PURPOSE: To advise you concerning [redacted] whose Loyalty Form was returned to the Civil Service Commission on March 12, 1948, marked, "No disloyal data, FBI files."

BACKGROUND: With reference to the attached memorandum to you dated March 28, 1950, setting forth an analysis of the cases furnished to the Tydings Committee by Senator McCarthy, it will be noted that Case No. 68 is [redacted] who is presently employed in the Department of State. In view of the information in the Bureau's files developed as a result of a previous investigation for the Office of the Coordinator of Information in April, 1942, it appears the Bureau may be vulnerable in view of the return of the Loyalty Form marked, "No disloyal data, FBI files," on March 12, 1948.

It will be noted that the investigation in 1942 developed information similar to the charges made by Senator McCarthy indicating [redacted] as well as his parents, had signed a Communist Party petition. Reports in the Special Inquiry for Office of the Coordinator of Information were furnished to that agency on April 3, 1942, and a summary of this information was furnished to the State Department on August 7, 1946. The Office of the Coordinator of Information was the predecessor of the Office of War Information, and [redacted] was transferred to the State Department from the Office of War Information.

STATUS: In view of the above, a full field loyalty investigation has been opened concerning [redacted] which is being expedited and the results will be furnished to the Civil Service Commission and State Department upon its completion.

ACTION: Mr. Nichols is inquiring into the circumstances surrounding the return of the Loyalty Form on [redacted] to the Civil Service Commission marked, "No disloyal data, FBI files."

REFERENCE

To advise you of the results of a check of our files on all the names furnished to the Tydings Committee by Senator Joseph R. McCarthy with reference as to (1) whether the cases have been properly handled and (2) whether our files are in shape.

DISCUSSION

By memorandum of February 24, 1950, you were furnished the identity of 68 of the individuals referred to anonymously by Senator McCarthy before the Senate, as reported in the Congressional Record of February 20, 1950. These identifications were made through a comparison of the Senator's allegations with the material which had been provided to the Bureau confidentially on January 29, 1948, by [REDACTED]

You will recall that, with respect to the original testimony of Senator McCarthy, certain cases mentioned by him could not be identified by either the Bureau or the State Department due to the fact that the Senator lumped several cases together and omitted several others.

On March 21, 1950, the State Department furnished us with a list of the 81 names given by Senator McCarthy to the Tydings Committee. Subsequently, on March 24, 1950, the State Department furnished the Bureau with a chart showing the employment status at the Department of State of each of the 81 individuals plus the 9 individuals named by Senator McCarthy in his appearances before the Tydings Committee.

You instructed that we check our files on all the names furnished to the Tydings Committee by Senator McCarthy and make certain that we have properly handled the cases and that our files are in shape.

An analysis has been made of the complete list of 81 names furnished to the Tydings Committee. In 41 of the cases full field loyalty investigations have been conducted and referred to the Civil Service Commission. In one case [REDACTED] (Case No. 40) we are presently conducting a full field loyalty investigation at the specific request of the State Department. In 6 of the cases preliminary inquiry type loyalty investigations have been conducted and in 14 of the cases full field investigations were conducted under the provisions of Public Law 402, 80th Congress (Voice of America Program). In those cases where we have completed preliminary inquiry or full field type loyalty investigations, or investigations under the Voice of America Program, the case files show that the investigations were properly handled in accordance with existing Bureau policy.

In 7 of the 81 cases other type applicant or security investigations have been conducted in the past or are presently pending. With respect to these 7 cases, however, 5 of the individuals involved are no longer employed in the Government and have not been in Government service since 1947 so far as our files show. The remaining two involve Case No. 79 - [REDACTED] and Case No. 68 - [REDACTED] both of whom are still employed at the State Department. [REDACTED] is presently the subject of an Atomic Energy Act investigation which we estimate will be completed March 29, 1950. As you previously have been advised, reports in this case will be furnished to the Civil Service Commission and the State Department as well as the Atomic Energy Commission. With regard to [REDACTED] State Department records indicate he transferred to the State Department from the Office of War Information on [REDACTED]. In 1942 we conducted a Special Inquiry type investigation regarding [REDACTED] for the Office of Coordinator of Information, predecessor agency to the OWI. It is noted our reports in this Special Inquiry case do completely cover the allegations presently made by Senator McCarthy. Although there is nothing additional in our files, it does not appear that this case has been properly adjudicated under the Loyalty Order and, consequently, we have initiated a full field investigation.

There are 12 of the 81 cases in which no investigation has been conducted by the Bureau but of these 10 of the individuals involved are no longer employed by the State Department and there is no indication in Bureau files that they are employed elsewhere in the Government. A check has been made with the Civil Service Commission and there is nothing in their records to indicate these 10 individuals are employed in the government at the present time. The remaining 2 involve Case No. 56 - [REDACTED] and Case No. 59 - [REDACTED], both of whom are presently employed by the State Department. Our files do not show sufficient information to warrant initiation of investigation of [REDACTED]. With respect to [REDACTED] it is noted that the case involving him could not be identified by either the Bureau or the State Department until Senator McCarthy actually furnished the 81 names to the Tydings Committee due to the fact that in his original testimony before the Senate on February 20, 1950, Senator McCarthy omitted Case No. 59. No Loyalty Form for [REDACTED] has been located in our files. However, our files do contain some information of questionable significance which may pertain to [REDACTED] and which does warrant the initiation of a preliminary inquiry type loyalty investigation to establish identity and to further evaluate the information. Accordingly, a preliminary inquiry type investigation has been initiated.

In so far as the condition of our files is concerned, in the event they are subpoenaed by the Tydings Committee, it should be noted that the following general characteristics pertain in the loyalty files:

- 1) The original copy of reports as received from the field have been, in almost every instance, edited and changed by the Bureau to delete controversial material. It might be noted that, in this connection, many of these cases were handled in the early stages of the Loyalty Program.
- 2) Original copies of the reports contain administrative and informant pages showing the identity of our confidential informants and the identity of cooperative private citizens who have cooperated with the Bureau on a confidential basis.
- 3) References are made in the files to other Bureau file numbers and investigations.
- 4) Each file contains an administrative marking of "disloyal" or "unfounded" for statistical purposes within the Bureau. If these notations came to the attention of outsiders, it might create the erroneous impression that the Bureau

is adjudicating these cases and eventually result in a controversy with the Loyalty Review Board.

5) Administrative memoranda containing various notations as to proper action which should be taken on controversial issues by various Bureau officials.

6) Intra-Bureau communications revealing use of confidential procedures and the identity of other Government agencies providing us with information.

The characteristics noted above will also pertain generally in the case files of investigations conducted under the Voice of America Program, as well as those where we have conducted other type applicant investigations. These characteristics are, of course, in accordance with existing Bureau policy and procedure. Although the above list is not purported to be a complete list of the controversial types of material appearing in case files, it does present a general picture of the type of material contained therein which strongly evidences the need for us to strenuously resist any efforts on the part of the Tydings Committee or any other Congressional Committee to obtain our files for either public or private hearings.

As you will recall, Senator McCarthy in his early appearances before the Tydings Committee named 9 individuals whose names were publicized in the press. Some of these 9 individuals are the subjects of

b6
b7C

We have, of course, disseminated all information of a type that can be disseminated to the proper authorities. Particularly with respect to loyalty investigations and investigations under the Voice of America Program, the Civil Service Commission and/or the State Department already are in possession of our investigative reports.

For your information there is attached a list showing a brief analysis on each of the 81 cases cited by Senator McCarthy, showing the Bureau's investigative position and the employment status of each of the individuals involved so far as our files and the records of the State Department reflect. A separate list is also attached showing an analysis of the Bureau's investigative position on the 9 individuals mentioned by Senator McCarthy in his appearances before the Tydings Committee whose names were publicized in the press. As you will recall, these individuals were ~~Esther C. Brunauer~~ (and her husband, ~~Stephen Brunauer~~), ~~Gustavo Duran~~, ~~Haldore Hanson~~, ~~Philip Jessup~~, ~~Dorothy Kenyon~~, ~~Owen J. Lattimore~~, ~~Frederick L. Schumann~~, ~~John Stewart Service~~ and ~~Harlow Shapley~~. It is noted that ~~Esther Brunauer~~ and ~~Philip Jessup~~ also are included as Case Numbers 47 and 15, respectively, in Senator McCarthy's list of 81.

As you testified, disclosure of our files would seriously hamper our entire operations and would jeopardize the identity of our informants and our future effectiveness. Grave injustices would be done to many innocent people. We should certainly continue to resist any efforts on the part of the Tydings Committee or any other Congressional Committee to obtain our files for review.

Abe Harris of the Department phoned with regard to the Director's memorandum to the Attorney General dated February 24, regarding public disclosure of FBI reports and in particular to item Number 4, Page 2, wherein Harris feels some words were left out of the last line. Harris feels the sentence would read better if it were corrected and the White House has asked him this morning if the wordage can be clarified. The paragraph in question reads - "disclosures might be made under circumstances which would deny the aggrieved to publicly state their positions." Harris feels that the words "the opportunity" should be added after the word aggrieved so that the sentence would read - "disclosures might be made under circumstances which would deny the aggrieved the opportunity to publicly state their positions."

I see no objection to the change and recommend we advise Harris that it would be satisfactory to insert the words "the opportunity" so he can advise the White House.

Dear Mr. E. Hoover,

Though I am not yet of age to vote, I feel that by the time I am of age - there won't be a Country to vote in.

Why all this puttering around and beating about the bush? If there are so many communists in government positions unknown to the democratic populace, why keep the fact a secret? Why not publish their names and deport or try as traitors these "upholders of democracy" - who are so unfaithful. How can they contribute to one country's government and welfare when in their hearts they are pledged to another country?

Sir; couldn't you please take this fact into consideration - that it is really one of the next generation whom are going to pay for your mistakes. Perhaps you don't even realize this fact but it's very true. So why not be more careful in your (department's) doings!

Ok 4/6/50

(HMA)

b7c

For instance - open those so-called "Files" - punish as is befitting those whose names appear therein. Don't you realize that this is a "cat and mouse" game. Pretty soon the "cat" will over come the "mouse" - and it will be the younger generations that will suffer. Silence may be golden but this just doesn't seem to be a case for such action.

Since the above mentioned is made to be the problem - why don't you do something about it? Jeez! think about us a little - don't be so selfish. Remember we are supposed to follow in our elders' footsteps. Does this exclude their errors or doesn't it?

Boy! you people sure do give us something to look forward to. But what it may be - I hope and pray will be for better - next.

Good luck, Sir!

Sincerely yours,

73	[redacted]	November 12, 1947
76	[redacted]	Never employed State Department

With reference to case number 56, the records of the Department of State reflect that [redacted] is presently employed by that Department. A summary of pertinent information appearing in the files of this Bureau concerning [redacted] will be prepared and furnished to you.

With reference to and

on whom some action under the Loyalty Program has been taken by this Bureau, a review of our files is being made and you will be furnished with a summary of pertinent information appearing therein concerning these individuals.

With regard to the eight additional individuals referred to on your list, the records of this Bureau reflect that full field loyalty investigations have been conducted concerning the following three and reports furnished to the Civil Service Commission on the dates indicated:

Name and Agency

Reports to Civil Service Commission

John Stewart Service
Department of State

December 25, 1948

Dorothy Kenyon
Department of State

June 20, 1949

Haldore Hanson
Department of State

June 24, 1948

The remaining five individuals, Gustavo Doran, Mary Jane Keeney, Dr. Harlow Shapley, Owen J. Lattimore, and Dr. Frederick L. Schuman, have not been investigated by this Bureau under the provisions of Executive Order 9835. The files of this Bureau do not reflect a request for investigation of these individuals under the Loyalty Program nor advice indicating they are presently employed in positions bringing them within the purview of Executive Order 9835. These cases have been discussed with Mr. Peyton Ford, the Assistant to the Attorney General, with whom you have conferred on this project. Accordingly, no information is being furnished in these cases since they did not come within the purview of the Loyalty Program.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

Dear Mr. Hoover:

As you are aware, the President has requested the Loyalty Review Board to review such cases as have been identified before the Tydings Subcommittee. I have been endeavoring to assemble a tentative list of such cases, and I enclose the list as I have been able to have it made up.

The request of the President called for the inclusion within the record for review, of all material available to the FBI. As you will observe from this list, some of these persons have gone through the loyalty program, and a pertinent FBI report has been made concerning them. With reference to such, we would like to have any additional or supplemental material which the FBI may have with reference to them.

With reference to the other names, we would like to have from the FBI anything by way of material relevant to questions of loyalty, which the FBI can furnish to us.

Since the matter is one of first importance, any expedition in furnishing any of the suggested material to the Board would be very much appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

Seth W. Richardson
Chairman
Loyalty Review Board
