or Hawaii.

The hula is a splendid art in its native habitat, but the stylish stout who comes back

My Day—
Eleanor Roosevelt

WASHINGTON: Everyone was shocked here Monday when news came that a group of Puerto Rican terrorists had fired on members of the House. These people belong to the same group that tried to kill President Truman in 1950, and it is difficult to understand why they have not been followed and watched ever since. There must have been some laxness on the part of the FBI or the guards at the Capitol—it seems to me—would have been alerted not to allow any suspicious characters to enter the galleries of the House.

• • •

There was an editorial in the Washington Post Tuesday about the executive's responsibility to his party, as regards Sen. Joseph McCarthy and his tactics. It is undoubtedly felt by the Republican Party that an open break with the senator would divide the party and bring political disaster.

There is no question but that it is better for a party to be united, but if within the party there is an element which is evidently dangerous to the country it would seem to be essential for that party's future success that they remove that danger which threatens the well being of the country as a whole.

Neither the Republican nor the Democratic Party wins an election by carrying their own party voters alone. Increasingly, year by year, we have had elections in which people moved from support of one party to the other either because of individual candidates or individual issues.

There are a great many people in this group today who look upon the issue posed by McCarthy and what is popularly known as "McCarthyism" as an issue which is concerned with the freedom of individual citizens. In the editorial I mentioned, there are two sentences which should be carefully considered throughout our nation.

They are: ". . . Skillful demagogy has persuaded Americans to fight each other instead of the enemy. In the process American institutions are being sabotaged and American moral fibers snapped."

lic will shake its head in the wrong directio as long as Mrs. America shakes that thin ditto.

Wonders About FBI Laxness on Puerto Rican Fanatics

[redacted] - 298

DISCLOSURE.

3-41-298