This is a summary of information obtained from a review of all references to the subject contained in Bureau files except main file references. All references containing data identical or probably identical with the subject have been included except those listed at the end of this summary as not being reviewed. No interpretation or alteration of the facts set forth in the original material has been made except as set forth in footnotes.

It will be noted that the serial number of each reference as contained in a "source block," setting forth in most instances, a description of the serial and the original source of the information reported therein. The number appearing in parentheses next to each source block is the page number of the source slip where that reference is listed. The term "SI" preceding a reference indicates that the serial so designated contains the same information as the foregoing serial. Unless there is a statement to the contrary, such information emanated from the same source.

Information from outside agencies has been given a security classification, the same as the incoming communication. Information taken from mail originating within the Bureau and its field offices has not been classified regardless of whether the original communication shows a security classification.

THIS SUMMARY HAS BEEN PREPARED FOR USE AS A SOURCE OF INFORMATION AND MAY CONTAIN INFORMATION NOT SUITABLE FOR DISSEMINATION.

The January 1943 issue of "Freies Deutschland X (Alemania Libre)" (Free Germany), a monthly magazine published in German in Mexico City, contained an article on page 31, column 3, on the Freundeskreis Der Bewegung Freies Deutschland (Circle of Friends of the Movement Free Germany) which had just been founded in Cuba. It stated further that articles of congratulations from Albert Einstein and others to the Mexican "Freies Deutschland" were reprinted in the "Mitteilungen" another refugee paper in Cuba.

The January 7, 1943, issue of the Daily Worker contained an article on page 2 to the effect that 5,000 Jewish organizations received a call to attend the 1st Anniversary Conference of the Jewish Council for Russian War Relief. The call was announced by Professor Albert Einstein, Honorary Chairman of the Council. The conference was to be an all day affair at the New York Commodore on Sunday, February 28. It was to be followed by a "Modern Sarcabees Dinner" dedicated to the Jewish heroes in the armies of the United Nations.

In March, 1943 Leon Denen, official of the Jewish Labor Committee, 1752 Broadway, New York City, furnished a history of the activities in the labor movement of Henryk Erlich and Victor Alter, prior to an announcement by Ambassador Litvinoff of the USSR that Erlich and Alter had been executed by the Soviet Government in December, 1942.

According to Denen, Erlich was a labor attorney in Warsaw, as well as an editor and political director of the Polish organization of the General Jewish Workers Union, an organization of Jewish laborers in Poland, and Alter was active in trade union work among the Jewish people.

In Lublin, Poland, both men were arrested by the Russian authorities when Russia occupied Eastern Poland under terms which grew out of the Hitler-Stalin pact. They were kept in a Russian prison for almost two years, and no reason was given by the Russian Government. Following the Hitler invasion of Russia in June, 1941, an agreement was reached between the Polish Government and the Soviet Government, in September, 1941, to cooperate in the war against Germany, and all Polish citizens interned or imprisoned on Russian territory were granted freedom, and at this time Alter and Erlich were set free with the Russian Government's apologies.

In October, 1941 the Russian Government discussed with Erlich and Alter a project to organize a Jewish Anti-Fascist Committee in Moscow to help in the fight against Hitler Germany. The proposal was that Erlich and Alter establish communications for the underground movement in Poland and strengthen the opposition to the Nazis. In December, 1941 the men were suddenly arrested in Kuibyshev, Russia.

After the second arrest of these men in December, 1941, many American and British labor organizations pleaded with the Soviet Government through Ambassador Maxim Litvinoff in Washington on their behalf because of their widely-known activities in behalf of laboring people. Well-known American labor and progressives who pleaded for their freedom included Phillip Murray, President of the CIO; Clinton Golden, Assistant

President of the United Steel Workers of America: Professor Albert Einstein and many others.

As late as January 23, 1943 a cable was sent to the Soviet Government by the group listed above requesting the Russian Government to give Erlick and Alter their immediate freedom.

There was no reply to any of these communications until William Green, of the American Federation of Labor, received from Soviet Ambassador Litvinoff a communication dated February 15, 1943, stating that the men had been executed some time in December 1942.

In April, 1943, [redacted] caused a search of the Division of Communications and Records, Department of State, to be conducted for all information concerning the Victor Alter-Henrich Ehrlich case. Xm

An examination of these files reflected a telegram from J. Baskin, General Secretary, Workmen's Circle, 175 East Broadway, New York City, to the Secretary of State dated December 19, 1941, quoting a cablegram sent to the Soviet Government through Maxim Litvinov regarding the Alter-Ehrlich case. This letter (SIC) stated that Alter and Ehrlich during their prior visits to the United States were active in behalf of the Workmen's Circle. The above-mentioned cablegram stated that the organization was elated several months before to learn that Alter and Ehrlich were among the number of arrested Socialists from Poland, who were liberated in Russia. Then the organization just learned from the American press that Alter and Ehrlich were again arrested. The Workmen's Circle appealed through Litvinov to the Soviet Government to set them free, recognizing the valiant fight Russia was conducting against Hitler. Xm

The files also reflected a telegram from Philip Murray, President, CIO, William Green, Albert Einstein and other prominent individuals, dated January 29, 1943, urging the release of Alter and Ehrlich. Xm

This reference is a full-page advertisement of the National Federation for Constitutional Liberties, 1400 L Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., taken from the "Washington Post" of February 8, 1943. This advertisement was captioned "Abolish the Dies Committee" as a step toward victory in '43. This advertisement stated that 1,200 American leaders were signers of a message to Congress to abolish the Dies Committee. The name of Albert Einstein, Princeton, New Jersey, was among the signers of the message.

12 The "New York World Telegram" on February 9, 1943
13 carried an article by Frederick Soltman, under the caption 14 "Neds Adopt Jap-American Victory Forum" which stated that the 15 Communists, following their recent pattern of infiltrating
16 foreign language groups by setting up "Victory Councils"; had 17 started to move in on the loyal Japanese-Americans.

19 The article stated that prominent Communists and 20 leaders of Communist front organizations had virtually taken 21 over the Forum on Japanese-Americans in the Victory Program which 22 was to be held the following Saturday in the Hotel Commodore, 23 New York City.

25 According to the article, the Forum was held in 26 conjunction with the Japanese-American Committee for Democracy.
27 The Committee's officers were Japanese-Americans whose stated
28 purpose was to develop an anti-Axis leadership among their own
29 group and to help integrate into the American community the 30 110,000 Japanese-Americans evacuated from the West Coast.
31 However, the article continued, the co-sponsor of the Forum was 32 the American Committee for the Protection of Foreign Born, one
33 of whose founders and principal backers had been Congressman Vito 34 Marcantonio and who, in its 1941 convention had assailed the 35 deportation action against Harry Bridges and the attempts to 36 revoke the citizenship of the California secretary of the 37 Communist Party as stemming "directly from efforts of the 38 Roosevelt administration to involve America in the European War."

39
40 The article further stated that the Japanese-American 41 Committee, which was located at 22 West 52nd Street, New York
42 City, listed on its advisory board the late Professor Henry Ford, 43 Pearl Buck, Professor Albert Einstein, and others.

On June 22, 1942, the Office of Consular Affairs, Washington, D. C., forwarded to the American Consulate in Mexico City a list of U. S. residents corresponding with clerical personnel of German or Italian origin. According to this list the President of the Advanced Study Institute, New York, directed a letter on April 24, 1942 to [redacted] of [redacted] Oklahoma. This letter was signed by [redacted]. The following comment appeared below this name: "The following information sender had asked in reference to internees' project had been given that he could not give any information because of military secrecy. Writer suggests, therefore, a written confirmation of the National Council, Department of Commerce, Washington, D. C. This is too official for a letter of this nature of suggestion."

On April 20, 1942 Professor Albert Einstein, 177 Mercer Street, Princeton, New Jersey, directed a letter to [redacted] of [redacted] Stringtown, Intern. The following comment appeared below the name: "The following letter addressed to me on [redacted] in relation to the work in a certain sense, however, not of great nature. It is a clear picture of your abilities in your field, and as a matter of course of your reliability of course. If the statements in your letter are correct, then you should be well known in the scientific circles. Such a colleague should be left qualified and justified to represent your country. I must have been surprised to learn that the internee had written to me that he had claimed to have made a new invention, a great advance in Titan-Yanbia for ships which is also to be used for submarines and tanks. He had also appealed for the scientific world regarding his return to Russia. Professor Einstein was surprised that he had contacted a professor in the scientific field, whose answer he was waiting for. In addition, he had enclosed the copy of a letter by Ambassador Hilveroff, who informed him that he did not know the internee and that no entrance permits to Russia were granted for the duration of the war."

[redacted] prepared a memorandum for the Bureau entitled "German Communist Activities In The Western Hemisphere." In this memorandum informant stated that the German-American Emergency Conference must be regarded in its organizational set-up mainly as a holding, or a roof organization; besides individual members and memberships also consisted of delegates from other organizations; among those other organizations, the German-American League for Culture and certain branches of the Workmen's Sick and Beneficial Funds were the main supporters.

Informant stated further in this memorandum that "the fact that the German-American League for Culture has the same aims as the German-American Emergency Conference is apparent from the publication in the German-American of May, 1943," which was set out in this reference.

This article stated in part that "the founding of the German-American League for Culture in the year 1939 was occasioned by the unprecedented brutal destruction of culture carried out by Nazism in Germany. The burning of the books on May 10, 1933, the eviction of world-famous German authors and scientists, among them numerous Nobel Prize winners, such as Thomas Mann and Albert Einstein, (from 1901 to 1927, 28 Nobel Prizes were given to German scientists), the brutal interference with artistic and scientific creation, which in the field of music, for instance, led to the results that Germany for the first time in two hundred years, has not even produced a second class composer, placed us under the obligation to protect and to foster German cultural values violated by Nazism, and to combat this Nazism."

This reference is a blind memorandum dated June 8, 1944, entitled "The German-American Writers Association; the Free Tribune of Free German Literature and Art in America."

This memorandum stated that the Free Tribune of Free German Literature and Art in America was also known as Die Tribuene.

Under the heading "Activities" it was stated that the first performance of the Die Tribuene took place in October, 1941, with the showing of a play written by Ferdinand Bruckner entitled "The Races"; that this play was given in the Studio work Shop Theater at the New School for Social Research, 66 West 12th Street, New York City, under the direction of Erwin Piscator.

This memorandum stated further that since its initial production the Die Tribuene's activities were said to have grown rapidly and during 1943 the organization was reported to have sponsored numerous exhibitions, lectures, theater performances, and other celebrations in furtherance of its endeavor.

On May 10, 1943, according to this memorandum the society celebrated a performance known as the Free World Unity through Free Creative Art, an international commemoration of the 10th anniversary of the burning of books of famous authors on the part of the Hitler Regime. This program had as its objective the restoration of burned and banished books in Europe. Ten organizations assisted the Die Tribuene in that endeavor.

The sponsors of that celebration together with the officials of the Die Tribuene according to the memorandum included Albert Einstein and 13 other individuals. (No source given.)

12 The "Daily Worker" of May 19, 1943 carried an article
13 entitled "Enduring Friendship". This article stated in part 14 that 700 distinguished Americans on the previous day issued a 15 moving plea for enduring friendship with the Soviet Union which 16 act did much to build up our nation's successful prosecution of 17 the war.

18
19 The article stated further that as their own words
20 declare so well since the policy of this government was that 21 "The defense of the Soviet Union is vital to the defense of 22 the United States", the current anti-Soviet movement was also 23 an anti-American movement.

25 The article stated further that that the 700 distinguished 26 uished Americans had said would go a long way toward offsetting 27 the seditious activities of those quisling-minded groups; that 28 the respect in which such men and women as Albert Einstein and 29 other signers were held in the American eyes would give added
30 weight to their words, which expressed what the American people 31 instinctively wanted.

furnished information concerning the officers and sponsors of the National Council of American-Soviet Friendship Incorporated whose names were to be publicly announced on April 6, 1943. According to informant the sponsors included Albert Einstein and others.

The New York "Journal American" of May 10, 1943, contained an article headlined "Pro-Soviet Pole Bolts Unity Rally." This article stated in part that "last minute attempts to inject the Alter-Billich Case into the 'Allied Unity Rally' at Carnegie Hall tomorrow night boomeranged today on the National Council of American-Soviet Friendship."

This article stated further that "meanwhile speakers and sponsors of the rally, such as Senator Claude D. Pepper, Albert Einstein, Leland Stowe, Thomas Mann, Mrs. Louis D. Brandis, and Miss Helen Keller, today found themselves in a position of backing a charge that the prominent persons who protested the Soviet Executions of the two Polish Labor Leaders are engaging in a 'conspiracy' to 'disrupt American-Soviet Friendship'."

On May 18, 1943, the New York "Times" carried a seven-column advertisement entitled "American-Soviet Friendship, An Open Letter To The American People." The opening paragraph of the advertisement signed by Carliss Lamont referred to an open letter initiated to promote home unity "against those who would divide us." The announcement was signed by approximately 85 individuals, many of whom had been identified with other Communist-front organizations, including Albert Einstein.

11 The "Worker" of July 1, 1943, contained an article
12 entitled, "Polo Grounds Rally for Soviet Guests to Hear Einstein."
13 The article stated that Professor Albert Einstein, world famous 14 scientist, would be one of the main speakers at the great welcoming 15 reception at the Polo Grounds the following Thursday night for 16 the two distinguished guests, Professor Solomon Michaelis, Chairman
17 of the Jewish Anti-Fascist Committee of the USSR, and Lieutenant 18 Colonel Itzik Peffer, great Soviet Jewish poet. In accepting 19 the title of honorary chairman of the National Reception Com-
20 mittee to the Delegation from the USSR, Professor Einstein stated
21 that in these grave times it was especially important to preserve
22 and cherish the solidarity of the Jewish people. Such solidarity 23 would further the cooperation and mutual understanding of the 24 Russian and American people. He further stated that the delegation 25 find a response in this country commensurate with our loyalty to 26 the ethical ideals we hold in common, and also with our gratitude
27 for Russia's heroic achievement in the struggle against the basest
28 criminals who have ever threatened the world.

This report stated that over 45,000 people attended the meetings arranged by the Committee of Jewish Writers and Artists which was held at the Polo Grounds, New York City on July 8, 1943; further that the meeting was planned as a welcome to Professor Solomon Michaels and Lieutenant Colonel Itzik Feffer, members of a Soviet delegation to the United States; that the stadium and speakers platform were decorated with American, Soviet and Palestinian flags.

This report stated further that most of the speakers spoke on the theme of unity of the United Nations, the heroic fight of the Russian Army, the brilliant leadership of Roosevelt and Stalin, outlawing of anti-Semitism in Russia, and great deeds of Russia in helping Jews from eastern Europe to safety. According to this report Albert Einstein sent a message.

A letter dated July 10, 1943, from the Acting District Intelligence Officer, Second Service Command, War Department, advised of a rally which was held at the Polo Grounds, New York on July 9, 1943, in honor of Professor Solomon Michaelis and Lieutenant Itzik Feffer, sponsored by the National Reception Committee to the Soviet Delegation.

The letter stated further that a message was sent by telephone from Professor Albert Einstein's home in Princeton, New Jersey, calling for the solidarity of the Jewish people. The letter stated further that Herman Hoffman, Grand Master of the Independent Order of B'nai B'rith, and National Chairman of Executive Board, Jewish Council for Russian War Relief, indicated that "We must fight for the outlawing of race persecution by international agreement. Without it, there can be no peace, no security, nothing but a terrorized chaotic world."

In September, 1943, Hoffman, attorney and chairman of the Non-Sectarian of the Anti-Nazi League, was interviewed by Bureau agents regarding remarks made by him on July 27, 1943, at Pittsburgh regarding the German American Bund.

12 b7c The United States Office of Censorship intercepted 13 a letter dated July 27, 1943, addressed to Professor Albert
14 Einstein, 112 Mercer Street, Princeton, New Jersey, U. S. A., 15 from [REDACTED] Mexico, D. F.

16
18 A report made by the Office of Censorship stated
19 that the writer, using the letterhead of "Freies Deutschland," 20 elaborated on the recently published reports concerning the 21 establishment of a National Committee of Free Germany by Ger-
22 man prisoners of war in Russia.

23 Following up his comments the writer stated that
24 considering the role which this extraordinary occurrence 25 could play in the German anti-Nazi oppositions struggle for 26 an Allied Nations Victory, the writer's organization through 27 its periodical "Freies Deutschland" was in ~~supervising~~ <sup>supervising</sup> a free
28 discussion concerning the National and International import-
29 ance of the Moscow Committee (of Free Germany.)

30
31 The writer invited Einstein to participate in this 32 discussion and to state his attitude at the possible earliest 33 moment.

35 According to the censorship examiners note, the 36 writer was associated editorially with "Freies Deutschland
37 a German language periodical sponsored by the Free German 38 Movement.

advised that the local council of the NCASF had not been formed at that time but that T. Percival Gerson, Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel, and on the Hollywood Bowl Committee, had agreed to act as chairman. She stated the purpose of the group was to combat anti-Soviet propaganda by an educational program. She furnished the agent with certain materials which included a folder listing the aims and purposes of the national offices of the National Council of American-Soviet Friendship Incorporated. The name of Professor Albert Einstein appeared in the list of sponsors.

The files of the Immigration and Naturalization Service reflected that Hans Albert Einstein filed a declaration of intention to become a citizen on December 21, 1938. It was filed at Greenville, South Carolina, and Einstein gave his address at that time as 223 Randall Street, Greenville, South Carolina.

The above file contained two depositions, both dated August 26, 1942. The first was from Albert Einstein, Professor, 112 Garden Street, Princeton, New Jersey, who was born at Ulm, Germany, and who listed his address as (U. S. A.) He stated that he was a citizen of the United States (naturalized October 1, 1940, at Trenton, New Jersey, certificate No. 50136(5)), and that Hans Albert Einstein was his son whom he had known since his birth at Bern, Switzerland, in 1904.

He further stated that while Hans Albert Einstein resided at Princeton, New Jersey, from October, 1937, to January, 1938, and from June, 1938, until June, 1938, he saw him every day. (This is the way it is written in the file.) In answer to the question as to whether Hans Albert Einstein had been absent from the United States since he had known him, Professor Einstein answered that his son had been in Switzerland from January, 1938, until June, 1938.

The second deposition was given by Caroline McClure Hibbs, 22 Chestnut Street, Princeton, New Jersey. She stated that she was a housekeeper for Einstein at Princeton, New Jersey, from October, 1937, until January, 1938, when he went to Switzerland and she again saw him in June, 1938, when he returned from Switzerland.

The INS records also contained a rather extensive file on Professor Albert Einstein of Princeton, New Jersey, but this file was not reviewed in connection with this case.

Correlator's note: The visit referred to above was apparently the visit of Professor Solomon Michael and Dr. Robert J. Faffer to Los Angeles, Calif. as official representatives of the Jewish Anti-Fascist Committee of the U.S.S.R. scheduled for a seven day visit to "create closer ties between the writers and artists of Russia and the U.S."

The "Daily Worker" of October 2, 1947, carried an article entitled "Final Hearing Set on Buckhannon Fight" with the subheading "Einstein Joins Defense to Halt Negro Extradition". This article stated in part that Professor Albert Einstein, the world renowned scientist, was the latest to add his name to those battling to save Sam Buckhannon, 34-year old Negro who had served fourteen years on the chain gang for stealing a package of cigarettes.

The article stated further that the National Organization for Constitutional Liberties was conducting the fight to save Buckhannon.

Information in the files of the New York Field Office and various articles appearing in the "Daily Worker" on June 17, 1943, through October 10, 1943, report that Professor Solomon Michaels and Lieutenant Itzhak Lofter composed a Jewish delegation from the USSR, allegedly sent to this country for the purpose of improving and strengthening relations between the Jewish people in the United States and the USSR.

Subsequent articles in the "Daily Worker" reported that on July 8, 1943, a rally was held for the delegation on the Polo Grounds, New York City. At this rally, Professor Albert Einstein was the main speaker. Mr. M. Z. Goldring, Chairman of the Committee of Jewish Writers and Artists, was chairman of this meeting which was sponsored by the Jewish Committee of Writers and Artists and the Jewish Council of Russian War Relief.

On November 23, 1943, Bureau Agents of the Newark Field Division attended the 10th Anniversary meeting of the League for American-Soviet Friendship held at the Continental Auditorium, 298 Broad Street, Newark, New Jersey. The admission to that meeting was $.55 per person. The program set out a list of the sponsors, one of whom was Professor Albert Einstein.

The Trenton "Evening Times" of Trenton, New Jersey, on November 26, 1943, carried an article which reflected that the Trenton Council for American-Soviet Friendship had planned a great mass meeting for the afternoon of December 5, 1943, to celebrate the freeing of Kiev, the ancient capital of the Ukraine, and the 10th anniversary of American-Soviet diplomatic relations; the officers and sponsors of the Trenton Council for American-Soviet Friendship were listed which included Professor Albert Einstein.

12 The files of the New York Office revealed the 13 following information relative to Albert Einstein:
14

15 Albert Einstein had charge of the Advanced Study School at 16 Princeton University.

18 It was to be noted that it had come to the attention of the 19 N. Y. Office that the Communist Political Association at 3 West
20 Front Street, Trenton, New Jersey, had received several letters
21 with the return address of the Advanced Study School, Princeton, 22 New Jersey.

24 The files of the Commonwealth College, Arkansas, reflected that 25 Albert Einstein was listed among the visitors and friends of the 26 college. It was noted that this school was investigated for 27 Communism by the state officials of Arkansas.
28

29 The files of the N. Y. Office also reflected that Albert Einstein 30 stated that he felt that the National Council of American-Soviet 31 Friendship was very good.
32

33 On November 23, 1943, the League for American-Soviet Friendship
34 held their tenth anniversary meeting at the Continental Auditorium,
35 526 Broad Street, Newark, New Jersey. The program for this occasion
36 reflected that Albert Einstein was one of the sponsors.
37

38 The Trenton council for the American-Soviet Friendship had a great 39 mass meeting on the afternoon of December 5, 1943, to celebrate the 40 freeing of the Kiev, the ancient capital of the Ukraine. Albert
41 Einstein was listed as a sponsor for this organization on this 42 occasion.
43

44 Albert Einstein was reported to have carried on correspondence 45 with one Dr. P. Schirokaner, who was a German prisoner interned at 46 Springtown, Oklahoma. One letter written to this German prisoner
47 by Einstein reads as follows:
48

49 "Your second letter addressed to me and Thomas Mann
50 is rather thorough in a certain sense; however, not 51 of such a nature that I have a clear picture of your 52 ability in any field. If the statements in your letter 53 are correct, then you should be well known in biological 54 faculty circles. Such a colleague should be best 55 qualified and justified to represent your case..."

12 Previous correspondence revealed that the internee had written to 13 Professor Einstein, claiming to have had a new invention, a spray 14 process with Titan-karbid for ships which was also to be used for 15 aircraft and tanks. He appealed for Professor Einstein's help 16 regarding his return to Russia. Professor Einstein had answered that 17 he would contact a Professor who was an expert in the chemical field.
18 In addition, he had enclosed the copy of a letter from Ambassador
19 Litvinoff who informed him that he did not know the internee and that 20 no entrance permits to Russia were granted for the duration except 21 in case of special mission.

23 Previous correspondence also revealed that the internee claimed
24 various other inventions and had attempted to obtain his release
25 from internment.

26
27 On April 24, 1943, Einstein again corresponded with Dr. F. Schibkhanov.
28 Einstein stated, "The colleague whom sender had asked in reference to 29 internee's project had answered that he could not give any information
30 because of military secrecy. Writer suggests, therefore, a written 31 application to the National Council, Department of Commerce,
32 Washington, D. C. This is the official place for testing this kind 33 of suggestion."

34
35 There appeared in the "Daily Worker", dated October 31, 1941, a list
36 of sponsors for the American Committee for the Protection of Foreign 37 Born, 79 5th Avenue, New York City. Professor Albert Einstein, 38 Princeton University, was listed as one of the sponsors.

39

45 believed to be relative to allowing Mrs. Browder to stay in the 46 United States. [REDACTED]
47 would have to think it over and that he also might be able to speak
48 to Dr. Albert Einstein and a few others and have them send letters 49 relative to Mrs. Browder's deportation.

50
51 A confidential informant of this office has advised that the 52 functionaries of the Communist Political Association in Mercer County, 53 New Jersey, spoke of Einstein as a very progressive individual and 54 also in connection with the New Jersey Independent League for 55 Roosevelt.

On December 14, 1943 the San Antonio Office furnished a translation made by [redacted] of the book "Unser Kampf Gegen Hitler" (Our Struggle Against Hitler) into the English language. The translation indicated the beginning and ending of a page and the specific page number. The following information appeared on page 107:

"On May 10, ten years ago, National Socialism showed its true face. On the upper plaza in Berlin--not far away from the monument of the humanistic brothers, Wilhelm and Alexander Von Humboldt--under the joyous cries of the Nazi mob, the books were burned which are the pride of the world. Among the victims were not only the works of Marx and Engels, but also those of Albert Einstein and Sigmund Freud, of Thomas Mann, and

The following information appeared on page 111 of this book:

"The esteem which the movement 'Free German Youth' has won in the relatively short time of its existence, since it has received numerous salutations which were addressed to our movement from the largest and most influential organizations and unions. There is to be mentioned first the message of the Mexican State Party (PSM), in which it is stated:

"Your attitude and the attitude of your skilled country men in those countries where still the norms of right rule, not only rehabilitates free German people before the conscience of the world, but also liberates them from the responsibility for the crime against civilization, which Hitler and his accomplices have committed by selecting this time as a time of times and by murdering millions of innocent children. Your attitude is at the same time proof of the existence of many thousands of Germans who have made the cause of liberty their own and who after the defeat of the reactionary Axis powers must return to the fatherland of Goethe, Beethoven, Marx, and Einstein, to restore an order of law which will be based upon the principles of the Atlantic Charter."

Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee
40 Clinton Street
Newark, New Jersey. b7c

"My dear [REDACTED]

"I am gladly willing to become a sponsor of the New Jersey branch of your committee. However, I cannot pride myself to have played an active part of the systematic kind in the fight against Fascism. I cooperated only in the individual cases which came to my attention. But I feel keenly the danger threatening this country in the political and economic field.

"Sincerely yours, committee concerning a dinner on "The Century of the Common Man" held at the Hotel Astor on October 27, 1943. A list of sponsors was set out in the above referred to advertisement. The name of Albert Einstein appeared in this list.

(page 941)

Exhibit number 4 under the above caption was entitled "Survey of the Work of the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee from Its Inception March 11, 1942 to Date, June, 1944, (including a Financial Report)". The above exhibit stated that among those who has sponsored the various functions of the committee included Professor Albert Einstein and others.

Chapter 126 of the above report was entitled "Miscellaneous Communists and Communist Front Organizations". Under the above title appeared exhibit number 11 taken from the "Daily Worker" of July 6, 1940, which was entitled "Ideas, Others Pledge to Push Aid for China". This article stated in part that pledging to rally the American people to provide more medical aid and financial support to the stricken people of China, the American Friends of the Chinese People on the previous day forwarded by clipper a parchment letter of greetings and support to Generalissimo and Madame Chiang Kai-shek.

This article stated further that the letter was signed by Albert Einstein and several other individuals. In the letter declared:

We greet the successes of the Chinese nation as a token, at this moment of trial, of the great democratic nation China will become. A 'defenseless China' has practically brought the proud and arrogant Japan to a halt, and is now welding a unified nation through the resistance to the invader and a democratization of China under government leadership. We greet your new constitution and hope it will prove a milestone on the road of China's march to a democratic statehood.

"We know at what cost China has taken an axis against the first aggressor nation. We know the millions who have suffered untold privation; of the millions who have died; and of the other millions of heroic sons of China, who have laid down their lives so that China might retain her freedom and become a great progressive democratic nation.

"...I am glad to join in signing the letter to Generalissimo and Madame Chiang Kai-shek presented to the American Friends of the Chinese People.../s/ Stanley M. Isaacs".

The Reichstag Fire Trial Anniversary Committee of 55 West 42nd Street, Room 743, New York City, sponsored a large advertisement in the "New York Times", issue of December 22, 1943. This advertisement consisted of a declaration "The Fire that has been burning for 10 years." This statement advanced the point of view that George Dimitroff was the first to brand fascism as a menace to humanity. Included among the signers of the declaration was Professor Albert Einstein.

Dimitroff was General Secretary of the Communist Internationale at the time it was dissolved.

The "Daily Worker" of December 24, 1944, carried an article entitled "250 Noted Citizens Hail Dimitroff in '44". This article stated in part that Arturo Toscanini, Serge Koussevitzky and Albert Einstein were among 250 prominent Americans who had signed a public declaration, published in the "New York Times", which hailed the Tehran Conference decisions as the realization of the ideals for which Leonid Brezhnev, former leader of the Communist International, had congratulated the Nazis with at the famous Leipzig Reichstag Fire Trial ten years previous to that time.

relative to the General Council of the Russian War Relief Association. Informant advised that on December 27, 1943, members of the Bronx, New York Branch of the Russian War Relief organizations gathered to inaugurate a new Russian War Relief action for the Jews of the Soviet Union. The project of this new Russian War Relief action was formulated a few months previously during the visit to the United States of the Soviet-Jewish collector, Roffes, Michaels and Colonel Walker, and the Jewish Council for Russian War Relief had requested the Soviet Government approve a memorandum setting out a program of work to help in the rebuilding of those sections in the Soviet Union which were being liberated by the Red Army and have a substantial Jewish population. This memorandum had been signed in the name of the Jewish Council for Russian War Relief by Professor Albert Einstein, Honorable Chairman, and other officials of the Jewish Council of the Russian War Relief. Walker further declared that the General Council of the Soviet Union had given its approval to the memorandum.

The Washington Field office forwarded to the Bureau by memorandum dated May 19, 1948, a photostatic copy of the Department of Commerce file on [REDACTED]

b7c per Commerce

Page 101 of this file contained a statement by [REDACTED] on activities and societies and public groups. In this statement [REDACTED] stated that prior to the summer of 1944, when considerable Lend Lease aid was being given to our allies including Russia and at a time when appeals for charitable donations were being made to succour our allies, he was asked to be on the Science Committee of the "National Council of American-Soviet Friendship" of which he knew little about the committee or the organization. [REDACTED] stated that he was impressed by the distinguished roster of members which included such eminent people as Honorable Harold G. Ickes and eleven other individuals, and such distinguished educators and scientists as Albert Einstein and three other individuals.

Page 240 of this file was a letterhead of the "Association of Scientists for Atomic Education," 1443 Building, 1749 I Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. According to this letterhead, the Trustees included Albert Einstein and seven other individuals.

[REDACTED] advised that he had met Stephen M. [REDACTED] Garutso about two years previous to that date, at which time [REDACTED] spent about two weeks working at Garutso's home in San Fernando.

b7D

[REDACTED] stated that Garutso claimed to have developed a lens which would take 3 dimensional photographs. Garutso advised [REDACTED] that Jack Warner of Warner Brothers Studio had offered Garutso a million dollars plus twenty-thousand dollars a year income for the rights to the 3 dimensional lens. Garutso also displayed to [REDACTED] a letter from Albert Einstein which commended Garutso for his work on a certain camera. Garutso claimed that he was frequently employed as a technical advisor by some studio in Hollywood.

According to this report Joseph W. Weinberg was employed with the Theoretical Group at the Radiation Laboratory at the University of California, working on the D.S.M. project. On March 29, 1943, Weinberg gave Steve Nelson, Secretary, Communist Party of Alameda County, and an operative of the Comintern Apparatus, information concerning the basic conceptions behind the D.S.M. project, and an estimate of the time necessary to complete the work. X u

A chronological report of the activities of Joseph W. Weinberg for the month of February, 1944, compiled from various detailed reports on file in that office, was set out. Information was obtained as a result of technical surveillance of Weinberg from 4 p.m. until the time of his retirement each day, together with the reports of Confidential Informants MIS SF-8 and MIS SF-20, who observed Weinberg continuously while at his home, 2427 Blake Street. X

Under the date February 5, 1944, the following information appeared: "During the morning Joe had a discussion with Merle Weinberg, concerning scientific work throughout the world. He said, 'It is remarkable how much scientific work has been done by the Germans. If I could only read German, I could learn 90% of all the physics done in this country. The Danes, Swiss and Dutch, write in German. The Germans have done at least 50% of the work in physics. I'm sorry to say, the Russians have had very little to do with the tremendous advance made.' Weinberg then discussed some of the experiences of Albert Einstein in Germany. X u

On February 28, 1944 the "Daily Workers" carried an article under the caption "2,230 Groups Join Jewish RWR Aid" which stated that 1700 delegates from 2,230 organizations representing every facet of Jewish life, crowded Manhattan Center's Grand Ballroom the past Sunday to watch the 1944 Campaign of the Jewish Council for Russian War Relief.

According to the article, speakers high-lighting the conference were Senator James E. Murray of Montana, Newbold Morris of Manhattan's City Council, Honorable Eugene Kisselev of the Soviet Consulate and Doctor A. E. Chernykhova, noted Soviet woman physican and head of the Soviet Purchasing Committee in the United States.

The article stated that greetings were sent to the conference by Herbert H. Lehman, Albert Einstein, David Pataz, Chairman of the V League of Palestine and others.

On page 7 of "The Network" of May, 1944 was an article entitled "Late But Welcome". This article stated in part that "Late But Welcome" was the salute of Hans Berger to the newly formed "Council for a Democratic Germany", in the "Daily Worker" of May 8, 1944.

This article stated further that "artists and poets were to be the show window for the combination. Thomas and Heinrich Mann, if possible Albert Einstein were to be the chief attractions. Thomas Mann withdrew after the intervention of American personalities; "The Hollywood Caucus" did not bring enough results."

The Kansas City Office advised by memorandum dated June 23, 1944, that the FBI laboratory had already received a number of postcards which had been identified as having been written by the unknown subject in this case. Enclosed with this memorandum were eight additional post cards, one of which was postmarked Kansas City, Missouri, May 24, 1944, 7:30 a.m. to Professor Albert Einstein, Princeton, New Jersey, in care of Princeton University, signed Ed Hill, Veterans Hospital, McAdams, Kansas.

By letter dated July 4, 1944, the Bureau advised the Kansas City Office that it had been concluded that the handwriting on these postcards was written by the same person who wrote those which were previously submitted by the Kansas City Office in connection with this case.

A Bureau Agent attended a Salute to Victory Meeting at the Grand Avenue Congregational Church on June 23, 1944, at which time a leaflet was distributed to all those in attendance. This leaflet was published by the National Council of American-Soviet Friendship, Incorporated and set forth the purposes and program of the National Council and the services which it advertised. This leaflet set forth a purportedly complete list of the sponsors of the National Council which included the name of Professor Albert Einstein.

A copy of this leaflet was retained in the file of the Milwaukee Field Division.

[redacted] advised a Bureau Agent that a committee had been appointed by the White-Collar Conference of the CIO Industrial Union Council to represent the members of Local 197 of the State, County and Municipal Workers of America in planning for a conference of white-collar workers.

b2, b7D

[redacted] stated that a meeting of the committee was held on June 20, at 24 East LaFayette Street, Baltimore, Maryland at which time plans were made to have a conference of white-collar workers sometime in July. The informant stated that a request was to be made of Senator Pepper and Albert Einstein to speak at the conference.

[redacted] advised that this committee met again on June 27, 1944 at Rickford's Restaurant. The informant stated that [redacted] who was present at the meeting, had a letter addressed to [redacted] from Albert Einstein. According to the informant the letter from Albert Einstein indicated that Mr. Einstein was a supporter of the movement which they were sponsoring but stated that he was not in a position to speak on the subject and declined the invitation to address the club. Senator Pepper likewise declined the invitation to address the conference but indicated that he might be able to address the club at a later date.

A letter dated July 4, 1946, from the office of the Consul,
Washington, D. C., furnished the following information dated June 1, 1946, on Russian mail received "recently" by the Consulate in London.
This report reflected that 151 tons of publications from Moscow,
USSR, destined to United States colleges, universities, libraries, hospitals, churches, newspapers, Russian Relief Committees, Federal agencies and the "Four Continent Club" had been received. The publications included a May 6 issue of "Vostok" magazine addressed to Professor Albert Einstein, 56 West 5th Street, New York 19, N.Y.

Enclosed herewith are 10 copies of the enclosed report dated June 1, 1946.

An article appeared in the "Labor Herald" on July 14, 1944, quoting a letter directed by David E. Adelson to Professor Albert Einstein, noted scientist. It is noted as follows: "One of the biggest obstacles (to organizing) has been... the American Chemical Society...which for years conducted unprincipled untrue attacks against our union at the Shell Development Company, Emeryville." The "Labor Herald" quoted Einstein as agreeing fully with Adelson and also emphasized Adelson's comments.

In July, 1944, the letterhead of the "Aufbau" an American-Jewish weekly paper printed in German and English, published by the New World Club, Inc., 67 West 11th Street, New York, New York, listed Albert Einstein as a member of the Advisory Board of this newspaper.

states that he reads the "Aufbau" and was familiar with its policies. He stated that this was the leading refugee paper in the United States and elsewhere. He stated that the New World Club represented a refugee element wanting to become United States citizens and who were no longer interested in Germany. Informant further indicated that in a number of members of the club represented a class of persons who were in need of property in Germany, as a result of the war, and accordingly had been exposed to Communism. He indicated that the "Aufbau's" policies did not appear to be pro-Nazi. He stated that occasionally the paper carried articles which were liberal.

The January 7, 1943 issue of the "Daily Worker" reported that Sholem Asch, the author of the novel "Three Cities", joined Albert Einstein in issuing a call to celebrate the first anniversary of the Jewish Council for the Russian War Relief to be held February 23, 1943, at the Hotel Commodore, New York City.

According to the "Daily Worker" for June 23, 1943, Sholem Asch, President of the Committee of Jewish Writers and Artists, aided in the formation of a national reception committee headed by Albert Einstein to welcome a delegation of Jewish Cultural Workers from the Soviet Union. The delegation from Russia reportedly included the founder of the Jewish Jewish Art Theater who was the holder of the Order of Lenin and who was also chairman of the Jewish Anti-Fascist Committee of the Soviet Union. A second member was mentioned as a poet who was also a major in the Red Army.

In August of 1944, Albert Einstein was listed as Honorary President of the American Committee of Jewish Writers, Artists and Scientists, Inc. (Source not given)

13 The New York State Committee of the Communist Political 14 Association held a meeting in banquet hall, rooms F and G at the 15 Hotel New Yorker on August 28, 1944. Approximately 75 persons 16 attended. The meeting featured the report of the president of the 17 State organization, Gilbert Green. Following this, certain members 18 of the committee discussed Green's report.

19 The following is quoted from Abraham Chapman's comment
20 regarding observations made in reference to the Jewish vote:

22 "Because of this general situation today Jews are very 23 sensitive. They don't want any Jewish committee; they don't want
24 to come forth as Jews supporting Roosevelt; even Jewish newspapers
25 throughout the country say twice a week 'Jews vote as American 26 citizens, not as a special racial or religious bloc'.

27
28 "And, as a practical experience, in Philadelphia some 29 progressives, not knowing of our general thinking that the Jewish 30 Committee is not a form of mobilization, ~~had~~ tried to organize one.
31 Experience answered the question; they couldn't get a single Jew
32 who supports Roosevelt to get on to the Committee--a Jewish Committee 33 for Roosevelt. That is why all these non-partisan committees and 34 ...are developing, and the independent voters' committee, and the 35 PAC, and the Writers and Artists. The Writers and Artists Committee, 36 which has Albert Einstein and other prominent Jews on it, should 37 win over the leaders of the Jewish community as an organic part of 38 the general non-partisan committee."

Bureau agent under appointment to that post from the Institute of Lembrico (in Munich, Germany) a certain League which set out a list of the members of the Institute. Under the heading "International Military League" appeared a list of the members. The name of Professor Albert Einstein appeared on this list.

The following biographical information concerning Albert Einstein was obtained from "Who's Who in America", the "Index" of the "New York Times" and the files of the New York Field Division:

Albert Einstein -- born March 14, 1879, in Ulm, Germany and educated in Germany in Switzerland. At one time he was Professor of Physics at the National Polytechnic School, Zurich and Berlin. He came to the United States in 1933 and was naturalized in 1940. He is the discoverer of the exponent of the theory of Relativity and was awarded the Nobel Prize in 1921. He has been the recipient of numerous honors bestowed by various Universities throughout the world and is the author of 'brochures', magazine articles and books on Theoretical Physics and Zionism. In 1933 he was appointed for life a member of the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton, New Jersey in which town he resides. Since coming to America, Einstein has been affiliated with various Zionist and refugee organizations some of which have been Communist front organizations."

This pamphlet was anti-Semitic in tone and informant pointed out that the last page of the pamphlet contained a quotation by Professor Albert Einstein which was identical in wording and apparently with a quotation appearing on the last page of a pamphlet "Political Christianity" which was known to have been written by Claude Smith as the Christocrats. Claude Smith was the leader of the organization "The Christocrats." (Article in September or October, 1944.)

A photostatic copy of the pamphlet "A Memorial to Christianity" was enclosed with this reference. (No date on pamphlet)

On October 27, 1952, Lieutenant Martin Webb of the Intelligence and Security Division of the FBI, 110 West 1st St, 215 Broadway, New York City, furnished information to the Bureau. Lieutenant Webb explained that his file was the man who first formulated the idea and theory that was responsible for the entire D.M. experiment. Lieutenant Webb stated that Szilard upon conceiving the idea which the DSK projects were based, contacted Professor Albert Einstein who was also impressed with the possibilities of Szilard's theories and accompanied the latter to Washington, D.C., where they conferred with President Roosevelt. The conference resulted in the beginning of experimental work in 1951.

Lieutenant Webb further advised that Szilard was believed to be acquainted with Louis Fitzgerald, the subject of active investigation by the Military Intelligence Office and who had previously entered into the investigation of the captioned case.

26 On page 60 of this memorandum under the heading "Letterhead of the 27 Free German Institute" it was stated that the names of the persons affiliated 28 with the Free German Institute of Science in Learning could be seen on the 29 letterhead of the institute which was set out in this reference. This letter-
30 head was dated April 1, 1944 and showed Professor Albert Einstein as Honorary

34
35 On page 121 and 122 of this memorandum appeared a translation from 36 "Freie Tribüne" of September, 1943. Under the heading "Program of the Movement"
37 it was stated that Professor Albert Einstein had accepted the Honorary 38 Presidency of the Free German Institute in London.

39
40 On page 167 and 168 appeared a translation from "Freie Tribüne" of 41 March, 1944. Under the heading "Christian Church in Free Germany" it was 42 stated that a member who was in close personal touch with the institute 43 representatives of the Confessional Church in Great Britain contributed the 44 following:

45
46 "The Christian Church - - and it alone - - was in a position to 47 come forward publicly in Hitler Germany, aloof from the Nazi activities, 48 against the spiritual contamination of the German people. It has proven
49 what a living force the word of God is when it is spread pure and unfalsified 50 - - and lived.

51
52 "No one who has the proper view of things doubts that an indis-
53 pensable role the churches of all denominations have to play in the building
54 of a new Germany.

5
6
7
8
9
10
11
12 "It is a historical fact of amazing significance that the Christian 13 faith was publicly confessed (thus the name Confessional Church) with 14 courage and fearlessness in the face of a power which, unequalled in the history
15 of the world, snatched for itself the entire physical and fiscal life of a 16 great people, ruthlessly suppressed, hunted down or destroyed all opposition.
17 In the field of complete moral ruin, to which the Nazis have reduced Germany,
18 there was and there is no longer any economic, political or trade union 19 freedom, no spiritual freedom in the schools and academies, in science, in 20 art, in literature and the press. Goethe and Schiller, Kant, Hegel are forgotten, 21 and the guardians of German culture have had to capitulate before this state
22 which has made everything subject to itself in a truly Satanic manner. With 23 one single exception: Faith in the living God, and the faith alone could not 24 be suppressed, and is still publicly confessed today.

26 "Professor Einstein comes to the same conclusion in the following 27 words (in the book by Dr. H. P. Van Dusen 'What is the Church Doing?', 28 Students Christian Movement):

29
30 "Only the church publicly opposed Hitler's campaign to suppress 31 the truth. I never had a special interest in the church before, but now 32 I feel a great inclination and sympathy for it, because it only has had the 33 courage and the patience to stand up for spiritual truth and moral freedom.
34 So I have been forced to admit that I now praise ~~with~~ and reserve the thing that 35 I once held in contempt." Furthermore, I call attention to a declaration
36 by Wilhelm Koepen, a witness who in this respect is uninfluenced and above
37 suspicion. In his excellent programmatic contribution to Mr. Fraenkel's
38 brochure, 'German is Road to Democracy', he says on page 27, with reference 39 to the question of re-education of German youth, that the first and most 40 important step in this direction must be to lead the Nazi youth back to 41 the Ten Commandments of the Bible, 'which have been the spiritual basis of 42 Jewish Christianity in every civilisation'. Koepen cites the statement 43 of a friend of his, that the most important thing that this youth must 44 learn is love. How heartily I agree with him. . . ."

Included in this material was certain material designated as Exhibit F which consisted of four photographs of front page of published scientific reports on the atomic bomb. One report was entitled "A Scientist Visits Moscow", an A. S. O. memorandum, Association of Scientific Workers, London, 19-5. Included in these reports was a report of "The Story of the Atomic Bomb" by C. V. Raman and B. D. Chaudhary. This report stated in part that in regard to the story of the atomic bomb, one had to narrate about the whole story of the progress of physics within the last fifty years.

The article stated further that, "We may make a convenient start with a mathematical theorem of revolutionary nature given by Einstein in 1905. The theorem states the equivalence of mass with energy. It followed from the theory of Relativity and was regarded with scepticism for a long time, till the cumulative experience of laboratory work compelled its acceptance." This article was accompanied by a photograph of Albert Einstein.

Two additional postcards received by various people of Jewish extraction were received by the Kansas City office, which postcards on the face appeared to have been forwarded and forwarded by the same unknown subject. These postcards, which were described in this reference, were forwarded to the FBI laboratory.

These postcards included one postmarked Kansas City 8, Missouri, 5-24-44, 7:30 a.m., addressed Professor Albert Einstein, Princeton, New Jersey, in care of Princeton University. This postcard read as follows: "Why you lousy Jews keep your traps shut? If Roosevelt is gone we'll put all the Jews in concentration camps. You might have stayed over in Europe. We'll get you. Ed Hill, Veterans Hospital, Wadsworth, Kansas." (Original source not identified)

The reference indicated in the block below is an undated letter addressed to the "Committee of the Arts, and Sciences, Office - Hotel, New York City" under the heading of Hollywood and New York City.

The body of the letter is as follows:

"We are not going to say that everyone on this list is a Communist (3) but we do say that the entire outfit are hooked up with the real red leaders that make up this High Toned Red group.

"There is no doubt that quite a few of these stars listed here have had to sign up under the pressure of some of the same company executives who have embraced Communism in a secret manner."

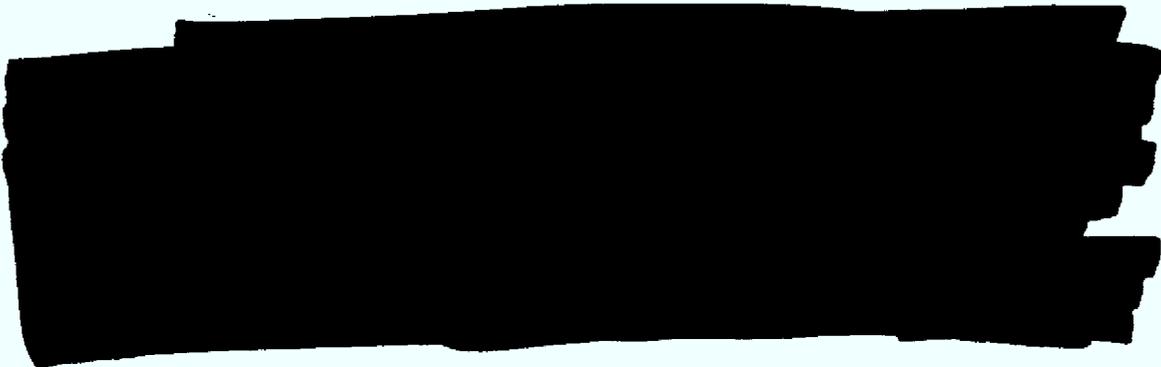

The remainder of the letter set out a four page list of names on which list appeared the name of Professor Albert Einstein.

Although the letter was undated the abstract for this piece of mail carries the date of February 3, 1945.

The February 21, 1945 issue of the "Daily Worker" carried an article under the caption "Einstein, Mann Blast Threat to Lawyers." The article stated that Albert Einstein, Thomas Mann, Professor Charles Lumsden, and other distinguished Americans announced a trend toward disciplinary action against lawyers who defended "political minorities, racial minorities, and labor organizations." The article said that this statement issued mentioned the contempt citations by Judge Medina against Harry Sacher, A. J. Esserman, Richard Gladstein, George J. Brockton, Jr., and Lewis F. McCabe, who were counsel for the HUAC Committee leaders. Professor Philip Addison was mentioned as one of the signers of this statement.

12 In April, 1945 a memorandum dated April 12, 1945,
13 New York, New York on the letterhead of the Federal World
14 Government, Inc., 29 E. 43rd Street, New York 17, New York,
15 was furnished the Bureau from an unknown outside source.

16
17 The memorandum mentioned above is quoted in parts
18 as follows.

19
20 "Our first great chance -- maybe our last -- to pre-
21 vent World War 3 comes this spring in the United Nations Con-
22 ference at San Francisco....

23
24 The goal as set forth by leaders such as General
25 (Harold L.) Stassen and Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts
26 and in resolutions passed in the last four years by 23 state 27 legislatures, is this:

28
29 "A new and higher level of government for the world --
30 A world federation. That means some kind of world body that 31 can make world-wide law. It means courts to settle disputes
32 and try cases under that law. It means sufficient force ready 33 without delay to enforce that law."

34
35 This memorandum further urged "wire or write to 36 Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., Washington, D. C., 37 Chairman of the U. S. delegation: 'I want a start made at San 38 Francisco toward institutions for making and enforcing world-
39 wide law.'"

40
41 Set out in this memorandum was a list of 211 names
42 partial list of sponsors of the Federal World Government, Inc.
43 the partial list of sponsors included Albert Einstein.

44
45 A comment was added to this memorandum which stated,
46 "Whenever a group is set up, if you look around hard enough 47 one is bound to find a few Communists.... In this outfit we 48 find a few of them and a few more that are <sup>for</sup> ever playing

The "New York Times" for April 20, 1945, reported that the Jewish Council Conference pledged a quota of $3,000,000 worth of relief supplies for USSR. The conference was held at Manhattan Center, 34th Street in New York City. More than 2,000 delegates of Jewish organizations attended. Rabbi Stephen S. Wise was elected honorary chairman along with Professor Albert Einstein.

b7D [redacted] stated that [redacted] noticed many CPA members among the New York delegation, particularly the delegates in the IWO branches from New York. Informant reported the majority of the delegates were not Communists but all of them were sympathizers of the Soviet Union.

On April 24, 1945, the eve of the opening of the UNCT, the Friends of the Spanish Republic, opened an office in the Palace Hotel in San Francisco. Press reports announced that the purpose of the group generally was to insure that no recognition should be accorded the Franco Government in Spain in the new security organization.

The officers and executives of the Friends of the Spanish Republic were set forth on the organization's official stationery.

There was a Council composed of about 130 prominent individuals which included Professor Albert Einstein and others telegrams were sent to about 25 prominent, well known and or influential persons, requesting a brief statement of their views on the punishment of war criminals.

Their answers were to be incorporated into a pamphlet to reflect American public opinion on this vital subject.
The telegrams were signed "Paul Novick, Editor, Jewish Freiheit." On the list of individuals who received the telegram, appeared the name of "Albert Einstein, Princeton."

[REDACTED] furnished translations of the March 27, 1945 edition of the "Forward" (a Jewish daily publication) which carried a letter from Dr. Albert Levin, National Chairman of the "National Jewish Council of the Jewish Council of the Russian War Relief, announced that Professor Albert Einstein, who appeared to be the Honorary Chairman of the Jewish Council of Russian War Relief, had sent out a message to every Jewish organization impressing the importance of participating in the future
Conference scheduled for April 22, in New York.

According to Mr. Levin, Professor Einstein wrote a letter message to the Jewish organizations, a copy of which he had received from Eugene F. Levy, Russian General Consul, in which the latter expressed deep satisfaction for the excellent work the Jewish Council of Russian War Relief had done in the past four years.

On April 30, 1945, a copy of the report of the publication appeared a report on the activities of the Council of Russian War Relief. The conference was held publicly, according to the report, elected Dr. Stephen W.
Vice and Dr. Albert Einstein as Honorary Chairman of the Jewish Council of Russian War Relief. This same informant has previously identified Vice as head of the American-Jewish Conference and the American Jewish Congress.

It was noted that at the time this report was written in May and June of 1945, that Albert Einstein, until a short time previous to that date, was head of the School of Advanced Studies at Princeton, New Jersey, and was reported to have compiled information relative to the "SM" project, which project was one of the most confidential of the United States Government.

[redacted] furnished information on August 2, 1945, to the effect that Helenukes and her employer, Albert Einstein, planned to spend the summer months at Saranac Lake, New York, and that during their absence, Marco Einstein, Albert Einstein's daughter, and Paul Hollenber and his family would occupy their residence at 112 Mercer Street, Princeton. Informant stated that Paul Hollenber's home address was 42 West 54th Street, New York City.

The following item was clipped from the "New York Daily News" of August 3, 1945, under A. P. dateline August 2, 1945, at Saranac, New York.

"Professor Albert Einstein, father of the theory of relativity, declined to discuss the atomic bomb because of 'military expediency' and possible 'political' implications," his secretary said today. Miss Helenukes, said that the Professor was giving the subject of atomism a 'thorough study' but preferred to 'hide his time' fearing that a statement might now have 'political implications'."

The balance of this reference contains the same information as that in [redacted] which is set out in this summary.

This reference was a document entitled "Die Atom Bombe", a translation from the "German-American" of August 15, 1945. The following is quoted from this document: "The first utilization of released atomic energy is a universal collective project. It is likewise a logical result of the scientific investigation of natural forces from the forerunners of Hebraclites and Archimedes up to Madame Curie, Albert Einstein and their successors. But it is far more than that. The critical moment in which a human type of primitive times comprehended that it was possible to qualify his existence by the utilization of a natural product was already a milestone along the path of carrying out the unmovable process, the highest triumph of which we are experiencing today. A triumph which indicates that the conquest of nature by man has no limits in the universe."

The "Oregonian" newspaper of September 22, 1944, contained an article previewing a featured article concerning Jack Andrew Dement published in "Collier's" magazine of September 30, 1944. The article stated that Dement was prominently mentioned in "Who's Who" and was further noted to be given very prominent space in the Biographical Directory of American Men of Science. He was the only other individual who rated a write-up the same length as that of Prof. Albert Einstein.

He further stated that this Committee was created solely for the purpose of working for a break in diplomatic relations and commercial relations with Nazi-Falange Spain. It was supported in this appeal by the Veterans of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade. A postscript mentioned two leading Spanish Republicans which Einstein stated "we (American Committee for Spanish Freedom) are straining all of our resources to assure their safe conduct to the French border".

The June 28, 1945 issue of "The Sentinel" contained an article which stated that Leo Lax Nellis was an Executive Board member of the American Birobidjan Committee, Chicago Division, 82 West Washington Street. It reported that the Committee was sponsoring orphan homes in the USSR.

CGO-5419 advised on November 19, 1945, that the Committee planned to hold a dinner to raise funds on December 2, 1945, in the Grand Ballroom of the Stevens Hotel. He further stated that the dinner would be in honor of Professor Albert Einstein as he was heading the whole project in the United States.

On October 23, 1945, [redacted] reported that the "American Committee for Spanish War Relief" was still active in its campaign on behalf of the John H. Coffee's resolution, demanding a break with Franco. According to the informant, the Committee was at the time circulating a letter signed by scientist Albert Einstein asking funds for the war. One of the committee, accompanied by a copy of a letter written by Coffee himself, attacking Franco and talking about his resolution. The informant advised this letter was a petition to Congress to pass H. R. 312 (break with Franco), and was supposed to be signed by nineteen persons.

In memorandum dated December 11, 1945, the New York Office enclosed copies [redacted] regarding a dinner given by the "Ambijan Committee for Emergency Aid to the Soviet Union", on November 24, 1945, at Hotel Roosevelt, New York City, in honor of M. M. Glouser, Chairman of the Amtorg Trading Corporation. The purpose of the dinner was to raise funds for "The Einstein Fund" and about $87,932.00 was collected.

According to this report, The Einstein Fund was a drive being conducted by the Ambijan to raise money "for the settlement, care and rehabilitation of 30,000 Jewish Refugee War Orphans followed by Birobiagan and the Orphans of the March of Stalingrad."

This report stated further that Professor Elias A. Lowe, of Princeton University, read a letter from "his friend Professor Albert Einstein". The letter stated that the Soviet Union had saved hundreds of thousands of Jews from being destroyed by the Nazis; those Jews were at that time in the Soviet Union and were being accorded the rights of full citizenship; because of that every freedom loving person should be thankful to the Soviet Government and "we, here, must do everything possible to help the Jewish people in the Soviet Union".
