[redacted] North Versailles, Pa., furnished the following information:

She had received a letter from her son, [redacted] who is presently residing with her daughter, at [redacted] Alma, Michigan, 48801, in his handwriting, which she thought of interest to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

She stated that her son had not discussed the interview by FBI agents concerning threatening letters to the Nixon Theater and other individuals and he had not seemed at all worried about the matter.

She recalled a meeting in the winter of 1970-71, of [redacted] and her son at their residence. She believed that the meeting was the same day as the radio broadcast by one of the Nazi leaders.

Her son was presently disassociated with the National Socialist White Peoples Party and attending school in Michigan. His grades were good and she hoped he will stay away from the Party.

She furnished the handwritten letter from her son to herself and several other letters, and was explained the proposed use of her son's letter, and that it could possibly be used at a later date against him in court, and she stated that she understood this could possibly happen.

She furnished no further information.
