OFFICE OF THE CHIEF OF POLICE
HALL OF JUSTICE

San Francisco, California
Fri., 11/07/75

GENERAL ORDER NO. 122

CHARITABLE SOLICITATIONS

1. On August 28, 1975, Article 9.6 (Section 660 to Section 660.25) was added to the Police Code regulating charitable solicitations, and is now in effect.
2. This Article requires persons and organizations soliciting contributions for charitable purposes to secure a permit from the Police Department, with certain exceptions.
3. Charitable, tax exempt organizations are not required to secure a permit if the organization files with the Police Department a copy of their exempt status from the Federal Government, pursuant to Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, or tax exemption from the State of California, pursuant to Section 23710d of the Revenue and Taxation Code.
4. All persons and organizations to whom a permit has been issued to solicit for charitable purposes must furnish a credential to all persons soliciting on behalf of the permitted person or organization.
5. Because this credential will be issued by the permitted organization, the credential will be in several forms. All credentials, however, must contain the following information:
 - a) The name and address of the charitable organization and the source where additional information may be secured;
 - b) A statement as to whether or not contributions are tax deductible;
 - c) A brief description of the charitable purposes for which the solicitation is made;
 - d) The name, address and signature of the person to whom the credential was issued;
 - e) The expiration date of the credential and,
 - f) The signature of the person issuing the credential.
6. A facsimile copy of the credential with the signatures of persons authorized to issue the credentials shall be on file at the Permit Bureau.

SOME NOTES ON THIS LIST:

1. This list comprises the names of those who have said they want to go to Guyana--sooner or later--without attempting to differentiate between those who will go first and those who will go last.
2. The figures reported in each column are monthly and are net rather than gross.
3. Where known, the type of income is noted after each entry. Eg, "dis"=disability, "sal"=salary, "ret"=retirement, etc.
4. In the commitment column, only those listed as "Comm." are communal.
5. Only their incomes are listed as lost in the nontransferrable column. (Incomes of noncommunal people were not added in because we never had them to begin with.)
6. Only those not noted as "Comm" have commitments reported in the "commitment" column. The amounts used are the amounts reported as we have no way to verify that people pay the commitment they say they are paying.
7. We recognize that this list does not provide all the information you need. We realize it is not broken down into next group coming and next, etc. It is just a list of all those who have said they are going over. No doubt it will be added to as people make themselves known to us.
8. Those clearing the "Needed" column: Leona Collier, Jean Brown, Sandy Bradshaw, Tim Clancey, Maxine Betts.
9. Total amt. of transferrable income--$18,484
Total amt. of nontransferrable COMMUNAL incomes--$26,056
Total amt. of commitments (allegedly) lost--$5,330.

It is possible for people and plants to support each other in an environment sealed off from the rest of the world, scientists from the Soviet Union recently reported. Three ^{Soviet scientists} men spent four months in an airtight room living entirely off the vegetables, oxygen, and water produce by their plant-friends that shared the same ^{Space} room.

The Soviets announced that the experiment marks a major breakthrough for manned space explorations. The perfection of such closed biological systems will mean that space voyagers ^{can} ~~will be able to~~ travel long distances without using up vital food, water, and oxygen supplies. The scientists dined on fresh carrots, cabbage, and a host of other vegetables grown by hydroponics -- special soil and water nutrients. With ~~critical space used to~~ constant planting and harvesting, a "veritable green conveyor belt is in action."

~~The benefits of this discovery will affect not only space travel, but also~~ The Soviet Union has contributed not only to the advancement of space exploration with this breakthrough, but also to the continuing struggle against critical food shortages on our ~~shrinking planet~~ increasingly hungry planet.

One of Plainfield's Newer Residents

GARDEN ALMA, FROM THE MEXICAN ZOO

ONE HAS GOOD EATING HABITS

Garden Alma, a native of the Mexican Zoo, is one of the newest residents of Plainfield and one which attracts more attention than any other. The reason she is a subject of interest is that she is a black chimpanzee, which lives at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Christopher, where she is treated very much like other members of the family.

When the chimpanzee came to this country, she was a gift from the Mexican Zoo to the Jewish High Priest, but she was to be a girl. Alma, named by her owner, Howard Christopher, was born a few years ago. She is now in her third year.

and really trained and stays dressed most of the time. Her body has been her most special having been purchased from the zoo and she was recently by Mr. Christopher. She weighs 25 pounds and is 20 inches tall. She is a black chimpanzee, which she does much of the time like to be with people. She is very smart and is very intelligent. She is very smart and is very intelligent. She is very smart and is very intelligent.

Mr. and Mrs. Christopher are the parents of three children, Jerry Lee, Pat and Don. Garden Alma makes a fine pet for them. The Christopher also have a great Dane dog which is afraid of Garden and keeps its distance when she is around.

Only food from the meals of Garden who attends the family meals and whose eating habits, according to the Christopher, are excellent. Garden has visited over the country and was an attraction for the PTA a few weeks ago.

How Peoples Temple Grew Wealthy

By Marshall Kilduff

Though the Peoples Temple was founded in California less than 13 years ago and the majority of its members are poor blacks, the church has amassed a fortune of property, other assets and cash estimated to be at least $5 million, according to former members.

In interviews with 25 former or followers, many of whom maintain top secrets, Peoples Temple was portrayed as a church where money was an obsession and also a tool for blinding members closer to their leader, the Rev. Jim Jones.

So much money was collected from church members that temple leaders spent more than 15 bank accounts and also began taking large sums of cash, ranging up to $50,000, via trusted church couriers to Guyana, where the temple has an agricultural mission, according to Chronicle sources.

Nearly every aspect of church life was designed to ensure a profit to the temple, the former members said.

Property was signed over to the church in gifts from members, large sums of cash were collected during services, and church members were assigned special duties such as arrest courier collecting, mail appeals and bank calls.

Followers were expected to contribute a quarter of their salary — a figure that later rose to 40 per cent for some — as well as donate their lives and labor for special chores such as maintenance of the bus fleet or repair of church buildings.

Church leaders encouraged members to travel in traffic jams to allow temple attorneys to try their court cases, while other church aides peddled jobs and drawings of Jones designed to ward off highway snafus.

Once a member had turned over most of his possessions and money, it was very difficult for him to leave.

"The temple ended up with everything I had," said Dennis Merrill, a member along with his brother and family from 1970 to 1973.

A cow stolen from near Federation was found empty in the Los Angeles river.

Big Storm Trickles Off

Los Angeles

The worst tropical storm to strike southern California in 25 years dwindled to downers yesterday as heavy rain after record rains and flooding that killed eight persons and caused millions of dollars in crop damage but did little to alleviate the state's drought.

The storm, which moved up from Baja California, is 25 years divided to downers yesterday as heavy rain after record rains and flooding that killed eight persons and caused millions of dollars in crop damage but did little to alleviate the state's drought.

Three days of steady rain provided record rainfall — ranging from two to five inches in Los Angeles and other parched southern California communities.

Rainwater stood six inches deep yesterday in farmlands of the Imperial valley near the Mexico border, where $14 million dollars worth of damage was done to crops, and runoff from the floods kept many county roads impassable.

Some areas of Imperial county remained without electricity and telephone service.

Total damage from the storm was expected to exceed $20 million.

Crop damage also was reported in the two southernmost counties of the fertile San Joaquin valley.

"We don't have any monetary figures for damage yet," said Mike Henry, secretary-treasurer of the Kern County Farm Bureau. "But we know there will be major and mold problems for the grape growers."

What remained of the county's unharvested tomato crop also was destroyed by an inch of rain.

All major highways were open, except for California 78 between Blythe and Brawley, where personnel was wiped out and repairs may take months, according to the California Highway Patrol.

State and local water officials said the heavy rain did not significantly help the drought situation because the water came down so rapidly that it had no time to seep into underground water tables. Much of the rain did run down flood control channels into the sea.

Southern Calif. receives much of its winter supplies from aqueducts in northern California that are hundreds of miles from the ocean.

The Edwards couple left San Francisco last spring on short notice, their family told The Chronicle, and the two are believed to be in Guyana with the church.

Thus, their property was sold in their absence. Temple secretary Jean F. Brown had power of attorney and signed sale documents prepared by temple lawyer Gene Chalkin.

But the average temple member is not in any position to offer the church such wealth, former members claim. One example is James Boyd, an elderly black woman who lives in a studio apartment run by the San Francisco Housing Authority at 600 Ellis street.

She pays a quarter of her income of $400 per month as rent and paid another quarter to the church until she left in February of this year.

In her 64 years as a follower of Jones, she signed checks payable to the church totaling $387,713. These checks were deposited late four different church bank accounts: Bank of Upper Lata, Bank of America and Wells Fargo, all in Utah, and the Bank of Montreal in San Francisco.

She also billed seven or eight checks every week. "I bought all the things myself, and the church would take it over to the Bakery or Albert's and sell each item for 75¢."

"I can't tell you how much I may have given in little bits of cash," she said.

Temple spokesmen contend that such contributions go toward a wide array of free church services such as legal counseling, medical care and meals.

Jones himself has stated the Guyana mission has cost the church upwards of $1 million since the first established the settlement in 1973.

The Guyana outpost, to which Jones has retreated since the controversy began about a month ago, apparently has been the destination of much of the church's money.

Five members confirmed

Church 'Exodus' Denies

Peoples Temple activists edged yesterday that "nearly a thousand" of its members are at the church's farm project in Guyana but refused to describe the departure of such members as a "mass exodus."

The response followed a Chronicle story earlier this week that claimed possibly 400 of the church's members were leaving the Bay Area as part of temple plan to shift its efforts to the South American country.

The church press release stated: "For the last two years we have provided our members with the opportunity to realize an agricultural project."

"Even though there are nearly a thousand there now, and more want to go, we are absolutely not pulling out of San Francisco or California," the statement said.

The church said that San Francisco "will continue to remain our 'home base' and called some accounts of its latest workings "sheep and sealant" without reporting.

The church has said it has 8000 members in Northern California and 20,000 elsewhere, although former members of the church believe the temple has about 2000 active followers.

That temple leaders were regularly dispatched with cash to deposit in Guyana banks, pay temple bills and often to bury the money for safekeeping.

On several occasions these couriers carried as much as $80,000, according to former members.

Don Phillips, who went with Jones and about a dozen top church leaders to Guyana on the temple's first visit in December of 1973, said a large sum was transferred at that time.

"Each of us had $5000 on us in cash. There was also a bank draft for $50,000 from Barclay's of Canada to deposit in the bank's branch in Georgetown (the capital of Guyana)."

with us to leave. We had nowhere to go and nothing to fall back on," Merle said.

The church has reported publicly that its yearly budget is $500,000. The temple is not required to report its finances to either the Internal Revenue Service or state officials.

But such expenditures did not match the enormous sums that accumulated, according to former members.

"It was money because it was a job with it," said one woman who was a top adviser and secretary who witnessed scores of church legal documents.

"We used to wonder what to do with it all. But we never spent it on much," she said.

Questions about the temple's finances were raised in earlier press investigations of Jones, a Disciples of Christ minister who moved to Redwood Valley from Berkeley with a group of about 200 followers in 1967.

Jones reportedly built a large following, especially among inner-city blacks in this country and Los Angeles, with his abilities as a publicist who produced a vision of an idealized and peaceful society.

Former members said Jones ordered buildings of the followers to maintain discipline, taking the buildings and directed some of his time to collecting money and cultivating politicians.

The congregation in the state. But former members said the true figure was closer to $500.

This lower number of serious followers along with the fact that many of them are elderly and on small incomes have suggested to observers that the church could not have accumulated very much money.

But those members living in Redwood Valley used a variety of techniques to gather money from its followers and to make substantial sums beyond its membership.

Members were asked to contribute a quarter of their income without any amount of jobbing the church. The portion was raised in a third and finally 40 per cent for other, former members have said.

Other members lived in communities set up in the U.S.A., Redwood Valley and San Francisco area.

John's Secretary, a former member who handled communications, said the living arrangements were designed so that members turned over paychecks and redeployed living expenses in return.

"We were clearing $2000 to $2500 per month when we were paid in Redwood City," she said.

The church is believed to have at least 15 such communities, many with separate offices.

Swinnery also supervised the money-counters who used up the receipts during marathon weekend services that Jones held in Redwood Valley, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

"On a good day in Los Angeles during 1977 and 1978, we'd handle $100,000 to $200,000," he said.

"San Francisco was sometimes as good. It was all small bills and change. Now and then we'd have some pretty big," Swinnery added.

"We had a series of banks we used from Utah to Lakeport," said one woman who frequently handled the bank deposits.

Stanley Parks, a former member who worked in the church's legal and financial office, said that temple leaders were careful to spread their money among the accounts so as to avoid a large sum in one or two banks or government officials would judge as suspicious.

Parks also said the typed up "laying off" applications from church members seeking to cash in their life insurance policies.

Duncan Harbo and her husband Elmer ran the church's publications. It was their job, they said, to study religious writings from other faiths but not to recommend a new monthly mailing to other members.

day, and he is a very conservative figure," he said.

Other publication guidelines included photographs of Jones, intended for such things as writing of letters, letters and travel expenses.

Birds' temple sold also different parts of Jones pictures from a by that are carried during special services. "I made $10,000 a month," she said.

Aside from such routine methods, Jones gave larger sums that he asked to the church through property transfers.

Between 1967 and the present to church or its officials requested in 22 records of real estate transactions. Two of these amounted to gifts of property to the church.

The church has reportedly been paying out of the thousands of dollars in the past several years of property, as only for $125 million.

In San Francisco, the church has had two pieces of property, a two-story three-story apartment building that it bought for $125,000 in June 71 and a pair of houses in North Street for $40,000 in May 72.

In addition there are sales in which temple officials and property owners are involved. Property owners are involved in every temple church members.

Historic Delta Town Bought by a Chinese

Los Angeles

A Hong Kong developer has reportedly bought the historic Sacramento Delta town of Locke for $14 million.

Developer Ng Tze-Tai said he expects to build a Chinese cultural center, a museum and maybe a floating restaurant on the nearby Sacramento river.

Locke was built in 1912 by Chinese laborers who leased the land from George Locke, a gold miner. The town is said to be the only town in the United States built entirely by Chinese.

The town is on a bend in the Sacramento river about 70 miles north of San Francisco.

The proposed development is expected to cost about $10 million. There are about 100 other historic buildings of the town's Chinese residents living in the

Dear Miss Brown:

Enclosed you will find the following returns for Rev. & Mrs. James Jones:

1. 1977 Federal income tax return showing an overpayment of $12,511.45. Because the tax is more than we anticipated, we have had it all applied to the 1978 estimated tax.
2. 1978 Federal estimated tax return showing no tax due.
3. 1977 California income tax return showing an overpayment of $2,871.28 which we have applied to the 1978 estimated tax.
4. 1978 California estimated tax return showing a payment due of $300.00.

Each of the above returns should be signed by you for James W. Jones and again for Marceline M. Jones showing a power of attorney for each.

We are having you pay the $300.00 now so that there will be no further payments due until the filing of the final 1978 returns next year.

We are enclosing an extra copy of each return so that you can send one to Rev. Jones and have one yourself in case of any questions. We have also enclosed our bill for the preparation of the returns.

If you have any questions regarding these returns, please contact us.

RE: Mr. Matthews, Governor of the Bank of Guyana
Subject: Setting up an external account

Date: March 24, 1977

1. He did not have anything to do with it except to tell us that we will have to see someone from the Guyana National Cooperative Bank and to tell that person (either the Manager or the Deputy Manager) that he had given the approval for such an account.
2. The Minister of Finance had set up the appointment for us to meet with him.
3. Matthews is from Guyana. He is about 45 years old. He has worked for the Bank of Guyana for 11 years, since it was first began. He has been the head person, governor, for only two years. He worked in the Inland Revenue Dept for a short time before that. He has had one year of education in England and has taken some course here.
4. He is not a pretentious person. He is very highstrung and has a slight studder. He does not try to impress us.
5. He said that only overseas dollars can come into the account. Nothing from Guyana may be put in this account. He said that we can pay any expenses we have both here in Guyana with this account and pay any bills overseas. He said that it would make things easier if we kept our dollars all in one form, (e.g. all US$, instead of U.S.$, German Marks, etc.)
6. He said for the Coop Bank to apply to the Bank of Guyana on our behalf for an External account designated in our name, and to say that Bank of Guyana (Mr. Matthews specifically) agreed to this.

Mr. Dow,

Georgetown, Guyana.

Dear Mr. Dow:

We have consulted with you concerning the investment of our "external account" funds in time deposits, and the purchase of treasury bills and debentures. We understand that funds so invested will maintain their character as "external account" funds. In addition we are informed that if necessary we may use these investments as collected for loans, which would be made at your base rate which is now 7½%.

You have informed us that these arrangements require the approval of the Bank of Guyana. Accordingly we now request that you obtain such approval from Bank of Guyana, and confirm these arrangements and such approval so that we can begin this program.

Cooperatively yours,

Dear First Federal Saver:

The enclosed endorsement is a part of your Variable-Rate savings certificate, and should be put with the certificate as a permanent part of your records. The purpose of this endorsement is to allow us to conform to a new Federal regulation that permits us to pay you the higher certificate dividend rate at the end of each quarter, without having to wait until your certificate reaches maturity. This means more earnings for you.

All who now hold Variable-Rate savings certificates earn dividends at the annual rate of 5 1/4%, compounded continuously. This rate applies as of July 1, 1968, and it is NOT necessary for you to make any change or take any action in order to earn this new rate.

Earnings will now be credited each quarter at the full 5 1/4% annual rate. However, should you redeem your certificate before it matures, Federal regulations prohibit us from paying you earnings at the Variable-Rate savings certificate rate, and we may only pay you earnings at not more than the current passbook rate.

If we have been mailing you a dividend check each quarter, we shall continue to do so. On the other hand, if you have been allowing your earnings to accumulate in a passbook account, we shall, from July 1, 1968, accumulate them right in your Variable-Rate certificate account so that you will receive the benefit of the higher earnings rate on all your funds. At the end of each quarter, we shall mail you a statement of earnings on your savings account.

It is always a pleasure to serve you at First Federal. Please call us should you have any questions about your account.

Sincerely,

Wendell M. Hicks

He spoke to the General Manager, he said, if Guyana has to devalue the exchange rate would change. At this point it is fixed. He said the Guyana dollar is not so stable. Sharon asked what securities were there in Guyana. He said he could buy govt. securities. (ref. to bank) I asked him about a fixed account, broker at the exchange rate. He said the account was open. He said that the fixed accounts at 2.5 percent, but were still effective in any devaluation. Sharon asked about purchasing an object outside of Guyana, registered

They can lend to farmers because no one can come back the next year and ask for it. Sharon asked if he thought there would be a devaluation in Guyana. He said he wouldn't know if devaluation would happen, it would be a secret. There would be some stipulation. It's devaluation is something always considered. That is something I can't answer.

NOTE — In a recent discussion of the importance of keeping the direction of the abscissa uniform, I have suggested the following notation for the direction of the abscissa:

$$\vec{a} = \frac{1}{\sqrt{2}} \begin{pmatrix} 1 \\ 0 \end{pmatrix}, \quad \vec{b} = \frac{1}{\sqrt{2}} \begin{pmatrix} 0 \\ 1 \end{pmatrix}$$

It is not clear that this is a good idea.

Dear Gene:

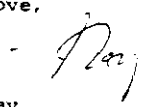

Everybody here is fine. The savings and loan transaction is going very slowly, the result of governmental red tape. I've been working very hard trying to get it all together, but am not sure how much progress is being made.

I have never talked to Lieutenant Governor Dymally nor have I had any dealings with him. I am not at all surprised that someone would use my name, considering all of the present circumstances.

With respect to the use of herbicides, my recommendation would be to use those that are the least destructive and have a temporary active life.

Please write and let me know whether the guest facilities you described in your letter to Mom are available yet, as I will take the first opportunity to see you. I can arrange to be there after September. My love to Phyllis and the kids.

Dear Mr. Chaikin,

Re: Collectability in Guyana of debts allegedly incurred in the U.S.A.

I have today received your letter dated 26th September, 1978 on the above subject.

In reply, I wish to bring to your attention Section 70 of the Guyana High Court Act Chapter 3:02 which reads as follows:-

"Subject to any special disability to sue or to be sued any person, whether a foreigner or not, and whether domiciled in Guyana or not, may take proceedings or be proceeded against by action or other proceeding in the Court in its civil jurisdiction, and the Court shall have full jurisdiction, power, and authority to try, hear and determine the action or other proceeding and to proceed to a final judgment or order and execution therein."

The Jurisdiction of the Guyana Courts is no different from that of the English Courts, hence, I have found guidance and clarification of the above section by perusing Halsbury's Laws of England Third Edition Vol 7, pages 69 and 74, photocopies of which are enclosed.

Please let me know if you need any further assistance in the matter.

Yours faithfully,

Enclosed

ACTION WITH REGARD TO CONTRACTS

§ 10. JURISDICTION WITH REGARD TO CONTRACTS

There is, however, a general rule no jurisdiction to entertain suits or suits involving the determination of the title to foreign property, except where the question of title is only an incidental part of the suit, as on a covenant to re-convey, nor, do they exercise jurisdiction to recover taxes or rates imposed by a foreign authority. Sovereigns and certain other privileged persons and bodies are not amenable to the jurisdiction of the British courts, without their consent.

130. Foreign company. The jurisdiction of the English courts over a foreign company does not essentially differ from that over an individual foreign company. A company within the jurisdiction may sue or be sued on a claim arising in England and provided it is not ultra vires the company and subject to the law of England.¹³¹ The mere fact, however, that a foreign company has not entered into or is not in England is not sufficient to give an English court jurisdiction to make the company appear

A-40-b-2f.

154. Exchange.—If a money action can be brought in England except as expressed as claiming a sum in English currency, and no judgment is expressed in such currency. A great difference exists between the law which the exchange of foreign currency into English should be made and those generally observed in other countries. Thus, in the case of contract the English law treats the damages as converted at the time of the breach, while foreign countries either adopt the exchange current at the date of the judgment or the rate current at the time of the breach.

in general, a payment by a person resident in the United Kingdom to a person resident outside the scheduled territories for exchange control purposes requires the permission of the Treasury (s. 1). When money is sent under a judgement to a person so resident the money must, unless Treasury permission is given, be paid into court (s. 2).

158. Jurisdiction in respect of foreign torts. Over torts committed in England the English courts have jurisdiction, whatever the nationality of the parties may be. As with different considerations arise when an action is brought in England in respect of a personal tort committed abroad. In such cases the English courts do not assume jurisdiction unless the wrong complained of would have been justiciable in England if it was perpetrated in England, or territorial jurisdiction, and also is not justiciable by the law of the place where it occurred (a). may relieve the defendant from liability if it appears on the true construction of the statute that it was intended to have an extra-territorial operation (b). It is not necessary that it should be also actionable (in the ordinary sense) in the foreign country: it is sufficient if it is wrongful and unjustifiable, although giving rise to no civil proceedings for damages (c). Thus, the foreign law may regard the act as of a criminal nature only, or it may require the institution of penal proceedings as a condition precedent to the recovery of damages (d). The jurisdiction of the English court will not be ousted, and it appears that proceedings are in fact pending in a foreign court in respect of the matter complained of, whether these proceedings are of a civil or a criminal nature (e). The jurisdiction of the English court can only be ousted by proving an exclusive jurisdiction over the matter in the courts of the foreign country (f). The fact that the jurisdiction may be exercised more conveniently by one court than by another does not affect the question (g). It is immaterial that one or both of the litigants are of foreign nationality (h). If both litigants are of the same foreign nationality a foreign law, valid by the national law of the litigants, will not avail the defendant in an action in the English courts in respect of a tort committed in England (i). The act complained of may have been wrongful by the law of the foreign country at the time when it was committed; but if the legislature of that country, by retrospective enactment, has subsequently declared it lawful, or indemnified the person who committed it against all consequences, no

DEAR SHAREOWNER:

When calling
The enclosed stock certificate represents the $12.50 par value shares to which you are entitled as a result of the previously announced two-for-one stock split approved by the shareowners on November 26, 1974. It represents one additional share for each $25 par value share that was registered in your name on November 27. On that date, the $25 par value shares were automatically converted into $12.50 par value shares. As a result, you now own twice as many shares of common stock as you owned November 27, one-half of which are represented by the new certificate and the other half by the old certificate. There is no need to exchange the old certificate for a new certificate.

Counsel has advised that, in their opinion, the receipt of additional shares as a result of the split does not result in any gain or loss for Federal Income Tax purposes. (No gain or loss for tax purposes)

In the event you sell any of the new shares you receive in the split, or any of the old shares held by you with respect to which the split was made, you should calculate your gain or loss using an adjusted basis which takes the split into account.

The Chase Manhattan Bank advises that those shareowners participating in the Automatic Dividend Reinvestment Plan will have credited to their respective accounts with the bank the split shares distributed by the company on shares accumulated under the Plan and held by the bank for the participant.

TWO-FOR-ONE STOCK SPLIT

TO OUR STOCKHOLDERS

It is a pleasure to enclose the new certificate(s) covering additional shares of $1 par value common stock of your Company to which you are entitled as a result of the two-for-one split of your Company's common stock approved by the stockholders at the Annual Meeting held on January 19, 1960.

This split became effective at the close of business on January 26, 1960, and holdings of stock as reported at that time on the books of our Transfer Agent were used in determining the number of shares each stockholder would receive as a result of the split. All stock certificates outstanding before the split continue to represent the same number of shares of the same par value of $1 each. Accordingly, the enclosed new certificate(s) dated January 27, 1960, together with the certificate(s) already held by you represent your holdings after giving effect to the stock split. Your old certificate(s) should be retained. No surrender and exchange of these certificate(s) will be required.

Mailing of the enclosed certificate(s) has been handled by The Chase Manhattan Bank, our Transfer Agent and Dividend Disbursing Agent, and any inquiries concerning such mailing should be directed to The Chase Manhattan Bank, 40 Wall Street, New York 15, New York.

Your Company is advised by counsel that under existing tax laws the two for one stock split will not result in any gain or loss to the stockholders for federal income tax purposes. Your cost or other basis for each share of old stock held on January 26, 1960, should be allocated equally between the share of old stock and the corresponding share of new stock. The holding period for each new share of stock dates from the beginning of the holding period for each corresponding old share of stock.

Since the above information may be helpful for tax or other purposes at some future time, you may wish to keep this letter with your stock certificate(s).

Cordially yours,

President

Re: Tax Information

I am not sure exactly what information you want. Is it everyone who receives SSA and a retirement or pension check? Does it make a difference what their age is (i.e. over 65)? If so, you will have to give me a list of those people if over 65, as I do not have that information. Do you want everyone who is over 65 and receives SSA alone? SSA and retirement or pension? ~~YES~~ Also, do you need to know the total amount of income for these people for 1977? If so, I cannot help--we will have to ask the states for that information as I only have income records for people beginning at the time they arrived here. Also, I would not have an accurate total because several people have back checks due them. Please let me know and I will get the list to you as soon as possible.

P.S. one last thing--do you need to know the name of the company the retirement or pension checks are issued from?

September 13, 1978

Dear Mr. Sawyer,

It is my wish at this time that my name, James W. Jones be removed as signatory to the accounts I have established in your banking institution. Marceline Mae Jones shall remain as signatory to the above accounts.

Further I wish to create a power of attorney over these accounts in the name of Carolyn M. Layton. You already have her signature card on file at your bank. I wish this power of attorney to be the kind which survives after death. If there are any papers I need to sign in order to make this change please give them to Mrs. Layton to bring to me to sign. At this time I am not near any Consulate and therefore would not be able to have them affix their stamp to such a document. However, you have my signature specimen on file and could compare it with the papers which I can sign and have mailed back to you.

Thank you very much for your cooperation in this matter.

Sincerely,

James W. Jones
