~~Her~~ [redacted] @ CPD [redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted]

Worked [redacted] had afternoon + midnite shifts
[redacted] on shift
[redacted] - media releases - reporters had desks/phones at station
- case reports / supp rpts

- lockup in Area 4 - make noise to make noise
- Area 2 - heard screams
"rough" - only when people were abusive not sure if people beaten up

19-cv-4048(FBI)-5231

- sent home for serious cases → didn't want them to know what going on newspaper would say it differently

Lt - "go to lunch" "go home for day" never heard screams when that happened

b6 -5,-6
b7C -5,-6

Area 2 [redacted]

[redacted]

normally handcuffed - maybe chair at old area 2 new area 2 - wall hook

- [redacted] quiet, mind own business [redacted] [redacted] - interview room across from homicide - heard thing
- ignore everything and everything
- doesn't know what [redacted] was talking about did whatever told to do sent home whenever something going on didn't want them to know what was going

- news paper would say next day

sent home 2-3 x per weeks didn't see that many prisoners stopped doing stuts - 197[illegible] b/c called to court then officers would take stuts, officers typed - report never had prisoner say he didn't want to talk

(girls put up w/ inappropriate stuff & kept mouth shut → didnt approve but never told anyone to stop JB never did anything but " " "

[redacted] - she testified. JB [redacted] got his guy damned beaten

Some ~~beaten~~ who came in who deserved it → saw screaming & hollering for no reason never saw officer in there cant estimate how often - 3-4 x per mo would look & see Same time sent home (PO's wouldn't know she looked)

didnt care why she was sent home, so never asked

JB - took them out to lunch, remembered b/days
Lt. [redacted], Sgt [redacted]

"JB drunk all the time"
even on duty, not in office,

someone used her typewriter as shown by ribbon sometime would be in desk, sometimes nowhere to be found

- shown cover - similar to the ones she saw no major difference

- officers would sometimes take them for lunch, not sure why don't ask questions if getting free lunch if asked, would get stupid answer from officer

6 women, 300 men, had to work w/ all of them

quite sure something inappropriate going on w/

Description: ☒ Original notes re interview of Milton B. Deas

5/10/10

B - Very energetic, not going no
'hands on' - would participate

Deviate from Righteous path - policy. Rape case - Burge spoke rather than Hostage Neg.

Never to his attention that anything was done illegally

Burge was hard worker, worked irregular hours when necessary

- Not a micromanager. d/n keep track of B's hours
- work schedules, D - 9-5
Burge - 9-5, but for operations, worked when necessary
- 1st watch - 11, 12 - 7 . D d/n work it often
, "surprise inspections"
- During 9-5 hrs, went to 2d flr. daily
- Everyone wanted to get involved in Wilson case

[redacted] b6 -4 b7C -4

Burge was responsible for directing invest. in Area 2

D's role:
- D accompanied [redacted] on the beauty shop S.W.
- D had roll call - d/n use ~~excessive~~ unnecessary brutality, ~~to~~ would jeopardize successful operation. d/n want to weaken the case
- get these "Dog Asses" d/n give this speech for Doyle Hunter investigation

- why? timing. Dept. had rec'd complaints of police ~~indiscriminately~~ promiscuously grabbing folks off street in investigation - flavor of it; was b/c officers were killed
- Mattered to D that his men weren't doing illegal stuff
- Asked Burge? ~~May have~~ discussed who had been doing it... discussed how D's men weren't doing it

D never rec'd c/o police using violence in interviews

Mr. Andrew Wilson - one of the Wilsons grabbed for a bag. Burge used physical force to prevent bag access

D was at home during arrest, was called in

- W had bandage across nose. B told D the story, about using force

- B never told D of any injuries W had
  - D would've wanted to know/check out W's injuries

D d/n remember a letter from hospital to Cmsr. re W's injuries

D May have asked B did you beat this man up?
  ↳ brought on by media reports
  B said not beat him up - (All D wanted to hear)

D heard that other cops may have beat up W
  ↳ the Wagon men left the bruises, not Burge or anyone from Area 2
  ↳ might have heard this from B or Area 2 detective

D didn't pass on any info to OPS, they never questioned D.
D never notified of complaints against Area 2 detectives so he never had any memory of looking at complaints sustained or not

1939 - Army - 1947 - left Army as Captain

773-846-7293

Call here if Wife answers - d/n always take messgs.

Breaking News: Ex-Officer Linked To Brutality Is Arrested

Category: In Brief

Summary: The New York Times
By Susan Saulny and Eric Ferkenhoff
October 22, 2008

CHICAGO, IL -- The authorities arrested a former Chicago police commander at his Florida home on Tuesday and charged him in a police brutality scandal that contributed to the emptying of Illinois' death row and that continues to resonate as one of the most racially charged chapters in the city's history.

The activities of the former commander, Jon Burge, 60, have been the subject of speculation for decades as scores of criminal suspects, many poor and black, have come forward saying they were routinely brutalized by Mr. Burge and the mostly white officers under his command on the South Side in the 1980s. Patrick J. Fitzgerald, the United States attorney for the Northern District of Illinois, said at a news conference that Mr. Burge "lied and impeded court proceedings" in 2003 when he provided false written answers to questions in a civil lawsuit that claimed he and other officers had abused inmates.

According to the indictment, Mr. Burge "well knew" he had participated in and was aware of "such events involving the abuse or torture of people in custody," including wrapping inmates' heads in plastic to make them feel as if they were suffocating. The statute of limitations on the suspected torture has expired, but Mr. Fitzgerald said Mr. Burge would still be held accountable. "There is no place for torture and abuse in a police station," the prosecutor said. "No person is above the law, and nobody —— even a suspected murderer —— is beneath its protection."

Calls for Mr. Burge's prosecution, which were sounded for years, grew louder after a 2006 report by special state prosecutors supported what dozens of inmates had said about being brutalized in jail. The report took more than four years and included more than 700 interviews. This year, the city approved a $20 million settlement with four former death row inmates who said they had been abused under Mr. Burge. After posting $250,000 bond, Mr. Burge left the federal courthouse in Tampa, Fla., on Tuesday. He said only that he planned to plead not guilty to two counts of obstruction of justice and one count of perjury. He is scheduled to be arraigned Monday in Chicago. If he is found guilty, Mr. Burge faces up to 20 years in prison for each obstruction of justice charge, five years for perjury and a $250,000 fine on each count.

The investigation is continuing, and may result in more indictments, officials in Mr. Fitzgerald's office said. "It's a start, after 25 years," said a defense lawyer, Flint Taylor, who has called for investigations of Mr. Burge and his officers for decades. "After years of struggle, maybe a modicum of justice will be attained here." The indictment could mean a great deal of work for prosecutors here, with defense lawyers expected to line up to file motions to overturn convictions during Mr. Burge"s tenure. "I believe there are 40 to 50 cases where there was evidence of torture and the primary evidence against the defendant was a confession," said Andrea D. Lyon, a law professor at DePaul University and former head of the Illinois Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers.

Mayor Richard M. Daley was the Cook County state's attorney during the time of many of the accusations against Mr. Burge. "Obviously, the Burge case recalls a terrible chapter in our city's history," Mr. Daley said. "Some of the police behavior at that time was detestable, which is why steps have been put into place to ensure that the kinds of acts associated with Jon Burge never happen again." Monique Bond, a spokeswoman for the Chicago Police Department, which fired Mr. Burge in 1993, said the department supported the findings in the indictment.
