COMMUNISM -

By Frank C. Waldrop

NOBODY knows how much undiscovered dynamite still lies buried in the files of the House committee on UnAmerican Activities. The committee began work in 1938 very much under a cloud of Administration disapproval.

For years it skutked along wasure either of where it was going or where it had been.

It got no co-operation from the Executive branch, but instead, direct opposition. Instead of the Department of Justice working in close association with the committee to stopcommunism, it worked to stop the committee.

TET, even so, the committee's it record of achievement in nailing some of this country's worst enemies, is remarkably good. Maybe it looks so good because the Department of Justice looks so bad.

But anyhow, here is a sample of the sort of dynamite its record holds.

One day in December, 1939, the committee called to the witness stand a Negro, William Odell Nowell of Detroit, Mich.

NOWELL had two important characteristics. First, he had been a Communist from 1929 to 1936 and had become an extremely important agent traveling between the U.S.A. and Moscow, on missions of great importance to the party.

Second, Nowell had one of those freak minds. He was capable of almost absolute and total recall of names, dates, places and remarks.

He filled the pages with information, the value of which it was impossible to estimate at the time.

WHILE he was in the midst of testifying, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt actually came to the committee rooms and, attended by numerous young Communists, took up her knitting at a conspicuous corner of the committee table.

Rhea Whitely, former FBI agent and then chief counsel of the committee, was in the process of asking Nowell about other Americans he had seen in Moscow in 1931, and Nowell was rattling off names at a great rate.

He paused for breath and said:

"... Also, I met in Moscow a Mr. Gebhardi, who was from the German Communist party. He was a representative of the German Communi-t party but in recent years he had been interested in and working on American problems."

"So he had worked with the American commission of the Communist international. His traveled through America in 1933 and a portion of 1934. I believe I met him in 1933. As a representative of the Comintern he traveled under the alias of Edwards."

NOBODY knew it then, but those 10 lines of testimony were pregnant with news that would break years later on every page one in America. That news would send men to jail.

It would drag in the name of Mrs. Roosevelt and give Holingtonia goose pimples, and embarrais easunuersecretary of State Sumner Welles.

For the "Mr. Gebhardt" whom Nowell had met in Moscow was none other than Gerhardt-Eisler. The fact that Nowell said he had seen "Mr. Gebhardt" in America in 1933 traveling under the alias of Edwards, was the clue that committee agents maught and followed, patiently and silently, from 1939 to 1947, i With no more evidence to start on than that, they ultimately hit a tgall that led to:

Gerhardt Eisler, singled our later by the FBI as the mos; dangerous Communist in America, now in Berlin heading a cold war on this country that may turn hat at any moment.

Hanns Eisler, his brother, whom Mrs. Roosevelt had interceded for with Welles, with one of those famous "Dear Sumner" letters on White House station-

Leon Josephson, who told an American consul in Denmark once that he was the party's man, and "anything short of murder," he would do on order of the party.

False passports, theft, fraud, perjury, all these and more were put in the record that afternoon as Mrs. Roosevelt listened and knitted for the newsreel cameras, while Nowell testified. But how many Administration efficiers had interest in it?

ALL in all, 1939 was one of the convnittee's biggest years for hooking big names and identifying organizations for the public's understanding.

Some of the main consequences that came on in time:
Fritz Kuhn, fuehrer of the German-American Bund, was sent to prison for mishandling of the funds of his organization.

Earl Browder, general secretary of the Communist party, and William Weiner, party treasurer, were indicted on false passport charges.

Nicholas Dozenberg was charged with counterfeiting American monoy on orders from the Communist Informational.

Officials of Bookniga, Soviet propaganda agency, pleaded guilty to the charge of falling to register as foreign agents.

Arno Rissi and Mrs. Leslie

Fry, West coast Nazi and Fareist leaders, fled the country.

But did anybody thank the committee for its efforts? Did

IT WAS no accident that a law L was put on the books in 1947 requiring that officers of American labor unions swear themselves to be free of communism.

An examination of hearings 10 years before by the House committee on un-American activitles will show why. The testimony was given by John P. Frey president of the AFL metal trades.

His warning was later buttressed by thousands of pages of additional testimony taken from hundreds of witnesses the country over, that proved no union could tolerate communism and save itself.

They gave a complete pand-rams of Communist aims and activities not only in American trade unions but in those of Italy, France and Britain, and showed with names, dates and places, just how Communist infiltration into unions was copolitical and educational fields.

REY had a motive, of course.

I in addition to his concern as & good citizen. The AF of L was hitter because John L-Lewis' lical had in 1935 broken loose and set up the CIO.

This same Lewis, in 1924, had bought full-page advertisements in newspapers all around the United States to denounce and expose with undeniable fact, the conspiratorial character of the Communist movement as an agency of the Soviet government in Moscow.

Yet in 1935, for the reasons still obscure. Lewis had opened the doors of the CIO to com-munism. I say "still obscure" even though it is obvious from even the briefest study of Lewis's character that he loves power and is inclined to grab any stick, to beat the dog.

I have no doubt he would use Communists as stepping stones to names first as quickly as he would use and has used, all other kinds of people. But yes, in 1822-24 he had a brush with them that came within a hair's breadth of losing him his United M'ne Workers' union. He is not so stupid as to have forgotte L

I HAVE heard it said that Lewis early saw how communism was developing within the New Deal and decided in 1934-35 that he would run in shead of it with the CIO, the better to head off revolution.

That's a likely face-saving story it is true, but it also has some merit just the same. For sure it is that the Communists in and surrounding the government were out to capture the labor movement with the government's help, after 1933.

John L., for all that he sat down with them, used them and was used by them, just can't be pictured as a reliable and faithful Moscow missionary, obedient to the discipline and the orders from the throne that every Communist must meekly obey.

SOMEWHERE In the murky depths of New Deal chicanery there lies a hidden story yet to be told. Lewis put the CIO, together in 1935 with Communists running his errands. In 1936 he handed the famous haif a million dollars to F.D.R.

In 1937 he began to find himself on the way out, and his ultimate unhappy leave-taking from the CIO as all the world knows, was not his own idea.

His successor in office, Philip Murray, was a much softer and more pliable type, and well the Communists understood it.

IT WAS the intertwining of the Communists throughout the CIO that had John P. Frey busy in 1938 filling the record of the House committee.

He foretold what would happen in such major unions as the National Maritime union, the United Auto Workers, the Transport Workers, Steel Workers and other behemoths.

He warned that unless union labor kept itself free of Communist encirclement, labor would one day find itself working for a tyranny which "menaces the structure and form of our gov-

The NMU and its president, Joe Curran, tried to live with communism and failed. Curran kt one point even denounced his own organization as a Cothmunist captive.

The UAW has gone through the same pattern.

And the CIO as a whole, found-itself in serious-internal straits when in 1947 it was, almost 10 years after Frey's testimony, confronted with a law of Congress at last requiring that officers of unions sign affidavits that they were not members of the Communist party.

FTER Frey, the witnesses A flooded in and the evidence with them. Evidence of communism in the schools, in the federal theater, arts and writers' projects of the WPA, of Communist fronts such as the Workers' Alliance, International Workers' Order, International Labor Defense, American Student Union, American Youth Congress.

Name after name was entered in the committee hearings of alien Communists in the U.S.A., subject to deportation.

But no action was taken. To the contrary, Mrs. P. D. Roose-velt, herself, was a leader in heaping scorn and ridicule upon the committee, and on several O'casions actually quartered; Communist members of the American Youth Congress in the White House itself.

Dato: UN 23 1950

ONE of the most interesting stories I ever covered in my life turned up in the course of investigating communism in the early New Deal of 1933-36.

That assignment had earried me from the incredible experiment in socialism under Mrs. Roosevelt's personal direction up at Reedsville, W. Va., all through the South Atlantic bywars.

The Reedsville experiment is by now forgotten, perhaps, but it is an evidence of the noxious growth that can come from pretty words.

A5 all the world knows, the mountains and valleys of West Virginia are filled with people who can't make a living where they are, but resist the idea of going out in search of a living elsewhere.

Mrs. Roosevelt set about in 1933 to remedy that at tax-payers' expense. Displaced coal miners were "re-settled" on a tract of worked-out land, in houses that had been pre-fabricated by somebody that Louis McHenry Howe, Mr. Roosevelt's personal agent, recommended.

THERE were fifty of these houses at the start. Later the number was run up to some 200, or more. I went through many of them, talked with the people and examined the operation in closest detail.

At best, you would have to call it pathetic.

The poor, unfortunate miners were shoved around by a succession of so-called "planners," who were bent, bound and determined that Reedsville would show the world the superiority of their organized operation as against individual initiative.

THEY had a "co-operative" dairy, as I remember, little strips of land for "personal" use of those who dared, and everything else was run from the top.

They set out to make Reedsville a gem of "balanced" agriculture and industry by trying to bully several firms, including General Electric, into running plants there, no matter what good reasons to the contrary.

The whole thing, in its final factual form, was nothing more than Mrs. Roocevelt's version of the collective farm that is as old as Russia and now is hardened into a government bureaucracy by the Russian government.

REEDSVILLE had another Russian aspect, too. Everybody has heard about the "Potemkin villages" that Empress Catherine the Great had her minimist. Potemkin, build along the river as she journeyed down with foreign dignitaries.

These fakes were to impress Europe with the health, strength and happiness of the Russian empire.

As fast as the imperial boats went by, each village collapsed and the actors, actresses and prop men hurried across short cuts to set up the same scene at another bend in the stream.

So with Reedsville's masters, in a way. For it was soon obvious that the Reedsville project was without a sound basis. The people living there under government seal couldn't stand it. They dribbled off in all directions, mostly to the hills.

Bomewhere around my house there still is today a child's rocking chair that I bought at the Reedsville handicraft shop. It's a good chair. But it cost about five times the price of a better chair, not to mention all the time, trouble, and expense in volved in getting it in such an out-of-the-way place.

So that Potemkin village at Reedsville collapsed and ultimately was sold off by the government at a terrible loss. But the prop men who had built it ran on to build many others at a cost of millions upon millions of the people's dollars.

Those were the days when Rexford Guy Tugwell was out to "roll up my sleeves and make America over."

The image in all such minds was Soviet Russia, which, as I have demonstrated here in the most careful detail, had already by 1933 been blown high sky as a fraud, a fake and a fallure of good government or as an enterprise for human welfare.

Just the same, "Potemkin villages," but built of good, solid American lumber stone and concrete at staggering cost, were set up all around. I visited many of them and took samplings on a broad scale.

ONE by one, they all went the same route of expensive construction, attempted socialization, collapse and sale at a loss.

Yet never did the Executive branch of our federal government either acknowledge the error of its policy or bring to punishment those who had saddled it with this multi-million dollar effort to reduce U. S. citizens to wards of government.

The only place in the government any sentiment in that direction developed, was in Congress and out of that eventually came the Bouse Committee on un-American Activities.

But I haven't told about that's most inferesting story that I ran across in checking on the WPA. That one, which has to do with the Indians, will have to keep entil tomorrow.

The May 7, 1950 issue of Bohemia, a weekly magazine published in Havana, contained a rather lengthy article concerning the Inter-American Conference for Democracy and Liberty. This article prominently mentioned BETANCOURT and included a long list of individuals and organizations which were stated to be backers of the Conference which was to be held in Havana from May 12 to May 14, 1950.

Among the list of organizations and individuals backing the Conference in the United States the Bohemia article listed the following: Americans for Democratic Action; the C.I.O.; the A.F. of L.; the Young Republicans of New York; Friends of Democracy; Pan-American Society of Women; ROCER N. BALLWIN; SIDNEY/HOOK; ALVIN JOHNSON; PEARL BUCK; ARCHIBALD MacLEISH; FRANCES GRANT; Mrs. ELEANOR-ROOSEVELT; LUIS/LUNOZ MARIN, Governor of Puerto Rico; WILLIAM GREEN; PHILLIP MURRAY; NORMAN/THOMAS; JAMES T. SHOTWELL; Representative RICHARD M. NIXON of California; WALDO FRANK; JOHN DOS PASSOS; CLARENCE SENIOR, and others.

The second day's activities included the naming of committees to work on various projects and the reading of various messages of adhesion of persons unable to be present, including messages from FRANCIS BIDDLE, Senator HERHERT H. LEHMAN, Senator HUBERT H. HUMPHHEY, Mrs. ELEANOR ROOSEVELT, and Governor LUIS MUNOZ MARIN of Puerto Rico.

The "Daily Worker" of September 28, 1948, page 3, column 1, states in an article that a delegation of American women approached Mrs. ELEANCH ROOSEVELT on September 27, 1949, regarding KETTY ZEVGOS, Greek woman democratic leader, sentenced to die by a court martial in Greece. Among the delegates who approached Mrs. ROOSEVELT was STELLA ALLEN, National Executive Secretary of the Congress of American Women.

An article in the "New York Herald Tribune" for March 14, 1950, revealed that a scheduled television appearance of PAUL ROBESON on a program with Mrs. FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT on March 19, 1950 had been called off on March 13 1950 in the face of "several hundred protests".

The article stated that SIDNEY H. EIGES, Vice-President of the National Broadcasting Company in charge of Press Information, said that ROBESON'S appearance on Mrs. ROOSEVELT'S weekl television forum was "indefinitely postpone and probably would be cancelled. The action was taken less than twenty-four hours after announcement was made that ROBESON would be a guest on the program.

Indicative of the Communist Party attitude toward the benning of PAUL ROBESON from Mrs. ELEANOR ROCSEVEIT'S NBC-TV show, it was noted that the "Daily Worker", March 15, 1950, Page 1, was critical of the banning of ROBESON from the program and that the "Daily Worker" of March 17, 1950, Page 3, Column 1, and March 19, 1950, Page 9 Column 1, also reflected support for ROBESON and condemned his being banned from the program.

The "HONOLULU STAR-BULLETIN," local daily newspaper, on Ecvember 26, 1947 carried an article under the heading "Discouragement Turns Chinese to Communism, Says Co-op Director." The article reads:

"So discouraged are the Chinese people in the corruptness of their government, so disiMusioned in the civil wars, they are turning by droves to Communism.

"CHEE QUON CHUN, a recent returnee here, backs this observation with experience since 1934, first with the Chinese government and in the last few years with China's land development program.

"He is at present on leave as director of the southeast region of the Chineso Industrial Cooperative system and is vacationing with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dai Bung Chun of 1415 Ino Lane.

"The people there, he says, are 'living from hand to mouth. Even farmers are being drawn into the militia. This has completely paralyzed the economic system of China, Mr. Chun asserts.

"'Communism can not be suppressed by force and arms, he adds. 'Hothing is left of the educational system. Not until peace is restored can there by any hope of reconstruction.'

"China's industrial cooperative system is unique, Mr. Chun explained, in that it is the first the Government has financed. It was organized shortly, after the fall of Shanghai as a relief movement to industrialize the small villages.

"Its advisory board lists such prominent social minded internationalists as Irs. F. D. Rocsevelt, the late marine Lt. Col. EVANS CARLSON and REMI-ALLEY of New Zoaland.

James O'Neill, the editor of the American Legion masszine, and Frank Lisiecki, his assisant, initiated the protest. They communicated with the National Association of Magazine Publishers and were referred to Walter Fuller, chairman of the board of curtis Publishing Co. Fuller suggested that they take the issue to Gould, and Lisiecki related that he and O'Neili did call on Gould.

"He (Gould) said Morris was fuzzy-headed but not a Commu-fuzzy-headed but not a Commu-mist." Lisiecki said. Lisiecki said that when he and O'Neill went to see Gould, he told them that Morris was a conscientious obje tor. O'Neill commented that the selective service respected conscientious objections on religious grounds but not on all otiler grounds.

Morris told me he registered with his disfit board as a conscientious objector in 1940, when the Hitler-Stalin alliance was in force. I asked the grounds for his objections, whether religious or political. After some hesita-tion, Morris answered "moral."

duction; an additional prize will be given for the best independent-station production in either category. Prizes will be shared by the director, writer and producer of the winning programs; in addition; plaques will be awarded to the network or station producing the winners.

After the death of Robert E. Sherwood (who was a Fund director) in November, 1955, the competition was named in his memory and the prizes were set at $20,000 for each of the network categories and $15,000 for the independentstation prize.

The jury for the awards consists of Kermit Bloomgarden, Dr. Buell G. Gallagher, Robert M. Purcell, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Gilbert Seldes, Robert Taft, Jr., Harrison Tweed and Philip H. Willkie.

The awards will be presented at a ceremony in New York on June 22.

In May, 1956, the Directors approved a continuation of the Awards for the 1956-57 television season.

C AREAS COMMITTEE OF WAVERLY (IOWA) CHAMBER OF COMMERCE On March 30, 1955, the Fund presented an award of $10,000 to the citizens of Waverly for the "hand of neighborly friendship" they extended to Captain Virgil Daniels and his family. The local Chamber of Commerce had taken the lead in finding decent housing for this Negro Air Force Captain who had encountered difficulty when he tried to move into an apartment project in Waverly.

The Civic Areas Committee has established an annual scholarship with the yearly interest on the $10,000. A committee consisting of the Chairman of the Civic Areas Committee, the Superintendent of Schools and the President of the PTA will award the scholarship to a Waverly High School senior interested in study which will "further the cause of civil liberties and human rights." Qualifications will be "excellence in scholarship, character, need and sympathy toward the cause of civil liberties and human rights."

PETITIO

To the President of the United States On Amnesty for Smith Act Victims and Postponement of Trials

Dear Mr. President:

We respectfully urge you to grant an amnesty commuting the sentences of the sixteen men and women now in prison under the Smith Act (Alien Registration Act of 1940) to time already served, and to use your influence to secure the postponement of trials in the 180 cases presently awaiting Trial Court or Appeals Court decisions under the Act.

Those who present this petition are in fundamental disagreement with the philosophy of the Communist Party and with essential elements in its program and are motivated in their present action by their attachment to the democratic way of life and the desire to maintain and strengthen it.

We call attention to Supreme Court Justice Black's description of the character of the Smith Act and the trul of Communist Party leaders under it in his dissenting opinion when appeal from the convictions under it was before the Supreme Court:

"At the outset I want to emphasize what the crime involved in this case is and what it is not. These petitioners are not charged with an attempt to overthrow the government. They were not charged with non-verbal acts of any kind designed to overthrow the government. They were not even charged with saying or writing anything designed to overthrow the government.

The charge was that they agreed to assemble and talk and publish certain ideas at a later date .

.. The indictment is that they conspired to organize the Communist Party and to use speech or newspapers and other publications in the future to teach and advocate the forcible overthrow of the government."

Recently the Supreme Court itself, by agreeing to review the California Smith Act prosecutions, has recognized the appropriateness of a "second look" at the act.

Among the sixteen for whom we are requesting a Christmas amnesty are elderly and ill nersons. The indictments and convictions in these cases were carried through in a period of the "cold war" and in an atmosphere often marked by hysteria. Fortunately, in recent months conditions have changed for the better and there is a noticeable trend to reaffirm the basic democratic traditions of our country.

It is our conviction that your aquiescence in our request would serve to give further impetus to this healthy trend, would give proof of our confidence in democratic institutions, would encourage and inspire our friends throughout the world and win new friends. Thus, we believe, it would also contribute toward peace in the world about which you are so deeply concerned and would be in line with the policy you set forth through Secretary of State Dulles on Nov. 18, 1955:

"I know that no setback, no obstacle to progress will ever deter this Government and our people from the great effort to establish a just and durable peace."

Eleanor Roosevell Sees 'Hope' for Rosenbergs

By the Associared Press

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 21.— Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt thinks "there is a great deal of hope" that Ethel and Julius Rosenberg, sentenced to die as atom spies, may be given life imprisonment instead.

The former first lady was in terviewed at St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn., where she spoke Monday night.

Mrs. Rocsevelt said she thought the death sentence for the Rosenbergs may be commuted to life imprisonment on "humanitarian grounds alone." She added that "never before have we executed any one for treason in this country in time of peace."

The Rosenbergs have been sentenced to die for giving atomic secrets to Russia.

IV. STATED AIMS AND PURPOSES

In May, 1956, the CJDC published a leaflet captioned "What Is The 'Price of Liberty'?" This leaflet reads in part as follows:

"Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty.

The Geneva Conference neared a turning point, not only for world affairs, but also for the defense of liberty at home. Here is a brief summary of some of the main developments over the last year and a half:

1. JOE MC CARTHY deflated

MC CARTHY . . . lost his power to terrorize his opponents and stay in the front page headlines.

Att'y General BROWNELL, J. E. HOOVER, Senator JAMES EASTLAND and others try to continue McCarthyism. without the name. Under the Smith Act, the McCarran Act and the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act and Congressional Committee, the assault on the Bill of Rights continued.

3. Mrs. F. D. ROOSEVELT . . . and other prominent Americans asked for amnesty for Smith Act prisoners and a moratorium on further indictments and arrests.

The CJDC issued a leaflet alleged to be a reprint from "McCell's Magazine" of May, 1956, containing an article by ELEANOR ROOSEVELT. In this article Mrs. ROOSEVELT explained her stand as to why she signed a petition to get Communists out of jail.
