Gentlemen:

I received a visit from your Mr. Joe Parsons on 3 October 1972. He had in his possession a radio receiver which he asked if we could identify by model and serial number.

We were able to positively identify the unit as our type RS-111-1B-12 VHF-UHF Receiving System. We were able to make the identification through certain physical and electrical features of this unit which distinguish it from similar units.

As a normal manufacturing practice, we routinely metal stamp many of the fabricated parts with the production job number. There are many locations on the unit in question where the production job number "2631" can be observed. The job number also proves that the unit is an RS-111-1B-12 because only RS-111-1B-12's and RS-111-1B-7's were produced on job 2631.

I found that there were two different styles of quality assurance stamps used on the unit. In one corner of the rear apron, two round "CEI" stamps were legible in black ink. This style was used prior to 7 October 1970. In three other locations on the rear apron, the current square-style CEI stamp was in evidence. One of these, CEI-T17, is particularly legible. The new square-style stamp has been in use only since 7 October 1970.

Through a knowledge of the date the style of the quality assurance stamp was changed, and through production records of the serial numbers produced on job 2631, we can conclusively establish that the unit in question is serial number 13[illegible] were 20 each type RS-111-1B-12's produced on job 2631. The numbers were 131 through 150. All of the units except 132 were sold and shipped to customers during 1969. Serial number 132 had been on loan from February 1969 until December 1971. It was retested at that time and given to our Sales Department to use as a demonstrator. Before it was sold in May 1972, it was tested for the third time. The quality assurance stamps are applied during final test. Since that unit in question bears both the old and new style stamps, it must through the process of elimination be serial number 132. None of the other 19 units have ever returned to the plant since 1969. They could therefore only bear the old style stamp.

I trust this information will satisfy your requirement. Please do not hesitate to contact the undersigned if we can be of further assistance.

Very truly yours,

John S. Wilburn, Jr.

Were Guards

Bribed?!

By JEREMIAH O'LEARY and PATRICK COLLINS
Star-News Staff Writers

The FBI and officials of the General Security Services, a private guard firm, are investigating a report that some uniformed guards at the Watergate were "paid off" to permit many nighttime entries of Democratic headquarters before five intruders were arrested there June 17.

Martin Dardis, chief investigator for Dade County (Fla.) State's Attorney Richard E. Gerstein, has told The Star-News he was informed of the alleged payoffs by a Miami Beach photo-equipment salesman last week.

Dardis said the informant claimed he was told of the payoffs by one of the Watergate burglary suspects whom the informant identified only as "Virgilio."

One of the five arrested June 17 is Virgilio Gonzales, a Cuban-born locksmith and former bodyguard to onetime Cuban president Grau San Martin.

According to Dardis, "Virgilio" bought a quantity of photo equipment from the informant and during the transaction boasted that he and the others had entered the Watergate offices "40 to 50 times" by bribing guards employed by the private security force assigned to protect the building.

Dardis refused to identify his informant. But he said the story, if borne out, could explain the ease with which the intruders got into the offices of then Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien, and their failure to flee when they learned that locks

ENCLOSURE

Watergate: Guards Bribed?

Dardis said that on the night of June 17, the General Security Services crew on duty uncovered a change in patrol routine because one of two scheduled guards left early, saying he was ill. This left only a guard named Frank Wills on the Watergate premises; Dardis' information is that Wills was not part of the alleged payoffs.

Wills has told police he made scheduled patrols of the building at midnight and 2 a.m. His report was that he discovered six doors leading from the basement to a fire staircase with the locks taped so they would not snap shut. Wills, believing the doors had been taped during the day by workmen, tore off the tape and resumed his patrol.

Returned on "Hunch"

But later, he said, he "had a hunch" and returned to find the doors taped again, whereupon he called police and the arrests were made minutes later. Observers and investigators have been baffled by the apparent indifference of the intruders to the discovery that the tape had been removed from the doors and that they had remained after presumably replacing the tape. Police and investigators have concluded that under ordinary circumstances, such a discovery would have sent intruders fleeing.

Dardis said he obtained this new allegation in pursuing the Florida investigation of some aspects of the Watergate case and the use made of GOP campaign contribution checks.

The photographic shop salesman, Dardis specified, is not the Miami photo dealer who recently informed Gerstein's office that he had developed some film for two of the defendants last June. That dealer was Michael Richardson of Miami.

Richardson has given Gerstein a sworn statement that he developed two rolls of 35mm film for men he identified as Bernard L. Barker and Frank Sturgis, two of the Miami men indicted in the bugging case.

Film Not Found

The Miami Beach photo operator sold photo equipment to "Virgilio" whom he knew, Dardis said, because the Cuban had a girl friend working for the shop. The Richardson film, which Gerstein said was given to the customers and has not been found by investigators, reportedly showed personal correspondence of O'Brien.

Dardis said the Miami Beach man told him the FBI already had questioned him about the Watergate defendants. F. Kelly Chamberlain, executive vice president of the General Security guard force, told The Star-News he is making his own investigation to find out whether any of his employes had accepted money to look the other way while intrusions were made into Democratic headquarters.

Chamberlain stated that, although he felt there was no foundation for the allegation, he would investigate it thoroughly. He acknowledged that there is a rapid turnover, as much as four times the total strength of the guard force every year, but said this is true of all contract guard organizations.

His guards, Chamberlain said, average about $80 a week and few of them make a career of building security work. He said that those who quit often fail to leave detailed information about where they are going.

A federal grand jury has indicted seven men in the case. The seven are Gonzales; Barker; Sturgis; James McCord, chief security adviser to the Committee for the Re-election of the President; G. Gordon Liddy, former counsel to the Finance Committee to Re-Elect the President; E. Howard Hunt, former White House consultant, and Eugenio Martinez, a Miami real-estate salesman.

All except Hunt and Liddy were arrested inside the Democratic offices. Hunt and Liddy were first charged when the indictments were handed down Sept. 15.

GENERAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION

Summary

This is case concerning burglary of Democratic National Headquarters on 6/17/72.

On 9/29/72, F. Kelly Chamberlain, official of General Security Services, Inc., Washington, D.C., (which firm provides security guards for Watergate Office Building (WOB), advised our Washington Field Office he was contacted by Washington Star Newspaper Reporter Jeremiah O'Leary.

O'Leary indicated article will appear in 9/30/72, Edition of his paper which will indicate Virgilio Gonzalez allegedly purchased quantity of photo supplies from unidentified Miami, Florida, photo shop. Manager of this shop alleged to have given statement to investigator for Florida State's Attorney regarding this case. Statement allegedly to effect that Gonzalez indicated he entered WOB after normal business day on some 30 cases and had access to Democratic Committee Offices with Gonzalez paying either security guard there or Committee employee to help him gain access.

Chamberlain issued no statement in reply to above and O'Leary stated he will again contact Chamberlain on 9/30/72, and read him contents of article before publication at which time Chamberlain intends to comment he has no knowledge of such incident and will investigate allegation.

Our investigation has not developed any information indicating any substance to information to be published by O'Leary and our Miami Office taking steps to establish and report validity of allegation.

BURGLARY OF DEMOCRATIC PARTY

INTERCEPTION OF COMMUNICATIONS

The following is being submitted in response to the Acting Director's question relative to the Jack Anderson column of 9/23/72, which claimed an "espionage report" was directed to former Attorney General John N. Mitchell.

During the lengthy, detailed interview conducted of Alfred C. Baldwin on 7/10/72, he never mentioned directing any "espionage report" to Mr. Mitchell, nor did Baldwin mention being assigned to check security in the building where the President's Campaign Committee has its headquarters. Baldwin said while he was employed by McCord, his assignments were to accompany Mrs. Martha Mitchell on a trip to the Chicago, Detroit and New York City areas during the period 5/2-8/72, and thereafter to monitor demonstrations in the Washington, D. C., area and to monitor the listening device installed in Democratic Party Headquarters, from Baldwin's room at the Howard Johnson Motel.

Full particulars concerning Baldwin's interview are included in the summary.

ACTION: For the Acting Director's information.

9/23/72

GENERAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION

The attached Jack Anderson column which appeared in the 9/23/72 edition of "The Washington Post" relates, in part, to the breakin at Democratic Party National Headquarters (DPNH).

Anderson states that Alfred C. Baldwin, former FBI Agent, (who was assigned by McCord to monitor several telephone lines at DPNH from the Howard Johnson Motel) directed an "espionage report" to former Attorney General John N. Mitchell who was then head of the Committee to Reelect the President. Anderson then states this memorandum did not deal with the bugging operation. Our investigation and interview with Baldwin did not disclose any information relating to a memorandum directed to John N. Mitchell.

Anderson also states Baldwin gave the FBI a 100 page statement. This is untrue as the results of our interview with Baldwin were reduced to 25 typewritten pages.

1. Let's be sure we have the facts in our Summary.
2. Did we ask him if he directed an espionage report to former Attorney General Mitchell?

The Washington Merry-Go-Round — THE WASHINGTON POST Saturday, Sept. 23, 1972 D 15

Mitchell Linked to Watergate Spying

By Jack Anderson

Former Attorney General John Mitchell's name has been linked to the Watergate espionage operation by a principal witness in the case.

The witness, Alfred Baldwin, has sworn he was a member of the Mission Impossible crew that spied on Democratic Party headquarters. One of his espionage reports, he has alleged, was addressed personally to Mitchell.

By Baldwin's account, he gave an oral report to James McCord, Jr., who was then the security coordinator for President Nixon's campaign committee. In Baldwin's presence, McCord allegedly put the report in writing and addressed it to Mitchell.

Subsequently, McCord was arrested at gunpoint with four other men inside Democratic headquarters. They were wearing surgical gloves and carrying eavesdropping equipment.

Baldwin has confessed that he monitored conversations picked up by a bug planted in one of the Democratic Party telephones. The bugged conversations were reported in memos, which McCord sent both to the White House and the campaign committee, Baldwin claims.

Insert a anderson—a

(A spokesman for the Committee for the Re-election of the President said yesterday that "we know of no such memorandum and John Mitchell never received any such memo.")

The memo that went to Mitchell, however, didn't deal with the bugging operation. As Baldwin tells it, he was asked to check on security in the building where the President's campaign committee has its headquarters.

He cozied up to a secretary in the law firm of Reeves and Harrison, which has offices in the same building. She told him that one of the law partners had contributed to George McGovern's campaign.

Security Risk

When Baldwin reported this to McCord, the security chief allegedly dashed off a memo to Mitchell warning that the law firm was a political security risk.

Baldwin gave the FBI a 100-page statement detailing his role in the Watergate caper. Thereafter, he reportedly was granted immunity from prosecution in exchange for his testimony before a federal grand jury.

A former FBI agent, Baldwin said he had been assigned at first as a security guard for Martha Mitchell. His instructions were not to let her out of his sight except when she went to bed. He was also handed a roll of money and was instructed to buy her anything she wanted and to pay cash, he said.

When he joined the Watergate espionage operation, Baldwin said, McCord shoved a .38 pistol at him. Baldwin protested that he didn't have a pistol permit. McCord allegedly told him that he didn't need one, because he was attached to the President's campaign committee.

On May 9, Baldwin said he caught an Allegheny flight to visit his home in Connecticut. As he boarded, the electronic anti-hijacking equipment detected the pistol. He couldn't produce a permit, so he was detained while the airline checked with the President's campaign committee.

Bank Records

Justice Department lawyers, apparently, have lied to the courts about the practice of snooping into people's private bank accounts without court authorization.

On several occasions, we have published excerpts from FBI files which prove bankers willingly turn over their customers' records without being served with a subpoena.

A month ago, however, government lawyers in San Francisco and Washington, D.C., told the federal courts the government always gets a summons or subpoena first.

Not only does this fly directly in the face of our documentary evidence, but it also contradicts the testimony of a highly placed Justice Department official.

The official, organized crime chief William Lynch, admitted to a Senate subcommittee last month that "in certain types of investigations" government sleuths get bank records without a subpoena "with some degree of frequency."

Under intense questioning by Sen. John Tunney (D-Calif.), who is leading a move to write laws protecting the privacy of bank records, Lynch also confessed that "in particular situations they (banks) have been reasonably cooperative."

In other words, what the U.S. attorneys said in court flatly contradicts the Justice Department's testimony before the Senate. Someone, obviously is lying.

Footnote: In his Senate testimony, Lynch said the FBI went after bank records only when investigating "violations of criminal statute." We have documented cases in which the FBI got the bank records of dissidents like Jane Fonda, Dr. Benjamin Spock, and black civil rights leader Floyd McKissick. So Tunney was prompted to ask Lynch whether "criminal statute" violations included "political surveillance cases." Replied Lynch: "I do not know what you mean by that."

FRANK JAMESON,, Vice President, Special Operations, Bell and Howell (B & H) Communications Company, 186 Third Avenue, Waltham, Massachusetts, made available the following documents pertaining to transactions between B & H, Waltham, and JAMES W. MC CORD, President, Mc Cord Associates, Inc., 144 Hungerford Plaza, Suite 220, Rockville, Maryland:

1. Original Purchase Order from Mc Cord Associates, Inc., Number 1326, dated April 24, 1972. JAMESON stated that the items reflected on the said purchase order were defined in detail in earlier inquiries made by the Federal Bureau of Investigation at B & H. JAMESON reiterated, as reflected in prior interviews, that the equipment referenced in purchase order number 1326 was not designed for bugging and it was not capable of functioning "in a bugging capacity."

2. Original and two copies of an invoice addressed to Mc Cord Associates, Inc., invoice number 13210, with shipping date of May 25, 1972.

3. REA Air Express receipt number 70-13-67, dated May 25, 1972. JAMESON related that REA Air Express shows the shipment of the electronic equipment, in item number one, to Mc Cord Associates, Inc., from B & H, Waltham.

4. Xerox copy of personalized check number 145 from Mc Cord Associates, Inc., dated June 12, 1972, signed ALFRED L. GREEN, and paid to the order of B & H, Waltham, Massachusetts. JAMESON stated the said check was payment for the electronic equipment set forth in the purchase order in item number one. JAMESON noted the original of said check had been returned to Mc Cord Associates, Inc., subsequent to B & H cashing the check.

5. Original Purchase Order from Mc Cord Associates, Inc., Number 1389, dated May 25, 1972. JAMESON advised this shipment had not been filled by B & H.

FD-350 (Rev. 7-16-63)

Tampa connection

Bugging suspect lived here in '40s

By CLAY HARRIS
Times Staff Writer

Bernard L. Barker, alleged leader of the attempted bugging of the Democratic national headquarters in Washington, had a "Tampa connection"—30 years ago.

Barker lived here for three months in early 1942 after he became the first Cuban national to enlist in the U.S. armed forces, the Tampa family who housed him said yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nat Caminiti, 3002 N. Boulevard, and their son, Tony Caminiti, 4718 N. Cortez, haven't seen Barker since 1945, when he and his wife honeymooned in Tampa after World War II.

However, both Tony and his mother have talked by telephone with Barker within the last week, their last contact with him since shortly after the Bay of Pigs, the abortive invasion of Cuba in which Barker reportedly was active as a Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) operative.

Their recent conversation with Barker confirmed the Caminitis' conviction his involvement was based on "very high and altruistic reasons," not for monetary considerations.

Mrs. Caminiti spoke of Barker's "partriotism and his love for this country." She said, "If he was involved, he felt in it to do something to save his country — in his mind."

To the Caminitis, Barker is not the enigmatic man who has been indicted in Washington on charges stemming from the break-in intrigue at the Watergate and arrested in Miami in charge of falsely notarizing a $25,000 check, intended for President Nixon's re-election campaign, before depositing it in his personal account.

To them, Barker is instead the 24-year-old Cuban-American who knocked on their door before dawn one morning in January, 1942, shortly after Pearl Harbor brought the United States into World War II.

The Caminitis had known Barker's father, a wealthy Cuban-American businessman, nine years earlier when Caminiti was office manager of State Dredging Co. during the dredging of the Sparkman Channel between Seddon Island and Hooker's Point.

"He left the University of Havana, his comfortable servant-staffed home against his father's wishes, to join the armed forces and fight for America," Mrs. Caminiti said yesterday.

Barker was penniless, and he joined the Caminiti household, which included Mr. and Mrs. Caminiti, Tony — then 13 years old — the Caminitis' niece and a Puerto Rican orphan.

Six persons in all, living on $100 a month, Mrs. Caminiti recalled. By this time, her husband was a Tampa policeman, a position he held for 29 years until his retirement in 1965. He was also Tampa municipal court clerk for 22 years.

"We had more potatoes than meat in the Hungarian goulash, but we made it," Mrs. Caminiti said. A native of the Carpathian region in present-day Hungary, Mrs. Caminiti has been a volunteer social worker and antique artisan in Tampa for many years.

Barker shared a bedroom with Tony in the Caminitis' former home at 412 E. Floribraska Ave.

"He was an idealist, a perfect gentleman, kind, compassionate," Mrs. Caminiti recalled. "While Tony and the two girls were in school and was doing voluntary social service work among the poor and destitute, Bernardo (as the Caminitis call him) swept the floors, mopped the kitchen, ran errands and taught me how to drive."

"He taught my mother how to drive," added Tony Caminiti, "and she ran over four watermelons at Fred's Market," a long-since-disappeared establishment at the corner of Floribraska and Florida avenues.

"He was jubilant when, after three months, the army called him," Mrs. Caminiti said. "We gave him a farewell party and several young ladies and a couple of army officers from MacDill attended."

Mrs. Caminiti lighted candles for Barker at the Sacred Heart Catholic Church, and one day after the war he appeared with his Cuban-born wife, Clara, member of a socially prominent Cuban family.

Mrs. Caminiti later heard from Barker shortly after the Bay of Pigs invasion. She said Barker told her, "Aunt Ida, tomorrow I will be coming to see you folks."

She fixed a big dinner, she said, but Barker never arrived. The Caminitis later received word from him that things had become too "complicated" for him to keep in touch.

That was the last the Caminitis heard from — or of — Barker until his arrest in the Watergate affair.

BRUCE A. KEHRLI, Staff Secretary to the President, DC was interviewed at the Office of JOHN DEAN, Consultant to the President, Executive Office Building, and in the presence of Mr. DEAN. He provided the following information:

He did in fact, make two handwritten notations on a memorandum dated March 30, 1972, which he had received from W. RICHARD HOWARD. The text of the memorandum was written by Mr. HOWARD and it concerned EVERETTE HOWARD HUNT.

The first notation concerned making an inquiry regarding the feasibility of obtaining a permanent appointment at the White House for HUNT. He explained he did not want to jeopardize HUNT's retirement from CIA or do anything not authorized in securing this permanent appointment for HUNT.

The second notation concerned HUNT's termination from the White House once he (KEHRLI) learned that a permanent appointment was not possible in HUNT's case. In the second notation he authorized terminating HUNT's employment as a Consultant at the White House as of April 1, 1972, so HUNT could be hired as a Consultant to the Committee to Re-Elect the President. HUNT had already been recommended for this position and this notation merely authorized his termination at the White House.

CHARLES COLSON, Special Counsel to the President of the United States, The White House, 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C., furnished the following information:

Mr. COLSON indicated that he had personally authorized EVERETT HOWARD HUNT, JR., a Special Consulant to the President, to make two trips at Government expense during HUNT's employment at the White House. Mr. COLSON indicated that one of the trips had occurred in March, 1972. He stated that HUNT had made a trip to Denver, Colorado, for the White House in connection with the "ITT case." Mr. COLSON also stated that HUNT had traveled to Massachusetts for the White House. He indicated that the latter trip had occurred at his personal request. Mr. COLSON stated that HUNT had furnished him with information which had been developed by HUNT's associates at the Robert R. Mullen, Co. Public Relations firm, relative to an incident which occurred at Chappaquidick, Massachusetts. Mr. COLSON noted that he had not personally authorized HUNT to travel at the expense of the Government on any other occasion.

Mr. COLSON was displayed copies of two memorandums, which are dated September 13, 1971, and November 2, 1971. Both memorandums are addressed to JOHN HUNTSMAN from CHARLES COLSON and are entitled, "Expenses for HOWARD HUNT."

After examination of both described memorandums, Mr. COLSON indicated that he had never seen any expense vouchers or time vouchers which had been submitted by EVERETT HOWARD HUNT, JR., during HUNT's employment at the White House. He indicated that he had discovered the original copies of the memorandum described above in a review of the records of his office on August 28, 1972. Prior to that date, Mr. COLSON stated that he had been unware of the existence of both memorandums. He noted that the memorandum dated November 2, 1971, has the initials of his personal secretary upon it. He stated that he was unaware of the work performed by HUNT, which would have led to the submission of both vouchers.

Interviewed on 8/29/72 at Washington, D.C. File # WFO 139-166

by SA ANGELO J. LANO
SA EDWARD R. LEARY:jla 14 Date dictated 8/31/72

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

CONFIDENTIAL

Mr. COLSON stated that he had discovered a third similar memorandum during the above noted review of the records of his office. However, he indicated that he had also not seen this memorandum at a prior date.

Mr. COLSON again reiterated that he had never reviewed any expense or time records submitted by EVERETT HOWARD HUNT which had been submitted through his office. He noted that his personal secretary had handled all such correspondence. He stated that it was therefore possible that EVERETT HOWARD HUNT had made several trips without his personal knowledge and which trips had been made at the expense of the Government. He stated to the effect that this was in fact what apparently has happened.

Mr. COLSON advised that he had received reports on the work accomplished by HUNT subsequent to HUNT's trip to Denver and to Massachusetts. Mr. COLSON indicated that he was aware that HUNT had traveled on a frequent basis. He indicated that he had assumed that these trips were made on behalf of the Robert R. Mullen, Co., Hunt's Public Relations Firm, or on behalf of some other member of the White House staff.

Mr. COLSON advised that HUNT had stopped working under his personal supervision approximately one month after his entry onto the roles of the White House as a Special Consultant.

Mr. COLSON was displayed a photograph of DONALD HENRY SEGRETTI. However, he stated that he was not familar with the individual depicted in that photograph. Mr. COLSON indicated that he was familar with the name ED WARREN only by virtue of the fact that JAMES WALTER McCORD, JR., had utilized that name as an alias at the time of his recent arrest in Washington, D.C. He also indicated that he was aware of the fact that EVERETT HOWARD HUNT had on occasion used the alias ED HAMILTON

Mr. COLSON noted that EVERETT HOWARD HUNT, JR.'s name had never appeared on a budget compiled for the White House staff under his supervision. He indicated that this budget encompassed the names of all individuals on his staff who were salaried or paid by the White House for their services. The budget, he noted was prepared by BRUCE KEHRLI, a member of the White House staff.

Mr. COLSON stated that he was aware of the fact that HUNT had done extensive research on the Vietnam War. In that connection, he indicated that HUNT had worked with both NBC and "Life Magazine" on a program and magazine article dealing with the Vietnam War.

Mr. COLSON was displayed copies of Per Diem Expense Vouchers submitted by E. HOWARD HUNT to the White House, which indicate that he had performed work as a Special Consultant to the White House during the period from January through April of 1972. Mr. COLSON stated that he could not identify HUNT's supervisor at the White House during that period and could not identify the nature of the work which HUNT had performed during that period.

GORDON STRACHAN, Staff Assistant to the President of the United States, The White House, 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. (WDC), furnished the following information:

MR. STRACHAN indicated that he is currently employed at the White House as a Staff Assistant to H.R. HALDEMAN, Assistant to the President.

MR. STRACHAN was displayed a photograph of DONALD HENRY SEGRETTI. He identified the individual depicted in that photograph as DONALD HENRY SEGRETTI. He stated that his association with SEGRETTI was based upon their mutual attendance at the University of Southern California, where both had been members of the same fraternity. He indicated that SEGRETTI was also known by the nickname "TICK".

STRACHAN indicated that he had maintained contact with SEGRETTI following their graduation from college. Approximately one year ago, SEGRETTI contacted him prior to SEGRETTI's discharge from active military duty with the United States Army. At that time, SEGRETTI indicated to STRACHAN that he was attempting to find a job following his discharge from the service. STRACHAN stated that he indicated to SEGRETTI that he would keep him in mind if a position with the Republican Party or at the White House became available.

MR. STRACHAN indicated that another employee of the White House, DWIGHT CHAPIN, Deputy Assistant to the President, is also a graduate of the University of Southern California. He stated that SEGRETTI is a mutual friend of both CHAPIN and himself.

Approximately three or four months after SEGRETTI had contacted him in regard to employment, DWIGHT CHAPIN asked STRACHAN if he had heard from SEGRETTI, inasmuch as CHAPIN had a job available for him.

MR. STRACHAN advised that SEGRETTI had thereafter been employed by the Republican Party or the Committee to Re-elect the President as a Political Activist in the field "Black Conveyance."

CONFIDENTIAL

MR. STRACHAN stated that it is a well known fact that political parties often conduct activity to harass a political opponent's campaign. In that connection, he indicated that one "DICK TUCK" had written a book on the subject of political harassment or "Black Conveyance".

MR. STRACHAN stated that he had not guided or directed SEGRETTI in the performance of any such activity. He indicated that he believed SEGRETTI had received compensation for the activities which he had performed on behalf of the Republican Party. He indicated that he believed SEGRETTI had received compensation from a California attorney, HERBERT KALMBACH, for the services he rendered to the Republican party.

Subsequent to SEGRETTI's employment by the Republican Party, STRACHAN indicated that he contacted SEGRETTI on about six occasions. He could not recall whether these contacts had been the result of phone calls which he had placed to SEGRETTI or which he had received from SEGRETTI. MR. STRACHAN stated that he is assigned telephone extension 2892 at the White House.

MR. STRACHAN advised that had he contacted SEGRETTI by telephone, and been unable to reach him, he would have left a message for SEGRETTI to contact him under his own name.

MR. STRACHAN stated that he had never been contacted by SEGRETTI in regard to any problems which SEGRETTI had encountered in the performance of "Black Conveyance" activity.

MR. STRACHAN advised that he was not familiar with either EDWARD WARREN or EDWARD HAMILTON. He indicated that he did not know EVERETTE HOWARD HUNT, JR.

However, MR STRACHAN stated he was familiar with GEORGE GORDON LIDDY. He noted that he had met LIDDY at the offices of the Committee to Re-elect the President in WDC, shortly after LIDDY had been employed by that committee. He stated that he was not familiar with anyone named GEORGE LEONARD or GEORGE LARRIMER.

MR. STRACHAN noted that he had been Campaign Committee GEORGE GORDON LIDDY at approximately the time at which the Florida primary had been in progress. On that occasion, LIDDY indicated to him that he was contacting a number of people at the White House to obtain information relative to an individual who was causing members of the Republican Campaign Committee problems in the field. MR. STRACHAN stated that LIDDY had asked him if he had any idea who the individual might be. MR. STRACHAN advised LIDDY that he would ask his associates at the White House if anyone had received any information relative to the identity of such and individual. He subsequently contacted DWIGHT CHAPIN in that regard. CHAPIN stated that DONALD HENRY SEGRETTI was probably in Florida at that time. However, CHAPIN indicated that the individual to whom LIDDY referred could not possibly be SEGRETTI. Subsequently, MR. STRACHAN contacted LIDDY and indicated that the only individual known by him to be performing harassment activities could not be identical with the man described by LIDDY. MR. STRACHAN stated that he may have described SEGRETTI to LIDDY in that conversation. However, he was unable to recall if he had given SEGRETTI's name to LIDDY at that time.

MR. STRACHAN noted that GEORGE GORDON LIDDY had originally been introduced to him as a Legal Counsel at the Committee to Re-elect the President.

MR. STRACHAN stated that his last contact with SEGRETTI had occurred in June of this year. At that time, SEGRETTI contacted him by telephone and indicated that the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) had been making attempts to interview him. MR. STRACHAN stated that he later met with SEGRETTI at the Mayflower Hotel for lunch. He indicated that he believed SEGRETTI was staying there at the time. MR. STRACHAN stated that he told SEGRETTI that he had no idea why the FBI was looking for him and advised him to co-operate with the FBI. MR. STRACHAN stated that he had not seen or spoken to SEGRETTI since that date.

DWIGHT CHAPIN, Deputy Assistant to the President of the United States, the White House, 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Washington, D. C., furnished the following information:

Mr. CHAPIN was displayed a photograph of DONALD HENRY SEGRETTI. He subsequently identified the individual depicted in that photograph as an individual known to him as DONALD H. SEGRETTI.

Mr. CHAPIN stated that he had enlisted SEGRETTI's aid in the accomplishment of political activity on behalf of the Republican Party, which activity encompassed harassment of the candidates, speakers, and surrogates of the Democratic Party, who are currently active in electoral campaigns being conducted this year.

Mr. CHAPIN stated that SEGRETTI was discharged from the United States Army about one year ago. He advised that his relationship with SEGRETTI was based upon their mutual attendance at the same college. Mr. CHAPIN advised that he felt SEGRETTI was a competent and imaginative individual, who would be capable of accomplishing such political action with little or no supervision. He stated that he had been aware that SEGRETTI was attempting to find employment subsequent to his discharge from the Army. Thus, he advised that he contacted SEGRETTI to enlist his services as a political activist.

Mr. CHAPIN indicated that he arranged for SEGRETTI to receive payment for the services which he rendered. He indicated that he had not personally paid SEGRETTI for any service. However, he did indicate that he had arranged for a man, whom he described as a California fund raiser, to pay SEGRETTI's expenses and fee. Mr. CHAPIN initially declined to identify this individual, but subsequently stated that the individual was one HERBERT KALMBACH, a California attorney. Mr. CHAPIN stated that he was unaware of the amount of payment which SEGRETTI had received for the services which he rendered and of the method by which SEGRETTI had been paid by Mr. KALMBACH.
