[REDACTED] (S)

[REDACTED] (S)

[REDACTED] (S)

Such an album would be an excellent investigative aid and a ready reference both in the field and the FBI Headquarters (FBIHQ). It would provide the field and FBIHQ with an up-to-date repository for data relating to these individuals.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

[REDACTED] (S)

2. That attached teletype to all SACs be sent instructing offices to compile and submit necessary information.

SUGGESTION

Recommend change in FD-432a (sample attached) to provide that FD-432 (sample attached) NOT be destroyed when an individual is removed from Extremist Photograph Album (EPA) [REDACTED]

(S) Attached sample FD-432a has been modified to provide for the proposed change, which is that the FD-432 be removed from the album but retained separately by Field Offices, unless the subject is deceased.

11-21-95
CLASSIFIED BY: SP2 [REDACTED]

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

Section 122A, Pages 4 and 5, Manual of Instructions, as well as FD-432a itself, currently provide for destruction of FD-432, which contains photo and description, when a person is deleted from album.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

A person is placed in these albums for prominent extremist activities and possible travel. He may be deleted for various reasons, generally that he is no longer active. However, there is no guarantee he might not in the future come to the attention of some office outside his normal residence, with resumption of extremist activities. It seems a mistake to destroy the information, unless he is deceased.

The main advantage would be keeping the pertinent information and photo available, to aid investigation and evaluation if the name should arise. No estimate of monetary savings can be made; the savings would be in investigative time and communications costs.

Disadvantages of suggestion

None recognized.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED EXCEPT WHERE SHOWN OTHERWISE

NOT RECORDED

(The use by the United States of any suggestion shall not form the basis of a further claim of any nature by me, my heirs, or assigns upon the United States. I understand that I will be considered for any justified award only if my suggestion is accepted within two years after submission.)

Dear Mr. [REDACTED]

Thank you for the suggestion regarding a procedure for use with respect to maintaining material from certain albums unless the subject is deceased. Consideration has been afforded this proposal and it has been decided the additional paper work and expense involved would not be warranted due to the few occasions when this information might be needed.

I appreciate the interest which prompted you to submit your idea to me.

7C

Sincerely yours,

William D. Ruckelshaus

SUBJECT: EXTREMIST PHOTOGRAPH ALBUM (EPA)

[REDACTED]
SUGGESTION 798-73 SUBMITTED BY
SA [REDACTED], CHARLOTTE OFFICE

CLASSIFIED BY: SP2
REASON: 1.5 (C)
DECLASSIFY ON: X 16

SUGGESTION: Suggester recommends changes in Form FD-432a (sample attached) to provide that Form FD-432 (sample attached) NOT be destroyed when an individual is removed from EPA or [REDACTED]. Attached sample FD-432a has been modified to provide for the proposed change, which is that the FD-432 be removed from the album but retained separately by field offices, unless the subject is deceased.

CURRENT PRACTICE: Our current procedures provide for destruction of FD-432, which contains photograph and description, when a person is deleted from album according to the suggester.

ADVANTAGES: SA [REDACTED] states a person is placed in these albums for prominent extremist activities and possible travel. He may be deleted for various reasons, generally that he is no longer active. However, there is no guarantee he might not in the future come to the attention of some office outside his normal residence, with resumption of extremist activities. It seems a mistake to destroy the information, unless he is deceased. The main advantage would be keeping the pertinent information and photograph available, to aid investigation and evaluation if the name should arise. No estimate of monetary savings can be made; the savings would be in investigative time and communications costs.

OBSERVATIONS: Intelligence Division believes this idea should not be adopted. It would involve the retention of a considerable amount of material by all of our field offices merely on the outside possibility that a given [REDACTED] or Extremist subject might visit their territory and that the FD-432 form might later prove of value. This Division believed this possibility is very remote and the extra paper work and expense involved adopting this proposal would not be warranted.

2 ENCLOSURE

Due to the foregoing views, the Training Division agrees the idea should not be approved.

All Legats are currently in possession of one or more of captioned albums for their use in handling contacts with official foreign sources regarding subjects of Bureau cases. (S)

A Legat representative has indicated the administrative procedures required to maintain these albums in an up-to-date capacity appear to outweigh their actual value as investigative aids.

Accordingly, each Legat should promptly make a determination as to whether or not its operational capacity abroad requires continued use of the album or albums presently in its possession. (S)

Captioned albums, in addition to being maintained in all domestic field offices, are maintained in one or more Legats to assist in handling contacts with foreign police agencies. These albums contain photographs and biographic data of subjects of Bureau cases, including certain fugitives, concerning whom there is or may be reason to believe they are abroad, or have contacts or ties with foreign subversive, extremist or terrorist elements. These albums contain information concerning approximately 800 subjects and they require continual updating in the form of adding or deleting subjects as their investigative priorities change. Since a question has been raised concerning the value of maintaining these albums in Legats, they are being instructed to advise concerning same. (S)

Re Bulet 11/21/73.

In view of the political situation in the Middle East and Lebanon, all captioned photograph albums have been returned to the Bureau during the past year.

During the period these albums were in the possession of the Beirut office, it was found that the administrative procedures required to maintain these albums in an up-to-date capacity outweighed their actual value as investigative aids.

Use or value of the above albums to the Managua Office has been minimal. A number of leads and requests for investigation concerning subjects identified in the albums have been received and handled. In each instance, however, background and identifying data concerning the subjects was furnished by the Bureau along with the leads.

It is felt that the value of the albums as investigative aids does not warrant the time spent to handle administrative procedures in keeping the albums up-to-date.

From past experience, the Madrid Office does not feel that our operational capacity abroad requires the continued use of the albums presently in our possession. The infrequent use of these albums is not commensurate with the time required for keeping them up-to-date. In addition, these albums occupy considerable space in our limited number of file cabinets, this being particularly true of the Extremist Photograph Album, which consists of six volumes approximately two inches thick each. Also, in case of an emergency where our files would have to be destroyed, these albums would consume considerable destruction time.

In view of the above, Madrid recommends that these albums be discontinued for this office.

Legat Tel Aviv is in possession of the [REDACTED] and Weatherman Photograph Albums; the Extremist and Key Activist Photograph
Albums have not been furnished this office.

During the entire period that the Weatherman Album has been in the possession of Legat Tel Aviv there has been no need to refer to it as an investigative aid.

[REDACTED]

Legat therefore concurs with the view that the administrative procedures required to maintain the Weatherman Photograph Album in an

Re Bureau letter to Beirut 11/21/73.

The Caracas Office maintains the captioned photograph albums. It has been noted that the amount of time required to keep the albums in an up-to-date status is rather extensive, and the opportunities in which the albums have been found to be of specific investigative assistance in the Caracas Office territory have been very infrequent. (S)

It is not believed that the albums represent to the Caracas Office the same specific investigative aids that they may represent to other offices, and the operations of the Caracas Office do not particularly require the continued use of the albums. A good deal of time is spent in maintaining the albums in a current status and the utilization of the albums in connection with investigative operations of the Caracas Office is rare. (S)

NOTE:

By letter to all Legats dated 11/21/73, Legats were instructed to advise the Bureau whether continued retention of captioned Albums is necessary in view of comments made by a Legat representative indicating their administrative updating and maintenance outweigh their value as investigative aids. Captioned Albums contain photographs and biographic data on Bureau subjects, including certain fugitives, who may be abroad or who are known to have some connection with foreign subversive or extremist groups. Legat, Caracas, has indicated continued retention of captioned Albums is not necessary to its operational capacity and their destruction is being authorized.

ReBulet to Legat, Beirut, dated 11-21-73.

Legat Rome firmly agrees that the administrative procedures required to maintain captioned albums in an up-to-date status outweighs their present value as investigative aids. Legat has carefully analyzed their operational value and has determined that on only rare occasion has information contained therein been of assistance, and even in those instances, pertinent information could have been easily and readily obtained from the Bureau by cable or other suitable communication.

Legat Rome recommends that the Bureau recall the above-captioned albums or allow Legat to destroy them locally.

Manila does not maintain the Extremist Photograph Album or Key
Activist Photograph Album and foresees no need to do so in the future

The Weatherman Photograph Album is maintained but has been of little use. When a substantive case has been received concerning someone mentioned therein, the photographs of the person have normally been furnished with the request for investigation.

We maintain the Extremist Bureau Fugitive List (Bufile 157-19861) and find it the most useful of all due to Australian interest in such persons.

With the implementation of the plan to send out index cards from Headquarters together with the album changes, the most time consuming part of administering the albums will be greatly improved. Perhaps additional streamlining can be adopted. For example, there seems little reason to retain and file routing slips from the Bureau deleting or adding inserts and this office plans to cease doing so. If there is an insert in file we presumably got it from the Bureau and if there is an index card but no insert it can just as easily be presumed the album entry was deleted by the Bureau.

NOTE:

By letter to all Legats dated 11/21/73, Legats were requested to advise the Bureau whether continued retention of captioned Albums is necessary in light of comments made by a Legat representative indicating of administrative updating and maintenance outweighs their value as investigative aids. Captioned Albums contain photographs and biographic data of Bureau subjects, including certain fugitives, who may be abroad or who are known to have some link with foreign subversive or extremist elements. Legat, Madrid, has recommended their use be discontinued and appropriate instructions being directed to Legat.

VIEWS OF THE INTELLIGENCE DIVISION RE: SUGGESTION 392-74

INTELLIGENCE DIVISION ADDENDUM, 12/11/73, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] 7C

This suggestion proposes that Forms FD-432 and 432a (relating to the Extremist Photograph Album and the [REDACTED] be revised to allow for entries indicating the subject is a Potential Police Attacker (sic) and/or is on the Extremist Bureau Fugitive List. Suggestion is unfavorably recommended. Potential Police Assassin is a category handled by Division 9 and it is not believed this item should be imposed on a Form dealing with extremists and [REDACTED] handled in Division 5. No useful purpose would be served. In addition, we definitely believe that a subject's fugitive status should not be a factor with regard to either of these Forms. In fact, current instructions make it clear that the Extremist Photograph Album is not to be used as a device for identifying fugitives. Whether or not an individual is a fugitive could fluctuate from day to day and thus our Extremist Photograph Album could include erroneous information in this regard for an extended period of time.

Intelligence Division opposes adoption noting the Potential Police Assassin is a category handled by Special Investigative Division and it is not believed this item should be placed on a form dealing with Extremism and [REDACTED] handled by the Intelligence Division. No useful purpose would be served. In addition, this Division definitely believes that a subject's fugitive status should not be a factor with regard to either of these forms. Whether or not an individual is a fugitive could fluctuate from day to day and thus the Extremist Photograph Album could include erroneous information in this respect for an extended period of time. Due to these views, Training Division recommends the idea not be approved.

Re: Bureau letter 11/21/73.

Since these albums were furnished to Tokyo, we have derived practically no benefit from them, and have devoted an estimated 200 hours of clerical time to their maintenance, including indexing.

The greatest burden has been making minor corrections, additions and deletions in the Weatherman and Extremist Photograph Albums, including data on education, address, office of origin, category, type of automobile driven, etc. -- which is practically worthless to a Legal Attache. This was pointed out in a Suggestion by this office on 6/28/72, but Bureau was not at the time able to adopt this suggestion (to furnish only major changes to Legats) because more work would have been entailed at FBI Headquarters.

At this point, my considered feeling is that no more additions to the Extremist Photograph Album should be given Legats, or at least to Tokyo. Very few black extremists have visited our territory and when they have, pertinent details have been provided by the Bureau by cable. Likewise, should a suspected extremist appear here, we can promptly obtain needed information by cable. Since we already have the album and it is all indexed, we may as well keep it for future reference, but in a few years it should probably be destroyed. ~~X~~

b1

What applies to the Key Activists is true to nearly the same degree with respect to the Weatherman Photograph Album. It is suggested that we continue to keep this album, but, if screening non-pertinent data from inserts sent to Legats presents increased work at the Bureau, that the Bureau authorize each Legat to incorporate in the album only those changes which he regards as pertinent to his operation. ~~X~~

WEATHERMAN PHOTOGRAPH ALBUM

NOTE:

By letter to all Legats dated 11/21/73, Legats were instructed to advise whether continued retention of captioned Albums is necessary in view of comments by a Legat representative indicating their administrative updating and maintenance outweigh their value as investigative aids. Captioned Albums, in possession of Legat Manila, contain photographs and biographic data on Bureau subjects, including certain fugitives, who may be abroad or who are known to have some connection with foreign subversive or extremist groups. Legat, Manila, has indicated the [REDACTED] (S) Extremist Photograph Album is of continuing value to its operation, however; Legat has indicated continued maintenance of the Weatherman Photograph Album is unnecessary and its destruction is being authorized.
