INTERCEPTION OF COMMUNICATIONS

This is to record the results of a discussion on 3/21/73, between John J. Clynick and SA Earnest H. Woodby of Computer Systems Division concerning the feasibility of computerizing the Watergate index. This index is currently in the form of several thousand 3 by 5 cards, which cards show the following:

Name of person contacted or interviewed, address and/or title, date interviewed, serial and page number, the identity of the communication reporting the interview or contact to the Bureau and a short narrative of the results of or purpose for the interview or contact.

Some of the major advantages of computerizing this index would be to greatly increase flexibility, availability to more than one person at a time, the ability to duplicate copies in a matter of minutes, and the ability to rearrange the data in any given fashion at computer speed (ie. we would be able to make available if we were so authorized to the Select Committee on Presidential Campaign Activities, the "Watergate" Committee; the names of persons interviewed in California only if so requested in as much time as it takes for the computer to print such a run. The printout for the Acting Director on 3/19/73, consisting of about 1500 names required about 2 1/2 minutes.) Additionally, virtually all transposition errors are eliminated.

SA Woodby advised that it is feasible but would require considerable time in both the programming and punch card operations. The source data would necessarily have to be supplied by the Accounting and Fraud Section, which has maintained the manual Watergate index.

SUBJECT: JAMES WALTER McCORD, JR.; ET AL.
BURGLARY OF DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEE HEADQUARTERS, 6/17/73
INTERCEPTION OF COMMUNICATIONS

The Washington Field Office today advised that Chief Judge John J. Sirica sentenced the subjects in this case in U. S. District Court, Washington, D. C., as follows on 3/23/73:

Liddy on count 1 (Conspiracy, Section 371, Title 18, U. S. Code) to be incarcerated in custody of the Attorney General of not less than 20 months nor more than five years and to pay a fine of $10,000. Counts 2 and 3 (Burglary, Section 1801b, Title 22, District of Columbia Code), 5 to 15 years on each count, to run concurrent with count 1. Counts 4, 5 and 8 (Interception of Communications, Section 2511, Title 18, U. S. Code), to serve not less than 20 months or more than five years and pay a fine of $10,000 on each count. These counts run concurrent with each other and are consecutive to counts 1, 2 and 3.

The accumulation of this sentence of Liddy is that he serve a term of not less than six years and eight months and not more than 20 years, with a fine of $40,000, for which he is to stand committed until the fine is paid.

Judge Sirica then read into the record the attached letter dated 3/19/73, from subject McCord to the Judge. The Judge stated that he refuses to discuss the matter with McCord as the letter requests.

With respect to Hunt, Barker, Martinez, Gonzalez and Sturgis (Fiorini), they were sentenced under the provisions of Section 4208b, Title 18, U. S. Code, to undergo a study for 90 days by the Bureau of Prisons. At the conclusion of the 90 day study the Bureau of Prisons is to furnish the court a

Assistant U. S. Attorney Earl Silbert stated to the court that the Watergate grand jury would reconvene next week; however, Judge Sirica instructed each of the defendants to confer with their attorneys and to think over the possibility of cooperating with the Government. ROCKVILLE, MARYLAND 20850

TO: JUDGE SIRICA

March 17, 1973 gum-c

Certain questions have been posed to me from your honor through the probation officer, dealing with details of the case, motivations, intent and mitigating circumstances.

gum-c
In endeavoring to respond to these questions, I am whipsawed in a variety of legalities. First, I may be called before a Senate Committee investigating this matter. Secondly, I may be involved in a civil suit; and thirdly there may be a new trial at some future date. Fourthly, the probation officer may be called before the Senate Committee to present testimony regarding what may otherwise be a privileged communication between defendant and Judge, as I understand it; if I answered certain questions to the probation officer, it is possible such answers could become a matter of record in the Senate and therefore available for use in the other proceedings just described. My answers would, it would seem to me, to violate my fifth amendment rights, and possibly my 6th amendment right to counsel ~~and possibly other rights~~ and possibly other right

On the other hand, to fail to answer your questions may appear to be non-cooperation, and I can therefore expect a much more severe sentence.

gum-c
There are further considerations which are not to be lightly taken. Several members of my family have expressed fear for my life if I disclose knowledge of the facts in this matter, either publicly or to any government representative. Whereas I do not share their concerns to the same degree, nevertheless, I do believe that retaliatory measures will be taken against me, my family, and my friends should I disclose such facts. Such retaliation could destroy careers, income, and reputations of persons who are innocent of any guilt whatever.

Be that as it may, in the interests of justice, and in the interests of restoring faith in the criminal justice system, which faith has been severely damaged in this case, I will state the following to you at this time which I hope may be of help to you in meting out justice in this case:

1. There was political pressure applied to the defendants to plead guilty and remain silent.
2. Perjury occurred during the trial in matters highly material to the very structure, orientation, and impact of the government's case, and to the motivation and intent of the defendants.
3. Others involved in the Watergate operation were not identified during the trial, when they could have been by those testifying.

4. The Watergate operation was not a CIA operation. The Cubans may have been misled by others into believing that it was a CIA operation. I know for a fact that it was not.
5. Some statements were unfortunately made by ^awitnesses which left the Court with the impression that ~~they~~^{she} stating untruths, or withholding facts of ~~his~~^{her} ~~their~~ knowledge, when in fact only honest errors of memory were involved.
6. My motivations were different than those of the others involved, but were not limited to, or simply those offered in my defense during the trial. This is no fault of my attorneys, but of the circumstances under which we had to prepare my defense.

Following sentence, I would appreciate the opportunity to talk with you privately in chambers. Since I cannot feel confident in talking with an FBI Agent, in testifying before a Grand Jury whose U.S. Attorneys work for the Department of Justice, or in talking with other government representatives, such a discussion with you would be of assistance to me.

I have not discussed the above with my attorneys as a matter of protection for them.

I give this statement freely and voluntarily, fully realizing that I may be prosecuted for giving a false statement to a Judicial Official, if the statements herein are knowingly untrue. The statements are true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief.

SA JOHN E. DENTON and SA JOSEPH C. KELLY handled many of the highly sensitive interviews at the Committee to Re-Elect the President. Included were repeated interviews with an ex-79 Cabinet-level official requiring special diplomacy and tact.

SA DENNIS F. HOFFMAN and SA MICHAEL J. KING handled the difficult task of establishing the whereabouts of various subjects in the Washington, D.C. area through 1952 and related records.

SA DONALD E. STUKEY, II, was very effective in developing pertinent data [REDACTED] also in handling high-level contacts at the Democratic National Committee Headquarters. B1

SA GEORGE E. SAUNDERS made full use of his knowledge of White House personnel and procedures in establishing an effective working liaison with the Chief Counsel to the President. He handled the sensitive task of locating pertinent documents and arranging interviews with key personnel.

SUBJECT: JAMES WALTER McCORD, JR.; ET AL.
BURGLARY OF DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEE HEADQUARTERS, 6/17/72
INTERCEPTION OF COMMUNICATIONS

SAC, Washington Field Office, recommends incentive awards for Field Supervisor John A. Ruhl, and Special Agents Angelo J. Lano and Edward R. Leary for their outstanding performance in overcoming unusual difficulties in investigation of this case. SAC also recommends letters of commendation for other WFO personnel to recognize their untiring efforts in connection with this case. General Investigative Division concurs with recommendations of SAC and, in addition, recommends incentive awards for FBIHQ Supervisors Charles A. Nuzum and John J. Clynick, as well as letters of commendation for various personnel of the Accounting and Fraud Section who assisted in this case.

Captioned matter involves one of the most sensitive criminal cases referred to the FBI for investigation in the past 20 years. An intensive far-reaching investigation involving 56 field offices was conducted in an effort to develop completely the involvement of all persons who participated in the burglary of Democratic National Committee Headquarters and bugging of offices of Democratic officials. The case was complicated by political aspects, by sensitive interviews required of high Government officials, by top secret intelligence aspects, the destruction of pertinent records, and the intensive interest of the news media. E. Howard Hunt, Jr., pleaded guilty on 1/11/73; Bernard L. Barker, Frank A. Fiorini, Eugenio Martinez, and Virgilio Gonzalez pleaded guilty on 1/15/73; and James W. McCord, Jr. and G. Gordon Liddy were found guilty by the jury on 1/30/73. All are awaiting sentencing.

In spite of the difficulties encountered in the investigation, as a result of the outstanding work performed in this case, on 9/15/72, the Federal Grand Jury, Washington, D. C., returned an eight-count indictment charging seven defendants with violation of the Interception of Communications Statutes, Conspiracy and Burglary. All subjects went on trial in the U. S. District Court, Washington, D. C., on 1/8/73.

Memorandum to Mr. Gebhardt
Re: JAMES WALTER McCORD, JR.; ET AL.

SA Lano, case Agent from the inception of the case, personally handled numerous key interviews, coordinated efforts of the other Agents working on the case, and worked very closely with the U. S. Attorney's office in connection with the extensive grand jury inquiry conducted. SA Leary acted as case Agent in the absence of SA Lano from the office and personally handled the extremely intricate and difficult task of tracing hundreds of telephone calls made by the subjects and carefully documented their travel, as well as the disbursement of funds believed to be utilized. Supervisor Ruhl coordinated the efforts of all of the Agents assigned to the WFO investigation and closely followed each step of the case to insure all problems met were overcome.

SA Nuzum, Chief of the Unit in the Accounting and Fraud Section which supervised this case, kept in daily contact with WFO and other offices having work in the case regarding leads to be covered and problems which were encountered. He issued instructions to the field and continually prepared appropriate memoranda, letters and informative notes to alert his superiors as to developments in the case.

SA John J. Clynick assisted SA Nuzum in handling this case, marshaling the hundreds of communications received from the field and directing the work of clerical personnel in the proper handling of the communications. He devoted long hours of attention to this case which materially contributed to the successful investigation.

SA W. A. Frankenfield, the Number One Man, Accounting and Fraud Section, materially assisted in the overall supervision in this case. He devoted long hours of attention to specific aspects of this case.

Stenographers Doris T. Crockett, Anne Marie Mack and Angela A. Taylor, Accounting and Fraud Section, without regard to personal consideration for the time involved, assisted on a daily basis in the preparation of innumerable memoranda, summaries, communications to the field, and letters and informative notes. They richly deserve recognition for their outstanding work.

Re: JAMES WALTER McCORD, JR.; ET AL.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Earl J. Silbert by letter dated 2/1/73, to the Acting Director commended SA Joseph B. Parsons of our Laboratory Division for performing laboratory and field tests in connection with the devices recovered in this case. SA Parsons devoted extensive time in explaining to the AUSA the significance of his tests and results in preparing for trial testimony. SA Parsons richly deserves special recognition for his outstanding work. In addition, General Investigative Division (GID) takes special note in the work of Document Examiner William S. Oberg assigned to our Laboratory Division. SA Oberg spent numerous hours in examination of documents and his findings substantially contributed to the successful prosecution of this case. He spent long, arduous hours in the necessary performance of his duties. He surely deserves recognition for his outstanding work.

By letter dated 2/1/73, Mr. Silbert in a letter to the Acting Director commended George C. Mumford, Jr., of the Administrative Division for the preparation of numerous charts and diagrams to aid the jury in this case. Mr. Silbert stated the quality of work on these visual aids was exceptional and they served his needs perfectly. Mr. Mumford is most deserving of special recognition for his outstanding work.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That Special Agents John A. Ruhl, Angelo J. Lano and Edward R. Leary be granted incentive awards in an amount to be determined by the Administrative Division, for their outstanding performance in overcoming unusual difficulties in this case.

(2) That individual letters of commendation be directed to eight Special Agents of the Washington Field Office as recommended by SAC, WFO, and a general letter of commendation be sent to SAC in order to recognize 13 other WFO employees who were of significant assistance in this case.

Re: JAMES WALTER McCORD, JR.; ET AL.

(3) That SAs Charles A. Nuzum and John J. Clynick be given incentive awards in an amount to be determined by the Administrative Division for their effective supervision at FBIHQ which materially assisted in this case.

(4) That an individual letter of commendation be directed to SA Wayne A. Frankenfield for his excellent supervision at FBIHQ which materially assisted in this case.

(5) That individual letters of commendation be directed to stenographers Doris T. Crockett, Anne Marie Mack and Angela A. Taylor for their intelligent and skillful performance which contributed substantially to the successful prosecutive results achieved.

(6) That SAs William Oberg and Joseph B. Parsons be granted incentive awards in an amount to be determined by the Administrative Division for their outstanding performance in this most difficult case. Their Section Chiefs Churchill Downing and Wayne W. Bradley concur with the recommendations of the GID.

(7) That visual information specialist George C. Mumford, Jr., Exhibits Section, Administrative Division, be granted an incentive award in the amount to be determined by the Administrative Division for his outstanding work in the preparation of charts and diagrams in this most complicated case. Section Chief J. P. Dunphy concurs with the recommendations of the GID.

The Tampa, Los Angeles and Miami Divisions are submitting recommendations for recognition in this case by separate communications. The recommendations of the GID will be handled separately.

For the information of WFO and Minneapolis who have received no previous correspondence in referenced Yeazel case, Cyco Electronics (Cyco) manufactures devices which could be used in illegal interception of communications. A search warrant signed 2/6/73, by U. S. Magistrate Venetta S. Tassoupulos, Central District of California, was executed by Bureau Agents on 2/7/73, at Cyco, 6448 South Curryer Street, Santa Maria, California. Public records, telephone and wire monitoring devices were seized as evidence under violation of Title 18, U. S. Code 2512. Included among the records seized were warranty cards for interception of communications monitoring devices which customers of Cyco had forwarded to Cyco after purchasing the devices. The opinion of the Department and USA Los Angeles, as it now stands is to forego criminal prosecution in this case and instead, institute a civil action for forfeiture and no investigative action is to be taken at this time regarding those devices held by Cyco's customers. Neither is any forfeiture action against those customers holding the devices being considered at this time.

In view of the similarity in the surnames of J. O. McCord and Richard P. DEPARTMENT OF POLITICS

March 2, 1973

Hon. Richard Kleindienst
Attorney General
United States Department of Justice
Washington, D. C. 20535

Dear Mr. Kleindienst:

In the past you have been kind enough to arrange for me to conduct research on the Federal Bureau of Investigation through interviews with Justice Department and Bureau officials in the summer of 1971. I have continued my writing since then; and I shall soon testify before the Senate Judiciary Committee hearings on the nomination of Mr. L. Patrick Gray, III, as permanent Director.

On the first day of those hearings, Mr. Gray made an extraordinary and, as he admitted, "unprecedented" offer to the individual members of the United States Senate. He volunteered to allow any Senator to examine the entire FBI file on the Watergate investigation. This offer raises a serious question of possible invasion of the rights of privacy of those persons about whom information, charges, rumors, and accusations appear in the reports. The Senate as a whole has specifically weighed the values of individual privacy and its own legislative needs; and it has concluded that these files should be examined only by a small, carefully selected number of Senators and their staff counsel.

According to Mr. Gray's testimony, the White House requested last year that Presidential aide John Dean be provided with similar information. Mr. Gray said that he asked his own legal counsel about the request and that they advised him that, while the FBI should not volunteer such information to the White House, it had an obligation to provide it if it was requested. Nevertheless, Mr. Gray has now decided that he can volunteer such data to individual Senators. It is not clear why there is a difference between the two situations and why the Acting FBI Director should be able to go beyond the bounds of the explicit request made by the Senate.

Since Mr. Gray admitted that he had not consulted you in making his decision to open the files to every Senator, I would like your views as Attorney General and head of the Department of Justice as to whether Mr. Gray's offer is consistent with proper Department policy and the applicable legal requirements. Why is it appropriate for the Acting Director of the FBI to so volunteer Bureau files in the absence of, at the very minimum, a Senate resolution or other formal Congressional authority?

I hope you will give this matter the closest possible immediate attention.

Sincerely,
John T. Elliff

Letter from prospective witness at Mr. Gray's confirmation hearings re propriety of making Watergate investigative files available to Senators.

James Walter McCord

Your undated memorandum, captioned as above, with enclosure, received March 9, 1973, requested information or suggestions that might assist in drafting an appropriate answer to Professor Elliff's letter.

My offer was to make available to any United States Senator the entire FBI file on the Watergate investigation. Neither the file nor any material from it were to be made available to any member of a Senator's staff. The file was available only for inspection by the Senator himself in the presence of two FBI Special Agents. Those Agents were to retain custody of the file at all times; no notes could be taken by the Senator, no copies could be made, nor could any notations be made on the materials in the file itself.

This was not intended to be a publication, nor was it in fact a publication of the file.

As I stated at the time, my offer was unprecedented. As such, it was not consistent with normal Justice Department policy. As you may know, the Attorney General has since issued instructions that the file is to be made available only to certain Senators and certain staff members of both the Senate Judiciary Committee and the Senate Select Committee, and there is to be no further discussion of the substance of the Watergate investigation during the confirmation hearings.

INTERCEPTION OF COMMUNICATION

Information has just been received from SA Lano of the Washington Field Office that Assistant U. S. Attorney Earl Silbert has made a press release this afternoon refuting statements previously made by McCord that although he expected to be contacted before the trial by someone on behalf of the Government, such contact was never forthcoming. Mr. Silbert has issued a press release that refutes this.

Specifically, Mr. Silbert stated that he and the other AUSAs who handled the Watergate matter on 10/25/72, approached McCord's attorneys and advised them that the Government would accept a plea of guilty by McCord to reduce charges if (1) the plea were made before 11/7/72 (election day) and (2) if McCord would inform in open court the identities of all who were connected with the Watergate incident. According to Mr. Silbert this offer was refused by McCord.

In addition, during the first week of the trial (which began 1/8/73) McCord's attorneys were again approached with an offer by Silbert to allow McCord to plead guilty to only three of the counts against him. This offer was that McCord would plead guilty to conspiracy, burglary and wire-tapping, one count each. McCord was to understand that acceptance of the plea would have no affect on the recommendation for sentence, the plea would be made after the Government's opening statement, and after sentencing McCord was to go before the Federal grand jury and tell all he knew concerning the Watergate incident, including identifying those involved. This offer was also rejected by McCord.

SA Lano further advised that William Bittman, Hunt's attorney, issued a statement this afternoon that Hunt knows Articles appearing in several newspapers recently and most currently in "The Washington Post" on 3-29-73, captioned "Mrs. Mitchell Fears Bugging May Be Pinned on Husband" indicates that Mrs. Mitchell fears for her husband and she is "not going to let them pin anything on him" and states she can furnish names. This gives indication that she can possibly furnish names of additional individuals involved in the Watergate case.

At the beginning of the investigation in this matter, Mrs. Mitchell made several statements; however, we approached former Attorney General Mitchell to interview Mrs. Mitchell and at that time, he stated that she could furnish no information whatsoever concerning the Watergate case. Consequently, she was not interviewed.

Recent news article attached.

ACTION: Based upon Mrs. Mitchell's current statements that she can "name names," it is recommended that in the best interest of the Bureau that we determine the location of Mrs. Mitchell and immediately interview her concerning any knowledge she may have of this case, particularly regarding the naming of names.

Ms. Mitchell Fears Bugging May Be Pinned on Husband

By Bob Woodward
and Carl Bernstein
Washington Post Staff Writers
Martha X Mitchell telephoned The New York Times Tuesday and said she believes that someone is trying to make her husband, former Attorney General
John N. Mitchell, "the goat" in the Watergate bugging.

"I fear for my husband,"
the Times quoted Mrs. Mitchell as saying. "I'm really scared. I have a definite reason. I can't tell you why, but they're not going to pin anything on him. I won't let them, and I don't give a damn who gets hurt. I can name names."

Mitchell resigned as President Nixon's campaign manager on July 1 — two weeks after the June 17
Watergate arrests and immediately following a period of outbursts from his wife, who issued a public ultimatum that he leave politics.

In her call to the Times, Mrs. Mitchell recalled the events of last June in her California motel room when he was thrown to the floor, given an injection with a hypodermic needle, and had her telephone ripped from the wall.

Mrs. Mitchell, who is known for her frank and unexpected calls to reporters, also told The Times that Herbert W. Kalmbach, President Nixon's personal attorney, was involved in the arrangements to have her subdued last June.

Kalmbach and the President's former appointments secretary, Dwight L. Chapin, arranged for the hiring and payment of more than $30, 000 to alleged political sabo-teur Donald H. Segretti, according to a statement
Kalmbach gave the FBI.

According to The Times account yesterday, Mrs.
Mitchell indicated that she felt her situation was now similar to that of last June.
She said, "If you hear that I'm sick or can't talk, please, please, get your reporters out to find me. Somebody might try to shut me up."

Neither Mitchell nor Mrs.
Mitchell could be reached for comment yesterday. A source close to Mitchell said the call may have been prompted by a Newsweek article this week quoting a White House "insider" as saying that Mitchell might be available for sacrifice.

Reliable Republican sources have said that the arrest of James W. McCord inside the Watergate on June 17 and Mitchell's attempt to keep the information from his wife for two days triggered her actions last June.

McCord had provided security guards for the Mitchells and was known on a first-name basis by Mrs.
Mitchell, the sources said.

One of the guards McCord assigned to guard Mrs. Mitchell for several days last spring was ex-FBI agent
Alfred C. Baldwin III.

Baldwin became a key prosecution witness at the Watergate trial and testified that he monitored about 200 illegally wiretapped telephone calls from the Democrats' Watergate headquarters at McCord's instruction.

Reference is made to the request of Assistant United States Attorney Silbert for us to interview Mrs. Martha Mitchell.

Mr. Gray has instructed that Silbert be immediately advised as follows:

- (1) The Acting Director has approved the interview of Martha Mitchell.
- (2) The interview will be handled by the case agent, Lano, and by a senior agent also familiar with the case, whether the interview is conducted in Washington or New York City.
- (3) How does he want us to proceed? Should we go to Mr. Mitchell first or go direct to Mrs. Mitchell? Does he have any other instructions?
- (4) Is he going to advise the Department of Justice or should we?

Mr. Gray suggested that the case supervisor in the Washington Field Office might be a logical senior agent to accompany Lano. He pointed out, however, that in view of the circumstances he wanted to be sure that the senior agent was capable, experienced and sufficiently poised to handle a delicate situation. He suggested that we contact SAC McDermott to insure the right agent is assigned to accompany Lano. L.

As I indicated, as soon as the plans are made they should be cleared with me and with Mr. Gray before proceeding.

In line with your instructions in your memorandum of 3/30/73, I contacted SAC McDermott, WFO, and advised him of Mr. Gray's instructions relative to the interview of Mrs. Martha Mitchell.

At 5:40 p.m., 3/30/73, SAC McDermott called and advised Assistant U. S. Attorney (AUSA) Silbert was contacted and (1) Was advised the Acting Director had approved the interview of Martha Mitchell: (2) The interview to be handled by Case Agent Lano and a senior Agent familiar with the case whether in Washington or New York City: (3) Silbert requested we contact Mr. Mitchell and arrange for the interview of Mrs. Mitchell through him and (4) He, Silbert, will advise Assistant Attorney General Petersen of the contemplated interview of Mrs. Mitchell.

During my discussion with McDermott, I instructed that the second Agent with Lano on this interview should be experienced, smooth, cool-type Agent. If the interview was to be conducted outside of WFO, instructions should be given to the SAC in whose territory the interview was to take place.

At 5:45 p.m., 3/30/73, I advised you of the above and you instructed that plans should proceed to arrange this interview. I immediately advised SAC McDermott. It is noted by teletype 3/30/73, at 8:24 p.m., WFO advised contact had already been made as of that time with Mr. Mitchell through his office in New York and that further contact should be had with him on Monday, 4/2/73, to arrange the date, time and place of interview of Mrs. Mitchell.

Washington Field Office teletype to FBIHQ 3-30-73, contained information that Assistant U. S. Attorney (AUSA) Silbert, upon being advised of the Acting Director's approval of the interview of Mrs. Martha Mitchell concerning her knowledge of the Watergate affair, desired that contact first be made with Mr. Mitchell to arrange the time and place of interview.

The referenced teletype contained results of contact with former Attorney General Mitchell on 3-30-73 in which he said he had no objection to the interview taking place and would talk to Mrs. Mitchell on the evening of 3-30-73 and contact our Washington Field Office sometime Monday, 4-2-73, to advise date, time and place of the interview.

Acting Director Gray, upon being advised at 10:48 a. m., 3-31-73, concerning Mr. Mitchell's proposed action concerning interview arrangements, instructed that AUSA Silbert be immediately contacted and specifically asked whether this arrangement for the interview of Mrs. Mitchell is satisfactory with him. This instruction was immediately relayed to Mr. Gebhardt who, in turn, instructed SAC McDermott, WFO, to have AUSA Silbert contacted immediately.

At 11:23 a. m., 3-31-73, Assistant Director Gebhardt advised of information just received from SAC McDermott that AUSA Silbert had been contacted and was in perfect agreement with the interview arrangements outlined by Mr. Mitchell. The Acting Director was promptly advised of Mr. Silbert's concurrence.

Dear Mr. Attorney General:

I am writing to confirm Senator Baker's and my understanding of the very constructive offer you made at our meeting Friday, March 16, 1973, to allow our Committee to obtain the full benefit and results of the FBI investigation of the Watergate Case. With regard to our Committee, this information will be made available by the FBI to only four persons: myself, as Chairman; Senator Baker, as Vice Chairman; Mr. Dash, as Chief Counsel; and Mr. Thompson, as Minority Counsel.

At the earliest possible time we will receive complete summaries of all of the FBI files relating to the FBI investigation in the Watergate Case. The summaries will include a complete record of the information the FBI received from telephone companies relating to all telephone numbers and subscribers inquired into by the FBI.

After receiving these summaries, Mr. Dash, Mr. Thompson, Senator Baker, or I will be permitted at our request to examine any of the specific FBI raw data upon which the summaries are based. SUBJECT: WATERGATE
James Walter McCord

At 3:00 p. m. today, Mr. Kinley and I had a conference with Mr. Gray who had just returned from the Attorney General's Office where Mr. Gray and the Attorney General discussed the nature of the material to be furnished to the Senate Watergate Investigating Committee.

Mr. Gray advised the Attorney General instructed that only the "facts" are to be made available to this Committee. There would be no intrabureau communications, such as teletypes, memoranda, etc., and particularly no material wherein we internally analyze circumstances and situations. The Attorney General instructed that only the reports of investigation containing interview reports should be made available; however, at the outset a summary of these investigative reports should be made available.

A discussion was then held as to how to best achieve the summary under the guidelines set up by the Attorney General. I suggested to Mr. Gray that consideration be given to taking the actual synopsis of each of the 186 reports and making the synopsis available to the Committee. I pointed out that everything in the synopsis would be backed up by the details but everything mentioned in the details would not necessarily be in the synopsis. I pointed out to Mr. Gray there were probably some points not significant at the time of preparation of the report but which have become very significant at this point in time. In this connection we could have the 2 supervisors at headquarters and the 2 Agents most familiar with the case in WFO review the more pertinent 302s to make certain all of the significant points were now in the synopsis as part of the overall summary. Mr. Gray then inquired as to whether the fact that Liddy was recommended by Dean and Krogh, as set forth in the Magruder 302 interview, would be in the synopsis. I advised Mr. Gray I did not know but if it was not, these are the points we would be looking for in our review of the pertinent 302s and would add such information to the synopsis. After some discussion, Mr. Gray felt this was the correct approach but decided against actually Xeroxing the synopsis after adding pertinent information but instructed that the synopsis be retyped and when retyped, any additional pertinent information gleaned by the 4 Agents reviewing the pertinent 302s be included in the retyped synopsis. I pointed out to Mr. Gray that as in any fast-moving case such as this, we have determined that at the outset there were some 302s not included in a report and some of them have become pertinent, such as the interview of Robert Mardian. However, there is actually a 302 available. I suggested we take such pertinent 302 and prepare a synopsis of such 302 and include this in such material as part of the summary. This was agreed to.

In summary, the "summary" represented to the Committee will be a retype of the synopses of 186 reports to include any additional high points or pertinent points from the significant 302s not included in the current synopses, plus a synopsis of any 302s not included in any report.

Mr. Gray desires that this matter be expedited. I told him it may take as long as two weeks to accomplish but we would get on it right away. He desired after we have reviewed the first twenty to twenty-five reports and had the "summary" based on the synopses, etc. prepared that they should be reviewed by Mr. Kinley, Mr. Gray and myself.

Mr. Gray instructed that on our copy of the typed material should be set forth the location of the report that the synopsis refers to.

ACTION:

This matter has been discussed with Section Chief Long and it is being implemented as rapidly as possible.

Late Friday afternoon (3/30/73) we received inquiries from news media sources indicating there was a report being circulated to the effect that the FBI was not cooperating with captioned Committee and furnishing requested information. I called Rufus Edmisten, Deputy Chief Counsel of captioned Committee concerning this matter. He stated he also had received an inquiry from one newsman regarding this matter and had assured the newsman there was no truth whatever to the report since no information had as yet been requested from the FBI. It was reiterated to Edmisten that all requests from this Committee should be submitted through the Congressional Services Office and he said this will be done.

A short time later Samuel Dash, Chief Counsel of captioned Committee, telephoned to assure me there had been no statement by any person connected with the Committee to the effect that the FBI has been uncooperative. He stated he had received three inquiries on this matter, one from a broadcasting network, one from a wire service and one from a local reporter and he had assured all three there is no truth to the allegation that the FBI is being uncooperative. Dash stated the only information which had been requested to date was a summary index of persons interviewed by the FBI in the Watergate investigation. This was requested of the Attorney General on Friday, 3/16/73, when Senators Sam Ervin and Howard Baker, accompanied by Dash and Minority Counsel Fred Thompson met with the Attorney General. Dash stated Thompson had contacted the Attorney General in Arizona Friday to determine the status of this request and the Attorney General had told him he would be back in his office on Monday, 4/2/73, and would check on it.

We have, as yet, received no request from the Attorney General for the summary index desired by the Select Committee. I did not, of course, tell Dash this.

RE: SELECT COMMITTEE ON
PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN ACTIVITIES

- 3:19 pm Mr. Dash referred to a typewritten list containing a number of individuals' names and dates they had been interviewed. He stated that he believed this information had been furnished by Acting Director Gray to the U. S. Senate Judiciary Committee. In comparing his list against the FD-302s concerning interviews of Millicent Gleason and Judith Hoback, Mr. Dash observed that his listing indicated that in addition to the above described FD-302s, Gleason had also been interviewed on 7/2, 7/17, and 7/18/72, and Hoback had been interviewed on 7/25, 8/1, 8/2, and 8/31/72. He requested that he be furnished the FD-302s recording these additional interviews. Shanley telephonically contacted Mr. Kinley's office and requested that he call Shanley.
- 4:15 pm Mr. Kinley telephonically contacted Shanley and Mr. Dash's request was relayed to him. Mr. Kinley stated that he would visit Room 5244.
- 4:17 pm Mr. Kinley appeared in Room 5244 and explained to Mr. Dash that the listing that he, Dash, had included dates of interviews and dates of contacts with various individuals and that where a contact only was made there would not necessarily be an FD-302 reporting same. He advised Mr. Dash that all FD-302s recording interviews of Gleason and Hoback had been furnished to Mr. Dash and Mr. Thompson. Mr. Dash requested that if any communication(s) is available recording a contact of Gleason or Hoback where no FD-302 was available that the communication(s) be made available to him for review.
- 5:40 pm Mr. Thompson completed his review.
- 6:00 pm Mr. Dash completed his review.
- 6:03 pm Mr. Dash and Mr. Thompson left Room 5244 and were escorted to the 10th and Pennsylvania entrance by Shanley.

RE: SELECT COMMITTEE ON
PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN ACTIVITIES

During the above review Mr. Thompson commented that he was thoroughly familiar with FD-302s due to his prior employment as Assistant U. S. Attorney in Nashville, Tennessee. Mr. Dash asked three questions concerning the FD-302s: (1) concerning the physical location of the date of interview on the FD-302s; (2) the meaning of the blue pencilled term DPOB on an FD-302 (date and place of birth); and (3) the meaning of a name being underlined in green (Supervisor's flag to Records to index) which underlining was then crossed out by a wavy line (no longer necessary to index).

RECOMMENDATION: For information.

The attached advises that our Chicago office is processing one canister of undeveloped 35 millimeter TRI-X film which was obtained from Sherman Skolnick by U. S. Customs, Detroit, Michigan, when Skolnick was returning from Canada to the U. S. on 3/31/73. This film is alleged by Skolnick to have been obtained from United Airlines (UAL) Flight 553 (in which crash Mrs. E. Howard Hunt died 12/8/72) and to contain pictures of "John Mitchell - Watergate documents." Assistant Attorney General (AAG) Henry E. Petersen is aware of the film and requested it be processed by the FBI.

By way of background, Skolnick, a Chicago attorney, is a self-described legal researcher and Chairman of the Committee to Clean Up Courts. On 3/15/73, our Chicago office advised of Skolnick's complaint concerning the investigation into the crash of UAL Flight 553 stating that the plane was sabotaged in order to kill certain persons including Mrs. Hunt. On 3/27/73, Skolnick (confined to a wheelchair) and his driver were reported kidnaped during an attempt to secure a record regarding the UAL crash. As noted in the attached, Skolnick returned 3/31/73.

AAG will be advised of the results.

MRS MITCHELL SAID THE ONLY THING SHE KNEW ABOUT THE WATERGATE WAS THAT IT LEAKED.

AT THE CONCLUSION OF THE INTERVIEW, SHE STATED SHE WOULD TESTIFY BEFORE ANY FEDERAL GRAND JURY, ANYTIME, ANYPLACE, TO TELL THEM AND THE AMERICAN PEOPLE THAT THE ALLEGATIONS BEING MADE AGAINST HER, HER HUSBAND AND MEMBERS OF THE WHITE HOUSE ARE LIES.

THE ABOVE INTERVIEW WAS CONDUCTED IN THE PRESENCE OF BUREAU AGENTS, MISS SANDY HOBBS, PERSONAL SECRETARY TO JOHN MITCHELL AND MRS. KENNETH EBBITT. MRS. SUBJECT: CONFIRMATION

James W. McCord

This is to set forth briefly our knowledge of the May 1972, breakin at the Embassy of Chile, Washington, D. C., to assist in the preparation of a response to a 4/3/73, letter from Senator Birch Bayh (attached) Ind. D.C.

(1) The FBI has not investigated the alleged breakin at the Embassy of Chile since this is a local police matter and not within FBI investigative jurisdiction.

(2) Since no investigation was conducted, we have no results to furnish Senator Bayh.

(3) We have not pursued the suggestion that there might be a connection between the Embassy of Chile breakin and the Watergate case.

(4) We have not investigated the suggestion that those involved in the Watergate case may have been monitoring activities of certain Members of Congress.

The 1/7/73, "Washington Post" article (copy attached) is vague as to the details of the alleged electronic surveillance monitoring of Senators and Congressmen. The source of these charges is not identified in the 1/7/73, article. It is noted the article comments that the allegations could not be confirmed or denied. We did not conduct any investigation of these vague charges; we did not receive any specific allegation from a Senator or Congressman and we have not been requested to conduct any investigation by the Department of Justice. In absence of a specific complaint from a Senator or Congressman or a request from the Department of Justice, we would not initiate any investigation of vague charges as contained in the 1/7/73, article.

Re: CONFIRMATION

SI

As additional background, on 3/6/73, Mr. Felt received an inquiry from Bradford Mills, President, Overseas Private Investment Corporation (OPIC) concerning possible ITT involvement with some U. S. Government agency in attempting to overthrow the Allende Government in Chile. (See memorandum dated 3/6/73, Mr. Felt to the Acting Director, copy attached).

Item three in this memorandum inquires as to whether the Bureau has any confirmation of the rumor that the people who broke into the Chilean Embassy in the Spring of 1972, were employed by ITT and were the same people employed in the Watergate case.

Memorandum dated 3/7/73, F. S. Putman to Mr. Miller (copy attached) responded to Item 3 above that the Bureau had no such confirmation.

ACTION: For information.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED EXCEPT WHERE SHOWN OTHERWISE.

This memorandum is in response to Mr. Felt's memorandum to the Acting Director dated 3/6/73.

An extensive review of our files on matters relating to Chile has not revealed any affirmative information concerning the questions posed in Mr. Felt's memorandum.

1. There was no information located regarding ITT's activities in Chile relating to an attempted overthrow of the Allende Government, the waging of economic warfare against Chile, or preventing President Allende from taking office.

2. There were no documents or information located showing that U. S. Government officials requested ITT to take any of the actions mentioned above against Chile or to interfere some way in the Chilean process.

3. There was no confirmation located of the rumor that the people who broke into the Chilean Embassy in the Spring of 1972 were employed by ITT nor that they were the same people employed in the Watergate case.

No information was located which would bear on the liability of the U. S. Government to reimburse ITT for losses incurred in Chile.

TO : THE ACTING DIRECTOR

DATE: 3-6-73

FROM : W. M. FELT

SUBJECT: INTERNATIONAL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH CORPORATION (ITT)

On 3-6-73 I talked to Mr. Bradford Mills, President of the Overseas Private Investment Corporation (OPIC), a self-sustaining Government agency which is to stimulate private development in the investment world to benefit the investors, the developing countries and the United States.

OPIC has to make a decision on or before 3-19-73 on whether to make insurance payments to ITT to compensate for losses incurred as a result of the expropriation of ITT mines and smelters in Chile.

There have been news stories to the effect that ITT may have been involved with some agency in the U.S. Government in attempting to block or overthrow the Allende Government in Chile. Presumably, ITT's interest would have been to prevent the expropriation of its properties.

(1) Does the Bureau have any information regarding ITT's activities in Chile relating to an attempted overthrow of the Allende Government, the waging of economic warfare against Chile, or preventing President Allende from taking office?

(2) Does the Bureau have any documents or information showing that U.S. Government officials requested ITT to take any of the actions mentioned above against Chile or to interfere some way in the Chilean political process?

(3) Does the Bureau have any confirmation of the rumor that the people who broke into the Chilean Embassy in the spring of 1972 were employed by ITT and were the same people employed in the Watergate case?

Re: International Telephone and Telegraph

OPIC would also appreciate receiving any information which would in any way bear on the liability of the U.S. Government to reimburse ITT for losses incurred in Chile.

I told Mr. Mills that inasmuch as his was a Government corporation it would be possible to cooperate with him in this way and that we would furnish the answers to the questions, as well as any additional information we might have, as soon as possible. This matter is being assigned to the Intelligence Division for immediate handling. The results should be prepared in memorandum form to reach me no later than the close of business 3-8-73 so that I may relay the same to Mr. Mills.

Attached is the annual report of OPIC for Fiscal Year 1972.

Watergate Case Called Broad Plot

By Martin Schram

Newsday A-19

The Watergate burglary and espionage mission at Democratic Party headquarters was part of a widespread project in which documents were photographed in the Embassy of Chile and several liberal Democratic senators were kept under electronic surveillance, according to a source close to the defendants.

The operation at the Embassy of Chile, 1736 Massachusetts Ave. NW, involved three men, the source said. One pulled documents from the files, one photographed the documents, and one placed them back in the files. Embassy officials have said that last May their chancery was burglarized and the files of their ambassador and political chief were searched.

The source, a person well acquainted with the activities of the Watergate defendants, made the information available on the condition that his name not be used.

Among the senators whose activities were in some way allegedly monitored were Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.), Senate Foreign Relations Committee Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) and Sen. Frank Church (D-Idaho). This source also said that Sol Linowitz, former U.S. ambassador to the Organization of American States, was kept under similar surveillance.

While Newsday was able to confirm some of the source's statements through officials close to the investigation, allegations concerning the surveillance of senators neither could be confirmed nor denied. The seven defendants in the Watergate case go on trial Monday in the U.S. District Court here.

It also has been learned that: Federal authorities have tracked down and questioned two men who had been involved in Washington with the Watergate group but who had not been caught at the Democratic headquarters scene June 17. The two men, who have not been indicted, are Felipe de Diego, a Cuban exile and Bay of Pigs veteran now living in Miami, and Rinaldo Pico, who fled to Venezuela after the Watergate break-in and is believed still there. Pico was questioned by U.S. officials in Venezuela.

Federal investigators have obtained a daily diary that was being written by one of the Watergate defendants, Eugenio Martinez.

Existence of the diary, written without the knowledge of his codefendants, indicates that the Central Intelligence Agency—or at least a CIA case officer—may have been monitoring the activities of the Watergate team. Martinez has continued to do work for the CIA in the years following his part in the Bay of Pigs affair, according to a well-informed defense source in the case. The source says that Martinez confessed to his fellow defendants that he had been keeping the diary, at the urging of his current CIA supervisor, after it was seized by federal officials.

Investigation sources acknowledge that FBI agents found the diary in the trunk of Martinez' car, which was parked at Miami International Airport.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Earl J. Silbert declined to say whether Martinez' diary would be introduced as evidence in the Watergate trial, which opens Monday.

De Diego, 43, is a real estate salesman who was employed in Miami real estate office of Bernard L. Parker, one of the Watergate defendants.

De Diego, who was granted immunity by the grand jury investigating the case, said he told the grand jury and the FBI that he had come to Washington last May with Pico and the four Watergate defendants from the Miami area (Barker, Martinez, Frank Sturzis and Virgilio R. Gonzales). He said that he believed he and his friends were waiting to see someone from the government—he did not know whom—and that when no one showed up, they flew back home to Miami.

While in Washington, de Diego maintained, he never met James W. McCord Jr., E. Howard Hunt Jr. or G. Gordon Liddy, the other three Watergate defendants. McCord, the former security consultant for the President's reelection committee, was arrested inside the Watergate on June 17 with the four defendants from Miami.

While de Diego said he had no knowledge of any sub rosa activities by the group while he was in Washington last May, other defense sources said the group was quite busy during that period.

During the weekend of May 13-14, the chancery of the Embassy of Chile was burglarized. Paulo Valdes, first secretary of the embassy, said yesterday that the embassy has had "no reaction from police" since the burglary and that his government has not been told who committed the act.

JOHN N. MITCHELL, former Attorney General, Department of Justice, telephonically contacted SA ANGELO J. LANO while he, SA LANO, was in the office of Assistant United States Attorney EARL J. SILBERT.

Mr. MITCHELL said he understood that SA LANO desired to speak to MRS. MITCHELL in regards to the Watergate Case. SA LANO told Mr. MITCHELL that this came up as a result of an interview MRS. MITCHELL had with a reporter in New York, wherein she was quoted by United Press International on September 27, 1972 that she was going to write a book about the Watergate case when it was over. SA LANO informed MR. MITCHELL that the request to interview his wife, had been presented to Assistant Attorney General HENRY E. PETERSEN, and he approved of the interview and asked the FBI to clear it through Mr. MITCHELL, as he felt there would be no objection to the interview.

Mr. MITCHELL said his wife was misquoted and that as he told the FBI before, neither he nor his wife have any information about the case. MR. MITCHELL said he never received any information from any of the subjects in this case, and neither did his wife. He said that MRS. MITCHELL was being interviewed by a reporter in connection with a story, not in anyway connected with this case. And during that interview, she was misquoted by the reporter. Mr. MITCHELL said that if SA LANO felt it was necessary to interview MRS. MITCHELL, and if SA LANO felt he had to go through with the interview, MR. MITCHELL would have her come down to Washington, D.C. where SA LANO could then interview her. SA LANO informed Mr. MITCHELL that he did not think the matter had to go any further and that he was satisfied there was nothing to the article.

~~JEB STUART MAGRUDER~~, Director of Policy and Development, U.S. Department of Commerce, was interviewed in connection with another investigation being conducted at the request of the Department of Justice. During the course of that interview, MAGRUDER furnished the following information regarding a prior interview he had with the FBI in July, 1972.

MAGRUDER advised that he wanted the prior interview to be clearly understood on certain key points. One of those was that he was never the CREP's Official Campaign Director only an Interim Director. He was however, the director of certain organizations within the Committee to Re-elect the President. Mr. JOHN MITCHELL and/or CLARKE MAC GREGOR were always the persons directly in charge.

Secondly he stated he did not control overall disbursements for the entire Committee, but only for those activities for which he directed. He stated final authority for expending funds, always rested with JOHN MITCHELL or CLARKE MAC GREGOR.

MAGRUDER further advised that he has only been involved in six campaigns in twelve years and noted that the previous interview revealed he was involved in twelve campaigns.

MAGRUDER continues by stating that he made several disbursements as director of certain activities. He gave as an example the disbursement to ~~VICTOR LASKE~~^{V.C.}. This disbursement was made in cash as requested by LASKE, but the authorization to pay LASKE for certain work done, came from the White House. MAGRUDER said several disbursements were made in cash and several were by cashier's checks which is also a form of cash. He stated this latter form was always used by the news media because that was the way they requested it be handled. MAGRUDER said such funds would come from HUGH SLOAN, and he always felt SLOAN was recording these disbursements, but has since determined that he was not.

MAGRUDER advised that although SLOAN maintained a cash fund or "cash on hand" fund, MAGRUDER himself, also had monies available which were received from SLOAN at his request, solely to pay out certain disbursements. These type of disbursements were those handled by HERBERT PORTER. One example he cited would have been the disbursement of approximately $300 to a group known as ~~X~~ "Peace and Freedom" which was instrumental in publishing a pamphlet entitled "Why a Liberal Should Vote for MC GOVERN." He stated as such, he expended approximately $30,000. This was during the entire campaign, and not in a short time span as previously inferred.

Returning to the LASKE disbursement for a moment, MAGRUDER recalled that HUGH SLOAN and FRED LA RUE were present when MAGRUDER gave LASKE the money.

Again referring to money that he expended or had control over, MAGRUDER advised that this money, received from SLOAN, was maintained in a safe in HERBERT PORTER's possession.

In connection with the hiring of GEROGE GORDON LIDDY at the Committee for the Re-election of the President, MAGRUDER stated that there arose a need to have an attorney available to handle questions on the new Federal Campaign laws. About the first of December, 1971, he spoke with JOHN WESLEY DEAN, III, Counsel to the President, in person, about this problem at the Committee. At that time, DEAN mentioned to him that GEORGE GORDON LIDDY, then on the staff at the White House, was an attorney, and former FBI Agent, and might just be the person MAGRUDER would need. MAGRUDER says this discussion may have also involved the security of surrogate candidates and the problems that they were being confronted with at that particular time. He stated he may have mentioned to DEAN at that time about the need to gather intelligence about groups bent on making trouble for the surrogates, but cannot recall. In any case, if it was mentioned, the word intelligence meant to him, that he wanted information as to who, what, when and where people may plan or in fact attempt to engage in any type of disruption. MAGRUDER then said that the up coming convention was weighing heavily on his mind and that security for the convention would also be his, MAGRUDER's, responsibility.

MAGRUDER said he was not committed at that time to LIDDY, but on another occasion, he had telephonically spoken with EGIL "BUD" KROGH of the White House Staff, KROGH also recommended LIDDY for the position of Attorney with the Committee.

MAGRUDER said he then agreed to meet with DEAN and LIDDY. A meeting took place at his, MAGRUDER's, office on December 10, 1971. This, according to MAGRUDER, was in the form of an interview, and no discussion about "Intelligence gathering" was mentioned. He stated the following Monday, December 13, 1971, he hired LIDDY as the attorney for the committee.

MAGRUDER advised that on December 29, 1971, he, PORTER and LIDDY had a meeting in his office. At this time, MAGRUDER brought up the subject of "intelligence gathering" and explained to LIDDY what he wanted. LIDDY said he could handle it. PORTER was then given the assignment of determining how much money and manpower would be needed. PORTER arrived at a figure of $100,000. However, in view of the possibility of disruption at the convention site, MAGRUDER authorized the expenditure of $250,000 to LIDDY. He recalled during this discussion that LIDDY told him, "In this type of work, you don't have to know the identity of the personnel." (MAGRUDER took that to mean that LIDDY would be hiring people and their identities would be unknown to MAGRUDER and the committee.)

MAGRUDER said that there definitely was a budget for LIDDY and that budget was $250,000. He stated he was completely taken by surprise when he learned that LIDDY had used up $249,000 of the authorized expenditures, but was more shocked to learn that HUGH SLOAN was not recording or obtaining receipts from LIDDY.

He stated it was his understanding that any money expended for any reason, was receipted to or by SLOAN.

MAGRUDER concluded by stating that if there was any additional information desired about funding or receipting of money from SLOAN to LIDDY, HERBERT PORTER may be able to assist in that explanation.

HERBERT LLOYD PORTER, Executive Director of the Presidential Inaugural Committee, was located and interviewed at 2nd and T Streets, S.W., the office of the above committee. PORTER was being interviewed regarding a request from the Department of Justice. During the course of that interview, PORTER voluntarily furnished the following information:

PORTER stated around May 8, 1972 after the President ordered the mining of the Haiphong Harbor, PHILLIP JOANOU, then Director of the Ad Agency at the Committee for the Re-Election of the President, came to him and requested $4,400 to run an ad. PORTER said he didn't have that kind of money and asked JEB STUART MAGRUDER whether it would be possible to turn over funds of that amount to JOANOU. MAGRUDER approved and PORTER went to the Treasurer, HUGH WALTER SLOAN, JR. and obtained the money. PORTER said he did not receipt the money from SLOAN. He then gave the money to JOANOU. To his knowledge, this transaction was not recorded by SLOAN as it probably should have been.

Again in May, 1972, KENNETH REITZ, then Director of the YOUNG Voters for the President, came to him and requested between $400 to $450 for a project he was working on. PORTER said he told REITZ he didn't have the money, but would check into it. About a week later, probably early June, 1972, REITZ reminded him of the request. PORTER went to HUGH WALTER SLOAN, JR. and obtained the money. He believes he gave $400 to REITZ and put the remaining $50.00 in his safe. Again he believes that SLOAN did not record this as he did not receipt the money to SLOAN.

PORTER advised that he has now learned that REITZ is the person referred to in the recent newspaper articles involving a committee employee named GORTON and an alleged undercover operator named BRILL. He believes that this money obtained from him, was for the above purpose of paying GORTON.

PORTER recalled that on another occasion after the Haiphong harbor mining, ~~ROBERT~~ ODLE, then Director of Administration, at the Committee, came to him and requested a total of $4,000. Each request was in the amount of $2,000.00. PORTER went to HUGH SLOAN for each $2,000 request and turned the money over to ODLE. Each time PORTER did not receipt the money to SLOAN.

PORTER said he did not question ODLE about the use of the money, but later learned that it was utilized to pay the costs of postage, post cards, telephone calls and telegrams sent during the above period seeking support for the President's decision.

PORTER said that he first came to the Committee in May, 1971. Over that period of time until March, 1972, he received approximately $52,000 from HUGH WALTER SLOAN, JR. and expended $50,000. He knows the figures to be accurate because around April 7, 1972, he and SLOAN balanced out. At that time he had $2,000 left.

After April 7, 1972, he received about another $11,000 from SLOAN and until the Watergate Case began, around June 20, 1972, he expended that money plus the remaining previous $2,000.

He said that between December 1971 and March 1972, he gave GEORGE CORDON LIDDY approximately $35,000.

In connection with KEN REITZ, PORTER said he gave REITZ $300.00 on REITZ's initial contact. That money was already in PORTER's safe and he did not have to go to SLOAN for it. Since the story about GORTON and BRILL was printed in the newspapers, he has discussed the matter with REITZ and learned that REITZ was in fact paying GORTON's expenses.

PORTER further stated that the original reason behind the June 15-17, 1972 trip to California by the MITCHELLS', MARDIANS', PORTERS', and MAGRUDERS', was a party being given from a high ranking person in California named SCHREIBER. The party was to be in the honor of HENRY KISSENGER, but the President cancelled KISSENGER's plans and sent him out on another mission. The President himself did not attend, but instead, he sent the First Lady. He stated he knows that there was great talk about all the influential Committee personnel being in California at the time of the Watergate break-in, but that was the reason for it being so.

On January 8, 1973, the trial of the seven persons indicted in this case began before Chief Judge JOHN J. SIRICA in U.S. District Court, Washington, D. C. (WDC).

On January 10, 1973, EVERETTE HOWARD HUNT advised the court he wished to withdraw his plea of not guilty and plead guilty to counts 1, 2 and 8 of the indictment, (count 1, is Conspiracy, Title 18, Section 371, U.S. Code, Count 2 is D.C. Code Section 1801 (b) Housebreaking, Count 8, is Title 18, Section 2511, U.S. Code). Judge SIRICA took the plea under advisement.

On January 11, 1973, Judge SIRICA advised Mr. HUNT that he was unwilling to accept the plea as proposed. Whereupon, Mr. HUNT then entered a plea of guilty to the six counts of the indictment in which he is charged. HUNT was held in lieu of $100,000 bond.

On January 15, 1973, subjects, BARKER, MARTINEZ, STURGIS and GONZALEZ, withdrew their not guilty pleas and entered pleas of guilty to all counts of the indictment in which they are charged. Judge SIRICA ordered the four defendants from Florida committed without bail.

On January 30, 1973 the jury in this case returned a verdict finding as follows:

GEORGE GORDON LIDDY guilty on counts 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 8.

As to the Defendant MC CORD, the jury found him guilty as follows:

Counts 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8.

After the verdict, Judge SIRICA ordered the defendants committed to the custody of the U.S. Marshall pending a pre-sentence report.

On February 2, 1973, Judge SIRICA set bail for GEORGE GORDON LIDDY and JAMES WALTER MC CORD, JR. at $100,000 each.

On March 23, 1973, Chief Judge JOHN J. SIRICA imposed the following sentences:

GEORGE GORDON LIDDY -

Count 1, Title 18, Section 371 U.S. Code - twenty months to five years plus $10,000 fine.

Counts 2 and 3, Title 22, D.C. Code, Section 1801 (b) not less than five years and not more than 15 years, concurrently with count (1).

Counts 4, 5, and 8, Title 18, Section 2511, U.S. Code not less than twenty months, nor more than five years, and a $10,000 fine on each count. These are concurrent with each other and consecutive with counts 1, 2, and 3.

The cumulative total being, that the Defendant LIDDY serve a sentence of not less than six years, eight months and not more than twenty years, and that he pay a fine of $40,000. LIDDY was then committed to the custody of the Attorney General.

Judge SIRICA then sentenced EVERETTE HOWARD HUNT, JR., BERNARD L. BARKER, FRANK A. STURGIS, EUGENIO R. MARTINEZ and VIRGILIO R. GONZALEZ to the maximum sentence allowable. They were ordered committed to the custody of the Attorney General under the provisions of Title 18, Section 4208 (B).

Judge SIRICA advised the above five individuals that he would impose final sentence at the completion of their study.

On an oral request to the court, JAMES WALTER MC CORD, JR. requested a delay of one week in his sentencing. The request was granted.

AT THE EARLIEST POSSIBLE DATE. MR. MITCHELL STATED THAT HE

MORNING OF 4-2, MRS. MITCHELL TELEPHONICALLY CONTACTED SA

DISSATISFACTION WITH THE WAY THE WATERGATE MATTER WAS PRESENTLY BEING HANDLED. SA LANO EXPLAINED TO HER THAT HE HAD NO OTHER WAY OF CONTACTING HER EXCEPT THROUGH HER HUSBAND SINCE HE DID NOT POSSESS HER PRIVATE TELEPHONE NUMBER AND THAT AGAIN, HE DID NOT THINK IT INAPPROPRIATE TO MAKE THE REQUEST THROUGH MR. MITCHELL AS A COMMON COURTESY. AS THE CONVERSATION PROGRESSED, MRS MITCHELL BECAME LESS CONTENTIOUS AND WAS SOMEWHAT MOLLIFIED. SHE AGREED TO MAKE HERSELF AVAILABLE FOR INTERVIEW AT HER NEW YORK APARTMENT AT TWO PM THE NEXT DAY, 4-3-73, WHILE DISCLAIMING ANY KNOWLEDGE OF THE "BUGGING". SHE INDICATED, HOWEVER, THAT SHE WAS GOING TO TAPE RECORD THE INTERVIEW.

SA LANO THEREAFTER DISCUSSED THIS TELEPHONE CONVERSATION WITH ME AND I INSTRUCTED HIM TO PROCEED TO NEW YORK, AS THE BUREAU HAD AUTHORIZED, TO INTERVIEW MRS. MITCHELL AND TO ATTEMPT TO CONVINCHE HER OF THE UNDESIRABILITY AND LACK OF NECESSITY OF RECORDING THE CONVERSATION. I INSTRUCTED SA LANO, HOWEVER, THAT IF IT BECAME CLEAR TO HIM THAT MRS. MITCHELL WOULD NOT SUBMIT TO INTERVIEW UNLESS SHE COULD TAPE RECORD SAME THAT HE WAS TO PROCEED WITH THE INTERVIEW, CONFINING HIS QUESTIONS TO THOSE AREAS SPECIFIED BY THE BUREAU. THIS WAS DONE. INTERVIEW OF MRS. MITCHELL UNDER THAT CONDITION AS I REALIZED THAT THE INTERVIEW OF MRS. MITCHELL WAS NECESSARY SO THAT SA LANO COULD BE PREPARED TO TESTIFY CONCERNING SAME BEFORE THE FEDERAL GRAND JURY IN WASHINGTON, D. C. THE ATMOSPHERE AT THE TIME OF THE INTERVIEW WAS BOTH HARMONIOUS AND CONGENIAL AND THE RESULTS WERE NEGATIVE.

IN HER TELEPHONE CALL TO SA LANO ON MONDAY, 4-2-73, MRS. MITCHELL INDICATED THAT SHE DESIRED HER INTERVIEW WITH SA LANO TO BE RECORDED SO THAT THE RESULTS COULD NOT POSSIBLY BE DISTORTED AND SO THAT THERE WOULD BE A RELIABLE RECORD AVAILABLE TO HER. SHE THEN INDICATED DISPLEASURE ABOUT HAVING BEEN SO WIDELY MISQUOTED IN THE NEWS MEDIA.

THE ONLY CONDITION CONCERNING THE INTERVIEW ON 4-3-73 PREVIOUSLY SET DOWN BY MRS. MITCHELL RELATED TO HER DESIRE TO HAVE THE INTERVIEW TAPE RECORDED.

AS TO WHY OTHER PERSONS WERE PRESENT DURING THE INTERVIEW, MRS. MITCHELL INDICATED THAT SHE DESIRED MISS SANDY HOBBS, HER HUSBAND'S PERSONAL SECRETARY, TO BE PRESENT TO TAPE RECORD THE CONVERSATION. MISS SANDY HOBBS SEPARATELY TOLD SA LANO THAT MRS. KENNETH EBBITT WAS A VERY CLOSE PERSONAL FRIEND OF MRS. MITCHELL WHO HAS BEEN SPENDING A GREAT DEAL OF TIME WITH HER AND THAT MRS. EBBITT HAD BEEN PRESENT ON A NUMBER OF OCCASIONS

WHEN MRS. MITCHELL HAD TELEPHONICALLY CONTACTED REPRESENTATIVES OF NEWS MEDIA. MRS. MITCHELL TOLD SA LANO THAT MRS. EBBITT WOULD BE ABLE TO ASSIST HER IN CLARIFYING ANY STATEMENT ATTRIBUTED TO HER BY NEWS MEDIA. MISS HOBBS INFORMED SA LANO THAT MRS. EBBITT IS A STABILIZING INFLUENCE WHO LENDS MORAL SUPPORT TO MRS. MITCHELL.

SA LANO WAS CLEARLY AUTHORIZED BY ME TO PROCEED WITH THE INTERVIEW OF MRS. MITCHELL AS HE DID. THERE WAS NO FOREKNOWLEDGE ON SA LANO'S PART THAT MRS. EBBITT OR MISS HOBBS WOULD BE PRESENT DURING THE INTERVIEW. HOWEVER, I CONCUR IN HIS DECISION TO CONTINUE WITH THE INTERVIEW WITH THOSE PERSONS PRESENT UNDER THE CIRCUMSTANCES, ESPECIALLY SINCE MRS. MITCHELL, IN HER PHONE CONVERSATION WITH SA LANO ON THE MORNING OF 4-2-73, CLEARLY INDICATED THAT THE RESULTS OF THE INTERVIEW WOULD BE STRICTLY NEGATIVE.

 On 3/30/73, Mr. John Mitchell was telephonically contacted in New York by SA Lano, WFO, to arrange interview of his wife. He stated he would discuss matter with Mrs. Mitchell over weekend and call SA Lano 4/2/73. On 4/2/73, Mrs. Mitchell telephonically contacted SA Lano, was very indignant, but after discussion with SA Lano became less contentious and agreed to make herself available for interview at her New York apartment at 2 p. m., 4/3/73. She disclaimed any knowledge of the "bugging" and indicated she was going to tape record the interview so the results could not possibly be distorted and there would be a reliable record available to her. She indicated displeasure about having been so widely misquoted in the news media. ms

SA Lano discussed this telephone conversation with SAC McDermott who instructed SA Lano to attempt to convince Mrs. Mitchell of the undesirability and lack of necessity of recording the conversation; however, if she would not submit to an interview unless it was recorded, he should proceed with the interview, confining his questions to the area specified by FBIHQ. FBIHQ was not notified in advance of the proposed tape recording of the interview.

N.Y.
 When he contacted Mrs. Mitchell, SA Lano found she desired Mr. Mitchell's personal secretary, Miss Sandy Hobbs, to be present to tape record the conversation and Miss Hobbs told SA Lano that Mrs. Kenneth Ebbitt, a very close personal friend of Mrs. Mitchell and who is a stabilizing influence and lends moral support to Mrs. Mitchell, would also be present. SA Lano had no foreknowledge these ladies would be present and did not contact FBIHQ concerning these conditions.

SAC McDermott was telephonically contacted by Gebhardt at 4 p. m. today concerning the following: He was asked if AUSA Silbert was aware of these conditions set by Mrs. Mitchell prior to the interview. Silbert was not aware of these conditions. McDermott was asked if

Gebhardt to Felt memo
Re: WATERGATE

SA Lano advised Silbert of the recording in the presence of two persons during the interview. The answer is he has been so advised. McDermott was asked what Silbert's recommendations were. McDermott advised Silbert has stated he had no objection and is completely satisfied with the conditions of the interview. Silbert did inquire as to whether Mrs. Mitchell was willing to come before a grand jury. Silbert was advised by SA Lano that Mrs. Mitchell stated she would be willing to appear anywhere at any time before any body and repeat what she had told Lano. Silbert then stated he would take it under advisement as to whether to bring her before a grand jury.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

The conditions set by Mrs. Mitchell under normal circumstances are certainly not desirable. However, in view of her comments to the news media on several occasions, it appeared good judgment on the part of the interviewing Agent to resolve this matter once and for all as to whether she had any information concerning the Watergate case. The AUSA is satisfied with the interview and has the matter of bringing her before a grand jury under advisement. It is therefore felt no further action should be taken even though FBIHQ was not advised in advance of the conditions of interview.

MOTION OF DEFENDANT E. HOWARD HUNT FOR RETURN OF PROPERTY AND TO SUPPRESS EVIDENCE

Defendant E. Howard Hunt (hereinafter referred to as "Hunt"), pursuant to Rule 41(e) of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure, moves the Court for an Order requiring the government to return certain property wrongfully seized by agents of the government without warrant or consent, from the private office of Hunt located at Room 338, Old Executive Office Building, Washington, D.C., including certain letters, notebooks, pictures and jewelry. Defendant further moves for suppression of all such property as evidence and for an evidentiary hearing to determine the facts and circumstances of such unconstitutional seizure and to ascertain the use and disposition of the seized documents and the fruits therefrom. The ground for defendant's Motion is set forth in the Memorandum of Points and Authorities and supporting Affidavit of E. Howard Hunt, attached hereto and incorporated herein by reference.

II.

RELIEF REQUESTED

Defendant Hunt would request that a hearing be held to establish, first, the circumstances of the unlawful search, whether the government was acting under a warrant, consent or other valid authority, and precisely what property was illegally seized from Hunt's private office. Upon the Court's finding that the search and seizure violated Hunt's Fourth Amendment rights, further evidentiary proceedings should be held to determine to what extent the seized property and the fruits thereof were used in the course of the government's investigation and preparation of this case.

Under Rule 41(e), as amended, the Court should then enter an order directing the government to return the property taken from the private office of Hunt and suppressing all such evidence and the fruits thereof from introduction into evidence in these proceedings.

III.

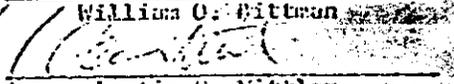

CONCLUSION

On the basis of the foregoing, it is respectfully submitted that the Motion of Defendant E. Howard Hunt for Return of Property and to Suppress Evidence should be granted.

referred to simply, investigators conducted a search and seized records from an office shared by the defendant and several other union officials over protest and without a warrant. DeForte was later indicted, the seized material was used against him at trial, and he was convicted. The record revealed that the papers seized did not belong to DeForte, that the office was not used exclusively by him, but that he had custody of the papers when they were seized. On the basis of the foregoing, the Court ruled that the defendant did have standing to assert the Fourth Amendment, that the search and seizure was unlawful, and that the evidence should have been suppressed:

"We hold that in these circumstances DeForte had Fourth Amendment standing to object to the admission of the papers at trial. It has long been settled that one has standing to object to a search of his office, as well as of his home. [Citations omitted.] Since the Court in Jones v. United States, supra, explicitly did away with the requirement that to establish standing one must show legal possession or ownership of the searched premises, see 362 U.S. at 265-267, it seems clear that if DeForte had occupied a 'private' office in the union headquarters, and union records had been seized from a desk or a filing cabinet in that office, he would have standing." [Emphasis added] Id. at 369.

After the Mancusi decision, there can be no doubt that Hunt is entitled to suppression of any evidence, and the fruits thereof, taken from his private office without a warrant in June, 1972. First, the materials taken from Hunt belonged to him (although it would be irrelevant even if they did not because they were in his custody). Second, Hunt was in exclusive control of the office from which his property was seized. Third, most of the property seized was in a locked safe, which the government was required to enter by force. These facts lead to the inevitable conclusion that Hunt's standing to contest the flagrant activities of the government in this case is that of a successful defendant in Mancusi.

by the government without a warrant and without the consent of Hunt. Counsel for Hunt has taken vigorous exception to the unlawful procedures followed by the government described above and has demanded return of the property seized, which demand has been refused by the government.

I.

THE EXCLUSIONARY RULE PROHIBITS THE ADMISSION AT TRIAL OF THE EVIDENCE
UNCONSTITUTIONALLY SEIZED FROM HUNT AND ANY FRUITS THEREOF

The United States Supreme Court held in Weeks v. U.S., 232 U.S. 383 (1914), that evidence seized in violation of the Fourth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution must be excluded by the federal courts in the prosecution of one whose rights were violated. The purpose of the exclusionary rule is to discourage the violation of the Fourth Amendment by forbidding the government to benefit from searches and seizures which violate the Fourth Amendment. As stated by the Supreme Court in Elkins v. U.S., 364 U.S. 206, 217 (1960):

"The rule is calculated to prevent, not to repair. Its purpose is to deter -- to compel respect for the constitutional guaranty in the only effectively available way -- by removing the incentive to disregard it."

Thus, the exclusionary rule of Weeks, supra, has been expanded to include tangible evidence obtained by the government as a result of information provided by an illegal search and seizure and verbal evidence that is likewise "fruit of the poisonous tree." Nardone v. U.S., 308 U.S. 338 (1939); and Wong Sun v. U.S., 371 U.S. 471 (1963).

In the present case, agents of the government entered the private office of defendant Hunt, obtained access to his safe by drilling and opening it and took property belonging to Hunt from his safe and desk -- all without a search warrant or the knowledge or permission of Hunt. It is further understood that the property so unlawfully seized from Hunt, and the fruits therefrom, were used by the government during its investigation of this case and it is reasonable to expect that it will be introduced as evidence at trial.

Defendant Hunt emphasizes that the office searched by the government was occupied exclusively by him at the time of the wrongful search and seizure; that the property taken belonged to him, or at the very least was in his exclusive custody and control; and that most of the property taken (see note 1, supra) was located in a closed and locked safe maintained by Hunt, which the government drilled to force access. Under these circumstances, Hunt was the victim of an extraordinarily reckless and cavalier venture by the government, clearly violative of his Fourth Amendment rights.

There can be no question that Hunt is a "person aggrieved by an unlawful search and seizure" within the meaning of Rule 41(e), F.R.Cr.P. (amended effective October 1, 1972), thereby granting him standing to move the Court for return of property. The Supreme Court stated in Jones v. U.S., 362 U.S. 257, 261 (1960):

"In order to qualify as a 'person aggrieved by an unlawful search and seizure one must have been a victim of a search or seizure,' one against whom the search was directed...."

There can be no doubt that the search of Hunt's private office was "directed" at Hunt.

Any further question as to standing in this matter is resolved by the decision of the Supreme Court in Mancusi v. DeForto, 352 U.S. 118 (1956). In that case, the defendant, DeForto, was vice president of a local Teamsters Union, and was indicted on charges of conspiracy, racketeering and extortion. Prior to the indictment, a sub-

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES IN SUPPORT OF MOTION FOR RETURN OF PROPERTY AND TO SUPPRESS EVIDENCE

The following facts, urges as support for this Motion, are supported by the Affidavit of E. Howard Hunt, attached hereto and incorporated herein by reference.

From approximately July 6, 1971 through June, 1972, Hunt was employed as a consultant to the White House, working on special projects from time to time as requested. Because he was thus employed, he was assigned a private office, over which he maintained exclusive control at all times pertinent hereto, in the Old Executive Office Building, known as Room 338. Hunt further maintained exclusive custody and control over a safe, desk and other appointments located in his private office where he kept books, records, papers and other items of personal property belonging to him. During the month of June, 1972, the government caused Hunt's private office to be searched in connection with the investigation of this case and unlawfully seized therefrom certain articles of personal property located in the locked safe and desk of Hunt. ^{1/} The foregoing search and seizure was carried on ^{1/} These items include one "Hermes" notebook and one "Name-Finder" notebook containing personal information of Hunt, letters, picture and other items all belonging to and then upon the possession of Hunt and subject of Hunt. Such information and belief, if any property may have been removed; but since the Court has ordered all pretrial motions to be filed on or before October 11, 1972, defendant Hunt has been unable to discover the precise identity thereof.

Upon information and belief, the property unlawfully seized and investigative leads from such property have been used by the government in connection with its investigation of this case, which resulted in the instant indictment;

At no time was I requested to give nor did I give consent or authorization to anyone to search my office at the Old Executive Office Building or seize any of my property located therein;

At no time did I ever abandon any of the property that was in my private office nor was it my intention to do so;

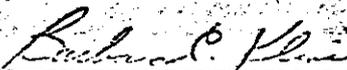

I instructed my attorney, William O. Bittman, to demand from the government information as to the circumstances under which the aforesaid search and seizure was conducted and to demand return of the seized property, both of which demands were refused by the government;

And further affiant saith naught.

Criminal Case No. 1827-72

GEORGE GORDON LIBDY, ET AL. :

OPPOSITION TO DEFENDANT HUNT'S MOTION FOR RETURN OF PROPERTY AND TO SUPPRESS EVIDENCE

The United States, by its attorney, the United States Attorney for the District of Columbia, in opposition to the defendant Hunt's motion for the return of seized property and to suppress evidence, respectfully represents as follows:

For the reasons outlined below, we submit that the entry of Room 338 in the Old Executive Office Building, and the seizure of property therein, were reasonable within the terms of the Fourth Amendment. Accordingly, any items from among such property sought to be introduced in evidence by the United States should not be suppressed.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

In July of 1971, the defendant Hunt, a former employee of the Central Intelligence Agency, was retained, as a White House consultant. His job was to review certain classified documents, later to become known as the Pentagon Papers, to determine which of these documents were appropriate for declassification. The defendant also worked in the area of narcotics importation. Hunt was given an office, Room 333 of the Old Executive Office building, which he was permitted to use in conjunction with his consulting duties. White House personnel records indicate that his services as a consultant were last used on March 29.

The break-in at the Watergate occurred during the early morning hours of Saturday, June 17, 1972. Two agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation interviewed Hunt at his home on June 17, and one of the agents spoke with him again by telephone on June 19, 1972. Hunt's employer, Robert F. Bennett, saw Hunt at work on June 19 in the District of Columbia, but Hunt left work early that day. The next day, however, Mr. Bennett received a long-distance telephone call from Hunt who said he was in New York City. At that time, Hunt told Bennett that he would return to work on June 21, 1972, but he did not. On Tuesday, June 20, 1972, Hunt was in Los Angeles, California, using an assumed name. Again using an alias, Hunt left Los Angeles, returned to California a few days later, and then left again toward the end of the month.

On Monday, June 19, 1972, John W. Dean, III, Legal Counsel to the President, having received information that Hunt, an alleged White House employee, was possibly linked to the Watergate break-in, attempted to determine whether Hunt was in fact employed at the White House. He discovered that Hunt had been employed as a consultant to work on national security matters relating to the Pentagon Papers and international narcotics trafficking, that he had been assigned an office in the Old Executive Office Building (Room 338), and that he was no longer employed as a consultant. Mr. Dean was anxious to know whether Hunt had complied with established procedures to turn over all White House papers and files upon termination, particularly because of the sensitive nature of the matters on which Hunt had been working, and because of Hunt's possible implication in the Watergate break-in. Accordingly, Mr. Dean instructed Bruce Kehrli, staff secretary to the President, to go to Hunt's former office in the Old Executive Office Building and to retrieve whatever documents were there. At the time Mr. Dean issued these orders, he had not yet received any inquiries from law enforcement officials regarding Hunt.

Mr. Kehrli entered Room 338 of the Old Executive Office Building late in the afternoon or early evening of June 19. There were no pictures on the walls, the desk top was clean and the desk drawers contained only office supplies such as stationery and paper clips. Mr. Kehrli noticed a safe in the office but it was locked with a combination lock, and the combination was not on file.^{1/} In order to obtain the papers which he was instructed to retrieve, Mr. Kehrli arranged with the General Services Administration to have its employees move the safe to a storage area and open it. For security reasons, the safe was opened in the presence of a Secret Service Agent. Before removing items from the safe, Mr. Kehrli called Mr. Dean's office, and, in Mr. Dean's absence, Mr. Fred Fielding, Assistant to the Legal Counsel to the President, (Mr. Dean's principal assistant), responded to the storage area and assisted Mr. Kehrli in removing articles from the safe and placing them in cartons. Because of the lateness of the hour, these boxes were moved to Mr. Kehrli's office in the West Wing of the White House where they would be secure overnight.

^{1/} It was not unusual for the combination to the safe not to be on file since Hunt had been working with classified documents and an executive order provides that knowledge of combinations shall be limited to the minimum number of persons necessary for operating purposes and that the records of combinations shall be classified no lower than the highest category of classified defense material authorized for storage in the supporting equipment concerned Exec. Order No. 10501 § 5(e), 3 C.F.R. 314 (1972).

On Tuesday, June 20, 1972, Mr. Kehrli instructed that the cartons be removed from his office and taken to the office of John Dean. Mr. Dean sorted through the boxes in order to determine whether there was any classified material contained therein. There were a number of envelopes and file folders stamped with classified designations which, upon opening, were found in fact to contain classified matter, most of it relating to the Pentagon Papers. There was also a black attache case among the material which had been removed from the safe, and Mr. Dean opened it in order to see whether it too contained classified material. Upon opening the case, he saw in plain view a large amount of electronic equipment, as well as written matter, pamphlets and instruction booklets relating to electronic equipment. Mr. Dean placed items such as office supplies in a cardboard box which he left on the floor in his office, but he placed the classified material and the attache case in file cabinets where they would be safer. All the material seized from Room 338 of the Old Executive Office Building was subsequently turned over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.^{2/}

ARGUMENT

The defendant Hunt complains of a seizure from an office in the Old Executive Office Building, which is in effect an annex to the White House, the home and office of the President of the United States. The defendant has no standing to allege a Fourth Amendment violation. While, "[i]t has long been settled that one has standing to object to a search of his office, as well as of his home," Mancusi v. DeForte, 392 U.S. 364, 369 (1968), Hunt had performed no services since March 29, 1972; surely by June 19, 1972, the day of the search, Room 338 was no longer "a constitutionally protected area from which he had a right to be free of unlawful governmental intrusion." Baker v. United States, 401 F.2d 958, 983-984 (D.C. Cir. 1968).

^{2/} Unlike the defendant Hunt, the Government has not filed affidavits in support of its proffered facts, because such affidavits have absolutely no effect on either the burden of proceeding or the burden of proof, both of which always remain with the moving party. Rule 41 of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure makes clear that where questions of fact are controverted in a motion to suppress, "[t]he judge shall receive evidence" (emphasis supplied). "An affidavit is not evidence and it may not be used as evidence in this proceeding to satisfy the mandate that the Court 'receive evidence on any issue of fact.' The defendant is therefore obliged to support his motion by competent legal evidence produced, or adduced, in Court at the time of the hearing." United States v. Warrington, 17 F.R.D. 25, 29 (N.D. Cal. 1955); see United States v. Thompson, 409 F.2d 113, 117 (6th Cir. 1969). Indeed, it may be appropriate for the Court to strike the affidavit filed by defendant Hunt, United States v. Warrington, supra, for he has both the burden of going forward with the proffered evidence and the burden of proving that the search which he challenges was in fact illegal. See Ham v. United States, 308 U.S. 938, 941 (1939); Ham v. United States, 339 F.2d 339, 342 n.7, 353 F.2d

Should the Court conclude that defendant Hunt had an interest in Room 338 on June 19, 1972, sufficient to give him standing to challenge the seizure, it is nevertheless clear that by the time Mr. Kehrli entered that office and removed the safe, Hunt had abandoned the premises and the property that was seized. He had rendered no services since March 29, 1972; the office which he had once occupied was vacant; there were no pictures on the walls, the desk top was clean and the desk drawers contained nothing but office supplies. Moreover, Hunt had been contacted by agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on Saturday, June 17; their questions made clear both what the investigation was about and that they did not yet comprehend the extent of Hunt's involvement in the Watergate break-in. While their inquiries were thus sufficient to have prompted Hunt to return to Room 338 of the Old Executive Office Building and remove what he knew to be incriminating evidence, he did not choose this course of action. Rather, he waited two days and then left town, moving at a fast clip under an assumed name. He went first to New York (or at least led others to believe that was where he was), then to Los Angeles, then somewhere else and returned to Los Angeles. These circumstances and actions clearly reflect an intent to abandon all property which he had left in Washington, D.C., in Room 338 of the Old Executive Office Building.

The principles of Abel v. United States, 362 U.S. 217 (1960), announced by the Supreme Court in a similar factual context, are controlling. There petitioner's hotel room was searched immediately after he had paid his hotel bill and had vacated the room.

[A]t the time of the search petitioner had vacated the room. The hotel then had the exclusive right to its possession, and the hotel management fairly gave its consent that the search be made. Nor was it unlawful to seize the entire contents of the wastepaper basket, even though some of its contents had no connection with crime. So far as the record shows, petitioner had abandoned these articles. He had thrown them away. So far as he was concerned, they were bona vacantia. There can be nothing unlawful in the Government's appropriation of such abandoned property. 352 U.S. at 241.

In upholding the validity of the seizure of other items from petitioner's hotel room, the Court in Abel made the following comment, pertinent to the instant facts: "The Government here did not seize the contents of petitioner's hotel room. Petitioner took with him only what he wished. He chose to leave some things behind in his room, which he voluntarily relinquished." 362 U.S. at 239.^{3/}

Another case extremely close on its facts to the instant case is Parman v. United States, supra, note 3. In that case, shortly after a homicide had occurred, the police learned that Parman was the last known companion of the victim, and they went to his apartment. No one was present, so the police staked out the apartment and eventually seized some property from it without a warrant. As recited by the Court of Appeals, the facts were that Parman had "fled Washington almost immediately after the crime was committed and was in Ohio, under ^{3/} Even if Hunt retained his White House pass and a key to Room 338, these facts, if proved, would not defeat the conclusion that he intended to and in fact did abandon the premises. See Parman v. United States, 130 U.S. App. D.C. 188, 195-197, 399 F.2d 559, 564-565, cert. denied, 393 U.S. 858 (1968), where abandonment was found despite appellant's argument that the lease to his apartment had not terminated, that he never turned in his key, that the management never took possession of the premises, and that the police never treated the premises as abandoned.

States v. Bissell, ___ U.S. ___, ___ S. Ct. ___, 1599-1627 (1972); United States v. White, 401 U.S. 745 (1971); Katz v. United States, 389 U.S. 347 (1967). Expectations of privacy are not static regardless of the circumstances; there is a continuum reflecting, for example, a higher expectation of privacy in one's home than in his car or on the street. In this regard, the White House is sui generis. It is simply different from any other office building or business enterprise in the world, and one's expectation of privacy must necessarily be of a lower order than in any other place including, probably, the most sensitive sections of the Pentagon. This is particularly so for someone like Hunt, a former CIA agent, working for the President on national security matters in the White House or the Old Executive Office Building, especially as regards papers and files generated in his very sensitive work, and it clearly applies to any places, such as file-type safes and brief cases, where such papers might logically be maintained.

All White House papers have always been considered to be the personal property of the President, and he is the only person with privacy rights in papers generated in the White House.^{4/} ^{4/} See Hearings on H.R. 7813 Before Special Committee on the Library of the Committee on House Administration, 85th Cong., 1st Sess. 3 (Statement of President Truman) and 23 (Statement of Librarian of Congress) (1957) [hereinafter cited as 1957 Hearings]; Hearings on H.J. Res. 330 Before a Special Subcommittee on Government Operations, 84th Cong., 1st Sess. 28 (Statement of H. G. Grover, U.S. Archivist) (1955) [hereinafter cited as 1955 Hearings]; H. G. Jones The Records of a Nation 147 (1969). In a 1960 letter, President Eisenhower began: "The papers of a President which from the time of George Washington have been regarded as the personal property of the President and, particularly, a direct and important association with the history of our country." Letter from President Dwight D. Eisenhower to Franklin Floete, Administrator of General Services Administration, 13: 1960 [hereinafter cited as 1960 Letter].

The fundamental and governing considerations are simple ones. The immediate White House Office of the President is a constitutional office Under our constitutional system, it is logical that the separate and independent status of the office should extend to and embrace the papers of the incumbent of the office." 5/

The President's papers include the records, files and papers of the White House office (his assistants and staff members) and the Cabinet. To the extent that members of the White House staff have as their function general advice and assistance to the President or his principal aides, any and every paper relating to every facet of government whatsoever, or any public or political activity, is within their scope of employment and properly considered a Presidential paper. 6/ As private personal property, the President's papers are subject to his complete authority and control as to care and maintenance, conditions for public access, disposition upon his death and even their continued existence. 7/5/ 1955 Hearings at 28 (Statement of Wayne G. Grover). See also 1955 Hearings at 52 (Statement of David Lloyd, Director of the Harry S. Truman Library).

6/ "Nor can any prudent person deny that such records [of the Presidential office] must of necessity be protected against premature or politically motivated disclosure." H.G. Jones, supra note 4, at 161.

7/ The Presidential Libraries Act is couched in terms of accepting gifts of Presidential papers offered by the President and implicitly recognizes the absolute power of the President with respect to such papers. See 44 U.S.C. §§ 2107, 2108; Letter from President Lyndon B. Johnson to Lawson B. Knott, Jr., Administrator of General Services, August 13, 1965. Eisenhower letter, supra note 4. A President's papers "are his private property while he is in the White House, and they are his private property after he has left the White House." Statement of Herman Mann, former Director of Franklin D. Roosevelt Library, supra note 4, at 154.

...principles have particular pertinence to classified documents, as defendant Hunt is well aware, and they are reflected and refined in Executive Order No. 10501 which includes, inter alia, strict rules for the dissemination of classified documents, detailed provisions governing the transmission of such documents, and procedures for the disposal and destruction of documentary record material. Exec. Order No. 10501 §§ 7-9, 3 C.F.R. 314-317 (1972). The Executive Order also directs that "prompt and stringent administrative action" shall be taken against anyone "determined to have been knowingly responsible for any release or disclosure of classified defense information or material except in the manner authorized by this order . . ." Exec. Order No. 10501 § 19, 3 C.F.R. 318-319 (1972); see also 3 C.F.R. §§ 100.735-7, 100.735-21 (1972). In furtherance of the policies contained in Executive Order No. 10501 concerning classified materials, and the accepted principles regarding all Presidential papers, the White House issued a General Information and Orientation Book for White House Staff Members on January 6, 1972. Among other matters, it made clear that "[e]ach staff member shall maintain his personal files separate from any working files he may keep on official business and clearly designate them as such." It further required that "[u]pon termination of 8/ Section 10 of the Executive Order provides that persons on behalf of heads of departments and agencies shall establish adequate and active inspection programs to assure the safeguarding of classified information in the interests of the defense of the United States. Exec. Order No. 10501 § 10, 3 C.F.R. 317 (1972).

of investigation about defendant Hunt. Bruce Kerhli, the man who actually conducted the entry and seizure, is in a like position. Dean and Kerhli, though government officials, were acting more like private employers when they searched defendant Hunt's office, and the law is clear that a search by a private individual, even if unreasonable, does not justify suppression of relevant, probative evidence.

The leading case is Burdeau v. McDowell, 256 U.S. 465 (1921), the facts of which are strikingly similar to those before the Court in the instant case. McDowell was an employee of Cities Service Company and occupied an office in the suite of offices leased by the company. After McDowell was fired, an officer of the company took possession of the offices previously occupied by McDowell and which had his name on the door. The officer removed papers from the desk and safe in the rooms, and the rooms were placed in charge of detectives. While the rooms were in charge of detectives, two safes were "blown open", and both company papers and McDowell's private papers were removed. Thus, the only two distinctions between the facts in Burdeau and those here are, first, that in Burdeau, law enforcement officials (the detectives) were involved in the search from the outset, and, second, McDowell had a more defined and protectible interest in his office (his name on the door, admittedly still his office, etc.) at the time of the search than did defendant Hunt. Yet the Supreme Court held:

employment with the staff, each staff member will turn over his entire files to Central Files with the exception of any personal files he might have maintained."

These historical and constitutional principles, articulated both in an Executive Order and a White House manual, and particularly relevant to the kind of sensitive classified material which defendant Hunt might be expected to have in his office, lead inevitably to the conclusion that he had no constitutionally protected rights in the papers left in Room 338. He had neither the right to disclose any of those documents, the right to remove them or the right to expect that the President's papers, temporarily entrusted to defendant Hunt's custody, would be free from removal by the President or his principal aides. Accordingly, the seizure of papers from Room 338 by the Staff Secretary to the President, at the direction of the Legal Counsel to the President, was not unreasonable in Fourth Amendment terms.

Just as the reasonableness of the search may be judged, in part, by the nature of defendant Hunt's employment and the nature of the place in which he was employed, so, too, it is relevant to consider who conducted the search and why. The entry and seizure were ordered by John Dean, Legal Counsel to the President, who was acting not as a law enforcement official but as the agent of the President, Hunt's employer. His purpose in directing the seizure was not the furtherance of a criminal investigation, but the determination of the whereabouts of sensitive classified documents related to national security. Indeed, Mr. Dean had not then received inquiry from the Federal Bureau and for all of the reasons which we have discussed, we fully submit that the entry into Room 338 and the seizure of the safe and its contents were not unreasonable and do not require the exclusion of relevant, probative evidence. This conclusion would also be inevitable, we suggest, by resort to traditional concepts. For example, the doctrine of "exigent circumstances" would apply in the case of a man working in the White House on national security matters who is known to maintain classified documents in his office, who is suddenly reportedly involved in a burglary perpetrated by anti-Castro Cubans, whose whereabouts are unknown and who has apparently abandoned his office. Compare Camara v. Municipal Court, 367 U.S. 523, 539 (1967) ("Since our holding emphasizes the controlling standard of reasonableness, nothing we say today is intended to foreclose prompt inspections, even without a warrant, that the law has traditionally upheld in emergency situations."); Dorman v. United States, 435 F.2d 385 (D.C. Cir. 1970) (en banc). It may also be that because of the peculiar nature of Hunt's employment, his relationship to the President and his staff, his presumptive knowledge of Executive Order 10501 and the White House manual, and his knowledge of general procedures applied to one involved in delicate security matters, that by accepting employment in the White House, he impliedly consented to the kind of justifiable, reasonable intrusion into his office and files that occurred here.

The Fourth Amendment gives protection against unlawful searches and seizures, and its protection clearly show that it was intended as a restraint upon activities of sovereign authority, and was not intended to be a limitation upon other than governmental agencies;

. . . . It is manifest that there was no invasion of the security afforded by the Fourth Amendment against unreasonable search and seizure, as whatever wrong was done was the act of individuals in taking the property of another.

* * * * *

The papers having come into the possession of the Government without a violation of petitioner's rights by governmental authority, we see no reason why the fact that individuals, unconnected with the Government, may have wrongfully taken them, should prevent them from being held for use in prosecuting an offense where the documents are of an incriminatory character. 256 U.S. at 475-476. 9/

While the language of Burdau is in terms of searches which are the product of "governmental action" as opposed to those by private individuals, the Court clearly had in mind only searches purpose. In this regard, it is perfectly plain that the Government, as an employer, may search the office of any employee, so long as the search is not conducted for the purpose of pursuing a criminal investigation and obtaining evidence for prosecution. United States v. Blok, 188 F.2d 1019 (D.C. Cir. 1951); Biehunik v. Felicetta, 441 F.2d 228 (2d Cir.), cert. denied, 403 U.S. 932 (1971); Uniformed Sanitation Men Ass'n v. Commissioner, 383 F.2d 364 (2d Cir. 1967), rev'd on other grounds, 392 U.S. 280 (1968); United States v. Collins, 349 F.2d 863 (2d Cir.), cert. denied, 383 U.S. 950 (1965); United States v. Coles, 302 F. Supp. 99 (D. Me. 1969); United States v. Donato, 269 F. Supp. 921 (E.D. Pa. 1967); cf. Moore v. Student Affairs Committee, 284 F. Supp. 725 (M.D. Ala. 1968); Brown v. United States, 278 A.2d 462 (D.C. Ct. App. 1971).

In Blok, the United States Court of Appeals for this Circuit found an unconstitutional search because police officers searched a government employee's desk without a warrant. However, the Court noted in language pertinent here:

10/ "The security of one's privacy against arbitrary intrusion by the police . . . is at the core of the Fourth Amendment." Wolf v. Colorado, 338 U.S. 25, 27 (1949) (emphasis supplied). Thus, the exclusionary rule, which is of judicial, not constitutional or statutory origin, was not designed to free the guilty or to correct, by application of hindsight, the errors of non-law enforcement officials. "Rather, it was intended to prevent violation of the Fourth Amendment by police officers who willfully failed to seek judicial authority for search warrants." United States v. Rabin, 413 F.2d 350, 354 (6th Cir. 1969) (emphasis supplied). The "target" of the exclusionary rule is "official misconduct;" suppression of evidence must be based upon "some type of unconstitutional police conduct" Coakley v. Commonwealth, supra, 403 U.S. at 483 (emphasis supplied); United States v. Miller, 381 U.S. 618 (1965); Gale, Studying the Exclusionary Rule in Search and Seizure, 37 U. Chi.

an assumed name at a tourist home, where the search occurred. He thereupon sold his car and appeared in Los Angeles where he also engaged an apartment under an assumed name . . ." 130 U.S. App. D.C. at 193, 399 F.2d at 564. This Court in language that could as well be applied to the facts in the instant case, found that on the basis of the facts which had been developed, [t]he conclusion is inescapable that on January 9, 1965; the defendant abandoned the premises and any property therein and left this jurisdiction with no intention to return. He immediately sought to conceal his identity by adopting an alias and subsequently taking up residence in Los Angeles under an assumed name.

The Court of Appeals, speaking through then Circuit Judge Burger, quoted these findings with approval, 130 U.S. App. D.C. at 192, 399 F.2d at 563, and affirmed this Court's conclusion that Parman had abandoned the property in his apartment. A like result would be inevitable here, for it is clear that in defendant Hunt's case, "[a]bandonment in fact had been effected before the search. It was purposeful and voluntary and the room's search could not possibly have violated any constitutional right of the defendant." Feguer v. United States, 302 F.2d 214, 250 (8th Cir.) (opinion for the court by Blackmun, J.) cert. denied, 371 U.S. 872 (1962); See also Eisentrager v. Rucker, 450 F.2d 490 (9th Cir. 1971); Friedman v. United States, 347 F.2d 697, 701-706 (8th Cir.), cert. denied, 382 U.S. 946 (1965); cf. Keiningham v. United States, 113 U.S. App. D.C. 295, 307 F.2d 632 (1963), cert. denied, 371 U.S. 948 (1963).

Assuming; arguendo that defendant Hunt has standing to assert a Fourth Amendment violation and that he had not abandoned the property seized from Room 338 of the Old Executive Office Building, "[i]t must always be remembered that what the Constitution forbids is not all searches and seizures, but unreasonable searches and seizures." Hikita v. United States, 364 U.S. 206, 222 (1960). The reasonableness of the search is eminently clear when one views it in context: The place that was searched was an office in the White House annex; all papers and files maintained by White House employees are by tradition and regulation the property of the President of the United States; the man whose office was searched was known to have worked on national security matters and may have left classified documents in his office; the services of that employee were completed more than two months previously and information had been received linking him to a burglary of the political headquarters of a major political party by men reported to be anti-Castro Cubans; the man who authorized the search was not a law enforcement official but Legal Counsel to the President of the United States; the purpose of the search was not to investigate a crime but to ascertain the whereabouts of highly sensitive documents which had relevance to our national security.

One's right to be free from unreasonable searches and seizures is not a right based upon property concepts but, rather, upon fundamental notions of privacy. Each case must be assessed therefore in terms of what "expectations of privacy" are constitutionally justifiable in a particular situation. See United

No doubt a search of it [the desk] without her consent would have been reasonable if made by some people in some circumstances. Her official superiors might reasonably have searched the desk for official use. United States v. Blok, supra, 188 F.2d at 1021.

The reasons which might justify such a search by a government employee without a warrant were explained by District Judge Gignoux in Coles, a case involving the search of a Jobcorpsman's suitcase for marijuana by the Administrator of the Job Corps:

. . . As the Administrative Officer of the Acadia Center, Anderson was responsible for conditions at the Center and for adequate supervision of the corpsmen entrusted to his charge. It seems clear that the object of the search of defendant's suitcase was to determine whether contraband was being brought into the Center. Quite plainly, the investigation was conducted solely for the purpose of ensuring proper moral and disciplinary conditions at the Center, an obligation mandated by federal statute.

* * * * *

In the present case it is manifest that Anderson, as the Administrative Officer of the Acadia Center, possessed neither the status nor any of the powers of a law enforcement officer. It is neither suggested, nor would the evidence sustain, that his search was conducted at the behest of, or in cooperation with, any law enforcement officer. And it cannot be seriously maintained that the object of the search was to procure evidence of a crime or in any way to facilitate an anticipated federal prosecution. United States v. Coles, supra, 302 F. Supp. at 101-103. 11/

11/ In support of his holding, Judge Gignoux cited Moore v. Student Affairs Committee, supra (search by a Dean of Men and two narcotics agents of a University's student dormitory held to be constitutionally permissible as a reasonable exercise of the University's supervisory duty to maintain order and discipline on campus: "It is settled law that the Fourth Amendment does not prohibit reasonable searches when the search is conducted by a superior charged with a responsibility of maintaining discipline and order or of maintaining security." 284 F. Supp. at 730-731); United States v. Collins, supra (search of a Customs Service employee's work area and desk held to be a constitutional exercise of power of the Government as the defendant's employer

This same rationale, magnified in the context of classified national security papers sought by an employer from an employee's office in the White House, is applicable here.

In closing, we note that because of the unique, sui generis nature of the White House, we have pitched our argument upon the reasonableness mandate of the Fourth Amendment rather than upon any of the traditional exceptions to the Fourth Amendment's warrant requirements which have been engrafted onto the Amendment by the courts. We believe that in such an "atypical case[]" as this, it is appropriate to determine the reasonableness of a search by "weighing the governmental interest in the particular intrusion against the offense to personal dignity and integrity."

Biehunik v. Felicetta, supra, 441 F.2d at 830. ^{12/} By this test, to supervise and investigate the performance of his duties); United States v. Grisby, 335 F.2d 652 (4th Cir. 1964) (search of a Marine corporal's living quarters upheld as a proper exercise of military authority); and United States v. Donato, supra (search of a United States Mint employee's locker sustained as justified in order to maintain order and security of Mint).

12/ In Biehunik, a group of citizens all asserted that a large number of identified police officers had burst unannounced into occupied apartments without a warrant and beat the inhabitants severely. The Police Commissioner narrowed the list of suspects to 62 police officers and ordered them to appear in lineups. The officers refused, and filed a civil rights suit. Conceding that the order for the lineup constituted a seizure of persons without probable cause, the Second Circuit nevertheless held such a seizure to be reasonable because of the nature of the employer-employee relationship and because of the special responsibility of police officers to the community:

Moreover, it is a correlative of the public's right to minimize the chances of police misconduct that policemen, who voluntarily accept the unique status of watchman of the social order, may not reasonably expect the same freedom from governmental restraints which are designed to ensure his fitness for office as from similar governmental actions not so designed. The policeman's employment relationship by its nature implies that in certain aspects of his status, he does not have the full liberties of a citizen. Police officials that are subject to such restraints. Felicetta v. Biehunik, supra.

SUBJECT: WATERGATE

James Waterford

At 10:55 a. m. today Mr. Gray inquired if we assigned additional personnel to the project of preparing the summary of the Watergate investigation for the Ervin Committee and a computerized list of persons interviewed, could it be expedited. He advised that the Committee is pressing vigorously for the material and it may be necessary to have something for them prior to the end of next week. Mr. Gray stressed we must be completely accurate regardless of the time it takes.

I advised Mr. Gray we had already assigned three additional men from WFO who are familiar with the Watergate case to assist in the preparation of the summary. I noted that to utilize personnel who were unfamiliar with the Watergate investigation and/or the reports would act to our disadvantage because we are utilizing the synopses of the various reports as the basis for the summary and they have to be familiar with the case. I noted that it is necessary in some instances to take a particular interview or pertinent point in the details of a report and re-emphasize it in the synopses as part of the summary since in some instances what is pertinent now was not pertinent at that time. Mr. Gray pointed out that we should be very careful not to "change anything." I assured him nothing would be changed but used as an illustration. the fact that the reports containing the interview of Alfred Baldwin, which interview in the details runs about eight or nine pages, merely had in the synopsis "Alfred Baldwin interviewed; details set forth." I pointed out to Mr. Gray that we now have to summarize Baldwin's interview for the summary preparation. He agreed with the objective as I explained it to him. He again emphasized the need for complete accuracy but did request that I inquire into the situation to make certain we are utilizing the maximum number of people that can be used to expedite both projects.

I had an immediate conference with Messrs. Long, Nuzum and Frankenfield concerning these two matters. We will have available for the Committee approximately 50% of the summary by Monday, 4/16/73.

RE: WATERGATE

At the current rate of preparation, the other 50% of the summary will be ready for the Committee by Friday, 4/20/73.

With respect to the computerized list of persons interviewed, cards have been made up on approximately 50% of such persons at this time and some of these cards have been placed into the computer. Batches of the cards manually prepared are being sent to the Computer Systems Division on a daily basis. It is anticipated all such cards listing the persons interviewed will be in the hands of the Computer Systems Division by Friday, 4/20/73. The Computer Systems Division has estimated that if they receive all of our cards by 4/20/73, they will be able to run off the listing of the names of these individuals by Wednesday, 4/25/73.

At approximately 4:00 P.M., 4/11/73, SA Angelo Lano, WFO, telephonically advised Supervisor C. A. Nuzum that Lano had just received a telephone call from a reporter named Rogers of the Washington Evening Star News. Rogers said he understood that Lano had signed a statement that the McCord investigation was handled no different from other major investigations and Rogers asked for comments from Lano as to whether this was true. SA Lano told Rogers that he absolutely had no comment to make.

SAC John McDermott, Washington Field, called at 9:00 a.m. this morning and advised that Washington Field Agents had served a grand jury subpoena on Powell Moore. The service of the subpoena took place in the West Wing of the White House.

SAC McDermott stated that Moore is now a Staff Aide to the successor of Chuck Colson. At the time of Watergate, he was employed at the Committee to Reelect the President.

SAC McDermott stated that the subpoena was served at the request of AUSAs Silbert and Campbell. McDermott did not know what the basis for the subpoena was because Washington Field is not privy to grand jury testimony that led up to this action. He did state, however, that the subpoena ordered Moore to appear forthwith, which is a little unusual. SAC McDermott said that Moore accepted the subpoena.

ADDENDUM: ASSISTANT DIRECTOR ROBERT E. GEBHARDT 4/12/73

A review of the Watergate file reflects Powell Moore was interviewed by WFO Agents on July 24, 1972, in connection with the Watergate case. At that time he was Director of Press and Information for the Committee to Re-Elect the President. Briefly his interview reflected that he was previously with the Public Information Office of the Department of Justice and his responsibilities at CRP were to handle press inquiries. He was one of four assistants to DeVan Shumway, who had the overall responsibility for handling the press for the Committee. Moore advised that on June 28, 1972, Robert Mardian called him concerning the firing of George Liddy because Liddy would not talk to the FBI. Mardian instructed Moore to draw up a statement for the press concerning Liddy's firing. Moore did prepare such a statement but held it for some time taking the position that it should not be given out unless an inquiry was received. In July he turned this statement over to Shumway. He had no other significant information.

For your information, the Form 302 reflecting his interview on July 24, 1972, was one of several made available for review by Sam Dash, Principal Counsel for the Majority of the Senate Watergate Committee, on April 11, 1973.

For your further information, attached is a xeroxed copy of the 302 re Moore.

POWELL A. MOORE, Director of Press and Information, Committee to Re-elect the President (CRP), 1701 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C., was interviewed at his office in the presence of PAUL L. O'BRIEN, Attorney, 888-17th Street, N.W., and provided the following information:

He assumed his position with the CRP on May 15, 1972, having left the Department of Public Information, United States Department of Justice. His job is to handle press inquiries and release information to the press, and he is one of four assistants to IRVING SHERSKY.

He received information that GEORGE GORDON LIDDY was fired by the CRP from ROBERT MARDIAN. MARDIAN called him on June 28, 1972, and told him he had a problem for the Public Information office. He told him Mr. LIDDY was being fired because he had refused to answer questions by the FBI. According to MARDIAN, LIDDY requested private counsel before answering any questions even though counsel had been provided him by the CRP at the interview. Under those circumstances MARDIAN felt LIDDY should have answered any and all questions, and when he refused he was terminated.

MARDIAN indicated that he (MOORE) should handle drawing up a statement for release to the press. MOORE replied he would handle this but first he would consult with CLIFF MILLER, a private consultant on public relations retained by the CRP. They got together and both agreed not to announce that LIDDY had been fired but not to cover it up if inquiries were made by the press. Therefore, they wrote up a statement which MOORE showed either to MARDIAN or FRED LARUE and carried it in his pocket for several days. Before leaving for Miami in July he gave the statement to Mr. SHERSKY.

BACKGROUND: This concerns break-in of Democratic National Committee Headquarters, Washington, D. C., 6/17/72.

Attached relates that James Walter McCord, accompanied by two FBI Agents, proceeded to rural area of Poolesville, Maryland, 4/12/73, and at McCord's direction, located numerous pieces of electronic equipment including several oral intercepting devices. McCord indicated additional equipment secreted in area but adverse weather conditions (heavy snow) prevented Agents from continuing search. These Agents will return to area as soon as feasible. McCord advised he would not disclose location to press or anyone else.

McCord directed Agents to stop on Route 118, just outside Germantown, Maryland, indicating he concealed two "UHER tape recorders" in briefcases in a bush. Only items recovered were numerous ancillary pieces of equipment and one empty walkie talkie container. McCord indicated when he deposited items this location, walkie talkie was in container. Search revealed numerous trees trimmed in vicinity where items hidden. It is conceivable state or county maintenance employees located items. Investigation re this aspect continuing.

McCord directed the Agents to a third location off Route 28 in close proximity to McCord's residence. He indicated four storm drains near side of road were locations he deposited approximately six "bugs". Agents of opinion no possible recovery from these drains since items were deposited shortly after McCord was released from jail, June, 1972. A check will be made to determine the feasibility of search of these drains.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Earl Silbert apprised of recovered items and felt McCord should accompany Agents on second trip to rural area near Poolesville for corroborative purposes. This will be done as soon as feasible.

This morning Acting Associate Director Mark Felt called me in connection with Washington Field teletype 4/12/73 which related that James Walter McCord, accompanied by two FBI Agents, located numerous pieces of electronic equipment, including several oral intercepting devices in the vicinity of Poolesville, Maryland.

Mr. Felt said Mr. Gray was concerned about the security of information such as this and he wanted to insure there were no leaks.

Mr. Felt instructed that in the future all information in connection with Watergate except for those instances of a strictly routine nature is to be routed in an envelope or hand-carried and an inventory list prepared, signed by all of the people who either see the communication or transport it. This information was furnished to Section Chief Long.

In addition, SAC McDermott, Washington Field Office, was called and again it was reiterated to him the absolute necessity of maintaining information concerning the Watergate on a strictly need-to-know basis and that all precautions should be taken to prevent any leaks of sensitive information.

JWS

On the afternoon of 4/12/73, Supervisors C. A. Nuzum and J. J. Clynick met with Mr. Gray and Messrs. Armstrong and Lichenstein to discuss progress of the summary of investigative reports in this case which is to be furnished to the Ervin Committee. Fifty-six pages of the summary were furnished to Mr. Gray for his consideration. It was suggested that each page of the summary, when it is actually furnished to the Ervin Committee, should contain the FBI property stamp information together with phraseology indicating the document should not be duplicated. Mr. Gray approved of this.

With respect to the computerized listing of persons interviewed in this case, which is to be furnished to the Committee also, discussion was held relative to what precise information should be furnished the Committee. A sample of the cards being used by the Computer Division to prepare this listing was displayed and Mr. Gray approved one computerized runoff which will contain information showing the name of the interviewee, the date of interview, the serial number in the file, whether the interview is set forth in a report, teletype, airtel or letter, and a brief statement as to the purpose of the interview. It was pointed out that this information is very useful at FBIHQ but it is believed the Committee should be furnished only a listing of the names and dates of interviews which are set forth in investigative reports since the Attorney General has laid down as guidelines that the Committee is to have access only to FBI investigative reports. Mr. Gray stated he agreed this is what the Committee should receive.

REJ

ADDENDUM: On the morning of 4/13/73, FORM 139-4089-1496 Mr. Armstrong advised Supervisor Nuzum that at Mr. Gray's instructions, on the afternoon of 4/12/73, Mr. Armstrong had contacted Mr. Dash, Counsel to the Ervin Committee, and had obtained agreement from Mr. Dash that the entire summary of investigative reports will be furnished to the Committee on Monday, 4/23/73, and that the previously promised partial summary will not be furnished to the Committee. Arrangements had originally been made to furnish the Committee about half of the summary on 4/16/73. The computerized listing of the individuals interviewed will be furnished to the Committee on 4/25/73.

Specifically, it should be developed from Mr. Silbert whether he desires the FBI to completely run out Blum's allegation; whether the reputed bank records in California will be subpoenaed; and whether Mr. Silbert desires interview of Mr. Chapin concerning this matter. In addition, Los Angeles should be followed by WFO to insure that all information available about Blum is developed and reported. WFO is also requested to submit a teletype to Bureau and to Los Angeles based on the discussion with Mr. Silbert.

1 - Mr. Nuzum

This is to advise Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) Hogan, Albany, called at 11:30 p.m., 4/13/73, and advised the following:

At approximately 11:00 p.m., Mrs. Martha Mitchell telephonically contacted ASAC Hogan (who was formerly assigned to the protective detail of the Attorney General and his family) and inquired whether or not ASAC Hogan recalled an occasion in her apartment when James Walter Mc Cord was present and at which time she asked ASAC Hogan to check McCord out. ASAC Hogan advised Mrs. Mitchell that he did not recall any such occasion but could not definitely state whether or not any such incident did occur.

Mrs. Mitchell stated that ASAC Hogan could not recall because he did not want to get involved. She was advised that this was not true that if he did recall such an incident, he would have stated so.

ASAC Hogan advised that he was not submitting a communication in this matter in view of his telephone call.

DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEE HEADQUARTERS (DNCH)

Washington Field Office letter of 6/19/72, relative to the above entitled matter advises that Earl Connor, Chief of Security, Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company WDC, and his assistant, who originally installed the telephone equipment at the Democratic National Committee Headquarters, conducted a security survey of the telephone and communication equipment of the Democratic National Committee Headquarters. At the conclusion of their survey, Connor reported to SA Fiene that nothing unusual or out of order was detected. (Check made 6/17-18/72)

In order to obtain further detail as to the extent of Connor's check, on 4/11/73, personnel of the Radio Engineering Section met with Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company employee Earl Connor. Connor advised that the objective of this survey was to physically examine all telephone instruments and telephone equipment on the sixth floor space of the DNCH for wiretap devices. This survey was made by Connor who was assisted by the telephone company installer assigned to the Watergate Complex. Connor advised no record was maintained identifying the specific items of telephone equipment checked, and while because of the lapse of time, they could not remember details of each individual phone, he was positive that all available phones were checked.

A room by room tour of the sixth floor space of the DNCH was made with Connor to refresh his memory of all offices and the checks made in them. He identified only one room, that occupied by the Press Secretary as having been unavailable and therefore as not having been included in the survey. This room, he recalled, was locked and he was advised by officials at DNCH that this room need not be checked. It is noted that this room is adjacent to R. Spencer Oliver's office but has no interconnecting door to Oliver's office and has no telephone service in common with Oliver's office.

Both Connor and the installer advised that the check included taking the phones physically apart and visually inspecting them for foreign items. None were found. (The size and location of the wiretapping device found on 9/13/72, in Oliver's telephone was such that it would have been readily visible upon removal of the telephone instrument cover.) The telephone company installer, who assisted Connor in the survey and who is quite familiar with telephone service in the DNCH agreed with Connor regarding the details of the survey made by them, and each also recalled Oliver's room as one of those included in the survey. (The Laboratory also found Oliver's phone to be free of wire tapping devices on 6/29 - 30/72).

BACKGROUND: On 4/12/73, James Walter McCord, Jr., accompanied two FBI Agents to three separate locations in Maryland to search for electronic equipment hidden by McCord. At the first location, Poolesville, Maryland, numerous pieces of electronic equipment including several oral intercepting devices located. At second location near Germantown, Maryland, only numerous ancillary pieces of equipment located and none at the third location which was close proximity to McCord's residence. Search discontinued 4/12/73, due to adverse weather (heavy snow).

Attached advises two Agents who previously conducted the above search, found five additional oral intercepting devices and one telephone intercepting device at Poolesville, Maryland, location. At Germantown site, Agents located two "UHER tape recorders" hidden in heavy underbrush (not previously visible due to snow).

McCord did not accompany Agents 4/16/73, and it was agreed with his attorney that whatever items recovered would be shown to McCord.

At 5:10 p.m. today SAC John McDermott, Washington Field Office, telephonically advised that the sweep of the Federal Grand Jury room requested by AUSA Silbert had been completed with negative results.

At 5:29 p.m. SAC McDermott advised that AUSA Silbert told WFO that Jack Anderson's column, to appear in The Washington Post tomorrow morning, is going to contain extensive quotes from grand jury testimony, allegedly of a witness other than McCord. AUSA Silbert thinks that the leak is in the court reporting firm because the quotes are verbatim. The U. S. Attorney's office is contemplating action to change reporting firms.

BACKGROUND: This concerns burglary of Democratic National Committee Headquarters, Washington, D. C., 6/17/72, and request of AUSA Earl J. Silbert, 4/17/73, to conduct investigation of the Hoover Reporting Service (HRS) (transcriber of grand jury testimony this case) as a source of possible "leaks".

Attached advises investigation 4/18/73 determined HRS, prior to 4/17/73, prepared three copies of grand jury transcripts, two copies turned over to U. S. Attorney and one copy maintained in office safe. Tapes from reporters maintained by law for one year. Two reporters who handle grand jury work interviewed and determined work typed at home and returned (including carbon paper) to office in the morning where carbon paper removed and placed in trash container. Pages then assembled in three stacks for binding. Other reporter turns his work over to office personnel who transcribes material for him, however, he maintains tapes.

Mrs. Hoover advised she received telephonic inquiry from AUSA Silbert regarding procedure followed. After this inquiry, Mrs. Hoover advised she recovered third copy of all transcripts in this matter and took them to her farm where she burned them. After learning from employee who handles the assembling of transcripts that carbon paper placed in trash containers, she ordered 4/18/73 that all carbons handled by her service be burned immediately upon arrival at her office. All reporters involved in taking grand jury minutes, assemblers and other key personnel interviewed with negative results.

Only logical lead outstanding is to attempt to locate and interview private trash hauler utilized by HRS.

Investigation continuing.

We should do exactly what AUSA wishes us to do.

SUBJECT: WATERGATE

James Walter McCord

Last night at about 8:20 p.m., SA Charles Nuzum telephonically advised me that SA Angelo Lano, Washington Field Office, had been contacted by AUSA Earl Silbert, who is handling the Federal Grand Jury in connection with the Watergate case. Silbert desired the services of an FBI polygraph operator the first thing this morning. He advised SA Lano that it was on a most important matter and did not identify the person to whom the polygraph examination was to be given.

After checking with the Laboratory, it was determined that SA J. Robert Pierce of the Philadelphia Office was highly qualified and had experience. It was the recommendation of the Laboratory that Pierce be used and, if not, SA Frank R. Gerrity of the New York Office.

SA Nuzum subsequently called and said SA Lano had been contacted a second time by AUSA Silbert, who said he had discussed the matter with the Department of Justice and had its concurrence.

The General Investigative Division recommended that the Polygraph Examiner be made available as it was to be in connection with the Watergate case, a case where we have investigative responsibility. Also, we are in no position to decline to make all our facilities available in order that complete information is developed. This matter was cleared with Mr. Felt and Mr. Gray.

At 9:30 p.m., SA Nuzum was advised to contact SA Lano in order that he could tell AUSA Silbert that the Polygraph Examiner was being brought down from Philadelphia and we would make him available as soon as possible this morning.

Immediately thereafter, SA Robert Petersen, Extra Duty Supervisor, was instructed to contact the Philadelphia Office to make arrangements for the presence of SA Pierce as early as possible this morning.

Hey! How about a great idea such as an FBI Cocktail party soiree at Watergate in 1974? Wouldn't April 1st be an appropriate time for such a social affair? How about one for May Day of this year and your trainees could have workshops on remote modes of communications.

I've added a duplicate of this card for your convenience, in filing purposes. Vive La Wounded Knee AIM!

Sincerely, (alias)

GENERAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION

BACKGROUND: This concerns break-in of Democratic National Committee Headquarters, Washington, D. C., 6/17/73.

Attached relates evening 4/17/73, Paul Barrick, Treasurer, Finance Committee to Re-Elect the President, telephonically advised our Washington Field Office approximately two weeks ago individual identifying himself as Arthur Blum or Bloom, telephoned his secretary and left message "These payments were supposed to be taken care of by October. Getting a lot of pressure. Chapin and Pat know about it". Barrick ignored initial message. Approximately ten days ago Barrick received call from Blum (Barrick did not know Blum and Committee to Re-Elect the President (CREP) and CREP records did not show previously employed by CREP). Blum left message of six banks wherein deposits made. He furnished no names, however, gave account numbers indicating a sizable amount of money deposited in each of the six accounts.

Los Angeles Office has been instructed to attempt to identify Blum.
