"He Communist Engl Column"

Is Communist Menace Real?

Is It Molehill or Mountain?

Writer Strips 'Party' Veil

Moreover the communists really so important? Are they really a Fifth Column for Stalin? Do they control so many unions and other organizations, and have they infiltrated into the army, the navy, the papers, magazines, book publishing companies, schools, colleges, churches, scientific groups, the radio, the stage, the movies?

What is there to all this, anyway? Some people are screaming all the time about "reds, reds, reds"—which seems to be a label for anyone they oppose. You hear speakers denouncing all the New Dealers as a pack of reds. And many an outraged conservative has charged that President Roosevelt was a red and that the whole CIO is red.

We can't believe things of that sort, can we? Isn't the entire matter a childish exaggeration, making a mountain out of a molehill? In the name of common sense, what is the truth about the Communists?

Here is the answer that must be given by every responsible observer:

Strange as it may seem, fantastic as it may sound to the ordinary man who is not in a labor union or in government or politics or in certain pressure groups, the truth nevertheless is that the so-called Communist Party is not a political party at all, as Americans understand the term: that it is a conspiracy, a Fifth Column for its masters in Moscow: that there is a similar conspiracy in every other country in the world, from China to Sweden, and that the Fifth Column in this country does exercise an enormous power.

This power is grotesquely underrated, because the Communist Party has deliberately minimized its own importance in order to prevent its victims from taking alarm in time. By using the cleverest of public relations methods, it has circulated the fiction that the Communists are only a negligible handful of "progressives" and that anybody who says otherwise is a blood brother of Goebbels, Franco, Rankin, and Bilbo.

... Roosevelt Not Red

No, the whole CIO isn't Communist. But about one-third of the CIO strength at the top, policy-making level is controlled by the Communist. Party. No. President Roosevelt was not a Communist; but both he and Mrs. Roosevelt tried to "use" the Communists in order to advance the New Deal and the Roosevelt foreign policy; and lately Mrs. Roosevelt has partially awakened, to the dismaying fact that the Communists really "used" her and the President, Moreover, there is now a small but definite bloc of Communists in Congress, including one House member from New York City and several

MARSHALL FACES BARUCH-HOOVER-VANDENBERG-DULLES AXIS

Liberals greeted the appointment of General Marshall as Secretary of State with the observation that he is essentially anti-Churchill and is a Pouscevelt man. They cited Marshall's recall of the Marines from China as a shift policy. In reality, however, there is no shift in policy. Marshall's phonouncements does not alter the objective factors outlined in our first issue.

It is true that there is a distinct change of atmosphere in hashing-ton. Secretary Marshall is undoubtedly attempting to make up his own mird on the second Senator Vandeaberg is furious because Marshall has already made it object the he will not take orders from him and Dulles, as Byrres did. The area of conflict between Marshall and Vandenborg will be over methods and not over objectives. The pressures have already begun to operate; the shaping at Marshall, instigated by Vandenberg, has already started in order to whip him into line.

Vandenberg is angry on two counts: first, he did not want the Modilian will also will also will also which the Modilian views and Discipling and Clerical-fascist support there, wanted Marshall to recall the Associan Ambassador to Poland, while Marshall simply announced that we spuid a conformation events in Foland from our Embassy in Marshall is obviously pictually to eliminate the more blatant aspects of America's importalist foreign pictual. He is more suitle than Vandenberg, who is ignorant of European Listory and has very little universaling of the world in which we live. Also, Marshall is a small politician like Byrnes, but a man who will not shake it was pooted they have Vandenberg opens his mouth.

A feud between Vandenberg and Marshall is in the making; not so much because Marshall will pursue a policy basically different from that of Vandenberg and bulles, but because Marshall is intelligent, and Vandenberg is stupid.

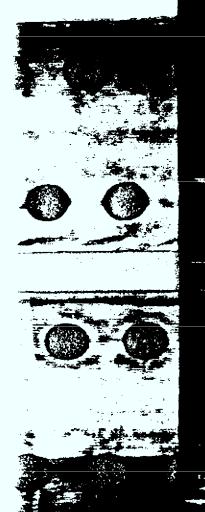

The political climate is non-thing prepared for the Moscow Conference.

The next few weeks there will be a terrific crescende to an anti-Soviet propaganda barrage. The first gun fired in that direction was Baruch's testimony before the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, which was accurately predicted in our first issue when we said that Baruch's resignation from the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission, contrary to all other interpretations, had "struck a near death-blow to all chances of agreement with Russia."

In one of the more outraseous propagands ocups of our time. Baruch lambed to newspaper sen stories that he had told the Joint Congressional Committee that Russia evidently had tapped United States atomic bomb secrets. Here is the way in which the NEW YORK TIMES led the press in handling the story. The first paragraph of the story in the TIMES, after suitable scare headlines, read:

"Bernard M. Baruch was reliably reported tonight to the the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy that Russia evidently that tapped United States atomic bomb secrets."

The seventh paragraph of the story, were the bettek or the page of edge will was stated by a Congressional source that what $P_{\rm c}$. Borruth had used π and exactly new as that the numbers of Congress and received the same information

The split of the American liberals, master-minded by a few astute manipulators, marks the longest stride forward by fascist imperialism in the United States. By a single stroke, the border-line liberals — the unconvinced, the frightened, the politically ambitious and the vested-interest liberals — have been detached and set at odds against the all-out advocates of democracy, world cooperation and freedom from fear of war. Unless the consequences of the split can be averted by such well meaning, misled individuals as Mrs. Eleanor-Roosevelt half-heartedly involved in the split through the calculating influence of politically ambitious intimates — this blow against the anti-fascist ranks will probably have disastrous results.

Despite the recent success which crowned the efforts of the country's cartelists to unify the fascist groups, they were aware that reaction could, in the end, be put to flight by a united and aroused liberal majority. When united liberal action appeared to be imminent through the merger of the National Citizens PAC and the Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions into the new Progressive Citizens of America (PCA), reaction struck savagely to split the liberal ranks.

The fascist group had a catalytic agency ready to function. That agency was an astonishing collection of border-line liberals who had marched by devious paths into a violently anti-Russian political line. This line is skill-fully fixed and planted by a small group which determines the editorial policies of a New York weekly publication called THE NEW LEADER. Although fairly obscure, it apparently is now well financed. This sudden properity, reflected in the paper's makeup, is a new phase of its existence. It is a phase which has closely paralieled an increasing inclination among fascist publications to quote from THE NEW LEADER.

To comprehend fully why reaction chose THE NEW LEADER to split the liberal movement, it is necessary to understand the origins of the publication. At one time, it had a background which was not "respectable." It was laborite and socialist. Mildly anti-Tory, it found favor among professional liberals like Louis Waldman, "labor lawyer," whose principal activity of late years has been to "expose" labor; and like the AFL leader, Matthew Woll, who combines a private insurance business with fronting for right-wing labor unions. With such a "laborite" background, THE NEW LEADER makes the perfect authority with which to frighten people away from a popular front against fascism.

Today, the columns of THE NEW LEADER are widely quoted to enhance the Rg. scare. Occasionally it echoes the pro-fascist sentiments of William Randolph reass, which are thereby purified by association with THE NEW LEADER's carefully preserved "pro-labor" reputation. THE NEW LEADER now even makes the pages of the READER'S DIGEST, thus lending a special odor of sanctity to the war-with-Russia campaign. The members of the staff of the American Embassy in Moscow avidly read THE NEW LEADER and regard its columns as authoritative sources of information on Russia.

What better proof of the State Department's utter "liberalism" with regard to the Polish elections than to choose Liston Oak, managing editor of THE NEW LEADER, as an official observer of the recent elections? In this way THE NEW LEADER is now being used officially to sanctify international red-baiting, and to promote friction in Europe.

It explains why the obscure NEW LEADER, and its numerous ramifications among the vested-interest liberals, was chosen as the catalytic agency for the coupwhich reaction considered essential. These ramifications extend into right-wing

The coming Party in New York to be given by Zlatko Balckovich, the victinist, in honor of Mrs. F.B.R., Joseph Davies, and Leo Krzyki, on March the 10th., is supposed to open up new channels of organization.

MESSAGE

of the Executive Committee of the Women's International Democratic Federation

Women of all Countries!

On the 5th of December, 1952, the Congress of the Peoples for Peace will open in Vienna. It will bring together all those whose dearest wish is to see violence and war replaced by the spirit of negotiation and understanding among the peoples.

Young mother bending over your baby's cradle; greyhaired mother, you who have often in your lifetime experienced the horrible cruelty of war; young girl standing hopefully on the threshold of life; working woman, you who help to create your country's wealth; peasant woman sowing the grain that turns the fields to gold; teacher and writer, whose life-work is to foster nobility in man; physician and nurse who protect life and health; scientist and artist whose task it is to enrich the life of man with well-being and beauty.

Whatever the color of your skin, whatever your religion or political convictions, whatever the country where you were born, whether you are rich or poor, the Congress of the Peoples for Peace is your Congress too, for war threatens to destroy your life, your hopes, those whom you love and those who love you.

You cannot remain indifferent to this danger! You must understand and never forget that it is possible to prevent war; that by the joint efforts of all peoples, peace can be saved, and mothers need never more be tortured by the horror of seeing their own sons murdered or becoming murderers.

At the Congress of the Peoples for Peace women and men will as never before express their will for peace and show how to preserve it.

WOMEN! We cannot wait. Remember that every new defender of peace defends your child and the happiness of your home.

Go from house to house with the news of the Congress of the Peoples for Peace!

Go to other women, whatever their opinions or beliefs, talk with them and work out with them solutions which your delegates will bring to the Congress of the peoples!

Explain tirelessly to your families, your friends, your neighbors, that it is both possible and essential to prevent war!

The war in Korea must be ended!

Armaments must be reduced!

Atomic and bacteriological weapons and weapons of mass extermination must be banned!

Re-born German and Japanese militarism must be stopped!

A Pact of Peace must be signed!

Let us as women add our will to the will of hundreds of millions of other people, so that it may become an invincible force in the defence of peace.

PEACE WILL TRIUMPH!

The text printed below is the reply addressed to Mines. Roosevelt, Sampson and Strauss by the Women's International Democratic Federation on the question of bacteriological warfare.

The W.I.D.F. considers bacteriological wariare to be so serious an attack upon humanity that it deems it necessary to outline its position once again before the bar of world opinion.

5th September 1952

Mrs. ELEANOR ROOSEVELT NEW YORK, N. Y.

Dear Mrs. Roosevelt,

We have received the letter signed by Mrs. Edith Sampson, Miss Anna Lord Strauss and yourself, purporting to answer, in the name of the "women in the United States", our Open Letter to the American Women of May 1952.

In this letter we stated that the use of germ warfare in Korea was being kept from the people of the United States of America and expressed our "full confidence that when the truth is known to them, they will join with the millions in every corner of the world who have denounced this monstrous crime and are demanding an end to the war in Korea".

We cited facts from indisputable sources, which proved that germ warfare is being carried out in Korea.

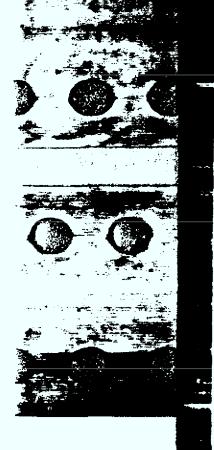

Your letter repeats the denials by which the press, radio and Government of the United States attempt to conceal the truth. As Robert Miller, a United Press editor, remember of the addressing newspaper editors in Nevada, "We are not giving the truth about Korea, and we have not been".

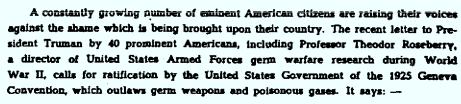

The Government of the United States simultaneously denies these facts and boasts of the systematic preparation and manufacture of germ weapons, while at the same time, captured United States fliers have admitted, in sworn statements, that they have dropped germ bombs in Korea and North China. As recently as May 19th, 1952, the magazine NEWSWEEK stated: —

The army doesn't intend to give up its research. It is asking an appropriation of 17.197.000 dollars for expanding the biological warfare research at Camp Detrick, Maryland."

At this very moment, the people in Long Island (New York) are protesting against the construction in their community of a germ warfare research laboratory costing millions of dollars to manufacture millions of death germs. The Long Island residents see in this germ factory a deadly menace to themselves and their families. All the denials in the world will not shake their conviction that germ warfare is a dreadful reality.

"As we recall the purposeful and planned destruction of the Korean countryside, the command to 'kill anything that moves', the million casualties among Korean civilians, the vast sums of money being spent by the U.S. on bacteriological warfare research, and the boasting by military spokesmen of our progress in this field, we can understand how the world can believe that those who would use burning gasoline would not hesitate to employ death-dealing bacteria."

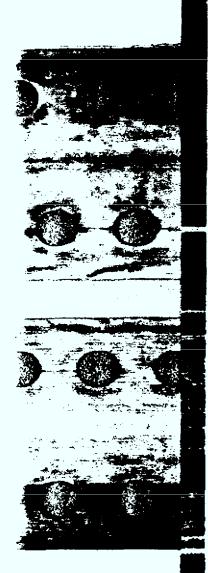

Cartainly the American mothers who have been called upon to "raise an generation of killers", the American people who are being taught contemptuously to refer to the Korean as "gooks", and who have seen from year to year that the lynching of Negroes goes unpunished in their own country, can understand that a Government which pursues such a policy will not scruple to use germ weapons in its genocidal war against the Korean people.

In the United States of America and throughout the world, millions of voices are raised demanding that the United States Government ratify the Geneva Convention of 1925. International organisations have joined in this demand, such as the International League of Red Cross Societies at its Toronto Conference this summer. The United States Government, however, remains, together with Japan, the only major power to refuse to sign this Convention, brazenly stating that ratification would be "out of date".

Faced with the precise charges brought against it, the United States Government evades these by presenting unacceptable proposals. In proposing that the International Committee of the Red Cross investigate germ warfare charges, it tries, as even Walter Lipmann of the NEW YORK HERALD-TRIBUNE has stated, to "pick its own judges". To propose this Committee, which is composed of 25 Swiss citizens — and which is not the same body as the International League of Red Cross Societies — is simply an attempt to prevent the setting up of an impartial body qualified to investigate the facts.

In our organisation there are millions of women who lost their loved ones in Hitler's concentration camps and thousands who themselves will bear for the rest of their lives the ineffaceable scars and memories of their own sufferings in these camps. They will never forget that it was Dr. Otto Lehner, one of the senior delegates to the International Red Cross Committee, and other members of the Committee, who visited Hitler's concentration camps during World War II, and who deliberately concealed from the world the barbaric atrocities committed there, at a time when millions were undergoing torture and dying in these very camps.

No more acceptable is the proposal to entrust the World Health Organisation with the investigation. As a body of the United Nations Organisation — in whose name savage and aggressive war is being conducted against the Korean people — it has no claim whatsoever to being the impartial body required

The Women's International Democratic Federation, consisting of 135 million women in 65 countries, has from the first day of the Korean war condemned it as unjust and shameful. We have consistently fought against the countless atrocities committed against the Korean people and have given the Korean people our full support.

The Women's International Democratic Federation includes in its national organisations the Union of Korean Women which unites in the north and south of the country over 2 million members. The sufferings and heroic deeds of the Korean women in defending their violated homeland have become known to the whole world. For years the national organisations of the Women's International Democratic Federation have been able to follow, step by step, the efforts of the Korean people to achieve the unification of their country and to win the right to settle their own affairs, in the face of the American occupation and the corrupt regime of Syngman Rhee maintained by the United States Government.

The Women's International Democratic Federation, in May, 1951, sent to Korea a Women's International Commission of investigation composed of women of widely differing political opinions and organizations, from 17 different countries. They published the now-famous report, "WE ACCUSE", on the atrocities committed against the Korean people by United States and Syngman Rhee troops. Overwhelmed with horror and indignation at what they had seen, these women, despite being accused of treason, despite imprisonment and persecution, have brought the truth about Korea to the people of their countries. Noteworthy is the case of Lilly Waechter, the West German representative on this Commission, who upon returning to West Germany was imprisoned by the United States military authorities.

The Women's International Democratic Federation demands, and will continue to Jeniand, until this ghastly war is over, the prohibition of all weapons of mass destruction, the withdrawal of all foreign troops and the exchange of all prisoners-of-war. The 13th Session of the Executive Committee of the Women's International Democratic Federation, which met in July 1952, addressed a Message to the women of all countries, calling, upon them to re-double their efforts to stop this war, which, by the vilest methods, is systematically destroying a whole population, a whole civilisation. It calls upon them to take part in the People's Congress for Peace which will take place in Vienna this December, in order with the utmost vigour to demonstrate their will "o see violence and war replaced by the spirit of negotiation and understanding among the peoples".

We know that in this we have the support of the peace-loving women of the world, including the women of the United States of America. Like all mothers, American mothers do not want their sons to die on foreign battlefields in aggressive and shameful wars, or to be brutalised by being made the instruments for revolting actions.

Wherever American women have learnt the truth about the character of the Korean war, they have raised their voices and taken action.

On 25th June, the second anniversary of the aggression in Korea, 1.000 American women demonstrated before the headquarters of the United Nations demanding "No Third Year of War in Korea". In the State of Washington, three mothers of solders in the United States Army initiated a movement to give the people of their state an opportunity to vote for peace. In Louisville, Kentucky, 200 wives and mothers of men in the 623rd National Guardsmen's Field Artillery demanded that their menfolk be brought back from Korea. In Little Rock, Arkansas, the father of a prisoner-of-war collected in 30 days one million signatures to a petition calling for an immediate exchange of all prisoners-of-war. Many mothers in different parts of the country are refusing to accept their sons posthumous medals, as a protest against those who sent them to their death.

When the women of the United States learnt of the use of burning gasoline against defenceless women and children, when they learnt of the savage massacre of unarmed prisoners-of-war on Koje Island, by protesting indignantly they expressed their will for peace.

You yourselves have not joined with them in raising your voices against this horror—the systematic extermination of women and children by burning them alive. Neither the sorrow of the American mother nor the martyrdom of the mother of Korea has aroused from you the least protest to your Government which sacrifices their children. You did nothing when your Government boastfully set out to rase by bombing 78 Korean towns, the pitiful remnants of homes already reduced to ashes.

You claim that you denounce germ warfare. Yet in your capacity of United States representatives in the United Nations Organisation, you have taken no steps whatever to condemn it or to press for ratification of the Geneva Convention by your Government. When your Government's spokesmen recently repudiated as "unrealistic and actually harmful" the statement of principle made by the late President Roosevelt in 1943, that the United States of America would not use bacteriological warfare unless the enemy used it first, you said nothing.

Your attitude demonstrates that you are trying to conceal the truth, to hide the guilt of the United States Government regarding the Korean war, and is revealing you to the women of the whole world as accessories to this crime against humanity. They judge you not by your words but by your deeds.

Yours truly,

M Waill and Conturies

*I am enclosing further suggestions for the list of books already recommended, but must confess that I am rather at a less to determine wither the basis for selection or exactly what is meant by current, As you will see, I have included such books as Sanson's "Japan - A Cultural History, which although published a number of years ago is, as far as I know, not only the best thing of its kind but extremely important in the light of contemporary conditions in the Pacific. Also Nehru's "Lutobiography" in addition to his "The Discovery of India," because the greater understanding we have of the man in relation to his developing influence as a world figure the better. Also Rene Guenen's worisis in the Modern World, which as far as I know has only been published in England and may not be readily available. If on the other hand the books needed primarily for the Christmas sale it might be an admirable opportunity to spread his philosophy in this country. Other suggestions may or may not be appropriate, but I am including them for what they are worth, knowing full well that the Committee will use its wisest discretion in eliminating wherever necessary.

column of Movember 28, 1912, as it appeared in the Washington Daily Hews. A review of Pegler's articles for the latter part of Movember indicated that this was the only column which approximated that which Heineman appeared to have in mind.

I have also previously supplied General Watson with a photostatic copy of an article bearing the caption "Pegler Uses Hitler-Admirer's "Amsunition" to attack Aras Workers." This article was written by "alter Lowenfels and appeared in The Worker, Sunday edition of the Daily Yorker for December 20, 1942. This article related that "it was not difficult to trace this treacherous pro-Haxi letter from Pegler's column to Baldwin's tank shop. " Going on the article identified one indrew Hercha "who had long been suspected of pro-Hazism by the other workers" as the author of the letter.

It appearing that Andrew Hercha was the author of the letter incorporated in Pegler's column, I have caused an inquiry to be made concerning this individual. All persons contacted in the course of this inquiry have uniformly expressed the opinion that Hercha, whose full name is Andrew J. Hercha Jr., is engaged in no activities which are un-keerican and that he entertains no sentiments inimical to the internal security of our country. As of interest in this regard, I have been advised that upon resigning his employment with the Baldwin Locomotive Works, Hercha atsted he was dispatisfied with the production of Army tanks at the Baldwin Locomotive Works and that he felt more tanks could be produced and blamed the retarding of progress in tank production on union activity. Specifically in this regard Hercha is indicated to have stated that rules of the union prevent transferral from one portion of the plant to another of workers who are in unoccupied positions and who could be placed on production lines in other parts of the plant. It might be noted that Hercha has admitted having written a letter to Westbrook Pegler which subsequently appeared in the Philadelphia Inquirer complaining to Pegler of the slowdown in production at the Baldwin Locomotive Forks.

I hope that the foregoing information will be of assistance to you in considering the substance of Miss Adams: letter

Dear Mrs. Roosevelt:

Most of my mail has wandered about from place to place because people left out care of Brenner. A lovely wreathe of partidge berries from Miss Lope enclosed a note telling me that you were interested in the Baldwin affair.

Unfortunately it took nine days to get here, then I was not at home to receive it when it came because I am working a two jobs now one for my living and one for love. Commercial painting in the morning and nurceries in New Jersey in the afternoon.

This is the story ---Pegler printed a letter from a "tank worker" on the 27th of November. It was bitterly anti-union and anti-administration. The tank worker boasted of how Pegler had asked him to do it and was located by the union at Baldwin. He was fired from the Pennsylvania Railroad as a boasting Pro-Nazi of the "Jew" Roosevelt and wishing Hitler were here type so well known to us all. The Union turned the matter over to the F.B.I. last week. may crack down on the man himself but I have a sorry hunch that the Peglers always get by for the same reason that the Coughlins, Camerons and Walshes

I hope to get down to Philadelphia soon and can probably track down more by going to some of the more intelligent and powerful labor leaders I know. Also Sam Darcy is back there and would help if he could since he knows many Baldwin workers.

I had planned to go down this week for a wedding and meant to follow this up. But I find that painting millions of daisies on scrap basket in the week keeps me flat on Saturday because I am not accustomed yet to the fumes of the cheap paint, the bad light or the high speed. I shall leave it soon for something better I hope but am glad to have experienced piece work somewhere else than in novels. I shall let you or Miss Lope know at once if I can find out either the man's name or where Pegler knew him and I think I can: I have tried as well as I could by long distance and with such long hours of work to prevent the story coming out first in the Sunday Worker which was planned by the Union maybe because it was the only place they could get. My point is not a criticism of that paper but that it reached so few and can be read as source material by only you with the rush of bringing more Pegler wrath. I can arrange for more direct contact with a reliable Union source for you by going to Philadelphia. I am sure and will try to make ti this week. There are affidavits from raldwin workers as to the mans Eund connections. He was obviously a stupid boaster and tool.

Sincerely yours,

/s/ Josephine T. Adams

It was reported in the Washington Afro-American on June 30, 1945 that IESLIE A. PERRY, Legislative Representative of the NAACP had stated that action might be expected on the Federal anti-lynching bill soon after Congressional action was completed on the FEPC legislation. He added that a drive would be instituted to secure signatures to a discharge petition to bypass the house judiciary committee as soon as the FEPC issue was settled, Since FEPC supporters were also supporters of the anti-lynching bill; the anti-lynching bill has been in the house judiciary committee since January 24, 1945. To date the discharge petition has 125 of the necessary 218 signatures. No organized effort has been made to secure by-partisan support for a similar bill in the Senate.

It was related in the Washington Post on July 1, 1945 that on June 30, 1945 the NAACP expressed alarm over the appointment of JAMES F. EYRNES as Secretary of State. In an association statement it called BYRNES a man "whose public record shows almost unbroken hostility toward Negroes" and deplored the fact that he now might possibly succeed to the Presidency. The NAACP charged that if BYRNES became President it "would be a calamity and would virtually destroy the last vestige of hope among one-tenth of the nation's population."

On Thursday July 5, 1945 the speaker at the Sylvan Theater on the Washington Monument Grounds was Commander HAROLD E. STASSEN speaking on the United Nations Charter. This address was sponsored by subject organization as well as many other organizations.

UFWA had placed for distribution on July 7, 1945, 130,000 leaflets to announce a Mass Meeting of the FEPC would be held Sunday afternoon July 8, 1945. It was planned to distribute these leaflets on Saturday July 7th on various street corners through the city and also in front of government buildings and this was done as planned. The leaflets extended an invitation to the meeting and at the end of the leaflet there was set forth a list of the sponsors of this mass meeting which included the DC Branch of the subject organization.

On July 8, 1945 a membership meeting of the DC Branch of the NAACP was held at the Baptist Church at 19th and I Street, NW. The program included the reports from committees on the organization's activities for the past six months or the first six months of this year.

It was announced on June 28, 1945 by WILLIAM WHITE, Executive Secretary of subject organization that Mrs. FRANKLIN DER OSEVELT had accepted membership on the National Board of Directors of the NAACP and would begin serving in September, 1945.

It was reported in the Pittsburgh Courier on March 29, 1947, that Dr. M.W. TOHMSON, President of Moward University, speaking at North Carolina College, had declared that Ir. TRUMAN's proposal to aid Greece and Turkey with money and military aid exhibits "a declaration of war against Russia." It was stated that JOHNSON predicted that Russia would not declare war against the United States since Russia knows that there are certain reactionary groups in America who believe that war with the Soviets is inevitable. JOHNSON stated in part, "Unless we remedy the casease in Democracy which Communism has put her finger on and which we are reluctant to relieve, there is no fight which we can undertake against Communism which will keep her from defeating us in the open field in the time of peace." It was reported that JOHNSON was in favor of helping Greece and Turkey but that we should mend "our own disease in Hississippi and Georgia."

The Earch 29 edition of the Washington-Afro American reported that Dr. R. RUGGLES GATES, the Zoology Professor at Howard University would in all probability not return to Howard next September. It was stated that Dr. ELLINGER had been excherated. The above refers to the allegation that the professors mentioned, labeled colored people as being members of an inferior race.

According to the Afro-American for April 12, 1947, Ers. FRANKLIN D. ROCCEVELT spoke to an overflow audience at the Andrew Rankin Memorial Chapel April 3, 1947, and declared in substance that Democracy in the United States falls far short of what it ought to be. It was stated that Irs. ROCEVELT is Chairman of the Human Rights Commission of the Social and Economic Council of the United Nations.

According to Confidential Informant T-5, LAX-LERER, a writer for MI Newspaper, spoke on April 16 at the Andrew Rankin Hemorial Chapel to approximately four-hundred persons, two-hundred and fifty of whom were Herress. According to informant, he stated in substance that the world in too large to be ruled by one country -- it cannot be ruled by American Capitalism, British Imperialism, or Russian Communism. He stated, "The Communist Party that presently exists in America constitutes more of a maisance than a threat to our democratic form of Covernment." He pointed

It was amounced in the Pittsburgh Courier on May 17 that the youth chapter of the local MAACP would sponsor a radio youth forum on Station YMDC and that the topic to be discussed would be the city's segregated school system and the Recreation Department of the District of Columbia.

The Afro-imerican on May 24, reported that CLARROLL MITCHELL, Labor Secretary of the MAACP, had charged that numerous Covernment efficials are at the present time almost completely ignering Pederal regulations against discrimination because of race. He stated that the program of discrimination in the Covernment is continuing unchecked and cited several cases. It was also reported that the organization had for the second time asked President TRUMAN to establish a temporary against to combat discrimination in Government employments.

The Pittsburgh Courier on May 24, 1947, reported that a two day public hearing was held by the President's Counittee on Civil Rights and that among the numerous public leaders attacking the problem of minorities in inclina, CHARLES R. HOUSTON, prominent MAACP attorney, had recommended self—help by the various communities in many areas of discriminatory practices but orgad the constitute to recommend to the President the establishment of uniform standards guaranteeing every citizen identical civil rights. Relisted FEPC legislation as most urgent and other legislation in the following order: aid to education, interstate travel, suffrage, housing and anti-lynching laws. He recommended an Executive Order for elimination of discrimination in Sederal services and in the Armed Services.

It might be noted with reference to HOUSTON that the Pittsburgh Courier of June 21 announced that he had been retained as chief counsel in the contempt proceedings brought by the House Countities on Un-American Activities against HUGENE DENNIS, Intional Secretary of the Communist Party It was reported that the Civil Rights Congress was instrumental in obtaining Mr. HOUSTON, However, the Afre-American of June 21 reported that HOUSTON had declined to represent HUGENE DENNIS, It was reported that HOUSTON had other commitments and could not represent DENNIS, HOUSTON also stated that the announcement by the Civil Rights Congress that he would represent DENNIS was unauthorized.

The attached is a memorandum summarizing the pertinent information appearing in the Bureau's files concerning the Fellowship of Reconciliation, a militant pacifist organization.

The preparation of this memorandum was initiated in connection with the research activities of the Special Nemoranda Unit and as a research problem an endeavor was made to correlate and divide the information in such manner that the memorandum to the date of its completion will serve as a ready reference concerning the organization. It was also prepared with the thought in mind that it will, at the present time and in the future, be of interest to those Supervisors handling matters relating to the organization or any of its members. Particular items of interest to the Bureau now, and items to be taken into consideration in following the activities of the Fellowship of Reconciliation in the future, are hereinafter set out.

In the preparation of the memorandum only those references received from a search of the name, Fellowship of Reconciliation, were reviewed. Information appearing therein concerning individuals and other organizations was obtained from this search and therefore cannot be considered as a summary of all the information in the Bureau's files relative to such individuals or organizations.

Two pertinent bits of information regarding the Fellowship were omitted from the memorandum. These are: DECONDED & INDEXED 3

The source of the mimeographed leaflet, "Suggestions for Conscientious Objectors" regarding which information appears on page 222. This leaflet was furnished to the Washington Field Division in October, 1940, by stated at the time that he had worked in an advisory capacity, from a legal point of view FOODEFENSE in drawing up the suggestions. He said that he desired these data be furnished to the Bureau in the event investigations were made of conscientious objectors and stated that he wanted the Bureau to know that the Fellowship, with which he is connected, did not advocate failure or refusal to register, but, as shown by the leaflet, recommends that conscientious objectors register as required by law.

Although sincerity in this matter is not questioned this, as will be noted in the section of the memorandum dealing with Conscription and Conscientious Objectors, is at variance with alleged statements and the actions of some of the leading members of the organization.

also said the leaflet was simply drawn up to assist conscientious objectors. It is noted that the leaflet states, "conscientious objectors should get together for discussions, counseling, and for test tribunals...." and, "such meetings should not be open to the public."

2. The second item of per the data omitted is as follows: On July 13, 1962.

was interviewed by a Special Agent of the New York Field Division.

at that time, advised that during early October, 1940, including to Hyde Park to discuss the ideals and aims of the organization. He said they spent a very pleasant two and one half hours advising Mrs. Roosevelt of the purposes of the organization and in answering questions which she propounded.

According to the following day, Mrs. Roosevelt incorporated the above interview briefly in her column, "My Day." He also said that at the end of this interview he laughingly remarked, "I imagine that some day I will be in jail because of my beliefs." to which Mrs. Roosevelt replied, "I don't think so. But if such should ever be the case write me a letter."

The following information and observations, divided according to desk classifications, appear to be of present and future interest in connection with the Bureau's investigative jurisdiction concerning the activities of this organization:

In general, the Fellowship of Reconciliation states that it will give "full support to all those whose conscience forbid them to participate in war or to conform at one or another point to a conscription act."

Re: JOSEPHIN

JOSEPHINE BAKER FOREIGN MISCELLANEOUS

Ĝ. l. .

Dear Sir:

Attached is a clipping from the Rio de Janeiro afterneon newspaper, "O Globo," dated August 29, 1952.

The article, with two photos of JOSEPHINE BAKER, is headed "Josephine Baker A Serviço De Uma Grande Causa" (Josephine Daker at the Service of a Great Cause). JOSEPHINE BAKER is the United States night club and musical comedy star who went to France in the '20s and became a big attraction there. It is believed that she became a French citizen. It will be recalled that some months ago, when she was in the United States, she became involved in an incident at the New York night club, The Stork Club, in which she accused the management of racial discrimination. In some way, Walter Winchell, the newspaper columnist, came into the picture in opposition to her. The writer knows of the incident only through sparse newspaper attention given it here in Brazil.

The attached article tells of her intention to form a Rio de Janeiro branch of the World Association Against Racial and Religious Discrimination. (Newspapers September 4, 1952, unnounce that the event took place.) The president of the organization in Rio is to be AFONSC ARINOS DE MELLO FRANCO, sponsor of an anti-racial law, and presently a member of the Federal House of Deputies, and just named House leader of the UDN (Uniao Democratica Nacional - National Democratic Union - conservative party in opposition to the present government).

The article reports the results of an interview with JOSEPHINE BAKER, who is presently in Rio, where she has had a successful run in at least two night clubs and one theater in a small revue. Other names in the World Association are ELEANOR ROOSEVELT, RALPHYBUNCHE, ARTHUR GARFIELD HAYS, BARRY GRAY and TED FOSTON. She refers to the Stork Club incident, and to Winchell. As to that incident, she said that she and her friends won out, "Today there is a law against racial discrimination in the State of New York."

The closing paragraph states that she will attend the official installation ceremonies of the association in Haiti and in Cuba. It does not state when this will be. At another point in the article, it states that from Rio she will go to Uruguay.

The above is for the completion of the Bureau's files.

"Pointing out that 'twice within a generation, the American people have had to defend themselves against a predatory and ruthless Germany', MRS. FRANKLIN D. The letters were sent on behalf of the newly formed committee of the National Conference on the German Froblem, 515 Madison Avenue.

"The Red Decade"
by: Sugare Lyones

The above-entitled book has been reviewed in this Section by Agent

Eugene Lyons, presents in "The Red Decade" a chronological history of the Communist International from its formation in Earch, 1919, until June, 1941.

We laments the fact that editors and authors can condemn at will the Factiots and the Facts, and no voice in America will be raised in protest -- such writers are not referred to as brown-batters, black-batters, or silver-batters; yet "Jooks and articles attacking mative and foreign purveyors of Stalin's pectal trand of tetalitarianism, and condemned automatically by proteign of the American public as "red-batting."

Then the government took endly belated state lasking toward the deportation of one Barry Bridges, an Australian Countries, the ori of red-batting ephoed through the presidential. If beral press. To such extert met the deportation protectings against Jan Waltin, anti-Connunted redical. Indeed the magazine PV ran an editorial protecting the Bridges affair in the same when it virtually demanded the deportation of Faltin."

The book to an enlightening expose of the bisarre, Anaidious and ounning methods used by Stalin to accomplish his purposes regardless of the cost in human life and suffering. "Stelln's numerous right-about-foces in pelicy are ensaing and musing though after tracis in results. Spain in persons of a name of the puthless, from-handed nurdering distinct of the Port A.--law. Other voices in the Krenlin and in the Consults inter--national are merely voices with no weight of sutherity. AECORDE 1 On page 97 the author paints a word ploture of uninguinable horror in describing the Stalin-rade famine of 1931-33 which took the lives of untold millions in Augulge, Maj states that it devestated the humanity of the Utraine, North B.S. DEPASYM OF A per contractal p Athther of the best seller "Assignment in Utopia" Sond presently editor of The American Vercury. INDEXED

In the chapter entitled "Stalin's Children's Now in the U.S.A." the author states, "The strangerouse of Eleanor Roosevelt cannot be evaded. She has been the most conspicuous example of the curious liberalism which throws malled le young people to any demagegio wolves who manage to corner Youth Novements." He also mentions that New Deal stalmarts like Robert No Jackson and Marold lakes took the American Youth Congress into their besome. He refers to Mrs. Roosevelt as the "uncrowned queen of the Youth Congress" and states that she and other elders from the President of the United States down, were content to applicate the antics instead of expessing the Stalinist influence betind the whole show.

The author feels that "The honesty of Bro. Rosecvelt's or Robert Jackson's intentions does not make their role any the less culpible." He makes an interesting observation when he states it that "Student movements," and "Touth protests," are likely to be treated as serious expressions of opinion when they are, in large part, symptoms of a physiological condition — an aspect of growing pains.

The only mention of the FMI in this book is contained in the footnote on Page 304 where it states the FMI was still investigating the activities of Thomas I./ Emerson, Assistant Guneral Counsel of the Labor Board with Known communistic leanings, when he was appointed to an imperiont post in the Department of Justice.

On page 387 there is contained a list of those elected to the National Council of the American Peace Vehilization and axong these manes appears the name of Reverend Owen Enez.

The book contains an index of all names and organizations appearing therein on pages 405 through 483.

This book contains so much data believed to be of value to Bureau officials that a chapter-by-chapter review to now being made.

Respectfully,

2. C. Henden

THE DIRECTOR

Reference is made to your memorandum of September 2, 1941, requesting that an examination be made of the book styled "The Red Decade," by Fugene Lyons, for the purpose of determining the merits of this publication. You further suggested that, if the book is well suthenticated, it might be desirable to have each field office procure a copy in order that the Special Agent in Charge and the Agent specializing in subversive activities might read the same.

In keeping with your request, the book has been examined. It is not believed that any recommendation should be made to the field offices to obtain copies of this book. In the first instance, the book contains substantially no information concerning subversive activities in the United States which has not already been made available to the Bureau's field offices in the form of Quarterly " Reports. Our (marterly Reports are in much greater detail and contain information of greater value than that set out in "The Red include." Several chapters of the book are devoted to world affairs, particularly the Soviet Union and Spain.

The specific reason for not wishing to recommend this book to our field offices is based upon the criticism which the author, Eugene Lyons, levels against such public personages as President Moosevelt, Krs. Roosevelt, Harold Ickes, Robert H. Jackson and others. It is not believed advisable for the Bureau to sponsor a book contain-The criticism of this nature.

The following will serve, by way of illustration, to momentate the manner in which Fugenc Lyons has criticized the persons mentioned above:

Un page 174 Lyons has written: LECCHULD

Frances Ferkins, harold ickes, least henderson, Robert H. Jackson, Eleanor Roossvelt-merely to read off their names is to characterise the type of Americans most readily misused as 'decoration' for phony left causes. It is not strange that Federal officials, from Cabinet numbers down, were soon addressing Stalinist-inspired mass meetings, helping fund-raising campaigns, collaborating rore or less incocantly in endless other Muscovite schemes. The First Lady of the land became almost standard equipment in setting up any new Innocents' Club or in bolstering the prestige of an eld one; her sympathetic heart, social-worker enthusiasm and ideological naiveté made her a perfect subject for communist hoaxes of the Fourth Period. In the inner circle of activists, I was told, whe was regarded as one of the party's most valuable assets."

On page 183 Lyons criticises the President and Mrs. Roosevelt in the following language:

"Transmission belts without greatings from the President of the United States or the personal participation of his busy spouse could consider themselves slovenly performers."

On page 206, in speaking of the Communist character of the American Student Union and the American Youth Congress, the author points out that

"...totalitarian liberals....sputtered with fury against those who claimed that the A.S.U. and its American Youth Congress were dominated by the Communists. They cheered Mrs. Roosevelt's know-nothing championship of these organizations."

Un page 207, again speaking of the *merican Student Union, the author wrote:

"New Deal stalwarts like Aubrey Milliams, Robert H. Jackson, Eleanor Roosevelt, Harold Ickes took the organisation to their bosoms and defended it against 'suspiciens' of communist controls. The President repeatedly lent his name and the prostige of his position to the Youth Congress, and the Young Communists in its managerial satup used those political gifts to the limit."

In attempting to analyse Mrs. Roosevelt's attitude toward so-called front organizations, the author on page 209 wrote:

The strange case of Eleanor Roosevelt cannot be evaded. * * * * Krs. Roosevelt led all the rest in miding with the Stalinist minority against the great captive majority within the Youth Congress. She had an opportunity to expose the technique of domination, but she chose not to interfere. Thatever it may prove about her sympathies and fine intentions—she deserves every benefit of the doubt—it does not lessen the magnitude of the mischief done."

"She was in effect lined up with the campy leaders and their secret cancuses against the mass of members; with the political machine against the more naive and unsuspecting religious and liberal and social affiliates. In a larger sense she was siding with the timy organized lobby against the vast unorganized mass of young people. Like thousands of other mothers and teachers and clergymen Mrs. Roosevelt had unwittingly abdicated in favor of Browder, Gil Green and their henchmen, who took over by the default of the natural leaders."

On page 210 the author refers to Mrs. Hoosevelt as the uncrowned queen of the Youth Congress....

Memorandum for the Director.

On the same page he refers to Mrs. Roosevelt and Robert Jackson as follows:

"The honesty of Mrs. Roosevelt's or Kobert Jackson's intentions does not make their role any the less culpable."

On page 211 he continued to refer to these two individuals in the following language:

"Their blame must be shared by all the public officials, the college presidents, the well-meaning Youth cultists who abdicated their adult position as guides for the fun of trailing a gaudy band wagon."

It is possible to continue quotations of this kind almost indefinitely, but it is believed that the ones noted suffice to indicate that the book in question should not be suggested to the field offices, as recommended reading.

The object of this memorandum is not to criticize the book in question, but the observation is made that Eugene Lyons has a flare for the literary but not for the facts. The book is no doubt an expose to those unfamiliar with Communist machinations. The author has a penchant for literary punning and satire. The author leaves one wondering:

"If its so swful and if the Communist Farty is so small, how did it all happen and why doesn't someone do something about it?"

The book contains no facts to support the illegal character of the Communist Party or even the true Communist character of the persons to whom the author makes reference continuously. Nost of the persons who are subject to his criticism are reported as follow travelers purely because of the organizations which they have supported and the attitudes which they have taken with the warying fortunes of the Soviet Union.

Such material is, of course, eircumstantial but is in no way conclusive. The author assumes, without proving, that the front organizations, supported by certain individuals, are Communist in character.

Substantially all of the information contained in the book has already appeared in newspaper and magazine articles or in other books. The author has elongated a few facts into a book of 402 pages. Thenever Mr. Lyons approached a subject having substance and depth, he dismissed the facts relating to such a subject matter by pointing out that they are too deep to be treated in a book of this character. This may be true but it leads to the conclusion that the author has a superficial knowledge of day-to-day Communism in the United States. This is further born out in so Tar as the author refers to events and incidents in order to enable him to enter into a lengthy discussion which consists only of his opinion or the opinions of others.

In so far as documentation or authentication are concerned there is no substantiation beyond public knowledge of the facts which he discusses. The author has referred to such documents as the followings

"The New Leader"
"The Daily Norker"
"The American Hercury"
"The New International"
"Soviet Russia Today"
"The Hation"
"The Congressional Record"
and others.

These publications or documents, however, do not contain proof but are used only in support of the author's themis. They do not constitute proof any more than does "The Red Decade" itself.

The conclusion is inescapable that the object of Mr. Lyons in writing "The Red Decade" is to expose but not to prove.

Respectfully,

P. E. Foxworth.

Local newspapers date-lined Lake Success, New York, January 23, 1947, carried a United Press release indicating that a United Nations commission had decided that the U.N. should try to stamp out prostitution and traffic in women and children throughout the world. It was indicated that the commission also recommended that the U.N. should plan a campaign against obscene books, magazines, and other publications. The Director commented regarding the attached clipping, "We ought to get facts re this."

INQUIRY BY NEW YORK DIVISION

The New York Division has advised the Eureau that on January 23, the Social Commission of the United Nations, Lake Success, New York, voted to recommend to the Economic Council that the United Nations take over the functions on vice suppression formerly exercised by the League of Nations under various international agreements. These agreements relate to control of traffic in women and children and the suppression of obscene publications. The Commission, with representatives from eighteen nations, also directed the Secretariat to study the most recent agreements prepared by the League in 1937 condemning exploitation and prostitution. It decided also to approve a suggestion by the League that an Eastern bureau be set up with the responsibility of suppressing traffic in women and children in eastern countries.

It has been determined that Adolf/Delierneux, a Belgian, is Secretary of the Social Commission and has in the past done research on juvenile delinquency. Delierneux is said to be a specialist in the field of sociology. The Social Commission directed him to make a study of the League's 1937 recommendation and report his findings to the Commission.

By way of information, it is pointed out that Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt 'is one of the United States' representatives on the Social Commission.

Reliable sources have indicated that consideration of these problems by the Social Commission was in no way motivated by conditions existing in the United States of America. It is noted that the Commission was particularly interested in conditions in Eastern countries. It was learned that this study of vice conditions is being considered by the United Nations in connection with their general interest in other social problems.

FUTURE DEVELOPMENTS

It has been learned that Adolf Delierneux, Secretary of the Social Commission of the United Nations, will submit a report to the Social Commission at an undesignated date in the future. Arrangements have been effected by the New York Division to obtain a copy of this report when it is submitted in order that it might be forwarded promptly to the Bureau.

U. N. Group '/ Urges War on White Slavery

Commission Also Asks Campaign on Obscene Books and Magazines

Lake Success, N. Y., Jan. 23 U.P. The United Nations should try to stamp out prostitution and traffic in women and children throughout the world, a U. N. commission decided today.

The commission also recommended that the world organization plan a campaign against obscene books, magazines and other sublications.

Another U. N. commission voted entatively, meanwhile, to recommend to the U. N. Economic and Social Council the formation of two special economic commissions, one for Europe and one for the Far East, to develop immediate reconstruction programs in war devastated areas.

The economic commission plan, fostered principally by the United States, has been envisaged by some American officials as a possible first step toward economic federation of the countries involved, particularly of Europe.

Prostitution and related problems occupied all of today's session of the social commission, a subsidiary of the U. N. Economic and Social Council.

Its members recommended that the U. N. take over the old League of Nations program aimed at suppressing traffic in women, children and obscene publications. U. N. officials pointed out that the best the U. N. could do in the near future would be some form of policing program which individual governments would agree to follow.

Meanwhile, U. N. headquarters announced that the U. N. Security Council would hold its next meeting Tuesday.

British spokesmen immediately announced that they would press or an immediate start of Britain's' case against Albania, charging the mining of Corfu Channel last October. Mr. Tolson

ALIEN ENEMY CONTROL; CONSPIRACY

As you will recall, sixty-nine members of the N.S.D.A.P. were indicted in the Eastern District of New York in Brooklyn, New York, on charges of conspiracy to violate Section 80, Title 18, United States Code, in connection with false statements and omissions in their alien registrations of 1940. Forty-Six of these defendants have already pleaded guilty and the case against one was nol-prossed in view of his collaboration with the Government. These forty-six defendants are to be sentenced by the court on December 4, 1944.

The trial of the remaining twenty-two Party members, defendants in this proceeding, which has been in progress for several weeks, was concluded on Wednesday, November 15, 1944, and this case was to go to the jury on November 16 and 17, 1944.

In connection with the trial of this pase, the New York office has advised that on November 14, 1944, Captain Frederick C. Mensing testified for the defense to the effect that no organization of the N.S.D.A.P. existed in the United States. It will be recalled that Mensing, from 1933 to late 1937, was the head of the N.S.D.A.P. (National Socialist German Workers Party or Nazi Party) in the United States.

During the cross examination of Mensing the Government introduced for the purpose of impeaching him a translation of a letter written by Mensing to Ernst Wilhelm Bohle, head of the Auslandsorganisation der N.S.D.A.P. in Germany, dated December 27, 1938, in which letter Mensing stated to Bohle that he would be able to do more for the Fatherland (Germany) as an American citizen. The Government introduced to impeach "ensing copies of other correspondence between Mensing and Party leaders in Germany, the contents of which were highly incriminating, including notes made by Mensing for his use in presiding over the N.S.D.A.P. meeting held in December, 1937, at Hans, and it Jaeger's Turnhalle in New York City in honor of Captain Fritz Wiedemann, Cerman Consultz General in San Francisco.

The New York office advised that while Mensing was brought to New York by George C, Dix, defense attorney, he testified on behalf of all of the defendants Mise Gandy.....

Several of the defense attorneys representing other defendants were, according to the New York office, much perturbed by the cross examination of Mensing. You will recall that George C. Dix, a New York attorney, is fanatically opposed to the Bureau; takes considerable pleasure in attacking the Bureau at every opportunity and has been a source of argument and dissension in Bureau cases ever since the Gunther Gustav Rumrich espionage case in 1938, in which Dix represented the defendant Johanna Hoffman.

With regard to Mensing, it is recalled that recently

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, forwarded to the Bureau a letter from Archie Roosevelt to Mrs. Roosevelt concerning "our cousin", Frederick Mensing, together with a letter from Mensing to Mrs. Roosevelt stating that he was "in trouble" and requesting her help. On the basis of Miss Thompson's request, you will recall that the Bureau furnished to her for Mrs. Roosevelt's information a summary of the available information concerning Mensing.

For your further information in connection with the above-captioned N.S.D.A.P. case, the Newark office has advised that the conspiracy trial there, which parallels the one concluded on November 15 in Brooklyn, New York, will begin November 27, 1944.

ACTION: The above is submitted for your information and no further action is believed presently necessary.

- The British Historie recognition of Communist Chine; for from being the Middle Hall, was the result of long afford by the pert of the Chinese Communists. All Richards Olark Kerr, formerly British Ambanador to Chine, knew Chine through interpretation of Agnes Smedley and Aung Peng. Michael Lindsay's father, a pear in the House of Lords, was a staunch addrer of the Chinese Communists owing to the influence of his daughter-in-law, a Chinese Communist party number whom Michael married in Peiping. The Sino-British Science Cooperation Institute, astablished in 1943 at Changking under the direction of Dr. Joseph Meedham, was actually no more than an intelligence clearing house of the British and the Chinese Criendship Association.
- (2) Why is Jawaharlal Nahra such an ingrate that he returned Ceneralisates Chiang Kai-shek's personal profound friendship with simity? It should be noted that during Mehru's visit to Changking in August, 1939, he was deeply influenced by Madame Sun Yat-sen and had since corresponded with her. Besides, Nehru's trusted friend K. P. Menon, concissioner of foreign affairs in China for the Naw Delhi government and later the first Ambassdor to China after India's independence was a long-time friend of Chou En-lai. It should also be noted that a large masher of people in India got a distorted picture of the Chinase Communists through members of the Indian Communist Party, who had once worked in the Chinase Communists.
- (3) In the last decade, the missionery organisations in China were by no few free from Communist influence and infiltration. The Yeo-chang, head of the publicate department of the Hational Council of the Yek.C.A. wrote one article after unother emeravolutionary struggles in the Catholic magazine "Tian Fong"——a periodical purportedly for the promotion of fellowship among the Chinase Christians. Another Yek.C.A. worker Liu Liamond infiltrated the Christian National Calystian Associated in the U.S. he became a pal of Paul Robeson. George the outstanding pro-Council wis significant was James Endicott, formarly professor of the Fost China Union University at Changtu. A Canadian by nationality, Endicott was born in Changtu and speaks flawless Chinase. According to counter-espionage reports, Endicott kept constant contact with a Canadian employee in the Soviet Embassy in China. At the and of the war, Endicott returned to Canada where he exerted his influence to subotage Canadian military aid to China. He is now the president of the Coercinist-dominated Gradian Peace Council.

Now the X.W.C.A. Miss Maid Russell, now the Executive Director of the Committee for A Democratic Par Hastorn Policy, is a long-time X.W.C.A. worker in China where she stayed 20 years. The executive secretary of the Y.W.C.A. at warting Chungking was no other than Kung Pu-shang (Mrs. Chang Run-fu, Party Pang's stater), who came to New York in November, 1950 as General Nu Haid-chunn's second semistant to accuse the U.S. of Korean "aggression" in the U.H. Security Council. Prior to thing Pu-shang came to the U.S. in 1943 upon the invitation of Pearl S. Buck. So followed Pearl S. Buck's article in the Life Magazine in 1943 instmusting against the Chinese Covernment. While in New York Kung Pu-shang represented China in U.H. meet of Human Rights Commission and the U.M. International Children's Emergency Pund, and at such meetings she met Mrs. Sleanor Prosevelt. Rung is now the deputy head of the international department of Paiping's foreign ministry.

(4) On the labor front, the Communist influence was also powerful. It was noted in the letter which forwarded to the Director under date of November 14, 1940, a photostatic copy of which is in instant file, that it was his impression that such Fascist activities as have been conducted in the New York area were not looked upon with favor by the Italian officials, both here and abroad. He indicates that there were various educational societies but that they carried on educational activities and were not intended for the purpose of spreading the doctrine of Fascism. He goes on to say that the activities of the anti-Fascists have been such that they have been a disturbing element among the Italian people and indicates that the Fascist group has only one small newspaper which he terms of insignificant influence, while the anti-Fascist group carries on their propaganda on a much wider scale in their magazine "Il Mondo."

Instant file reflects that a letter was directed by the New York Field Office to the Bureau under date of March 28, 1941 in which the results of an interview with by an agent of this office were set forth. It will be noted in this interview that Criscuolo pointed out that in his opinion the Fascists were no worse than the anti-Fascists in this country and that he thought something should be done to curb the spirit of anti-Fascism in New York City.

New York City, at which time he dealt at great length on his background and his activities for the United States Government in the sale of Liberty Bonds and other patriotic work during the last war and stated that he was willing to engage in any project in which the Government wished to use him in the present situation. He advised that he carries on a wide correspondence with Government officials and various newspapers throughout the country and pointed out that he had called Mrs. Roosevelt's attention to the fact that various talians had been and were being discriminated against because they were of Italian descent in connection with jobs in the National Defense industries at the present time. He stated that his articles so favorably impressed Mrs.—Roosevelt that she devoted an entire column under the heading My Day* to the injustice which has occurred in some instances to people of foreign extraction

SUBJECT: \ COUNTERINTELLIGENCE IN THE UNITED STATES ARMY

The writer has heard numerous rumors in the Military Intelligence Service which indicate that there is a movement on foot to reestablish a Counterintelligence Branch in the Military Intelligence Division. As you will recall, when the Military Intelligence Division was reorganized in the spring of this year, the Counterintelligence Group was eliminated. As you will also recall, there was a movement on foot at that time to destroy all subversive files of the Military Intelligence Division. At that time, Colonel L. R. Forney had advised that he had ascertained that General Bissell was not totally sympathetic with the elimination of the Counterintelligence Branch from the Military Intelligence Division, but apparently because of orders from higher authorities had to eliminate the Counterintelligence Group. The to interception, as you will further recall, the subversive records of the Military Intelligence Division were not destroyed.

At the present time there are certain individuals within the Military Intelligence Division who are concerned over the fact that there is no branch within the Military Intelligence Division which is concerned with watching and identifying Communica in the United States Army. It is being handled throughout the various Service Commands, their own program.

The writer has discreetly ascertained that Lieutenant Colonel Robert H. Harris plants to make a trip to all Headquarters cities of the Service Commands in order to the state of communications what activity they are engaging in toward watching development of communications in the United States Army. Harris has advised the writer in extreme confidence that The Present is extremely concerned over this matter and had instructed Harris to make which rip and report his findings. Harris pointed out that it is entirely possible that in that there is no uniform policy of investigating and handling Communists the restablishment of a Counterintellight _________it should be noted that Harris is very much imbued with the idea that there 1 2 strong central counterintelligence organization set up within the Wilitary Intelligence Division to handle matters of a counterintelligence nature. The writer has also accortained that a program for a Counterintelligence Branch has been set up.

Triter has discreetly discussed this matter with Colonel L. R. Fornsy, who addised that undoubtedly General Bissell is sympathetic to counterintelligence and realize The part of an organization to watch over Communists in the United States Army.
