REC-52

NEW YORK, Dec. 9—The Daily World 50th anniversary celebration in New York yesterday was marked by the participation of large numbers of non-Communists and new Daily World readers. These included many prominent personalities.

Among those in the audience were Carl Braden, co-chairman of the National Alliance Against Racist and Political Repression and long-time leader of the Southern Conference Education Fund (SCEF) in the South; Edward Bragg, vice-president of Local 1199 of the Drug and Hospital Workers Union; Jane Benedict, chairwoman of the Metropolitan Council on Housing, recognized as one of the nation's foremost organizers in the fight for tenants' rights.

Also Jarvis Tyner, national chairman of the Young Workers Liberation League; Dorothy Cacchione, widow of Peter Cacchione, the first Communist City Councilman in New York City, now active in senior citizens and people's political movements in Brooklyn; Lorenzo Torrez, chairman of the CP's Chicano Commission; and Reverend William Howard Melish, long-time civil rights activist, at whose home Angela Davis lived when she attended high school here.

Also present was Henry Winston, national chairman of the Communist Party, who received an enthusiastic, standing ovation from the audience.

Warm applause greeted Bill Scott, committeeman of the Tarrytown GM local, where layoffs have become increasingly widespread, who was in the audience along with a group of unemployed auto workers.

State Senator Sidney Von Luther expressed his solidarity with the Daily World by coming to the platform.

Morton Sobell, who served 18 years in jail as a result of McCarthyite repression, was also in the audience.

Some of the writers and editors in the audience included Dr. Philip Foner, history professor and author of books on labor and trade union history; George Murphy, Jr., of the Washington Afro-American; Joe Walker, New York editor of Muhammed Speaks.
