is on duty in another's assignment, he unually tries to ambarrase the basewout, the regular guard having a day off. When a substitute grad regular guard by a shakedown, producing a heap of contraband articles days, at bath time, for a clean one. Tates observes that some stalls Each immate is allowed one bath towel. This towel is exchanged on Bat have as many as three towels. July 18, 1933 . . . "Guard Yates is doing guard duty fire" Determined to accumulate them, he begins a systematic el down. He looks not only for towels, but for other contrahand goods. Roaching Hackethal's stall he remores eighteen towels, and other control of its stall. Instead of making his way to the basement immediately, and articles. Hackethal, by grapevine, is informed Tabes is "tearing Hell," attempting to interfere with or induce Tates to desirt, he deliberately avoids returning until late afternoon.

and informed him of his discovery. The emptain hastens to the base In the meantime fates has telephoned Captain of the Day Taken Yatos, it seems, has greated smalty between kineelf and cell during the early years of Hacksthal's arrival at the institution. Enchathal when Yates "wrote-up" Hackethal for hanging around Colbeck's Ynowing that Yates was mean enough to do this, Esckethal realises the furtility of asking him to return the seized articles, concluding that he asking of can go over his head and avoid any unpleasantness for himself. Yates, on the other hand, realizing that Hackethal is bitter touards him for the "write-up", fears esting his meals in the Officers' loce, bringing his lunch or supper with him in a tin comtainer. Reaching the basement that afternoon, uneasy and deeply eancornel, buckettal verifies his loss. We are unable to learn what Tabes four is the knows however, from conversation that ensues, it was something c value to Capore.

an attack of expendicitis. The physician is summoned, and arrangements and for luckethal's addittance to the hospital in the morning. Browled Stars on and Eackethel complains he is suffering of Dr. Lynn, next day, goes into conference with Hacksthal.

eventhal is dismissed from the hospital.

Capone, was confiscated by Tates and Captain Head? Capone, for several days, is deeply melancholy and sore at Hackethali The enguer to our queries remain a mystery. More so because Might, we wonder, coomined between the two? What, of welve to

Now, seeing Capone's request before him, he turns it ever and on the back These, the nature of which are not learned, were apparently werified truths. an interview. The Director, since the last interview, made inquiries. another wisit to the institution. He receives a fequest from Capone for Not long after this incident the Director of Frisc.

or reverse side of the interview slip, writes: "No, will not grant interview. Heard enough of your tale of woe."

angry because the Director refuses to talk to him. He has much to tell him. . . so many secrets held exchange for his liberty! The Director must have "smalt a moune," Capone concludes. Capone, receiving it in a scaled envelope, is furious and

"All right! He wont see no when I ask him. Well, I'll make Min sond for me next time!"

ur. Lister's association and connection with Capone, results in Bishop's After tell , obtained placing the letters in his shirt, Bishop is followed being caught removing letters from a designated spot in the institution. by a personable official and Bishop confronted with them. into tow and seed dropping them in a mail box. The letters are retrioved The Director's investigation of the story of Dr. Beals and curous, and commersatively estimates that the total amount does not exceed Pishon confesses he has been receiving money steadily from $10.00.00 -- since July 19321

) in by one of Capone's lieutomants at an apartment in town, and he did not lend artirles to Capone, but his adibt is that the parcels were handed to corried into the isotivation were his own, did not subject him or the to admits the accusation that he has been bringing in contra-The officials never doubting but that the packages Bishop parcels to an examination.

lie is, as a result of thin affiliation with Capone, summarily discharged and suripped of his honor.

time, if he regrets the denouement. He doesn't, we conclude, for after One wonders, as he passes from the institution for the last what I really came here for. Well, I'll think of it later, I must be "I have no idea!" she exclaims, shrugging har shoulders "Then this. . ?" he begins. Kiss Tuggle stands motionless and undecided. Her mind the "That's strange," Dr. Hens answers. "Now I've forgotten "Oh, no! No, it couldn't be!" she nervously spelogizes. "Possibly some convictis," he wentures.

For certainly, she feels now, Dr. Hess is investigating her commection with engaged in working a solution to the predicament she is in. What, what Hackethal and Capone.

alitis, receives a summons from Dr. Ossanfort, Chief Physician. opposite him in his private office, "who was the tray for?" At 10:00 A.M. Miss Paggle, still in a mane of unsatisfactory "Miss Tuggle," Dr. Ossenfort begins as she takes the sest way to your deak. This is most unusual, of course, since you do not gent breakfast for you each morning." to be the one sending for it. At least, there is no record of that extra "Miss Tuggle, live been told that a tray frequently finds its "Why, Doctor. . . she stammers.

"my I mow nothing about it!" she boldly bluffs. "Absolutely. " See prepared it. The negro who brought it eaid he had instructions to deliver, it to you."

her fear she believes that guilt is screaming from her face. set, stout woman of forty, aress-eyed and unattractive. Though not betraying Dr. Ossenfort looks at her searchingly. She is a tall, hear "Be's a lier. A dirty black liar!" she soreams now wrought thing. Certainly you must know something since the negre olaise th has been his instruction right along!" "Be only planted I marely wish to get to the bottom of the nothing!" she adds wehemently. "Do you think Hackethal would know about it? Evidently he on the verge of hysteria, realizing now that everything depends on her pullshe screams, rising to her feet and working her hands francisally. One is others, she resolves. If not --- then, by God, she determines she will ing through safely. If she cam, then she is through with Carone and the drag them in the mess with jeri Dickop toth his modicine, and so can stol Hackethal had warred Capone that she was hind as prote; ricale hats made of things! Him and his bribes! Buined! sugged, if ever this lower only "Mnoever said I get the trag lies! I don't care who says it!" But what would Capone want off lear That, she mases, after after relating the interviou, tells her that Dr. Ossenfort leafnes to speak is succlutely innecest. The has, it is our knowledge, successfully withto her. Miss Stitt prepared, processe to his office. But she, we know, stood every attempt to be bribed. Mas Duryle departs, accosts wise Swith in the corridor, and "I'll excuse you this time, Mies Turple. Contin Miss Swith."

a half bushel ripe tomatoes, two moringue plas and six T-bone steaks are Turple pertian rid of the emidence, will enjoy these delicious things? smaggled from the hospital to 'a' basement! $B_{\rm U}$ 'a' massment? We'll see! Tel minutes after hiss fulle has left Dr. Osmenfort's office, Who, we ask as we thrill watching the excited Doc and Misc

Only one person in the institution, , . Caponel house wis the stairs, a mesuage to the Clerk in 'A' cell house to deliver them to 3-7 having come over the telephone!

123.

Roughly, 'A' basement the edibles are conveyed to 'A' coll and the hour stockade in the evening will soon be denied us. He have had some eventless days lately, for during the investigations we were unable to find our way into the closeted chambers. It to August t, 1888. Summer is smiftly passing, it means, decide to spend a little while with him. Deserting the noise and rucket of 'A' cell house we hop and skip down to 'A' basement. Fortunately, talking to Short Shavings. Short Chavings, strange to say, seems interested. Doc is in a good humor. That is, fortunately for our purpose. He is at least displaying a friendly appearance as he listens to Doo's Ecwever, we feel that Dochas been neglected. We forthwith He is said he'd do it. He wanted the money for his mother. Well, one thing maw I really wanted them taken out of the Record Office and torm up, told after another went along, and he kept putting it off. He then, when he "I offered Shafer +3000.00 to destroy my fingerprints. He me it would cost me six grand. "I asked him where the Rell he thought I could get six grand.

He said, 'Capone'll give it to you.' Can you imagine that?"

"Would he?" asks Shavings.

Doc draws a yellow-back bill from his pocket. "Sure he would: Look! What does this look like to you?" "Looks like a thousand dollar bill. Real?" Shavin; s asks.

"You bet it's real! And that's only one. I can produce nore! know that they have a set in Washington that could be duplicated easily? "well, when you wanted those fingerprints destroyed, didn't you

Doc.

Shavings asks.

"I can handle "hashington O.K. I'we done it already!" brage

I think it's foolish." Shavings is not enthusiastic about Doc's scheme. be just the same when it's found out it's you, no matter what name gougive. by other institutions as having served time, and then your record will "But Doc, what good will that do you? You'll be identified ulti no. Asythis I wast from that office you'll get, bull?" in here. Addition, I couldn't do addition; till I get paid for it first. The state of the second control of the secon To the color of the contract of the season beyone and notice some locar loan, erec on a surface former of the Configurate Claim. - -)]. I musted to help Jackson out amphon. I tink to you a ran deal -ueven juar.. Thafest jos enaj Páve, and a purele wich that. Inagine iti" where subject we computed that, and $T^{\mathfrak s}d$ got slapped in the independent than of ers. Did you "mon that?" Doe asks, "Old Kan Jucknes told se in's joi (170) UUU-UU buried mast chey took from that burk. Imagine it, (170,000,001 I not Julianus working for me up there now, but he has to get someone else copy what I want . . . conducts and so on. I get all the pictures I want. What I want is records. And I want information what comes up about Al. it. Julianus is O. K., but he's dumb. Just a big Dane that don't know or me, or anyone that's got business with Al. Seef You'll get paid for what it's all about. Lemma show you semething." "Listo , Tou want to make some money, don't you? Well, stick obling Joing! I heard too damm! many stories about pigoons "hell, I dwe you smoker, don't It" "I took for these for I write letter, for you." The profession to be taken The tree Teconi Coliner. Tail me also replayment memory sent to if readucted me a C , set of the property of the control of the contr "C st ior copying it?" COLD FOR DAY INCOME. is is we wear. I ofer's the one who did the squealing on decision wil the "Dig 't linfer tell me binself? out let's not argue that. "balomoyt" smorts Chavings. [red Total and mathematical Dison. Classing and went to blonde motion Picture actress. mapshot. That's my sister. sister's a beauty!" Doc delves into his locker, and produces a picture of a famous "See that enlargement? Julianus did that. Hade it from a "More's the letter where she says she's ment it. Lay, EV "Your sister!" Gamps Chavings. "Size is, according to that. Seems like I saw that face before, though," says the skeptical Shavings, hesitating to confront Doc with the accusation that he is a list, "Thy, Doc," Shavings smiles, "that picture on the π all there . . . that π one has on the same kind of dress and beads as this one -- your sisteri's "Leg, I sint that cross-eyed! They're entirely different "That's the mane Sirl." Doc informs Charings.

 \bigcirc

momen. One's a brunstte with a small node, and one's a blonde with a sharp nose. and this one --- " pointing to the picture on which the motion picture ster's head impreplaced that of the original head, "---when it was no "It's lowuse the one there's a emapshot in bright smillibts darmed if I can see any reschilance except in the clothes." meantine you think it over. You can't lose if you're working for me. Here. . . Take this carton of Chesterfields, I don't smoke them, I smoke "Earlie Foulte right," concedes the doubting Charings. "But Doe laughe what is supposed to be a condinate laugh. "I will show you her letter when it comes tomorro. In the

"Thanks," marmars Shawings, known to have never refused cigarettes. I wanna show you. Now look here - - this is a picture of the bungalow where I used to treat Al's men when they got shot. More than one builet I pulled outs a gargeter. That's why Al's grateful to me. See... This room here on the corner. . . that's the operating room. I would never leave the place, day or night. Always had my meals served right there. A housekeeper, Boy, she was a pip! Used to pay her $100.00 a week so she'd stay. "5a), wait a minute." Doc calls. "I got some other pictures

The second secon

į

She was close-mouthed, you know. No talker! That's why al insisted she

"How come you got here?" Shavings asks, knowing Doc was doing four years for stealing a T-Model Ford.

"We were making a getaway. Had meanly $300,000.00 in the car. But we buried that in Kansas City. Still there, too!" Doc lies. Shavings, believing he has had enough of a bedtime story, yawas and bids Doc good night as he eases out.

"See you in the mornin'," he calls as he leaves.

on respective as size to be well even end complete Wr. Coscident. "That this of the area, and come the collection therefore is worked The rest of the sign and hore passes for foot treatment for Capera. 12 of 15 LOT W. -1 Volume, imp No. to well-discover Dr. Cosemiort. Dr. live the bur to have the feet treated the mile of the cost, while dos-

() I hacure out a puse, the thought floring through his 4.13) one more noich. Mat's w111' should Dr. Csaenfort.

that it is outlined to be the than around contention.

Thirt, du, theory site boths! Thirty days more physic and a conting those translations of the best beautiers, what do you tains and say to self that position do you think I'd be in!" ing data was distal trestuent! By if wakin ton knew that term of . To read arous that the something is a derig made up patients ... dan tel North. The only rout I'm inverested in is when he metal his feet to just the mark a stage may own it that are committee." Doe straims to "I occupied to to do did to the thermap hour, the site hour and

In the opinions of integrity and convolentions were orrive. We repeate the conversation with Dr. Comenfort, examperating Louving Dr. Casemfort's office Doc stopp by Dr. Beale's where he freels is will do most good.

in I see those it costs him (Casemfort) whything! Now tull me you're going to this them. Then you burn around and put me in the middle by sending them "Thlese Al gots those passes I'll turn in My keys. Dunned over to Ossacfort. Al'11 raise Well if he knows that. A justically licuring Doc borate Dr. Seals would mever believe tist an indute would dare speak to a vivillan joverment employee in such a tone and manuor.

last thirty days treatment for Capone, Dr. Bealc's telephone rings. He While discussing with Doc the likelihood of this being the but Dr. Beule has made his bod. He cannot but lie in it. . .

is summoned to Dr. Ossenfort's office. Doctor?" impatiently asks Dr. Ossenfort, tapping the report of Capone's "How paich longer are thuse treatments for Capone to continue, excellent physical condition with the point of his penuli-"I really fool to woods thom. Doctor. Other iso, I would work have filled out the pusces," Beals apological. You but as well as I do, in. Scale, that he has but two purposes confid re seems incurable and help not even utiling. No man needs such troutments here to the bornstal. One is to avoid work, and the other is saiding the I shall jivo him passes for one weeks entry. I think that is our controband would be made cos -- whallot our closest condition -- to scare. 'It posses to so be is getting a prolonged treatment. In fact, weale just how deep in the personal interest. Interest it is prevented black with periors and plus was the or . If he aminoushow he aim need willy outlier of a covered of the comment of play is and who can be added to induced by Corondoro to a graph to the dark, but legace Date enter as In all De. Cosalibra elimina, comina de la dijer turijadoda foe leier, dajak "Y - . I - - " Dr. Consfort to on the words of within Dr. "By not make it the tripped depth". Dr. bende smiles. per mente estrena (o puntag and Anforma num be lua managel so have expired to 311 hero employed as for alorder to detail box . . . (a.) a succession, thirt, date later, in getting the all jus polity is wise. Anda, hos a sum on an abs stiers in a Toulers, us, locals in the a wantup, to broken they work!

august 10, 1980. Eisa Tuggle, unable to enhire the strain longer, and confronted with the alternative of resigning or boing discharges, now practically a nervous wreek, hand; in a request for two meeks leave of absence. The request is granted, and she departs for Alabana, to spend the time with her dister there.

prior to ber depurture and is closeded with Dec in lis

The given John collists. In chifts his pure, realizing that the knows indeed that she has been used as a rubber ball by Capole, Cachetral and himself. And now - fuced with dispuses and unsuplopest, unlike the gets away while the smoke is thishost, she lives him time to consider her first appeal for asulatance, which she infers the will make in the course

The men are returning from evening stockais. The transay is throughd with prisoners. . . Everyone is apparently in a jorial mood. It seems the outlie population of the prison is out this evening - excepting those in isolation, the hole or segregation. Two thousand mor mingling, taking, taking, evently ploding to their cells for the night. Some laughing, taking, evently ploding to their cells for the night. Some large tired from recreational activities. Some are on the about - natorial uneasy. . . One never knows in a place like this. Many appear suffering with that fatigue irought on by confinement. . . a listlessment for which with that fatigue irought on by confinement. . . a listlessment for which

Arnold, an immate in the Dental Clinic, is laughing and talking to a friend. He seems to have not a care in the world. In twenty-one days he is to be released. He is a first offender, having stolen an automobile to take some girls joy-riding. He pays -- and has non practically completed payment -- the debt the Government imposed. More than that he does not over form that that he elected not be compelled to page littly down by dream as no walks along so carefree that within a low big while will have changed. Little does he surface that King Organa has described be to to pay the extreme penalty!

e is now conceuted from us where the arord is thickest.

Or outlot can bit, since we are notifier looking for him nor thinking of

E... outlandy there is a pieroidy scream. . . a compation. . . cursing. . .

The ground falls back! Five men, delayed for some reason we chilet impediately learn, are forcing themselves into cover of the surround-ing erould.

In the center of the widening circle lies a bleeding man-

It is armold.

four guards, as a rule, are on evening stockade...One to five bundred war, but counting, of course, those with machine guns on the towers. An incident such as his, naturally, is beyond the power of the guards to prevent. They do not mingle with the near but stand aside as they come up the transfer.

A deep gast from which blood to freely flowing now mars the face of the jouth on the concrete transay. . . A gash from beside the ear to the chin -- almost identical with the scar upon the face of Caponel as the guards push through the prisoners several men offer to rush armold to the hospital. Though bleeding profusely he is still conscious as they lift him boddly and carry him to the hospital.

"Who did it?" make the attending physician.

"I don't know," wrould reably muraurs.

An immto, efter an attuck, soldon fingers his assailant while receiving medical treatment. Interne immates can -- and have been known to "finish the job".

The answer was expected. However, the attack can often be traced to a grudge. But no one had a grudge against arnold, he protests.

"I saw it," speaks up one of the men who helped him to the hospital. "Turner was one of them. There were five of them. Turner had a razor blade. I could hear Turner say: "Hold his legs and arms and I'll out his threat." But the others got seared, for after they grabbed you out his threat." But the others got seared, for after they grabbed you the proved broke away and Turner just slashed out."

"Turner? I don't know him," Arnold sa.s. "sapone" whispercarnold, surprised. "One of the Curs was one of Capone's west."

that up." The surgeon then process with life treatment, his earn absorbind "You must keep Quist," the poster orders. "I'll have to saw the information dropping from the lips of Armold's friend. Armold is called before the Deputy warden mext day.

"That is behind thic, Arnold?"

"I don't know, Deputy."

"Come, now. You know something."

"all I know is that the grabbed up and tried to cut my throat." "From the looks of the bandage there they did a pretty big job, didn't they?"

"Yes, & sour. like Capo.e's and in the same place, my suddy

$211

"I see. Did you have a run-in with Capture lately?"

sitting in the chair, whiting, and this guy went out and told Capone I so I told him: 'The Holl with that. You do it yourself.' So Capone was eald the Well with him. Which I didn't. Then, on top of that, I heard supposed to do some work on his testin, but another guy got the eighnestes, hospital. Thick I wasn't. Maybe that's the cause of it all. I don't today someone told Capone I was twiking about the pull he's get in the "not exactly. Danbe it started over the climic. See, I was

"tam you identify any of the men attacking you?" asks the Deputy Marden.

"jurner was one of them. I think I can identify the others

The Deputy Mardom reaches for the telephone and instructs

Captain Hoad to have Turner sent overfurner, like a whipped cur, walks in ten minutes later.

He sees Armold and turns his gase to the Deputy Harden. "Turner, why did you attack this man?" the Deputy Marden asks.

The said I did!" Turner asks.

"Is this the man?" the deputy asks Arnold.

"One of them. Yes, that's the one who did the cutting."

"Durner, who are the four others? This is a serious offense.

"Durner, who have the four others? This is a serious offense."

The penalty will be lighter if you make them. If you don't, you know we can learn."

Turner names his companions. (This type of criminal is not unusual. Violence, and the desire to avoid a severe penalty -- when squawking might lessen it -- seem to go hand in hand with them).

"Why did you do it?" the deputy asks.

"Got paid," haltingly.

"By whom?" asks the deputy, a sense of satisfaction abiding with him in the realization that he is succeeding without any difficulty.

"I don't know the guy. He told me Capone wanted that guy cold-cocked. But we didn't have nothing to crack his head with. We tried to get a ball bat, but couldn't. So I had a razor blade. They were going to hold him while I did the job."

Having called for the four others they are now lead in. All are arraigned at one side of the deputy's desk; Arnold stands alone on the opposite side.

"To each of you I have but one thing to say. You have attempted murder. You know the penalty. I shall confine you each in segma-gation until your term expires.

"Take the rate away!" he yells to the guard nearby.

"That's all, Arnold. You will remember not to discuss this when you leave the institution."

"Yes, sir," Arnold promises.

"Just a minute, Arnold. You're leaving shortly: Just what seems to be the trouble over at the hospital. Why don't you man get along?"

"Well, Deputy, it's like this . . . "

Arnold recites to the Deputy Warden all he has learned since his assignment to the Dental Clinic. His story chiefly concerns Capone and Capone's ability to accomplish anything desired there. He is now extremely bitter towards Capone, but insists he is speaking the truth when he states all the dissension is caused by the inmates wrangling over Capone's favors and the desire to serve him.

This recital coming at the same time as the order to investigate, results in the removal of seven hospital attaches. This Tuggle's name frequently bobbing up during the investigation, neconitates the postponement of further questioning because of her absence.

An a result practically every connection is severed. wr. Lyon is transferred to New York. Dr. Fracer takes sin place. Dr. Evals is being secretly. Investigated, and his every movement rejected to Nachington.

che second day of her retire a tray is delivered. Moss day, who her wetter a tray is delivered. Moss day, who her wetter a tray is delivered. Moss day, who her wetter or ownership of the tray she finds on the second of the real maries of majore if it major the his. Dr. New calls in Miss Taylor white Taylor protects ignorance. The negro whites is questioned and find its true of protects and in Aysteria directs a questioned and find the researcher innocence, and in Aysteria directs a total ray! I be value of Frince and the Treasury Dypartment (under which the hospitual is given with the word brings on unetter, and she and wr. New are rawing a "jo" of it.

"It's not only removed, but proven, ''ict full's," when explains.

"Proven or not proven, Dr. Nous. Who are you to usuas me?
If you've a complaint to make, take it to Dr. Calenfort, Lut him tall no
I have this shuff brought here for Capone!"

Miss Ward stands silently by.

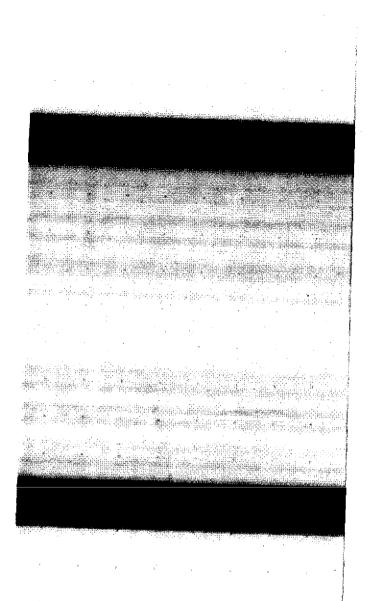

"Suit yourself. I'm merely trying to be friendly. I don't think it's necessary to engrave on your mind the fact that there things have come to a head in your absence. You should have known that. He've a lot in common. I must, after all, protect myself."

Climating his argument with these parting words, Dr. Hess makes his exit. Miss Tuggle looks at Miss Ward. It is an unfriendly, yet pitying look. Sweeping past her she passes from the room and directly to whether the door is eleged behind her, and a corressation lasting forty winutes, ensues.

Reedless to say, however, Miss Tuggle is not permitted by Capone or Enckethal to sever her connection with thom. They need her, and at the price of exposure by them she renders them the demanded service.

0

August 14, 1953. TERRECCO DROGAL, Chicago Beer Maran, arrives?

The reception of mittee is composed of the Captain of the Morning Match.

Inmate Count Clerk, heceiving Clerk and pressing-in Clerk. We have read in the papers that this former associate of Capone -- who recently stepped out for himself and bigger profits -- was boing transferred to Atlanta because of prices he had forced upon the Deputy Marden at Leavenworth.

we observe, from newspaper accounts, that he had made quite some progress at Leavenworth, and believe he will be successful at Atlanta. Yet, Atlanta is noted for its "bribe-proof" guards and officials! Somehow (and it is not at all improbable), Druggan had gotten word that Atlanta was a botter joint than Leavenworth!

Let us look at his record.

(COMDUCT RECORD)

Forfeits 150 days Good Time: That "burns up" any prisoner.

And Druggan, a born whiner, naturally is consumed. When we pass to stockade next day (he does not get to stockade the day of his arrival) we, among others, wait at the foot of the steps as we did for Capone's descent, to gaze awasomely ut the beer baron... The millionaire who cheated the government of due taxes. Tried, so it is said, to get by with what Capone couldn't:

And all his legal talent, money, doctors and alibis, couldn't coerce the sentencing judge from his decision that Druggan was deserving of a sentence to prison.

And here he comes! Well. . . we are weefully disappointed. To thought we would see a big, broad-shouldered, swaggering fellow. Instead, we look at a typical clork. His skin is unusually pinkish -- like a girl's. Sandy curly hair is combed straight back from his forehead. Stoop-shouldered. Kincing stops. Shifty gaze. And this. . . TRIS, we realize with dispust, is a bhicage gangeter!

Druggan is net by someone who knows him. Someone who knows Capone, too, for he is taking Druggan to the tennis courts where Capone holds away.

"He could have not me," complains Druggan as we fall in line . behind him and his companion.

"I never gets in a crowd, herry," his companion apologizes for papere.

(

".o?" astonished.

"U3 -43.$"

" dat's the i ea of him always playing ten is? A guy told me at sever that this correspondnt's all all does."

" gran! is the terse, truthful answer.

there else wealther outsout asks the puide.

They well a rios brug as-and jos entitle plot of the paid forcer of concern calls again to be called the concern of the party limitation. All paids he came, rests to a surprise, and the lie arms result to shouldn't and parting his test, and caps.

tell, Terryl oc gestve sale i saculesy after all. Cas.

"Motion (ash (guar) , whitel too him and I put thumbs down,"

Drogal contoughnously answers.

"Le 's jet away from here. A case yokels give me the willion the way the stare. I got used to it, but I know how to feel."

" ett, ml. den't worry about me! I can handle 'em." Druggan brags.

They proceed to the baseball diamend. A mane is in progress. Loper, a Spaniard, is at bat. Drugger, Capone and Capone's array of body-quarks stand rearby.

"A hundred he makes a hit," bets Capone.

"It's a go, Al, Terry agrees.

Loper strikes out wildly and misses the ball.

"You're lousy!" Capone remarks. "Who ever told you you could

"and I don't want none of yours," retorts Lopez, advancing aggressively.

(

lopez, too, has many friends among the convicts.

0

Capone, without furtier ado, leads a right to Lopez's chin.

In the melee which follows, Capone's bodyguards present an offen-ive which cannot be overcome by Lopez. Capone, separated from Lopez by his henchmen, spits vituperations at Lopez. Een, baseball bats ready, advance upon Capone. Guards interfere and quell the disturbance.

"I'll get you for that, you wep," threatens Lopez.

"Yeah? You'll never get another wor if you try, you pick!"
Capone answers. "Come, Terry; let's get goin'."

Stepping beside Capone, Druggan, followed and surrounded by Capone's bodyguards, walks the track.

But this was not the end of the skirmish. Lopez happened to be a friend of Fontaine's. Fortaine is one of the quartet who had kidnapped Capone. And promise or no promise of ransom, a friend in need is a friend indeed -- in the penitentiary!

Capone, studying Spanish. . . as does Lopez (both with the same purpose in mind -- shirking work). . . hears his name hissed in the schoolroom. He turns, and looks into Lopez's face several rows behind.

Fontaine sits near Lopez.

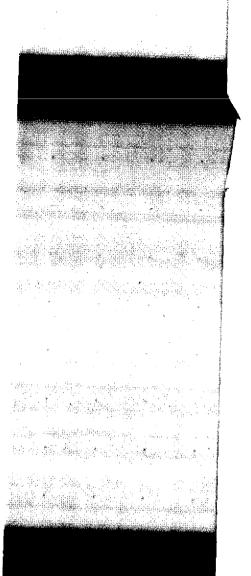

"Yes, you!" calls Lopez.

"And that goes for me, too," adds Fontuine.

"So that's how you feel about it?" asks Capone, rising.

Doubling his firsts he advances menacingly towards the pair. Fontaine has not had the opportunity to rise to his feet. Capone strikes out and clips Fontaine on the jaw. They clinch and are punching bellies when the Director of Education rushes in and demands they cease.

"I aint through with you!" Capone warns Fontaine as the who isn't one of Fontaine's gang. He doesn't know who might attack him while absorbed in his novel or magazine, or while talking to someone. Besides, he reflects, he's received no word that the ransom money has been paid, and Fontaine's attitude might be caused by impatience on the part of his associates.

()

he becomes so nervous that he decides to return to his cell, conveying word to his bodyguards that he is not enjoying stockade today. . . that he is retiring to his cell and they should not be uneasy about his non-appearance on the yard.

En route to his cell he passes Fontaine's cell. Fontaine is lounging on his bunk. Capone hesitates before Fontaine's cell door. Then, pushing back the grilled door he walks in.

"Me'll have it out now," he reminds Fontaine.

Fontaine, hardly more than five feet tall, seems puny beside the giant Capone. Fontaine weighs less than 125 pounds. Capone tips the scale around 250. But Fontaine is game. He jumps to his feet. The ado draws several of Capone's gam; and the guard of the cell house. Capone is ordered to his cell. The others are reprimanded and warned.

Fontaine, after the skirmish, murses a bruised face and body. . . and a grudge!

140.

6

Fontaine is in conference with Tw. -cun Yellow and The Dart.

"I'm not coin' to let that dago get by with that!" he cries angrily.

"But for Christ's make, man, you'll ruin our part, I Can't you see that?" argues The Dart.

"I think Fontaine's right," intercedes Two-ju. Yellow. "You'' feel the same way if you were in his boots. It's our place to give the wop a lesson. That say?"

"You know me, Two-gun. Anything you say's jake with me," agrees The Darp.

"now let's look at this sensibly," Foltaine sugments. "If we bump him off now -- and that's what he deserves for all the screws he's had tightened on this joint since he's been here -- they'll know le're the birds what did it. There aim a chance unless we get some moonshiner screat him, and get the moonshiner stick him in a crowd. First, though, us want to be sure we're getting the two-and-a-hall grand."

"Goddamned if I'm of aid of him, or the hacks, either!"
brags Two-gun. "I'd as soon twist the knife in him as I'd dunk that rander coffee cake in that mid in the mornint."

"Yes, but we got that two-and-a-half grand to consider. The Darb reminds him, an eye to money here than a aggrieved vanity.

"Yes, that's right," Fontaine agrees. "If we could . . .

"I got it!" Two-gun belches excitedly, his eyes wide and his palms raised to signify he entertaines a satisfactory solution. "Asiligive him a date. If the money's not here. . . Get me?" he infers.

"You gotta head on you, Two-gun," Fontaine laughs.

"You betche life I am," brags Two~gun. "In odder words, we hasten him up, see!"

"And then?" asks The Darb.

"And then!" repeats Two-gum, patting a concealed automatic beneath his arm-pit.

This agreement seems to pacify Fontaine. He does not speak to Capone when they pass each other or meet in the classroom. Fontaine, however, hears rumors of Capone's vengeful threats. Not to be taken unprepared, he secrets a rator-edged knife beneath his shirt. It is held secure by the belt of his trousers. He'll take no chances, he assures himself. An opportunity. . . an occasion, who knows. . . might present itself or demand he be protected against Capone or his henchmen.

O

To have obtained possession of this knife it was necessary he keep an eye on the Tailor Chop guard. Each movement of every impate in the Tailor Shop is carefully watched. The swiftest flash of the hand, sometimes, signifies to the watchful guard that the immate making it is up to some mischief. Fontaine, nonetheless, manages to slip the knife into his bosom. He proceeds to the toilet, where he securely wedges it beneath his belt and shirt. Any conspicuous article. The unlie in any pocket an unopened parcel. Is not permitted to pass the rear corridor guard. This, then, secreted as it is, is unnoticeable.

But Fontaine did not bargain on Capone's henchmen. Some, for Capone's protection --- insofar as they could hear things concerning him --- were assigned to the Tallor Shop, as to other duties in the penitentiary.

And one, whose particular duty it is to watch Fontaine --- whom Fontaine never suspicioned --- observed the cautious act Fontaine had committed.

Forthwith, during Fontaine's absence from his machine, the spy makes his way to the guard. He informs him that Fontaine "packed a knife". The guard, knowing Fontaine to be a dangerous and desperate man, and having heard of his activities as the guiding genius in the importation of barrels of firearms at Leavenworth, permits him to leave the Tailor Shop unmolested. Immediately he, with others, has passed through the door, the guard telephones the cell house guard, suggesting he search Fontaine as he enters.

It is natural for any immate carrying a contraband article to be nervous and apprehensive. Especially is this so when the article is a dangerous weapon! Consequently Fontaine, strive as he does not to be, is unduly alert. He reaches the cell house. No sooner does he step into it than the guard cells him from the line of immates returning to their cells.

Fontaine realizes his game is up! There is no way in the world to now dispose of the weapon. If he refuses to let the guard search him, the penalty will be the same.

"Remove your shirt!" orders Guard Finn.

Fontaine obeys. In so doing he inhales deeply, permitting the knife to drop from its position to his feet. It clinks on the concrete floor. The guard hears and sees it. Picking it up he looks at it closely, carefully running his finger along its razor-like edge. He directs a reproving look at Fontaine.

()

"All right," nods Guard Finn. "Go to your cell!"

Fontaine, cursing his luck, passes on to his cell. Just what he expected! he muses. Somebody snitched! Who? Who, he asks!

And the penalty, next day, as he stands before the Deputy

Wardens

123

"You know, Dap. Why ask me?" retorts Fontaine.

"Why were you carrying this knife?"

"Capone again, I suppose," remarks the deputy, his method of extracting confessions being emasingly successful.

"Darm' right! First chance I had he'd got it. . . front or back! I took enough off that dago. And get me, Dep," Pontaine raises a warning finger, "I'll get him yet!"

"Oh, no you wont!" admonishes the Deputy Warden.

"Says you!" spits Fontaine, his hands resting on the Deputy Marden's desk, his face thrust forward, his eyes blazing. . . a perfect picture of insolence and defiance.

"Says II" yells the Deputy Warden. "For you'll spend the rest of your time in Segregation. Now get out! Take him out!" he yells to the guard standing nearby.

Fontaine is led out and placed in Isolation, there to await his transfer to Segregation. . . where he is compelled to spend the remainder of his term.

And Capone's life is preserved for further dangers!

The news of the premeditated attempt upon Capone's life spreads through the institution. The rumors that reach Capone are so a coping and garbled that he is compalled to increase his bodyguard. One-third of the inmatte, it seems, are on his payroll. They are receiving cash, of course, caving it sent to their relatives or directed to the institution under names corresponding with those on the correspondence record.

()

Any little can thief hight stumble into a conspiracy against his life.

To has so for found it safe to go to stockade; but never -- mover during this intersperation has he dured to go to the chapel or to the movies.

The impression has never left his mind that most riots start in either the limit; Palls or Chapels of penal institutions. The darkness of the movies is no invitation to accept. . . Desperadous, he reasons, like cate, see better in the dark. And how could be enjoy the show when each momen of it he would be expecting a spearlike weapon dup between his shoulder blades?

and the flesh there is soft. . . and tender. . . and the blood would pour. . . and I'd tumble forward and strike my face on the seat, maybe! No! NO! NO! . . NO IDVIES!

When such an incident as Fontaine's skirmish with Capone occurs, and one of the men is apprehended with a weapon, it affects the morale of the men. They seem all to be under a spell. . . as if some strange drug were administered to them. Laughter becomes noticeably infrequent. Smiles do not come as often, nor linger as long. Risecracks are forgotten. A strange, gloomy oppressiveness descends and prevails earily.

0

Cohen, one of the immates confined in the Mut Ward, takes it upon himself to relieve conditions. A "mut", bear in mind, is not a maniac nor insane person. In no manner does he suffer the terrors of an asylum or institute for the demented. He is, the convicts will assure you, "damn's smart to get by with it!"

Coher writes a letter to the Director of Prisons, Washington,

D. C. He sets forth the shocking conditions existing in the institution -part of which he, as an innate in the Nut Ward, has witnessed. (The physic therapy room is situated in the basement of the hospital, and incorporated in that section known as the Nut Ward. Capone's actions and conversations there, therefore, were not unheeded by the "nuts").

Having thoroughly and at great length set forth many of the "faults" he finds, Cohen deposits his letter in the "snitch-box" in the Dining Hall. From there it is collected by a Government employe not connected with the institution, and conveyed to Machington.

The institution suffers a shocking surprise when the letter -like all others deposited in the "anitch-box" -- boomerangs to the warden's desk. A photostat is made, as Washington directs. An investigation is demanded.

Yes, Washington advises, we concede the man is a "mut", but it is apparent the man knows of what he is writing. These reports have filtered through from men NOT confined in the "Nut Ward", and there MUST BE SOME TRUTH IN THEM!

Cohen, unknowingly, has taken the move which results in his transfer to the U. S. Hospital for Defective Delinquents, at Springfield, Missouri. For Cohen, Capone had thought, "hadn't sense enough to know he are transfer. And for that reason did not fear discussing in his presence his plans and conquests!

0

While the investigation is in progress, Doc is thoroughly "shookdown". Every article in the room he refers to as his "office" is minutely examined. Even the large bolts fastening the barber's chair to the floor are removed and their sockets searched. The padding of the chair is destroyed. The pictures are scraped from the walls. (Behind pictures, even, inmates conceal small packets of dope). The sholtes are dismantled. The cabinets wrecked. The rolls of advestive tape completely unwound and thrown away. Gause, bandages and absorbent cotten are so carefully examined that not even an article the size of an ordinary pin head could be overlooked?

and when the "shakedown"has ended we have before us the following:

Six one-pound cans of ground Senate coffee,

Three rossted chickens.

Eight cans of pears.

Five cans of peaches.

Six jars of frankfurters.

Two cans of minced ham.

Pive pounds of layer cake.

Two loaves of sandwich bread.

Four cans spaghetti.

Four cans of anchovies.

A jar of honey.

And a collection of smaller items.

Doc's stall, also, is turned "upside down", the looker being taken apart, and the mattress, chairs and pictures completely searched.

This, we gasp when we see it, is sufficient to start one in the grocery business. Two large canvas baskets (used ordinarily for removing laundry) are brought in and the groceries packed in them as Exhibits A, B, C and so on, to be produced before the Deputy Warden when Doc comes "to trial".

"How in God's name, Dunlap, did this stuff get into your office?" asks the deputy.

"You know as much about it as I do, Er. Schoen," alibis Doc.
"What does that mean?"

"That I don't know a dammed thing about it. It was planted there!" Doc tries to be serious.

"Planted!" gasps the Deputy Warden. "Do you till I'm Fool enough to believe that, Dunlap? Do you think I'd believe anything so childish!"

"I'm telling you the truth. You can take it or leave it," Doc snaps.

"Danlap, in all my experience in this institution, I have never yet known a ran to try to make such a fool of me. . . so yet do now!

Now you look here, Dunlap. Any child would have that in an office the size of yours, these articles would actually be in the way! You couldn't turn bround without stumbling over them. Yet, they are covered with furth the lord alone knows how long some of them have been there. You know they were there. The for!"

But the deputy is not to be bluffed.

"Dunlap, just how long have you been acting as commission; for Caponef"

Doc blinks. Sure, the Deputy Marden must know! But except for finding the goods in his office, there's no proof that he (Doc) KHEW THEY WERE THERE! And no proof THAT THEY WERE FOR CAPCHE!

So what can the Deputy do?

"Who told you that lies. Capone don't pay me nothin'!"

"Humphfi I didn't say he did, but you practically admit he does. I'm going to close that office, Dunlap. I'vo heard enough about it.
This is enough to cause me to put you in isolation. But because of your physical condition I wont. That's all. Get out!"

 (C_{i})

Doc returns to 'A' basement. What next? he asks himself.

Ignorant of the fact that Cohen had written Washington, but bearing a malicious hatred towards Dr. Lynn -- borne of envy, of course -Doc conveys to Capone the diastrous result of the shakedown.

Gone! Gone is the little cubbyhole where big business was transacted! Where thousands of dollars massed, at Capone's instructions, from his possession into circulation among the convicts!

Ended is the foot treatments so essential (?) to Capone's health. Ended is the daily contact with hospital attaches!

What next? Capone asks himself.

"Lynn did it. I'll bet anything!" Doc tells Capone as they sit on the slope overlooking the tennis courts. "Fingering me before he left!"

Capone, this day, could not lift a tennis racket. His stomach, he moans, is already suffering.

"What makes you say that?" Capone asks, unbelieving.

"He's always been jealous of how much you give me. That quack aint satisfied with a hundred a month. He wants more. He figures if I'm out of the way he can handle things better?"

"That's fool's talk, Doc. I wonder if I'll get my pie today?"

"Pie? Why worry about your pie?" Doc snaps, his eyes blinking.
"There's other things to worry about. Look at me! Suppose Schnozzle puts me in the Tailor Shop. With them real convicts! Sure as Hell one of them guys is gonna getme!"

"Christ, and I was figurin' on chicken today for a change.

Damm it! Why did you talk me outs it when I wanted to have them put it down in the electric therapy room? You thought you knew best! Sure! Now I'll have to eat that garbage on the main line. Beans! Stew! Spinach! I can't do it, that's all!" He rises, anger and grief overcoming him. "Let's find somebody!"

Not mentioning whom he was looking for, except "somebody", Capone struts off with Doc at his side. A mountain and a molehilli They wend their way in and out of groups, down the track and back to the tennis courts, Capone's bodyguard shadow ever hehind and to the side. The man he searches for, evidently, is not on stockade today.

"Now leave me alone!" Capone tells Doc. "Lemme think this out. When the jig told me you got shookdown, I couldn't believe it. Then, when I did, I didn't realize they'd confiscated everything. I thought the jig who took the stuff to the Dep's would swipe some of it back. Now I'm up against it. I gotta eat something. Get goin', Doc. Get goin' before I lose my temper!"

Doe toddles off, defeated and ill. His Big Boy! His Big Boy yelling at him! After all he done, too. That's gratitude for ye, aint it? We risking my good time. . . getting them connections. . . Even fixing him up with the quacks! And that's what I get! Showin' me up in front of them bodyguard leaches!

Well, Big Boy, you'll pay now! You'll pay plenty! You been gettin' off light. Been doling out a few paltry hundred a month to me.

Beale's got his grands. Bishop got his grands. Convict or no convict,

I want grands too! And Big Boy, you're gonna pay 'en!

Let's see now. . . How the Hell. . . Righto! The wife! Wife's sick. . . No, she needs an operation. That'll be better! And it'll cost $500.00. No, better make it six -- sounds better.

Doc smiles the smile of a successful miser. His twitching fingers form fists as he struts along planning his big coup.

We know, from Doc's unenviable record, that he is one of the cleverest confidence men in captivity! And we believe as he thinks... that Capons shall pay PLENTY before Doc is through.

today. Rumors have flown thick and fast as to what work Druggan would be assigned. He, like Capone, is confident he wont be given menial work. The bets are three to one that he'll land a cinch. At noon, when the Transfer Sheet is distributed to the various offices and cell houses, the prisoners gather around the desk to learn who has been transfer ed, placed in the hole, and otherwise punished, and what assignments how prisoners have been given. Since we are interested in the Transfer Sheet only in so far as Druggan is concerned, since we have heard that Capone assured him he "could handle the deputy's clerk, who does the work on the Transfer Sheet after a committee assigns a prisoner", we manage to work our way to the front desk, anxious to scan the sheet and see Druggan's number, name and to what coll he has been assigned. The assignment of cells occurs simultaneously with the assignment to work.

"There it is!" we point out. 43, 50%. Bru _am. lailor ${\sf Shop1}^n$

"Tailor Shop!" someone echoes.

The words are re-cobood as the news sweeps over the shoulders and heads of those behind us.

"I'll bet he'll be burned up!" someone remarks.

"He sint no better than the other guys over there. Just cause he made a couple million in the beer racket don't mean he's too good to make pants. Some of those highknobs he travels with ought to see him sitting behind one of them machines. Boy, wouldn't that slay him!"

"God Almighty, look! He's transferred to 3-7! Curono's cell! Can you beat that!?" someone shouts.

"No foolin'?" another asks.

"Look for yourself!" the doubting one is advised.

"Say, you're the guy been tellin' me you can't pull anything over here. What's that? Druggan celled with Capone?" we hear in a reproving voice.

. Silence is the only enswer.

But there is no silence when the Transfer Sheet reaches the warden's office. Pis secretary (a civilian) observes the assignment......

Tailor Shop. Yes, that's all right. But 5-77 No, sir! It must not be permitted.

O

"Deputy Marden," the warden instructs his secretary. The secretary rings the deputy on the telephone. He is now in the Dining Hall, advises the deputy's clerk. The secretary telephonen there. The noon meal is being eaten as the deputy receives the message requesting he report to the warden immediately.

"Mr. Schoen, you've seen the Transfer Sheet, I suppose?" asks the warden as the deputy walks in.

"No. sir. I haven't been back to my office."

"Druggan assigned to 3-7. Did that have your approval?" asks the warden.

"It certainly did not!" exclaims the deputy. "Rouf has charge of that, as you know. I shall adjust it, immediately!"

The deputy telephones Rouf, inmate clerk in his office.

"What does this mean, Rouf - - placing Druggan in Capone's cell?"

Rouf has his alibi prepared. "There was a vacancy, Deputy."

"There's hundreds of vacancies elsewhere. Get him out of there! At once!"

Rouf issues a removal slip, which is delivered to 'A' cell house guard. Druggan, his baggage unpacked and congratulating himself that his $500.00 worked wonders, is rebellious when requested to pack his belongings and march up two tiors above, to 5-1.

"That's a lousy trick! Lousy!" he bawls.

"Take it easy, Terry," Al pacifies. "I'll handle it later."

Terry, skeptical, quiets down. Perhaps Al can handle it later.

He doesn't know just yet how much "pull" Al has.

The Transfer Sheet is revised. Druggan finds shelter in 5-1. Be gripes continually because he has to climb five flights of stairs to his cell.

"They're burning me because of what I got by with in Leavenworth," he tells Capone on the yard. "I knew I'd get it!"

"Say, Terry, don't take it so hard. They did it to me when I come in, and now I've got 'em all steppin' like they're on hot coals.

Leave it to me. I'll fix it up so you won't have to do that climbin'."

And, true to hit word, Capone eventually has Druggan placed in 2-21, on the second tier. . . while the Deputy Warden was absent from the institution and the city.

The chicken, delivered to 3-7, to celebrate the get-together occasion, is consumed by Capone, while Druggan bites his finger nails in anguish:

Now, he concludes, it is going to be doubly difficult for Hackethal to deliver his food. In Capone's cell it was a single risk. One man could handle it. Separated from Capone it means a different rangeman will have to carry it after it is brought up by one of the immates employed in the Officers' Mess. Conveying this information to Hackethal, Hackethal says:

"I'll feed you regardless of consequences. You wont be jeopardizing Al's connections at all. Don't worry about that. You just take care of the monthly payment, and I'll take care of the rest."

But Druggan's tempetuous rebellion has an aftermath. He brooks on the ill done him by the deputy, refusing to permit him to cell with Capone. And like a child whose toys have been taken from him, Druggan becomes sulky and obstinate. He will force them to realize that he is a Big Shot! That he is a beer baron, owns race horses, a breeding farm, and property! They're not going to make it harder for him than he can help it, he boasts. So his plan carefully laid, he becomes seemingly hysterical, going into tantrums.

He is taken before the Doputy Warden, charged with insolence when ordered to be quiet.

"You can't get by with that here, Druggan. So you just as well make up your mind to it," warms the Deputy Warden.

"I'm a sick man. I'm not getting proper medical treatment. I'm shifted around from one cell to another. I'm stuck in the Tailor Shop, where only disobedient, low-down prisoners are assigned, and I'm sick of it!

Dammed sick of it, if you want to know how I feel about it!" Druggan raves.

"So what?" sarcastically asks the Deputy Warden.

""Co what!" Druggen repeats arrogantly. "I want attention!"

"You'll do well to return to your cell, report for work, as usual, in the morning, and take the hospital treatment prescribed. You'll not get anywhere with the attitude you've displayed. You'll not get one thing you deman! Or. Oscenfort has treated enough men to know when a man is ill, and when he pretends to be ill."

"I want a die.! I conto out that parauje on the main line.

I hant blue baths; and I held macrages. I get to have chem. Dr. forencorn tells me I don't. Hell, I do!"

"Dragga, you'll do us I say or I'll place you in Solitary.... until you promise to obey the rules. You're in a penitentiary not, not a high school or health resort. You are expected to obey. Refusal makes it harder for you... not for me."

"well, I won't do it! I'll not go back to work! I'll go to the hospital! I'll drop on ty feet first! " His Irish temper is gotting the best of him.

"You'll go to folithry and think it over, then," admonishes the deputy.

"All right, put me in Solitary. Goodman it, I at least wont have to work in the Tailor Shop!"

"Take him away!" the Deputy Warden shouts.

Druggan is confined in Colitary for refusing to work. We is I laced on a restricted diet (broad and water), and remains in Solitary four days before he sends word to the deputy that he is now ready to return to work - - - and obey orders!

a much-changed, obedient and defeated Druggan emerges from Solitary.

"Well, I dared him," Druggan boasts to Capone. "That's more than you did!"

"More than hell!" Capone retorts. "I defied him. You only dared him. Schnozzle knows he can't get by with that stuff on me."

And, to Druggan's chagrin, he is made the laughingstock of the penitentiary, because the guard obeying the deputy's instructions repeats the conversation he heard, and the antics of the prisoner "before the bar". Once more the "screws" are put on. Things become harder to obtain. Hardly a piece of choose finds its corrowful way to the bacement. Saltines. . . Cookies. The Commissary does a land-offic business. The Officers' Mess is closely watched, and little, if anything, leaves it as contraband.

 \mathbf{O}

but Capone must eat! Capone must get something for the money he has paid. The Hell with the guy who carries it. Why worry about hin! Let him go to the hole! There's always another one! Yos . . but they're refusing. There's been too such of it getting out. They want it for their friends, now! As long as they can carry it for Capone, they figure. they can carry it for themselves.

Everytime Capone seets Hackethal it is the same argument.

Hackethal is learn. He knows the officials are wise to his racket. Capone spares no one. His belly must be filled. . . at any cost! Any sacrifice!

Any misery to another!

"They search everything!" exclaims liachethal in protest.
"Every touch my men carry out is opened and examined for food."

"Cay!" Capone has an idou. "White Cregar. . . the laundry-man!"

"What about him?" asks Hackethal.

"Can't he bring it up to me?"

"They search him personally," Eachethal lies.

"They don't search his underwear!" Capone shouts.

"No; not unless they would be suspicious he had something on him."

"I'll talk to him. You give him the stuff. I know he'll carry it. He's on the pay roll, and he'll do it!"

Capone converses with Gregar. Gregar, we know, has the liberty of passing throughout the institution.

"How look here, Whitey. That food's gotta get to me. Can you bring it?"

"It's going to be tough, Al. They're got clamps on me now."

"I'll double the pay if you make it," Capone offers.

"It's a go!" They clasp hands.

Whitey, on his rounds, stops at the Officers' Mess to gather soiled towels and tablecloths. He slips into the pantry. Hackethal comes in behind him. They whisper. Hackethal smiles approvingly. Whitey drops his trousers and exposes to Hackethal four pockets made in his drawers. . . Pockets sufficiently large enough to carry Capone's food daily. With Hackethal's assistance the pockets are neatly filled with meats, cheese and bread. Whitey pulls his trousers up. Hackethal examines his appearance to satisfy himself he does not look conspicuous. Everything seems all right. Whitey, a bundle of towels in his arms, leaves the Officers' Mess. He stands before the gate leading into the prison proper. Guard Bead is on duty at the gate. Read, according to the immates, has eagle syes and a rat's nose. He sees and smells uncannilly:

"Step aside there," he orders as Whitey waits to pass through.

Whitey expected . . no, feared this. He didn't suppose he could pass through with such a bundle of towels without their being searched.

Read calls another guard to watch the gate. He invites Whitey into the lavatory.

"Drop your pants!" he commands.

Whitey, realizing he's caught, and knowing an excuse will not help, obeys. Read sees the stuffed pockets in the drawers, and orders Cregar to remove them. After doing so Cregar is sent on his way. Whitey's alibits that he "stole the stuff". He must not implicate Hackethal -- or Capone!

"To the hole!" the Deputy orders. But the order is sountermanded!

Cregar has not been dismissed five minutes when Kosulozyk, No.

43116, is brought in. A report slip is laid on the Deputy Warden's desk.

It reads:

"No. 43116 - Kogulozyk.

The above named prisoner was coming along No. 5 range, and going to 5, with package containing 5 beefsteaks. He seemingly was going to deliver them to someone on 5.

Guard G. J. Pinn.

mis sensuantly was for Druggen.

Deputy's action: This prisoner is orderly on Range 5. Someone handed him the package and he took it down and gave it to officer.

Julian A. Schoen.

Action: Reprimended and warned."

"'Comeone handed him the package!'" -- What am alibi! And Druggen hardly settled! What a reflection on Atlanta. . . when one remembers Druggan was transferred there because of bribery and connections at Leaverworth!

What a laugh --- when one muses that the most dangerous thing to do in a prison is accept a package from another prisoner. . . regardless of the contents of said package! For packages are not exchanged betweem prisoners!

Yet, Kosulozyk teld the deputy that's exactly what he did! And the deputy believed him (?)!

paelsteaks! There, one would ask, could beelsteaks come from! There are no butchers running around the pard after cattle. Only one place in the institution would have delivered that beefsteak. . . You guessed it -the Officers! Mess!

Hackethal is called before the Deputy Warden -- again.

"I think, Fra.k, that this thing's gone a little too far. It is known that food finds its way out of the mess. You may or may not know of it. I'm not accusing you. But when you begin operating a walking cafeteria on every range in 'A' cell house, I think it's time for a word or two. Cregar -- dressed like an automat! Kosulozyk, carrying a com around! Do you mean that you are inefficient? That you can't watch these things !"

"I can't help what they steal, Mr. Schoen. I am kept so busy that it's impossible - - -"

"Now, Frank, be candid! Capone and Druggan get hungry. I know that. Everyone does. They can't 'stomach that garbage' on the main line. They'll pay high for decent food, wont they? And they get it! It's got to stop! It must stop or there'll be a change made."

"Yes, sir," whines Hackethal, knowing an argument with "His Honor" is a futile thing.

and the second of the second of 156.

 \bigcirc \bigcirc

0

Enckethal is dismissed.

The following day Druggen and Capone are each enjoying a quart block of harlequin ice cream, ridiculing the deputy for his array of efficient (?) guards and stoolies.

Hackethal, heeding orders from one who learns more about secret investigations, becomes more cautious.

157.

Chattonier, a new guard is placed on the Rear Corridor.

The Rear Corridor Guard stands in a position that permits him to see all prisoners passing from their cells to their work and back. It is not an enviable assignment because it offers no opportunity to converse with the prisoners — and regardless of how severe a guard is, he speeds his monotonous hours when the chatter of prisoners, their rumors and reports about others, is listened to. Nonetheless, the position can prove a lucrative one. An immate with bulging pockets — attempting to pass the Rear Corridor Guard — is, generally, accested. His pockets are duly examined and contraband confiscated. The immate, forthwith written-up.

Today Capone pays fifty dollars for a racket brought in by Mr. Fenters. Whether it was negligence on Mr. Fenters part, or whether pre-arranged, he nevertheless left the racket on the tennis courts when he finished his game of tennis. Chattonier had observed him passing to the courts with it, and returning without it. Such things as these --- incidents that might not attract another's easual glance --- are the things that the Rear Corridor Guard must see. Maturally, he makes a mental note of it.

Later the same day, negroes, carrying soiled liness from the Officers' Kess to the Laundry, are stopped by Chattonier. The linens are thoroughly searched. Hackethal made it his duty to follow the negroes, and to start by and see just what method Chattonier used. Finding no contraband, Chattonier permits the negroes to proceed.

Hackethal steps over to Chattonier and begins a conversation. While thus engaged in a friendly chat, another bundle of laundry is conveyed from the Officer's Mess. The negro shouldering it continues on his way unmolested.

It worked!

Reaching the Laundry the bundle is set aside from other soiled linens and the negro node to a confederate. The confederate, who unpacks the bundles of linens, removes two roasted chickens. Be slips these under a counter and walks over to Capone.

a meessa mada agaa

Capone is "buried" in a love story magazine. He listens to the information whispered, his gaze never leaving the pages of the magazine. In a few minutes he rises, stretches, and walks over to the counter. Mords pass between him and a prisoner who cells near him.

Capone returns to his easy chair. The prisoner, keeping an eye on the guard in the distance, sets about carving the chicken. It is then carefully packed under his clothing. When he reaches Range 3 he proceeds with it to Capone's cell. When Capone returns to his cell at mean he finds and disposes of the chickens at one sitting.

0

dachethal, later, assures Carone that he can handle Chattonier. . . But, it will cost!

 \bigcirc

"Say, Shavings, what would you do? I been waiting for weeks now for that fifty dollars Al's sending, and aint got it yet. Do you think they'll give it to me when it comes?"

(

Lame is speaking. He has, since Riddell's assault on Lee, been again placed in charge of the tennis courts.

"You better get writing to somebody, pretending they owe it to you. You know darmed well you can't get money here unless you prove where it comes from," Shavings advises.

"How'm I gonna do that? Who can I write to?" Lane asks.
"won't you know anyone out.ile who would do it for you?"

(

"There's a guy on the other side leaving tomorrow. He goes to Knoxville, Ga. I guess I can trust nime."

in it that as soon as he gets the fifty dollars he ewes you he'll send it in to you. Tell him write union another name than his."

"Then that'll be the letter I take up when the Chief Clerk calls me?" Lane is interested.

"That's all necessary. They wont investigate."

"You write it for me. Write what you want the guy to write me," Lane bels. Shavings complies. Next day, the inmate promising to write Lane the letter, bids him good bye.

Three days later the promised letter arrives.

"Now write back, and tell him you have his letter," advises Shavings. "and you'll sure appreciate his sending the money as soon as he can. That letter will be read going out, and will be further proof that he 'owes' it to you."

"You write it!" Lane pleads.

"You guys! Always depending on me to write," complains Shavings laughingly. He seems willing to oblige Lane but unwilling to be implicated in anything pertaining to Capone.

"Hell, it takes you no time to type them. It takes me an hour to even think what to say," lane protests.

The letter, written by Shavings, is posted. A correspondence record is the result. The books show that lane has sent three letters to Knoxville, Ga. They also show that he has received three letters from a "Ir. John Turner" residing there.

0

Then, impatient and doubtful of the outcome, he awaits Capone's information that the money has been sent to John Turner for relaying to lane.

Cn September 27th, the day after Capone's last of his three monthly visits, at which time he informed his brother to be sure take care of the various amounts designated, Jack Wiggins -- Clerk in 'A' cell house -- is "knocked-off" with three hot apple pies and one pound of cheese, for Capone.

Arraigned before the deputy, Sigins insists that he stole the food for himself. Hackethal, when questioned, pleads ignorance of their theft.

"It stands to reason, Hackethal, these pies have just come from the oven. Do you wish me to believe they were baked on the hot water pipe lines?" The deputy is indeed angry that contrary to his warnings these violations continue.

"The man told you he stole them. I can't see what I have to do with that," Hackethal pleads.

"Stole them! Stole them with whose consent? Now this has gone far enough. It must stop! If it doesn't, then I'll go down there myself and supervise things!"

"Yes, sir," Hackethal answers humbly.

"I'll talk to you later," the desuty tells Wiggins. "Take him away!"

Mackethal leaves and the guard escorts Wiggins to the hole.

Capone is apprised of the situation. Fenters learns of the deputy's anger. Wiggins, they all know, has been delivering food to Capone for some time. They have reason to worry and know suspense. They have reason to fear, believing as they do that when the deputy calls Wiggins later, Wiggins is likely to squawk. He hasn't much longer to serve, and the possible threat of loss of Good Timo might make him "open up". Capone Notwith tanding this development, and fearing to chance sending the fool by another, to the cell house, a negro pucks a half leg of sliced aution in his socks, and delivers it to Carone on the Tennis Courts that viry lay.

0

Lane, discovering the "corews are being put on", begins to "worm, about his notey. . . the rifty dollars due him from Capone. He walks. Talks incorrectly - -- throutening to stop reserving courts for Capone; produceding to quit or myles his parapherealist, and, I simulating to the over yield. Capone, impurably, hears the remore. Is account time the monodity (squeet will be to en ourse of, 'and for Carist's sake, close of the bouth of ours!"

has in a pound to an extent, but the follows of all to chemical, and his recolving none, caps his patience. We look a low that his patience we look a low that his patience and there is critical, no information if the home to write. To do not on a little disappointment to learns that it has not.

At this time the supply of to his tally it ominusted. These Unjoins is compulated to now prove usulose. To claims they are no pool when any do not nonnee against his racket after remove las his the ball to the and to has about it. He now runts and teams because he has to buy all the terms balls and hasn't any for use when needed.

Lane, when Capon's is now year, gloats in Caponsto deprivation.

"Derves his right! Sypping as after all I done for him. If he pays out, he'll get ten is balls. I got a done of them stanhad for just such an operation!"

and he had! bu for Capone? No, not one, until he pays!

Things are now really "tight" Each day they tighten more. Choose is now selling for $20.00 a pound! Capone pays it. Steams sell for $4.00 auch. Sapon pays it! Ellami is at a gramium. But Capone is able to secure it. Chicken? Chicken is uno Asimable -- it seems -- "but at $10.00 a piece I may be able to get you one."

0

And Capone gets theil

1

"We're going to lose out," Factorial tells Capone. "I have to see what's doing in another way."

Politician from Tamp., Florids (w. Italian friend of Caponets) has but recently arrived. His financial rating is investigated. Him...not so tad! Well, we'll try, Eackethal concludes.

Do Porla, a month after his arrival, finds himself (after paying an initial payment of $1500.00 and promising to pay $200.00 a month thereafter) haber in the Officers' Hessi And he had never baked in his life. Couldn't even fry an egg! But what difference does that make, he asks those who rile him, so long as he gets what he wants to eat. And can wear white clothes. Shoup at any price!

Captain Youd, since the Mighins' incident, visits the Officers' Mean daily. This measure of interference not only makes it difficult to deliver any food to Capone, but downly difficult to even prepare it! Only by during boldness does a am accomplish this mission. And, meedless to say, the man is paid very well for the risk involved.

Capore, it is the oft-repeated bon mot, must not starve!

"There seems to be no way around it, Al," Hackethal informs Capone in response to Capone's insistence his daily menu be observed.

This gay Perla. . . How's he stand with you?"

"Mato C. E. But he wont carry grub for anyone!" Capone replies.

"I don't know, Al. We might be able to do something with him.

After all, it's you first. The Hell with the other guys. If he gets caught, it's his funeral -- not ours, you know."

 \bigcirc \mathbf{O} Then pulled a fast one on the Government.....bought apartment houses, insured them heavily, then set fire to them. And get this -- cause this is what burns me up -- endangered the lives of women and children! That's something I never done! And gets also with only five years here! The worst of it is -- and the reason I don't go for the guy much -- he dragged in four other wops. Couldn't get rich quick enough. You gotta watch a wop

"What difference does it make? He's paid for the job, and like that, Frank!" we're all brothers under the skin. He's doing five years. He can make it on his ear. Of course, Al, I wouldn't went it done unless you say so.

"Well, if you feel he can get by with it -- and as things stand now nobody else'll take a chance -- 0. K. by me. I gotta eat. I'm not going to be deprived of it to save somebody else'll neck. The Hell with him, if you want to load him down."

Hackethal, ever ready to oblige Capone, gradually prevails upon Perla to "pack food" when he leaves the Officers' Mess. Regardless of who the man is on the outside, the guards do not trust him within the walls. The best of men . . . men whose honor and integrity would not permit them to misapply a postage stamp in the business world, without compunction or regret will pilfer anything they can lay their hands on in the penitentiary. It's a strange thing to analyze. A banker. . . a lawyer. . . a judge -- peddling, for a package of eigarettes or a bar of candy, a bit of information to a convict who is anxious to know how his record stands. . . To know if he is wanted elsewhere. It is something, indeed, for the prison psychiatrist to look into:

Hackethal, though, does not go for cigarettes. He accepts nothing less than fifty dollars for a favor. It's true, the favors are worth it to those who can afford to pay. And, as Capone's chef, Hackethal, accumulated thousands. He ammssed other thousands through connections with the guards -- for Capone. It stands to reason, therefore, that Capone's every wish is granted. . . That Capone's every desire is fulfilled. . . That Capone's most drastic decree executed!

While Hackethal completes negotiations with Perla for carrying the food to the basement, from where it is to be conveyed wis the grilled stairway leading from 'A' basement to 'A'cell house - or to the yard, Druggen - the aspiring one - forms a connection with the head waiter in the Diming Hall.

promain has but recently severed connections with Eachethal because thacks had not confided to Lilly just how he was "going to take Dro gam for about sen grat", and Lilly -- to gain the good graces of Drogan, repeated the conversation. Furthermore, and gam being a born selector couldn't had the high tabify charged by Machethal.

0

an the sentials into the Dising Call they ordinarily occupy the same row at each meal. This is not a sule, but it is customary for every man to have a chosen critical sich whom he likes to but and converse a tile toing set. This, exprequently, through every man into the position to must be unlike toomer usual. Commissably a sum misses sis usual row, the call to rather them. Commissably a sum misses sis usual row, the call to rather to row be ind or the one refers. This, of remain, conselled no inconvenience to a sum who may a uninto rull fee specifical effect convenient or sim beneath the table (or row) in asserting occupies. Prequently a master passe six, study, or eggs, etc., wealth be considered at by the interpretation of the constraint of the constraint and the consistency of the second section of the constraint of the cons are partially and though it rouls not be obtained while a little brinking to a substitute of a unwilling to pay, the six get it.

Demodrile, ore jan has even forcing limbels on Capone. Capone has carelessly dropped relarks about oregrants besides being so insignificant is was beyond his (begonete) unperstanding, the lovernment could get bring an for income tax! To had little respect for Druggan, and carcantically referred to him as "my half-pint bootlogger friend, Terry". Capone, insidentally, insisted he had never a ployed Druggan in Chicago.

These rumors, of course, reach Druggan. Some prisoners, like some women, are ever ready to carry a tidbit of gossip if they reel they can profit by it.

As a result of Druggan's bragging about his custard connection, rumors reach the Dining Hall Guard, Mr. Baugus. Daugus keeps an eye on Druggan, and Druggan, consequently, is caught with his bowl of egg custard.

It is October 5, 1933. Druggan stands before the Deputy Mardon. He recalls with a sneer what was said during the last "trial".

 \bigcirc \bigcirc

"Druggan, it seems you've made up your mind to violate every rule you can. Thy do you feel you're entitled to egg custard at every meal?" The deputy impresses Druggan as being in the humor to let him off light.

(*)

"Aint I payint for it?" insciently retorts Druggan.

The Deputy Warden detests a prisoner who is insolent. His attitude immediately changes.

"You're not supposed to pay for it -- because you're not supposed to have it! You nor any other immates are required to pay for anything except that which you purchase at the Commissary."

"Capone gets what he wants. Why can't I get mine?" Druggan is resentful.

The Deputy Warden rises to his feet.

"What Capone gets, and what anyone else gets, has nothing to do with what YOU get. And YOU GET THIS! I don't want you coming before me telling me anything about Capone. I can handle Capone without any suggestions or reports from you. Take him out!"

Druggan goes to the hole!

(

- - - - - -

On October 4th Kiss Tuggle is permitted to visit the hospital on the pretext that she had left some personal articles there. We guard accompanies her. One always accompanies any visitor, but Kiss Tuggle having been an employee in the hospital, is given carte blanche to walk through the institution unmolested, and unescorted.

After a few pleasantries with the hospital attaches, and the disappointment she cannot conceal when she discovers Doc's place has been converted into a barbershop, she inquires concerning his whereabouts.

"Din't you know what happened?" Dr. Beale's secretary asks.
"No. What?" She is alarmed.

()

"They shock the Hell out of the hospital! You know Eddie O'Brien's now in the Duck Mill? And Joe went to the hole? Ernie to the Tailor Shop? Well, everyone of them. . . they've been working here in the hospital for years. . . have been transferred to other assignments as a result of Doc's shakedown. (In a whisper)...Everyone who had any—thing to do with Capone!"

Kiss Tuggle nervously twists her handkerchief.
"And Doc!" she asks breathlessly.

"They put him in the book bindery. He wasn't even put in the hole after all they found in his place here. Can you imagine that?"

It is incredible, Miss Tuggle admits. Nost incredible, we agree, that Doc, with a small grocery store stock, obviously and unquestionably for Capone, was not confined in the hole, BUT, to the surprise of those who know of this affiliations, assigned under Mr. Miller, the civilian librarian.

Did the officials of the institution have a plan in mind when they made this assignment. Or, was Capone instrumental in insuring Doc was comfortably and advantageously placed? It is for the reader to later determine.

Miss Tuggle, aware that she did not ask permission to visit an immate, and cognizant of the fact she was violating one of the stringent rules of the institution, concerning employees and former employees--visiting the Dining Hall kitchen, to the Library situated on the second floor of the Tailor Shop building. We cannot fathom what is in her mind except the normal curiosity of a woman. We conclude, after dismissing this probability from our mind, that the apprehensive glance over her shoulder is conviction of a guilt that ascalls her as she laworiously ascends the concrete steps and disappears into the book bindary.

(()

A mother greeting a son after many years absence would hardly have been more able to render so poignant a greating. The indelible impression created in our minib as we hand on to Mine Tuggle's hat bring threatens to stupefy us.

"You've come beck?" Doc's eyes are arire, and a rare smile shines from his lips.

"For a few minutes only," Miss suggle whitpers, looking apprefensively around. "What happened?"

"Everything!" Doc hisses. "Take so tight you can't pour waver between them. It's awful! ere's what's became of me - - + here pasting books together after the dammad convicts tear them up! Le, a surgeon, mind gat"

Doe consemptuously ban's his index Finger on the book in his hand. Dies Tuggle smiles sympathetically.

"better than the Tailor Stop," she laughs.

"Ch., I mint worried. I'm still handling Al's business. Did you make out all right? Did you get it?"

"Everything's O.E. Thanks. That's why I came." Doc can hardly hear the hourse voice as it whispers in gratitude.

"Al will be glad to hear that," he assures hor.

"and you?" Kiss Tuggle asks.

"Tho's that coming:" asks boc, ignoring her question and directing his eyes towards the door towards which footsteps are approaching.

"I must be going!" Miss Tuggle stammers. She is visibly shaken, fearing it is a guard in search of her.

"Oh!" sighs Doo as an inmate enters. "Only Moodey."

Moodey, too, is assigned to the bindery. He greats Miss Tuggle, but with less warmth than Doo displayed. Realising he has in-

--- -- --- --- --- and immediately leaves,

A conference, lasting fifteen minutes, is held between Doc and Miss Tuggle.

"Can't get a dammed one to do a thing," Doc complains.

"Can you blame them? Everyone who ever had a finger in the pie has got it burned. Look at me!" She extends her hands palms outward.

"You should complaint" Doc laughs.

"Well, I don't know," she answers reflectively. "But I must be going." She turns, and is about to leave the bindery when as if rehearsing an exit from the stage, her lips part as if to speak. Doe's eyes follow hers. A nest parcel reposes upon the book press. Their eyes meet. A slight nod of Doe's head, indicating the parcel, is given affirmation by Liss Tuggle's nod. No words past as she makes her exit, and is lost to Doe's view.

What, we wonder, is in that parcel?!

We cannot dismiss the curiosity that abides with us. We simply must know what is in the parcel left by kiss Tuggle. Perhaps automatics! But no. . . we were hardly aware that she had a parcel when she entered the institution. There had been a rumor, spread by lane, that John Capone was sending his brother "some things". We had no idea then what these "things" might be. Of course, one wouldn't suspect Miss Tuggle of carrying in contraband:

However, any of a score of guards could have passed it to her after she entered. And, we conclude, as we watch Doc unwrap the parcel, that had it been anything dangerous he would be more careful.

As it is, he acts with the greatest of ease.

A sweat shirt comes into view. A white cap! A can of tennis balls! A roll of cat gut! So! Sporting equipment. It could have as easily been weapons, we argue. But why the jeopardy of bringing in weapons when there are now sufficient contraband weapons hidden in the institution, if ever needed? He know, because we have not only seen but inspected them! And Doc positively assures us that they are in such strategetic places that only confusion of the immate intending to station himself at one (if and when needed) would make them useless.

It's amusing to watch Doc "load down". The nuch-too-large sweat shirt is pulled over his head and covered by his worn gray sweater. The gut, in a hoop shape, is tied in the back to his belt; the cap is folded and stuffed in his hip pocket, and the cylindrical tim of tennis balls (containing three balls) stuffed between his belted pants and back.

Yet, as we watch him proceeding towards the basement, we would not dream that he has one contrabend thing on his person!

Through Lane they reach Caponel

The significance of this transaction is lost sight of as, restless and in search of something more interesting, we hang by one leg to the lighted boudoir lamp over Capone's bunk. He is reading--and his interest has never been more fully evinced --of the plan to transfer all dangerous federal prisoners to Alcatraz Island . The Devils Island of the United States!

The entropy gard magaz

The is not the only one interested in the article. At least five hundred innates, having read the same article in the daily paper, vision themselves westward bound! The jovernment has made no definite attetement. It herely infers that hardened criminals. . . innates who successfully form connections with the outside world and violate the rules of the institution they now are confined in. . . are to be incurrented and strictly prevented from enjoying such privileges in this impreparate, connection-proof fortress in han Francisco Bay.

()

"3311, loge," Carene emiles as it drops the paper to lis

Taken do part hid., Ali' no no dajo marquit.

To a lo T have to like 15 12 magnitud.

"I home -- Too hapa, I have become into . ."

The number of all interrupts. "It have to style"

"The per le for 12 to register our court function of the following court out the court of the court of the court out the court out the court of the court out the get a silvery our briefel."

(

The constant of opinion." District as all who is now chawing to five allegants? To looks directly at al, who is now chawing a cigm.

"It I to wheater, Dinty, remember this: Here than one somewheatitch is joint to be sorry be couldn't stop me!"

"Towards what?" laughs birty, a cymical smile on his lips.
"You talk like you got the goods on the Bir toys, al. But take it from
"We, the Big Boys let you down just like you let the little follows down when you were out there making promises. That goes for me, too. It's all in the game. A case of smalle out smake. Long timers. . . " Dinty reflects... "Well, I got seventeen to pull, if I lose Good Time. and I don't think I will. So that makes it nine more. Nine years, Al's, a mighty long time." he concludes tunefully.

"Cut it!" Al commands. "I wouldn't go through out there what I went through the first night here, for everything I got! Feature that pack of wolves out there waiting for me? Getting grapevine news I was arrivin'! laying awake nights figuring what kind of reception they're

Tomber 4+1 I don't know why in Hell all you guys blame me for things getting like they are. I got nothing to do with the rules and regulations. Hell, when I come here I could get anything I wanted. Then the small-charge birds started hornin' in and now I have to pay as high at 120.75 a pount for choose. And state, at that! Feature that! Lot that I'm creatin' about the twenty bucks...I don't give a damn what anything counts if I want it. It aim that! But it makes it hard on me to get anyelest teams you give have chiseled in.

. .

"nell, if I do no." he wide, rising and pacing his cell, "one thing's certain. I's going to run that joint or know why! I'll have we are team on a preparable. I gotta, Birty. I gotta! Lee? Fifty per content of any will be or agreed anyhor, and the other fifty'll have to be guid to work while. Log, it's Hell. Just plain Hell... Those joints!"

The time you before life you ailt genna de there, Al, and there is have the charles known your termis balls back over the wall!

"In out surpoind to be a wisecrack?" Al asks Carter. "If 70 5: 1. 454, 1 .c ever. To more'n the ball's goin' over."

What win let, attault, Carter spologizes.

"This commenting uncerval," Capone complains. "And get this wille you're all thinking: From now on the pay roll's going to be cut. I will forbin' out any more than I have to. Not unless I know the goods are being delivered what I'm payin' for and as I want 'emi

"You!" he points to kock. "and you!" to Dago. "And you!"
to Carter. . . "Get thit in your heads --- If Capone goes to Alcatraz, he goes bound hand and foot. He aint goin! willingly. As much as I'd like to get away from all the yokels here, and be some place safe, I aint toing to let the public know I'm licked. I'm going to give them the impression I went reluctantly.

"The public expects things of me. All right! They'll get it! They'll get all the sensational news they want, if I have to go to Alcatraz. I'm gettin' out of stir someday. Soon, maybe. When I do it's goin' to be somebody's rump. If they think they're doing me any good letting me ait here and brood, and fear and worry, they've got another thought coming. For they aint! I done my stretch — as much as I should have done. That Goddamned judge had it in for me. Blse, he'd never have thrown the book at me." (Throwing the book, in prison parlance, is imposing

"Say, the guy who'll get the log on that Devils Island stuff. That guy in the Record Office. He always knows when a transfer's goin' to be made a month before. They gotta get all the records and that stuff. That do you say, Al, I find out something? Rock is speaking.

"Who's the guy you mean?" Al asks, interested.

-3

. 1

The state of the s

"Fellow they call Short Shavings. Bates secretary."
"Is that the guy that Doc knows?"

"I guess so. But he wont pull with Doc. Doc's poison to him for some reason. That's what Lane tells me."

"And you think you can handle him? How? When you don't even know his name!"

"Thorpe. Eddie, you know . . in the physic therapy room. They're friends. " $\,$

"Wh hul! That's how it goes, is it? Well, I'll see Thorpe."

"Yeah, but Thorpe maybe can't handle him. Eddie's not the connection kind. Besides, the guy's afraid of money. I know. He's been tried out. Druggan had him do something, but I don't know what it was.

Getting some dope on restoring Good Time, so I heard." Rock's enthusiasm seens to be encouragement to Capone.

"If Druggan cuts in on my connections, there's going to be more Hell poppin' around here than he can handle. I got everything in here under control. I work these cons my way. If Druggan's got the idea he can over-bid me, let him start something! That just goes to prove what I said --- he's a chiseler!"

Capone is furious. He shakes his hand menacingly, his face thrust forward, a cigar between his fingers. His flunkies stare stupefied at his harangue.

"That's what burns me up. The no-good gets showed out of Leavenworth for squawking his head off, and comes here and chisels in on my men. Get that!" Capone rants.

"Say, Al," the innete clerk calls as he pauses outside the cell. "Two-gun said the money got to Albany C.E. And thanks!"

Capone, for an instant, couldn't recall the transaction -- the extertionists. Yes, he from:, that settles them -- for a while! $2500.00 to them... "Shat the Hell's it gonna be in Alcatraz? Jesus, walking the 'stem' (begging on the streets) when I get outtathere will be what I'll be doing!"

Something else to worry about, he reflects. Hever gave that a thought...Kidnapping there -- Kelly, bates, Eailey. Bad ones, too.

And they've got nothing to lone -- Hothing! Hasn't for them there'd be no talk of Alcatraz. Gotta get out of it. . . Can't go, darn it! Aint going to! ho, sir! This joint's good enough for me. Out out some of the connections; maybe they'll go easy with me them. That's the Hell of it. . . wanting everything my own way. and look what I get! From the fryin' par to the fire! There's your old comming, al --- There?

Get your prain working, Hig Boy, and find a way out of going to Alcatras... when the time comes, if it does!

()

You must. . . Nust! It mirt young be safe out there. Can't be --- with those bonces. Cruel. . . Heartless... Like I was. Thy'n Hell didn't I listen to Nom? metter if I had stayed poor and been happy. This hell I'm livin's enough to kill anyons. Horry. . . Jorry all the time.

And them worryin' their heads off at home!

He paces back and forth, his head bowed, his eyes east upon the concrete floor. He sees nothing but that his brain conjectures. . . helter-skelter thoughts and vivid scenes that he grays are never realizes. Dreads that he hopes will never be lived!

Pay? He pays dearly. Pays every minute of the night and day for every crime he has committed! Pays in desperate fear. . . in disillusioned hope. . . in fruitless efforts for release! And each night and day shead of him is bringing him endless hours of torment and anguish, from which there is no evenue of relief!

Miggins, formerly Capone's mort reliable man, upon release from Solitary is assigned the menial duty of "slinging hash" in the Dining Rall. This duty -- carrying a bucket of food and forming part of the detail that monotonously walks back and forth feeding the seated inmates -- is known as the degrading punishment. It is not only humiliating and embarrassing because he doing it is compelled to be subservient to other convicts, but it is the only resort the officials have for the ignorant and unintelligent. Laturally, an inmate feels, anything is preferable to "slinging hash".

 \mathbf{C}

Wife ins harbors an injured vanity. To think, he protests, that his last few weeks must be served at so menial a task! He had been looked upon by other inmates as one of al's cronies. To now drag his weary legs from one end of the section of rows to the other end, "taking lip" from grumbling, discatisfied and finnicky inmates, goes against his grain.

Purther, he has discovered to his resentment and disappointment that Capone has not made the last payment -- the one due while he was in the hole.

A message to Capone is ignored. Wiggins knows the uselessness and futility of appealing further. He knows a lot about Capone, he boasts, and if he wants to talk. . .

wiggins knows too that in a few days he will be "on the bricks"

(free), and it is an annoying thing to live in constant fear of someone stepping up behind you and silencing you forever! He knows that other men have gone from the prison, and have been found along some deserted road . . .

in a ditch. . . the dead occupant of a deserted house!

No, he resolves, he can't take the chance. He shall not go back to Kiami, his bona fide residence to where passage has been arranged.

Anything but that: Any place else -- providing Capone cannot learn where it is:

But Capone learns the most secret movements of his former aides. He learns everything, Wiggins reasons. Yet, he'll try. Maybe. . . maybe the Director of Prisons will understand. . .

Wiggins writes a letter to his sister in Omaha, Nebrasks.

He explains the situation thoroughly. The letter is "kited". (Mailed by a guard or civilian). The person kiting it cannot refuse Wiggins because Wiggins has availed himself of the service before.

Miggins' sister expected the denouement. She had heard... had heard planty about her brother John and his friendship with Capone.

Bad heard what a dangerous thing it was... Had known that though Capone had a $200.00 monthly allowance sent her, it wasn't worth the worry entailed.

What to do? To do what John suggests -- write the warden to grant John transportation to Omaha instead of Miami. She writes. The warden interviews Wiggins. The conversation is absolutely and strictly private. No one can learn any of the details, except that the warden writes to the Director of Prisons, requesting Wiggins be furnished transportation to Omaha instead of Miami. A photostatic copy of Wiggins' letter and of his sister's letter to support the warden's request for approval, is forwarded to the Director of Prisons.

And Wiggins, a few days later - known to only a few of the clerical force - takes transportation to Omaha, Nebraska. He has, he congratulates himself, "put one over on Capone".

But has he? We wonder. . . knowing that Capone has spies in every department in the institution.

Capone, however, learns from Guard Curtis of Wiggins' action.

His shrewd, receptive brain responds to the occasion. He immediately posts a letter to his brother. Its contents, of course, we can only surmise.

Close on the heels of this incident (on October 18, 1955)

Mr. Sanford Bates, Director of Prisons, unexpectedly visits the institution again. His primary desire is to bring an end to Capone's apparent wardenship. It seems unfortunate, he remarks, that so efficient a personnel cannot terminate these disgraceful affronts by Capone. It must be -- yes, it WILL BE stopped. And, by the grace of God, if no one else can stop it HE (the Director) will:

Before any of the inmates learn that he is actually in the institution, he proceeds to Capone's cell---5-7? Captain Head accompanies him. Mr. Bates had expected a surprise. . . but none so shocking as the "luxury! Comfort! A homelike atmosphere!" are a few of the exclanations that drop from his lips as he steps into and examines Coll 3-7.

"A picture gallery --- nothing less! A rich man's den! Club chair! Sill covered dishions! Floor lamp! Silk underwear, silk pujamar, purple lemming robe of expensive silk! Opecially made beauty-rost mattrees for his lamp body to recline on! The words takile from his lips as no source the articles amprily, dropping some to the floor and hishing them unife.

"I want every contraband article cleaned out of this coll!

Every one!" he storm.

"Yes, sir," woscuts Cartain houd.

"It must be done imediately. The Recrieval article of it on the 22nd. Too late them. Soo late next. I don't know why - - - "
His words are lost to our ears as he atompt out and to the parameter office.

"and they are going to foirt upon the public a corp of Dajone being a model prisoner! Well, if this is what a holel prisoner is one blod to - " he rayes as he harries towards the warden's office.

Captain Head is close on his healt as the enter.

Ten minutes later 3-7 has been stripped of its cony, considerable atmosphere. It becomes, for the first time since Capone's incurrentation, a model prices cell. A cell with no more nor less than the bundreds of others in the prison.

And twenty minutes later, Capono entering it, subjects is made to one of the most violent fits of hysteria he has had it months. The vituperations, invectives and damnation he hears upon the Director and the authorities in the institution, besides being too filthy to print are too senseless to recall. Hevertheless, though every effort is made by his fawners to pacify him he continues to rage throughout the entire day, his tennis for the nonce being an inconsequential thing.

And ironical as it may seem it is still more amusing -- The very day the Director arrives, with a view to terminating the connections and privileges Capone enjoys, five telegraphic money orders are received from Evansville, Indians, for five of Capone's employes . . . each in the sum of $60.001

on William Control of the Control of

THE PERSON NAMED IN COLUMN TWO IS NOT THE OWNER.

7 T

Lane, through the designing Short Shavings, is successful and given his due credit for $50.00. Thorpe, the physic therapy inmate, having had no correspondence concerning money, is denied his.

 (\cdot)

Er. Frick, the Chief Clerk ENOUS the money was sent by John Capone's syndicate, which each month takes care of the payments. Three negroes, when questioned concerning the origin of the money, the sender, and for what purpose it was sent, are unable to present an honest story. They have carned it from Capone. . . they claim it is theirs. . . and the Chief Clerk has no claim upon it! Mr. Frick, to the amazement of the negroes, informs them that they cannot have it. . . that it will be returned!

And returned it is: What disposition is made of it in Evansville is not our concern.

And once more Capons pleads for an interview with the Director.

Ch, if only he could talk to him. . . get only a word with him! WHAT HE COULD ACCOLPLISH, he assures himself and others.

But no! And NO again, says the Director. He's heard enough!

Then, to Capone's amazement and humiliation, he is stripped of his nicely laundered blue shirt, bleached pants and silk underwear.
He is paraded ignominously to the Clothing Room, and his unique apparel cast aside. A new outfit -- similar to the first he were when admitted to the institution -- is furnished him. His complaint about it scratching his skin, the seams being so rough they cut, and above all it is ill-fitting, avails him nothing. Captain Head is there to insure he does not bribe either civilians or immates employed in the Clothing Room.

His chagrin and mortification is so pronounced, and so determined is he that he will have his way that he mutters, when leaving the Clothing Room: "Watch me!"

It's not a threat, but a warning. . . a warning that he will not tolerate such treatment? That he will not wear such clothes which reduce him to the level of the ordinary inmate!

Them the startling news that the Director is closeted with Dr. Beale, his immate secretary, and other hospital employes, races through the institution. Questions and cross-questions are hurled at them, separately and privately! As a result of this investigation changes are made the following day in the hospital personnel. And Dr. Fall', a dustick, enturthe picture.

It seems that Dr. Falls, through a Dr. Brown from town -- who makes weekly visits to the G. U. climic -- is recipient of a case of bendel whiskey. Just why Dr. Brown's residence should be the destination selected for delivery of the whiskey for Dr. Falls is more than we can discover. We know, of course, that Dr. Falls and Superio had been intimate. Int just what the whiskey represented we cannot say.

On the 20th -- after the Director had departed -- Capono's sonfiscated wardrobe was smuggled to him. On Gregar's second trip to the Clothing Room - where he collected the soiled lines of discharged insates -- he obtains Al's Florsheims. His confidence increasing, Gregar becomes bolder. And, upon presenting an absolutely new set of silk underwear -- not the discarded ones, but a set that had not yet been worn -- to the inmate clerk who stamps the prisoner's number on them, requesting "40-9901" his voice was not as low as it should have been.

The result: Another inmate heard, the guard was apprised of the incident, and Gregar, on the third and last trip -- as he leaves the Clothing Room -- is arrested!

ではるが

For two days Capone was compelled to wear cotton underwear.

Had he been chained to the ceiling by his feet he could not have made more moise!

Gregar, of course, is confined in the hole, and his conduct record duly noted. Upon discharge from the hole he is assigned to the Dining Hall. Disgraceful indeed: Slinging hash! Well, it won't be long. Al'll do something to get me outs here!

Capone, of course, in less than a week has re-established himwelf in his cell. He is again enjoying the case and confort that he knew before the Director's onslaught.

In the meantime, official orders are received that a new set of lunch boxes be made. Boxes that cannot conceal contraband dinners.

Boxes that will hold only sufficient for the guard ordering. They are duly manufactured in the Carpenter Shop. Hackethal, it seems, has an intimate friend working there. Since a guard stands nearby, overseeing the work, specifications are complied with: Yet, two specially made compartments are so neatly worked into two boxes that not even the observant guard detected them.

These, of course, for Capono's meals!

For, Capone MUST be fed. . . the best!

.

the state of the state of the state of

The second second

With a suspense that at times threatened to "drive us nuts", we have been looking forward to the article by the "Georgian". Week after week we had been on edge. According to advance notices se were to read the intimate details of Capone's model prisonership! Enowing Capone's authority and influence in the penitentiary, we could hardly believe anyone would dare prepare an article contending he was a model prisoner!

()

To no one's surprise, of course, practically everyone of the inmates had risen at 6:00 A.M. the morning of October 22nd. . . the date (Sunday, too) on which the first instalment was to appear. Not many were subscribers to newspapers, so it was a case of first come first served. Each wanted to be the first to read it. . . to satisfy his curiosity. We must be prepared for the arguments that would result after the article had been digested, and not being subscribers ourselves we rise a little earlier than the others so that we might finish the article and return the paper to its rightful owner before he awakens.

Words cannot describe the sensation we knew! Words -- chapters of them! -- would be utterly futile and inadequate. Our nervous fingers have torn several pages in our anxiety to get to the page which carries the article, and, of course, in the condition we are now in (knowing we have to read in a hurry) we are ready to swoon when these headlines confront us:

CAPONE SURROUNDS SELF WITH CONVICT 'BODYGUARD' IN PRICON NERE

STITCHES SHOES B HOURS DAILY

Then, beneath these glaring streamers, pictures showing Capone on his Miami courts, his home there, his brother John, Al and his son at the races, a prison cell house -- all captioned:

FROM MANSION TO CELL -- "SCARFACE RECOMES MODEL PRINCHER"

This indeed was too much for us. Too, too much!

eight hours in all the time he has been at Atlanta! Len working in the Shop contend that he has the first time to even handle a shoe other than his own!

()

""Scarface" becomes model prisoner!"

That's the line that floored us. What does it make of the others, if he's a model prisoner? What kind of prisoner is he who obeys the rules and regulations?. . . who forms no connections? . . . who continues himself as instructed? . . . who has no money to bribe officials?

What does it make of him, if Capone, with his conniving and connections, mandates, executions, and disrespect for the ontire Eureau of Prisons and its subordinate officers, is a moiel prisoner?

produced more criminals than the country would have had without him! A criminal who really NADE others criminally inclined --- who moulded of decent citizens grasping, avaricious, murderous beings! Citizens who would have gone back into the society they had been dragged from, as clean and honorable as they were before disgrace, and lived respectable and lawabiding lives -- had he not dripped gold into their hands and poured centempt for the law into their ears!

So model a prisoner that he was permitted evasion of any and every punishment, though he violated all but two rules -- Assaulting a Guard and Attempting to Escape!!

And he threatened to wiolate the former in his run-in with Welson!

So model a prisoner that the officials could not, with their universally recognized ability to operate a model prison, properly and with the authority they are wested with for incorrigible prisoners, handle will

When Deputy Warden Schoen returned from Nashington on October 24th (having left Atlanta on October 20th), his first official act was to release Gregar from the hole.

Why? Cregar hadn't been in the hole long enough to count the bers!

His next act was the temporary suspension of two guards ---Chattomier and another. Then followed the ignoring of the lunch box incident, when three days in succession the box for Latlewson (civilian in charge of the lamning) was searched and fool in it for Superme discovered and permitted to go unreported!

(

These things an intelligent prisoner can of ignore. Term things a nutinous prisoner feels on. . . They are sureageth for the recellings attitude and discontent. They be and a number of a considerable and discontent. They have a number of any other prisoner, in a confidence infractions so grave and severe when in the fee, he is reprimentely and if it and plaint, positive.

Money ? UnquestionsUl, .

Fower? Certainly !!

Terming Capone's conduct a "standard of propriety for its fellows in that bicarre twilight world", the author of the unificationally, we conclude, but absolutely nothing but what John Capone and coronic officials suggested to him! Hever a prisoner has left the institution ble so it rescientiously admit so misleading and preposterous a statement to be correct.

The truth, as set forth in this article in chronological order, substantiated by official records and occurrences involving discipled of several of the personnel, and transfer of others, corroborates the writer's contention that Capono timed the article to avoid alcatrati

It stands to reason, and can be deduced from what has been herein written, that Capone was the sumpol of defiance and disrespect. His name was synonomous with bribery and corruption. How could be, under such a circumstance, be a model prisoner?

Warden Aderhold and his assistant warders, the "Georgian" article relates, "must shun the faintest suspicion of favoritism for No. 40686." Does he (the author of the article painting Capone a 'model prisoner') attempt to convey the fact that by shunning the faintest suspicion of favoritism they must necessarily conceal from Washington and the Bureau of Prisons every flagrant violation of the rules committed by Capone?

If so, his statements ring true!

Capone, it cannot be denied, has carte blanche within the prison walls!

÷

Ee has, as do have others, the privilege of sending two letters each week. But, in addition, he has "connections" which permit him to mail as many as twenty letters each week! Or, as many as his pricon secretary can write for him!

He has been interviewed innumerable times. His biography has been sought by several leading magazines. One national weekly offered him $25,000.00 for the story of his life. Another offered $50,000.001

Capone will accept nothing less than $200,000.00!

And then, he contends, the story must be as RE wants it written. . . Not the editor's idea, nor as the public would expect it!

In other words, it would be SAIRT AIPIDESS UPCUSS CAPCHET
He wants the public to believe he is being crucified! It would not, of course, include his shady operations in the Atlanta institution. The reflection on Mr. Aderhold would be too obvious. For after all, any article written within the prison would have to be censored! Yet, he or any other innate can write for publication providing the article does not criticise the prison, its inmates, officials or anything pertaining to the institution.

It was a matter of record that Bishop was posting letters constantly for Capone before the article under discussion was written. To infer that authentic sources of information indicate Capone does not, nor did not enjoy this privilege, forces one to the ultimate conclusion that Capone -- as preposterous as it may seem to the reader -- actually suggested that the article bear witness for him against the very infractions he committed!

One is lost in a maze of uncertainty when he tries to analyze why Capone, who 'picks his friends', made a confident of Doe, the most deceitful, avaricious and disliked innate in the institution -- regardless of the fact that Doc could form favorable connections for him!

The writer is familiar with the details of Capone's prison pay roll -- more familiar than the author of the "Georgian" article. . .

The writer knows that Capone has never sent (nor had sent) money to anyone

.. veference to the two men who 'had other charges hanging over their heads' can be applied to, first; Immate Mills, formerly assigned to the tennis courts. Capone paid him for his services by having bond posted for him so that he might not some to trial until after the Prohibition Act had been repealed. Mills, when the case came to trial at Atlanta, was dismissed. The second man for whom Capone supplied noney, was a negro in an analogous circumstance.

Such are our arguments the week of October 22nd, after a frightful night of booing and catcalls by the inmates for Capone, as the result of the "build-up" to keep him from Alcatraz.

A "build-up" which, ironically, becomes the key that opens Devils Island for Al Capone! For the public, after all, is not so gullible!

It is customary at the Atlanta institution to shift guards quarterly. A guard assigned to M' cell house from July lat to Dotober 31st, on the 7:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. shift, may find himself assigned to 'B' cell house,or one of the dormitories, for the next three London, on the Midnight to 7:00 A.M. shift, or 5:00 P.M. to Midnight elift in a tower.

O

Chattonier, assigned to the hear Corrilor since his entrance, has had occasional encounters with Capone because of Capthology propose attempting to carry contrabend in or out. Chattonier's meals are collected to him to be eaten at his post -- a deak at the entrance to the Dining Hall, on both sides of which are the exit doors to the part. To spenish his time standing at the deak, leaning upon it, or package back and forth between the exits -- approximately ten foet.

October is nearing its close. Packetist has learned through Chattenier that he (Chattenier) is to be assigned to the cell learne. Chattenier, whose ghoul-like eyes, prominent cheef meener and corporable thin carns him the michaele "Ghost", welcomes the change, contending fair a tough assignment as the Rear Corridor. But then, consoles Facicalal, the towers are worse!

and they are, for on tower duty a guard has no one to talk to during the hours of duty.

"Well, when you get in 'A' you'll like it. It's a good cell house. You don't have as much trouble as Cli Daley in 'B'. The guys throw anything at him, just to get him sore. He used to be a preacher, and the things they call that poor guy is sinful!"

Chattonier has heard of Daley's troubles with the innates in ¹B'. ¹B' cell house cells the most violent prisoners -- all of whom are employed in the Duck Mill industries. It is, Chattonier agrees, a disagreeable assignment.

"How're you an Al comin' on?" asks Hackethal.

"So-so," answers the interested Chattonier.

"My don't you be nice to him! It'll pay you in the end.
Rell, you're going to be there together and you can't lose," Rackethal

It is customary at the Atlanta institution to shift guards quarterly. A guard assigned to 'A' cell house from July lat to October 31st, on the 7:00 A.E. to 5:00 P.E. shift, may find himself assigned to 'B' cell house, or one of the dormitories, for the next three months, on the Midnight to 7:00 A.E. shift, or 5:00 F. H. to Midnight shift in a tower.

Ò

Chattonier, assigned to the hear Corridor since his entrance, has had occasional encounters with Capone because of Carsacta analysis attempting to carry contrabend in or out. Chattonier's meals are nativaried to him to be esten at his post -- a deak at the entrance to the Diring Hall, on both sides of which are the exit doors to the gard. To open is his time standing at the deak, leaning upon it, or pacing back and portion between the exits -- approximately ten feet.

October is nearing its close. Hacketiel has learned through Chattenier that he (Chattenier) is to be assigned so 'A' call hour. Chattenier, whose ghoul-like eyes, prominent cheef -romer and compactible chin earns him the michaels "Ghost", welcomes the change, contending into a tough assignment -- the Rear Corridor. But then, consoles Hacketial, the towers are worse!

and they are, for on tower duty a guard has no one to talk to during the hours of duty.

"Well, when you get in 'A' you'll like it. It's a good cell house. You don't have as much trouble as Old Duley in 'B'. The guys throw anything at him, just to get him sore. He used to be a prescher, and the things they call that poor guy is sinful!"

Chattonier has heard of Daley's troubles with the immates in 'B'. 'B' cell house cells the most violent prisoners -- all of whom are employed in the Duck Will industries. It is, Chattonier agrees, a disagreeable assignment.

"How're you an al comin' on?" asks Hackethal.

"So-so," answers the interested Chattonier.

"Why don't you be nice to him! It'll pay you in the end.

"He's bad business, I hear," Chattonier argues.
"Thinking about Bishop?"

"And a couple others," Chattonier smiles.

"You're foolish. If Lieutenant Oliver can take a chance, I don't see what you got to lose." Hackethal feels that he is gaining ground, and if he presents a strong, supporting argument in Capone's favor, he can win Chattonier over to the pay roll.

"Yeah, but Oliver's word would go against Capone's. Kine wouldn't. . . after Bishop's experience."

"Just think it over. If you get it in your head you want to make something, and be safe, you know Alis chief bodyguard. Give him the signal if I don't see you in the meantime. You'll be on midnight to 7:00 A. M., wont ye?"

"Yeah. Gould see him in the mornings, that's all."

"Best time!" says Hackethal. "Aint a bunch around then."

"O. K." answers Chattonier as Hackethal walks away.

Hackethal, pleased with his success, personally informs Gapone that he has Chattonier lined up for him. Capone, known to be one who cannot keep a secret, informs Doc. Doc. the braggart, boasts to others that he has made the connection.

Rventually, as rumors will, the information reaches the office of Captain Head. The officials hold a pow-wow. The conference, attended by Deputy Warden Schoen, Assistant Deputy Warden Pet Fry, and Captain Head, ends after thirty minutes of serious argument. Chattonier!s proposed assignment to A cell house is not vetced. Yes, he can go to A cell house, the officials agree. If it isn't Chattonier it will be some other guard. . . So why must the guard suffer?

Then, to everyone's astonishment and Capone's insufferable degradation and humiliation. . . to the chagrin of his bodyguards and delight of his ensures. . Expone is transferred to 'C' cell house. . . TO CRIL ALONE!

"C" cell house is famous for its "movie stars". . . for its Hollywoodian atmosphere. . . its paper and living "dolls". It is the cell house which houses the almormal and degenerate prisoners --- the "misses and madans". And Capene, too sturned to understand, is breathless. . . helpless!

It was in this cell-house, eighteen months ago, that he lived the most dreadful night of his life! The first time that he knew anguish. . . Hypteria. . . Fright! At that time it was not set apart for the degenerates.

Maturally, such an occasion demanded an appropriate reception, by "C" cell house immates. And in such startling contrast to his first roception, Capone was the guest of honor in the "daisy chain".

heedless to say he found this greating such warmer than his former one. This alone was balm for his insulted dignity. And, before many days had passed he contended he wouldn't give it up for all the cell houses in the institution:

Now, he repeats, he can think for himself. Though he apparently seems to enjoy celling alone he determines to cast off all his leeches and parasites and make the best of it with his new cell house friends. After all, ten years is a mighty long time ettes, beads, balls of silk cotton for making scarfs, handbag frames and other things that may be desired -- all procurable at the Commissary. If he can get by with indiscretions in the hospital, why not here: After all, again, the guard is human and a few hundred would cause any guard to "forget" to make his rounds occasionally. Surely! In this analyzation of Capone's cumning we have a most intimate glimpse of al Capone's love life in the Atlanta Penitentiary. . . a love life that astounding in its reciprocity, was nonetheless a magnificent gesture of a man't solitude being broken in response to the muffled cry of a quelled and subdued passion.

And a man in the penitentiary. . . Well, it could be worse, he consoles himself.

"Chavings, jou join' to stochale toing?" soks Doc as Chort of aving a clips on an are latic detail shouter which only those on the foot-

The think the second

Tipe a letter I'd like you to type. I - - -

The control of the state of the Type in which to do. I have to do it when I went to the order to work at the elektron. It won't take you long, the may not write.

"Let be see it. To beli'll ring in about ten minutes. Laute I can finish in by them."

Dos prolices time pages of serably printing. Charing exadings I respecting to the sulmettions "Dearest, Darling Latin Sine."

" Aut is this!" Thurings excepteiously acks.

"May, it is a lister by girl wrote mass I went to make a copy of it," Doe unsatisfactorily explains.

"But you have a copy, Doc. This?" Disvings taps the nine pages of writing.

"Yes, I know. But I want a typewritten copy. This is the copy I mad. from her letter."

chavings is hard to convince. The truthfulness of Doe's statement does not satisfy, yet, his policy is never to inquire into ones personal needs nor excuses. To perform the work, and accept the payment therefor, fulfills his obligation.

"If you don't mind, Doc, will you tell me why you went to all the trouble of copying this from the original letter, and then giving me this to write from, when you could have let me copy from the original?"

Shavings, unaccustomed to this type of business, is cautious.

"I always destroy her letters after copying them. You see, they are brought, in from downtown, and I wouldn't want them found in my possession."