Mr. J. Edgar Hoover
Special Agent in Charge
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington, D. C.

J. Edgar Hoover

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Attached herewith is the copy of a letter dated November 1, 1953, written by one [redacted] wherein she attacks the personal character of the Director. The unfounded statement is obviously the work of a distorted mind.

There is considerable information in the Bureau files concerning [redacted]. She is sort of a self-appointed critic and would be authoritative on Communist matters. She identifies herself as the "Committee of a Million" and sometimes as "[redacted] Teleshaw". She monitors television show and reads newspapers and periodicals for any information which she might consider as Communistic. She writes voluminous letters to sponsors of radio programs as well as to radio and television officials.

She called me on the telephone yesterday in regard to the Director's article appearing in the November 1, 1953, issue of "This Week" concerning ex-Communists furnishing information concerning the Communist party. I tried to explain to her the purpose of the article, but it was impossible to even attempt to reason with her.

No investigation of her was ever made by this office. She claims to be a niece of General Jonathan Mayhew Wainwright IV. It is believed that she was at one time a script writer for one of the motion picture studios, but was dismissed when she became argumentative and prejudicial in her work.

Enclosed also is a copy of a letter, the original of which she sent to Mr. Hoover, which was received at this office from HARRY MEYER, Public Relations man for the America Legion, 1815, South Figueroa Street, Los Angeles. Mr. MEYER is a good friend of the Bureau and was very much disturbed over the letter. He offered to place the full resources of the American Legion at the disposal of the Bureau in publicly denouncing [redacted] as a "blackpot."

Dear Sirs,

I should like to report that I feel sure I am not alone in believing that J. Edgar Hoover's article "Breaking the Communist Spell" published in the November 1st issue of "this week" will prove to be the greatest break the Communist Party has had in any country!

First of all, this article, in it's one-sided aspect, very definitely antagonized all anti-Communists! Mr. Hoover's indiscriminate compassion for all transgressors will, we feel sure, result in making the opportune and insincere (who, let's face it! represent a large percentage of Communists and ex-Communists!) it to see which way the wind will blow for their best advantage! After all, not do they gotta lose? Any time they decide it's most politic, and they'll be in the air with Mr. Hoover! These people deserve the nation's respect, and their neighbor's fair-minded forgiveness for their past devotion to Communism." (Quick, Henry... the soda tablets!.. and rip that picture of J. Edgar off the wall, ha!) "Their means of livelihood, Mr. Hoover leave you for this one statement alone!" "And loyal Americans must accept their sincere repentance" (Sure! After they've collected a million dollars as so far betraying their country!) "as a return to the full scope of citizenship." (Gargle the dry vomit!..) "All great religions teach that the sinner always redeems himself." (That's why I told Mr. Malone I'm going to join the Communist Party tomorrow! I'll "redeem" myself after I've made enough money to live on and educate my boy! Dig this guy Hoover! Dig him under, that is! How dare he talk to us like that!) "Who then shall sit in judgment on the ex-Communists?" (Why, the man who was stronger than he, of course!!) "Who dare deny him the promise held out to those who repent of the evil they have done and who try to make amends!" (You tell J. Edgar Hoover that the people who dare deny the Communists the insincere "amends" which they joke about at Hollywood parties are the people who have bought for years the Communist stories that J. Edgar Hoover is noted homo-sexual, that if it had not been for his devious proclivities so many of them could not have gotten in to the State Department! And please tell this mush-mouthed thug-chaser (whose plititudinous copy he surely hope he does not write!) that the Communists have spread the story of his parties in the Knickerbocker so far and wide, that he'd better hear our revelations as much as he does theirs!)

J. Edgar Hoover, and the rest of you FBI guys get paid plenty for the sleuthing you do. Remember that we get "not paid" for what we have done, and "not paid" means, that is! any reference of the word "contentious". Check my records with the "FBI" on this, and you'll find that, like all patriots, we decided on when I came to justice were either you betray your country quietly and gracefully, or you are called "stubborn" and "difficult". May God never cease to call us "difficult" at this!

The soldiers who died made the greatest sacrifice of all, of course! I write and read the tale every day that we did this strength and light to charnel winds in honest purchase of our stern intent. I write of my brother, whom I loved so very much, "Under the shining banners and the embracing vines, he lies, in the shadow of the clouds, sleeping through sunshine and through storm. The earth may run red with other wars, but he has found his peace. No tears for the dead! Tears for the living!...but who has pity for us!"

Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation

Just now I tell you that your recent article in the November 1st issue of the magazine is most enlightening. You have completely eliminated the necessity for the Fifth Amendment, because your article proves beyond a doubt that there is nothing in the least "incriminating" about having been a Communist!

In fact, this article was so eloquent that I really wept when I read how those poor, poor creatures, with the "noblest motives" refused to accept passively the injustices and prejudices of their society", and I just couldn't feel like a very admirable person if I didn't throw myself wholeheartedly and passionately "into a movement where I'd get a psy-check from Russia every week, and about bolts into jet turbines to stop that awful, cruel, mean obscene cold war. I just hate to admit it, but my uncle, Jonathan Mayhew being right, it was one of the worst offenders. Do you know that he was much more of a war-wonger than he even thought you should't be afraid to admit for love of his! Imagine! He was a four-star general, too...so I guess I'll just have to come for it, no steal some secret plans if I can, when I go to work for Lockheed. And then if I can start some strikes too, there just might be any jets to carry thebbmts, will there?

After all, I do want to deserve the nation's respect" and be "lauded and praised" by Congressmen. "My means of livelihood must be protected", and it certainly wasn't seen while I was a loyal American. I'll just have to realize how stupid I've been and "redeem myself". It was a Russian, wasn't it, good old Gasparling, who pointed out that you have to sin before you can repent and be really pure! This godly man used to take all the virgins of Nevada and ask out into the woods and rape them...because, you see, he wanted to help them have something to repent of! I'm not quite as good as heroes like Lloyd Bridges or Larry Parks, but I know you G-men will "recognize the very human and personal problems facing ex-Communists" alot better than you ever have the very real and personal problems facing the anti-Communist and if anyone is ever mean and vindictive enough to blame me or hold it against me for creating a jet and killing fourteen Naval officers, I'm just going to right my finger at him and snuffle." J. Edgar says "no then shall dare to sit in judgment on the ex-Communist!" In fact, you've really invented a new one!....It is better to have spied and squealed than never to have spied at all!

I wonder if you've been told the good news yet. A J. Edgar Hoover Fan Club has just been formed in Hollywood. I hear John Howard Lawson and Dalton Trumbo founded it.

Grateful for you aid in making me see the light at last.. and by the by, is your face red? or the color you turn out?

T. E. LYNCH AR HOOPER

Reference is made to the attached letter dated November 7, 1953, from S/C Malone, in which he sets forth a rather vicious attack which [redacted] made on the personal character of the Director and the Director's article, "Breaking the Communist Spell", which appeared in this week magazine. You suggested that Malone see [redacted] and have her "put up or shut up". The Director indicated that he thought such action was all right but he doubted if it would accomplish anything as [redacted] was obviously a mentally ill person.

I spoke to S/C Malone on Saturday, November 7, 1953, and told him to interview [redacted] and have her "put up or shut up." S/C Malone stated he would take care of this matter promptly and advise the Bureau accordingly.

FBI's Hoover

At 58 Top G-Man Is Still Tough, Active Officer of Law

By DORIS LARSEN
Times Special Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8—Recently a dangerous felon who was arrested by the FBI blinked twice, and perhaps felt honored, when he recognized the first man through the door as none other than J. Edgar Hoover.

Scant information on the arrest was released. And the FBI adamantly refuses to discuss details of any of Hoover's trips.

But there remain two interesting aspects to the event.

It's apparent that the FBI today no longer takes a bashful part in any great whoop-to-do about fairly important arrests—especially those involving Hoover personally.

Second, it's an insight into Hoover's personality. In the early days Hoover's personal participation in raids was first publicly dramatized after former Sen. Kenneth McKellar (D. Tenn.) suggested in a committee meeting that the FBI director was shy of personal courage.

SHORTLY THEREAFTER, Hoover personally arrested gangster Alvin Karpis in New Orleans. Karpis had threatened to come into the Department of Justice and kill him. McKellar's comment was actually a coincidence because Hoover had been on raids before.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Here's the last of three dispatches on the fabulous career of J. Edgar Hoover, whose record as head of the FBI is a phenomenon of federal job-holding never before matched in Washington history.

The Karpis affair was a sort of comedy of errors. Karpis came out of his surrounded house before Hoover was set and startled the No. 1 G-man. Karpis was far more startled to see Hoover and almost fainted with fright. Someone had forgotten handcuffs.

They had to use neckties for Karpis and Karpis had to direct them to the jail.

But the public reaction suited Hoover and convinced him that personal appearance at raids were good for Bureau morale. He has thus maintained the practice.

PROFILES

WHERE HIS thick black hair has begun to get gray he has it close clipped. He talks fast and walks with startling speed. He recently got his weight back down to 180, and is forced to periodic stringent diets. He still bounces around the country in important cases, or just to make a surprise check of one of his 52 field offices.

He's considered a better-than-average pistol shot and still visits the range periodically. He has not relaxed physical fitness regulations for headquarters' executives, but now confines his own exercise to long walks and a little fishing. He has given up tennis.

He continues to keep a close check on important cases and each morning reads a special summary of the night's activities of his agents. He then dictates long letters and does a lot of long-distance phoning to his 6200 agents around the country. But a total of 14,000 personnel in the bureau prohibits him from keeping the same minute inspection of the agency's activities he once maintained.

He devotes most of his time to cases involving Communists and subversive activities.

MOST OF HIS non-office time, when he's not traveling, is spent in his fairly large, comfortable brick house in an exclusive Rock Creek Park section of Washington. The house is loaded with antiques and choice pieces of bronze he has collected.

As Washington's most famous native son, his closest friends are old-time Washingtonians.

Washington hostesses long ago gave up trying to produce the famous G-man at parties. A man can't turn in a decent day's work and tear around all night, he says. He sees a movie sometimes, watches the Washington Senators play baseball on TV, and when in New York goes to a night club.

During the Maryland racing season he manages to get to the track occasion-

ATTENDS the National Presbyterian church regularly when in town and seldom misses a service when on trips. He also devotes some time to boys' organizations. He is a trustee of George Washington University and a member of the board of directors of the Boys' Clubs of America.

It's standard procedure in the FBI that no one hesitates to call Hoover at home on a private line anytime during the night if something important comes up. He never seems to go to bed, and usually is called a couple of times a night.

There used to be almost constant speculation on whom and when Hoover might marry. Most close friends now agree that he's a dedicated bachelor. Hoover's job and personal life are so intertwined, it's said, no woman could work her way between the two.

CIRCUMSTANCES of his early life kept him from marrying then. His dad died when he was young. And although Hoover has a sister, now married, and a brother now dead, care of his mother fell mostly on his shoulders. He lived with her in the modest house in which he was born in southeast Washington until her death shortly before the start of World War II.

Today Hoover enjoys good health. He has only had two major illnesses, an attack of pneumonia which almost killed him and a less serious case of shingles. He has survived three changes of administration, several presidents and attacks of general staff. The persons who have had designs on his job have long since given up.

J. Edgar Hoover today appears imperishable.

(The End)

BACHELOR HOME—In this brick home in Washington's Rock Creek Park section, J. Edgar Hoover works most nights.

CONGRATULATIONS—Outside work for FBI chief includes work with boys groups. Much he made during time at Battle Creek, Mich., where he won a school saving medal.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Here's the ~~second~~ of three dispatches on the fabulous career of J. Edgar Hoover, whose record as head of the FBI is a phenomenon of federal job-holding never before matched in Washington history.

By DOUGLAS LAESEN
Times Special Writer

WASHINGTON Oct. 7—One of Herbert Brownell's first acts as Attorney General was to order all the huge oil paintings of former AGs, which hung in his office, moved to other parts of the department. The walls were buckling.

J. Edgar Hoover promptly asked for the one of Harlan F. Stone for his own office "Sure, Edgar," said Brownell "but why that one?"

Older hands around the department wouldn't have asked. It's common knowledge among them that Hoover idolizes Stone, the brilliant jurist appointed by Coolidge to clean up the Harding administration mess.

It was Stone who moved Hoover up to be director of the then Bureau of Investigation, replacing the famous detective William J. Burns, who turned out to be not such a famous administrator.

STONE SAW the possibilities in Hoover which today accounts for one of the most amazing active careers in federal service. A 29-year-old fireball, Hoover was the nattiest dresser in the Department, kept his thick crop of black hair neatly plastered down and attacked detail work like a real beaver.

Stone and Hoover saw eye-to-eye on what the bureau needed. The ex-cons, riff-raff and political hangers-on had to be booted out. A merit system of promotion was needed. Top caliber new men had to be recruited.

Stone gave Hoover full authority to make all changes and the results today are common knowledge to every school child—the prestige of FBI agents, the smashing of the lawless gangs of the '30s, the prevention of all enemy directed domestic sabotage during World War II, the successful fight against the Commie menace.

One of Hoover's first acts in the bureau was to eliminate "buzzard's roost," a room where the loafers congregated to swap dirty stories and help polish off the bottle which every returning agent was expected to furnish.

HOOVER WAS as repulsed by the immorality of the "roost" as much as he was by the time it wasted. A deeply religious motivation accounts for many things Hoover has done in his career. His pastor, Dr. Edward L. R. Elson of the National Presbyterian Church explains:

"His great-great uncle, John Hitz, was the first Swiss minister to the U. S. and a robust Calvinist. Hoover, born in Washington New Year's Day of 1880, remembers his great uncle reading the Bible aloud and leading prayers. His most cherished possessions are the finger-worn Scriptures of his mother, and the New Testament he won for Biblical memory work."

Everyone assumed young J. Edgar would go into ministry. He taught a Sunday school class, sang in the choir and did many chores around the church.

HERO OF HIS youth was Dr. Donald C. MacLeod, his preacher who played baseball with the neighborhood boys of Southeast Washington and led many youth activities. Dr. MacLeod was Hoover's closest confidant, next to his mother and after his father died.

Hoover's early religious activity, spurred by his mother, lessened only slightly after he entered the District's Central High School. When the later-famous football coach, "Biff" Jones, had to tell Hoover that his slender 100-pound frame couldn't stand the gaff, Hoover concentrated on the cadet corps and his studies.

He picked up the nickname "Speed," not for athletic prowess, but for the way he became captain of the corps and class valedictorian.

FAMILY FINANCES—his dad had been a minor government official—diverted Hoover from the ministry. He took a job as clerk at the Library of Congress and entered night classes at George Washington University. A library official recalls:

"I never saw such an eager, hard-working boy. I'm sure he would be chief librarian today if he had stayed with us."

By maintaining his rigid work-school routine through summers Hoover won his LL.B., with honors in 1916 and Master of Laws from G. W. in 1917.

Hoover got around socially to join Kappa Alpha fraternity. Actor William Gaxton, who was a KA and used to stay at the Chapter house when he passed through Washington, recalls that when Hoover was fraternity president "Speed chastised us with his morality."

IN 1917 Hoover joined the Department of Justice and began moving up fast. In 1919 Mitchell Palmer made him a special assistant in charge of deporting aliens under the Sedition Act. In 1921 he was appointed assistant director of the old Bureau of Investigation. Most of Hoover's activities since are well documented.

However, some of the old-timers recall a few anecdotes from the early days which give a new insight into the man. A few persons called him "Speed" then. Most of them still called him just "Edgar." Since before the war it has usually been "Mister Hoover" to the expanded staff.

ONE FAMOUS clerk remembers how Hoover came into his office and gave him a real dressing-down because he had his office shade down too far. Hoover said it gave the building a peasy look from the outside.

Another recalls how Hoover would go down the hall about five in the evening, rounding up the bureau baseball team for practice. "He would be umpire, then" the man says, "and you can bet nobody argued over a decision."

A former secretary in his office remembers that Hoover would sometimes fail to return promptly from lunch. "When this happened we knew he was at Sloan's auction house buying some old piece of bronze and had forgotten what time it was," she says. "He loves antiques."

(Next: Hoover as he is today.)

FBI CHIEF—For his fight against communists, Hoover's Legion's Sylvan King gave him a badge of honor.

Hoover of the FBI

Editor's note: Here's the first of three dispatches on the fabulous career of J. Edgar Hoover, whose record as head of the FBI is a phenomenon of federal job-holding never before matched in Washington history.

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Two hoodlums sat in a black sedan parked on a dusty Oklahoma highway. They calmly debated whether or not to shoot the horrified man who lay trussed and gagged on the back floor. Events in that case were taking place exactly 20 years ago this month. "Machine Gun" Kelly was one of the hoodlums. The trussed victim was wealthy oil man Charles F. Urschel.

The career of J. Edgar Hoover hangs in the balance during that discussion, political historians claim.

Both Kelly and Urschel are alive today. Kelly, incidentally, is trying right now to get the Oklahoma charges against him settled so he can apply for a parole from the life sentence he is serving in Leavenworth.

Fortunately for Hoover and Urschel, Kelly decided that because he and his pal had the $200,000 ransom in hand there was no sense to add murder to the crime. Unfortunately for Kelly, Hoover took personal charge of the case, turned in a brilliant investigating and detective job, and cracked it wide open.

At that time in 1933, shortly after the Roosevelt administration took over, stories were afloat that Hoover was to be fired. He had doggedly refused to accept political appointees in his bureau. A lot of persons were saying Hoover had gotten too big for his britches. Political boss Jim Farley apparently shared that opinion, although he later had a complete change of mind.

But after Hoover's brilliant solution of the Urschel kidnaping, no politician would have dared fire him.

Today Hoover can look back on the earlier, stormy days of the FBI—and his own future—with great equanimity.

He has survived three changes of administration, served under seven presidents. He is now working for his 15th Attorney general—a phenomenon of federal job-holding never before matched. It's even more unusual because ever since his days in the department of justice during the Mitcham

HOOVER ON THE VERGE OF CONGRESS IS FIRED BY PALMER ANARCHIST SAID OF 1933. Hoover's work has kept him at the center of many vital, controversial national issues.

Even the toll of 56 years has been mild on him. The high school nickname of "Speed" still applies. He's very active, traveling across the country constantly. He's up on most details of the bureau's work. A growing fondness for good restaurants has gotten rid of his former slim figure, but his thick nose of black hair is as well intact and his voice is as clear as ever. There are some who say that Hoover's job history is the longest of any man in the department of justice.

didates gave campaign pledges to keep him in office. And he gets unbelievably kind treatment before congressional appropriations committees. All other executives get kicked around on the Hill but they love Hoover there, maybe for statements like the following, made before the house appropriations committee:

"The amount of fines, savings, recoveries affected, and claims settled in favor of the government exceeded operating costs ($91,595,559) by $25,412,786. Over 10 years that excess totals $122,000,000."

Few U. S. bureau chiefs can make that claim. It inspired Rep. Cliff Clevenger (R., Ohio) to say to Hoover after the hearing:

"I wish to thank you. I wish I knew of some other administrators just one-tenth as good as you are."

Hoover's war on crime reveals practically no defeats. Only two men—possibly three—can lay fair claim to having beaten him.

Only one man from the original list of the 10 Most Wanted Fugitives remains at large. He is Henry Randolph Mitchell wanted for the robbery of a Williston, Fla., bank in 1943.

The other man who outsmarted Hoover is an unidentified truck driver. He found Hoover putting manure on his front lawn and sold him a half-load of sheep manure for $30. Next day Hoover was outraged to learn from his assistant, Clyde A. Tolson, a man with some agricultural background, that the manure was just clay and sawdust.

Gaston B. Means, a G-man of the corrupt, pre-Hoover vintage, might be considered a third to have beaten him. Hoover sent him to Leavenworth for swindling Evelyn Walsh McLean out of $100,000 in connection with the Lindbergh kidnaping.

Later, apparently bored with Leavenworth life, Means sent Hoover a note claiming the money was in a pipe in the Potomac. Hoover immediately put navy divers on the job. Then Means sent another note admitting the first was a gag. Hoover fumed and Means died before the money could be located.

Fulfilling his campaign promise, Ike didn't touch Hoover's job, and, further, no one of the new team dreamed of patronage in the FBI.

Some students of Hoover's career claim there's a lot of luck in it. The Machine Gun Kelly case, for instance. Others say it's plain hard work.

When denounced on the floor of the house of representatives for allegedly being responsible for the 1919 Red raid, in connection with a bill to permit wire tapping, Morris Katzer, the attorney who defended the group of pigies, sent a message to congress asserting that Hoover had had no part in the raids and that he was the prosecutor he had been.

On the day the House of Representatives was voting on connecting with these people, it was reported to congress that the anti, "at least J. Edgar Hoover was fair to me."

He was violently attacked on the senate floor by Sen. John George Norris of Nebraska for the way the FBI handled the arrest of a group of left-wingers in Detroit in 1940. Norris called Hoover "the greatest house of cards on the American political scene today."

But Hoover's power is general and not limited to crime. Chief Justice Warren, for instance, called Hoover "the most powerful man in the country."

Hoover of the FBI: 2

'Buzzard's Roost'

Hoover's First Clean-up

PART II

Editors' note: Here's the second of three dispatches on the fabulous career of J. Edgar Hoover, whose record as head of the FBI is a phenomenon of federal job-holding never before matched in Washington history.

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—One of Herbert Brownell's first acts as attorney general was to order all the huge oil paintings of former AG's, which hung in his office, moved to other parts of the department. The walls were buckling.

J. Edgar Hoover promptly asked for the one of Harlan F. Stone for his own office. "Sure, Edgar," said Brownell, "but why that one?"

Older hands around the department wouldn't have asked. It's common knowledge among them that Hoover idolizes Stone, the brilliant jurist appointed by Coolidge to clean up the Harding administration mess.

It was Stone who moved Hoover up to be director of the then bureau of investigation, replacing the famous detective William J. Burns, who turned out to be not such a famous administrator. Hoover had been Burns' assistant.

Stone saw the possibilities in Hoover which today accounts for one of the most amazing active careers in federal service. A 29 year old fireball, Hoover was the hottest dresser in the department, kept his thick crop of black hair neatly plastered down and attacked detail work like a real beaver.

Stone and Hoover saw eye to eye on what the bureau needed. The ex-cons, rif-raff and political hangers-on had to be booted out. A merit system of promotion was needed. Top caliber new men had to be recruited. And the bureau's business had to be run honestly and according to professional police procedures.

ity to make all changes and the results today are common knowledge to every school child—the prestige of FBI agents, the smothering of the lawless gangs of the '30s, the prevention of all enemy-directed domestic sabotage during World War II, the successful fight against the Communists. One of Hoover's first acts in the bureau was to eliminate "buzzard's roost," a room where the bureau's employees congregated to eat their stories and help polish off their few dances and drinks. A bottle which every returning agent was expected to furnish.

Hoover was as repulsed by the immorality of the "roost" as he was by the time it wasted. A deeply religious motivation accounts for many things Hoover has done in his career. His pastor, Dr. Edward L. R. Mason of the National Presbyterian church, explains:

"His great great uncle, John Pitts, was the first Swiss minister to the United States, and a robust Calvinist. Hoover, born in Washington New Year's day of 1869, remembers his great uncle reading the Bible aloud and leading prayers. His most cherished possessions are the finger-worn Scriptures of his mother, and the New Testament he won for Biblical memory work."

Everyone assumed young J. Edgar would go into ministry. He taught a Sunday school class, sang in the choir and did many chores around the church.

Hero of his youth was Dr. Donald C. MacLeod, his preacher who played baseball with the neighborhood boys of southeast Washington and led many youth activities. Dr. MacLeod was Hoover's closest confidant, next to his mother and after his father died.

Hoover's early religious activity, spurred by his mother, lessened only slightly after he entered the District's Central high school. When the later famous football coach, "Burr" Jones, had to tell Hoover that his slender, 100-pound frame wouldn't stand the gaff, Hoover concentrated on the cadet corps and his studies.

He picked up the nickname "Speed," not for athletic prowess, but for the way he became captain of the corps and class valedictorian. The corps was a sort of social organization and young Hoover was encouraged to attend

Friends recall that he remained a very conservative lad and "always was perfectly wonderful to his mother."

Family finances—his dad had been a minor government official—diverted Hoover from the ministry. He took a job as clerk at the Library of Congress and entered night classes at George Washington university. A library official recalls:

"I never saw such an eager, hard working boy. I'm sure he would be chief librarian today if he had stayed with us."

By maintaining his rigid school routine through summer Hoover won his LL.B. with honors in 1913 and master of laws from GW in 1917.

A classmate says of Hoover during those days:

"He was slim, dark and intense. He sat off by himself against the wall and always had the answer. None of us got to know him very well."

Hoover got around enough socially to join Kappa Alpha fraternity. After William Gordon, who was a KA and used to stay at the chapter house when he passed through Washington, recalls that when Hoover was fraternity president, "I was acquainted as with his secretary."

In 1917 Hoover joined the department of justice and began moving up fast. In 1918 William Palmer made him a special assistant in charge of deporting aliens under the sedition act. In 1921 he was appointed assistant director of the old bureau of investigation. Most of Hoover's activities since are well documented.

However, some of the old-timers recall a few anecdotes from the early days which give a new insight into the man. A friend once called him "Speed" then.

HOOVER FOR FBI CHIEF: For his fight against communism, the American Legion's Sylvia King gave him a medal this year.

them still called him just "Edgar." Since before the war it has usually been "Mister Hoover" to the expanded staff.

One famous clerk remembers how Hoover came into his office and gave him a real dressing down because he had his office shade down too far. Hoover said it gave the building a messy look from the outside.

Another recalls how Hoover would go down the hall about 5 in the evening, rounding up the jumpy baseball team for practice.

"He would be happy, then," she says, "and you can bet my body stayed over a decision."

A former secretary in his office remembers that Hoover would sometimes fail to return promptly from lunch. "When this happened we knew he was at Joan's apartment house buying some old piece of bric-a-brac and had forgotten what time it was," she says. "The legend is that he would be happy, then."

Hoover of the FBI: 3

Top G-Man Still Is Tough at 58

PART III

EDITOR'S NOTE: Here's the last of three dispatches on the fabulous career of J. Edgar Hoover, whose record as head of the FBI is a phenomenon of federal job-holding never before matched in Washington history.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Recently a dangerous felon who was arrested by the FBI blinked twice, and perhaps felt honored, when he recognized the first man through the door as none other than J. Edgar Hoover.

Scant information on the arrest was released. And the FBI adamantly refuses to discuss details of any of Hoover's trips. But there remain two interesting aspects to the event.

It's apparent that the FBI today no longer takes a bashful part in any great whoop-to-do about fairly important arrests—especially those involving Hoover personally.

Second, it's an insight into Hoover's personality. In the early days Hoover's personal participation in raids was first publicly dramatized after former Sen. Kenneth McKellar (D., Tenn.) suggested in a committee meeting that the FBI director was shy of personal courage.

Shortly thereafter, Hoover personally arrested gangster Alvin Karpis in New Orleans. Karpis had threatened to come into the department of justice and kill him. McKellar's comment was actually a coincidence because Hoover had been on raids before.

The Karpis affair was a sort of comedy of errors. Karpis came out of his surrounded house before Hoover was set up started the No. 1 G-man. Karpis was far more startled to see Hoover and almost fainted with fright. Someone had forgotten handcuffs. They had to use neckties for Karpis and Karpis had to direct them

But the public reaction cooled Hoover and convinced him that personal appearances at raids were good for bureau people. He has thus maintained the practice.

On raids today, at 58, Hoover still cuts an impressive figure as a tough, active officer of the law, with his flattened nose, heavy build and aggressive energy.

Where his thick black hair has begun to get gray he has it combed. He talks fast and walks with startling speed. He recently got his weight back down to 160, and is forced to periodic stringent diets. He still bothers around the country in important cases, at just to make a surprise check of one of his 52 field offices.

He's considered a better-than-average pistol shot and still visits the range periodically. He has not relaxed physical fitness regulations for headquarters executives, but now confines his own exercise to long walks and little jogging. He has given up tennis.

He continues to keep a close check on important cases and each morning reads a brief summary of the night's activities of his agents. He then spends long solitary and quiet hours of long-distance jumping, and other activities around the country.

prohibits him from keeping the same minute inspection of the agency's activities he once maintained.

He devotes most of his time to cases involving Communists and subversive activities.

Most of his non-office time when he's not traveling, is spent in his fairly large, comfortable brick house in an exclusive Rock Creek park section of Washington. The house is loaded with antiques and choice pieces of bronzes he has collected.

As Washington's most famous native son, his closest friends are old-time Washingtonians. They call him "Speed" from high school days. He has them over to his house for dinner once in a while and eats with them at one of the several old-time restaurants he patronizes.

Washington hostesses long ago gave up trying to produce the famous G-man at parties. A man can't turn in a decent day's work and tear around all night, he says. He sees a movie, selects a restaurant, watches the Washington Senators play baseball on TV, and when in New York goes to a night club. During the Maryland racing season he manages to get to the track occasionally. But most of the time at home he's going over bureau work which he carries in a locked briefcase.

He attends the National Presbyterian church regularly when in town and seldom misses a service when on trips. He also takes some time to boys' arguments.

He is a trustee of George Washington university and a member of the board of directors of the Boys' Clubs of America.

It's standard procedure in the FBI that no one hesitates to call Hoover at home on a private line anytime during the night if something important comes up. He never seems to go to bed, and usually is called a couple of times a night.

There used to be almost constant speculation on when and where Hoover might marry. Most close friends now agree that he's a dedicated bachelor. Hoover's job and personal life are so intertwined, it's said, no woman could work her way between the two.

Circumstances of his early life kept him from marrying then. His dad died when he was young. And although Hoover has a sister, now married, and a brother now dead, care of his mother fell mostly on his shoulders. He lived with her in the modest house in which he was born in southeast Washington until her death shortly before the start of World War I.

Today Hoover enjoys good health. He has only had two major illnesses, an attack of pneumonia which almost killed him and a long serious case of shingles. He has survived three changes of administration, seven presidents and 28 attorneys general, and those persons who time had designs on his job have long since given up.

J. Edgar Hoover today appears unshakable.

OUTSIDE ACTIVITY FOR HOOVER includes work with boys' groups. Here the FBI chief meets Norman Elsett, 12, of Battle Creek, Mich., who won a school safety patrol life saving medal.

BACHELOR HOME BOB HOOVER is this brick home in Washington's Rock Creek Park section, where he works many evenings.

J. Edgar Hoover

Washington, D. C.
August 20, 1953

Transmitted herewith are photostatic copies of three notebooks, comprising a diary maintained sporadically from 1944 to 1949, inclusive, by [redacted]. Attention is directed to an entry contained on the eighth page of the diary indicated under the date of March 15, 1949, which reads as follows: "[redacted] gave me some very bad news about J. Edgar Hoover. I hope it is only gossip." It is noted the sentence following this entry reads, "Geo. suggests I see the President alone."

[redacted] was questioned concerning these diary entries, and advised that [redacted], during the 1948 Democratic Campaign and while on leave from the Washington, D. C., Police Department, was employed, along with his wife, at Democratic Headquarters in Washington on a volunteer basis. He related his contact with [redacted] continued into the year 1949, but has since terminated. [redacted] informed that on the approximate date of the entry [redacted] was discussing with him the fact that many individuals of prominence had been damaged in their reputations through the unbased repetition of rumors, and particularly rumors alleging homosexuality. He stated that in this conversation and on this basis [redacted] told him he had heard rumors linking the name of J. EDGAR HOOVER to this type of activity. [redacted] informed that [redacted] did not indicate that he, himself, was of this belief, but was merely relating a rumor which allegedly had been heard by him and which he related to [redacted] solely for the purpose of illustrating the type of harm which can, and does, result from the repetition of untrue and vicious rumors. [redacted] stated this was the only conversation of this type he had had with [redacted], and advised that the entry appearing in the diary has never been exhibited by him to anyone at any time. [redacted] also stated he has never discussed this matter with anyone, claiming he has refrained from so doing because of a feeling on his part that the rumor is not true.

[redacted] advised that the portion of the entry reading, "Geo. suggests I see the President alone", positively does not pertain to this matter in any way. He advised that actually this entry related to [redacted], former Treasurer of the Democratic National Committee. He stated the entry was made because [redacted], knowing [redacted] was to see the President, requested [redacted] to discuss a number of matters.

SAC Powers, Miami, telephoned and advised he had just finished interviewing [REDACTED] personally in the Miami Field Office relative to the diary entry of [REDACTED] dated March 15, 1949, indicating that [REDACTED] had given some bad news concerning the Director. Powers stated that [REDACTED] seemed to be sincere when he vehemently denied ever having discussed with [REDACTED] any rumors of alleged homosexuality and how such rumors damaged individuals of prominence through unbased repetition. [REDACTED] said that he had never heard any such rumor concerning the Director and had such a high regard for the Bureau and the Director that he would not have repeated such a rumor had he heard it because he knew in his own mind that such an allegation was patently false.

[REDACTED] told Powers he felt certain he had not talked to [REDACTED] at all in March of 1949. [REDACTED] said that beginning in October, 1948, he had done volunteer work for the Democratic National Committee. He worked getting literature with a [REDACTED], then secretary of the Young Democrats of America. In December, 1948, the National Democratic Committee needed assistance in connection with the coming inauguration and [REDACTED] again volunteered his services in connection with the Truman-Barkley Clubs organization. [REDACTED] said that [REDACTED] was actually treasurer of this organization and in such a capacity actually "ran the show." [REDACTED] stated that [REDACTED] talked him into resigning from his position on the Metropolitan Police Department with promises of doing greater things for him. [REDACTED] is presently bitter toward [REDACTED] because of his failure to fulfill his promises. [REDACTED] said he was certain he had not talked to [REDACTED] in March of 1949 because he remembered [REDACTED] becoming ill in February, 1949, and going to California. [REDACTED] himself secured a position with the Capitol Police beginning March 1, 1949, through Fred Kilguss, then Administrative Assistant to Senator McGrath. [REDACTED] is certain that he never talked to [REDACTED] after starting on this job.

[REDACTED] said that he discussed the Director only on one occasion with [REDACTED]. He believed this was in December, 1948, when he was doing work in connection with the inauguration. At that time [REDACTED] had requested [REDACTED] of the Metropolitan Police Department to assign [REDACTED] to the Democratic National Committee for the purpose of escorting prominent individuals.

In concluding, SAC Powers said that ██████ reiterated his highest regard for the Director, pointing out that while he had never met the Director, he had taken it upon himself when assigned to the eighth precinct in Washington to drive his squad car past the Director's home on numerous occasions just to make certain that everything was all right. ██████ who is now unemployed having recently resigned from the Miami Beach Police Department, reiterated his denial of ever talking to ██████ as alleged by him and his denial that he had ever even heard the ru, or which ██████ attributed to him.

J. EDGAR HOOVER

Re telephone call of Inspector Hugh Winterrowd, August 27, 1953, and my telephone call to Section Chief Courtney Evans, August 28, 1953.

On August 28, 1953, ██████████ came to the office and I interviewed him concerning the matter referred to me by Inspector Winterrowd. SA LEROY L. KUSCH was present during the interview.

I informed ██████████ of the allegations made in connection with the conversation he was reported to have had with ██████████ on or about March 15, 1949. ██████████ immediately denied that he ever had any such conversation with ██████████ and that he had ever heard of any such rumor or gossip concerning the Director. He indicated that he has always had the highest respect for the Director and the Bureau and that he would never be a part of any such conversation. In order to clarify his relations with ██████████, ██████████ furnished the following information.

██████████ said that in about October, 1948, he decided to do some volunteer work with the Democratic National Committee and that he worked with ██████████, ██████████ of the Young Democrats of America, getting out literature in connection with the then approaching campaign. In 1948, that in December, 1948, at which time ██████████, ██████████, ██████████ Clubs with headquarters at the Mayflower, ██████████ approached ██████████ of the Metropolitan Police Department and tried to get ██████████ assigned to escorting various dignitaries that came to Washington. ██████████ refused to so designate ██████████, and ██████████, according to ██████████, discussed this refusal with him. ██████████ said that he explained to ██████████ that he had never been particularly friendly with ██████████ that he did not particularly like him, and that he more or less was considered part of the ██████████ faction, it being noted that ██████████ was then an Inspector in the Metropolitan Police Department and was angling for the position of Major Superintendent.

Director, FBI

During this conversation, [REDACTED] said that he told [REDACTED] that [REDACTED] was disliked by many of the men on the Department and that he couldn't even get along with Mr. Hoover or the FBI. He said he voiced the opinion that [REDACTED] was jealous of Mr. Hoover. [REDACTED] stated emphatically that this is the only time in any of his conversations with [REDACTED] that the Director's name was mentioned.

He added that [REDACTED] then suggested that he resign from the Metropolitan Police Department, assured him that he would obtain for him some attractive governmental position, and in the meantime he should take the position as [REDACTED] of the national Truman-Barkley Clubs. [REDACTED] said that he did resign from the Metropolitan Police Department about January, 1949, and from then until approximately March, 1949, he worked with [REDACTED] at the Mayflower Hotel in connection with the national Truman-Barkley Clubs. He related that Governor TURNER of Oklahoma was Chairman of these clubs but that actually [REDACTED] was the driving force behind the organization. He also said that [REDACTED] was [REDACTED]'s secretary and was thoroughly familiar with his relationship with [REDACTED] and that she could substantiate the nature of his dealings with [REDACTED], as well as give the exact dates involved.

[REDACTED] said that to the best of his recollection, [REDACTED] had a heart attack in February, 1949, which necessitated his going to California to recuperate. He averred that he is confident he did not even see [REDACTED] during March, 1949, to have any discussion with him. He claimed that he became very much disgusted with [REDACTED] when he did not live up to the promises he had made to obtain him a governmental post and that in [REDACTED], he obtained a job under Senator HOWARD McGRATH's patronage as a [REDACTED] for various hearings held before Congressional committees. He said that this patronage was obtained for him by FRED KILGUSS, then Administrative Assistant to Senator McGRATH, later associated with Mr. McGRATH while he was Attorney General, and presumably still with the Department of Justice.

[REDACTED] further stated that in August, 1949, he was reinstated to his position with the Metropolitan Police Department and that after rising to the rank of Probationary Detective, he again resigned in February, 1953. He then took a position with the Colonial Finance Company in Miami until several weeks ago when he was designated as [REDACTED] to the then Chief of Police of Miami Beach, FLOYD TRUSCOTT. TRUSCOTT resigned from this position on August 18, 1953, and of course [REDACTED] lost out at the same time. He is now unemployed and is attempting to obtain an investigative position in this area.

[REDACTED] was visibly disturbed by the allegations made by [REDACTED] during the alleged conversation in March, 1949. He said that it was impossible for him to understand why [REDACTED] would make such statements. He said several times during this interview that he has always had the highest admiration for the Director and the Bureau and that he always cooperated with the Agents of the Washington Field Office even though it was common knowledge that [REDACTED] was opposed to any such cooperation. He mentioned that he was at one time assigned to a squad car in the 8th Precinct and that he felt it was an honor to have the responsibility for protecting the Director's home. He indicated that on frequent occasions they would drive by the Director's home just to be sure that everything was all right. He also said that he wouldn't trust [REDACTED] "as far as I could throw a street car" and that [REDACTED] was the type of person who would "cut out your heart for a fast dollar."

At the conclusion of the interview, [REDACTED] repeated that the only time he ever discussed the Director with [REDACTED] was in December, 1948, as related above.

I would like to point out that [REDACTED] was fully cooperative during this interview and expressed considerable anxiety that the allegations made by [REDACTED] might effect our feelings and relations toward him. He appeared to be very sincere and forthright in his denial of the allegations made by [REDACTED] and I have no reason to believe that he was not telling the truth based on his recollection of his dealings with [REDACTED].

Honorable J. Edgar Hoover
Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation
United States Department of Justice
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

After each election, I, as well as every other successful candidate, receive many letters and telegrams of congratulations. Most of these letters and telegrams are a mere matter of form and are sent out indiscriminately.

However, when one receives a letter of congratulations such as the one I received from you, knowing you and the feeling expressed by you in your letter, I am indeed grateful.

It is in earnest hope that you and the men with whom you have associated yourself in the Federal Bureau of Investigation will be retained by Dwight D. Eisenhower and the new Attorney General not merely in the capacity that you have been retained in the past but that you may be permitted to perform the job for America that you are able to do, wanting to do, but prohibited from doing.

If there is any way which I can be of assistance to you or your staff, please do not hesitate to call upon me.

Sincerely,

John P. Saylor

Dear Mr. Hoover:

On two previous occasions I have written you. Once from Detroit to compliment your Department on a brochure on plant protection and on the other occasion from Mexico, Missouri during your illness.

There are millions of Americans who are no less grateful than I am for the magnificent tasks which you have performed for our Nation so consistently and for so long and so I would like you to consider this as coming from me and from those who share my feeling of security in your hands and my appreciation to you but who do not have the time or the inclination to express it to you.

These same millions, and they represent the great majority, are, I am sure, happy to know that Mr. Brownell and our great President Elect are on our "team."

With this letter comes my warmest good wishes for your continued Health, Happiness and a Happy Holiday Season.

J. Edgar Hoover Likely to Keep Job
Friends Say He'll Stay if Eisenhower Wants Him
 WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (UP) — J. Edgar Hoover will remain as director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation if President-elect Eisenhower and the new Attorney General name a man to govern the bureau and today.

It was considered a foregone conclusion that the fifty-seven-year-old FBI chief is one top Washington official whom Gen. Eisenhower will retain. Mr. Hoover, director of the Bureau since 1924, has served under Republicans as well as Democratic Presidents. While Mr. Hoover would not discuss his plans, unless said he has consideration of retiring and will accept the job if asked to do so.

Like most other high government officials, Mr. Hoover does not get his post by Presidential appointment and Senate confirmation. He is named by the Attorney General and is responsible only to the official Gen. Eisenhower has named who he will name as head of the Justice Department or its various executive agencies.

Mr. Hoover started with Republican President Fiske Stone in 1924 and continued to the present with Republican James P. M. Quayle. With the new Administration, Mr. Hoover will be taking his agency to the new post as head of the FBI.

This is terrible
 no doubt country wide. I had better set up a "mitten"
 box in my reception room for my assistance in case my plea for replacement is ignored!!

Dear Mr. Hoover:

It gave to all of us here in the Corporation the greatest of satisfaction to see the announcement that President-elect Eisenhower had requested you to remain as head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. That is altogether fitting and proper for it is through your efforts and your ability that the Bureau has been built to its present state of high efficiency. I know of no other organization in the government with a higher degree of morale and record of accomplishment than the FBI.

As you know, it is my privilege to have your former associate, Mr. Joe Binmore, work with me. His work is outstanding, his loyalty unquestioned, and his ability to handle situations in connection with banking is most commendable.

Dear Mr. Hoover,

Congratulation's on your being retained as director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Your retention to head that extremely important agency will insure its continuing to be a fair, honest, and efficient bulwark of Democracy in our death struggle with communism.

Your disappointment in being blocked in carrying out your plans by the officials over you, must have been frustrating in the ~~high~~ degree. It is evident that the authorities over the past years have hamstrung your efforts to run the country and the government of the diabolical threat of communism.

The inauguration of President-Elect Eisenhower on Jan. 20, will herald the advent of a moral government to head this great country of ours. Thank God you will be a part of it.

Two sixth graders from the Silver Spring School District were honored for their heroic actions when they heard the bus driver had been hit by a truck.

J. Edgar Hoover gave the two the American Automobile Association's Certificate of Heroism. The children are Keith George, 11, and Opal Lee, 12.

Keith is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Paul H. Church of Coltsville, Md. The father is pastor of the Coltsville Methodist Church.

Opal Lee is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Trigg, 1330 Summit road, Silver Spring.

Five Others Honored

Five other young patrol members from other schools were honored by Mr. Hoover at the same time.

Opal Lee goes to Woodlawn School in Silver Spring, the child of her father, but there is nothing wrong with her eye.

Last October she was on School Safety Patrol duty at Linden and Warren, Md. in taking a 5-year-old schoolmate across Linden lane on Patrol duty. She was aware of a truck bearing down on her but Opal Lee only started after the child had jumped out of the path of the truck, whose wheels had nearly hit her.

Saved at Bus Stop

Keith saved a child and himself in circumstances. He was returning to the Coltsville Elementary School bus last December. A car was sold and left on the side of the road at the intersection of Maryland Route 193 and 20.

An auto was coming from the west and started to turn right. Keith ran down the road toward the car, shouting loudly and alerting the driver. The car stopped and the child was saved from being hit.

The other four were honored last year at a meeting in Washington, D. C. They are: Ronald H. H. 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

Reference is made to an memorandum to you dated March 26, 1952, in the above-captioned matter. You will recall that ██████████ was interviewed by Agents of the Washington Field Office following his comment to another individual "Have you heard that the Director is a queer?" You will further recall that ██████████ has been employed for eleven years by the National Labor Relations Board. In this regard you instructed the Liaison Unit to bring this matter to the attention of the proper officials of the National Labor Relations Board.

Mr. Paul M. Herzog is Chairman of the National Labor Relations Board. He returned to Washington on March 31, 1952, from Puerto Rico. Immediately upon his return Mr. Herzog was contacted by Mr. Bartlett of the Liaison Unit, who briefed him concerning this matter.

Mr. Herzog was most appreciative of being advised concerning one of his employees. He advised that he desired Mr. Bartlett to relate to you his embarrassment due to one of his "stupid employee's gossip." Mr. Herzog stated that he and his family stayed at the same hotel with you in La Jolla, California, last summer and that he has the highest respect for you and the entire FBI.

Mr. Herzog stated that he will pull the personnel file of ██████████ and will make a decision at a later date as to what action he will take in this matter. Mr. Herzog again thanked Mr. Bartlett for coming directly to him in this matter and asked specifically that his regards be passed on to you.

Supervisor Roy E. Wood advised me today that he eats lunch frequently at [redacted], that [redacted] of the place is a man named [redacted] who has become acquainted with Wood by reason of his eating there regularly.

[redacted] advised Wood today that Saturday he had attended as a guest a dance at the Coral Ballroom, which is over the Coral Theater. This is listed in the phone book at 4703 Marlboro Pike, Coral Hills. This dance was put on by a social group known as the Sportsmen's Club. Also a guest at this dance, but not a member of the club, was one [redacted] or [redacted] or [redacted]. This individual has a wife, [redacted], who works at the Pentagon.

During the course of the evening, [redacted] in a conversation with [redacted] asked him where he worked. He advised him that he [redacted] at 9th and Pennsylvania Avenue. [redacted] asked him if this was not near the FBI and [redacted] stated that it was. [redacted] then asked if he knew any of the fellows at the FBI, to which [redacted] stated that several of them ate lunch at [redacted]. [redacted] then stated "Have you heard that the Director is a queer?" [redacted] stated that he had never heard any such allegation and queried [redacted] as to where he had heard such a story. [redacted] allegedly stated that a couple of his friends from Baltimore, who are dancing teachers, had told him so.

I have asked Supervisor Wood to recontact [redacted] as soon as possible to endeavor to obtain more information as to the identity of [redacted] or [redacted] and as soon as this information is received I will arrange to have [redacted] thoroughly interviewed in order that we might run down the source of his information and in turn contact these persons in Baltimore in order that they may be vigorously set straight.

Mr. [redacted]:

Because I have a lecture of four hours in the morning 3/25/52 at the Old Post office, it seemed advisable to attempt to get the information you desired, regarding our conversation, this evening and prepare it in this manner.

Some time was spent in a recontact with [redacted] at the [redacted], but he had no information of value which would lead to the identity of [redacted] says this man [redacted] was at the dance as the invited guest of one of the members of the Sportsmen's Club, and he had no idea as to the identity of this member. About all [redacted] could furnish was the statement that he would recognize [redacted] if he were to see him again and that he recalls [redacted] said he taught "Latin dancing".

From [redacted] previous information and recollection as to [redacted] being a member of a Dancing Masters Group I ascertained via a pretense call to the Thayer LeRoy Dance Studios, 1644 Corn. Ave., CO 5400, that this studio is the headquarters of the Dancing Masters of America, Incorporated, that they at one time had working for them a [redacted] as an instructor and that he had been a member of the above organization. Evidently [redacted] still has some friendly affiliation with the studio because the group for which I was calling could obtain his teaching services by giving to the studio the name and number of the individual interested and they would contact [redacted], but that he had requested his number not be given out. [redacted] works during the day for the "government" but they claim they do not know the department or agency nor where he can be reached. The studio was not pressed for fear of exciting too much interest.

The D/C telephone directory lists only three [redacted]:

- [redacted]
- [redacted]
- [redacted] may off
- [redacted] may

It would appear that if our man has a telephone, and the dance studio most certainly indicated he did have and it is listed, he would most probably be the one residing in Arlington, Va.

This letter is strictly a guess.

Respectfully,

Roy Wood

Reference is made to my memorandum dated March 24, 1952, advising that Supervisor Roy E. Wood had been informed by an employee of a local bakery that the captioned individual had made a comment to him, "Have you heard that the Director is a queer?" In accordance with your instructions the Washington Field Office was instructed to conduct an immediate investigation for the purpose of identifying the individual responsible for this comment and to ascertain the full circumstances.

Through appropriate inquiry it was ascertained by Special Agents K. T. Delavigne and T. J. Jenkins of the Washington Field Office that the individual who made this comment to [REDACTED], an employee of [REDACTED] is [REDACTED] who resides in Apartment [REDACTED] at [REDACTED] Avenue, N. W., and is employed as a budget examiner at the National Labor Relations Board where he has been employed for the past 11 years.

[REDACTED], N. W., and in this regard has used the professional name [REDACTED].

[REDACTED] was interviewed at his residence by the above-mentioned Agents during the evening of March 25. He admitted that he had attended the Sportsmen's Club dance which was given last Saturday evening in the ballroom over the Coral Theater on Marlboro Pike. He stated he attended this dance with his wife [REDACTED] with friends named [REDACTED] and [REDACTED], who reside at [REDACTED] Avenue, S. E. He was unable to recall the informant in this case, [REDACTED], by name but stated he did recall that the individual [REDACTED] directly across the street from the Justice Building was at the same table with him and his wife as well as the [REDACTED] couple.

At the point the Agents were satisfied as to the correct identity of this individual, he was directly questioned as to whether he had made any comment concerning you while in attendance at this dance, and admitted that he had, while in discussion with [REDACTED] asked him, "Isn't it true that Mr. Hoover is a queer?"

INTELLIGENCE SECTION

He specifically denied having made the statement that you are a pervert and maintained he discussed this only in the form of the question indicated. He was vigorously interrogated as to why he was prompted to ask this question. He advised he had no clear recollection as to the reasons therefor but informed that apparently the thought merely entered his mind upon his ascertaining that [redacted] worked in the vicinity of the Justice Building and upon further learning through gossiping with [redacted] that a substantial number of FPI employees come into his place of business in order to eat. On the basis of the interrogation he informed that he is completely unable to recall the identity of the person who made such a statement to him which might serve as the basis for the question indicated. He stated that he is positive that the information was not furnished to him recently and in his opinion certainly predated by a considerable time his marriage to his wife [redacted] which occurred in 1948.

He was vigorously questioned as to his explanation to [redacted] that the basis for his question was information furnished by a couple of his friends from Baltimore who are dancing teachers. He stated he does not recall having made this statement to [redacted]; that if he made such a statement, he was telling an untruth. He advised that he knows only two individuals in Baltimore in any way connected with the dancing profession and stated these two individuals are the only ones he has ever known from that area. He stated one individual is [redacted], who, with an unknown partner, operates a school of ballet in Baltimore, the business name of which is unknown to him. In connection with these two individuals he stated he is positive that neither of them ever made any comment to him of the nature concerned with this inquiry.

When pressed further as to the source of his alleged information he mentioned a [redacted] of [redacted] Avenue, N. W., telephone [redacted], and also the name of [redacted]. In connection with [redacted] he stated that at one time this individual operated a dance studio in Washington and several years ago went to St. Louis, Missouri, where he is employed in a dance studio, the name of which is unknown to [redacted]. When pressed as to his reasons for mentioning the names of [redacted] and [redacted] he stated he was doing so in his efforts to assist the Bureau in tying down the source of this rumor. He advised he had no specific recollection that either of these individuals had been the source of his information and stated he was furnishing their names only because he had either worked or associated with them prior to 1948.

Because of the vigorous interrogation to which [redacted] was subjected, he appeared to be badly frightened. Despite this, it was not felt that he was being truthful as to the source of his information. [redacted] was noted to be a rather weak type of individual and it is entirely possible that there is no real source for his information and that the question he asked was merely conjured up in his own mind because of warped thinking on his own part and in his efforts to make conversation with [redacted]. As an indication of this type of thinking on his part, at one point during the interview he stated that from somewhere within the recesses of his mind, he recalls having heard the statement that you could be found almost any evening at the Mayflower Hotel in company with a young boy. He professed to be unable to furnish any details whatsoever as to the origin or source of this statement.

[redacted] advised that he had never made statements of this type under investigation to anyone prior to last Saturday. His wife, whose presence he insisted on having during the interview, advised she did not hear him make the statement concerned and she informed she has never heard him engage in this type of discussion at any time previously. When she was questioned in this regard Mrs. [redacted] stated she vaguely recalls her husband mentioning having heard a rumor such as that involved sometime prior to their marriage in 1948. She informed that as best as she can recall, he merely made passing reference to the rumor and no detailed discussion followed and she advised that this subject matter has never been discussed by her husband and her since that time or by her husband with others in her presence. Mrs. [redacted] advised that she is employed in the Public Information Service, Department of the Army, Pentagon Building, and formerly worked as a dancing instructress at the Thayer Dance Studio.

During the interview with [redacted] his criminal and civil liability for the making of such statements were clearly and forcefully pointed out to him. It was pointed out to him that in making such comments without the slightest foundation or basis he was engaging in an outrageous lack of consideration and common decency and was maligning and attempting to injure the character of an individual far his superior. He stated he now realizes that he had been completely wrong in engaging in this type of gossip, agreed that his comments were completely without basis and gave his positive and definite assurance that there would be no recurrence. He was informed that immediate and positive action would be taken if it again came to your attention that he was engaging in this type of gossip.

During the inquiry it was ascertained that the files of the Washington Police Department contained no criminal record pertaining to the subject or his wife. These files do contain a record of approximately 9 traffic violations which are believed to pertain to [REDACTED] [REDACTED] was asked directly whether he himself is a pervert and vigorously denied this to be true.

On the basis of the foregoing it does not appear desirable to pursue this investigation further and it is felt that [REDACTED] has been vigorously set straight and will not engage in this type of gossip in the future.

A check of the Bureau files reflects a loyalty form was received on [REDACTED], who is identical with this subject. This form was stamped and returned to the Civil Service Commission on [REDACTED], showing no disloyal data in the FBI files. At that time [REDACTED] was employed by the National Labor Relations Board.

There is also a record in the Bureau files of an investigation of [REDACTED] involving larceny of two Kodak cameras from the United States Army Post Exchange in Washington. The subject admitted the thefts in this case and an information was filed in the United States branch of the Police Court on [REDACTED]

On the same date he entered a plea of guilty and on [REDACTED], was sentenced to one year, which sentence was suspended and the subject was placed on probation. The fingerprint record reflecting this arrest and reflecting his employment with the National Labor Relations Board is attached hereto.

I suggest [REDACTED] activities be reported thru liaison to proper official of National Labor Relations Board with Mr. Castle. In the past statements have been for-

A check by our Chicago Office failed to disclose any derogatory information concerning Mr. Castle as of 1949.
It is believed that "NABF" referred to above are the initials

Major Francis N. Sgourdeos, the Assistant Military Attache of the Royal Greek Embassy, came in to see me after he had brought a visitor in to take a tour. He has been over here before to bring visitors. He stated that he wished to discuss a matter very informally and confidentially.

Sgourdeos stated that his government has been very conscious of the great work which the Director has done over the years and of the Director's friendship with several Greek people. He stated his government wishes in some way to give recognition to this and to that end King Paul would like to confer one of the highest decorations of the Greek Government upon the Director; however, they did not want to embarrass the Director by taking any action which would not meet with the Director's approval. Sgourdeos was wondering if I could give him any guidance on whether the Director would accept such a medal.

He stated that he wished to be very honest, that there have been a couple of instances wherein high staff officers of the Army and the Navy have indicated that they preferred not to receive the decoration because of the difficulties General Vaughn became involved in in accepting the decoration of the Argentine government.

I told the Major that I would like to think about this and would communicate with him later.

RECORDED-11

Among recipients of this decoration have been General Vandenberg of the Air Force, General Eisenhower, General Marshall and others.

I frankly do not know what the situation is. If advised to the contrary, I will have our liaison Agent make an informal check at the State Department as to the edibility of accepting such a decoration.

The attached memorandum reflects the desire of King Paul of Greece to confer upon you one of his highest medals. This desire of the King was referred to the Bureau by the Assistant Military Attache of the Royal Greek Embassy in Washington.

Mr. Roach has checked with Mr. H. Freeman Matthews, Deputy Undersecretary for Political Affairs, concerning the advisability of accepting such a medal at this time. He informed Mr. Roach that the State Department was delighted to hear of the desire of King Paul and stated that it would be very helpful to further cement relations between this Government and Greece if you did accept the decoration.

ACTION:

If you concur, Mr. Nichols, who received the original inquiry from the Greek Embassy, will proceed with the necessary arrangements and you will be kept informed of developments.
