stand in support of Indian people's rights," says Banks. If you would like to help, contact the Banks / Brightman Defense Coalition, 7787 Earl Court, El Cerrito, California, with your donations of funds or time.

5,000 At Banks Rally

Last Saturday, April 3, despite the cold and rainy weather, 5000 enthusiastic supporters of Dennis Banks gathered in San Francisco's Civic Center park to show their support and solidarity for the Indian leader. Banks, who is fighting extradition to South Dakota, (stemming from the Custer, South Dakota riots) addressed the throng. Also speaking were William Kunstler, former Chicago Seven defense attorney; Lehman Brightman, President of United Native Americans and the man who was sheltering Banks at the time of this arrest; and Jim Jones, founder-leader of the Peoples Temple Christian Church, who came to the aid of Banks' wife Ka-mook with the $20,000 needed to free her on bail.

The following day Banks, his wife Ka-mook, attorneys Kunstler and Roberts, and other leaders of the Indian movement attended the second of three services at the San Francisco Peoples Temple where there were about 4000 in attendance to hear Pastor Jim Jones speak. Also in attendance that day were Bishop Karl Irvin, President of the Christian Church of Northern California and Nevada; Assemblyman Willie Brown; District Attorney Joseph Freitas, Harvey Milk, community leader; Minister Mekki, Minister of Muhammeds Temple No. 26 here in San Francisco, and several Muslim leaders; Rev. Cecil Williams of Glide Memorial Methodist Church who gave the benediction; and representatives of the press. During the service Jones and several ministers of other faiths presented firm support to Banks and his wife, while the thousands in attendance expressed their approval with sustained applause. (Peoples Temple has three large services on Sundays.)

Banks has stated, and it is generally agreed (as was shown in a San Francisco Examiner article), that extradition to South Dakota would mean death for the AIM leader.

This information was obtained from Mrs. Rita Tupper. Mrs. Tupper knew the Conns and the Mertles before she came to Peoples Temple. Mrs. Tupper is now living in the interior of Guyana along with her children.

David and Donna Conn were friends of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Tupper. They all went to the same church in Richmond, California: Barrett Avenue Christian Church. The Conns were also good friends of Elmer and Deanna Mertle. The Mertles and the Conns had lived together for some time. According to Rita Tupper, [redacted] had sexual relations with [redacted] Also, according to Mrs. Tupper, [redacted] had had sex with both [redacted], and [redacted] and [redacted] have also had oral sex with each other, as documented in [redacted] written statement to Jim Jones.

David Conn works for Standard Oil in Richmond, California, where he is employed as an operator in the lab. He worked with Elmer Mertle, who has since quit. Mr. Tupper also worked there as an operator for years. Mrs. Tupper believes, although she is not entirely sure, that David Conn worked at Standard Oil when they were on strike. If this were the case, it would have been against the union.

INTRODUCTION

On November 7, 1976, Unita Blackwell Wright (the black woman mayor of Mayersville, Mississippi), spoke at our church in San Francisco. During the course of her speech, one of our members who was standing at the front door noticed two men who were obviously listening to her speech from the corridor between the Temple and the Meaders Cleaners building next door. When the same Temple member approached them, they quickly left the corridor and hurried down the sidewalk to their car. The Temple member took down the license plate number (412 PTK) and identified the vehicle as a two-door, brown Ford Granada. The license number checked out to be that of a car belonging to Budget Airport Association, 830 L Street, Sacramento, California. We checked to see who had rented the car and found it had been issued to Thomas Dawsey of Biloxi, Mississippi. The clerk at Budget Airport Association showed us the car rental documents from which we ascertained Mr. Dawsey's name and home address. Further research provided Dawsey's home phone number which we subsequently called. Members of his family braggingly told us of Mr. Dawsey's employment as an electronics expert in a governmental agency guided by Senator Stennis. We believe Mr. Dawsey's rank to be EMC-13.

X-2-h-1 (62)

We put all this information together in a letter to Mr. Stennis with copies to various Congresspersons. We also sent copies to the media. We protested, on basis of what we had found, this outright invasion of our privacy and registered our opposition to such harassment in case of its recurrence. We did receive some responses --- all sympathetic. Congressman Phillip Burton wrote to the Air Force asking for an explanation of this incident, and received the reply that they were unable to investigate the private matters which may have involved the Peoples Temple and Mr. Thomas Dawsey. Mr. Burton responded with yet another letter to the Air Force and received what was essentially the same non-commital reply. Our own letter to Senator Stennis was documented as received by his office through a return receipt. We have still received no reply from his office.

inquiry, a copy of which Mr. Burton sent to us with the attached cover letter. The Air Force states:

* "We regret that we were, and still are, unable to investigate the private matters which may have involved the Peoples Temple and Mr. Thomas N. Dawsey."
* The letter also mentions that Mr. Dawsey's position at Kessler Air Force Base is that of electronic engineer and that his duties are to check interference between communications and electronics equipment.

EXHIBIT E: COPY OF CONGRESSMAN PHILLIP BURTON'S SECOND LETTER TO THE AIR FORCE AND COPY OF THEIR SECOND RESPONSE TO HIM

Congressman Burton was unsatisfied with the response he had received from the Air Force and sent a second request for information. In their reply, the Air Force states:

* "Since no military law or directive appears to have been violated, the alleged activities are not within the Air Force's investigative jurisdiction."

EXHIBIT A

X-2-4-1 (66)

November 16, 1976

Senator John C. Stennis
United States Senator
205 Old Senate Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Senator Stennis:

In the atmosphere following the debacle of the Nixon administration, the public was led to believe that the compilation of "enemy lists," the collection of dossiers, the web of intrigue and investigation surrounding private citizens that characterized those unfortunate years was coming to an end. However, a series of peculiar events last week led to a rather unusual discovery, one which seems to belie the promise of the post-Watergate climate, and one in which I am sure you will be interested. I hope that you will bear with me if this letter seems overly long, but details are necessary to fully grasp the impact of the situation.

As you are perhaps aware, Peoples Temple Christian Church, of the Disciples of Christ, a denomination numbering upwards of 2 million whose members include FBI Director Clarence Kelly and many congresspersons, is a multi-ethnic church whose theological emphasis is upon the social gospel of Jesus Christ. We stress the value of a life of human service, and to this end the church has a large variety of programs that serve the needs of people from every racial and socio-economic background. Central to our philosophy is a deep commitment to the principles of democracy as embodied in our Bill of Rights--foremost among these being freedom of speech, press, religion, and peaceful assembly. Equally important is the concomitant right to privacy. We do not believe that it is possible to maintain a viable democracy without a vigilant and spirited dedication to liberty. So it is not unusual for our congregations to invite speakers from all walks of life and every phase of the philosophical spectrum to discuss their views. John Birchers, moderate Republicans, liberals and progressives alike have spoken at our churches. We like to think of ourselves as an open forum for a free exchange of ideas.

Thus, when Ms. Unita Blackwell Wright, Mayor of Meyersville, Miss., offered to address several thousand members of our San Francisco congregation at one of our services on Sunday, November 7, the congregation gladly accepted. No doubt you are familiar with Ms. Wright, as she has been actively involved in the civil rights movement for many years, and was among the first American women to visit China with actress Shirley MacLaine in 1973. We think that an exposure to a variety of life's experiences can only serve to sharpen one's ability to separate the wheat from the chaff, and, as we have never had a speaker who could give an eyewitness view of China, we were interested in hearing her perspective.

Ms. Wright gave a humerous, down to earth, sincere talk on her ideas for peaceful, positive social change. I am basically a political moderate, cynical of all Utopian solutions. I can say that Ms. Wright at no time advocated the adoption of China's ideological structure; she merely pointed out some of the positive aspects of Chinese society, such as the absence of the need for locked doors and the safety of the streets at night, and suggested how America could emulate these characteristics to strengthen our own nation. (Even moderate members of Congress recognize that some kinds of changes are necessary within the framework of our democratic system.) She was hardly a "wild-eyed radical" and we are not starry-eyed idealists about China or any other foreign country. Certainly we would never support a dictatorial regime of whatever political label. Honestly, it is difficult for us to see how mature, responsible people can seriously believe that complex social ills can be erradicated by Utopian panaceas.

However, this innocuous exercise in one of our basic constitutional guarantees--freedom of speech--did not go by unnoticed by those who, it seems, would want to deny us this fundamental liberty.

Senator Stennis, there were other, uninvited guests that Sunday. Outside two men sat in a parked car which later proved to be rented from Sacramento. One of them reportedly had a tape recorder and was seen skulking about the side of our building eavesdropping. He was followed to the parked vehicle some distance away from the church.

Naturally, their covert interest in a Sunday church service aroused the curiosity of the over 4,000 of our members who were present for this second morning service, among them several reporters who decided to do their own investigation. It appears that the car was rented by a Mr. Thomas Dawsey. Mr. Dawsey is one of your constituents from Biloxi. Apparently, Mr. Dawsey, having been picked up at the airport Saturday by the rental agency, drove to San Francisco Sunday morning and parked some distance from our building. The car was returned Monday morning.

Some of Mr. Dawsey's relatives and friends furnished additional information that sheds a bizarre light on the picture. According to these contacts, Mr. Dawsey is an electronics expert working for a governmental agency that is guided by yourself. This particular point was told by one relative and confirmed by another source. Although we are not in agreement with your point of view, at times, nevertheless, as Chairman of the Armed Services Committee, as well as the Central Intelligence and Preparedness Subcommittees, you are a Senator who has obviously been dedicated to the interests of our country for many years. These are facts that seem to corroborate the accuracy of all that Mr. Dawsey's relatives and friends said about the nature of his work. Supposedly, Mr. Dawsey is a very high ranking member of a communications "team" (I believe that his rating is EMC 13) whose activities you are primarily responsible for. Allegedly, the activities of these select groups (one source said that there are also teams in Missouri and California) are connected with the Air Force and Kessler Base in Mississippi, near Biloxi. One relative did say that the team members were concerned with checking out possible interference with radar communication that could jeopardize our national defense, a purpose that cannot be relevant to the clandestine scrutiny of a Christian Church service, or the cloak of secrecy.

Precipitate judgments can prove faulty, of course, but when electronics experts sit outside our church, clearly trying to hear what is going on inside, we begin to wonder. After all, if their motive was innocent, why didn't they just come inside and identify the organization they represented? It would have saved them, and us, a great deal of trouble.

Latin America is alive with rumors that our government has been cooperating with efforts to introduce communications experts along the Guyanese border as part of some destabilization attempt. We have an agricultural mission on several thousand acres in that country and heretofore have not believed these rumors, passing them off as a hypersensitivity to U.S. influence in Latin America. Now we begin to wonder.

Peoples Temple is not interested in becoming enmeshed in a public campaign against mushrooming government surveillance. In fact, we are asking those who receive copies of this letter not to make its contents public, because we adhere to the principle that one is innocent of a wrong-doing until proven guilty. Moreover, we cannot see what purpose would be served either in creating further division among the American people, or presenting a false image of America as a police state to the world at large. We still have great faith in America, but in the event that it becomes evident that the First Amendment is being challenged in any segment of American life and society to an intolerable degree, several prominent journalists have been given both this letter and the supporting documentation and have agreed to go ahead with a story only upon our direct request. However, we require some clarification as to the nature of an operation that sends personnel all the way from Biloxi, Mississippi to "spy out our liberty," to quote a Scripture. One Congressman told us that it bore the earmarks of CIA involvement. Our privacy and that of Ms. Unita Wright have been grossly invaded, and we feel that to sit quietly by and tolerate its continued violation would denigrate our self-respect and moral integrity.

Sunday's incident was not the first time our church has been subjected to harassment. A brief look at just a few of the incidents we have experienced will, I think, serve to put our present concern in perspective, although they are not necessarily connected with Sunday's incident.

1. Some time ago, one of our churches was burned down. The Fire Inspector said that it was clearly the work of a professional arsonist.

2. On numerous occasions we have received harassing phone calls. One incident particularly stands out in my mind because it was so cruel. A person mimicked the voice of one of our ministers, and he said he was going to commit suicide. Another time a caller said that our Pastor had been killed. Some of the recipients of these calls were senior citizens whose health could have been jeopardized by the shock.

3. At other times, strangers have called our church offices, saying that church officials had called and insulted them rudely, and not one of our members had ever even heard of the person making the complaint!

4. We were sent what was, from outward appearances, authentic newspaper copy of a story that allegedly was to be printed about us--a very negative "article." The object was to alienate us from the paper in question, a newspaper with whom we were, and continue to be, on excellent terms. Since that time both the establishment and alternative press have been more than favorable to our work.

5. Our Pastor was sent a bouquet of flowers and a sympathy card--with his "death" given as a date in the very near future. One of his children received it.

6. A bomb was placed underneath the bus our Pastor was to ride on one night. The Bomb Squad came to dismantle the device. Many children and seniors would have been riding that bus as well.

X-2-h-1 (70)

7. Finally, several years ago we found out that some telephone operators were monitoring our office calls for days at a stretch. (This occurred in a rural community at a time when our attorney's office phones did not yet have the direct dialing system.) Having found nothing nefarious to report, they finally discontinued the activity. One operator stepped forward and told us what was happening. The telephone company investigated and said her information appeared correct but her testimony would be required at a hearing. She told us, in tears, that if she were to testify, she would be unbearably pressured by racist elements within her department. One of the investigators said this was probably so and it was likely that the woman would lose her job. Our Pastor and the majority of the Board of Trustees felt that we had a primary obligation to see that she did not suffer for her honesty and, as our sole interest that this invasion of privacy be stopped had been achieved, we decided not to publicize the matter.

8. Just the other evening a person who refused to identify himself came by our headquarters asking information regarding our Pastor's travel schedule, specifically, what bus he regularly rode. He also was insistent about knowing the Pastor's home address.

Our aim, Senator Stennis, is not to raise a cry of "persecution." That kind of crusade is against our nature entirely. But we thought that this latest incident required a response on our part so that we can be on record as opposing this harassment, in the event we are bothered in the future. Until this time we had no concern about government interference with our privacy. As a result of these events, however, we now do intend to make disclosure requests to all appropriate government agencies under the Privacy Act of 1974 and the Freedom of Information Act.

Peoples Temple has taken youth from militant backgrounds and made them once again believe that it is possible to work for change within the system. Many conservative leaders in both the political and business spheres, together with liberals, support our church as one of the most effective deterrents to Communism or tyranny in any form. Our programs have rescued literally hundreds from lives of crime and drugs, and we know of no actively participating young person having any difficulty with the law.

We also arrange for free medical care for those in need. Just last week, in one morning alone, over 1000 people were given innoculations against several strains of influenza by doctors working in our church. (Governmental officials say these strains of flu are threatening our nation's health. Each year we always follow their guidelines and see that every member is provided with the medical care recommended.) The program of innoculations was continued daily. Peoples Temple paid the bill.

Repeated harassment can only serve to undermine the respect for our democratic system that the church has helped to foster in embittered young people. If it were not for the calm, controlled, and understanding leadership of our Pastor, no doubt many of these youths would be encouraged to return to a life of crime and militant activity by this kind of surveillance.

Peoples Temple has found that no group has a corner on truth or a franchise on reality. We have learned to listen although we may thoroughly disapprove. But we are tired of being annoyed and spied upon just because we choose to exercise our civil liberties. When relatives openly brag that government personnel are responsible to you and that you are accountable only to the President, it raises serious questions. Out of respect for you and your office, we decided to solicit your reply. One friend remarked that you are a powerful man who is organizing these groups for special undisclosed reasons that would serve the nation. Frankly, I do not see how eavesdropping on 4-5,000 people exercising their First Amendment rights in a Sunday church service will preserve the nation from destruction. Please enlighten us. In the meantime, Peoples Temple will continue to maintain our rights of freedom of speech, assembly, and religion, and we will defend these rights with our lives, if necessary.

Sincerely,

Jean Brown

WASHINGTON 20330

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

JAN 18 1977

Dear Mr. Burton:

This is in reply to your most recent inquiry in behalf of Ms. Jean Brown of Peoples Temple Christian Church.

We regret that we were, and still are, unable to investigate the private matters which may have involved the Peoples Temple and Mr. Tommy N. Dawsey. We are sure you can appreciate the legal aspects of the Air Force getting involved in the personal lives of private citizens.

As we previously mentioned, Mr. Dawsey is a civil service employee assigned to the 1839 Electronics Installation Group (EIG) at Keesler AFB, Mississippi. He is an electronic engineer responsible for providing electromagnetic compatability engineering services. His duties involve checking interference between communications/electronics equipment.

The mission of the 1839 EIG is to install and maintain electronic and communication systems for the Air Force, and to provide electromagnetic compatability engineering services. No aspect of that mission involves the surveillence of private citizens or organizations, except for possible commerical television or radio stations interfering with base facilities.

Thank you for your interest, and we hope this information is of assistance.

Dear Colonel Collins:

I am in receipt of your letter dated December 17, 1976, in response to my inquiry on the case, Ms. Jean Brown and the People's Temple of San Francisco.

People's Temple of San Francisco has a very legitimate concern in this matter. Either Mr. Tommy N. Dawsey, or some individual using this name, was involved in the surveillance of a People's Temple gathering.

Your reply that the Commander of Keesler Air Force Base "states that his organization is not involved in any type of operation described by Ms. Brown" is not responsive.

Mr. Dawsey, or someone using his name, was involved in this "type of operation". My inquiry is directed at the activities of Mr. Dawsey. Mr. Dawsey was either not involved and therefore his name was used fraudulently, or else he was involved in some capacity. Even if Mr. Dawsey's involvement was in a private rather than professional capacity, this remains a serious matter.

My question still remains, was Mr. Dawsey involved in the surveillance of People's Temple?

Secondly, what are Mr. Dawsey's assigned duties at Keesler Air Force Base and what is the specific mission of the 1839 Electronics Installation Group at Kessler AFB.

I look forward to your early reply to these questions.

Sincerely,

Phil Burton

CLEMENT DE AMICIS
Deputy Chief of Investigations

SUBJECT:

Attempted Burglary at New West Magazine Office, 325 Pacific

Sir:

The following is the body of the supplementary report as it will appear when entered into the system. I have reviewed the investigation and conclusions arrived at by the members investigating and concur with them.

On Friday, 06/17/77, Mr. Tracy of the New West Magazine was notified by his secretary, Kathy Whelan, of the damaged window lock. Ms. Whelan said the window was down and the lock was in place although the slide bolt was broken when she first noticed it. When Officer Duffy of Central Station arrived, the window and lock were still in the same condition. Officer Duffy was told by Mr. Tracy that nothing was missing from the office. Mr. Tracy further stated that one or two of the folders in a file cabinet containing information on the Reverend Jim Jones appeared to be an inch or so higher than the rest of the folders. After inspecting the premises and interviewing Mr. Tracy, Officer Duffy concluded entry had not been made.

On Monday, 06/20/77, Inspector Evans of the Burglary Detail, responded to 325 Pacific and conducted the follow-up investigation. After inspecting the premises and interviewing the concerned persons, Inspector Evans also concluded that entry had not been made.

On Monday, 06/20/77, Inspector Michael Byrnes of the Crime Lab responded to 325 Pacific. The window lock had been removed and replaced with a new lock by that time. Because of the time lapse, physical condition of the building and the number of persons that had visited the scene, Inspector Brynes was unable to determine if the pry marks on the window frame and sill were of recent origin. After being given a description of the position and condition of the window lock, Inspector Byrnes concluded that if entry had been made the lock would have had to be pieced together after the window was closed and the exit made through the front door. It would seem logical that if someone made entry and pieced the lock together, they would also have made sure that any folders they touched would have been returned to the file cabinet exactly as found and not an "inch or so higher than the rest of the folders." No other files were disturbed.

The only useable physical evidence were palm prints and fingerprints located on the outside of the lower windowpane. A search of our files was started immediately. Meanwhile, fingerprints were requested of all the New West employees to determine if they had touched the window. On Friday, 06/24/77, Mr. Jon Carroll of the New West Magazine, responded to the Hall of Justice to be printed. His prints matched those found on the window. Mr. Carroll was interviewed by Inspector Evans and stated he had been working late on Monday, June 13, 1977, finishing an article for the magazine. He went to the men's room and locked himself out of the New West office. He then proceeded to the third floor and located Mr. Tom Cook, Sedway and Cook, who suggested he use the fire escape to get back into the office. According to both Mr. Cook and Mr. Carroll, Carroll went down the fire escape, found the window unlocked and let himself into the New West office. This accounts for Carroll's prints being on the window.

From the indentations on the window frame and sill, it is apparent that someone used a pry tool on the window but it cannot be determined how recently.

It is the conclusion of the investigating officer that because of the lack of physical evidence entry was not made to the New West office between 06/16/77, 1830 hours, and 6/17/77, 0900 hours.

The investigating officer recommends that the classification of this remain as an attempted burglary.

Respectfully submitted,

John A Mahoney

INTRODUCTION

The New West magazine has alleged that members of Peoples Temple broke into their office Thursday night, June 16, 1977. They notified both the San Francisco Police Department and all the local media of the alleged event. The so-called break-in of their office was played up extensively in the print and electronic media. Peoples Temple found out about the allegations when a San Francisco Examiner reporter called the church asking for "our side of the story." We knew nothing of it, though for several days the media continued to cover the "break-in," insinuating that Peoples Temple members would be the only ones interested in acquiring documents the magazine was said to have filed on our church.

We called for an investigation by the police. Their report follows. It is clear from the report that the "break-in" in fact did not occur, and that if any tampering was done, it was done by one of the magazine's own employees. We seriously question who engineered this stunt and the entire media barrage that followed. This whole episode, we believe, was an attempt to impugn Peoples Temple, and it was done in a highly sophisticated, highly questionable manner.

INTRODUCTION

In the past few weeks there have been a number of provoking telephone calls, letters, and even an intruder trying to get information on our agricultural project in Guyana. These occurrences, as best we can ascertain, have been spurred by people in the United States who are hostile to the programs of Peoples Temple, whether in the States or abroad. We are working at this time to get documentation of each of these incidents mentioned herein. We believe the constitute attempts to disrupt the progress of the Peoples Temple project in Guyana by causing Guyanese officials to lose faith in our good intentions and sincerity of purpose.

X-2-4-2

RELATED INCIDENTS

I. The Ambassador to the United States from Guyana (located in Washington, D.C.), was called by an "investigator" Joseph Mazor. Mr. Mazor claimed that Peoples Temple had abducted 20 children and that he had a plane standing-by and was ready to retrieve them. The Ambassador, Mr. Lawrence Mann, told Mr. Mazor that if he had any such problems, he should call the FBI or whatever agency would be responsible for investigating such a matter. Mr. Mann then called the District Attorney in San Francisco and found that no charges had been made against the Temple. Mr.Mann then called the Temple to let us know what had happened.

In the course of the conversation Mr. Mann also mentioned that a Mr. Jim Cobb from California had called members of his staff complaining about our presence in Guyana. (Jim Cobb was formerly a member of Peoples Temple and has, in recent weeks, been very vocal against the Temple in the news media.)

II. The Head of State and the Office of the Prime Minister of Guyana both received packets of recent press clippings about Peoples Temple. Of course these clippings have been far less than complimentary about our program, and we do seriously question the motivation of whoever it was that sent them.

III. The United States Embassy in Guyana received a call from the "Atorney General." This call talked about Peoples Temple as having "abducted some twenty children." The Embassy called the Guyanese Minister of Foreign Affairs, Mr. Fred Wills. Mr. Wills in turn contacted members of Peoples Temple in Georgetown about the complaint of the "Attorney General." At this point we are checking to determine the veracity of these calls. We are inclined to disbelieve them, because they represent quite unorthodox behavior for an official agency and that someone other that legitimate governmental and law enforcement agencies are responsible for the calls to both the United States and Guyanese Embassies.

As it happened, the call to the United States Embassy did not serve to divide the Guyanese from us. Rather, the call was interpreted by Mr. Wills as an act "to intrude in the affairs of a sovereign nation..." Whoever made this call did the United States no service whatever.

IV. A Caucasian man came onto our project in the Guyanese interior on the eighth of August, 1977. He had been stopped by the police in Port Kaituma and had told them he knew some of the people working in our project. When the man arrived on the project, he pointed out a child to one of the project workers and asked what the child was doing there. For the first few minutes this man feigned a Guyanese accent, although he did not maintain this accent throughout his stay. He said his name was Givaio, a Guyanese name. He told our people that he had a place to stay in Port Kaituma, so they took him there and dropped him off. As the members of our project were leaving Port Kaituma, they looked back and saw this man going down the river on a lumber boat. He has not been seen in Port Kaituma since.

While he was on our project he asked many pointed questions: How do we fund the project? How do we protect it? Do we have weapons? He also asked these questions of Guyanese Amer-indians he met along the roadside. He also asked how many people were coming, or something to that effect. One of our people noticed that it was odd that he had claimed to have walked the three-mile road from the nearest community to our project, and yet there was no trace of mud as would have normally collected on his shoes. It had just rained.

V. On Friday, August 26, 1977, our travel agent, Ms. Marsha Beebe, of Jackson Travel Service, received a phone call from someone named "Dave." Marsha said she did not catch the last name. She told us he wanted to know when the next time was scheduled for a group of people from Peoples Temple to leave for Guyana. She told the caller she did not have any reservations for Guyana. She asked him who had told him to call her, and he replied that the airlines had. She asked him who he was, and he answered, "Just a concerned party."

We consider calls to travel agents to find out scheduled flights for private parties, calls to Guyanese and United States Ambassadors, and other intrusions mentioned here to be nothing less than the work of people who are intent on trying to disrupt the alternative program in Guyana and the work of Peoples Temple here.

Mrs. Unita Blackwell Wright

freedom of speech, religion, and assembly, that we will not stand idly by while these freedoms are smothered by agencies or organizations using methods of harassment and surveillance. We will continue to sustain and defend our first amendment guarantees, and the liberty of Mrs. Wright. We would be prepared to do so even if it meant our death, because we firmly believe that liberty is worth that price.

INTIMIDATION

The terrors of Chile are a prime example. A good man came to our church, Orlando Letelier, and although we did not agree with all of his political philosophy, we felt him to be a sincere spokesperson for freedom in Chile. A few weeks later this courageous man was assassinated in broad daylight on Embassy Row in Washington, D.C. He had been warned in statements to his family (from what we have been able to learn of the case) that he would be killed if he did not stop speaking out for democracy in Chile.

This country must be maintained on the road to social democracy. It is beginning to appear that our corporate state has gotten out of touch with the needs of its people. Massive corporations now own nursing homes that used to be owned by people who understood the individual needs of the patients. Corporations own massive farms where the people who own the land never touch the soil and are squeezing the middle class farmer totally out of existence. Examples of corporate insensitivity would fill volumes. The corporate state is just not the solution, and the American people need to recognize this and respond. We do not hold with China's political philosophy; however, we do not see how Mrs. Wright's visit to China can endanger our country in any conceivable way, nor how it justifies the sending of spies half-way across the country to follow her activities at our church.

We wish to notify all persons who think they have a right to circumvent the Constitutional guarantees of

Strangers Eavesdrop On Temple Speaker

Peoples Temple was privileged recently to have the humble civil rights activist and mayor from Mississippi, Unita Wright, come and address our congregation. It so happens that on that same day we also had some uninvited guests who, we found out later, had high connections. These uninvited guests came all the way from Mississippi to stand outside our walls and do whatever it was they came to do - or whatever it was they were sent to do. When some of our people approached them with friendly greetings, they turned and fled.

By strange coincidence, ever since these uninvited guests dallied outside our Temple walls, our auditorium microphones and the microphones used by our choir can be heard on the Temple telephone lines. We have absolute proof that even the telephones of some senior citizen homes blocks away are now picking up every word carried out over the Temple sound system.

We don't know what this is, but we are not blind to the meaning of the coincidence. Since we don't have anything to hide, we have not sought to do anything about it. But the situation is fascinating - as well as paradoxical. Paradoxical that a group such as Peoples Temple, doing so much for the protection of civil liberties and Constitutional rights, should be the object of this type of intrigue.

We have actually contemplated an attack from the news media, because when we defended the press, we knew that they might feel compelled to go to extra lengths to be critical of us in order to dispell any notion that there was some kind of unholy alliance between our church and the interests we have been championing. But we felt the issue of press freedom worth the risk of attack, and we knew we were capable of defending ourselves. We have weighed the possibility very heavily, precisely because we have been filled about and have been the target (on one occasion) of a vicious attack of one media. There have been quite a few supporting articles written about our church by journalists who have recognized the effectiveness of our programs to help the community, and who have had a feeling for the poor. But even these have not brought us new members. Oddly, as we said, the one large influx that we can attribute to press coverage came several years ago, right after our interracial church was presented in a melodramatic fashion. Understandably, we protested the appalling lack of professionalism by demonstrating and protesting in every way, as is guaranteed by the Constitution. Our experience with public response to negative publicity is corroborated by what we've read of other religious organizations. One movement with whose views and methods we are at complete odds, has been the subject of repeated attacks in every form of media. Yet, since the inception of such publicity last year, their attendance (according to a prominent law enforcement official in our parish) has actually doubled. So it would appear that whatever sector of the community that wishes to see our social service work destroyed will not succeed by the spotlight of publicity.

PEOPLE

INTIMIDATION WON'T SUCCEED

On Sunday, November 7, several thousand people gathered at Peoples Temple to hear a warm, vibrant speaker tell of her experience of traveling to China. Mrs. Unita Blackwell Wright, mayor of Mayersville, Mississippi, longtime civil rights activist and one of the first American women to visit China with actress Shirley MacLaine in 1973, gave a down to earth talk on some of the things that she had seen on her journey. She did not advocate the adoption of Chinese political ideology, but pointed out some of the positive aspects of Chinese society such as the absence of hunger, unlocked doors and the safety of streets at night.

Nevertheless, her discussion evidently aroused the interest of people in high levels of government. Two officials connected with a government agency sat outside adjacent with what was reported to be a tape recorder. A check has revealed information indicating that the eavesdropping agency is not among the usual ones that the nation has become accustomed to: CIA, FBI, Treasury Dept. and other regulatory agencies. The facts seem to point to a sophisticated operation initiated by some powerful person high in government circles. We do not wish to create further division in American society, so at this time we are not disclosing all the details, but we do have a reasonable basis for this conclusion.

We have received telephone calls from people who are very sophisticated, telling our staff that if we do not refrain from speaking out on certain controversial issues, the name of Peoples Temple and its pastor will be sullied, and ultimately ruined. One of our members, an amateur radio operator, who maintains contact with our agricultural mission abroad, was informed that Peoples Temple would be attacked in that quarter and communication cut off. Assassination threats come with increasing regularity, and have been reported to the police. On one occasion a bomb was found under one of the buses that our pastor always rides. Children and seniors would also have been on it at the intended time of explosion. The police bomb squad dismantled it.

The elements of reaction should know that if such a close brush with death did not stop our voice, then threats of violence and other forms of intimidation will likewise have no effect. They have only caused us to increase security so that it will be that much more difficult to harm any of our members. If necessary, we will employ off-duty police. We will not have our thoughts stifled of our ideas smothered. Those who would flagrantly mock our first amendment liberties have succeeded only in making us that much bolder in our defense of freedom.

Peoples Temple does not glorify any particular government. We think the complex problems facing American society have to find a resolution tailored to America's needs. Our system provides a framework wherein the necessary changes for social justice can be made. Members of Congress and other leaders of our nation have called for changes to avert the danger of a shift to the far right in political orientation. Notwithstanding the gross megalomania that we have seen in certain socialist countries, even Time magazine is forced to admit that far more tortures are perpetrated in right-wing, capitalist nations. Far more flagrant abuses of human rights were fostered in corporate states such as Nazi Germany than we have ever seen in socialist democracies.

INTRODUCTION

We have found the "investigative" work of Mr. Joseph Am Mazor to be most questionable. He has been hired by a number of people who are former members of Peoples Temple and antagonistic to the church.

He has made several television appearances and submitted his copy to the local press. He has called the Ambassador to the United States from Guyana trying to cause trouble. His remarks are inflammatory and without basis in fact. We question his role in this "investigation." The excerpt from his file included here speaks for itself.

POINTS AND AUTHORITIES X-2-L-2(33)

STATEMENT OF FACTS

A. Conviction; Parole and Revocation

Petitioner is presently incarcerated in the California Medical Facility at Vacaville pursuant to the Judgment and Commitment of the Superior Court of Los Angeles County entered on June 25, 1965, sentencing him to state prison for the term prescribed by law (6 months to 14 years), following conviction on his plea of guilty to violation of Penal Code section 476 (Fictitious checks).[1] Exhibit A. Petitioner was parole on May 22, 1967, with his term set to expire on July 7, 1970. This parole was suspended and his term reset at maximum on May 2, 1969 and he was returned to prison where parole was revoked on June 27 1969. See Exhibit C (Summary of Sentence Data - 1965 Conviction)

On November 19, 1969, petitioner's term was rest at seven years, to expire on July 7, 1972, and on February 15, 1970, petitioner was parcled to the Riverside Unit, Los Angeles County See Exhibit C. Petitioner was released to a parole program which included employment as a research law clerk for John C. McCarthy of the law firm of Young, Henrie and McCarthy in Pomona, California. Petitioner's parole release had been advanced from March 10, 1970, to accommodate the needs of this employer. See Exhibit D at 2. At his initial interview with petitioner the parole agent explained to petitioner that he could neither open a checking account nor sign any contracts without permission. Petitioner informed the agent that he intended to divorce his wife and continue his relationship with Madelynn Beth Boyum, also known as Mazor and Williams. Id. at 3. The parole agent's

1. This offense was committed while petitioner was on parole for a 1963 Los Angeles County conviction for violation of Penal Code section 476a (insufficient funds check). The sentence on this conviction expired as fully served in March, 1968. See Exhibit B (Judgment and Summary of Sentence Data - 1963 Conviction).

continuing summary (2-19-70 to 6-30-70) indicates that petitioner received an interlocutory decree of dissolution April 16, 1970.

The report further notes that petitioner was, at one time, considered near totally blind but had received eye refraction and could read with little or no difficulty.[2] Petitioner changed his employment to the law firm of Jaffee and Mallory on May 5, 1970, and Mr. Jaffee indicated he would sponsor petitioner in taking the bar exam. Id. at 5. The agent's summary (7-1-70 to 12-14-70) discloses that petitioner was arrested on November 30, 1970, at the request of the parole agent. Id. at 6.

On December 16, 1970, a parole violation report was submitted, recommending parole suspension and revocation on the basis of eleven charges as follows:

1. Joseph Allen Mazor violated Condition 10 of the Conditions of Parole as evidenced by his obtaining a passport without the knowledge or permission of the Parole Agent.

2. Joseph Allen Mazor violated Condition 10 of the Conditions of Parole as evidenced by his making reservations on a United Airlines flight to New York, without the knowledge or permission of the Parole Agent.

3. Joseph Allen Mazor violated Condition 10 of the Conditions of Parole when he bought a 1965 Jaguar without the knowledge or permission of the Parole Agent.

4. Joseph Allen Mazor violated Condition 12 of the Conditions of Parole as evidenced by his forging the signature of his fiancee to her income tax refund check in the amount of $693.62.

5. Joseph Allen Mazor violated Condition 12 of the Conditions of Parole by making a fictitious automobile purchase draft in the amount of $450.00.

6. Joseph Allen Mazor violated Condition 12 of the Conditions of Parole by writing and depositing a $300.00 check on a closed account.

7. Joseph Allen Mazor violated Condition 12 of the Conditions of Parole by attempting to sell furniture which he had rented from another firm.

8. Joseph Allen Mazor violated Condition 12 of the Conditions of Parole by drawing welfare assistance while he was employed.

9. Joseph Allen Mazor violated Condition 12 of the Conditions of Parole by misrepresenting an automobile, and consequently causing his employer a loss of $1,795.00.

10. Joseph Allen Mazor violated Condition 11 of the Conditions of Parole as evidenced by his being charged by the District Attorney's Office with failure to provide (270 P.C.).

11. Joseph Allen Mazor violated Condition 13a of the Conditions of Parole by establishing numerous credit accounts without the knowledge or permission of the Parole Agent. Id. at 9/10.

The report also set forth supporting evidence for each charge, Id. at 10-13, a resume of parole adjustment, Id. at 14, and reasons for the recommendation, Id. at 15.

On the basis of this report, petitioner's parole was suspended and his term reset at maximum on January 8, 1971. See Exhibit E. Petitioner was returned to prison on January 14, 1971, and was received at the California Medical Facility at Vacaville on January 25, 1971. See Exhibit C. On March 5, 1971, petitioner appeared at a parole revocation hearing. The panel then found him guilty of charges 5, 6, 7, and 11, dismissed charges 1, 2, 4, and 9, and submitted charges 3, 8 and 10 for investigation. See Exhibits F and G. On March 10, 1971, additional information was submitted pursuant to this investigation. See Exhibit H. In addition this report provided supplemental information indicating that petitioner cashed a check indorsed by the named payee and himself, but the named payee returned the check to the firm which cashed it, denying by affidavit, that she had indorsed it; and that petitioner had purchased a typewriter on a 90-day conditional sales contract, had paid no money (one year had elapsed), and was believed to have sold the typewriter. See Exhibit H at 2.

Subsequently, on April 14, 1971, while at the California Institution for Men at Chino, petitioner made an unscheduled appearance before an Adult Authority Panel.[3/] As a result, his case was submitted for review on April 20, 1971. No change was made in his status, the Authority resolved the three charges which were submitted, finding him guilty of charge 8, and dismissing charges 3 and 10, and his case was scheduled for consideration again by the entire board on May 17, 1971. Documents relevant to this meeting are, or will be when received, attached as Exhibit J.

B. Medical Condition and Treatment.

As stated above, petitioner was returned to prison on January 14, 1971, and on January 25, 1971, was received at the

3. We have been informed that two Deputy Attorneys General from the Los Angeles Office were observing Adult Authority hearings conducted at Chino for informational purposes. They had no particular interest in nor any connection with petitioner's case. Petitioner was informed that they were visitors and gave his consent to their presence.

California Medical Facility at Vacaville. By letter dated January 26, 1971, Riverside General Hospital forwarded a summary of petitioner's examination and treatment. The report recommended an investigation by neurology staff and consideration for angiogram studies. The "final diagnosis" set forth in the report is "Rule out Leptomenigeal cyst, meningioma, vascular disorder." See Exhibit I.

Reports dated March 1, 1971, (Dr. Prout) and March 2, 1971 (Dr. Wright, Consulting Neurosurgeon), see Exhibit I, reveal that petitioner was under the care of the medical staff almost immediately upon his arrival at Vacaville. For instance, skull x-rays were taken on January 27, 1971, an EEG was made, an ophthalmolgist was consulted on February 10, 1971, and a neurosurgical consultation took place on March 2, 1971. Dr. Prout's letter notes "Our consulting radiologist, R. F. Chambers, M.D., interprets the recent skull x-rays of January 27, 1971, as "abnormal skull evidence of atrophy involving the right hemisphere with probable vascular malformation. Contrast studies would probably be informative." Subject had contrast studies in Fall, 1970, at UCLA Hospital but refuses to sign a release for these records upon advice of his attorney." Dr. Wright's report also indicates that petitioner refused to make the September studies available to the doctor despite being told no meaningful opinion could be rendered without them. Petitioner also refused to consent to angiography in the institution. Dr. Wright recommended further tests. A report dated March 4, 1971, indicates that Dr. Prout concurred in this recommendation. See Petition, Exhibit A.

By letter of March 22, 1971, to the California Supreme Court, Dr. Carter Noland of Riverside General Hospital stated that petitioner had been scheduled for additional studies and that, "We have since learned that further studies have shown a need for immediate surgery in order not to endanger his life." Petition, Exhibit B. By letter dated April 1, 1971, addressed to the chairman of the Adult Authority, Dr. Prout indicated that neurological studies should be undertaken, that they could be performed within the Department of Corrections, but only with petitioner's consent, which he refused to give, and that petitioner was willing to be hospitalized at Riverside General Hospital. Out of concern for petitioner's health status, the doctor recommended that the Adult Authority review his parole status and reinstate parole to permit petitioner to return to Riverside General Hospital. See Exhibit I; Petition, Exhibit C.

No change was made in petitioner's parole status, but after consultation, the Department of Corrections, pursuant to Penal Code section 2690, arranged for his treatment at Riverside General Hospital, and on April 9, 1971, transferred him to the California Institution for Men at Chino, where he was housed in the institution hospital. Petitioner was available for whatever studies or surgery staff at Riverside General Hospital wished to undertake.

The report of the studies conducted at Riverside General Hospital indicates that petitioner was uncooperative during the physical examination, and, refused to release to the hospital the angiograms done at UCLA. The report shows that SMA, CBC, and EKG tests or studies were within normal limits. Skull films reveal multiple radiolucent defects in the right cranial vault, and subtle abnormality, but no gross abnormality. Apparently, further surgery was unnecessary because petitioner was discharged with the recommendation that skull films be done in two years. The report is attached, or will be when received, as Exhibit K.

Petitioner was returned to Vacaville on April 27, 1971. He is presently under a "medical hold" which means that he cannot be transferred to an institution without medical clearance. He will be transferred back to Chino when approved by that institution's medical officer as space becomes available.

ARGUMENT

PETITIONER'S PAROLE WAS PROPERLY REVOKED AND THERE HAS BEEN NO DENIAL OF ADEQUATE MEDICAL TREATMENT; THUS, NO CONSTITUTIONAL QUESTION IS PRESENTED.

Petitioner has filed in this Court a petition for writ of habeas corpus which, although emphasizing his physical condition and apparently objecting to the medical treatment afforded him, seeks only a determination that California procedures for revoking parole are unconstitutional, in that in his parole revocation, he was denied counsel, the right to confrontation, the right to present witnesses. See Petition at 12.[4]

From the facts as stated above, it is obvious that there is no present issue concerning petitioner's treatment. Petitioner does not even suggest what test or procedure is presently necessary and unavailable. There is simply no federal question presented. Cf., Haggarty v. Wainwright, 427 F.2d 1137 (5th Cir. 1970).

It is also clear from the records submitted herewith that no federal question is presented by Adult Authority action in revoking petitioner's parole. There is no right to counsel, to confrontation of witnesses, or to call witnesses. All that is constitutionally required is cause for the revocation. See Allard v. Nelson, 423 F.2d 1216 (9th Cir. 1970); Mead v. California Adult Authority, 415 F.2d 767 (9th Cir. 1969); Dunn v. California Department of Corrections, 401 F.2d 340 (9th Cir. 1968); Eason v. Dickson, 390 F.2d 585 (9th Cir.), cert. denied, 392 U.S. 914 (1968). Ample cause is shown here.

4. On March 26, 1971, petitioner filed a nearly identical petition in the California Supreme Court. The Court denied the petition on April 22, 1971. The Court had been informed that petitioner had been transferred for treatment pursuant to Penal Code section 2690, and had available the documents submitted herewith as Exhibits A-I.

Petitioner was found guilty of five of the eleven violations charges. The supporting evidence provided for these charges discloses conduct clearly in violation of parole. (Ex.D 10-13; Ex. H.)

Petitioner alleges that he was unable to present documentary evidence of his innocence because of his blindness, that the Adult Authority would not consider this evidence and that counsel now have possession of this documentary evidence of his innocence of all charges.

We submit that this record clearly shows that the Adult Authority did consider most carefully the evidence presented to it including petitioner's story and his documents, if any. At the time of the hearing four of the charges were dismissed. Three charges were submitted for further investigation. This conclusion is supported, even by petitioner's allegation that Mr. Valachi stated, "I hate this damned paperwork. We cannot support the charges and we will investigate." See Petition at 5. It is a mere conclusion unsupported by facts that because the panel returned the documents they did not consider them.

Although petitioner claims that he has documentary evidence that he is not guilty of any of the charges, he has not provided this Court with this evidence nor indicated what it is or to which specific charges it may be relevant. Moreover, although the Adult Authority will not permit counsel to be present at a revocation hearing, counsel is free to present written argument and documentary support to the Adult Authority for their consideration. Apparently, no effort has been made even to do this.

Finally, The Adult Authority is routinely provided with a Readmission Summary which includes a medical report. The report in this case, we are informed, included information on both petitioner's blindness and possible brain tumor.

CONCLUSION

It is obvious from this record that the allegation of the imminence of petitioner's death is overstated, as is the allegation of total blindness. His claim of denial of due process in his parole revocation hearing lacks both legal and factual substance. In fact, the record shows that petitioner has had a most thorough consideration and review of both his condition and his status. In the circumstances shown, no federal question is presented. We respectfully request that the petition for writ of habeas corpus be denied, that the order to show cause be discharged, and that the proceedings be dismissed.
