~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

On February 27, 1956, [redacted] who has furnished reliable information in the past, made available the winter, 1956, edition of "Sing Out," Volume 6, Number 1, issued by People's Artists, Inc., 124 West 21st Street, New York City. Page two contained a list of the publication's staff and under contributors listed PAUL ROBESON.

C. CP Associates

On [redacted] advised that on that date BENJAMIN J. DAVIS, JR. was in contact with PAUL ROBESON.

On [redacted] PAUL ROBESON was in contact with BENJAMIN J. DAVIS, JR. and informed DAVIS that he had just returned from the hearings in Washington, D.C. DAVIS complimented ROBESON on his appearance.

b7C

On [redacted] advised that [redacted]

[redacted] was of the opinion that ROBESON's New Jersey visit should be handled only by Negroes and his appearance with white persons should be held to a minimum. According to [redacted] the reasoning behind this was that the CP leadership, consisting mostly of white persons, had always monopolized ROBESON and as a consequence this had led to a narrowing of his contacts among the Negro people.

Subject's Activities In and/or Subversive Ramifications of his Passport Case

The "Daily Worker" issue of April 12, 1956, page two, column one, contained an article entitled "Canada Denies Robeson Visa." This article reflected that Canadian immigration authorities had refused to allow PAUL ROBESON to enter Canada for a concert tour.

The "Daily Worker" issue of June 6, 1956, page six, column three, contained an article entitled "The Cry Grows in London - Let Robeson Sing!" by-lined "John Williamson." This article concerned a meeting of the "Let Robeson Sing Committee" which met in Manchester, England, on May 27, 1956. The purpose of this committee was to unite the scattered activities in England in connection with supporting PAUL ROBESON's passport case. The article also stated that an inspiring letter was read to the committee from PAUL ROBESON in which he told of his few weeks of freedom in Canada.

T-27, another government agency which conducts intelligence investigations, advised in May, 1958, that at the Societe Nationale d'Art Dramatique (SNAD) of Port-au-Prince, a meeting was held in honor of PAUL ROBESON on the occasion of his 60th birthday. The meeting represented the effort of ROBESON sympathizers in Haiti to join in the world-wide demonstration honoring the American Negro Singer. The more than 200 people who attended the meeting were about equally divided between negroes and mulattoes with a scattering of foreign nationals also present.

A well-organized program included the playing of recorded songs of PAUL ROBESON, the circulation of a petition demanding "Justice" for ROBESON, and a number of speeches by leading intellectuals and leftists including most prominently RENE DEPESTRE, (JEAN BRIERRE, LUCIEN LIMOINE and ANTHONY LESPES. The speakers apparently attempted to outdo one another in attacks on the United States in general and, in particular, the Department of State, the Secretary of State, the President of the United States, ex-President TRUMAN and the United States Navy. America and Americans were accused of being imperialistic, uncultured and intolerant of the negro race. They all took the line that ROBESON was denied travel to the Soviet Union not solely because he was a Communist but because he was a negro and a Communist.

[redacted] advised on May 6, 1958, that a meeting of the Regional Council of the Industrial Division, New York State CP, was held on that date at the New York Palace Theatre, 111 East Houston Street, New York City. One of the topics of discussion at this meeting was a report on PAUL ROBESON's birthday celebration.

"The Worker" of June 15, 1958, page six, column one, contains an article captioned, "Peking Letter." In this article it is stated:

"Paul Robeson's 60th birthday was celebrated in China as an event of major international significance. For two days preceding his birthday and on the day itself the national radio network played recordings of his songs. On April 9th, the entire cultural page of China's leading newspaper, the People's Daily, was devoted to articles about Paul - there were five of them - as well as a poem in his honor, plus a

Subject's wife ESLANDA GOODE ROBESON, NY file 100-56680, Bufile 100-12304, is carried on the SI of the NYO.

[REDACTED]

Subject is a key figure of the NYO.

On [REDACTED] advised that he believed that NIKOLAI A. LYTCHIN or VLADIMIR D. LOGINOV of the Soviet Mission to the UN, NYC, conducted a filmed interview of PAUL ROBESON. He stated that to the best of his knowledge the filmed interview was shown at the UN after suitable arrangements had been made and consisted mostly of ROBESON singing several Soviet songs.

In September, 1957, ONI 10th Naval District advised that the Security Liaison Officer, Trinidad, British West Indies, had stated that ROBESON is presently banned from entering Trinidad. This officer stated that unless the Trinidad Government repealed the restriction now in affect, ROBESON would be wasting his money in buying a ticket to visit this colony.

It is noted that one copy of "Here I Stand" was furnished the Bureau as an enclosure to NY letter to Bureau dated 2/6/58.

I. BACKGROUND

A. Foreign Travel

██████████ advised on March 15, 1958, that ESLANDA ROBESON stated she was planning to travel to the West Indies on April 15, 1958, and would be there for a week or two. She stated she would make the trip with a United Nations (UN) group.

On March 30, 1958, ██████████ advised that on that date, ROBESON stated she had secured her ticket and would leave New York on April 16, 1958, and planned to return on May 9, 1958.

██████████ advised on ██████████ that on approximately April 15, 1958, the UN was sponsoring reduced rate fares for travel to Trinidad, British West Indies, in connection with the celebration of the Freedom of the British West Indies. Informant expressed the belief that ROBESON was travelling to Trinidad in her capacity as a correspondent for the "New World Review", a publication for which she was editorial consultant on Negro and colonial questions, and also correspondent to the UN. b7D

██████████ advised on April 26, 1958, that ROBESON was then on a trip to the West Indies and was expected to return to New York on or about April 30, 1958.

On May 1, 1958, ██████████ advised that ESLANDA ROBESON returned to her residence, 16 Jumel Terrace, New York City, on that date.

██████████ again advised on May 3, 1958, that ESLANDA ROBESON had visited Jamaica, Trinidad, and the city of Port-Au-Prince. Informant stated ROBESON indicated she enjoyed the trip very much and during the trip had appeared on radio several times.

T-3, a confidential source abroad, on May 26, 1958, furnished information that Mrs. PAUL ROBESON arrived in Trinidad by air on April 17, 1958, and left Trinidad, also by air, on April 30, 1958. On April 21, 1958, she gave a lecture at the Public Library on the subject, "The Negro in World Focus". She spoke generally of her travels in various countries and referred to racial discrimination in the Union of South Africa and Southern United States. She denounced segregation and urged unity, understanding, and cooperation among all races of the world. Among the audience were Doctor and Mrs. JAGAN of British Guiana. for release

ESLANDA ROBESON and her husband, PAUL ROBESON, have been in Europe since July 10, 1958.

ROBESON and his wife were able to obtain passports in view of a decision by the United States Supreme Court, on June 16, 1958, in the case involving ROCKWELL KENT, WALTER BRIEHL, and WELDON BRUCE DAYTON in which it was held that under existing statutes governing travel, the Secretary of the State lacks the authority to withhold a passport because of an applicant's present or past membership in or association with the Communist Party (CP).

The "New York Times", Late City Edition, dated September 22, 1958, page 26, contains an article captioned: "Robeson Intends to Live in London - But singer says he is not deserting U.S. - Foresees concerts in New York."

This article is set forth as follows:

"Blackpool, England, Sept. 21 (Reuters) - Paul Robeson said here tonight that he would make his future home in London.

'I find the British people very warm and I have lived here before', the American singer declared. 'London will be my center, as Hollywood is the center for some British film stars.'

'I don't want any overtones of suggestion that I am deserting the country of my birth', Mr. Robeson added. 'If I have a concert in New York, I will go there and return to London.'

Miscellaneous

New York T-2, a confidential source abroad, furnished information that PAUL ROBESON was present during and participated in the celebration of the so-called "Pressefest Neues Deutschland" in East Berlin in late July, 1960, or early August, 1960. (C)(u)

This information stated that he had made at least two appearances. On one occasion, he joined a number of German artists in the public festival, which took place in the open air on Stalinallee. During each appearance, he spoke to the audience in German prior to, and during the performance; explained that he "was working for his oppressed, black brothers in America". He announced his own songs and explained them prior to singing; they included such numbers as "Old Man River" and others, which depict the misery and oppression of the colored people. (C)(u)

According to this information in July or August, 1960, ROBESON paid a visit to the FDJ Central HQ school located at Bogensee, near Bernau, Bezirk Potsdam, and was conducted on an inspection tour of the installation. During the inspection, the students were assembled in one of the large auditoriums and introduced to the singer. Informant did not know who sponsored the visit, but he stated that a representative of the school made the introductory speech. He described the difficulties ROBESON had encountered in obtaining a passport, spoke briefly on the singer's fame, and then turned the meeting over to the guest. ROBESON spoke for about ten minutes and explained that he was travelling on a mission; the mission of bridging the gap between nations by music. He told of his early trials in life, of his successes, and mentioned that these had brought him an income large enough so that he was able to contribute to the relief of his oppressed brother. He expressed his pleasure in meeting the German youth and the gesture made by them in presenting him with the neckerchief of the FDJ. This concluded the meeting. (X)(u)

Release for Army

A few days later, ROBESON appeared at a celebration of the FDJ and the Youth Department (Jugendfunk des Berliner Rundfunk) of the East Berlin Radio; the entire student body of the FDJ Political Academy attended. He was introduced by the Director of the Youth Department, GUENTER, Sergo, who praised him for his generosity in supporting the oppressed negroes. GUENTER, in his introductory remarks, explained that "there are two Americas; one the peace-loving mass of citizens who desire nothing more than to live in peace with the peoples of all other countries in the world and who are striving to equalize conditions in America so that people of all races and color may live together in harmony. The second America, he stated, is the center of the world reactionaries and the center of imperialism and intimated simultaneously, that the US is the head and West Germany the satellite of militarism. ROBESON then announced his own musical selections, which were exclusively negro songs. (X)(u)

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications," dated May 14, 1951, prepared and released by the Committee on Un-American Activities, United States House of Representatives, Washington, D.C., reflects the following concerning the WIDF, also known as the International Democratic Women's Federation:

"1. Cited as a Communist front 'which was founded and supported at all times by the International Communist movement.' Also cited as an 'organization (which) frankly stated that it intended to follow the lead of the Soviet Union, "the only country truly working for peace" and which joined in issuing the call for the World Peace Congress, held in Paris in April 1949.'

"(Congressional Committee on Un-American Activities, Report on the Congress of American Women, House Report No. 1953, April 26, 1950 (originally released October 23, 1949); and House Report No. 378, on the Communist 'Peace' Offensive, April 25, 1951 (original date, April 1, 1951), p. 71.)

C. Miscellaneous Activities

American Labor Party (ALP)

[redacted] advised on September 9, 1954, that from the time of its inception in 1936, there existed within the American Labor Party a struggle for power among three groups. These were the Communist Party, the Socialist Party and the Social Democrats. By the early 1940's, the Communist Party emerged as the controlling force within the American Labor Party in the major industrial areas in New York State. Generally these were the areas around Albany, Buffalo, Jamestown, Rochester, Schenectady, Syracuse, Troy, the Hudson River Valley, Columbia, Dutchess, Nassau and Westchester Counties, and New York City, with the exception of Brooklyn. In 1942 the Communist Party was able to capture the American Labor Party in Brooklyn. [redacted] knew this situation to continue up until at least 1949. The American Labor Party never developed into an organization of any real consequence in the nonindustrial areas of New York State.

[redacted] advised on [redacted] that the Communist Party today, as in the past, through its members in key positions in the American Labor Party, constitutes the force that controls it.

The "New York Times," a daily newspaper, Issue of October 8, 1956, on pages 1 and 20, reflected that the American Labor Party State Chairman announced on October 7, 1956, that the American Labor Party State Committee had unanimously approved a resolution dissolving the American Labor Party and liquidating its assets.

The 10/14/60 edition of the East German English-language propaganda pamphlet "German Democratic Report" also carried an article on ROBESON's visit to East Berlin, referring to the honors afforded him and noted that he ended his visit there on 10/7/60 when he entertained the crowds gathered in East Berlin's Marx-Engels Square celebrating the 11th anniversary of the German Democratic Republic. (u)

Both the 66th Military Intelligence Group, U.S. Army, Europe and the Office of Special Investigations (OSI), U.S. Air Forces in Europe, were requested to furnish any information coming to their attention regarding the subject's activities during his most recent visit in Berlin. The 66th Military Intelligence Group furnished their reply by letter dated 10/13/60 and OSI replied by letter dated 10/24/60. Both agencies indicated that they had no information on ROBESON's latest visit to Berlin but set out in their communications a summary of information from their central files on ROBESON. It is probable that all of this information is available to the Bureau. However, one copy of each of these communications is being attached for the Bureau's information in the event they might contain some references not already in the Bureau's files. (u)
