A Record of 40 Years of Work for Peace and Freedom

The Women's International League for Peace and Freedom was originated in 1915 in the midst of the First World War, with Jane Addams as its first president. Throughout its history it has maintained a policy and program consistent with its purpose to work by non-violent means for the establishment of those political, economic, social and psychological conditions throughout the world which can assure peace and freedom.

PEACE . . . The peace for which we work is . . . a positive principle of human relations and can be found only where there is free cooperation for the common good.

FREEDOM . . . Liberty of the human spirit is a basic value . . . Any infringement of this right goes counter to the dignity of the individual and endangers other values of a good society.

JUSTICE . . . Justice is essential to peace and freedom. . . . The League supports, as the best answer to the threat of totalitarianism, the development of a democratic social order in which the dynamic forces of scientific discovery and economic change can be utilized to enrich the life of all members of the human family.

Competition in the Ideological Area

Let Democracy compete on its own merits. It can!

"Peace by negotiation does not mean the abandonment of principle. It means that the realization of the kind of world which we desire, and rightly desire, must be postponed until it can be realized by peaceful persuasion; as is now, after centuries of wasteful bloodshed, recognized in the sphere of religion. Meanwhile we must live together on the surface of the same planet with those with whom we profoundly disagree and whose creed we hope and believe will ultimately be rejected by the suffrage of mankind."—
RALPH PERRY BARTON, Prof. Emeritus, Harvard University, May 18, 1954.

"The practice of freedom is our greatest asset. If we stand upright in the world thinking and living freedom, no unfree way of life can continue anywhere on the globe without being modified by our example. And if we fail to restore here a living community of upstanding free men, no hoard of atom bombs will make us respected or safe. . . ."—
D. F. FLEMING, Research Professor of International Relations, Vanderbilt University, Nov. 27, 1954.

"The atomic stalemate renders general war intolerable and gives the free world a better chance to gain the allegiance of mankind. Let no one forget that freedom works best in peace. . . ." — WALTER LIPPMANN of the New York Herald Tribune, Nov. 18, 1954.

"I consider it the sober truth to say that atomic energy has resulted in the greatest change in man's relations with nature since the fateful day in the garden of Eden. . . . Man has within his grasp an unlimited force . . . potential equally for death as for life. . . . The misuse of atomic energy means death on a scale that staggers the imagination." — THOMAS E. Corrects Report

Editor, Daily Worker:

It has come to my attention that on Feb. 17, 1956, your paper carried an article entitled "Pearl Buck Urges UN Seat For China." This article purports to contain an accurate account of an address which I delivered on Feb. 18 at the Temple Beth Miriam, in Long Branch, New Jersey. It begins, and I quote:

"Pearl S. Buck, Nobel Prize-winning author, called last night for admission of China to the United Nations."

I am much disturbed by what appears to be a deliberate distortion of my remarks on the occasion mentioned. With reference to the question of whether Communist China should be admitted to the United Nations, I replied in the negative, that is, I do not approve of giving Communist China a seat in the United Nations. I stated that, quite aside from my personal opinion on the subject, the basic charter of the United Nations does not presently admit of Communist Chinese membership. It was my further opinion that only a change in the United Nations charter, thereby permitting admission of all nations, would make the entry of Communist China possible.

Pearl S. Buck (Mrs. Richard I. Walsh)

[redacted] told me that Governor McKeldin was up at the [redacted] Herald-Tribune last week for lunch. McKeldin is a great friend of Pearl Buck. On one occasion he called Governor Adams about an appointment for Pearl Buck to see the President. Governor Adams commented about Pearl Buck being on the left side. With this McKeldin hit the ceiling and in another manner arranged to get Pearl Buck in to see the President about one of her projects dealing with children.

Summary*

Enclosed is a copy of a report entitled "Pearl Sydenstricker Buck, also known as Mrs. Richard J. Walsh, Security Matter - C," which appears to relate to the subject of your name check request.

A review of FBI files further reflects that Pearl Buck, not further identified, was a member of the Board of Trustees of the American Council of the Institute of Pacific Relations in 1944. (McCarran Committee)

According to a report on the Institute of Pacific Relations (IPR) issued by the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security in July, 1952, it is stated, among other things, that the IPR has been considered by the American Communist Party and by Soviet officials as an instrument of communist policy, propaganda, and military intelligence which disseminated and sought to popularize false information including information originating from Soviet and communist sources. The report further states that a small core of officials and staff members carried the main burden of IPR activities and directed its administration and policies. Members of this small core were characterized in the report as either communists or procommunists.

For additional information concerning the subject of your name check request, you may desire to refer to the Report of the Special Committee to Investigate Tax-Exempt Foundations and Comparable Organizations, 83rd Congress, Second Session on House Resolution No. 217, Pages 241-244.

The foregoing information is furnished to you as a result of your request for an FBI file check and is not to be construed as a clearance or a nonclearance of the individual involved. This information is furnished for your use and should not be disseminated outside of your agency.

Pearl Buck Will Adopt Negro-Japanese

Herald Tribune Special

By Emma Bugbee

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., Mar. 24. Pearl Buck, author and humanitarian, is about to expand her Welcome House adoption program to include unwanted children born of American Negro-Oriental parentage in Japan and Korea.

She and her husband, Richard J. Walsh, publisher, will soon adopt an eight-year-old girl, half-Japanese, half-American Negro, who is expected in this country late in April.

Mrs. Buck said today at her home in Perkasio, near here, that she had not seen the little girl she is to take into her home, but that friends in Japan had made the selection.

"A Good Child"

"She is intelligent and gay—a good child. That is all I care," said the writer.

She added that she had been inspired to take the new child because the German-Negro child, already a member of her family, "wanted a sister."

Henriette, whom Miss Buck and her husband adopted in 1953 and who is now eleven years old, attends public school in Bucks County, and is thoroughly "well adjusted," except that she needed the companionship of another child.

"I have no qualms about adopting another child," Miss

Buck continued. "It is my belief that a child is a child regardless of religion or race, and that they all need home and loving care. I believe that is the modern attitude. At least, it is the attitude of the most intelligent people, and they will lead the way for others to follow."

Others To Be Adopted

A small number of other Negro-Oriental children are soon to be brought over for adoption by other members of Welcome House or its friends. Miss Buck's sister, Mrs. Jesse Sawyer, and her husband, of Washington, are planning to adopt a Japanese-Negro boy who is a victim of infantile paralysis. Others will be taken into homes of American Negroes.

Miss Buck said her desire to see Negro-Oriental children brought here for adoption stemmed from the fact that in Japan and Korea these children, sired by American soldiers, are subject to severe prejudices. The position taken by many social welfare authorities that it is better to leave war orphans "in their own countries," does not annoy here, Miss Buck explained.

"What is 'their own country?'" she asked. "Their fathers are Americans. The children are as much American as Korean or Japanese, and they will have a better chance for a normal life here, in homes where they are welcome, than they would in the poverty and prejudices of their mothers' countries."

New Element in Program

Though the Negro-Asian children are the new element in the Welcome House program, in actual numbers they will be exceeded by children of white American-Asian parentage, Miss Buck said.

Welcome House, which has now become an agency for arranging adoption of Asian war orphans, was started ten years ago by Miss Buck as a foster home for such children. The children first established there will remain until they are grown but no others will be accepted as foster children. The house, in a remodeled barn adjoining the Walsh home, is under the guidance of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Yodel, a Mennonite couple. (The Yodels are among those who plan to adopt two Negro-Korean children this spring.)

Dear Editor...

'A Grave Injustice'

I am writing on behalf of a group of Chinese in the United States who, though relatively small in number, are suffering under a grave injustice. They are those who have overstayed the terms of their admission into the United States but who cannot return to mainland China because they would face physical persecution. Many of them have been in the United States over ten years, the Immigration Service having withheld deportation to China on the ground that they cannot safely return.

More than 500 of them, I understand, are now to be sent to Holland. The basis for this is that they entered the United States on Dutch ships. Deportation is based on a section of the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act which says that a person can be deported to any country "willing to accept" him. The procedure followed on arrival, it seems, is for the Chinese deportee to be placed immediately in detention. He is held there at the expense of the Holland-American Line until the line can make arrangements to place him aboard one of its vessels. These Chinese have never been in Holland but merely shipped on vessels of Dutch registry. The situation is analogous to a Chinese seaman on an American vessel which he deserts in another country. Would the United States at the request of that country agree to the deportation of such a Chinese seaman to the United States? Service aboard an American vessel would impose no obligation to receive him here as a deportee.

The whole arrangement appears to be a means of providing seamen for the Holland-can Line. In essence the Chinese here are not actually being deported to Holland but merely removed in the custody of the steamship line. They are to be placed aboard the company's ships, where their bargaining power will be minimal. There they will stay indefinitely until either they succeed in securing admission to some country or the master of the vessel no longer needs their services and succeeds in putting them ashore in some country.

Our State Department and other agencies spend millions of dollars and make strenuous efforts to acquaint people elsewhere with our democratic ideals.

It would hardly seem compatible with these ideals to sanction this pseudo-deportation of these Chinese. Their removal comes uncomfortably close to being an impressment of seamen, a cause for which Americans went to war in 1812. PEARL S. BUCK

PEARL BUCK

~~NY~~ ~~Hamilton~~
 Pearl Buck was investigated by this Bureau during 1952, which investigation was predicated upon information obtained from an informant, whose reliability could not be determined but who had attended social gatherings with Pearl Buck and who considered her to be a definite communist sympathizer.

The investigation developed that several individuals contacted considered Miss Buck's political sympathies in parallel with those of the Communist Party. The investigation failed to develop any indication that Miss Buck was or had been a member of the Communist Party or that she had at any time made statements advocating the overthrow of the United States Government by force and violence.

The investigation further revealed that for several years prior to 1952 Miss Buck was President of the East-West Association with headquarters in New York City, which organization arranged lectures and promoted books designed to bring the eastern and western nations together by fostering a knowledge and understanding of their respective peoples.

This Bureau's files contain many allegations that Miss Buck in her writings and speeches has been against universal military training, militarism, racial segregation, and has been critical of the government of Chiang Kai-shek.

As publisher of a paper, I have given some work to, and have inspired a legislative resolution in favor of a memorial in this state to Pearl Buck, the writer, and native daughter. At this time we bog down because of a report coming to us that she has communistic leanings. I wonder if the FBI could acquaint me with the entire facts, apprising me whether or not there should be such a memorial to the writer.

Very truly yours,

Dear Sir

Recently I read in the Phila Inquire some article made me wonder, what some of our citizens and officials think of and do. First the idea of Mrs Pearl fried the starving Chinese, and our government giving a large ship and according to the paper spending thousands of tax payers money to fix it up. Our government is handing money to practically every ruler who asks for it. I am a world 1 veteran, having nine sons who were in World War and Korea. One a pilot in the ferry command who flew all over the world and was killed along with another pilot at Hyattsville, Md, as a result of what I believed to be sabotage on the plane, another son was seriously wounded three times in Korea. I wrote you concerning the plane crash to you. You took the matter up with the air force and no more crashes occurred. This was in 1945. I believe in doing so you saved the lives of other fliers by doing so. I write for a local county paper and the Pearl Buck request got under my skin, so I wrote the enclosed article. I have the greatest respect for you and your wonderful organization. One of your men who was stationed at State College a few years ago called on me regarding an army deserter. I told him where he could find him in another county. He got his man.

NO FOOD FOR CHINA

To the Editor:

Recently an article was noticed in the papers saying that Mrs. Pearl Buck has been advocating that food be sent to Communist China. The same Chinese government, an ally of Communist Russia, is composed of the same Chinese that killed, murdered and tortured our American boys in Korea.

One of my sons was seriously wounded several times by the Chinese. He came home with a hole in his back and with both legs damaged. We wonder how many sons Pearl Buck had in the Korean affair or any other war.

During President Hoover's regime our government sent food to the starving Russians, and during World War II we sent shipload after shipload of supplies to Russia. They showed their gratitude by keeping our ships. Now they say they will bury us.

We would suggest instead of feeding China, we should send Pearl Buck, Eleanor Roosevelt and Walter Reuther, who started the tractor deal with Castro's regime.

Recently it was noticed that we are spending millions of U. S. taxpayers money on a dam in Ghana, also millions beside. The ruler of Ghana is extremely wealthy. His wife recently paid $8,400 for a gold bed and many people in the U. S. don't have a bed. It is too bad we don't have more men in Washington of the caliber of J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI. He is one man in Washington who could put this country in the shape our forefathers hoped and prayed for. In our opinion he is a man beyond reproach.

The Second World War sea-plane tender, Orca, was taken out of mothballs and converted into a modern patrol ship complete with air conditioning and gold wallpaper.

The State Department told Rep. J. T. Rutherford (D., Tex.) last week that the face-lifting cost $175,000.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

A few days ago, Miss Pearl Buck was a guest at one of our local TV stations. She talked of her work in the Orient helping half-American children resulting from soldier contacts with women of those foreign lands. I was very much impressed.

Upon subsequently favorably commenting on her work at my luncheon group, two of my companions said Pearl Buck was a Communist, and had been so classed by the FBI.

I said I did not believe it. Is this true?

By airtel of 7-5-67, the Philadelphia Office advised that Pearl Buck had contacted the office on 6-30-67, requesting she be contacted by someone with the FBI concerning information allegedly originating with the FBI to the effect that two of the employees of the Foundation are homosexuals, are smuggling drugs and misusing Foundation funds.

On contact by two Agents, Miss Buck produced a copy of a rough memorandum dated 6-22-67, which shows the FBI has turned over to [redacted] from an employee of Miss Buck alleging she has come under the influence of two homosexuals, [redacted] and [redacted] and are using contributions intended for assistance of Korean orphans for their personal pleasures. The document states [redacted] and [redacted] travel to various foreign countries as representatives of the Foundation, that their baggage is not inspected on return to the United States and they are bringing dope into the country. It also alleges [redacted] had reported a theft [redacted] to police which actually is a cover-up for his having been beaten and robbed by other homosexuals.

Re Phila. Airtel to Bureau 6/19/67.

On 6/30/67, PEARL S. BUCK telephonically contacted ASAC RICHARD D. ROGGE and advised in what appeared to be a highly incensed, extremely irritated and rambling manner that yesterday had been contacted by a reporter from The Inquirer, and in private this reporter made available a "document" which he allegedly obtained from _____ which, in effect, disclosed all of the information in our letter dated 6/19/67, which had been disseminated to local authorities.

Generally Miss BUCK, in a very rapid manner, stated that all of the allegations about homosexuality, smuggling drugs and the like were false, and she desired to speak with an agent of the FBI immediately as allegedly this information originated with the FBI.

Two mature agents were designated to interview Miss BUCK and she was contacted on the afternoon of 6/30/67, at the headquarters of The Pearl S. Buck Foundation. Miss BUCK produced a copy of a memorandum which she said had been given to _____ by a reporter for the Philadelphia Inquirer. She made available a copy of the memorandum, a copy of which is enclosed for the Bureau, and made the following comments regarding the allegations set forth in the memorandum.

Per [unclear] RCH

She has no employee who has been employed by her for [redacted] years, although some have been employed for either a longer or shorter period; she first met [redacted]

[redacted] and, in her estimation, was a very capable administrator. She said she thoroughly checked on [redacted] background and reputation before hiring him [redacted]. She said she is fully satisfied with his administrative ability and is certain he is not a homosexual. She commented that she has learned much about people through her past experience and is certain she can recognize a homosexual when she sees one. Miss BUCK advised that [redacted] who is now in [redacted] on foundation business, is employed by the foundation and is considered fully reliable. She feels certain that [redacted] also is not a homosexual.

Miss BUCK said she has never been to Las Vegas and has no reason to believe that either [redacted] have either been there. She is convinced that they are not spending foundation contributions for their own personal pleasure. She said the foundation funds are fully accounted for and the accounting firm which audits the records is Cogen, Sklar, Steinberg & Co., 1445 City Line Avenue.

She said that her luggage, as well as that of [redacted] and [redacted], was always examined by Customs when they returned from a foreign trip. She is convinced that no narcotics are being brought into this country by either [redacted] or [redacted].

Miss BUCK said that [redacted] was interviewed by [redacted] staff writer, Philadelphia Inquirer, and produced a business card bearing this information which she said was given to [redacted] by [redacted].

[redacted] advised the agents in the presence of Miss BUCK that [redacted] told him he obtained the information set out in the memorandum from [redacted]. [redacted] he said, was endeavoring to get [redacted] explanation of the allegations against [redacted] as set out in the memorandum. He said [redacted] gave him a copy of the memorandum. He indicated that he denied all the allegations therein. He said [redacted] told him that probably both the FBI and police would "wash out" the allegations, but that "if the FBI or police come in here tomorrow with a warrant for your arrest, I'll crucify you."

PH 62-NEW

Miss BUCK remarked that she could not understand how information as set out in the memorandum, if it did originate from the FBI, could get into the hands of a news reporter. She further could not understand how the FBI could possibly have come in possession of such information. She was advised by the agents that the agents could neither confirm nor deny that the original information came from the FBI. Further, she was informed that whenever information comes to the attention of this bureau which is of interest to another agency, the information is immediately transmitted to the interested agency as a matter of policy. However, at no time do we designate information of this type to any newspaper. She acknowledged that this seemed proper to her and she could not expect the FBI to ignore information which could be of interest to other investigative agencies. Her primary concern was that a reporter was in possession of confidential information which allegedly came from the FBI.

PAUL HAYES, Editor of the Philadelphia Inquirer, was contacted by SAC JOE D. JAMIESON, who assured the SAC that the information did not originate from an employee of the FBI and the information was furnished to the Inquirer by [REDACTED]

THE PEARL S. BUCK FOUNDATION
2019 DELANCEY STREET
PHILADELPHIA, PENNSYLVANIA

On May 31, 1967, a source whose reliability is believed to be reliable advised he has been employed for the last [redacted] years by PEARL S. BUCK. He stated that he has always admired PEARL BUCK and that she is well known in the country as a writer and a person who is helping charitable organizations. He stated, however, in 1962 Mrs. BUCK had [redacted]

[redacted], and had become rather involved with two persons, namely [redacted] and one [redacted]

[redacted] Pearl S. Buck Foundation which is located at 2019 Delancey Street, Philadelphia, Pa. Source stated that [redacted] and [redacted] are definitely homosexuals and that they have traveled around the country using the name of PEARL S. BUCK and, as a result of having gained PEARL S. BUCK's confidence, were ruining her good reputation, as well as taking the money collected for the Pearl S. Buck Foundation and spending the money other than what the money was donated for.

Source further advised that these individuals travel with Mrs. BUCK to foreign countries, and when they come into customs their baggage is not very closely checked inasmuch as they are using the name of the Pearl S. Buck Foundation in their travels. Source stated he was very disturbed about the situation inasmuch as Mrs. BUCK is now 74 years old and seems to have lost a number of her friends due to her association with [redacted] and [redacted]. He advised that he does not believe that Mrs. BUCK is senile; however, when you talk to her she seems to be in another world and will not listen to anyone except [redacted] and [redacted]. Source stated he wondered if it were possible that [redacted] and [redacted] were transporting dope from foreign countries into the United States inasmuch as their baggage and person is not checked closely inasmuch as they are traveling under the name of the Pearl S. Buck Foundation.

He advised that on one recent trip [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] had visited various gambling establishments in Las Vegas and had spent the money freely. [REDACTED]

b7C,D
Source advised that his reason for relating this information to the FBI was that he felt that someone in authority should know of this situation. He stated he does not know whether there is any federal or local law being violated inasmuch as he feels that Mrs. BUCK is aware of what she is doing; however, he feels that the innocent people who are donating money to the Pearl S. Buck Foundation are being bilked [REDACTED]

b7C,D
Source stated that Mrs. BUCK and [REDACTED] are now presently overseas and will be returning to the United States [REDACTED] and he felt that it would be wise if the baggage of [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] and possibly Mrs. BUCK, was closely checked for the possibility of their bringing dope into the United States.
