Hot Springs, Arkansas.
January 5, 1936.

MEMORANDUM FOR INSPECTOR E. J. CONNELLEY:

Re: Brekid.

There are attached hereto the logs for January 1, 1937 covering the taps on telephones listed to the Chief of Police, City Jailor, and Mayor's Office, all located in the City Hall at Hot Springs, Arkansas.

In this day's log, as well yesterday's log, frequent mention was made of a 1936 Model Ford V-8 Sedan which was stolen from the garage of Joe McRae, the owner of the said car. At the time this car was recovered, considerable blood stains were found on the running board and on the inside of same. "Dutch" Akers believed that a wounded man was carried in this car, and worked on that theory in his investigationof this case. It later developed that a local boy, age 17, named Jimmy Melton stole McRae's car, and went joy-riding with it. Melton explained that the blood splotches found on the car were caused from a cut which he received over his left when kicked by the crank as he was attempting to start the car. The Melton boy plead guilty to the theft of the car, and received a two year sentence by Judge Verne Ledgerwood.

The following conversation was overheard by Agent H. A. Snow:

H.A.S.

6:45 P.M. Incoming on #446

Otis: "Dutch", this is Otis - Tell your wife I'd like to have her work tonght.

Akers: O.K. - I&ll tell her.

* * * * * * * * * * *

The "Otis" mentioned above undoubtedly is Otis McCraw who (it is believed) has charge of the gambling at the Belvedere Club, Hot Springs, Arkansas. It is known that Aker's wife has or still is working at the Belvedere Club as a shiller.

Respectfully submitted,

John L. Madala,
Special Agent.

MEMORANDUM FOR INSPECTOR E. J. CONNELLEY:

Re: Brekid.

There are attached hereto the logs for December 31, 1936 covering the taps on telephones listed to the Chief of Police, City Jailor, and Mayor's Office, all located in the City Hall at Hot Springs, Arkansas.

Attached hereto please find a news article which appeared in this mornings' Hot Springs Sentinel-Record newspaper, and which pertains to the John Dickson matter. The article is self-explanatory.

Note the reaction of the above news article in the conversation between Captain Bob Moore and his sister had at 8:40 A.M.

With reference to the conversation recorded at 10:14 A.M., it is possible that the Bureau may develop a National Stolen Property Act out of this.

The call at 4:08 P.M. shows that Cecil Brock secured work at the Belvedere Club for New Year's Eve.

In the conversation recorded at 6:14 P.M., note Grace Goldstein's reaction to the news article which appeared in the morning local paper.

In connection with the tap on the Mayor's telephone #648, you will note the conversation recorded at 9:05 A.M. between the Mayor and John Jones who is Clerk of the Circuit Court, Garland County, Arkansas. The "Emory" mentioned in this conversation undoubtedly is Houston Emory, the Prosecuting Attorney at Hot Springs, Arkansas.

You will note in the conversation had at 9:22 A.M. that Federal Judge Marion Martineau apparently accepted Mayor McLaughlin's invitation to the latter's New Year Eve's party.

Respectfully submitted,

John L. Madala,
Special Agent.

Hot Springs, Arkansas.

[redacted]

MEMORANDUM FOR INSPECTOR E. J. CONNELLEY:

Re: Brekid.

There attached hereto the logs for January 2, 1937 covering the taps on telephones listed to the Chief of Police, City Jailor, and Mayor's Office, all located in the City Hall at Hot Springs, Arkansas.

Also attached hereto please find a newspaper article which appeared in the Hot Springs Sentinel-Record newspaper on January 2, 1937. The same is self-explanatory. It is suggested that this article be made part of the file.

Attention is directed to the conversation recorded at 12:55 A.M. A subject named John "Sharkey" Gorman, who is alleged to be a prize fighter, and who probably will be indicted for harboring Alvin Karpis at Cleveland, Ohio, is at present under investigation by the Bureau at Cleveland, Ohio. There may be a possibility that the "Sharkey" Gorman fled from Cleveland, Ohio and came to Hot Springs, Arkansas, and that the "Sharkey" mentioned in instant telephone conversation is identical with this subject.

Reference is made to the conversation recorded at 10:48 A.M. There is only one Dr. Davis listed in the Hot Springs Telephone Directory, and he is Dr. Louis Davis, a dentist, with offices at 631½ Central Avenue. It appears that the conversation at this time is related to the call made at 1:52 A.M. between Attorney . D. Swain and "Dutch" Akers. It is, however, not known what the subject of their conversation is about.

Note the call recorded at 2:02 P.M. between "Dutch" Akers and Day Officer Charlie Robbins wherein Akers modestly advised that he was offered the position of Chief of Police, but that he did not want it.

Note the conversation at 8:12 P.M. between "Dutch" Akers and an unidentified girl wherein the girl mentioned that she had an old man "on the string".

Respectfully submitted,

John L. Madala,
Special Agent.

January 8, 1937

MEMORANDUM

Edward George Bremer, President of the Commercial State Bank, St. Paul, Minnesota, was kidnaped by members of the Karpis-Barker gang at that point on January 17, 1934. The fact that the apprehension of Alvin Karpis and Harry Campbell was being sought by this Bureau was highly publicized throughout the United States, as evidenced by the issuance of Identification Orders on each of these individuals, requesting the assistance of law enforcement officials and the public generally in the apprehension of these persons. There could, therefore, be no doubt on the part of any persons interested in law enforcement work as to the desires of this bureau in effecting the apprehension of Karpis and Campbell.

During the fall of 1935, investigation by this Bureau in Oklahoma disclosed that one of the contacts for Harry Campbell was one Milton Lett, whose mother, Maggie Lett, resides at Bann, Oklahoma. Sincere efforts were made by Agents to locate Lett in the hope that his location would lead to the apprehension of Harry Campbell. Investigation disclosed that Maggie Lett was receiving registered mail at Bann, Oklahoma from an individual in Cleveland, Ohio, who was believed to be either identical with Milton Lett or Harry Campbell. For this reason on November 27, 1935, a surveillance was commenced in the Registry Section of the Cleveland, Ohio, Post Office, which surveillance was continued until January 20, 1936, in the hope of identifying the person responsible for mailing such letters. This surveillance was maintained with the knowledge of Post Office Inspector S. J. Hettrick of Cleveland, Ohio.

The Garrettsville mail robbery occurred on November 7, 1935, but at that time this Bureau had no reason to believe that any persons sought by this Bureau were involved in that offense. Shortly after November 27, 1935, on which date the surveillance of the Registry Section of the Cleveland Post Office was commenced Post Office Inspector S. J. Hettrick of Cleveland, Ohio, interviewed one of our Special Agents, advising him that through their investigation they had positively identified the photograph of one Thomas J. Shaw as being the purchaser of a Plymouth Sedan automobile, which was used in the Garrettsville mail robbery.

Subsequently the Identification Division of this Bureau positively identified Shaw as identical with Milton Lett. At the time of the above interview between Inspector Hettrick and an Agent of this Bureau, Mr. Hettrick expressed the opinion that the Garrettsville mail robbery had been effected by Alvin Karpis, Harry Campbell and others, but at that time they had not effected a positive identification, inasmuch as the witnesses were too frightened to make any identifications.

COPIES DESTROYED
20 6 MAR 25 1965

As has been indicated above the Post Office Inspectors were aware of the fact that Agents of this Bureau were maintaining a surveillance of the Registry Section of the Cleveland Post Office, inasmuch as arrangements for the surveillance had been perfected through the Post Office Inspectors. Despite the fact that Post Office Inspector Hettrick knew of this situation and knew that the Bureau was interested in Maggie Lett of Kann, Oklahoma, the Post Office Inspectors, without notifying the Cleveland or Oklahoma City field divisions of this Bureau, proceeded to Kann, Oklahoma during January 1936, where, with the assistance of the Kansas State Highway Patrol Officers and Deputy Sheriffs, they conducted a raid on the premises of Mrs. Maggie Lett, the mother of Milton Lett, and this was done in spite of the fact that they had knowledge that this Bureau was interested in both Milton and Maggie Lett.

During the course of another interview with Hettrick, he informed an Agent of this Bureau that Post Office Inspectors were making diligent efforts to locate and apprehend Alvin Karpis and Harry Campbell, in spite of the fact that they had not at that time informed any member of this Bureau that they had made any positive identifications as being involved in the Garrettsville mail robbery.

No satisfaction having been obtained from Post Office Inspectors by Agents of this Bureau operating in that section of the country as to the identifications of Karpis and Campbell in the Garrettsville mail robbery, the Agents took it upon themselves to interview the various witnesses to the said robbery. Through that investigation they were able to ascertain that numerous witnesses positively identified Karpis and Campbell as participants in that robbery, though no Agent of this Bureau up to that time had been so informed by Post Office Inspectors.

Prior to these identifications the Post Office Inspectors had expressed their sincere willingness and desire to cooperate with this Bureau at all times, but they had thus far failed to notify any representative of this Bureau that Karpis and Campbell had been identified in the Garrettsville mail robbery and it, therefore, became necessary for this Bureau to conduct an independent investigation in order to establish this fact.

On February 24, 1936 an Agent of this Bureau held a conference with Post Office Inspector S. J. Hettrick, the latter informing that prior to February 17, 1936 he had spent ten days in the vicinity of Tulsa, Oklahoma and Coffeyville, Kansas in connection with the investigation of the Garrettsville mail robbery and at that time he complained to the said Agent that the activities of Bureau Agents had caused Milton Lett to flee from that vicinity.

In this connection it is desired to call attention to the fact that the possibility of Milton Lett being a close associate of Harry Campbell was within the knowledge of this Bureau as early as August, 1935, and it was not until January 13, 1936, that Lett was identified as Carl Baker, alias Thomas J. Shaw, who actually purchased the Plymouth automobile used in the Carrottsville mail robbery. This identification was effected through the Identification Division of this Bureau. The information relative to this identification was transmitted to the Akron, Ohio, Police Department, which Department on January 16, 1936, telephonically advised Postal Inspector Hettrick at Cleveland, Ohio, of this identification.

The investigation of this Bureau looking toward the location of Milton Lett in Oklahoma practically ceased after it was ascertained that there was a strong possibility that it was he who had been mailing registered letters to his mother in Mann, Oklahoma, and it was in the belief that Milton Lett was actually mailing such letters that this Bureau commenced a surveillance of the Registry Section of the Cleveland, Ohio, Post Office on November 27, 1935. Inspector Hettrick complained as noted above, in spite of the fact as previously indicated the Post Office Inspectors conducted a raid on the house of Maggie Lett during January, 1936, which was certainly ill-advised and definitely disturbed the surveillance which this Bureau was maintaining in the Cleveland, Ohio, Post Office.

During the above mentioned interview between the Agent of the Bureau and Inspector Hettrick, the subject of the apprehension of George N. (Burrhead) Keady, who was also a suspect in the Carrettsville mail robbery was raised, at which time Inspector Hettrick advised the Special Agent that Keady had not been picked up by or for the Post Office Inspectors, and that his present whereabouts was unknown to him, Hettrick.

The investigation of this Bureau disclosed that the Post Office Inspectors obtained the information that Keady was involved in the Carrettsville mail robbery, and that through a colored attorney who represented Keady's interests, and with a threat of disbarment the said lawyer indirectly produced Keady by having him attend the trial of Tom Hill, at which time the latter was tried and convicted, and sentenced to life imprisonment in the case concerning the robbery of the Union Gas Company at Coffeyville during January, 1933. The investigation disclosed that Keady was apprehended by Joe Anderson, an officer of the Kansas State Highway Patrol, who was employed by the Post Office Inspectors to assist in the investigation of the Carrettsville mail robbery. The investigation disclosed that Keady upon his apprehension was brought to Cleveland, Ohio, where he was secretly confined by the United States Post Office Inspectors.

During March, 1936, [redacted] a confidential informant of the Oklahoma City field division of this Bureau, [redacted] held a conference with Joe Anderson, who is mentioned above, and several Post Office Inspectors in a hotel room occupied by Joe Anderson in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

She has informed that Post Office Inspectors Haynes and Hill of Tulsa were present and that there were two Post Office Inspectors from Cleveland, Ohio, present, namely Inspector A. D. Claggett and Inspector Jean Cordrey. She further informed that she overheard the conversation of the said Post Office Inspectors and observed that they have a feeling against this Bureau because they feel that sometime in the near future all investigative and enforcement agencies of the Government will be combined in one unit, and that the Director of this Bureau will be designated to head such an organization; that if this is done all the Post Office Inspectors and practically all of the personnel of other Government organizations so effected will lose their jobs. She stated that she also heard them say that this Bureau has been catching too many men and receiving too much credit in the newspapers, therefore, which appears to irk and annoy the Post Office Inspectors considerably. She stated that these two topics were discussed within her hearing.

She further stated that Post Office Inspectors Haynes and Hill told her that it was their understanding that Bureau Agents believing that she was contacting Karpis for his wife, Dorothy Karpis, who is residing at Tulsa, and that whenever she is in this country she is watched like a hawk. She stated that she did not know whether this remark to her was calculated to bring forth from her that she was friendly to us, or might have been used by this Bureau.

Clayton Hall, who has been considered a confidential informant of the Cleveland field division was interviewed by two Special Agents of this Bureau on March 25, 1936, at Youngstown, Ohio, and after obtaining considerable information from him arrangements were made for Hall to proceed to the Cleveland field division of this Bureau on the following day, March 26, 1936, where he could be interrogated further and to a better advantage. To assist Hall in this matter, one of the Agents provided him with a $5.00 bill and also with a slip of paper bearing the name of the said Special Agent and address of the Cleveland Bureau field division. Much concern was experienced by the Cleveland field division when Hall failed to put in his appearance on March 26, 1936, as he had agreed. This was particularly important to the Cleveland division in view of the fact that Hall had furnished the Bureau with substantially all of the important information which it had concerning the present location of Alvin Karpis. Hall not putting in his appearance, it became necessary for two Special Agents to proceed to Youngstown, Ohio, to the residence of Hall on March 27, 1936, in an effort to locate him. These efforts were unsuccessful. Mrs. Hall honestly professed ignorance of the location of her husband. The Agents then maintained a brief surveillance of Hall's home in the thought Hall might return.

At about 5:00 P. M., March 27, 1936, Post Office Inspector Hettrick telephoned the Special Agent in Charge of the Cleveland Field Division from Youngstown, Ohio, advising that the Post Office Inspectors had taken Hall into custody, and that they were aware that two of the Bureau Agents were conducting an investigation at Youngstown, having had Hall's home under surveillance inasmuch as they believed Hall could furnish information as to the present whereabouts of Alvin Karpis.

Thereafter, two Special Agents of this Bureau proceeded to Youngstown, Ohio, where they met Post Office Inspector Hettrick, who was in company with Inspector E. D. Claggett, Inspector H. W. Taverner, Inspector Jess Corirey, and W. R. Briggs, Post Office Inspector in Charge of the Cincinnati Division. There were also present Joe Anderson of the Kansas State Highway Patrol, Mark Mock and William Somers of the Ohio State Highway Police. At this conference Mr. Briggs advised that his men had taken Clayton Hall into custody the day before, to wit March 26, 1936, and were holding him for questioning.

It then developed that Clayton Hall indicated that he could furnish information as to the whereabouts of Alvin Karpis, but before doing so desired to have representatives of this Bureau and the Post Office Inspectors present. At this time one of the Bureau Agents inquired as to the whereabouts of Hall, whereupon Post Office Inspector in Charge Briggs replied, "He is not under arrest, but we have him in tow, and at the proper time will produce him"

Thereafter the said Special Agents were permitted to interview Hall and inquired as to why Hall had failed to put in an appearance at the Cleveland Field Division. Hall replied that he left his home Thursday morning, March 26, 1936, and while on his way to Cleve and was picked up by about twelve men, one of whom accused him of being a mail robber; that he was then taken to the Police Station where on three different occasions he was placed in the "show-up" and viewed by witnesses; that he protested to the men who had him in custody, advising that he was on his way to the Bureau Division at Cleveland, at which time he exhibited to them a piece of paper bearing the name of a Special Agent and the address of the Cleveland Field Division, together with the original $5.00 bill that had been given him by a Special Agent to cover his transportation expenses.

John Brock, a Tulsa, Oklahoma hoodlum, was positively identified as a participant with Karpis and Campbell and others in the Garrettsville mail robbery. Brock was apprehended by Post Office Inspectors at Tulsa, Oklahoma, and was removed to Youngstown, Ohio, where he was held incommunicado. In view of the fact that Karpis and Campbell had been positively identified in the said robbery, Special Agents of this Bureau expressed every desire to Postal Inspectors to interview John Brock in the hope of obtaining information which might lead to the apprehension of Karpis and Campbell.

On April 2, 1936, a Special Agent of this Bureau was advised by Post Office Inspector in Charge Wallace R. Briggs that he, Mr. Briggs, would allow an Agent to interview John Brock, who was then held by Post Office Inspectors on the third floor of the Post Office Building at Youngstown, Ohio. On April 3, 1936, another Special Agent of this Bureau received authorization from his superior to interview John Brock in keeping with the permission granted by Inspector Briggs.

Prior to attempting to interview John Brock, however, the Agent discussed this matter with Postal Inspector Claggett. At this time Inspector Claggett advised the said Agent that it would be impossible to interview Brock, inasmuch as Postal Inspector Briggs had specifically instructed him, Claggett, that no one outside of the Post Office Department was to talk to John Brock. He explained his Department had made certain definite promises to Brock and that any interview had with him by a representative of a Department other than the Post Office Department might result in serious consequences in connection with their case; that Brock had agreed to testify against the other persons participating in the Garrettsville mail robbery and that any possible indiscretion on the part of a Bureau representative during the questioning of Brock might result in his refusal to testify. At this time the Special Agent explained to Inspector Claggett that every precaution would be exercised not to interfere with their investigation and that the only information the Bureau desired was that which might lead to the location of Karpis and Campbell.

In response Inspector Claggett advised the said Agent that the Post Office Department had already furnished to this Bureau all information which they received from Brock which might lead to the location of Karpis and Campbell, and that it would be useless to talk with Brock any further in this regard.

Another Agent of this Bureau then conferred with Inspector H. W. Tavener relative to the statement of Inspector Briggs that an Agent of this Bureau would be permitted to interview John Brock. Inspector Tavener called this matter to the attention of Inspector Briggs by long distance telephone, whereupon Briggs advised Tavener that in view of the fact that Inspector Claggett probably had a more definite line on Brock's attitude, he would be governed by Claggett's view in the matter, and that in view of Claggett's statement to the said Agent that the said Agent should not be permitted to interview Brock, he would at this time decline to allow an Agent of the Bureau to interview Brock.

On one occasion a Special Agent of this Bureau received the information from Post Office Inspector Casey that the primary reason for the refusal of Post Office Inspectors in permitting John Brock to be interviewed by Bureau Agents was due to the fact that John Brock had apparently confessed to the Inspectors that two innocent men had been convicted for the mail robbery at Warren, Ohio, on April 19, 1935, it appearing that Brock implicated Karpis and Campbell in the Warren, Ohio mail robbery.

During the course of this investigation representatives of this Bureau conducted surveillance at the homes of Clayton Hall at Youngstown, Ohio and Clyde Rochat at Newton Falls, Ohio, and numerous other surveillances in Toledo, Ohio. The surveillances at the homes of Hall and Rochat were maintained jointly with the assistance of Postal Inspectors.

Post Office Inspector Hettrick advised an Agent of this Bureau that the Post Office Department contemplated issuing circulars on the participants in the Garrettsville mail robbery, the result of which would be to practically nullify the usefulness of the surveillances then being maintained by Bureau Agents.

On another occasion on the same date of the above mentioned interview an Agent proceeded to the washroom adjacent to room 202 of the Post Office Building, Youngstown, Ohio, and while in the washroom he overheard Post Office Inspector Tavener telephonically communicate with Post Office Inspector S. J. Hettrick, who was then in Cleveland. It became evident through overhearing this conversation that it was the plan of the Post Office Inspectors to leave Cleveland on the morning of April 30, 1936 and proceed to Youngstown, Ohio, accompanied by four Cleveland, Ohio, police officers armed with machine guns, several newspaper photographers and the United States Attorney at Cleveland and his Assistant, the idea in mind being to return John Brock to Cleveland with stops at Warren and Garrettsville, Ohio, to reenact the robbery of the mail truck at Warren and the robbery of the mail train in Garrettsville for the benefit of the United States Attorney, the pictures to be taken by newspaper photographers.

The conversation indicated that the newspaper photographers would be furnished with the addresses of the surveillances being maintained by Bureau Agents and the Post Office Inspectors at the home of Clayton Hall, 134 Ridgewood Drive, Youngstown, Ohio, and on the farm of Clyde Rochat near Newton Falls, Ohio.

Upon the conclusion of the telephone call, Post Office Inspector Albert White came into the office and Inspector Tavener advised him of the conversation that he had with Inspector Hettrick and through this means, the Agent was able to get complete details concerning the telephonic conversation.

On the morning of April 30, 1936, Post Office Inspector S. J. Hettrick appeared at the Post Office, Youngstown, Ohio, accompanied by Assistant United States Attorney Frank Wiedeman, two newspaper men from Cleveland, Post Office Inspector Cordrey and several Cleveland police officers. Inspector Hettrick at this time inquired of an Agent of this Bureau the reason for continuing the surveillance in that vicinity stating "it's very funny that you people continue these plants in view of the publicity that has been given them." It appeared, therefore, that the publicity had been given these plants by Post Office Inspectors in an effort to have them discontinued. This fact was subsequently verified by the Agent in a conversation with Post Office Inspector P. J. McNeil who was on detail at the home of Clayton Hall. At that time, McNeil stated to the said Agent that the Postal Inspection Service did not have the men to continue these plants and that they were no good now, and it was the intention of the Post Office Department to bring such publicity as would make them worthless.

In connection with this matter, an Agent of this Bureau who has been working with Post Office Inspector Frank W. Tavener at Youngstown, Ohio, has advised that Inspector Tavener informed him that Post Office Inspector S. J. Hettrick instructed Tavener to furnish to the newspapers at Youngstown, Ohio, information concerning various surveillances being maintained in Youngstown and vicinity, so as to render said surveillances worthless, inasmuch as the Post Office Department did not have sufficient men to run these plants. Inspector Tavener indicated to the said Agent that he did not agree with this policy but that he had to follow it, the reason being that some of the Post Office Inspectors are jealous of the Bureau and resent the action taken by the Bureau in issuing wanted circulars for Alvin Karpis and Harry Campbell in which a greater reward is offered than that posted by the Post Office Department. A Special Agent, late in the afternoon of April 2d, 1936, observed Post Office Inspector McNeil in conference with two newspaper reporters.

With reference to the same situation, a Special Agent of this Bureau has been in the office of the Post Office Inspectors when newspaper men would call to make the inquiry if "there is anything for us today." On such occasions, the Post Office Inspectors would go into the hall to confer with the newspaper men and upon their return to the office, would advise the Agent that they had just contacted a confidential informant who had given them some information, and in the event this information would prove of any value, they would disclose it to the Bureau Agent. Two of these newspaper reporters have been positively identified by an Agent of this Bureau as being employed by the Youngstown Vindicator and the Youngstown Press of Youngstown, Ohio. An Agent also observed that immediately after copies of a Youngstown paper were placed on the streets, Post Office Inspectors, especially Hattrick, Tavener and Claggett, would immediately and hurriedly purchase copies of these papers and scan them for any indication of any release giving them credit for a part in this investigation. The extreme importance of these surveillances maintained at the homes of Clyde Rochat and Clayton Hall cannot be controverted. It has been shown that those responsible for the Garrettsville mail robbery congregated at Clyde Rochat's home immediately preceding the said robbery and that there was every reason to believe that they would return to that point. Investigation has likewise disclosed that Clayton Hall was an exceedingly important contact for Karpis and Campbell and that there was strong reason for believing that they would again communicate with him in the future.

Postal Inspector P. J. McNeil advised an Agent of this Bureau confidentially that in the event Alvin Karpis or Fred Hunter should be apprehended at the home of Clayton Hall, 134 Ridgewood Drive, Youngstown, Ohio, it was the intention of the Post Office Inspectors to ask the aid of the Ohio State Highway Patrol and the Youngstown Police in taking them from the custody of Bureau Agents, to the end that they might be retained in Youngstown to stand trial for the Garrettsville mail robbery, the Postal Inspectors being motivated in this regard by the fact that no warrants were outstanding in that district for either Karpis or Hunter. While one Special Agent was on duty at the Clayton Hall home in Youngstown, Ohio, his personal mail was being forwarded to him in care of the Postal Inspectors at Youngstown, Ohio, and on April 5, 1936, a letter addressed to this Agent in care of the Postal Inspectors was received at the Post Office and was brought from the box to the office of Post Office Inspector H. W. Tavener. When this letter was received by the said Agent, it was very evident that it had been opened and resealed. The Postal Inspectors advised that on the letter's having been taken from the box, there was no evidence of its having been opened and resealed. The Agent took this as a personal matter and expressed himself in no uncertain terms, for this action on the part of the Post Office Inspectors, who neither denied or admitted having opened the letter.

Indicative of the attitude of the Post Office Inspectors toward the Bureau is an interview had by them with one Vivian Mantooth, at which time Inspector Cordrey was accompanied by Joe Anderson of the Kansas State Highway Patrol. These men were making efforts to ascertain the location of Milton Lett. On this occasion, Inspector Cordrey told Vivian Mantooth that Lett was wanted for mail robbery and that they wanted to catch Lett before the Department of Justice or anyone else got him.

During the interviews conducted with Clayton Hall by Agents of this Bureau, he furnished information as to the location of the place to which he had driven Alvin Karpis, in Toledo, Ohio, on or about January 15, 1936. He was consequently taken to Toledo, Ohio, for the purpose of pointing out this location. Hall at that time pointed out a building located on Adams Street in Toledo, Ohio. At this time, Post Office Inspector Casey accompanied Agents of this Bureau and Clayton Hall. Previous to this time, Post Office Inspectors had learned from John Brock that members of the gang responsible for the Carrettsville mail robbery had lived in a furnished apartment at 1605 Adams Street, Toledo, Ohio, during the time they were planning the Carrettsville mail robbery. It is noted, however, that when Clayton Hall was pointing out a building on Adams Street in Toledo, Ohio, which he believed was occupied by Karpis and others, Inspector Casey made no mention of the information in his possession to the effect that the gang had lived at 1605 Adams Street, Toledo, Ohio, although this information had been in the possession of the Postal Inspectors for a considerable period of time. I wish to point out that the Post Office Inspectors, at all times, until this Bureau had definitely identified the parties participating in the Carrettsville mail robbery, endeavored to confuse the situation by not disclosing that they had definite and conclusive identifications as to Karpis and Campbell as being actual participants in the said robbery. I feel that the refusal of the Post Office Inspectors to permit an Agent of this Bureau to interview John Brock seriously handicapped the efficiency and impeded the progress of the Bureau in apprehending Alvin Karpis and Harry Campbell.

Reference is made to that portion of this memorandum in which Inspector Claggett advised an Agent of this Bureau that they had given to this Bureau all the information they had received from Brock which might lead to the location of Karpis and Campbell. In this connection our investigation discloses that the Post Office Inspectors furnished this Bureau with practically no information which had been furnished to them by Brock and that such Postal Inspectors assisted only by verifying certain information which Agents of this Bureau had obtained through other sources. There was only one other way open to this Bureau to obtain information from Postal Inspectors which they had secured from John Brock. This was accomplished by virtue of the friendly relations between certain Special Agents and certain Post Office Inspectors, the latter furnishing some information because they had become somewhat disgruntled over the conditions existing among the Post Office Inspectors themselves. It is to be observed, however, that when Post Office Inspectors Briggs and Hettrick were given an opportunity to interview two Special Agents in Charge of this Bureau who were supervising the investigation in Ohio, they furnished no information which had been disclosed to them by John Brock.

During the course of the investigation of the Carrettesville mail robbery, the Post Office Inspectors availed themselves of the services of Windt Smith, head of the Kansas State Highway Patrol, and Joe Anderson, an officer of the Kansas State Highway Patrol. On March 28, 1936, Clayton Hall furnished information to Postal Inspectors and Bureau Agents as to the location of Karpis and Campbell in the vicinity of Hot Springs, Arkansas. At that conference, Joe Anderson was present. Immediately thereafter, Postal Inspectors and Bureau Agents proceeded to Hot Springs, Arkansas, where they met Windt Smith. In conducting the above mentioned raid, the fact that Karpis was sought was not disclosed. It is noted, however, that press dispatches carried statements of Windt Smith, head of the Kansas State Highway Patrol to the effect that he and his men had participated in this raid and that the man sought was Alvin Karpis. This resulted in unfavorable publicity and materially interfered with the subsequent search for Alvin Karpis.

Subsequent to the above mentioned raid near Hot Springs, Arkansas, and through the mutual efforts of Bureau Agents and Post Office Inspectors, the home of the two brothers of Grace Goldstein, the paramour of Alvin Karpis, was located in the vicinity of Paris, Texas. Investigation by Bureau Agents disclosed that Karpis had left at that point a black Great Dane dog of which he was very fond and a Ford coupe automobile, to be used for purposes of flight by him. These details were confidentially disclosed to Post Office Inspector Cordrey and Joe Anderson of the Kansas State Highway Patrol in order that they might have this information and to avoid the possibility of the Post Office Inspectors making open inquiry in the vicinity of Paris, Texas, which would materially interfere with our investigation at that point. Both Inspector Cordrey and Officer Anderson promised to treat this information as strictly confidential. Notwithstanding this definite understanding and agreement, Cordrey upon his return to Hot Springs, Arkansas, on April 24, 1936, proceeded to advise "Dutch" Akers, Chief of Detectives at Hot Springs, of the full details of the set-up at Paris, Texas, and thereafter, he, together with "Dutch" Akers, proceeded to a house of prostitution operated by Grace Goldstein, paramour of Alvin Karpis, as the Hatteris Hotel, where a search was made of the place, and where Inspector Cordrey and "Dutch" Akers vigorously interviewed all of the girl inmates, including the one who was left in charge during the absence of Grace Goldstein, threatening them with arrest, and endeavoring to obtain from them the location of Grace Goldstein, or information as to when she would return. This conduct on the part of Inspector Cordrey can be considered as nothing less than an intentional and willful breach of trust. The Bureau, a few days prior thereto, had engaged the services of Clayton Hall as a confidential informant, and there was every reason to believe that through his friendship with Grace Goldstein, he would be able to ascertain definitely the location of Alvin Karpis and Harry Campbell. In consequence of the disclosure by Cordrey and his subsequent conduct in raiding the Hatteris Hotel and questioning the inmates thereof, it was necessary for Clayton Hall to immediately suspend his operations in our behalf and return to his home, having been able to accomplish nothing.

As a result of the information conveyed by Postal Inspector Charles Cordrey to "Dutch" Akers, the latter was able to and did, within a few days thereafter, advise Grace Goldstein that this Bureau had located her family at Paris, Texas, furnishing her with full details as to the automobile, the dog and other items of interest which had been developed through investigation of Special Agents of this Bureau.

This will inform you further that on April 18, 1936, an Agent of this Bureau held a conversation with Post Office Inspector F. P. Casey, at which time Casey advised said Agent that with the exception of himself and two or three others of the Post Office Inspectors assigned to the Cincinnati Division, his Department, particularly those now in charge, is evidently jealous of this Bureau, and notwithstanding the apparent spirit of cooperation, if the opportunity presents itself, it is their intention, without notifying this Bureau, to bring about the apprehension of Karpis and Campbell, preferably alive. Inspector Casey further confided that a movement was then afoot to soon abandon the surveillances in which the Post Office Inspectors and Bureau Agents were mutually interested, that it was the intention of the Post Office Inspectors to go back to the policy of inviting all peace officers through rewards and payments from a confidential fund, to join with the Post Office Inspectors in an effort to locate Karpis and Campbell and cause their apprehension. Fortunately, this proved to be only an expressed intention and was not actually put into effect prior to the apprehension of Karpis and Campbell by Bureau Agents. Had this policy become effective, however, it would have seriously impaired the work which this Bureau was then performing.

The location of one Sam Coker became very material to this Bureau in its effort to locate and apprehend Harry Campbell. Investigation had disclosed that for a short period prior and subsequent to the Garrettsville mail robbery which occurred on November 7, 1935, Sam Coker had been confined in the Mercy Hospital, Toledo, Ohio. On the afternoon of May 6, 1936, the day before Harry Campbell was apprehended, two Special Agents of this Bureau visited the Mercy Hospital with the intention of examining the hospitalization records to obtain information concerning the location of Sam Coker. Upon entering the waiting room of said hospital, the Agents observed Post Office Inspectors Clagett, Cordrey and S. J. Hettrick seated there. A brief conversation was held between the Agents and the Post Office Inspectors and very shortly thereafter the Sister Superior invited Post Office Inspector Hettrick into her office where she permitted him to examine certain index cards. The Agents, in the feeling that Inspector Hettrick had obtained the information which they were also seeking, asked Mr. Hettrick if he desired to furnish to the Agents the information which he had received from the Sister Superior, whereupon Inspector Hettrick stated, "You had better go in and get it yourself", and immediately thereafter he and the other Post Office Inspectors left the hospital. The Agents were necessarily considerably embarrassed by being forced to seek the same information from the Sister Superior which had already been obtained by another agency of the Federal Government. The said Agents, however, received the full cooperation of the hospital staff and obtained through the records of the said hospital information which proved to be of the utmost importance in this case.

On the morning of May 7, 1936, the date on which Harry Campbell was captured, a Special Agent was having breakfast in the coffee shop of the Hillcrest Hotel in Toledo and was joined by Post Office Inspector S. J. Hettrick. At this time Inspector Hettrick inquired as to whether the meeting in the reception room of the Mercy Hospital, as noted above, was a mere coincidence, and advised the Agent that if it were, it was indeed a fortunate meeting for the Agents because he was confident that when the Agents made their investigation at the said hospital they did not know the name which Sam Coker had used when he was hospitalized at that point. Hettrick indicated that the Agents would not have been able to obtain the desired information had it not been for the fact that the Post Office Inspectors knowing the name used by Coker at the said hospital had sought similar information concerning Coker immediately preceding the investigation by the Agents, and that necessarily the Agents' investigation would have to be predicated upon the fact that the Sister Superior would recall the name of the individual concerning whom the Post Office Inspectors inquired.

The misconduct of the Post Office Inspectors in this particular instance cannot be viewed in any light other than that of willful and intentional misconduct encouraged by a desire to not only embarrass the investigating Agents but to deliberately interfere with the progress of their investigation.

On the evening of May 4, 1936, two Special Agents held a conversation with two Post Office Inspectors in Toledo, Ohio. At this time Postal Inspector Casey, in conversing with one of the Special Agents, was very critical of the lack of cooperation displayed by the Post Office Inspectors during the course of their mutual investigation with Special Agents in this matter.

On May 6, 1936, a Special Agent in Toledo, Ohio, held a conversation with Post Office Inspector S. J. Hettrick, at which time Inspectors Cordrey and Claggett were also present. During this conversation, Inspector Claggett advised the said Special Agent that he and Inspectors Cordrey and Hettrick had just returned from the Mercy Hospital in Toledo, Ohio, where they had made an investigation relative to the time Sam Coker was confined in that hospital.

Inspector Claggett gave no further details but at this moment Inspector Hettrick stepped forward, having completed a telephone conversation, and advised the said Special Agent that he, Hettrick, had just returned from the Mercy Hospital and on leaving had encountered another Special Agent who was then entering the hospital. Mr. Hettrick then made the following statement: "The Agent asked me what I found out about Coker. I told him there it is, go get it for yourself". Hettrick then asked the said Agent the following question: "Say, are we cooperating or not?" The Agent replied: "As far as I know, we are". At this time Inspector Cordrey attempted to engage the said Agent in a dispute relative to the activities of Special Agents of this Bureau and Post Office Inspectors during the course of the raid made upon the home previously occupied by Alvin Karpis and Fred Hunter in the vicinity of Hot Springs, Arkansas. The said Agent courteously declined to discuss this matter with Inspector Cordrey, advising that it was not one which came within his knowledge, and he was therefore not able to discuss the matter.

Reference is now made to that portion of this memorandum in which Inspector Claggett declined to permit a Special Agent of this Bureau to interview John Brock in the hope of obtaining information which would result in the location of Karpis and Campbell. It is noted that at the time of this refusal Inspector Claggett stated that he had furnished to Agents of this Bureau all of the information which Brock had furnished them which might lead to the location of Karpis and Campbell. Previous information already set forth in this memorandum has illustrated the disgruntled attitude prevailing among the various Postal Inspectors who were working on this matter. It has been shown that it was only as a result of the disgruntled attitude on the part of certain Post Office Inspectors that Agents were able to obtain any information which had been secured by Post Office Inspectors from John Brock. This Bureau never ceased to consider an interview with John Brock as of extreme importance to the successful culmination of this case.

On May 6, 1936, a Special Agent held a conversation with Inspector Claggett, at which time Claggett appeared to be very bitter towards Post Office Inspector S. J. Hettrick, in charge of the Post Office Inspectors who were assigned to the duty of locating Harry Campbell.

Inspector Claggett then confided to the said Agent that Harry Campbell was undoubtedly in Toledo, Ohio, and probably resided there; that information had been furnished to the Post Office Inspectors by John Brock that prior and subsequent to the Carrettsville mail robbery on November 7, 1935, Sam Coker had been confined in the Mercy Hospital in Toledo. Claggett further confided in the said Agent that Brock had advised that since Coker's discharge from the hospital the latter was visiting and keeping company with one of the nurses, of whom he was very much enamored. Inspector Claggett further confided that Brock had informed the Post Office Inspectors that Coker's hospital bill was paid by Harry Campbell, who lived with his wife or a woman in an apartment in the vicinity of the hospital, and that if the Post Office Inspectors should investigate this nurse, such investigation would probably lead them to Harry Campbell.

It was in the desire of obtaining identical information from John Brock that Special Agents had earnestly insisted that they be permitted by the Postal Inspectors to interview John Brock. The tremendous importance attached to the information which was inadvertently furnished to an Agent by Inspector Claggett cannot be over emphasized, and it is sincerely felt that it is only by virtue of the disgruntled attitude of Inspector Claggett that he ever disclosed this information to a Special Agent. Certainly when he and other Postal Inspectors were given numerous opportunities to furnish such information on previous occasions, they had declined to do so, which obviously delayed and seriously encumbered the possibility of Harry Campbell's apprehension.

On June 30, 1936, Post Office Inspectors Hettrick and Cordrey interviewed Alvin Karpis who was in custody in St. Paul. After the interview with Karpis, Hettrick and Cordrey conversed with Agent Brennan, advising him that they had all of the information which they needed in connection with the Carrettsville Mail Robbery. These two Postal Inspectors then went on to state that they had secured the original information which lead to the apprehension of both Karpis and Campbell, further claiming that they had been doublecrossed by the Bureau. They stated that they had nothing against the agents of the Bureau as such, since they, the Postal Inspectors, felt they were merely following instructions from their superiors. They also stated that the statement which Mr. Hoover issued, criticising the Post Office Inspectors for their lack of cooperation was done for the purpose of "jumping the gun" on them. Another thing criticised by the Post Office Inspectors was when they were working with the Agents of this bureau, the Special Agents felt it was incumbent upon them to notify the Director of everything they did and they continued by saying that they had spent considerable time and effort developing confidential informants and one of them was interviewed by Mr. Connelley in such a manner that he was thereafter afraid to furnish the Inspectors with any information. They were undoubtedly referring to Clayton Hall mentioned heretofore in this memorandum. The Post Office Inspectors then criticised Mr. Connelley stating that he was egotistical, who was running around the country sticking out his chest and making it known that he was "S. J. Connelley of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, United States Department of Justice" and that he was frequently mentioned in the papers, etc. They also referred to SAC E. J. Dowd as a "smoothy" and criticised Agent Wynn for securing the identity of the nurse who had treated Sam Coker, which incident has already been mentioned. The Postal Inspectors stated they had this information before Wynn secured it and that after Wynn secured it he and other Bureau Agents picked up the doctor and nurse so that they were not available for interview by the Post Office Inspectors.

Hettrick further stated that six Post Office Inspectors had been in Washington when there was a rumor of a Congressional investigation of the lack of cooperation between the Post Office Inspectors and the Federal Bureau of Investigation and that their purpose of being in Washington was to urge the investigation. Hettrick continued that there is some person in Toledo whose identity and location he knows, who is being sought for questioning by the Bureau and that he was requested to furnish this information to Agents of the Bureau working in Toledo but had refused to do so. He likewise claimed to know the location of Milton Lett previously referred to but he stated he would not furnish the information to the Bureau.

MEMORANDUM TO ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL McMAHON

At your request, I have examined the following reports covering alleged violation of Section 246, Title 18, United States Code Annotated, on the part of George Timiney, et als.:

1. Report of Special Agent E. J. Wynn, dated October 25, 1936, containing 466 pages of typewritten matter

2. Report of Special Agent S. K. McKee, dated October 26, 1936, containing 170 pages of typewritten matter

3. Report of Special Agent John L. Madala, dated October 30, 1936, containing 81 pages of typewritten matter

4. Supplemental report of Special Agent John L. Madala, dated November 3, 1936, containing 7 pages of typewritten matter

5. Statements of Sally Jackson and Florence Josong, submitted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation on December 23, 1936.

As is indicated by the introductory statement, which reads, in part, as follows:

"All persons, addresses, automobiles and other relevant data have been included; however, no reference has been made to individuals who are either defendants or potential defendants."

RECORDED & INDEXED 1-516-1351

the reports contain a mass of facts, circumstances and statements concerning more than fifty individuals who more or less assisted Karpis, Barker and others of the Barker-Karpis gang while they were in Toledo, and Cleveland, Ohio, during the years 1934, 1935 and 1936.

However, many statements are uncertain and in many instances important information appears to be conclusion of the agents, rather than facts susceptible to proof.

The file as a whole, on a casual reading, indicates that successful prosecution might be had against several of the persons named in the report, but when analyzed as to each possible defendant, great difficulty is encountered in ascertaining what proof is available against each person. To prove many facts, set out in the reports, depends upon testimony of members of the gang who are presently serving life sentences and I am inclined to the opinion that these people will not testify, even if the Attorney General would permit their leaving prison for that purpose. Other facts depend upon the women associates of members of the gang and I suggest that before we rely upon their willingness to testify, they be interviewed again to ascertain their attitude, as experience has taught me that difficulty is often encountered with this class of witness.

I have discussed this case with United States Attorney Freed and we both desire to see these people punished for their actions and are both of the opinion that the reports indicate the guilt of certain persons named in the reports but, inasmuch as it is advisable not to indict any person lightly and without some assurance of a conviction, it is deemed advisable that the agents who have prepared the reports submitted, set out opposite the names of each person against whom they feel sufficient evidence can be procured, all facts and circumstances tending to show such persons' guilt and what witnesses can be procured to give such testimony. Such a report will, of course, be necessary for the trial and may as well be prepared before indictment.

In preparing such report, the agents should keep in mind that the Government will have to prove the following:

1. The existence of an agreement and conspiracy to harbor and conceal Karpis and/or Doc Barker, as no warrants were issued for the arrest of others of the gang until after most of the harboring took place in Toledo and Cleveland.

   a. No express agreement can be proved. Therefore, attention should be given to proof of overt acts by each prospective defendant.

2. Knowledge or notice on part of each prospective defendant of the issuance of the warrant of arrest.

3. The harboring and concealing must be to prevent discovery and arrest of the harbored person.

It is recommended that a copy of this report be forwarded to the Division of Investigation with the request that the summary report mentioned herein be furnished at the earliest possible date in order that the case may be presented to a Grand Jury early in February.

Respectfully submitted,

BEN F. FOSTER,
Special Attorney.

P.S.:-

After studying the various reports in the above matter, the writer assembled the evidence against and has prepared an abstract of the same which will be furnished to the agents, should they deem that this will help them in preparing the summary report requested.

AT MAHONINGTOWN, PENNSYLVANIA.

JOHN ROBINSON, a clerk at the Mahoningtown sub-station of the New Castle Post Office, produced the rural carriers' directory indicating that mail was being delivered to CLARK V. and CATHARINE METZ, ROBERT METZ, C. V. and ELIZABETH METZ and GERTRUDE SPROUT, at Box 20-D, Rural Route #8. Mr. Robinson stated that Metz was a retired railroad employee of advanced age and an old resident of this community. Robinson could not furnish any information concerning their visitors and could not identify the photograph of BENSON GROVES exhibited to him, as a patron of that office.

The Superintendent of this sub-station, E. M. McBRIDE, related that he is well acquainted with the Metz family and knew that MRS. GERTRUDE SPROUT was visiting with them but could not identify a photograph of BENSON GROVES as a resident of Mahoningtown. Mr. McBride avers that he is acquainted with all the residents of this town and is sure that he would have seen Groves if he had been in Mahoningtown for even a brief period. It may be noted that there is no removal address recorded for Mrs. Sprout at this post office and Groves does not appear in the directories at this office, either under his true name or aliases and no forwarding address is on file.

After ascertaining from the postal employees that he was of good repute, DR. C. W. JONES, an Osteopath residing in the vicinity of the Metz residence, was interviewed. Dr. Jones informed that MRS. GERTRUDE SPROUT came to the Metz home following the death of her husband at a small town near Dayton, Ohio, arriving in November, 1936, and departing on January 14th or 15th, 1937. Dr. Jones stated that CLARK V. METZ is a retired Engineer formerly employed by the PITTSBURGH AND LAKE ERIE RAILROAD, whose wife, Catharine, recently died. Living with Metz, according to Dr. Jones, are ROBERT METZ, his son, and his brother, C. V. METZ, and wife, ELIZABETH.

Jones and BOYD G. PETERSON, residing with Jones, advised that they frequently visit the Metz home but at no time did they hear either Mrs. Sprout or Metz refer to BENSON GROVES, either by his true name, or several aliases. A photograph of Groves was exhibited to these men and after examining it, both stated that they had not seen a person resembling Groves at the Metz home or in the vicinity of Mahoningtown.

With reference to Mrs. Sprout, Dr. Jones stated that he understood she was living with a brother-in-law, who has a daughter, residing in a small town, or on a farm, near Dayton, Ohio, leaving that place because she disliked the location. Upon being advised that this brother-in-law moved into Dayton, she returned as hereinbefore stated. This individual is without doubt the JAMES HORNER mentioned in the reference report.

Dr. Jones, upon request, informed that he would observe the visitors to the Metz home and notify the Pittsburgh Field Division by telephone if a person resembling Groves appeared there.

Dr. Jones advised that the only relative of Metz, or Mrs. Sprout, known to him, is ROBERT METZ, an employee of the General Motors Corporation, Cleveland, Ohio. He describes him as being large and of florid complexion. ROBERT METZ was said to be a frequent visitor at Mahoningtown.

MISS KATHRYN DICKSON, Assistant Register of Wills, Lawrence County, New Castle, advised, after a search of the records of that office, that there were no probate or other matters on file in that office under the name of Sprout.

AT CLARKSBURG, WEST VIRGINIA.

Special Agent H. A. Bangert conducted the following investigation.

It was ascertained at the office of the United States Attorney, that the old criminal files as far back as 1917 had been destroyed.

Volume 8, Page 16, of the Criminal Docket of the United States Attorney for the Northern District of West Virginia, discloses Case No. 4444, the United States vs BENSON GROVES alias "SOUP" GROVES and LEONARD GAEGLINE and FRANK MAHOOD, violation of the Act of February 15, 1913 (Theft from Interstate Shipment).

The docket entries disclose that on January 9, 1917, a capias issued for Mahood; on January 12, 1917, a verdict of guilty was returned as to all three defendants and Mahood and Gaegline were sentenced to serve six months each in the Ohio County Jail at Wheeling, West Virginia, and Groves was sentenced to serve a term of five years in the United States Penitentiary at Atlanta, Georgia.

The records in the office of the United States Attorney disclosed no additional information.

At the office of the Deputy Clerk of the United States District Court at Parkersburg, West Virginia, the only information available relative to this matter was the indictment which disclosed as follows:

An indictment was returned by the Federal Grand Jury at Parkersburg on January 9, 1917, charging the above named defendants with unlawfully having in their possession 9,950 cigars, commonly called stogies, contained in 199 boxes and six cartons of Mail Pouch tobacco contained in 48 small packages, all of the goods and chattels of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railway, said stogies and Mail Pouch tobacco having theretofore been a part of an interstate shipment of freight having been shipped on November 23, 1916, from Wheeling, West Virginia, to Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, over said railroad and on November 23, 1916, they were stolen and carried away, the defendants knowing that they had been so stolen and carried away.

It is believed possible that the records of the Police Department of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railway, now believed to have merged with another railroad company, may throw some light onthis matter, if Groves and the other defendants were arrested by the railroad police at the time of the theft from the interstate shipment in question. It appears that HOWARD H. HASTINGS was Sheriff of Ohio County at Wheeling at the time Mahood and LEONARD GAEGLINE, associates of Groves, were confined in this jail for six months and that Hastings may be able to furnish some information as to the present whereabouts of these two persons who may still be friendly with Groves and contacting him.

Further inquiry will be made at Wheeling, West Virginia, in an effort to locate and interview former Sheriff Hastings as to all information in his possession relative to Groves, Mahood and Gaegline.

Contact will also be had with ERNEST CHAPMAN, Captain of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Police at Wheeling, who will, no doubt, be able to furnish the present whereabouts of the records of the old Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway Police Department so that an examination may be made of the case file of this railway relative to the facts surrounding the arrest of Groves, his personal history, associates and other information of value.

UNDEVELOPED LEADS:

THE PITTSBURGH FIELD DIVISION will report the results of the mover placed on the mail received by the Metz family, residing at Mahoningtown, Pa.

At MAHONINGTOWN, PA., will again interview DR. C. W. JONES, Rural Route 8, with respect to the visitors at the Metz home.

At WHEELING, W. VA., will contact ERNEST CHAPMAN, Captain, Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Police, with reference to the conviction of Groves, Gaegline and Mahood on 1-9-17 at Parkersburg, West Virginia, and secure their personal history. Will interview former Sheriff Hastings, Wheeling, relative to the associates of Groves, Mahood and Gaegline.

At BENWOOD, W. VA., will conduct an investigation as suggested in the letter of reference, in the immediate future.

THE CINCINNATI FIELD DIVISION at DAYTON, OHIO, will ascertain if GERTRUDE SPROUT has returned to the home of JAMES HORNER, mentioned in the reference report, and will attempt to develop an informant who can discreetly learn the whereabouts of Groves from Mrs. Sprout.

Reference to current directories furnished no information as to E. J. Goff, or E. P. Goff. Reference to obsolete directories revealed that Eliza Jane Goff had resided at 416 Hickory Street, Martins Ferry. J. W. Muhlman, Chief of Police, advised that Miss Lola Goff now lived at 416 Hickory Street and was considered thoroughly honest and reliable. No one was at home at this address at the time of Agent's visit, and inquiries were made of Mrs. Edward Koerber, 418 Hickory Street. She stated that Lola Goff was her sister and that Eliza Jane Goff, now deceased, was her mother, and that they had formerly lived at 416 Hickory Street. She stated that she and Lola Goff are first cousins of Benson Groves; and that she had known all the Goffs in town for twenty-five years, but had never known any E. P. Goff.

Mrs. Koerber was interviewed in the presence of her husband, and neither was able to identify the picture of Benson Groves. They stated that they had not seen him in approximately ten years, and would not have recognized him from the picture. They were unable to furnish any information as to his whereabouts, or his contacts, stating that they had neither heard from him, or of him, for ten years. They were informed that Groves was wanted for questioning by this Bureau, and voiced their full cooperation in causing his apprehension should he appear at their home.

Arrangements were made with J. W. Muhleman, Chief of Police, Martins Ferry, to notify the Cincinnati Field Division if Groves should appear in this vicinity. It was noticed that the Post Office Wanted Notice on Benson Groves was posted in the Police Department.

AT BELLAIRE, OHIO.

It was noticed that the Post Office Wanted Notice on Benson Groves was posted in the Bellaire Police Department.

It was ascertained that Albert Mahone, Chief of Police in 1917 is now deceased. Mr. Charles Wasman, Mayor during 1917 was unable to furnish any information why Mahone requested photographs of Groves at that time. Francis Moran, present Chief of Police, was unable to locate any record indicating why the inquiry was made. No member of the 1917 Police force is now living.

Mr. Larry Witt, c/o Union Bank, Bellaire, stated that he was connected with the Foreign Exchange Bank in 1917; that he never knew Benson Groves; and is unable to recall ever having received a letter from him. Mr. Witt has long been connected with the banks in Bellaire, and is considered thoroughly honest and reliable by Chief Moran. He voiced his full cooperation in causing the apprehension of Groves if he should appear in this vicinity.

It was ascertained that Leonard Goeglien, who appeared as a correspondent of Groves during 1918, is now deceased. Goeglien was a known robber, specializing in safe-jobs. After pulling such a job at Bucyrus, Ohio, and during the split-up of the loot, some argument arose, and Goeglien was permanently blinded, and lost either his hands or arms. One Frank (Deyday) Mahood was killed at this same time. Goeglien died about five years ago, and is believed to have left no relatives.

Fred Hepe, better known as Fritz Habig, 219 E. 36th St., Bellaire, is a substantial property owner; is on a retirement pension from one of the nearby steel mills; and is considered honest and reliable, although he was a close friend of Benson Groves and Leonard Goeglien about twenty years ago.

Mr. Hepe stated that he corresponded with Groves during the latter's incarceration in Atlanta from 1917 to 1920; that he last saw Groves some eight or nine years ago, and has not heard from him since; that he heard indirectly that Groves was convicted of a post office robbery in New York or New Jersey about five years ago; and believed that he was now incarcerated in Atlanta. Mr. Hepe is getting along in years, and is prone to talk of Groves' activities in the distant past, too far removed to be of value in this investigation.

In the presence of Mrs. Hepe, he was informed that Groves is wanted by this Bureau for questioning, and his aid was solicited in causing Groves' apprehension. After some hesitation, and after being prompted by Mrs. Hepe, he voiced his willingness to cooperate, provided his name is not mentioned, and the source of any information furnished by him be kept strictly confidential. It is this Agent's belief that Hepe is sincere, and will promptly communicate any information that is received by him.

Arrangements were made with Chief Moran to notify the Cincinnati Field Division if Groves should appear in Bellaire.

During the course of this investigation, numerous persons stated that Groves, being originally from Benwood, West Virginia, would probably eventually return there; that he was probably known to P. J. Scully, Chief of Police at Benwood; and that Benwood seemed the most logical place to seek to locate him.

Re: BREMID

Dear Sir:

In accordance with instructions from Mr. Foxworth of the Bureau, the writer contacted Mr. Frank Wiedemann, Assistant United States Attorney, and requested to be furnished with a copy of the warrant for the arrest of Joe Roscoe.

Mr. Wiedemann was advised that a copy of the warrant was desired, as it was believed that the Bureau might be able to arrest Roscoe. The writer was advised that a copy of the warrant was not available, but that he would be glad to furnish to the writer a copy of the indictment returned against Roscoe, which copy would empower an agent of the FBI to arrest Roscoe, even though the same was not certified.

A copy of the indictment was secured, and Mr. Foxworth was advised in the premises. Copies of the said indictment are attached hereto for the Bureau and the Miami office.

MEMORANDUM FOR INSPECTOR E. J. CONNELLEY:

Re: Brekid.

There are attached hereto the logs for December 26, 1936 covering the taps on telephones listed to the Chief of Police, City Jailor, and Mayor's Office, all located in the City Hall at Hot Springs, Arkansas.

After it was observed that the Hot Springs Telephone Company had apparently finished their work on Laurel Avenue, and upon the authorization of Inspector E. J. Connelley, the telephonex taps heretofore installed were placed back in operation at 4:30 P.M., December 26, 1936.

The surveillance is being continued by Special Agents G. R. McSwain, H. A. Snow, and the writer.

Attention is directed to the several telephone conversations included in instant logs which pertain to the autopsy performed on the body of John Dickson, a prisoner, who died at the New Park Hospital on December 24, 1936. It appears that former Municipal Judge Scott Wood who was retained by Dickson's father to investigate the boy's death is putting pressure to bear to determine the true causes of young Dickson's death.

There appeared an article in Monday's (12/21/36) Hot Springs New Era paper that Dr. Randolph, coroner, announced that he would not hold an inquest in the death of John Dixon, and referred any further action to the next or a Special Grand Jury.

There is attached hereto an editorial which appeared on the front page of thisx evening's (12/30/36) Hot Springs Sentinal-Record paper, which may or may not bring into action further investigation into the death of John Dickson. There is also attached hereto a short ad which appeared in this evening's paper, and which is self-explanatory.

Respectfully submitted,

John L. Madala,
Special Agent.

the photo of Clyde Chitwood alias Woods, and offers $100.00 reward for Chitwood's arrest, saying he is wanted for jail robbery, saying Chitwood and four others are wanted for entering the Polk County Jail office October 22,1932, overpowering the night watchman and robbing the place of slot machines, money, and Thompson Submachine Gun, model 21-AC, serial 9176; five pistols, two rifles, and a gas billy.

In the 1932 circular Clyde Chitwood's description is shown as 6 feet, 20 years, 170 lbs., slender build with sloping shoulders, blue eyes, light brown hair, slanting forehead, soft voice with southern drawl, neat dresser, teeth: four upper rear right and 3rd from rear lower right removed. Gold crown upper left tooth. Occupation, liquor runner and hijacker, gunman.

Criminal indictment 3883, Polk County, Minnesota, State Court docket, reflects Clyde Chitwood indicted at Crookston for robbery in first degree, charging on October 22, 1932 he robbed, stole, and carried away from James Duckworth (night jailer) $300., the property of Iver Forseth, 17 slot machines belonging to Polk County and $400 in those machines, a Thompson Submachine Gun, property of Polk County, all being taken by violence and force against James Duckworth, jailer, with intent to deprive Iver Forseth and Polk County, Minn., of same, Chitwood intending to appropriate this property to his own use. Witnesses before the Grand Jury were jailer James Duckworth, Iver Forseth, Henry Gurns, Sheriff Ira Haaven, C. L. Lundert, and Godfrey Stovern. Chitwood was apprehended in Kentucky, returned to Crookston, Minn., pleaded guilty to this indictment at Crookston, Minn., January 28,1933, and was given an indeterminate sentence in the St. Cloud, Minnesota Reformatory for robbery, first degree.

Affidavit of former County Attorney George Hagen, Crookston, Minnesota, at time of Chitwood's sentence is in court file reciting Chitwood came to Red Lake Falls, Minn., with Kaiser Savard, lived there as Clyde Woods, engaged in bootlegging and whiskey running with the Savard brothers there. On night of Oct. 22, 1932, Polk County, Minnesota jail was raided by five men, both jailers gagged and bound, and the aforementioned machine gun and other property stolen. Chitwood was apprehended at Louisville, Ky., December 8, 1932, admitted his connection with this jail robbery, but declined to implicate his four associates. Later he named Chester Nelson as the inside man at the jail who assisted the robbers. Nelson was son of a former Sheriff who was staying at the jail. He and Chitwood had been going with a sister of Kaiser Savard at Red Lake Falls. Nelson denied implication, was tried and acquitted, Chitwood being the main witness against him. Nelson married Miss Savard and now lives at Red Lake Falls, Minn. Chitwood claimed he met the other four robbers through Kaiser Savard, at a night club Savard formerly operated in St. Paul, Minn. Kaiser Savard was indicted as implicated in this jail robbery, but indictment was later nolle prossed.

Clyde Chitwood's statement at time of sentence was that he was born at Covington, Ky., July 15, 1903. His mother is Martha Chitwood, 322 Greenup Street, Covington, Ky. His uncle, Dempsey Chitwood and Lester Chitwood live in Danville, Ky., no street address shown. His aunt Miss Emma Sellers, residing at Lexington, Ky., no street address shown.

Communication has gone forward to the St. Cloud, Minnesota Reformatory to learn whether Clyde Chitwood is still confined, or where he may be located, so he may be interviewed regarding disposition of the machine gun, and how it got into possession of Kate and Fred Barker.

UNDEVELOPED LEADS:

ST. PAUL FIELD DIVISION

Will report reply from St. Cloud Reformatory as to location of Clyde Chitwood, in order that he may be interviewed regarding channels by which machine gun 9176 got into possession of Kate and Fred Barker.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

Re: HARBORING CASE AT TOLEDO AND CLEVELAND.

At 9:30 A. M., Mr. Suran telephonically communicated with Mr. MacFarland at Cleveland, Ohio, and advised him that you desired that he closely follow the proposed prosecutive action to be taken against various individuals who harbored Alvin Harris and other members of the Harris-Barker gang at Toledo and Cleveland, Ohio.

In this regard, Mr. MacFarland was instructed by Mr. Suran that it was your desire that an indictment be returned at an early date against the various individuals responsible for harboring the subjects; that the indictment be a secret indictment and that the papers in the case be placed in the hands of the Clerk to be served at such a time as is deemed appropriate; that in the event Mr. Connelley cannot be present in Toledo at the very near future, and that it should be explained to the United States Attorney that it is necessary that Mr. Connelley be present in order to conduct several necessary interviews in connection with the case after the subjects have been arrested.

Mr. MacFarland was informed by Mr. Suran that every effort should be made to prevent premature publicity in connection with this matter.

Respectfully,

Joe Roscoe, Toledo, and John Zetzer, Port Clinton, were named in a federal indictment today as "accomplices after the fact" in connection with the $35,000 Garrettsville, O., mail robbery, Nov. 7, 1935, committed by the Barker-Karpis gang.

Roscoe is said to be in Florida at the present time. Zetzer was arrested yesterday afternoon and is now in the Cuyahoga county jail. When Roscoe will be arrested has not been determined.

Zetzer pleaded not guilty when he was arraigned this afternoon before Judge John Paul Jones in Cleveland federal district court. He was returned to jail when he was unable to post $35,000 bond. The trial will be held within three weeks, court attaches said.

Meanwhile, a conference was being held in Washington between Brian McMahon, in charge of the criminal branch of the department of justice, and Emerich Freed, United States district attorney, Cleveland, to decide whether indictments for harboring members of the Barker-Karpis gang should be returned against seven or eight Toledo politicians, policemen and habitues of the underworld.

If it is decided to go through with the indictments, the federal grand jury will be summoned shortly and testimony presented.

The indictment charges that Zetzer and Roscoe aided in the escape of the notorious Karpis gang which committed the robbery.

Specifically named besides Zetzer and Roscoe were Karpis, Harry Campbell, Fred Hunter, John Brock and B. J. Grayson, alias Benson Groves.

Zetzer, postal inspectors say, flew Karpis, Brock and Hunter to the southwest the day after the robbery.

Zetzer was taken in custody in the same Port Clinton garage where he was apprehended by the G-men last spring for questioning. Zetzer owns and operates the garage.

Zetzer was arrested by Deputy Marshal Reuben Spiess, of Toledo. He was booked in the Lucas county jail and was taken to Cleveland today for arraignment in federal court there.

Federal agents, it is said, claim the loot was taken to Port Clinton immediately after the robbery and distributed there.

All but Groves are under arrest. Brock has been held incommunicado in the Cleveland jail since April 30, 1936, unable to furnish the $50,000 bond.

Campbell was captured in Toledo and Karpis in New Orleans last spring as the result of weeks of unrelenting investigation by postal inspectors and the G-men, coupled with a valuable tip here and there, a bit of luck and because a Kansas ranger knows his southwestern crime world.

The real break in the capture of Karpis and later Campbell came because the two men participated in the robbery of the Garrettsville mail train. The loot in this robbery amounted to $34,500 in currency and $12,500 in bonds.

HUNT FOR CAMPBELL, KARPIS NATION-WIDE

A large part of the credit for the cracking of the case can be attributed to Frank Casey, Toledo; Mr. Herrick, Cleveland; H. W. Tavernery, Youngstown; Jess Cordray, Lima; all postal inspectors; W. R. Briggs, inspector in charge at Cincinnati; Joe Anderson, a Kansas state ranger, and an Akron policeman.

When the robbery was committed, Karpis and Campbell were being sought in all parts of the nation. Clue after clue had been run down but their presence was unknown to federal agents. Garrettsville was about the last place one would expect to find these two Public Enemies No. 1 and 2.

One of the postal clerks held up gave the inspectors the license number of the automobile used in the getaway. Investigation developed that this car was registered in the name of Carl Baker.

An Akron policeman recalled that a man had tried to purchase the same make of car used in the holdup in Akron on Oct. 20 under the name of Thomas J. Shaw. The car actually used was purchased by Baker in Cleveland Oct. 25. The postal inspectors discovered the handwriting of Baker and Shaw was similar.

Attention turned to a man who had tried to get Shaw out of jail when the latter was being held on a suspicious person charge. This man was Fred Hunter.

A checkup of Hunter r... hold important connectio... southwest, stamping g... Karpis, Campbell, "Pre... Floyd, Clyde Barrows a... It developed Hunter was... RANGER OF SOUTHWEST CALLED INTO CASE

Inspector Casey knew Karpis and Campbell had friends in Toledo and hurried back.

Then the inspectors made a shrewd move. They called in Joe Anderson.

Anderson's name does not mean much to Toledoans but to federal agents he has the reputation of being one of the greatest criminal catchers in the southwest. He knows every crook there. He is a walking, riding, shooting, human encyclopedia of information of southwestern badmen.

Anderson told the inspectors they should check all Ohio airports because Karpis and Campbell used planes frequently.

Then began the monotonous job of checking every one of these airports, as well as every emergency field. Several hundred planes that left or arrived at these airports the week of the robbery were checked.

At the same time every field in Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas and other southwestern points were contacted and their records checked.

Finally Anderson and postal inspectors learned that a mysterious plane had landed in Hot Springs, Ark., Little Rock, Ark., and Tulsa, Okla. It had come from Ohio on Nov. 9—two days after the robbery and its point of departure was Port Clinton. Two men left the plane at Hot Springs and one at Tulsa.

POSTAL INSPECTORS CHECK ON ZETZER

Meanwhile Inspector Casey and other inspectors learned that this plane had been purchased from the Gross Automatic Service Co., 211 Platt street, by Zetzer, Port Clinton, an airplane pilot who had served time for bootlegging. Officials of the company said $500 had been paid for the plane, and it later was sold back to the firm. The Toledo company is in the business of selling planes and had no idea for what purpose the ship was to be used.

NOT RECORDED INDEXED

7-57-13594X REJ. Dept

Postal inspectors began checking up on Zetzer, learned a strange man had been seen in contact with him, and that Zetzer had been absent for several days. A corps of inspectors descended on Port Clinton. Telephone and telegraph wires were watched as well as the air field. Inspectors felt that if Zetzer had been hired once he might be hired again.

But another real break was occurring in Independence, Mo. A famous desperado was being tried. Many of his friends were attending the trial. Joe Anderson had a hunch. He would attend too—as a spectator.

In the crowd of spectators he saw the two men he wanted. One was Grover Keady and the other John Brock. Keady had powerful gang connections. Brock's picture was rushed to Garrettsville. It was identified as that of one of the bandits. Brock was arrested and taken to Youngstown; Keady to Cleveland.

Still the watch was kept on Port Clinton

Then the G-men, who had learned of Zetzer's mysterious moves also, swooped down on the Ottawa county town and took Zetzer with them. For a time it was feared Zetzer had been kidnaped but when he returned he said he had been questioned by the G-men and had readily admitted piloting Karpis, Hunter and Brock to the southwest. Joe Anderson's hunch had been right. Zetzer insisted he did not know their identity however.

G-MEN DISCOVER KARPIS' HIDEOUT

Finally it was learned that Karpis was hiding out in Hot Springs. Postal inspectors and the G-men under the personal direction of J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI, flew to that city, haven of so many big time criminals, but Karpis had flown. Later the G-men returned and made a second search. It, too, was fruitless.

Subsequently, through means the federal agents do not wish disclosed, the New Orleans hideout of Karpis was learned. The G-men paid him a surprise visit and took not only Karpis but also Hunter into custody.

Warrants now were sworn out for Karpis, Campbell, Hunter, Brock and John Doe, a fifth unidentified man.

This fifth man, postal inspectors say, was to have been Sam Coker. But Coker was ill in a Toledo hospital. Inspector Casey learned, and someone else substituted for him. The inspector checked every hospital in Toledo for November, 1935. It was a staggering job but finally he located Coker as having been a patient in Mercy hospital under an assumed name on Nov. 7.

Coker and his private nurse had become fast friends. While the former was a patient in the hospital, Inspector Casey learned, several times a strange man visited him. After Coker was released the nurse and Coker visited this man's apartment in the 2100 block of Monroe street. The stranger's description fitted that of Campbell. The nurse was questioned regarding the stranger.

OFFICIALS BELIEVE GIRL IS INNOCENT

Then the G-men, led by Hoover, stepped in, raided the Monroe street apartment and the Arcadia avenue hideout of Coker. Both Campbell and Coker were arrested.

The girl, federal agents say, was innocent of any wrongdoing and did not know the true identity of Coker or Campbell, whom she knew under other names.

The fifth man, sought originally under the name of John Doe, is none other than Benjamin Greyson, alias "Soup" Grove, who had been living in Toledo until the Garrettsville robbery. Greyson was given Coker's job, it is said, because he had served time in connection with other postoffice robberies.

Karpis and Campbell are serving life sentences for the Bremer and Hamm kidnapings and even if indicted would not be returned to Ohio for the Garrettsville robbery. Hunter and Brock are in jail in Cleveland. Greyson is being sought. He may be dead.

The logs submitted by Special Agents John L. Madala, H. A. Snow and G. R. McSwain, maintaining the telephone taps at Hot Springs, Arkansas, reveal the following conversations of interest:

9:22 A.M. Outgoing on 648 (Mayor) DECEMBER 30, 1936 JLM

Mayor McLaughlin called Long Distance for Federal Judge Martineau at Little Rock, Arkansas.

Judge Martineau: Hello.
McLaughlin: Judge, this is Leo McLaughlin. I wonder if you and the Mrs. will join us tomorrow night in a little New Years Eve celebration. Mr. and Mrs. Grover Owens, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schneider, and Lee Cazort and his wife are all coming down here from Little Rock. We'll spend a few hours at the Arlington Hotel, and then go to the Club Belvedere. Do you think you and Mrs. can make it?

Judge Martineau: I expect some people from out of town tomorrow, and if the Mrs. and I can get away, we certainly would enjoy being with your party.

Mayor McLaughlin: Well, I hope you can make it.
Judge Martineau: I'll call and let Joe Schneider know if we can go all right, and he can get in touch with you.

McLaughlin: That'll be fine, and I hope I'll see you tomorrow night.
Judge Martineau: O.K. Leo, thanks for calling

The log for December 31, 1936 indicates that U. S. District Judge Martineau, of Little Rock, was mentioned as being in the party when reservations were made at the Arlington Hotel. Grover Owens is an attorney of Little Rock, Joe Schneider is the Referee in Benkruptcy at Little Rock, Lee Cazort was on December 30th the Lieutenant Governor of Arkansas, and E. R. McHaney is a Judge of the Supreme Court of Arkansas.

Woman named Lou called Akers.

Akers: Hello
Lou: This is Lou. Did you find Eddie's watch and my purse and ring?

Akers: No - I've talked to all the boys who were out there (Belvedere) and none of them know about it.

Lou: Well, Dutch, I want those things. I want you to see Arch Cooper and tell him I want those things. He'll know what I mean.

Akers: I'll take it up with Mr. Jacobs when he gets up, but I won't do anything until then.

Lou: You don't have to see Mr. Jacobs. Arch Cooper is responsible.

Akers: No, Lou, I'll have to talk to Mr. Jacobs and let him handle it.

Lou: Well, tell him to tell Arch to get those things back to me. I mean it.

Akers: All right.

Arch Cooper, mentioned above is the Day Captain of the Police. The conversation would indicate a possible "rolling" of some drunks at the Belvedere Club.

The following conversation further indicates that Chief of Detectives Herbert Akers is the contact man for criminals or "con" men:

The two girls referred to by Grace were seen by Chief Akers and agent riding the streets of Hot Springs in a 1936 Oldsmobile Sedan bearing 1936 Kansas license #410-789. Chief Akers subsequently ascertained that this license was issued to a woman in Pittsburgh, Kansas, and for a 1936 Oldsmobile Sedan. Emory:

By reference to the calls made on January 9, 1937 by Chief of Detectives Herbert Akers and Houston Emory, it will be noted that the woman referred to is Mrs. Sasse. The Little Rock newspapers (1/19/37) indicate that Mrs. Mary Helen Sasse, about 24, was charged with immorality; that Sheriff Roy E. Wilson, of Clarion, Wright County, Iowa was seeking custody of Mrs. Sasse; that the Governor, in the absence of more proof, had declined extradition on the ground that there was no evidence to show that the second party to the alleged crime was being prosecuted and that Houston Emory (Hot Springs) and Laurence Auten (Little Rock), attorneys, stated that Mrs. Sasse had been driven from home by her husband, was fearful of her life if returned to Iowa and that she came to Hot Springs in good faith to establish residence and secure a divorce.

Mayor: Have you bought that fertilizer yet?(laughs) This is Leo.

Celia: Oh, how are you, Leo?

Mayor: Just fine - how's Joe (Martin).

Celia: He's been sick in bed for the last three days - looks like the Grippe.

Mayor: Say Charlie - what are you going to do about those concessions at the track this year?

Celia: Joe (Martin) will handle that when he gets up.

Mayor: Well, here's the proposition: Joe gave it to Floyd (retiring Sheriff) last year, and he might feel that he owes it to him again this year. Joe let him have it every year since 1934. Well, Floyd is out now, and I thought that if Joe is going to deal those things out, I'd like to participate in that.

Celia: Say Leo, we got to watch our step down there. My purchases (phonetic) last year were $18,000 - that's too damn high. I can't make any money that way. If they're going to put any burden on me, I'm not going to "run" down there any more.

Mayor: What's the trouble.

Celia: Just this - the business men are skipping out on me. I haven't heard anything like that down here.

Mayor: Well, I got a letter from Higgins the other day to that effect. I tell you, Leo - I came to the conclusion that if they don't do me right down there, I'll tell the whole bunch of them to go to hell. Oh, I'll run this year, all right, but if things don't change, I won't have anything to do with you fellows next year. I think it will or could be worked out all right.

Celia: I've got an offer to rent out the track through some people in Chicago. I'm considering that proposition right now, and I came to the conclusion that I can make a damn sight more money that way.

Mayor: What did that letter say and who was it from?

Celia; I think Higgins down there wrote it. He said they had a meeting and all kinds of other crap. I tell you, Leo, I'm not going to stand for any pushing around. I've seen and talked with Higgins about every day in the past two weeks, and he never said anything to me about having a meeting on this thing.

Mayor: You know they used to give from $3,000 to $4,000, and they now decided to cut that out. I'd like to come down there and tell these guys where to get off. I would tell the Governor too in the same tone of voice.

Celia: Are you talking about that letter from Cazort? (Lieutenant Governor)

Mayor: Yeah.

Mayor: That was just a parting shot. I don't think there is anything to that.

Cella: You know, Leo - I like Hot Springs and all that, and I'd like to be down there, but if they are going to kick me around, I'll tell them all to go to hell.

Leo: Can you send me a copy of that letter?

Cella: Yeah. I'll send you a copy - say, Leo - do you think it would do any good if I came down there and talked with those fellows myself?

Leo: No, I don't. Let me talk with Higgins about this, and I'm sure everything can be straightened out. Its funny though, that I haven't heard about this meeting up until this time. O. K. Charlie, you send me a copy of that letter and I'll see what I can do.

Cella: All right, I'll call Joe and see where it is. I'll also talk to him about that other matter you mentioned.

Leo: Goodbye, Charlie.

Note: Charles Cella is reported to be the owner of the Oaklawn Race Track in Hot Springs. Higgins probably is identical with John G. Higgins, President of the Arkansas National Bank.

Wakelin: Babe Huff was up here after those rings - he was shooting off his mouth about having the power of attorney to get that stuff.

Akers: Did you give him those rings and jewelry?

Wakelin: No, I told him to see Verne (Ledgerwood).

Akers: Babe's been after me to get those rings from you. I just kept stalling him off, telling him you were sick. One of those rings belongs to Scotty Murray, doesn't it?

Wakelin: Yeah. What's doing down there?

Akers: Everything is quiet. I talked with Leo this morning about getting a fingerprint classifier. He wants to work up that Bureau. He said he wasn't going to put Cecil back on.

Wakelin: Did he say anything about me?

Akers: No, he didn't, but he did indicate that he was going to let you ride on sick leave until you get well. It's my guess that he won't do anything in your direction until the first of the month.

Wakelin: So he's not going to take Cecil back?

Akers: No, he said he's through with him.

Wakelin: I haven't seen Verne (Ledgerwood) in two or three days,

Akers: so I don't know much of what's going on.

Wakelin: I understand he moved back into the Como (Hotel).

Akers: Who has the gambling at the Kingsway?

Wakelin: I understand they're going to open up there on the 16th. They all are - the Southern Club, Citizens, and Miller's.

Akers: Who has it at the Kingsway?

Wakelin: Grady Manning and that crowd from Little Rock.

Akers: Yeah?

Wakelin: I talked with Jake (W. S. Jacobs) the other day, and I understood him to say that they weren't going to have any gambling there (Kingsway) this year. But, I heard today that they will be ready to open up on the 16th.

Akers: What about that thing this fellow Nichols was going to introduce in Little Rock - is that taken care of?

Wakelin: Yes, I don't think there will be anything to it. Say, Joe, do you know what happened to one of those two slot machines that were in the back room?

Akers: No, I don't.

Wakelin: I think Cecil took it and is going to put it up at the hotel (Kingsway). He's got nothing to do with those machines. I picked up the fellow with them. I'm going to get after him, and get that machine back.

Akers: What else?

Wakelin: I've got an extradition case down here, and Dick Ryan is supposed to be handling it for the other side. We don't do anything with him - he's scared to death of Carl (Bailey). Don't you know anybody around town that can classify fingerprints? I remember that some fellows were fooling around with fingerprints a while back, but I can't remember who they were now.

Akers: No, I don't know of anybody.

Wakelin:

Akers: I talked with Tommy Wilson today about helping us out temprarily, and he politely turned me down - said that none of them in the Government Service wanted to have anything to do with us on the city force. (Tommy Wilson is a member of the National Park Service Police).

Wakelin: Well, I hope to be up and around in a couple of days.

Akers: I'll try and drop up to see you in the morning, and if you think of anybody qualified enough to run the Bureau down here, give me a ring.

Re: DEATH OF JOHN DICKSON, Prisoner in City Jail

As mentioned in the reference report, on January 1, 1937, Mayor Leo McLaughlin suspended indefinitely Chief of Police Joe Wakelin, Captain L. A. "Arch" Cooper, Lieutenant Cecil Brock, and Detective Glenn Buchanan, pending the investigation by the Grand Jury of the death of this prisoner. The Mayor, in a statement to the press, stated that this action was taken in order that these officers would not be clothed with any authority during the investigation.

On January 2, 1937 an article appeared in the Hot Springs Sentinel-Record newspaper, in which it was stated the report as to the autopsy on Dickson's body was filed with Scott Wood, Attorney for John Dickson and listed the following marks, etc:

Superficial abrasions (probable burns); contusions and lacerations; fractures of the fifth and seventh ribs, with the separation of the fourth, fifth, sixth and costochondrel junctions with extravasation of blood into the surrounding tissue; rupture of left kidney; bronchial pneumonia involving left lung and upper lobe of right lung; a wound on the head which appeared to have been made with a blunt instrument; a discolored area the size of the palm of a man's hand on the left chest, and burns and bruises about the thighs.

According to the report the autopsy was witnessed by Dr. D. C. Lee, Dr. L. King Wade, Dr. F. J. Burgess, Scott Wood, Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Curtis Ridgeway, former Prosecuting Attorney Houston Emory and R. J. Glover.

This agent heard, while in Hot Springs, that photographs were made of Dickson's body and are now in the possession of attorney Scott Wood.

On January 4, 1937 a grand jury convened at Hot Springs to investigate the death of Dickson, and other cases, and on January 6, 1937 returned an indictment charging second degree murder and naming the following police officers as defendants: Captain L. A. (Arch) Cooper; Captain R. L. (Bob) Moore; Lieutenant Cecil Brock; Detective Glynn Buchenan; Patrolman Press Griffin; Patrolman Joe Scott and Patrolman Andy Irwin. All of the defendants were released on bonds of $1,500.00 each.

In reporting the Grand Jury made the following comment, among others, which was quoted in the newspapers:

"During our investigation we found no evidence to connect Chief of Police Joe Wakelin with the actual mistreatment of any prisoner, but the evidence revealed by our investigation leads us to believe that should Chief Wakelin have exercised a more dominant control over the officers under him such circumstances as those revealed in the Dickson case and other cases of alleged mistreatment of prisoners, would not have existed.

"We the members of the grand jury, strongly condemn any type of brutal, so-called "third degree" methods used upon prisoners. Such practices tend to destroy the credibility of the evidence of officers in criminal trials, aside from being inhuman and which no civilized community should tolerate.

"We deeply appreciate the helpful co-operation of the mayor, the sheriff's office, the municipal judge and the circuit judge in our investigation of the Dickson case."

Upon the return of this indictment, Mayor McLaughlin announced the discharge of the seven police officers and the following appointments and promotions were made:

Weldon Rasberry, Chief of Police (New)
Jerry "Swede" Watkins, Day Captain (New)
Ben Rogers, Night Captain
"Red" Terry, Patrolman (New)
George Young, Patrolman (New)
Monroe Young, Patrolman (New)

Monroe Young and George Young are brothers of John Young, Constable.

Note: The local newspapers disclosed that Will Page and E. I. Puckett are the two colored men on the Garland County Grand Jury probing the Dickson case.

At approximately 4:40 P. M. Special Agent H. A. Snow observed "Dutch" Akers in the police Oldsmobile Sedan drive towards the negro section of Hot Springs.

At 4:55 P. M. a man called in over telephone No. 440 and asked to speak to Akers. Jailor Tucker advised that he was out just then.

The following observations were made by Special Agent John L. Madala on the morning of January 5, 1937:

8:10 A.M. Agent saw "Dutch" Akers in "Jim and George's" Restaurant on Central Ave.

8:15 A.M. Akers was called to the telephone, and thereafter he left the said restaurant.

8:18 A.M. Agent observed Akers talking with a dark complexioned man carrying a cane in front of Spencer's Cigar Store. The Police Oldsmobile Sedan was observed parked close by.

8:25 A.M. Agent observed a short, stocky colored man, wearing a dark overcoat, blue suit, and horn-rimmed glasses try to gain entrance into the City Hall. The doors were apparently closed. Agent then observed this colored man walk across the street and stand infront of the Rock Island Railroad Depot being visible to anyone at the City Hall.

8:26 A.M. Agent observed another colored man cross Benton Street at the City Hall and greet first colored man by shaking hands. The second party was approximately 5 ft. 11 in. tall, 135-140 lbs., wore a dark overcoat, tan hat, and had gold-rimmed glasses.

8:28 A.M. to 8:30 A.M. Both colored men remained standing in front of Rock Island Railroad Depot, being visible to anyone at the City Hall.

8:30 A.M. Agent observed "Dutch" Akers and a second party (believed to be Judge Ledgerwood) drive by Post Office, agent's point of surveillance, and then back the car into the driveway between the City Fire Department and the Chamber of Commerce Building. This driveway leads to the City Jail.

8:35 A.M. Agent observed Judge Ledgerwood walk across Benton Street from the City Hall to the Rock Island Railroad Depot, and greet the shorter of the two colored men. Thereafter agent observed this colored man and Judge Ledgerwood walk to the rear of the Depot. None of the parties were visible to anyone at the City Hall, nor were they visible to agent, who was still maintaining the surveillance from the steps of the Post Office.

8:35 to 8:42 A.M. Judge Ledgerwood talked with both colored men in rear of Rock Island Depot for approximately seven minutes, none of which conversation could be overheard by agent.

8:42 A.M. Agent observed Judge Ledgerwood cross Benton Street and enter City Hall.

8:43 A.M. Agent observed the two colored men, described above, walk west on platform in back of Rock Island Depot towards Central Avenue.

8:43 to 8:50 A.M. Agent followed the two colored men, who were walking and talking together, to the Garland County Court House on Ouachita Street.

8:55 A.M. Agent observed the two colored men enter the Grand Jury Room on the third floor of the Court House.

Special Agent John L. Ladela will be able to identify the two colored men and Judge Verne C. Ledgerwood should the same ever become necessary.

Man: Yeah, for a few days. Not going to work nights for long though. Did you see the extra?
Grace: Yeah. Isn't it bad? Wonder who the other one was?
Man: Andy Irwin. The Gazette will be full of it in the morning. The Mayor was over here tonight. Told us that all of them were suspended - permanently.
Grace: You mean - fired?
Man: Yeah.
Grace: The "old man" too?
Man: Yeah. That's what the Mayor said tonight. Told it to the reporters. It'll all be in the Gazette in the morning.
Grace: Well, my God! That's sort of "tough titty" isn't it? I thought the "old man" would probably be all right. Maybe he will after this all blows over. They almost had to do something, I guess.
Man: Well, he's out now.
Grace: So you're working nights now?
Man: For a few days and then I go to working days again.
Grace: I saw Andy Irwin on the street tonight - in front of the "Confectionery".
Man: Yeah - he's the seventh one.
Grace: I guess it will all come out all right. $1500 isn't such a high bond. Where is that "Pug" Dickson now?
Man: I don't know exactly - may be in the county jail, or he may be here.
Grace: Will you be down there all night?
Man: I'm going home tonight about three o'clock. Somebody's coming in - I'll call you tomorrow evening.
Grace: O.K., G'bye.

Ledgerwood: Heard anything?
Mayor: Yes, I was talking with Dink (Leon Dinkelspeil) this noon, and it looks like they're going to leeve me without anyone.
Ledgerwood: Is that so?
Mayor: Looks like everybody is involved but Joe, Dutch, and Robbins. He said that in their report they are going to commend me for my cooperation in the metter.
Ledgerwood: What did he say about Joe?
Mayor: The only criticism they had about Joe is that he was too lax - that he let Arch Cooper and Cecil run that police department.
Ledgerwood: Well, they did in a way.
Mayor: Higgins was telling me that Gil uncovered something this morning that will involve the rest of them.
Ledgerwood: Yeah?
Mayor: He also asked me if Joe was in ill health. I told him that he's been sick for the past year, and that the recent assault upon him aggravated his condition considerably. I left with him the impression that a sick man couldn't fulfil his duties as efficiently as otherwise, and that that probably was the cause of his being so lax with the men. I think it went over all right.
Ledgerwood: Are they going to return any indictments?
Mayor: Oh yes - they said they would indict the principals for manslaughter and the others as accessories. They even got Red Terry and Joe Scott mixed up in it.
Ledgerwood: Aw - that's a shame.
Mayor: Well, that can't be helped. Of course, if they recommend anything, I will have to follow it out.
Ledgerwood: Oh sure, you've got to go all the way with them now.
Mayor: Well, that's what I aim to do, regardless of who it hurts.
Ledgerwood: Did you talk with Dave Pennington?
Mayor: Yes.
Ledgerwood: Reed talked to me somewhat about this. You know he kept us fronting for Joe all the time.
Mayor: Yeah, I know.

Mayor: He is a friend, but kind of an alarmist. He seems to think we won't get away with this; that there will be plenty of adverse publicity.

Ledgerwood: Well, some people will bound to set up a holler - no matter what one does, there will always be people knocking him.

Mayor: Yes, that's human nature all right. Guess I'll just sit tight and wait.

RE: B R E K I D

Further reference is made to previous correspondence concerning machine guns sold in the state of Kansas by the Federal Laboratories, Inc.

Special Agent F. R. Hammack, at Atchison, Kansas, ascertained that the machine gun in the possession of that Police Department bears serial number 7674, the same as indicated on the list of guns sent to this office by the Bureau, and was purchased from salesman Sam Russell of Federal Laboratories, Inc., on May 5, 1934.

Also at Atchison, Kansas, Agent Hammack ascertained that the machine gun in the possession of the Sheriff's Office bears number 7179, the same as indicated on the list of guns sent to this office by the Bureau, and was purchased through salesman Sam Russell, of Federal Laboratories, Inc., on June 24, 1933.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

RE: HARBORING PROSECUTIONS, CLEVELAND AND TOLEDO, OHIO.

Mr. Suran conferred today with Mr. Foster, Special Assistant to the Attorney General, regarding the proposed prosecutions in Toledo and Cleveland, Ohio, of the individuals responsible for harboring Alvin Karpis and other members of the Barker-Karpis gang. You will recall that Mr. Suran advised you that Mr. Foster had previously conferred with Mr. Freed, the United States Attorney at Cleveland, regarding these prosecutions. Mr. Foster stated that Freed is anxious to institute prosecutive action at an early date against those individuals against whom there is sufficient evidence to warrant prosecutive action. Mr. Foster was somewhat perturbed because the Bureau had declined to prepare an additional summary report for him setting forth only the relevant evidence in the case.

Mr. Suran advised Mr. Foster that due to the present emergencies which existed, the personnel was not available to prepare a trial brief for him. He stated that he did not intend to convey the impression that he was trying to place the burden of doing all the work on the Bureau Agents, but that he did feel that a man who had been engaged on the active investigation of the case would have certain information concerning the personal background of the witnesses listed in the summary report which is not indicated in said report. Mr. Foster cited as an example the statement of one Thomas Gathright, who is presently incarcerated in the Indiana State Penitentiary at Michigan City, Indiana, who furnished valuable information concerning Ted Angus, and he, Foster had believed this individual to be an important witness. However, in discussing the matter with Freed he learned that Gathright had stated to Bureau Agents that he would not testify. The statement of Paula Harmon is likewise contained in the summary report, but she is not available as a witness because she has in the past been declared insane although she is not presently confined in any institution. Mr. Foster stated that an Agent who had engaged in the investigation of the case could assist him in determining all these angles, and he stated that he would appreciate having an Agent familiar with all such angles spend some time with him and enlighten him on such questions as they arise during the course of his consideration of the evidence in the case.

Mr. Suran has made the suggestion to me, in which I concur, that this assistance should be rendered to Mr. Foster. Mr. Foster stated that he would be willing to go to Cleveland for the purpose of conferring with an Agent, or the Agent could come to Washington. It appears that the best procedure would be to have the Agent designated to confer with Mr. Foster come to Washington to prevent any premature publicity emanating from the United States Attorney's Office at Cleveland, Ohio.

67-5716-135 7X

Special Agent E. J. Wynn is thoroughly familiar with the harboring cases in Toledo and Cleveland and it is suggested that he be instructed to proceed to Washington and confer with Mr. Foster and spend several days with him, and it is believed that the desired action can be had at an early date in connection with this case.

Mr. Foster was agreeable to the suggestion that a secret indictment be returned and the warrants placed in our hands for service at the proper time.

Respectfully,

P. E. Foxworth.

RE: BREHID

Dear Sir:

Reference is made to my letter dated January 14, 1937, transmitting a newspaper clipping regarding a resolution presented to the current session of the Arkansas Legislature, proposing an investigation into lawless conditions at Hot Springs, Arkansas. There is transmitted herewith a clipping from the ARKANSAS GAZETTE, published in Little Rock, under date of January 15th, 1937, reflecting that this resolution was passed by a vote of seventy-two to twenty-one.

The following paragraph, of particular interest, is quoted from this article:

> "Nichols quoted J. Edgar Hoover, head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, as declaring in a magazine article that 'Chicago with its Al Capone and New York with its arch criminals had nothing on Hot Springs. It is the safest place in the country for public enemies'. He declared that Karpis, Nash and other 'big time hoodlums' had found succor there."

I shall keep the Bureau advised of any further newspaper publicity in this respect, or any information of interest coming to the attention of the Little Rock Field Division in connection with the regular work of the Bureau.

Very truly yours,

ARKANSAS GAZETTE,
LITTLE ROCK, ARKANSAS,
JANUARY 15TH, 1937.

INQUIRY STARTED INTO CONDITIONS AT HOT SPRINGS

Thompson Named to Head Committee.

The House authorized a "sweeping investigation" of charges of lawlessness in Hot Springs and Garland and Montgomery counties by adopting by a top-heavy vote—72 to 21—a resolution by Thompson of Independence and others yesterday after a debate of more than an hour

The resolution was signed by Thompson, Nichols of Logan, Van Dalsem of Perry, Murry of Dallas, Baxter of Drew and Warfield of Chicot.

The committee provided by resolution to conduct the investigation was selected yesterday afternoon by Speaker Bransford, as follows: Thompson, chairman; James of Montgomery, vice chairman; Nichols, Murry and Robinson of Lafayette.

It had not been determined last night when the investigation would get under way. However, the resolution provides that the committee's report shall be completed and filed with the House before the General Assembly adjourns.

Judge Witt and Mayor McLaughlin Named in Charges.

The resolution contained a scathing indictment of Circuit Judge Earl Witt, Mayor Leo P. McLaughlin of Hot Springs and other officials not mentioned by name.

It charged that Judge Witt unlawfully turned over to George Jackson $1,105 of Montgomery county funds in defiance of a Supreme Court order.

It referred to charges that Judge Witt had interfered with the investigation of shortages of Montgomery county officials.

It charged that Witt took an active part in the primary campaign in behalf of candidates endorsed by the Garland county "political machine."

It charged that Gibson Witt Jr., now prosecuting attorney and brother of the judge, had entered into an unlawful political deal that caused one of his opponents for the nomination to withdraw.

It charged that murders committed by "protected criminals" never have been investigated.

It charged that the police and other officials tried to prevent Charles Luciano, head of the New York vice syndicate, from being removed to New York for trial.

It listed 10 places in Hot Springs and one close to the city where it is charged that gambling is being conducted openly. It referred to a report that certain public officials are financially interested in these gambling establishments. It alleged that other public officials are given part-time employment by the gamblers.

It charged that Mayor McLaughlin used coercion to force "city and county officials and employes of gambling houses" to support "the entire machine ticket."

It referred to charges of illegal practices in conducting the Democratic primary last August in which Garland county gave top-heavy majorities to Ed F. McDonald, candidate for governor, and other candidates supported by McLaughlin and his organization.

The resolution concluded by authorizing the speaker to appoint a committee of five representatives to investigate conditions in Hot Springs and in Garland and Montgomery counties to determine whether the circuit judge and others should be impeached on charges of misfeasance, malfeasance or nonfeasance.

The governor would be authorized to appoint an attorney to assist the committee in its investigation.

The chairman and secretary of the Investigating Committee would be given authority to subpoena and compel the attendance of witnesses.

Campbell's Motion to Delay Action Beaten by Two Votes.

When the measure was presented at the morning session a move to delay consideration was started by Campbell of Garland, but by a vote of 46 to 48, his motion to withhold consideration until Tuesday was defeated. Campbell insisted that it was "nothing but fair" to him and officials accused. He declared that the charges were inspired by political enemies.

Referring to allegations in the resolution that city officials of Hot Springs sought to prevent Luciano's return to New York, Campbell said he was one of the gangster's lawyers, that he did everything in his power to "look out for the interests of my client," and that he had no apologies to offer.

Campbell said that former Circuit Judge Scott Wood of Hot Springs, outspoken critic of the reputed Garland county machine, "undoubtedly" furnished the authors of the resolution with their information, practically all of which he declared was unfounded.

Delay Would Help Gamblers, Says Thompson.

In speaking against the motion to delay consideration, Thompson refuted Campbell's statement that the charges were based on hearsay. He declared also that they were not "frivilous," as Campbell had said. He referred to the primary of last August when the so-called machine-supported candidates in every instance carried Garland county by enormous majorities on the face of the returns. He alluded to Mayor McLaughlin, leader of the "ins" in Garland county, as a "czar and high mogul."

Declaring that the ballot boxes were stuffed, Thompson exhibited a "sample" ballot which he said was distributed at over Garland county the day of the primary, indicating for whom the electors should vote. He declared that "business men" were told that their business would suffer unless they supported the "McLaughlin ticket."

BUREAU

"And my good friend and colleague Campbell was elected by that machine," Thompson shouted. He added that he did not blame the Garland county legislator for "taking up for the machine" since he was a "beneficiary." He said also that gambling houses in Hot Springs were closed on election day so that gambling house employes could serve as clerks and judges.

Campbell interrupted to ask Thompson if it were not true that gambling was "going on all over the state." Thompson said that he knew nothing about it. Campbell then said that he could "go on any street in Little Rock and find a hand book operating." Thompson rejoined that by postponing consideration of the resolution, "Hot Springs gamblers would start getting money together to fight it."

Two Representatives Argue In Favor of Delay.

Jones of Montgomery, one of the counties mentioned in the resolution and which, with Garland, constitutes the Eighteenth Judicial Circuit, over which Judge Witt presides, urged postponement of consideration of the resolution so that he could "study the resolution." He said that he was aware that it would be offered, but that he had not seen a copy of it. He declared that he knew of no lawlessness in his county. "We are not afraid of any investigation in Montgomery county," he said.

Maner, also a Garland county representative, sided with Campbell in urging a postponement of consideration. He declared that former Judge Scott Wood, said by Campbell to have "inspired" the resolution, "is the most unpopular man in Garland county." "I had his support and everybody's else two years ago, but not this time," he added. Maner declared that there's "nothing covered up in Hot Springs."

'Something Wrong' Says Smelser of Lawrence.

Smelser of Lawrence could see nothing to be gained by a postponement. "We all know that there's something wrong in Garland county," he declared. He added that "Hot Springs is one of the biggest gambling dens in the country." "It is time for the legislature to do something," he said. Smelser referred to the recent death of John Dickson, alleged to have been caused from beatings administered by Hot Springs police officers.

Nichols Takes Responsibility For Resolution.

Nichols spoke briefly in opposition to the Campbell motion, declaring that he, and not former Judge Wood, was the author of the resolution. He said that the charges were not based on "hearsay," but on reports from "honest citizens whose constitutional rights are disregarded in Garland county."

Nichols and Campbell Resume Debate.

After defeat of the Campbell motion to postpone consideration of the resolution, the House recessed for lunch. Adoption of the measure was taken up immediately after reassembling. Only Nichols and Campbell debated the question.

Nichols, speaking for adoption, declared that the "situation in Hot Springs is a gradual growth." He told of a visit to the resort several years ago, while he was a reporter on a Louisville (Ky.) newspaper, and he and his wife were insulted by a city officer when he asked about gambling houses.

"My conviction is that if nothing is done by this legislature about the Hot Springs situation that sooner or later we'll all be affected," the Logan county minister-representative said. "The officers there are in close alliance with the lawless element."

Nichols exhibited a copy of Arkansas Highways, a publication by the state Highway Department issued in October, 1931, and on the front page of which was the caption: "Hot Springs, Where Sin Takes a Bath." He declared that poll taxes were distributed indiscriminately on election day by the "Hot Springs machine" to transients, gamblers and others not entitled to vote, and that all of them voted for the machine-supported candidates. He said that with such conditions prevailing, it was impossible for "honest citizens" to express their preferences at the polls.

The representative called attention to newspaper reports that the Garland county coroner refused to hold an inquest into the death of Dickson, who he said, "was beaten to death by the police who refused to permit his father to see him in the hospital."

"Where was the jailer when that prisoner was being put through the third degree?" he asked. He declared that without "pitiless publicity" given the case by newspapers, there would have been no Grand Jury investigation, as a result of which seven police officers were indicted on first degree murder charges. "They've indicted a bunch of underlings," he shouted.

"It is the custom of Hot Springs officers to beat their prisoners," Nichols said. He added that sheriff's deputies of several counties had reported to him on their brutality.

Referring to the Luciano case, Nichols declared that "the whole gang tried to protect him." "Why, instead of beating him up, they brought his bed from the Arlington hotel to the jail, and they brought his meals to the jail from the Arlington," Nichols said.

Nichols quoted J. Edgar Hoover, head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, as declaring in a magazine article that "Chicago with its Al Capone and New York with its arch criminals had nothing on Hot Springs. It is the safest place in the country for public enemies." He declared that Karpis, Nash and other "big time hoodlums" had found succor there.

Resolution Ascribed To 'Vengeance, Not Justice.'

"Vengeance, not justice, inspired this resolution," said Campbell in his argument against its adoption. He said the same allegations were used as were contained in an election contest suit against Marion Anderson, successful candidate for sheriff of Garland county. They were proved unfounded, Campbell said.

Referring to the Dickson case, the Garland county legislators said it was common knowledge that every police department in the country uses third degree methods at times. He was quick to add, however, that such brutality as was alleged to have been used against Dickson was not condoned in Hot Springs. He said that if the Arkansas Gazette had not carried a front page article telling of Dickson's death, the case would have received scant consideration. He pointed out as a possible excuse for the manhandling of Dickson the fact that the prisoner, a few weeks before his capture, was alleged to have attacked Chief of Police Wakelin and struck him on the head with a gun, inflicting injuries from which he still is confined to his home. "They may have retaliated," he said. "It's human nature."

"The Garland county Grand Jury was called by Judge Witt, who does his duty fearlessly and honestly, and seven police officers were indicted," Campbell said. "If any of them is guilty, he should be convicted. But that is not for us to say. This investigation would cost a large sum. These investigations don't ever amount to a hill of beans—just big fees and traveling expenses. The good, law-abiding citizens of Garland county don't want this investigation. Hot Springs is a resort city, and it is true we are tolerant. That's why most of your conventions are held in Hot Springs."

Although Speaker Bransford had announced that all who cared to speak on the resolution would be recognised, none sought recognition after Campbell had spoken. The roll was called resulting in adoption of the resolution by a vote of more than three to one.

Conditions in Hot Springs Declared Deplorable.

The resolution, in part, follows:

"It is a matter of common knowledge throughout the state of Arkansas, that a condition of lawlessness exists in the Eighteenth Judicial Circuit and that there are wide and flagrant violations of the criminal laws in the said circuit;

"It is the general belief of the people of the state of Arkansas that such conditions could not exist without some sort of alliance between the law enforcement officials, including the judiciary, and the criminal classes, and.

Alleged Gambling Houses Listed.

"It is being openly charged that various persons, namely,

"W. S. Jacobs, at the Belvedere Club, three miles northeast of Hot Springs on the Little Rock Highway,

"W. S. Jacobs and Roscoe Johnson, at the Southern Club, Hot Springs,

"Matt Pichl, at the White Front Club, Hot Springs,

"George Ryan, at the Kentucky Club, Hot Springs,

"W. S Jacobs and Tink Young, at the Ohio Club, Hot Springs,

"R. L. Milsaps and Ed Chase, at Milsaps Horse Race Booking Place, Hot Springs,

"Ed Spears, at the Tango Parlor, Hot Springs,

"Bill Miller's Sporting Results, Hot Springs,

"Norwood Phillips and George McLaughlin, at the Chicago Club, Hot Springs,

"Lewis Larson and Gordon Henderson, at the Blue Ribbon Bar and Club, Hot Springs,

"Ben Harrison, at the Citizens Sporting Results, Hot Springs, and others are feloniously operating gambling houses in a manner that is so open and notorious that the cry of the dealers may be heard up and down the streets. Some of the places operating roulette, faro, craps and other gambling devices; and, all of them operating places where bets on race horses are unlawfully made.

"The horse racing industry in Arkansas is threatened with destruction by this lawlessness.

"Gambling devices commonly called slot machines are being set up and exhibited all over Hot Springs, some of the machines being operated in places nearby public schools and frequented almost exclusively by school children.

Public Officials Accused.

"The general report is that certain public officials are the owners and/or part owners of some of the said gambling devices and gambling places.

"Public officials receive remuneration for part-time services in said gambling places.

"It has been reported in leading magazines of the nation and in the daily press that these felonies are carried on under a regular licensing system which is in violation of state laws.

"Agents of the United States Department of Justice allege that Hot Springs and Garland county are the most corrupt of any places in the United States.

"These unlawful and felonious operations are corrupting the morals of the people of Arkansas.

"These said operations are resulting in financial losses to citizens engaged in lawful interprises in Arkansas.

Judge Accused of Illegal Acts.

"Records of the Supreme Court of the State of Arkansas reveal that the judge of the said Eighteenth Judicial Circuit, in defiance of the judgment of the Supreme Court, did on December 29, 1934 join with the judge of Montgomery county in making a written order on the Bank of Montgomery County directing the bank to pay to George Jackson $1,105.83 which was the property of Montgomery county and was being held on order of the Supreme Court by the bank for the said county. The Supreme Court previously had overruled and denied the claim which George Jackson made upon the fund. The records further reveal that the $1,105.83 was turned over to Jackson upon the said unlawful and bogus order of the circuit judge without semblance of authority and without any judicial proceeding."

"It is openly charged that the circuit judge of the Eighteenth Judicial Circuit has interfered with the investigation of the Grand Jury of official shortages and embezzlements of officials of Montgomery county in the shortages of Ed Black as county treasurer, and Frank Hale as sheriff, and, the report of the state comptroller's office, calling attention to said shortages, states that officials charged with protecting the county's finances entered into an agreement not to prosecute Black and Hale.

Refers to Primary Election.

"By the oath of 20 reputable citizens of Garland county, it was charged that:

"1. The County Democratic Central Committee in the August, 1936, primary election, wilfully and corruptly refused to abide by the law requiring the minority to select one judge and one clerk of the election, but appointed as judges and clerks only partisans of the political machine, and wilfully and corruptly violated the law commending the appointment of upright men as judges and clerks by appointing professional gamblers, men who commit felonies 365 days a year, it being charged that 34 gamblers and employes of gambling houses served as judges and clerks of the August, 1936, primary election.

"2. That the secretary of the County Central Committee turned his records over to the head of the political machine and refused to allow other Democrats to see them.

"3. That city and county officials and employes of gambling houses and other rackets were openly threatened by Mayor Leo P. McLaughlin of Hot Springs, that if they did not vote the entire machine ticket from governor to constable they could not work in Hot Springs. The said threat being in open violation of Section 20 of Act 123 of the Acts of 1935 (pure election law), making it unlawful for any person to make a threat or attempt to intimidate a voter.

"4. That the political machine of Garland county, in violation of Section 20, of Act 123, of the Acts of 1935, had printed and distributed about 10,000 marked ballots for the instruction of voters and that the judges and clerks of the election unlawfully handed out the marked ballots to voters in the polling room and that before noon on August 11, 1936, polling places of Hot Springs were littered with these discarded marked ballots.

"5. That the political machine unlawfully purchased 4,000 poll tax receipts and held them until election day, handed them out to transient persons and other illegal voters and that said transient persons and other illegal voters used said receipts to vote for the candidates sponsored by the said political machine.

Political Deal Charged.

"Gibson Witt Jr., brother of Circuit Judge Earl Witt of the Eighteenth Judicial Circuit was a candidate for prosecuting attorney in the primary election of August, 1936, and was opposed by one Curtis Ridgway and three other candidates and the said Gibson Witt Jr. and said Curtis Ridgway, in open violation of the corrupt practices act made a deal by which Witt agreed to appoint Ridgway as deputy prosecuting attorney in consideration of the withdrawal of Ridgway from the race and the said Gibson Witt Jr., and Ridgway each published a notice under their signatures in the daily press announcing that Ridgway was to be appointed deputy prosecuting attorney and urging all friends of Ridgway to support Gibson Witt; and,

"The circuit judge of the said Eighteenth Judicial Circuit took an active part in the campaign in behalf of the candidates endorsed by the political machine serving as chairman of their meetings, it is generally believed that he must have been fully cognizant of all of the said election frauds and violations; and,

Gross Discrimination Charged.

"The nationwide scandal growing out of the murder of a prisoner in the city jail in Hot Springs by officials who were sworn to protect the prisoner, has brought the name of Hot Springs, the county of Garland, and the state of Arkansas into disrepute.

"The gross discrimination between the treatment accorded some prisoners has lead the general public to believe that certain notorious criminals can obtain protection under the officials charged with apprehending them, has brought Hot Springs and the state of Arkansas into further disrepute.

"It is alleged that certain murders committed by certain said protected criminals have never been investigated.

The Luciano Case.

"The people of every section of the United States read reports in the daily press and in widely circulated magazines that the police and officers of the city of Hot Springs sought to prevent the bringing of Charles ("Lucky") Luciano to justice.

"Luciano, through the aggressive action of Gov. Carl E. Bailey, then attorney general, was finally brought to justice and convicted of operating a notorious vice syndicate.

"It is reported that the murders of two enrollees of a CCC camp in the said judicial circuit have been protected by officers charged with the duty of apprehending and prosecuting them."

Witt Has No Objections to Full And Fair Investigation.

Special to the Gazette.

Hot Springs, Jan. 14.—Regarding the resolution adopted this afternoon by the House, to investigate the Eighteenth Judicial District, Circuit Judge Earl Witt said:

"I certainly have no objections to any full and fair investigation the legislature might want to make of the Eighteenth Judicial District. I have no apprehension as to the outcome of such an investigation, and I know the people of Garland and Montgomery counties will fully understand the local source from which this request has come and the motive that has prompted it."

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

Special Agent E. J. Wynn telephoned Mr. Soucy from Cleveland with respect to the harboring cases in Toledo and Cleveland in the Bremer Kidnaping. He said that the papers out there have just come out with stories to the effect that John Zetzer has been arrested on a secret indictment which had been returned in connection with the Garrettsville Mail Robbery some time ago. The papers further indicate that there are others named in this secret indictment, and Mr. Wynn says those others could be no one but Joe Roscoe and Venson Groves. Of course, the Bureau has been looking for these two persons in connection with the harboring cases, but has been somewhat holding off awaiting the decision of the USA and the Department concerning the return of the indictments against these people for harboring.

Mr. Wynn wanted to know whether they should go directly to Mr. Freed, the U. S. Attorney, and ask him whether the other persons named in this secret indictment are as a matter of fact Groves and Roscoe. He said that if this is so, we have some information relative to the possible whereabouts of Roscoe in Miami, Florida, and can have our Agents down there pick him up for questioning in connection with the harboring investigation. He said that he talked with Mr. Connelley, who did not have any opinion in the premises, but who suggested that the Bureau be consulted as to the action to be taken.

Mr. Wynn said that Supervisor Suran would know what the situation is, and Mr. Soucy told him that we would call him back in a short time with instructions as to what to do.

Respectfully,

E. A. TAMM.

6:30 P. M.

In accordance with my instructions, Mr. Soucy advised Agent Wynn that since we had not as yet indicted these individuals in our harboring case and were not looking for them other than to question them, we should at least not for the present make any disclosures of information concerning the possible whereabouts of either of these persons or intimate that this information was in our possession. At this time Mr. Wynn stated that they were in receipt of a more recent edition and that the paper to which he referred named Joe Roscoe as one of the individuals named in the secret indictment. He was advised that unless contrary instructions were subsequently received, they were to maintain a hands-off attitude with regard to this matter.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

I called SAC Shivers at Miami and asked him for the details of the pick-up of Joe Roscoe. He stated that Roscoe was picked up by Agents McKee and Goshorn who ran into him over on Miami Beach. Mr. Shivers stated that they had the license number of this individual's automobile and that the Agents picked him up near Washington Avenue. Mr. Shivers stated that Roscoe has been down there hanging around the Carters. Mr. Shivers stated that you would know what Carter's is. Roscoe is a friend of Tommy McGinty and George Carter, the two men who run the place.

Mr. Shivers stated that they were in communication with Carter and McGinty, but that they wouldn't tell them anything, Carter even denying that he knew the man, and that, therefore, they can't expect any cooperation from them. I asked Mr. Shivers if Roscoe was talking and what his attitude was, but he stated that they only picked him up at about 11:30 and hadn't had an opportunity to find anything out as yet. He stated, however, that Roscoe was picked up very quietly, he coming along willingly, and that there is no chance of publicity.

Mr. Shivers said that as soon as they learned anything he would call us and would keep us fully advised as to all developments.

Respectfully,

P. E. Foxworth.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

During Mr. McIntire's recent conversation with Mr. Charles H. Carr, Special Assistant to the Attorney General, with reference to the anticipated trial of Duke Randall and Joseph H. Adams, Carr furnished Mr. McIntire with a formal paper which was written by Mr. Bart A. Riley of the defense counsel for Randall. The paper is entitled "Memorandum of Bart A. Riley in the Case of United States vs. Joseph H. Adams and Duke Randall on the 16th Day of December, 1936." The only part in which the Bureau is interested is the following:

"In the early stages of the pendency of the case against Joseph H. Adams, a certain man in the City of Miami, Florida, acting as a go-between for a man in Baltimore, Maryland, began working on Mr. Adams and his father-in-law, with the assurance that if Joseph H. Adams would pay $10,000, indictments against Joseph H. Adams would be dismissed. I, Bart A. Riley, went to the Hotel El Comodoro while the party from Baltimore telephoned, and overheard this party talk to Mr. Knight, and took down in shorthand the conversation. That conversation was written out and I, Bart A. Riley, delivered a copy of it to Judge Halsted L. Ritter and told Judge Ritter that I would send Bob Knight up to Baltimore, Maryland for the purpose of contacting the people who wanted to have Adams and Knight pay a bribe for the dismissal of the case.

"After I delivered the letter to Judge Ritter, I then directed Mr. Bob Knight to proceed to Baltimore. At Baltimore he was interviewed, and again this Baltimore party assured him that if he would pay over the $10,000, the cases against Adams et al. would be dismissed.

"Mr. Knight then returned to Miami, and the Baltimore party again called him up, and Mr. Knight said that he could not get up that much money."

"This attempted bribery was disclosed to the office of the Attorney General of the United States, and up to this date the United States Government has done nothing to try to apprehend these men who are attempting to extort money from Knight and Adams for the purpose of dismissing the cases. A transcript of the above telephone conversation is hereto attached marked Exhibit G."

Exhibit G is quoted herewith as follows:

"At 11.40 P.M. while I, Bart A. Riley, was at the El Comodoro Hotel in Miami, the telephone rang four times. The operator said: 'Baltimore, Maryland is calling Mr. Richter.' Then the party telephoning was requested to drop in, and did drop in, $1.50 in coin and 4.95 in coin, which I heard drop into the box in Baltimore, Maryland and I heard the jingling of the bell. The connection was then made. I was in another room, with a telephone extension to me, and Richter said: 'Who is this, Franklin?' and the Baltimore party said: 'Yes, is Mr. Knight there?'

Richter: Put him on the phone.

Knight: Hello

Franklin: Hello, Mr. Knight. I thought I would call you; here is what I want to know. Are you interested?

Knight: Yes, but I have not been able to handle the amount.

Franklin: It is tough to talk on the phone. The Chamber of Commerce meets there (meaning Miami, Florida) on the 27th, and this party has got to be down there, and after he goes down there, then, it is going to be hell to retract. Mr. Richter wrote here in regards to a letter that was misunderstood. We will say that no one will expect that; he would not expect something for the other people. Of course he didn't. That eliminates Richter and eliminates "What's-His-Name."

Knight: Miller.

Franklin: Yes. They figured 500 a piece for them. Nine thousand will do it; that is O.K., and everything will be taken care of.

Knight: Wouldn't less than that do?

Franklin: I cannot go no further, and I am willing to do everything I can, and if you don't think it is worth it, I don't know what to say. You have acted mighty clean; you have got to get it over with. Nobody wants to "shake."

Knight: It will just take another day or two to see if I can make it.

Franklin: I won't get in touch with you - you get in touch with me.

Knight: I can swing half of it.

Franklin: It can ot be done. I don't want you to figure that anybody wants to shake. You are protected. There is nobody going to get anything unless they produce.

Knight: Of course with this Chamber of Commerce we will be protected, too?

Franklin: Absolutely. In other words, if he goes down on the 27th and goes in there, the thing is retracted; you are going to place him in a tighter position. The only thing is to get it washed up.

Knight: Do you want me to get in touch with you tomorrow?

Franklin: Yes, righto.

Knight: I will get in touch with you in the next couple of days.

Franklin: He goes down there on the 27th and on the west coast, and we either get it washed up or forget about it.

Knight: I will get in touch with you in a few days.

Franklin: All right, or let's forget it.

Mr. Carr indicated to Mr. McIntire that it was his intention to ask for an investigation in this matter. He was advised that Mr. McIntire had heard that certain pressure was being brought to bear on behalf of the defendants, but Mr. McIntire informed him that he had never understood it to be pressure of this type. It was explained to Mr. Carr that it had been learned that a Congressman from Miami, Florida, would be interested along with Bart A. Riley in the defense of this case; that it was understood that Mrs. Joseph Adams was previously the private secretary of this Congressman. Mr. McIntire explained to Mr. Carr that was the only pressure, if it could be considered as such, that had been brought to bear in the case to his knowledge.

Respectfully,

Dear Sir:

There are transmitted herewith two copies of a memorandum prepared by Mr. E. A. Tamm of the Bureau dated January 6, 1937, regarding the allegations made by Mr. Bart A. Riley, Counsel for Henry "Duke" Randall, to the effect that an attempt was made to extort money from Joe Adams and Mr. Knight for the purpose of causing dismissal of the indictments now pending against Randall and Adams at Miami, Florida.

Mr. Charles H. Carr, Special Assistant to the Attorney General, has requested that an investigation be conducted concerning these allegations, and it is desired that you institute an immediate investigation to determine the truth or falsity of the charges made by Mr. Riley.

The information as contained in the attached memorandum is rather fragmentary, however, it is believed that an interview with Mr. Knight will elicit further information.

This matter should receive your prompt attention.

institution of libel proceedings and prosecution in the district of New Jersey in connection with the persons believed to have taken part in plans to ship Thompson submachine guns to Ireland.

In a memorandum dated October 4, 1921 for the Assistant Attorney General in connection with the case entitled UNITED STATES vs. FRANK WILLIAMS, ETAL, Mr. McHenry stated in various parts of said memorandum as follows:

"495 machine guns were discovered on board the steamship EASTSIDE on June 12, 1921. The serial numbers on all but 100 had been erased. The remaining numbers showed that these guns were part of those delivered to Williams. (Weekly shipment chart and evidence of Agent John Haas, who checked the number of the guns in their storage place.)"

"On June 14, 1921 the guns were taken possession of by customs officers." (Between June 12th and June 14th they were in the strong room on the dock of the Steamship Company at Hoboken, New Jersey).

It appears that at the time Mr. McHenry made his memorandum, Fred Williams was residing at 100 West 43rd Street, New York City, to the best of his knowledge.

A letter dated June 23, 1921 signed by Acting Deputy Collector P. F. Bradley, of the Customs Service, Treasury Department, New York City, addressed "To the Solicitor, Custom House," [redacted] states as follows:

"Reference is made to the seizure of 496 machine guns ex S.S. EAST SIDE, and you are advised that on 382 of these guns the numbers are obliterated, and that on the remaining 114 guns the numbers are as follows:

839	863	895	922 (Dup)	984

It will be noted that reference is made to the seizure of 496 machine guns and that 114 of them bore serial numbers. It will be further noted that serial #950 was not included in the numbers.

The report of Special Agent J. L. Haas, of this Bureau, dated June 16, 1921 at New York City, indicated that Agent Haas ascertained at the steamship pier at Hoboken, New Jersey, that the following articles were found aboard the SS EASTSIDE:

495 Thompson submachine guns
491 Stocks for submachine guns
1391 Boxes of magazines
289 Drum magazines, type C
174 Drum magazines, type L
486 Cleaners
440 Pamphlets (instructions)
One box cartridges, .45 calibre containing 40 small boxes of 50 cartridges each.

Agent Haas stated in his report that he examined the submachine guns and found 395 of them had the serial numbers chipped off, while the remaining 100 bore the following numbers:

740	791	911	882	879	924

860	856	694	965	800
784	848	984	741	824

It will be observed from the above list that serial #950 is not included, and it will be further observed that Agent Haas makes reference to 495 Thompson submachine guns being seized, and that only 100 bore serial numbers.

Agent M. J. Drennan's report contains a memorandum dated June 16, 1921 at New York City, forwarded by Captain G. Bartlett, Operating Manager of the Cosmopolitan Shipping Company, Inc., directed to the U. S. Shipping Board, Division of Operations, 45 Broadway, New York City, wherein it is stated that on "Monday, June 13th about 9 P.M., an attempt was made to remove some stores from the ship ------- and thereafter a thorough search of the ship was then made and the shipment of arms and ammunition discovered hidden under the dunnage between decks." From this memorandum it would appear that the discovery of the guns was made on June 13, 1921.

A copy of a letter dated September 7, 1921 from the U. S. Attorney at Trenton to the Collector of Customs at New York City requests that the latter insure that the submachine guns be kept covered with cosmoline or some other preservative oil so that they will not become injured in any manner. A request is also made that three of the machine guns, preferably "such as have not had their serial numbers obliterated" should be withdrawn and forwarded to the office of the U. S. Attorney; also that three of each type of magazine and three copies of the pamphlets should also be forwarded to the U. S. Attorney's office.

There is quoted as follows pertinent portions of a six-page letter dated December 29, 1922 signed by Assistant U. S. Attorney Thomas B. Arrowsmith, Trenton, New Jersey, which was directed to Honorable Walter G. Winne, the U. S. Attorney at Trenton.

This matter first arose some time in the early part of June, 1921, and was brought to the attention of the Department by the discovery on Board of the Steamship "Eastside" of 495 Thompson Sub-machine guns. These were guns suitable only for warfare against considerable bodies of troops and effective at great range.

Investigation and tracing of these guns disclosed that some time in the pearly part of 1921, Ochsenreiter had got in communication with the Auto Ordnance Corporation and its officials as to the purchase of a large quantity of machine guns. It later developed that these machine guns were to be purchased, and were in fact afterwards purchased and paid for by Rorke.

After the purchase, Rorke informed the Auto Ordnance Corporation that the guns were to be delivered to a Mr. Frank Williams, which was in fact done, and deliveries made to him from time to time. Williams at that time had an office in New York, but after the finding of the guns on the "Eastside" disappeared, and has never been apprehended or located.

The investigation disclosed that while some of the guns on the "Eastside" had had the serial numbers chiselled off, a great many of them still bore the serial numbers, and these numbers corresponded with the numbers of the guns bought by Rorke and delivered to Williams.

The guns were placed upon the "Eastside" by several men who had been taken on as an engine room crew, two of whom were named respectively, Wright and Higgins. When the guns were discovered, these men disappeared from the ship and have never been located.

After the delivery of the guns to Williams, they were taken to the residence of Culhane in the Bronx, New York, and taken out of their original packages and re-packed, and just before their discovery upon the "Eastside" they had been placed upon a truck which left Culhane's place in charge of one Brophy.

Upon the seizure taking place on the Steamship, Williams appeared in Hoboken and before the local Recorder made complaint that they had been stolen from him, and upon warrant being issued, the guns were seized by the local police and subsequently taken over by order of Judge Lynch and placed in the custody of the custom officials in New York.

All of the negotiations for the guns between Rorke and the Auto Ordnance Corporation were conducted by Thompson, its Vice President, Kerkling, its Secretary, and Morgan, General Sales Manager.

During the negotiations, Ochsenreiter gave to the Auto Ordnance Corporation a writing in which he informed them that the guns were not to be used in Russia, Mexico, or in any place against an existing government.

There is a copy of a letter dated November 4, 1925 from the U. S. Attorney, Walter G. Winne, Trenton, New Jersey, to the Collector of Customs, New York City, which is quoted as follows:

"The Attorney General writes this office that he has a letter from the attorney for the owner of the above-mentioned machine guns stating that when the guns were returned to the claimant, seven were missing. The attorney's letter contained the statement that four of the guns were in the possession of the Department of Justice and that the other three were in the possession of the customsofficers.

We are requested by the Attorney General to ship to Joseph McGarrity, 8 E. 41st Street, New York City, all of these seven guns which may be in our possession.

There is one gun in this office which was used in connection with the criminal phase of the case and which gun we are shipping as directed.

We are asked to request you to make similar shipment of any of the remaining six guns which may be in your possession.

If the guns are not in your possession, please give me any information obtainable regarding their present whereabouts."

It may be noted that the file does not reflect any further correspondence indicating the return of the submachine gun from the U. S. Attorney's office to Joseph McGarrity, New York City.

A letter from Special Deputy Collector H. C. Stewart, of the Customs Service, Treasury Department, New York, dated June 22, 1921 addressed to Mr. Isaac Gross, Assistant U. S. Attorney, Newark, New Jersey, advises that, pursuant to request, the bolts, buffer pilots, and disconnector springs will be removed from the 495 Thompson submachine guns stored at the Appraiser's Annex, 444 W. 25th Street, New York, and that he has directed that a list be prepared of such serial numbers as have not been removed from the arms.

It will be noted that the U. S. District Court for the District of New Jersey ordered the Collector of Customs at New York City to deliver the 495 machine guns and related equipment to Frank Williams or Joseph McGarrity, his duly authorized agent and attorney in fact. This order was made after the libel proceedings instituted by the Government against Frank Williams, et al had been dismissed.

The above constitutes all of the pertinent information available in the files of the U. S. Attorney in Trenton, New Jersey with respect to the machine guns seized on the SS EASTSIDE in June 1921.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Thomas V. Arrowsmith was an assistant in the U. S. Attorney's office in 1921 and had knowledge of the facts insofar as it became necessary for him to prepare an indictment in the case, and he was contacted and asked whether he has any personal recollection as to the serial number which appeared on the machine gun, which for a time was in the possession of the U. S. Attorney's office in Trenton. He advised that he does not have any recollection of the serial number and does not know in fact whether there was a serial number on the machine gun, but assumes that there was. He was unable to add to the information contained in the U. S. Attorney's file. Likewise, Miss Elizabeth Kervin, of the U. S. Attorney's office, who was employed in that office in 1921, is unable to furnish any additional information.

It is noted that Bureau letter dated December 17, 1936 requests that every possible effort be made to determine the present addresses of GEORGE GORDON RORKE, FRANK WILLIAMS, and his brother FRED WILLIAMS. There does not appear to be any recent information in the U. S. Attorney's file in Trenton pertaining to these individuals. However, it is noted that the file does reflect that the attorney for Frank Williams during 1921 was Thomas J. O'Neill, 258 Broadway, New York City, while his attorney in 1925 was Percy S. Lansdowne, 1006 D. S. Morgan Building, Buffalo, New York.

An unsigned memorandum dated August 8, 1921 indicates that George Gordon Rorke was at that time located in the Woodward Building, Washington, D. C., and could be reached through General F. H. Phillip, Jr., National Rifle.

It is to be noted that in September, 1921 subpoenas were issued for Frank Williams, c/o Attorney Thomas J. O'Neill, New York City, for Fred Williams at 100 W. 43rd Street, New York City, and for George Gordon Rorke, c/o Guy Mason, Woodward Building, Washington, D. C.

UNDEVELOPED LEADS

THE BUFFALO FIELD DIVISION:

Will endeavor to locate and interview Attorney PERCY S. LANSDOWNE, who in 1925 had offices at 1006 D. S. Morgan Building, Buffalo, New York, and attempt to ascertain from him the present address of FRANK WILLIAMS, whom he represented during that time. He may possibly know also the present whereabouts of FRED WILLIAMS and GEORGE GORDON RORKE.

THE NEW YORK FIELD DIVISION:

In the event the New York Field Division does not have any further definite information concerning the location of FRED WILLIAMS, it is suggested that inquiry be made at 100 W. 43rd Street, New York City for the purpose of determining whether such inquiry would be of any assistance in learning of FRED WILLIAMS' present whereabouts.

The New York Field Division - should endeavor to establish whether there are any lists of the seized machine guns which bore serial numbers on file with the U. S. Customs Service, Treasury Department, New York City, reference being made to the mention made in this report of the letter of Acting Deputy Collector Bradley, dated June 23, 1921, and the letter of Special Deputy Collector H. C. Stewart, dated June 22, 1921.

THE WASHINGTON FIELD DIVISION:

It is possible that an inquiry of MR. GUY MASON, whose address in 1921 was Woodward Building, Washington, D. C., may assist in determining the present whereabouts of ROHKE, and with this in mind it is suggested that the Washington Field Division make such inquiry.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

RE: JOSEPH ADAMS

Mr. Hanson called me from Miami and advised that the Court denied the defendant's motion to suppress in the above case. At this time the Court did not amplify his statements very much, with the exception that he indicated that this wasn't the proper time to have brought such a motion; that it should have been taken up at the trial of the case, but he has consented to hear the defendant's motion tomorrow to squash the indicatment and he has also indicated that possibly he would hear a motion from the defendant to secure the Grand Jury minutes when the indictments were obtained. Such a motion was disallowed about a year ago, but the Defense Attorney indicated that it has been disallowed in Joe Adams' case only and that tomorrow he would file such a motion in connection with Randall's case. Mr. Hanson advised that it was a conspiracy indictment and he, Hanson, didn't see how he could get any place on it.

Mr. Hanson explained that what the Defense Attorney was going to do was to say that the evidence placed before the Grand Jury was insufficient and that it was illegal. The Court has already indicated that if there was any legal evidence there at all it wouldn't matter as to the amount of it.

Hanson advised that the defendant and two witnesses were the only ones who took the stand today. The Government offered no evidence at all. Mr. Riley, the defense counsel, argued for a whole hour. He compared the Bureau with the Russian Police System and talked about Walter Barlow, former Special Assistant to the Attorney General, who had assured him twice that the case would be dismissed. He also talked about Joe Adams having gone up to St. Paul to appear as a Government witness and because he had gone up there was entitled to consideration. He talked about Heller having been locked up by the Cuban Police for about ten days at the instigation of one of our Agents. In other words, he gave a lot of "blarney". Mr. Hanson advised that Riley is a smart man and has the reputation of being the outstanding criminal lawyer in Miami, being very shrewd and sharp. He told about how many letters he had written to you and how he had called your attention to the article that Special Agent Chayfitz had written on Third Degree. Mr. Hanson advised that the Court is going to hear these other motions at 2 P. M., so Carr, the Special Assistant, wanted them all present. Mr. Hanson stated that they are going to have a meeting with him in the morning.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR.

This memorandum is submitted with reference to the motion made by Bart A. Riley to suppress the statements of Joseph H. Adams and Henry Duke Randall.

There is no copy of this motion in the files of the Bureau but Agent McIntire has advised me that he has had an opportunity while working with special assistants, Messrs. Walter L. Barlow and Charles Carr, to read the motion and also that he heard the motion read in open court in Miami, Florida, on or about May 25, 1936. Insofar as Mr. McIntire recalls, the material allegations in the motion with reference to the obtaining of the statements from Duke Randall are to the effect that the statements were obtained through cruel and inhuman treatment, duress, coercion, inquisitorial methods, the undue displaying of firearms, the pointing of guns in the direction of Duke Randall and other acts calculated to put him in fear of bodily harm; further the handcuffing of Duke Randall to the bed at night while he slept; further the failure of Agents to take Randall before a committing magistrate and properly incarcerate him in a jail; all of which resulted in placing Randall in such fear as to indicate that his statements were of an involuntary character. The allegations in the motion with reference to the obtaining of the statement of Joseph Adams are to the effect that trickery was employed, that he was promised that he would not be arrested in consideration for the giving of this statement and further that the information contained in the statement was being obtained by Agents only for the purpose of running to ground a very dangerous and desperate gang of criminals and not for the purpose of prosecuting Joseph H. Adams himself.

The matter with reference to the arrest of Joseph Adams is treated a little more extensively than is set out above, inasmuch as the motion states that Adams was told that he was not under arrest and that he would not be arrested if he made such a statement.

Respectfully,

P. E. Foxworth.

May, 1929. At this time VON FRANTZIUS advised that he had never at any time shipped any guns to FRANK THOMPSON; that all guns in fact were delivered over the counter, and that upon one occasion he had shipped a load of bricks to W. M. McCARTHY, of Hammond, Indiana, whereas in fact the guns were delivered to McCARTHY over the counter. At this time VON FRANTZIUS admitted that he had engaged in numerous shady transactions, and advised with respect to the removal of serial numbers from the machine guns sold to FRANK THOMPSON, that this work had been done by a gunsmith formerly employed by him, namely - VALENTIN JUCH, who left the employ of VON FRANTZIUS in November, 1926, and is at the present time employed by V.L.& A, Chicago, Illinois; that JUCH had removed the numbers on the guns purchased by THOMPSON at THOMPSON'S request, and that THOMPSON must have paid JUCH a certain sum for the removal of these numbers; that the fact that the numbers had been removed from the guns and the guns could not be traced was a "sales talk" used by THOMPSON in the sale of these guns.

At this time VON FRANTZIUS exhibited a letter dated January 12, 1937 from ROBERT WOHLFORTH, Secretary of the Sub-Committee of the Committee on Education & Labor under S.R.266, inquiring as to the sale by VON FRANTZIUS of machine guns numbers 1675, 4397, 8104, 8350, 5603, 7867, 7501, 7831, 7301, 7703, 5831, 5619, 5783, and 5832. VON FRANTZIUS further advised that machine guns numbers 5831, 5619, 5783, and 5832 had been taken out of the store by FRANK THOMPSON who later returned guns numbers 5831, 5619 and 5783, stating at the time that things were "too hot" to get rid of them; that these guns were subsequently taken by the Chicago Police Department; that he, VON FRANTZIUS, had secured their return by writ, at which time the Police Department had immediately revisited his store and taken the guns away again.

On January 19, 1937 VALENTIN JUCH was interviewed at the Chicago Field Division and he advised that although he had on numerous occasions, upon the specific request of PETER VON FRANTZIUS, removed the serial numbers from approximately fifteen revolvers, he had never removed the serial number from any Thompson sub-machine gun; that he was the only gunsmith employed in VON FRANTZIUS' store and although he would not make a definite statement he inferred that the removal of the serial numbers from the Thompson sub-machine guns sold to FRANK THOMPSON was a matter strictly between PETER VON FRANTZIUS and FRANK THOMPSON.

In connection with the above statement JUCH executed the following signed statement, which is being retained in the files of the Chicago Field Division:

"1900 Bankers Building
Chicago, Illinois
January 19, 1937

"I, VALENTINE JUCH, of 1621 North Park Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, make the following statement to J. M. Jones, who is known to me to be a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, United States Department of Justice.

"In June, 1925, I secured a position as a gunsmith with Peter Von Frantzius, who operated a gun store at 608 West Diversey Parkway. While in Mr. Von Frantzius' employ I was specifically requested on numerous occasions by Mr. Von Frantzius to remove the serial numbers on at least fifteen revolvers after they had been sold. I do not know to whom these guns were sold, but later learned that Frankie Foster, whose picture I have identified as an individual whom I saw in the store, had purchased some guns from Von Frantzius.

"While employed in Von Frantzius' store I had on numerous occasions opened packing cases received from the factory and made a record of the serial numbers of about six or eight Thompson sub-machine guns, which I was later told by Von Frantzius, had been sold to a man named Thompson, whose first name I do not know. Although I had removed the serial number from a number of revolvers I never was requested by Von Frantzius, nor did I ever remove any serial numbers from Thompson sub-machine guns.

"The above statement is the truth to the best of my knowledge.

/s/ Valentin Juch

WITNESS:

J. M. JONES, Special Agent
Federal Bureau of Investigation
U. S. Department of Justice

During the interview had with VON FRANTZIUS it was very apparent that he was somewhat reluctant to supply any definite information although he tried to appear as if he were cooperating with the Bureau.

During the interview had with VALENTIN JUCH he appeared straightforward in his answers, but was not able to supply any more information than that contained in this report, advising that he was employed as a gunsmith and confined his activities to the work shop and did not bother with any of the customers in the store; that he had taken all his orders from VON FRANTZIUS.

The only individuals JUCH appeared to be able to identify were FRANK THOMPSON and FRANKIE FOSTER, and he identified the picture of the latter individual as a person whom he saw in VON FRANTZIUS' store and stated he believed one of the guns used in the "Lingle murder" had been traced to VON FRANTZIUS; that VON FRANTZIUS had advised the police that FRANKIE FOSTER had purchased same.

At the present time theChicago Division is endeavoring to ascertain the present whereabouts of FRANK THOMPSON in order that he may be interviewed regarding the purchase and sale of various machine guns.

A letter has been addressed to the Identification Unit requesting the criminal record and photograph of FRANK THOMPSON to be furnished the Chicago Division, and in addition that a stop be placed and the Chicago Division advised of any subsequent arrest.

The following is the description of VALENTIN JUCH as obtained from personal observation and information obtained from him:

Name	VALENTIN JUCH
Address	1821 North Park Avenue, Chicago.
Age	44, born 1/7/1893, at Fairlach, Austria
Height	5'10"
Weight	178 lbs.

Occupation	gunsmith employed at V.L.& A, Chicago
Relatives	Wife - BETTY JUCH, 1621 N.Park Ave., Chicago Daughter - HERMENIA, """" Chicago
Remarks	served five years in Austrian Army.

In an endeavor to ascertain the present whereabouts of FRANK THOMPSON'S parents the last address of whom was 738 S.St. Louis Avenue, Chicago, Agent conducted an investigation in this neighborhood and failed to secure any information. The Garfield Post Office Station, which covers 738 South St. Louis Avenue, failed to reflect a forwarding address for MR. and MRS. THOMPSON.

Inasmuch as information in the file indicated that THOMPSON'S father was formerly employed as a printer at Sears, Roebuck & Company, West Arthington and South Homan Street, Chicago, the Employment Manager of this organization was contacted and he advised that the records failed to disclose the employment of anyone named FRANK THOMPSON, and as a matter of fact this concern had not employed any printers since 1932; that the printing for Sears, Roebuck & Company's catalog was allotted to the following concerns:

Cuneo Printing Company, Canal & 18th Street, Chicago;
W. F. Hall Printing Company, 4600 West Diversey Avenue, Chicago;
R. R. Donnelley & Sons Printing Company, 350 East Cermak Road, Chicago.

UNDEVELOPED LEAD:

The CHICAGO DIVISION:

At Chicago, Illinois, will conduct appropriate investigation to ascertain the present whereabouts of FRANK VICTOR THOMPSON, and appropriately interview him regarding sale of Thompson submachine guns purchased from PETER VON FRANTZIUS, and in particular Thompson sub-machine gun #7609.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

Re: Harboring Cases in Toledo and Cleveland.

I telephoned Mr. Foster in the Criminal Division of the Department with reference to a memorandum received by the Bureau from Brien McMahon to which was attached a memorandum prepared by Mr. Foster requesting that the Bureau prepare a summary report in connection with the above entitled matter.

I told Mr. Foster that practically all of the Agents who have worked on the instant matter are now engaged on the investigation of the Matteson Kidnaping Case, and consequently, they were unavailable for the purpose of preparing a summary report. However, I told Mr. Foster that a check of our files reveals that they have been furnished with copies of all reports which have been submitted in this matter. Mr. Foster said that the file on this matter is rather voluminous, and he had in mind that if some of the Agents who worked on the case could confer with him, they could all prepare a summary report. I told Mr. Foster that while it would be impossible to bring any or all of those Agents in for conference, I would be glad to arrange for him to talk with the Supervisor at the Seat of Government who is handling the matter, and who personally conducted some of the substantive investigation, and who could orally advise him on any questionable matters.

Mr. Foster said he is acquainted with Mr. Suran, and would arrange for a conference with him.

Respectfully,

P. E. FOXWORTH.

Dear Sir:

Attached hereto for the Bureau are three copies of the statement secured from Joseph Roscoe at Miami, Florida, January 26, 1937. The original of this statement, together with one copy, is being furnished the Cleveland Field Division, and a carbon copy is being furnished also to the Chicago and Cincinnati Field Divisions.

The Bureau's attention is directed to the last paragraph on page four, continuing on page five, of this statement, wherein mention is made of the unidentified dead body which was found at Toledo, Ohio, in September, 1934. Reference should be made with respect to this to the report of Special Agent R. C. Suran dated at Cleveland, Ohio, July 3, 1936, pages 62 to 70, inclusive, dealing with the investigation conducted at Toledo, Ohio, with reference to an unidentified body which was located at Toledo on September 3, 1934, all indications pointing to the fact that the individual had been murdered, and that at the time the body was recovered it was badly decomposed. This report points out that the general description of the unidentified body answered somewhat generally the known physical description of Dr. Joseph P. Moran.

In this connection, it is the personal recollection of Special Agent S. K. McKee, by virtue of past investigation, that Dr. Joseph P. Moran was known to have in his left chest a piece of shrapnel shell about the size of a green pea.

AIR MAIL
SPECIAL DELIVERY

Miami, Florida,
January 26, 1937.

I, Joseph Roscoe, of Toledo, Ohio, make the following full and voluntary statement to S. K. McKee and E. J. Wynn, whom I understand tobe Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, United States Department of Justice. I want it expressly understood that this statement is given of my own free will, voluntarily, without promise of reward or fear of punishment.

I have just viewed a photograph, which is marked "1829 Hammond, Indiana, 11-16-33". I identify this as being a photograph of a man whom I know by the name of Willie Harrison. I met him twelve or fifteen years ago at Toledo, Ohio.

I have just viewed several photographs and am told that they are photographs of Alvin Karpis; and have likewise viewed a photograph I am told is that of Arthur R. "Doc" Barker; a photograph which I am told is that of Fred Barker; a photograph I am told is that of Harry Campbell; a photograph which I am told is that of Charles J. Fitzgerald, a photograph that I am told is that of Fred Hunter; a photograph which I am told is that of James J. Wilson; a photograph which I am told is that of Oliver Berg; a photograph I am told is that of John F. "Sharkey" Gorman; a photograph I am told is that of Edward McGraw; a photograph which I am told is that of Lucien C. Fleming; a photograph which I am told is that of Sam Coker; a photograph which I am told is that of James "Shimmy" Patton; a photograph which I am told is that of Arthur Hebebrand; a photograph which I am told is that of Wynona Burdette; a photograph which I am told is that of Russell Gibson; and a photograph which I am told is that of Benson Groves. In this statement I shall refer to these people later on.

Sometime in about the spring of 1934 I was at the Casino Club, on Summit Street in Point Place, a suburb of Toledo, Ohio, the Casino Club being operated by brothers, Bert and Ted Angus. The premises which were occupied by the Casino Club at that time were owned by my mother-in-law. I attended to the renting of the place and the collection of the rents, and the general upkeep of the property. On this occasion I speak of Willie Harrison was in the Casino Club and he was accompanied by four men and he introduced me to these men and, as I recall, one of the men was called "Buff", whom I identify from photograph as being Harry Campbell, and whom I later learned of my own knowledge to be Harry Campbell. Another fellow he introduced under the name of Wilson, whom I identify from photograph as being James J. Wilson. Another man he introduced me to he called the "Jew", and I have identified the photograph of Oliver Berg as being identical with the party known as the "Jew". The fourth man he introduced me to under the name of "Big Slim", and I identify the photograph of Russell Gibson as being identical with this individual.

During this time of the year I visited my boat house at Bay View, located a short distance from the Casino Club, on an average of three or four times a week to look after my Liberty motor speed boat "The Rainbow", and on such occasions would generally visit the Casino Club - on some occasions to have a drink and on other occasions to see about the property. During these visits shortly after I met the four men mentioned above I was introduced, or met, a man known as "Doc", whose photograph I identify as being that of Arthur R. "Doc" Barker; a man known as Fred, whose photograph I identify as being that of Fred Barker; a woman by the name of Wynona, who was Buff's girl, and whose photograph I identify as being that of Wynona Burdette. I also met "Old Charlie", whose right name I know to be Charlie Fitzgerald, and whose photograph I have identified as above set out.

Often when I went to the Casino Club in the afternoon I would see these people there, sometimes in groups of two or three and sometimes in larger numbers, and Bert Angus would generally be there inasmuch as it was his custom to be in the Casino Club in the afternoons.

Shortly after I made the acquaintance of the aforementioned group at the Casino Club Willie Harrison told me they were the hottest mob in the country, and I recall that Bert Angus also told me that they were the hottest gang in the country. I did not ask any questions, but around this time I read in the Toledo newspapers and in several detective magazines, the names of which I cannot at this time recall, about the Bremer kidnaping, and in these various articles I read I saw and identified the photographs of Karpis, Campbell, "Big Slim", "Doc" Barker, Fred Barker, and from what Bert Angus and Willie Harrison told me, and from what I read in these newspaper accounts, and from the actions of this mob, I definitely knew they were wanted for the Bremer kidnaping and being sought by the United States Government for that offense.

On occasions at the Casino Club, at which times I recall specifically that Bert Angus was there, in the summer and fall of 1934, I saw Harry Campbell, who was generally known as "Buff", carry an automatic pistol in his belt, and I saw Russell Gibson, who was generally called "Big Slim", with two revolvers, and I recall that on one occasion I saw Alvin Karpis sitting in a car at the Casino Club with an automatic pistol lying in the seat beside him.

During the summer of 1934 Buff and Big Slim were desirous of purchasing a motor boat, and I recall on one occasion I had them in my Liberty motor speed boat, "The Rainbow". I also recall that Ted Angus told me that they were interested in purchasing his speed boat "The Haybag".

During the summer and fall of 1934 I very frequently received telephone calls from the Casino Club at my place of business, the Jovial Club, requesting me to go to the Casino Club, and on these occasions I would meet various members of this group, such as Big Slim, Alvin Karpis, who was known generally as "Slim", Harry Campbell, known as Buff, Willie Harrison, known as Willie, Arthur R. Barker, known as "Doc", who was generally there with Big Slim, Fred Barker, known generally as Fred, Jimmie Wilson, who was generally known as Jimmie, Oliver Berg, who was known as the "Jew", and sometimes old Charlie would be there. A woman whom I knew as Buff's wife, Wynona Burdette, would also be there, as well as several other women whom I do not remember.

I recall that on some of these visits the various people mentioned would ask me about the police officers in Canada and indicated that they were thinking of going to Canada, but I told them the police there were tough and to stay away from there.

Big Slim borrowed $200.00 from me at the Casino Club sometime in the summer or fall of 1934, and on another occasion he came to the Jovial Club and called me out and borrowed $500.00 from me. I recall that sometime after that in 1934, about Christmas time, Big Slim came to my house at 3:00 or 4:00 o'clock in the morning and said that he had to have $2500.00. He was alone at this time. I explained to him that I did not have the money but would meet him the next day at the Jovial Club. However, the next night Big Slim came out to my house at about 3:00 or 4:00 o'clock and insisted that I get him the money, and as a result I got into his automobile at that hour of the morning and we drove to Bay View Park, near the Casino Club, and waited until about 9:00 A.M. when the bank opened, and drove to the Ohio

Savings Bank in Toledo, where I obtained $2500.00 out of a safety deposit box and gave it to him. I never saw him any more thereafter, but do recall reading a short time thereafter about his having been killed by Federal Agents in Chicago. At the time that Big Slim demanded this money from me I protested that I did not have it available but he stated that he knew I was worth $100,000.00 and had the money, and he told me that I had heard about men being found in ditches around Chicago.

Slim, who is Alvin Karpis, I recall borrowed $1,000.00 from me sometime in the fall of 1934 at Edith Barry's house of prostitution on Southard Street in Toledo, Ohio, and I recall that thereafter Karpis over a period of time, in amounts of $100 or $200.00 at a time, borrowed quite a bit of money from him, but I do not have an accurate record at this time.

I recall that Buff during cold weather and shortly after I read in the newspapers about Big Slim being killed, borrowed $500 from me at Toledo, Ohio, for the purpose of buying an automobile. Fred Hunter came to the Jovial Club and got me and I went with him and met Buff in front of the Empire Apartments at 14th and Jackson Streets and gave him the money. Sometime in the Fall of the Year 1935, he paid the money back to me at Toledo, Ohio, I think it may have been at McCrew's.

As I have said I do not at the present time have any record of the money I loaned to the various individuals named in this statement, but I do recall that sometime ago I figured up that the whole outfit owed me in the neighborhood of $9,000.00.

During the Spring and Fall, as well as in the year 1935, I met at Edith Barry's place, Alvin Karpis, Fred Hunter, Sharkey, Willie Harrison and Charles J. Fitzgerald. I think I saw Harry Campbell at her place once in the summer of 1935. Generally when I would see them there I would go to the place as a result of a telephone call and I recall once Frank Greenwald, who is a taxi operator and generally known as "Greeny", came to the Jovial Club and had me go to Edith Barry's place. Generally when I would go there to meet some of these men they wanted to borrow money.

I recall that in the Fall of 1934 at Toledo, Ohio, either Willie Harrison or Big Slim came to the Jovial Club and told me to go to the Casino Club, and when I went there I met Buff who was reading a newspaper in which there was an article about an unidentified man who had been found dead on the outskirts of Toledo. I recall that Harry Campbell pointed his finger to the article and said, "That's the son of a bitch". I did not know what he was referring to at that time but during the summer of 1936, I recall reading in the Toledo newspapers about a search which was to be made of Middle Island, of which I own 2/3, for the body of Doctor Moran. I recall that the newspaper articles stated that he was supposed to have operated on the fingerprints of some members of the Barker-Karpis gang in Toledo. Then I recalled that I had seen Fred Barker at the Casino Club in the Spring of 1934 with his fingers wrapped up. As I recalled all this it occurred to me that Harry Campbell on the occasion he referred to the newspaper article as mentioned above, was referringto Doctor Moran, although he never said so at that time.

I recall that sometime in the Spring of 1935 I went up to Ed and Clara McGraw's place on Adams Street in Toledo, Ohio, and there I saw Harry Campbell. Ed McGraw opened the door and I sat around the front room with Campbell and some other man he had there with him but I do not now know who that was. On another occasion shortly after that I visited McGraw's place and Karpis was there with Harry Campbell in the apartment and we just sat around and talked.

I recall that in the late Fall of 1935,I had a speed boat engine at the Marine Garage of John Zetzer at Port Clinton, Ohio, and that while this motor was there I received a telephone call from John Zetzer, I at the time, being at the Jovial Club in Toledo, Ohio. John Zetzer requested me to come over to see him about the work he was to do on the motor at 8:00 PM that night and so I drove from Toledo, Ohio, to Port Clinton, Ohio, arriving at Zetzer's Marine Garage about 8:00 PM. John Zetzer opened the door and I walked in and the light in the office was lit. The stove was also throwing out some light as it was red hot. Around the stove I saw Alvin Karpis, Harry Campbell, Benson Groves, Fred Hunter and another man whom I am not able to identify. I can only say that he was a tall man. On this occasion John Zetzer told me that the engine would have to have a new bearing and I told him to go ahead and fix it. Alvin Karpis on this occasion gave me a package and said he was paying me $1000.00 which he owed me. Harry Campbell who is known to me as Buff and Ben Groves, who was known to me as Old Ben and whom I have known for many years, asked me if they could ride with me and I drove them to the Armory at Port Clinton and let them out of my car and they said they were going to get in their car.

The next morning I opened the package which Karpis gave me and I saw a number of new bills of $1.00 denomination, there being ten packages containing $100.00 each. I took the money down to the Toledo Trust at Madison and Summit Streets in Toledo, Ohio, and deposited some of it in my checking account. I then read in the newspaper about a mail train had been robbed at Carrettsville, Ohio, by five men on the day that I went to Zetzer's Marine Garage at Port Clinton, Ohio, and received the $1000.00 from Alvin Karpis.

Benson Groves I have known for a number of years around Toledo, Ohio, and I have seen Benson Groves at McGraw's place in 1935, with Alvin Karpis, Harry Campbell, and Sam Coker who was known to me as Tommie.

After I received the $1000.00 from Alvin Karpis I never saw him any more. I did receive several calls from Harry Campbell and visited him at the McGraw Apartment after I had received the $1000.00 from Alvin Karpis, and I recall that several times Harry Campbell told me that he wanted to see Old Ben and I would send Benson Groves up to see him.

Benson Groves after he was released from the penitentiary the last time came to Toledo, Ohio, and was frequently around the 42nd Street Cafe which I own with my father-in-law, John Broadway. I often saw Benson Groves after Karpis gave me the $1000.00 and I last saw him in about August, 1936, in the 42nd Street Cafe.

I recall that sometime during the year of 1934 I was in the Casino Club, and Bert Angus, Alvin Karpis and Russell Gibson were there. We were all drinking at the Bar. Big Slim said that there were Federal Agents living in a house in Point Place and that they had a telephone tap on the Casino Club, and that he was all for dynamiting the Federal Agents into Lake Erie. Alvin Karpis and Bert Angus told him not to do that as they would declare martial law, close up the town and have them all in jail.

As I have said, I have viewed a photograph of John F. "Sharkey" Gorman. I have known this man for a number of years and know that he works at the Harvard Club in Cleveland, Ohio, as a doorman. I have seen Sharkey Gorman in Toledo, Ohio, at the Jovial Club and at Edith Barry's place. At Edith Barry's place I have seen him with Karpis and Fred Hunter, but I cannot recall the exact circumstances nor the exact date.

In the summer of 1935, I, on one occasion, went to the Harvard Club and talked with James "Shimmy" Patton about a business matter, and he told me that there was a gang hanging around the Club and he would like to get rid of them, and he pointed the gang out to me and I saw Alvin Karpis, Harry Campbell and Fred Hunter, who were at that time in the yard of the Harvard Club. This was at the big place which was operated by the Harvard Club. I at that time told Shimmy Patton that they were the same bunch who had been around the Casino Club in Toledo and that they were a hot bunch, but I did not tell him anything further.

Never at any time subsequent to my learning the true identities of Alvin Karpis, Harry Campbell, Doc Barker, Fred Barker, Russell Gibson, James J. Wilson, Charles J. Fitzgerald, Willie Harrison being wanted by the Government for the kidnaping of Mr. Bremer at St. Paul, did I notify the local police authorities or the Federal authorities inasmuch as I did not feel that it was any of my business to do so. I remember that when I was a small boy attending school that there was a sign on the wall "Think before you speak" and I always acted in accordance with the words contained in that sign, thinking in this instance that I would be better off if I did not say anything.

I have read the above statement consisting of seven pages and have signed my initials to the bottom of each of the pages and my signature to this, the last page. I again desire to state this statement is given freely and voluntarily for the purpose of telling the entire truth.

RE: BREKID.

Dear Sir:

Reference is made to teletype from the Miami Division dated January 26, 1937, advising that the Honorable Alexander Ackerman, Judge of the United States District Court here on January 26, 1937, denied the motion of defendants Adams and Randall to quash the indictments pending against them.

At the hearing which was held in Judge Ackerman's Chambers, Mr. Bart Riley, the attorney for the defendants here, in offering his motion to quash the indictments stated that he was basing the motion on the grounds that there was not offered to the Grand Jury which returned the indictment sufficient legal evidence. He offered no proof for this motion except the evidence which had been presented on the previous day when the motion to suppress certain evidence was heard.

Mr. Charles B. Carr, Special Assistant to the Attorney General then informed the Court that the Government both demurred to the motion and opposed the motion on the grounds that the defense did not state sufficient facts, having offered no evidence that the indictment was not based on legal evidence, adding that the defendant's motion was really based on legal conclusion only, also that the motion was untimely and frivolous. He cited to the Court cases on the point.

Thereafter the Court denied the motion stating that it was not going into the merits of the defendants' contentions at this time, also that if the same contentions were raised at the time of the trial he would then rule on the admissability of the evidence in this case. At this time the Court set this case for trial on June 7, 1937.

DIRECTOR - BALTIMORE

Mr. Charles B. Carr has advised Special Agent in Charge J. H. Hanson that he had already referred to the Bureau the claims of Messers. Bart Riley and P. T. Knight with respect to individuals in Baltimore, Maryland, offering to have this case dismissed for the sum of $10,000.00. Mr. Carr stated that he took an affidavit from Mr. Knight on January 26th giving full details of this offer and that a copy of the affidavit will be furnished to the Bureau through the Department. Mr. Carr also said that according to Mr. Knight, Special Agent in Charge Hanson had advised Mr. Knight not to retain expensive counsel, but that he should employ some young "boy" for a small sum, thus inferring that Special Agent in Charge Hanson was possibly involved with the individuals from Baltimore. Special Agent in Charge Hanson in answer to Mr. Carr's inquiries, advised him that he had made no such statements whatsoever to Mr. Knight.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

At approximately 8:30 P. M. on this date Mr. Shivers in Miami called the Bureau with reference to Joe Roscoe, possible defendant in the Carrettsville mail robbery case and for harboring.

Mr. Shivers advised Mr. Suran that Cleveland had called the Miami Division earlier in the day and talked with Sam McKee, advising of information concerning this man. Cleveland is checking to see if there is a warrant outstanding for Roscoe. Mr. Suran informed Mr. Shivers that the Cleveland Division is to advise him immediately upon the receipt of information. Mr. Shivers was instructed that if such a warrant is outstanding and Roscoe is located in Miami, he should be quietly taken into custody for the purpose of an interview in connection with the harboring case with which Mr. McKee is familiar; however, in the event Roscoe is located, he should not be picked up until Cleveland is contacted and it is determined that there is a warrant for his arrest.

Mr. Shivers was further informed that, in case Roscoe is apprehended, under no circumstances should he be turned over to the Postal Inspectors until the questioning of him by Bureau Agents is completed. Mr. Shivers stated that since there is a possibility of Roscoe being in custody of the Postal Inspectors, he will make a discreet check to determine whether Roscoe is being held by them.

Mr. Suran advised Mr. Shivers of your desire that every effort be exerted to locate and pick up Roscoe when there actually is a warrant for him and that this matter be brought to an early and favorable conclusion. Mr. Shivers stated he would keep the Bureau advised of all developments.

Respectfully,

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

Re: Joe Roscoe.

I talked with Special Agent S. K. McKee at the Miami Office, and he said that since the arrival of Mr. Wynn, they have questioned Roscoe continuously, and have obtained but little more information from him. He said that he is in the process of dictating at this time a statement of the admissions and identific tions which he has made, but whether he will sign this statement or not remains to be seen. Mr. McKee said he has not said anything to Roscoe as yet concerning signing a statement because he was afraid he would refuse to talk any longer, and it is problematical whether he will finally sign one.

Mr. McKee said that Roscoe is getting a little restless and is beginning to talk about getting a lawyer.

I told Mr. McKee that we would like to release the information concerning this case and turn the man over to the Post Office Inspectors by 1:30 today, and accordingly, he should call me at that time and let me know what the situation is.

Time - 1:20 P.M.

Mr. Wynn telephoned me from Miami and said that since he started talking with Roscoe, Roscoe has substantially reiterated the statements which he has previously given to Mr. Shivers and Mr. McKee. He said that they are now dictating a statement which Roscoe says he will sign in which he admits all of those things which have heretofore been reported. Roscoe will make absolutely no statements which will in any way implicate any of the police officers in Toledo.

Mr. Wynn said that he can see no harm that can be done to any harboring case which we have against this man by reason of his being turned over to the Post Office Inspectors. He said that he estimates it will take them a couple of hours yet to get all of the details of this man's admissions down in writing so that he can sign a statement.

RECORDED & INDEXED 7 - 13620

I told Mr. Wynn that we would notify them when and if you decide to make the release in this matter.

Respectfully,

P. E. FOXWORTH.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE FILE

For the purposes of record, the following is the gist of many telephonic conversations which I had with various persons concerning the apprehension of Joe Roscoe, which telephonic conversations occurred during the course of Saturday afternoon the 23rd and Sunday the 24th.

I talked with Mr. Shivers at the Miami Office and told him the Director had authorized their removal of Joe Roscoe to Cleveland for questioning by the men who had worked on the case up there. The arrangements for the removal of the man were discussed. Of course, it was later decided that we would not remove him to Cleveland, but that Agent Wynn would come down to Miami and question the man, after which he would be turned over to the Post Office Inspectors there.

I telephoned Mr. MacFarland and informed him of the above mentioned plans to remove Roscoe to Cleveland for interrogation. He was, of course, later advised of the revocation of those plans, and was at the same time instructed to get Agent Wynn down to Miami by the fastest transportation so that he can question Roscoe. At this time, I told Mr. MacFarland to get as soon as possible a certified copy of the warrant which is outstanding for Roscoe as a result of the indictment which has been returned against him and others in connection with the robbery of the Garrettsville Mail Train.

RECORDED & INDEXED 7-576-1321

I told Mr. Shivers later to be sure and get a signed statement from Joe Roscoe to the effect that he is voluntarily remaining in our custody, so that we can hold him until Monday.

Agent McKee, who was questioning this man, informed me that he admits knowing all of the members of the Barker-Karpis gang with the exception of John Brock. He will not identify Brock's picture. He says he met them during the Spring of 1934 at the old Casino Club in Toledo through Willie Harrison, whom he had known for years, and also through the two Angus brothers, Ted and Bert. Willie Harrison, Ted and Bert Angus, and Charles J. Fitzgerald all told Roscoe that this gang was the "hottest mob in the country". In the Fall of 1934, he saw articles in various newspapers and magazines stating just who these parties were, and stating that they were under indictment for the kidnaping of Edward George Bremer. After that, he came in contact with them on numerous occasions and loaned some of them money. He says that Karpis owes him about $1,800 at this time, while Russell Gibson owes him about $5,000.x Roscoe stated to McKee that he was not afraid to go back to Cleveland in connection with the Garrettsville mail robbery because he was not in any way involved in that case.

Memo for File

There is some difficulty in connection with Agent Wynn's going down to Miami, for the reason that he is under subpoena in a NMVTA case in Detroit for Tuesday. However, the Cleveland Office is making arrangements through the Detroit Office to have Wynn released from this subpoena or the hearing continued so that it will not interfere with the instant matter.

In connection with obtaining a certified copy of the warrant in this matter, Mr. MacFarland informed me that they have been unable to obtain a copy of the warrant as yet, but that they have been furnished with copies of the indictment, certified, which the United States Attorney says will empower and authorize an Agent of the Bureau or any other law enforcement officer of the United States to effect the arrest of Roscoe. Copies of the indictment are being furnished the Bureau and the Miami Office.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

During my telephonic conversation with Mr. MacFarland at Cleveland concerning the latent fingerprints being sent to the police department's single fingerprint bureau there tonight, he advised that United States District Court Judge Paul Jones signed an order today effecting the return of Fred Hunter from Atlanta. The trail date is not certain but it is believed that it will take place within the next two weeks.

Mr. MacFarland advised that there was a news item in tonight's paper there which stated in substance that federal investigators believe Grove has been killed by other members of the gang to prevent his involving them. Mr. MacFarland was of the opinion that there is little truth in this report. He stated that Agents Kitchen and Malone, who are working on the case in Canton, Ohio, made a contact today and it is believed that they have an identification of Groves as being in and around Wellsville, Ohio. A confidential informant, working with these agents has been trying to get into Wellsville, which is now under water.

CRIMINAL FILED IN

POST OFFICE BOX #1469
LITTLE ROCK, ARKANSAS
January 21, 1937

M E M O R A N D U M

On December 13, 1936 one John Dickson was arrested at or near Prescott, Arkansas, by members of the Police Department of Hot Springs, Arkansas, and other State Officers. Dickson was immediately taken to Hot Springs, Arkansas, where he was confined in the City Jail on charges of attempted robbery, auto theft, and aggravated assault upon Chief of Police Joe Wakelin of the Hot Springs Police Department. John Dickson remained in the City Jail until approximately 6:30 P. M. on December 18, 1936, at which time he was surreptitously removed from the City Jail to the New Park Sanitorium because of his physical condition. Dickson remained in the New Park Sanitorium until December 24, 1936 when he died. The death certificate showed that death was due to pneumonia. Subsequently the parents of John Dickson employed attorneys to inquire and investigate the death of their son, due to the allegations that death had been caused by third degree methods rather than by pneumonia, these attorneys being Scott Wood, former Judge of the Eighteenth Judicial Circuit, and C. Floyd Huff, Attorney and United States Commissioner, both of Hot Springs, Arkansas. These Attorneys caused an autopsy to be performed on the body of John Dickson, which disclosed the following marks, bruises, etc. on the body: superficial abrasions (probably burns), contusions and lacerations; fractures of the fifth and seventh ribs, with the separation of the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh costochondral junctions with extravasation of blood into the surrounding tissue; rupture of the left kidney; bronchial pneumonia involving left lung and upper lobe of right lung, and bruised scrotum.

The autopsy or report stated that it was impossible to say just what condition caused the death of Dickson, but declared the wound in the left lung was certainly of such a nature that it would cause death from hemorrhage; that the superficial wounds of the body and fractured ribs were not severe enought to be fatal; that pneumonia preceeded the wounds by several days and could have caused death, and that a wound appeared on the head which appeared to have been made by a blunt instrument; that a discolored area about the size of the palm of a man's hand appeared on the left chest, and there were burns and bruises about the thighs.

On January 1, 1937 Mayor Leo McLaughlin of Hot Springs suspended from office Chief of Police Joe Wakelin, Captain L. A. Cooper, Lieutenant Cecil Brock and Detective Glenn Buchanan in order that they would not be clothed in any official capacity during the investigation of the death of Dickson by the Garland County Grand Jury which Grand Jury was called into session by Circuit Judge Earl Witt for the purpose of investigating the death of this prisoner and other criminal cases.

On January 7, 1937 the Garland County Grand Jury returned an indictment charging second degree murder and naming as defendents Day Captain Arch Cooper, Lieutenant Cecil Brock, Night Captain Robert Moore, Detective R. G. Buchanan, Patrolman Press Griffin, Patrolman Joe Scott and Patrolman Andy Erwin. With this indictment a report was returned by the Grand Jury which in part stated "During our investigation we found no evidence to connect Chief of Police Joe Wakelin with the actual mistreatment of the prisoner, but the evidence revealed by our investigation leads us to believe that had Chief Wakelin exercised a more dominate control over the officers under him such circumstances as those revealed in the Dickson case and other cases of alleged mistreatment of prisoners would not have existed."

Chief of Police Joe Wakelin, who was assaulted by John Dickson, is the brother-in-law of Municipal Judge Verne Legerwood of Hot Springs, they having married sisters. It appears that Judge Legerwood contacted at least two members of this Grand Jury during the investigation. The Foreman of this Grand Jury was one Charles Goslee, Business Manager of the Hot Springs Sentinel-Record newspaper, and a close friend and political ally of Mayor Leo McLaughlin.

Upon the return of this indictment the Mayor of Hot Springs discharged the seven indicted officers, and stated that it was doubtful whether Joe Wakelin would again serve as Chief of Police. The seven indicted officers were released on bonds of $1,500.00 each and the case is now pending trial in the Garland Circuit Court.

It appears that the death of Dickson provided fuel for a political battle between Scott Wood, (former Circuit Judge and opponent of the present City administration in Hot Springs), and Joseph Demby (Defeated in the last election for Judge of the Eighteenth Judicial Circuit, composed of Garland and Montgomery Counties), on one side, and the political machine of Hot Springs on the other side, as on January 14, 1937 a resolution was introduced in the House of Representatives of the State of Arkansas at Little Rock by State Representative W. M. Thompson of Independence County asking for the appointment of a committee to investigatelawlessness and conditions in the Eighteenth Judicial Circuit. This bill, it appears, was prepared by Judge Scott Wood and Joseph Demby and sponsored by Representative Lee Nichols.

This resolution alleged:

1 - That there is open gambling in Hot Springs.

2 - That there is operation of slot machines near public schools and for the use, almost exclusively of school chidren.

3 - That the said slot machines and other gambling devices are owned or partly owned by public officials.

4 - That public officials were employed and paid for part time services in gambling houses.

5 - That Circuit Judge Earl Witt interfered with investigations of alleged violations by Montgomery County Officials.

6 - That the primary election laws were violated in 1936 in the selection of poll officials.

7 - That Mayor Leo P. McLaughlin forced City and County Officials and employees of gambling houses to vote the entire machine ticket through threats of discontinuing or causing to be discontinued their employment.

8 - That the political machine of Garland County printed ten thousand marked ballots which were handed to voters by the election clerks in the August Primary.

9 - That the political machine purchased four thousand tax receipts and distributed them to transients and other illegal voters

10- That the election of Gibson Witt, Jr. as Prosecuting Attorney was due to a "deal" by which Ridgeway agreed to withdraw fromthe race if appointed as Deputy Prosecuting Attorney.

11 - That Circuit Judge Earl Witt took an active part in the campaign in behald of candidates endorsed by the machine.

12 - That a nationwide scandal grew out of the murder of a prisoner in the City Jail of Hot Springs.

13 - That there is gross discrimination in the treatment of prisoners leading the general public to believe that certain notorious criminals can obtain protection under public officials at Hot Springs.

14 - That it is alleged that certain murders committed by certain said protected criminals have never been investigated.

15 - That local authorities sought to prevent the extradition of Charles "Lucky" Luciano from Hot Springs.

16 - That the murderers of two enrollees of a CCC Camp in said Judicial District have been protected by officers charged with the duty of apprehending and prosecuting them.

As to the first allegation it appears that the administration at Hot Springs did not deny this, and the position that gambling has been open and public for the last twenty years and during the administration of Circuit Judge Scott Wood.

Allegation four appears to refer to the employment of police officers as guards or bouncers in the Southern Club and Club Belvedere, which are the two largest and most elaborate gambling establishments in Hot Springs.

Allegation twelve appears to relate to the death of John Dickson.

Allegation fourteen apparently refers to a homicide in Hot Springs several years ago wherein a man was killed by George McLaughlin, brother of the Mayor and a city employee and others.

Allegation fifteen refers to the extradition of Charles "Lucky" Luciano from Hot Springs, Arkansas, to New York City, New York, to answer charges of operating houses of ill-fame and other immoral charges.

Allegation sixteen apparently refers to Montgomery County as there are no known CCC Camps located in Garland County.

It may also be stated that during the last General Election it was common knowledge that the City Administration or machine at Hot Springs, Arkansas, and which controlled Garland County actively sought the defeat of Carl Bailey, Candidate for Governor, and that a large majority of votes polled in Garland County were for Mr. Bailey's opponents.

Mayor Leo McLaughlin of Hot Springs received information about the preparation of this resolution prior to its introduction in the House of Representatives. It appears that the resolution was drafted subsequent to the death of John Dickson and related details concerning the death of this man, but upon the return of theindictment by the Garland County Grand Jury the details of this death were deleted from the resolution. It is possible that the return of this indictment by the Grand Jury was for the purpose of causing the deletion of these facts from the resolution.

Subsequent to receiveing information concerning the resolution Mayor McLaughlin made strenuous efforts to block the introduction of this resolution by contacting his friends and political allies. During these negotations he kept in almost constant touch with W. S. Jacobs who is reported to control all gambling and race result wires in Hot Springs, and city and county officials. Some of the persons through whom Mayor McLaughlin sought to block the introduction of this resolution were Grady Manning, President of the Southwest Hotel Chain, with offices in the Marion Hotel at Little Rock; James R. Campbell, State Representative of Garland County; Joe Schneider, Referee in Bankruptcy, with offices in the Federal Building at Little Rock; Raymond Rebsamen, who has the Ford Agency and an insurance office in Little Rock, and who is reported to be in power with the present State Administration; Carroll Hollingsworth, former State Representative from Bradley County, and now Parliamentarian of the State House of Representatives; Jack Holt, State Attorney General; Ed McHaney, Jr., Attorney and son of Supreme Court Judge Ed McHaney; and State Representative W. K. Tony of Jefferson County. Through Joe Schneider, the Referee in Bankruptcy, the Mayor contacted Guy Williams a former Assistant Attorney General under Governor Bailey, and the Governor. It also appeared that gambling was being opened in the Eastmas Hotel at Hot Springs, which hotel is a member of the Southwest Hotel Chain, and that this gambling was being sponsored by Grady Manning and other persons in Little Rock.

Although strenuous efforts were made to block the introduction of this resolution the same was introduced in the House of Representatives on January 14, 1937 and was passed by a vote of seventy-two to twenty-One. An investigative committee was thereupon appointed by the Speaker of the House, together with a Little Rock Attorney as attorney for the committee. (This committee is now engaged in investigating conditions in the Eighteenth Judicial Circuit which includes the City of Hot Springs and Garland County) The committee, through the Arkansas State Rangers and Agents of the State Revenue Department, recently obtained photographs of the gambling establishments in Hot Springs, and served subpoenas upon County and City Officials and proprietors of gambling establishments and required the production of records including bank accounts, income tax returns, payroll records including "hot checks" etc. The meetings of this committee and the evidence being produced before the same are secret, but it is reported that all evidence and testimony of witnesses is being reported by a stenographer and transcribed. M emorandum for Inspector E.J.Connelley.

BREKID.

H erewith are the logs for January 25,1937, on the taps being maintained on telephones 125, 446 and 648 at Hot Springs Ark.

It is apparent that Mayor McLaughlin knows of the operation of gambling establishments in Hot Springs and apparently has no intention of suppressing them. In this connection, attention is called to the telephone conversation at 10.50A.M. over telephone #648 between Mayor McLaughlin and William S. J acobs. The Mayor tells Jacobs that he warned certain Places(undoubtedly "Bookie" places on Central Ave., not to call the results so loudly. It may be noted that one of the allegations made before the State Le islature, was that the announcing of race results by "Bookie" places in Hot Springs could be heard by persons on the street.

It appears that some complaint was made of workmen and others who could not a fford to gamble, losing money at gambling places in Hot Springs. At 11.44A.M. over #648 the Mayor speaks with Bob Dean of the S entinel Record Newspaper and tells him that he will close up those places running "Petty" games with stakes of less than $1.00 . Incidentally this program would tend to benefit the large operators, such as Jacobs who run places patronized by wealthier people.

The Mayor carried out his intention expressed to Dean,as can be seen from telephone conversation over #648 at 11. 51.A.M. , where McLaughlin and one Smitty, who pr bably operates the wire service used by "Bookie places, converse about this matter.

Memorandum to Inspector E.J. Connelley.

BREKID

Attached are the logs for January 2[illegible],1937, on the taps being maintained on telephones 125,446 and 646 at Hot S prings Ark..

In the telephone call at 9.44 A.M. over #648, Louis of the Kentucky Club (a bookie place), complains to Mayor McLaughlin of his inability to obtain a "Gum" machine, prob bly referring to some type of slot machine and the mayor indicates he will "fix" it for Louis.

In the telephone call at 9.27 A.M. over telephone #648, the Mayor agrees to "fix" a parking ticket for Judge Fuller of Waldron Ark..

Your attention is directed to the call at 9.4CA.M. over #446, where Mayor M cL aughlin warns the police to keep a close watch on the "banks" tonight. Similar calls have been made on other nights by McLaughlin. The "Banks" referred to, by McL aughlin may be ligitimate banks, but these calls may refer to the banks or money at the different gambling houses in Hot Springs.

Respectfully submitted.

Cella = Hello -
Mayor = Hello - this is Les. How is the weather up there?
Cella = It's snowing and is very cold.
Mayor = Well, I went over to Little Rock yesterday. There wasn't room for the Racing Commission at the State House so they moved all the records out to the home of Ed. Farris and held the meeting there. We had a fine meeting. All the fellows are pretty young but are a swell bunch. They have played the horses some and seem to know what it is all about. I went over this whole thing. It took a little explanation. And then I went over the whole thing from your stand point.

Cella = What about this new bill?

Mayor = Well, they are all against the bill realizing that it would cut down the state's revenue.
They are all determined to keep the thing as it is. Hillian I said he had talked to the Governor and the Governor is not in favor of any change

Cella - That's good.

Mayor = Tell an any of that technical stuff you wade fixed just let me know. The whole Commission said they would stand back of me in everything.

Cella - Do you think they want one ti submit a list of the track officials by January 28.

1/27/37

Mayor = I don't think that is necessary. They said we could get all that fixed up without any trouble.

Cella = How did Ed. Farris act?

Mayor = Never better. He hasn't had a drink in a long time.

Cella = That's fine.

Mayor = They asked for a figure as to the states income from the tracks. Farris told them that last year the State received from the Horse and dog tracks a sum of about $37,000.

Cella = Well the greater part of that was from the Horses.

Mayor = Yes. Farris pointed that out

Cella = Well. that is fine Leo - I think Ive got a good attorney -

Re: BARKID

Dear Sir:

This will confirm conversation had with Mr. Foxworth of the Bureau on Sunday, January 24, 1937, at which time Mr. Foxworth instructed the writer to direct Special Agent E.J. Wynn to proceed to Miami, Florida, on the first available transportation and to advise him of the accommodations of the said Agent and when the said Agent would arrive in Florida.

At this time Mr. Foxworth was advised that Special Agent E.J. Wynn was under subpoena to appear at Detroit, Michigan, on January 27, 1937, to testify in the case entitled STANLEY ARTHUR [illegible]; et al; National Motor Vehicle Theft Act.

Mr. Foxworth instructed the writer to contact with Special Agent in Charge H.H. Reinecke for the purpose of effecting the release of Special Agent E.J. Wynn from the said subpoena and suggested that Special Agent in Charge Reinecke be advised to inform the United States Attorney at Detroit, Michigan, that an emergency had arisen making it impossible for the said Special Agent to be available. Mr. Foxworth stated that every effort would be made to get Mr. Wynn back from Miami as soon as possible.

The writer called Special Agent in Charge H.H. Reinecke on the telephone and advised him of the situation. Special Agent in Charge Reinecke advised that it would be all right for Mr. Wynn to proceed to Miami and that he would arrange if possible to have the case postponed until Special Agent Wynn would be available.

Mr. Foxworth of the Bureau was advised then by telephone that Special Agent E.J. Wynn was leaving for Miami, Florida, on the New York Central Railroad, via Washington, D.C., at 8:55 pm, January 24, 1937. A request was made of Mr. Foxworth to arrange if possible a reservation for Special Agent Wynn on the Eastern Air Lines leaving Washington, D.C., at 11:00 am Monday, January 25, 1937. It was mentioned to Mr. Foxworth that if Special Agent Wynn could not get air accommodations which would put him in Miami at 6:30 pm Monday night, he would then arrive by train in Miami, Florida, at 8:30 am on January 26, 1937.

Mr. Foxworth indicated that he would handle the matter of making the reservation requested.

Re: BARKER

Dear Sir:

In accordance with telephonic instructions received from Mr. R.C. Suran of the Bureau the writer contacted United States Attorney Emerich B. Freed for the purpose of effecting arrangements to secure possession of such warrants as may be issued in the harboring cases pending at Toledo, Ohio, when and if an indictment is returned.

Mr. Freed indicated that when and if prosecutive action is initiated in the harboring cases, it will be absolutely necessary for Inspector E.J. Connelley to be available in this Division to assist in the arrests of the subjects and the trial of the cases.

Such warrants as may be issued in connection with the harboring cases, Mr. Freed assures the writer, will be immediately turned over to this Field Division for service.

Mr. Freed indicated that he would keep this Division fully informed of any action he initiates or takes in this case.

It was mentioned by Mr. Freed that this matter is pending a decision by the Department with reference to prosecutive action.

Dear Mr. Sherman:

Your letter dated January 1[illegible], 1957, addressed to the President of the United States, has been referred to me for attention.

I have to advise you that the records of the Federal Bureau of Investigation do not indicate the information furnished by you resulted in the apprehension of Alvin Karpis. The files of this bureau also fail to reflect any record of an individual by the name of "Louisianne", but it is presumed that you probably refer to Charles Luciano, who was apprehended by state authorities at Hot Springs, Arkansas and who was not being sought by this bureau for a violation of a Federal law.

Horner resided at Dayton, Ohio, Rural Route #4, P.O.Box #294.

It was ascertained through an interview with Mrs. Gertrude Sprout, Rural Route #4, P.O. Box 294, who was interviewed by Agents under the pretext that he was an investigator from the State Board of Health investigating the reason why a death certificate reflecting the death of her husband had not been recorded with the Montgomery County Board of Health, that her husband, Charles Clark Sprout had died at the home of James T. Horner, at the above address on October 7, 1936, at the age of 72 years and that he died penniless. It was ascertained that Mr. and Mrs. Sprout had been living with the Horner family for the past two years and that Mrs. Sprout intended to return to her home at 6236 Van Buren St., Hammond, Indiana, in the near future. It was further developed through Mrs. Sprout that the following persons were relatives of her husband, together with their relationship:

Mrs. Ida B. Sprout, sister, 7 Burlington Ave., Dayton, Ohio;
Mrs. Jessie Davis, sister, 4901 West 3rd St., Dayton, Ohio;
Mr. James T. Sprout, brother, Imperial, Penn.

Mrs. Sprout related during the course of the interview that she had recently visited some of her relatives residing in Pennsylvania; however, she did not mention their names or addresses and it was not deemed advisable to attempt to obtain them from her, in view of the fact that it was felt that the identity of these relatives could be ascertained through a mail cover placed on her mail. It is to be noted that James T. Horner's wife, deceased, was a sister of Charles Sprout.

Agent exhibited the photograph of Benson Groves to Ralph Taylor, mail carrier, who delivers mail out of Station A, which cover Ida B. Groves' address, with negative results. Mr. Taylor stated that he had only recently been assigned to that route and had not observed anyone who looked like Groves at the home of Mrs. Ida B.Groves. He was unable to furnish any information concerning David L. Miller, who his change of address book reflected, also resided at that address. Mr. Taylor was requested to make a particular effort in the future to determine whether or not anyone answering the description of Groves' photograph was residing at the home of Mrs. Groves.

Mr. C. V. Richey, Superintendent of Station A, Dayton Post Office, was interviewed for the purpose of securing the name of a person residing in the vicinity who might act as an informant to develop if Groves was visiting or in contact with Mrs. Ida B. Groves. Mr. Richey suggested the name of Mr. Charles Wagner, 2013 East 3rd St., who he advised had lived in that vicinity for the past forty-five years and who could be trusted as a reliable informant. Mr. Richey was furnished with the telephone number and address of the Cincinnati Division and was instructed to immediately advise that office of any information carrier Taylor might furnish him relative to the appearance of Benson Groves at the home of Mrs. Ida B. Groves.

Mr. Charles Wagner on interview and upon being exhibited a photograph of Groves, stated that he had not observed him in that vicinity. On further studying the photograph, he stated that it greatly resembled a man whom he had observed at Germantown, Ohio, several months ago. He further advised that he was acquainted with David L. Miller, a retired carpenter, who resided at #7 Burlington Avenue, and that he could approach him without arousing his suspicion, to ascertain if Mrs. Groves knew of Benson Groves' whereabouts. Mr. Wagner was furnished with the telephone number and address of the Cincinnati Division office and requested to immediately communicate with that office in event he developed any information concerning Benson Groves.

Mr. H. W. Pleasant, Assistant Postmaster, Dayton, Ohio, was contacted in the absence of Postmaster C. N. Greer, and requested to furnish the Cincinnati Division with mail tracings of all first-class mail delivered to the following:

Mr. James T. Horner,
Mrs. Gertrude Sprout,
Rural Route #4, Box 294, Dayton, Ohio;

Mrs. Ida B. Groves,
Mr. David L. Miller,
7 Burlington Ave., Dayton, Ohio.

Mrs. Jessie Davis,
4901 West 3rd St., Dayton, Ohio.

Further investigation for the purpose of locating Groves was discontinued at this time and no effort was made to conduct an investigation in the vicinity of the Davis residence, in view of the fact that it was felt that informant Wagner, through his close acquaintance with David L. Miller, will be able to develop information concerning the whereabouts of Benson Groves through Miller in the very near future and that continued investigation might result in Groves being apprised that an investigation was being conducted to locate him.

Undeveloped Leads:

THE PITTSBURGH FIELD DIVISION, at Imperial, Penn., will locate James T.Sprout, uncle of Benson Groves, and discreetly ascertain if Groves is in contact with him.

THE CINCINNATI FIELD DIVISION at Dayton, Ohio, will keep in contact with informant Charles Wagner, 2013 East 3rd St. Will report the results of mail covers pleced on the mail of the relatives of Groves. Will, in event information of value is not developed through informant Wagner, consider the advisability of conducting further investigation to determine if Groves is in contact with any of his relatives in Dayton, Ohio.

robbery. It was stated that Zetzer had been apprehended but that Roscoe and Groves were fugitives.

Agent Wynn advised that information obtained through a confidential informant, namely: a maid working in the home of Roscoe at Toledo, Ohio, was that Roscoe left Toledo some time between the past Christmas and New Years, and was believed to be residing at the present time either in Miami or Miami Beach on Pennsylvania Avenue at a number composed of four digits. He is said to be driving a 1935 Buick coupe bearing 1936 Ohio licenses number 3537-F, which are good in the State of Ohio until April 1, 1937.

It was also stated that information was that Roscoe might also be living at a summer resort located on an island across a river from a town called Everglades, this town being in Florida, and that access to the island in question is had by a boat, and in order to secure the boat it is necessary to shout from the mainland to somebody on the island.

Agent Wynn also stated that Roscoe is said to have an interest in the Triangle Gun Club of Miami Beach, Florida. Mention was also made of the fact that Roscoe is contemplating visiting his mother in Italy and for this reason he might attempt to secure a passport.

Agent Wynn stated that the Cleveland Field Division had been in telephonic communication with Mr. R. C. Suran at the Bureau, and that a most discreet investigation had been instructed for the purpose of locating Roscoe. It was stated that the fact that we were making an investigation looking toward Roscoe's location was not to be made public in any way, and that if we were successful in locating him the Bureau should be telephoned for instructions prior to taking any action in the way of arresting him. It was also stated that in conducting investigation with respect to Roscoe, it should be borne in mind that Benson Groves might be with him or in communication with him.

At the time of the above telephonic conversation, the following description of Joseph Roscoe was furnished:

Age	46 Years (Born in Italy)
Height	5' 8"
Weight	190 pounds
Build	Heavy, shoulders slightly humped
Complexion	Dark
Hair	Black and wavy
Eyes	Blue
Teeth	Fair
Face	Clean shaven

Peculiarities — Continually keeps cigar in corner of mouth.

On the night of January 20, 1937, Mr. R. C. Suran, of the Bureau, telephoned to Special Agent in Charge R. L. Shivers, at the Miami Field Division, and instructed that the Cleveland Field Division was to ascertain if a capias or warrant had been issued for the arrest of Roscoe and in the event process had been issued it was desired that this division apprehend Roscoe if he could be located in the district, and that in event he were apprehended he should be questioned concerning the harboring cases at Toledo and Cleveland, Ohio, and that the Bureau should be immediately advised if he were located. Mr. Suran directed that Roscoe not be apprehended unless the Cleveland Field Division advised that process was outstanding.

On January 21, 1937, Special Agent in Charge J. P. MacFarland, of the Cleveland Field Division, advised telephonically that a warrant had been issued at Toledo, Ohio, for the arrest of Roscoe, based on the indictment returned against him in connection with the Garretsville train robbery.

On January 21, 1937, observations were made during both the day and night along Pennsylvania Avenue in Miami Beach, Florida, in an effort to locate the Buick coupe belonging to Roscoe through the Ohio license plates which it bore. However, results in this respect were negative. It is to be stated that Pennsylvania Avenue is only ten blocks in length and is taken up mainly by apartment houses and small hotels.

Inquiry was made through Manager Watkins, of the Western Union Telegraph Company, and Manager Rogers, of the Postal Telegraph Company, for an address as to Joseph Roscoe, but it was determined that neither of these companies were in possession of such an address.

Inquiries through Chief of Detectives Ed Carpenter, of the Miami Beach Police Department, and Mr. Wigman, of the Miami Rifle, Pistol and Skeet Club, failed to reflect any information as to the existence of an organization, either in Miami, Miami Beach or vicinity, known as the Triangle Gun Club.

Reference to the Postal Guide reflected that there is a town known as Everglades located some eighty miles from Miami, on the West coast of Florida. The writer and Special Agent R. T. Noonan proceeded to Everglades, Florida, and made inquiries through F. S. Lewis, Manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company, and his wife, Mrs. F. S. Lewis, the Postmistress, but no information could be obtained indicating the presence of Roscoe in this town.

It is to be stated that there is an island located just off the town of Everglades, and that a resort known as The Poinciana Camp is located on same. Further, that access to this camp is had by shouting across the river to some one at the camp who then comes to the mainland by a boat. Mrs. George Van Schoik, who operates the Poinciana Camp with her husband, was interviewed and it was ascertained that the resort has only had two visitors this season, namely: one Joe Brown, who is from New Jersey, and one Joseph C. Gribbin, an attorney at law from Toledo, Ohio. Descriptions of these individuals were obtained and they in no way coincided with that of Roscoe. Gribbin had left a portfolio at the camp upon his departure, and a search of same reflected a business card from which it was learned that he is an attorney at law with offices located in the West Toledo Standard Building, 638 Phillips Avenue, Toledo, Ohio.

Inquiries through Lieutenant Erickson, of the United States Coast Guard, Miami, Florida, resulted in the information that there is a town known as Port Everglades located about two miles south of Hollywood, Florida, on the East Coast. The writer proceeded to Port Everglades and ascertained that it is a recent development used at the present time as a harbor by oil companies. Several oil companies also have large storage tanks at this point. Inquiry through a local storekeeper reflected that there is no island located in this section which is used for residential or camping purposes.

On the late afternoon of January 21, 1937, Special Agent in Charge J. P. MacFarland telephoned the Miami Field Division that the attorney for Roscoe at Toledo, Ohio, had advised one of the Assistant United States Attorneys at Toledo that the last address he had for Roscoe was 2332 Liberty Avenue, Miami Beach, Florida, in care of Carter's Place.

Special Agents R. J. Untreiner and B. L. Farrell proceeded to Carter's place around dinner time on January 21, 1937, and maintained a surveillance of persons dining in the place, with negative results. It is to be stated that Carter's Place is being operated at the present time as a high class restaurant. Information is that during the season of 1935-36 gambling was operated in this place, and is to be commenced during the present season on or about January 26, 1937. The place is owned and operated by George R. K. Carter and Tommy McGinty.

George R. K. Carter was interviewed at his place of business on the night of January 21, 1937, by Special Agent in Charge R. L. Shivers and the writer. In response to questions he advised that he was not acquainted with Joe Roscoe, but that this individual might be known to his partner, Tommy McGinty. It is to be stated that Carter's attitude at the time of this interview was one of anything except frankness, and that very little credence was placed in what he had to say.

For the sake of brevity, and also that the information might be incorporated at this point, it is stated that Joe Roscoe, following his apprehension, advised that he has been acquainted with Carter for possibly five years, has borrowed money from him on occasions, and has been in contact with him on several occasions during his present visit in Miami. Roscoe did state, however, that he did not believe Carter knew at what hotel he was stopping.

Tommy McGinty was interviewed by Special Agent in Charge Shivers and the writer on January 22, 1937, and when questioned with respect to Roscoe he advised that he has known Roscoe for a number of years and knew him to be in Miami at the present time. He stated that he had seen him a few days prior to the instant interview, at which time Roscoe remarked that he was stopping at some hotel in Miami. McGinty professed not to know the name of this hotel at the time of the interview.

It is stated at this point that Roscoe, following his apprehension, advised that he has known McGinty for possibly twenty years, has seen him on several occasions during his instant trip, and was in possession of a memorandum from the Columbus Hotel, at which place he stopped until January 20, 1937, reflecting that McGinty telephoned him at 2:20 P.M. January 19, 1937.

On January 22, 1937, contact was had with the Miami Beach Police Department and the Miami Police Department, requesting that their scout cars be on the lookout for a Buick coupe bearing 1936 Ohio licenses number 3537-F. These broadcasts were made with instructions that only the location of the Buick coupe was desired, and that no action was to be taken as to any persons occupying it in the event it was located. Following the apprehension of Roscoe both of these radio bulletins were cancelled.

On the morning of January 23, 1937, the writer and Special Agent G. S. Goshorn made additional observations along Pennsylvania Avenue in Miami Beach in an effort to locate Roscoe's automobile. No success was had. These Agents commenced a house to house canvass of the various buildings on Pennsylvania Avenue in an effort to locate Roscoe. Through Mrs. Adler, Manager of the Robert Fulton Apartment, 1527 Pennsylvania Avenue, it was ascertained that Joseph Roscoe and his wife had occupied an apartment in this building during the season of 1935-36, and had come to the apartment from the Fleetwood Hotel.

John Hurst, Manager of the Fleetwood Hotel, Miami Beach, Florida, was interviewed by the writer and it was ascertained that he had only taken up his duties as manager of this hotel during the current season. He ascertained from the Chief Clerk of the hotel that Roscoe was known to him but had not been seen in the place during the current season.

Shortly after leaving the Fleetwood Hotel and enroute to continue the house to house canvass of Pennsylvania Avenue the writer and Agent Gosborn observed Roscoe's Buick coupe, bearing 1936 Ohio licenses No. 3537-F, parked at a point on 14th Street just west of Washington Avenue. A large apartment house was located directly across the street from the point where the car was parked. Inquiries were made of the manager of this apartment building in an effort to ascertain if Roscoe was residing at the place, and while this interview was taking place a man answering Roscoe's description was seen to enter his car. Agents approached the car and ascertained the occupant to be Joseph Roscoe. He was taken into custody at approximately 11:30 A.M. January 23, 1937, and taken to the offices of the Miami Field Division.

Special Agent in Charge R. L. Shivers advised the Bureau telephonically of the apprehension of Roscoe and received instructions to keep him in custody at the office for questioning until instructions as to what disposition was to be made of him were received.

A voluntary waiver of removal and a statement to the effect that he was remaining in the Miami Field Division voluntarily were executed by Roscoe on the afternoon of January 23, 1937, and same are being made a part of this file at the Miami Field Division.

Roscoe advised that he left Toledo, Ohio, alone approximately eight or nine days before Christmas, 1936, and drove to Miami, where he registered at the Columbus Hotel as J. L. Roscoe. He said he checked out of the Columbus Hotel on January 21, 1937, and took an apartment at the Ocean View Hotel located on the ocean approximately two miles south of Hollywood, Florida. He advised that he had paid $200.00 as rental for this apartment up to and including May 1, 1937. He said he saw both George Carter and Tommy McGinty on January 21st, but he could not recall whether he told them of having moved to the Ocean View Hotel. He has been acquainted with George Carter for approximately five years, and has known McGinty for over twenty years. Roscoe said he is not interested in any local business, and came to Miami solely for his health, claiming that he was suffering from rheumatism badly in one knee, and that he came to Miami for the season. He advised that he reads the Cleveland, Ohio, newspapers and that he read of his indictment in connection with the Garretsville mail robbery a couple of days ago. He stated that it was his intention to return to Cleveland on or about January 25, 1937, in order to furnish a bond in connection with his indictment. However, it is to be noted that his recent rental of an apartment and payment of $200.00 as season rental was in conflict with his statement that he intended to return to Cleveland.

On January 24, 1937, the writer and Special Agent R. T. Noonan secured Roscoe's effects from the Ocean View Hotel and brought them to the Miami Field Division. A suit of clothes and overcoat which he had left at the White Star Cleaners, Hollywood, Florida, were also obtained for him.

Roscoe's attitude at the present time is somewhat one of frankness. He endeavors to impress the fact that he is willing to answer any questions concerning any subject. However, it is noted that his answers to questions are such that they might well be termed as self-serving. A large group of photographs of various persons connected with this case were displayed to Roscoe and from this group he identified a large number as persons with whom he had come in contact, and the individuals whom he has identified include the principal subjects in this entire investigation.

Advice to the effect that Roscoe was talking somewhat frankly was communicated telephonically to Mr. Foxworth, of the Bureau, on January 24, 1937, and he later advised Special Agent in Charge Shivers that Special Agent E.J. Wynn, of the Cleveland Field Division, was coming to Miami to assist in questioning of Roscoe. Mr. Foxworth requested that all information obtained from Roscoe at the then present time be reported to the Bureau. Inasmuch as it is anticipated that all statements made by Roscoe will be taken in written form following the arrival of Special Agent Wynn, the information he has furnished thus far is being set out herein in brief form under the names of the various individuals to whom it refers.

ALVIN KARPIS -

Roscoe states he first met Karpis during the spring of 1934 at the Casino Club, Toledo, Ohio, through Bert Angus. He only knew him by the name of Slim. He thought Karpis was working on the boats inasmuch as he and his associates wore naval caps. He saw Karpis' picture in newspapers and magazines in the fall of 1934, and at that time learned he was Alvin Karpis and was under indictment in St. Paul, Minnesota, for the Bremer kidnaping. Roscoe was unable to state the particular newspaper or magazine in which he had seen Karpis' photograph. He remembered that during the spring of 1934 either Karpis or Fred Barker had their hands bandaged for about a week but he professed not to know the reason for the bandages. He admitted having seen Karpis on numerous occasions after learning his true identity, and mentioned that he had gone to see him on at least three or four occasions at Edith Barry's house in Toledo, and on several occasions at the home of Edith McGraw. He also said he saw him on several occasions at the Casino Club after knowing his identity. He claimed he last saw him at John Zetzer's garage at Port Clinton, Ohio, after the Garretsville mail robbery, at which time Benson Groves, Karpis, Harry Campbell, Fred Hunter and one other man (whom he did not know) were present.

Roscoe claimed that Karpis owes him about $1800.00, which had been loaned in amounts of two to five hundred dollars, the last loan being in the fall of 1935, about a month or so prior to the Garretsville train robbery. He said that on the night he saw Karpis and the others in Zetzer's garage Karpis gave him a package of money and told him that was some of the money he owed him. Roscoe said he took the package home and upon opening same found it contained $1,000.00 in $1.00 bills, and that he deposited this money in his checking account at the Toledo Trust Company on the following morning. Roscoe said that after Karpis gave him this package of money he, Roscoe, left the garage in his 1935 Buick coupe, being accompanied by Campbell and Groves, and that he let these individuals out of his car at the Armory in Port Clinton, at which time they said they were going to get their car.

Roscoe claimed that his relationship with Karpis was actuated more or less by fear for his own life; that he loaned money to him for this reason, and when asked to meet him he always went through with the meeting because he did not want any trouble. He stated that Karpis never contacted him directly, but always did so through Fred Hunter; that Hunter would come to him and advise that a party wanted to see him or would telephone and communicate similar advice, and that when this happened he would always find Karpis to be the party in question. Roscoe stated that during the period when he first became acquainted with Karpis and others of the mob that Willie Harrison told him the mob were "the hottest men in the country". He said Willie Harrison did not elaborate on this statement, and that he did not question Harrison further concerning it. He also advised that Old Charlie Fitzgerald, whom he had known for years, advised him during the spring of 1934 that "the boys" were hotter than firecrackers. He said that both Bert and Ted Angus also told him that "the boys" were hot, but that he did not ask them to elaborate.

Roscoe blames Willie Harrison and Bert and Ted Angus for any trouble he might have in connection with his associations with Karpis and others. He said he had heard it rumored for months around Toledo that the G-men were making an investigation of the various people who were associated with Karpis and the rest of the mob, and that he expected to be questioned about the mob a long time ago.

CHARLES J. FITZGERALD -

Roscoe said he has known Fitzgerald as "Old Charlie" for about twenty years; that when he first knew him he was engaged in the liquor business with Al Yonkers. He said he has heard of Fitzgerald's wife, Belle, but has never met her. He said Fitzgerald was in Toledo in the spring and summer of 1934 with "the boys" and spent most of his time drinking with them around the old Casino Club. He said Fitzgerald was wearing a cane at the time and that one of his legs seemed to be in very bad shape. He said he had seen Fitzgerald at Edith Barry's house on one occasion, but he could not recall whom he was with. Roscoe knows Fitzgerald as an old time bank robber.

RUSSELL GIBSON -

Roscoe stated he met Gibson, as "Big Slim", at the Casino Club in Toledo, Ohio, during the spring of 1934 through Bert and Ted Angus and Willie Harrison. He described Slim as a tough guy, and said in his opinion he was by far the toughest member of the Barker-Karpis mob. He stated that Slim borrowed money from him on several occasions, and that these loans were practically extorted. He claimed that Slim probably owes him $5,000.00 at the present time. He said that Slim used to run around with "Doc" Barker most of the time, and that frequently Ollie Berg was also in their company.

Roscoe recited an instance of Slim having come to his house at about 4:00 A.M. for the purpose of securing $500.00, and when he told him he did not have the money he said "Get it and be at the Jovial Club at 10:00 in the morning". Roscoe said he did give Gibson $500.00 at the appointed time and place.

Roscoe also related that some time during the late fall of 1934, possibly around Christmas, Gibson came to the Casino Club one night around 10:00 or 11:00 and sent an unknown man into the Club; that he went out to see Slim and Slim wanted $2500.00; that he told Slim he didn't have the money, at which time he departed; that Slim came back around 2:00 A.M., alone, and took him in his car to a lonely point in Bay View and told him that there was no use stalling, that the mob knew he had money, and that he knew about men being found in ditches around Chicago; that Slim kept him in his car until 9:00 A.M. the following morning and then drove him to the Ohio Savings Bank in Toledo, where he withdrew $2500.00 from a safety deposit box and gave it to Slim. Roscoe advised that the safety deposit box in question is rented in the name of Mrs. Phyllis Broadway, Mrs. Ganey Broadway, and Joseph Roscoe.

Roscoe also related an instance concerning Slim Gibson having heard that there were several G-men located in a house in Point Place, Ohio, in connection with a telephone tap being maintained on the Casino Club. He said Gibson got drunk and wanted to get four or five cases of dynamite and blow the house and Agents into the lake. He said that the Angus brothers, Karpis and he were present with Gibson at the time and kept him from carrying out his purpose by saying that if he went through with his plan he would only get everybody in jail and might possibly cause the entire city to be placed under marital law.

(It is to be recalled that during the fall of 1934, as will be found in reports not in possession of this office, that a number of Agents were located in a house at Point Place, Ohio, in connection with a telephone tap on the Casino Club.)

BENSON GROVES -

Roscoe states he has known Benson Groves for possibly twenty years or more, and has always spoken of him by the name "Old Ben". He said he never knew Old Ben to work, and advised that he knew the man had served several terms for Post Office robberies. He advised that Old Ben is a very intimate friend of "Tip" O'Neil. He stated that Old Ben was with Karpis, Campbell, Hunter, Zetzer, himself and an unknown individual (John Brock) at Zetzer's Garage in Port Clinton, Ohio, on the night the proceeds of the Garretsville mail robbery were divided, and that Old Ben and Campbell left the garage in his, Roscoe's car and were dropped out at a point near the armory in Port Clinton.

Roscoe stated that Old Ben frequented Edith Barry's house of prostitution in Toledo, and he believes he has seen him at this point with Karpis, and possibly one other member of the mob. He stated that during the summer of 1936 Old Ben hung around the 42nd Street Cafe in Toledo, and that he used to drink a lot of beer at this place. He left Toledo in about August, 1936, and stated he was going to Detroit, Michigan. He also advised that following the Garretsville mail robbery he sent Old Ben down to Ed McGraw's house in Toledo at the request of Harry Campbell. Roscoe stated that Old Ben used to be a good friend of Johnny Regan, now deceased, who used to operate a large gambling establishment in Detroit. Roscoe also advised that about October, 1936, a Toledo crap dealer, known as Whitey, advised him that he saw Old Ben in Canton, Ohio, at a gambling place which used to be operated by one Jim "Jumbo" Crowley. Roscoe stated that he knew Crowley, but had not been in Canton for possibly ten years.

Roscoe also advised that one "Whitey" Mason, aged about fifty years (not the Whitey referred to above), who is employed as a doorman at Harry Levine's gambling place in Toledo, next door to the Commodore Perry Hotel, is well acquainted with Old Ben and should know where he is at the present time.

It was also ascertained from Roscoe that one "Slim" Martin, an old "soup" man who hangs around the Navarre Hotel in Toledo, is well acquainted with Old Ben, and that in about 1931 when Old Ben was last sentenced to the penitentiary for Post Office robbery, Old Ben got in touch with him, Roscoe, by letter, and asked that he secure his clothes and trunk from the place where he had been living in Toledo. He stated that he sent Slim Martin tothe house where Old Ben had been living but that the woman who operated this house refused to let him have the clothes. Roscoe seemed to remember that the house where Old Ben had been living was located on 19th Street in Toledo.

OLLIE BERG -

Roscoe identified the photograph of Ollie Berg as an individual whom he had seen at the Casino Club in company with Slim Gibson, "Doc" Barker and Jimmie Wilson. He stated he never met him, nor knew his name, but has referred to him in conversation as the "Jew". Roscoe stated that Berg just seemed to be hanging around at the Casino Club, and that while he was there he did not get the impression that he was connected with the outfit.

JAMES J. WILSON -

Roscoe said he met this individual as Jimmie Wilson in the spring of 1934 at the Casino Club, where Wilson used to be seen frequently with Slim Gibson, Ollie Berg, Doc Barker and Slim Harrison. He said Wilson was drunk practically every night, and that he used to be very popular with the female hangers-on at the Casino Club. Roscoe recalled that he saw Jimmie Wilson at Middle Island on one occasion when he, Roscoe, was there for a very short time. He stated that Bert Angus was running the Island at the time he saw Wilson there. In this connection, he stated that two men named Buster Williams and Dewey Smith worked for Bert Angus at the Island during this period; that when he saw Wilson at the Island there were several other members of the mob with him but he could not remember their identity.

WILLIE HARRISON -

He stated he met Harrison as Willie Harrison during prohibition days when Harrison and Bert Angus operated a saloon in Calumet, Illinois. He stated that on several occasions he loaned Harrison money to buy loads of whiskey. He said that Harrison has visited in Toledo during the past twenty years, where he frequented night clubs and bootlegging joints, and that he was very well known in Toledo. He stated that Harrison used to spend a great deal of time at the Jovial Club when he came to Toledo; that in the Spring of 1934 Harrison introduced the other members of the Barker-Karpis mob to Roscoe; that during the period when these individuals were met Harrison, while drunk, told him that "The boys are the hottest mob in the country". Roscoe stated that Harrison was about as well acquainted in Cleveland as he was in Toledo, and that he knew most of the persons connected with the operation of the Harvard Club.

In response to questions, Roscoe stated that the only conversation concerning this mob which he had with anyone connected with the Harvard Club was during a visit to the place when "Shimmy" Patten pointed out several men sitting near the place in a car and stated that these men were hanging around the place and did not look good to him. Roscoe fixed the time of this incident as sometime during the summer or fall of 1935. Roscoe said he looked at the men to whom Patten referred and noticed that they were Karpis, Campbell and Hunter, and that the only thing he said to Patten at this time was that they were the same bunch who had been hanging around the Casino Club. He advised that the boys were alone at this time and that he did not see anyone in conversation with them. He also stated that he did not say anything to Patten as to their identity, although he knew who they were at the time.

JOHN F. GORMAN -

Roscoe stated he has known this individual for possibly ten years, or more, as "Sharkey" Gorman, and that during this period Sharkey had been working for Shimmy Patten in the bootlegging and gambling rackets. During the past several years he has been employed as a doorman at the Harvard Club in Cleveland, Ohio. Roscoe stated he has seen Sharkey in Toledo on numerous occasions at Edith Barry's house and the Jovial Club, and at Ed McGraw's place; that some of the mob may have been with him on occasions, although he could not recall but the one instance, namely: an occasion during 1935 when Karpis and Hunter were with Sharkey at Edith Barry's house. Roscoe also stated that he has seen Sharkey on one occasion at the saloon operated by Paddy Kilbane at 28th and Detroit Streets in Cleveland; that on this occasion he distinctly recalled that Karpis was with Sharkey, but he does not remember having seen any other members of the mob with Sharkey at this saloon. Roscoe was positive he had never talked with Sharkey about any members of this mob. Roscoe also stated that on numerous occasions Sharkey has come to the Jovial Club to secure dealers to work at the Harvard Club.

JOHN ZETZER -

Roscoe stated he has known Zetzer for years, during which period he has operated the Marine Garage in Port Clinton, Ohio. He stated Zetzer has been doing work on speed boat motors for him for possibly eight or nine years. He said Zetzer and his brother, Joe Zetzer, used to haul whiskey from Middle Island and Amherstsberg, Canada, to Ohio points, and he believes they have both served Federal sentences for prohibition violations. He related that some time in November, 1935, he went to Zetzer's garage in Port Clinton as a result of a telephone call from Zetzer saying that he wanted to see him about something important about 8:00 P.M. that night. He said he received the call during the afternoon at the Jovial Club, and that same was not a collect call. Roscoe advised he had a Liberty speedboat motor in the garage at the time and he presumed the call was in connection with the work being done on the motor. He advised that when he arrived at the garage he was admitted by John Zetzer, and found Karpis, Campbell, Hunter, Groves, and a tall man whom he did not know, standing around a stove near the office, which was red hot from heat. He said the only light in the garage was in Zetzer's office. He advised he did not see anything being burned in the stove, nor did he see any mail bags. He advised he was only in the office a few minutes, and that while there Karpis handed him a package and told him it contained some money which he owed him. He stated that he took the package and threw it into his car and shortly thereafter left the garage, taking Campbell and Groves with him to a point near the armory in Port Clinton, where they got out telling him they were going to get their own car. Roscoe claimed that during this visit Zetzer told him that he needed a new bearing for the speedboat motor.

Roscoe stated that he opened the package which Karpis had given him the next morning and found $1,000.00 in $1.00 bills, and that on the same morning he deposited a portion of this money in his checking account at the Toledo Trust Company. He advised that on the same morning he read in the newspapers of the Garretsville mail robbery and presumed that the money he had received was a portion of the loot from this robbery.

Roscoe said he saw Zetzer several times between the date of his above visit to the garage and the following spring, all of which contacts were in connection with work on his speedboat motor. He said that on one occasion Zetzer told him that the Government took him to Cleveland and questioned him in connection with the Garretsville mail robbery, and that it looked like he, Roscoe, was going to be "put in" for accepting the money.

HARRY CAMPBELL -

Roscoe stated he met Harry Campbell during the spring of 1934 and always knew him as Buff. He stated Buff had a girl named Wynona, but that he did not know where either Campbell or the girl were living at any time. He said that when he first became acquainted with Buff he was hanging around the Casino Club and he probably met him through Willie Harrison. He stated that Buff left Toledo in the summer of 1934 and that he did not see him again until cold weather in the early part of 1935, which was shortly after he and Karpis escaped from Atlantic City. He advised that at this time he knew of Campbell's true identity, and of the fact that he was wanted for the Bremer kidnaping inasmuch as he had seen photographs of Campbell, Karpis, the Barkers, and others, in newspapers and detective magazines and had recognized them. He recalled one occasion in the spring of 1935 when Hunter came to the Jovial Club and said a party wanted to see him; that on this occasion he went with Hunter to a point near the Empire Apartment at 14th and Jackson Streets in Toledo and met Campbell and, at his request, loaned him $500. with which to buy a Ford coupe. He also recalled that on one occasion, which he thought to be in 1934, Frank Greenwold, a Toledo cab driver, came to the Jovial Club and told him a party wanted to see him at the Casino Club, and that when he reached the Casino Club the party in question was Campbell.

Roscoe said that on at least a half dozen occasions he received telephone calls or visits from Fred Hunter or Sam Coker and was advised that a party wanted to see him and that when he went to the requested place, which was either Edith Barry's house or Ed McGraw's place, the party who wanted to see him was Campbell; that during these contacts Campbell would want information about Benson Greves or would ask if he, Roscoe, had been around the Harvard Club in Cleveland, and he would mention the names of Art Hebebrand, Shimmy Patten, Tony Amersbach and Sharkey Gorman. He said he supposed the main purpose of Campbell wanting to see him was to find out what was going on. He advised that at McGraw's place he would talk with Campbell in the front room, while at the Barry house he would usually talk with him in the dining room, but on several occasions - possibly two or three times, he talked with him in the front upstairs bedroom.

Roscoe, in response to questions, advised that he did not know Fred and Catherine Goulet, and had never been to their place of business. He stated that he did not know anything as to Campbell being acquainted with Sheriff O'Reilly.

WYNONA BURDETTE -

Roscoe stated he met her in the spring of 1934 at the Casino Club in Toledo and knew her as Harry Campbell's woman. He said she knocked around the club with Campbell, Willie Harrison, Jimmie Wilson, and also two or three other women who seemed to be connected with the mob but whom he could not remember. He advised that this girl used to drink heavily. He claimed he did not know where she and Campbell were living. Roscoe seemed to recall that on one occasion the whole mob was at the 42nd Street Cafe one night, drinking Scotch whiskey, and that Wynona Burdette was present on this occasion.

TONY AMERBACH -

Roscoe stated he has been acquainted with Tony since the opening of the Harvard Club in Cleveland, and that Tony has always been employed as a doorman at the Harvard Club. He said he had heard that Tony was an ex-convict. He also remarked that he had heard Harry Campbell mention Tony's name. He advised that he had seen Tony at Paddy Kilbane's saloon in Cleveland a couple of times, but he could not recall any of the mob having been present on these occasions. The occasions in question were after closing hours at the Harvard Club when a number of the dealers would go to Kilbane's saloon to eat and drink.

Roscoe advised that he has only seen Tony on one occasion in Toledo, this being at the Jovial Club, and at that time Tony remarked that he was going to Detroit to see if he could do something about getting his brother out of the Marquette prison. He stated that he did not recall Tony ever having come to the Jovial Club for the purpose of getting dealers to work at the Harvard Club.

ARTHUR R. BARKER -

Roscoe said he met this individual in the spring of 1934 at the Casino Club with the rest of the mob, and that he associated mostly with Slim Gibson and Ollie Berg. He only heard him referred to by the name of "Doc". He said that "Doc" never had anything to say. He advised that he knew "Doc" was "hot" and connected with the mob from remarks made to him by Willie Harrison, Old Chuck Fitzgerald and Bert and Ted Angus, but he didn't find out who he was and that he was wanted for the Bremer kidnaping until the fall of 1934. He advised that he never knew where "Doc" lived in Toledo, nor did he know the places of residence of any other members of the mob.

FRED BARKER -

Roscoe stated he saw Fred Barker at the Casino Club in the spring of 1934 with other members of this mob, but that he never talked with him. He did not recall having seen Fred on over three or four occasions, and he believes Fred was with Karpis at these times. He said he did not know where Fred was living in Toledo, and that he never saw him after the spring of 1934. He recalled that while Fred was hanging around the Casino Club he had his hands bandaged for a period of about a week, and he later heard that the bandages were used because of operations on his fingertips performed by Dr. Moran. Roscoe advised that in the fall of 1934 he saw Fred Barker's picture in newspapers and magazines, and remembered having seen him with the mob at the Casino Club.

"TIP" O'NEIL -

Roscoe stated he has known "Tip" O'Neil for possibly twenty-five years and that he originally met him through Jimmie Hays, now deceased, of Toledo. He says he knows that O'Neil has served several terms in penitentiaries for Post Office robberies. The only work he has ever known him to do was the operation of a saloon in about 1914 or 1915 in Lorain, Ohio. He advised that O'Neil spends most of his time drinking and gambling, and that he believes he is interested financially in the Harvard Club. He described O'Neil as a good friend of both Shimmy Patten and Old Ben Groves, and said he thought Old Ben and O'Neil had served time together. He said he never saw O'Neil with any of this mob. He advised that when Edith Barry first came to Toledo that O'Neil used to run around with her and she was generally regarded as his girl friend. He stated that if anybody in the country knows of the present location of Benson Groves it would be "Tip" O'Neil.

SHIMMY PATTEN -

Roscoe stated he has been acquainted with Patten for about twenty-five years, during which period Patten has been engaged in the bootlegging and gambling business in Cleveland. At the present time he is one of the operators of the Harvard Club. He is a Cleveland man. Roscoe said he never saw Patten with any of the members of this mob, and the only incident concerning him, so far as this mob is concerned, is the conversation had with Patten sometime in 1935 at the Harvard Club while Karpis, Campbell and Hunter were parked in a car outside of the Club. He advised that years ago Patten would have made a good prize fighter as he is as strong as a bull and is very adept with his fists. He related an incident which occurred during prohibition days at a 25th Street saloon in Cleveland operated by Patten when four prohibition agents and Cleveland police officers attempted to arrest Patten. He said he was in the saloon at the time and that Patten threw all four officers out of the place and was not arrested until a riot crew came and clubbed him into submission.

ART HEBEBRAND -

Roscoe stated he has known Hebebrand for possibly ten or twelve years and that he met him through Shimmy Patten. He stated that Hebebrand is one of the operators of the Harvard Club at the present time but that when he first met him he was in the real estate business in Cleveland. He said he has had no conversations with Hebebrand concerning this mob, and that the only person connected with the mob whom he has seen Hebebrand with is Fred Hunter, and the occasion was during the summer of 1935 when he saw Hebebrand talking with Hunter in front of the Harvard Club.

SAM COKER -

Roscoe stated he became acquainted with this individual during the fall of 1935 in Toledo, through Harry Campbell, and that the introduction took place either at Edith Barry's house or Ed McGraw's place. He knew the man as Tommy Pratt, and described him as having a mouth full of gold teeth. He said that after meeting Coker he saw him on a number of occasions at the Jovial Club, McGraw's place and Edith Barry's house. He advised that Coker used to make contacts with him for Harry Campbell, and that during the time he knew Coker, Campbell never told him who the man was and that his first information as to his being connected with this mob was obtained through newspapers after his arrest. Roscoe stated he never knew where Coker lived. He stated that on one occasion he saw him at McGraw's place in company with Campbell, Groves and Karpis, and that on this occasion Campbell and Karpis wanted to make a trip to Canada. He believed the time of this incident to be in about September, 1935. Roscoe said he had no knowledge of Coker being acquainted with Sheriff O'Reilly, of Toledo.

FRED HUNTER -

Roscoe stated he met Hunter as Fred Hunter in front of the Harvard Club in Cleveland, Ohio, sometime in 1935, through Karpis, and that on this occasion Karpis and Hunter were with some old man from Oklahoma. Roscoe did not know the name of the old man in question, but described him as being about fifty years of age, 5' 8" in height, weighing about 170 pounds, and as having broad shoulders. Roscoe said he has also seen Hunter at Kilbane's saloon on 28th and Detroit Streets, Cleveland, with various employees of the Harvard Club, and also alone. He advised that he has seen him at numerous times in Toledo, Ohio, most of the occasions being when Hunter came to the Jovial Club to get him to go to see Karpis at either Edith Barry's house or Ed McGraw's place.

COOLIE MONROE -

Roscoe stated he has known Coolie Monroe for some time. He advised that in the spring of 1934 Monroe was working at the Casino Club for the Angus brothers as a bar tender, and that he also did the repair work around the new club. He stated that Monroe is a Canadian citizen and used to run whiskey out of Kingsville, Ontario into Sandusky and Cleveland, Ohio. He advised that Monroe did carpenter work for a contractor at Middle Island during the summer of 1936 and is believed to be working for the same contractor presently at either Kingsville or Leamington, Ontario. He stated that Monroe's family are located somewhere in the province of Nova Scotia, Canada.

With respect to this mob, Roscoe advised that Monroe is bound to be acquainted with all of them, and must have known of their true identities because of his contact with them and the Angus brothers and Willie Harrison at the Casino Club in 1934.

The following photographs connected with this entire investigation were shown to Roscoe but he advised he had never seen these individuals so far as he knew and could not identify the photographs:

Doctor Moran
Bill Weaver
Belle Born
Volney Davis
Gladys Sawyer
Harry Sawyer
Paula Harmon
Charles Carroll
Ryan Bolton
Joe Adams
Dolores Delaney
Cassius McDonald
John Brock (Two photographs)
Milton Lett.

With respect to Dr. Joseph P. Moran, Roscoe stated that sometime in 1934, which he believed to be in about September, he received either a telephone call or a visit at the Jovial Club requesting that he come to the Casino Club. He said that upon arriving there he found Harry Campbell reading a newspaper and that he pointed to an article which referred to the finding of an unidentified body on the outskirts of Toledo, and stated: "That's the son-of-a-bitch". Roscoe stated that sometime during the summer of 1936 he saw newspaper articles in Toledo referring to Dr. Moran having performed operations on the fingertips of Fred Barker and others, that he remembered the bandages which Fred Barker had worn on his hands during the spring of 1934, and for that reason figured that when Campbell referred to the newspaper article concerning the unidentified dead man as he did that the dead man in question might have been Dr. Moran.

Reference is made to the report of Special Agent R. C. Suran, Cleveland, Ohio, dated July 3, 1936, pages 62 to 70, inclusive, where mention is made of the finding of a dead man's body in Toledo on September 3, 1934. It was indicated that the body in question was badly decomposed. It was also indicated that there had been some then recent newspaper publicity in connection with this same body. The investigation indicated that the body in question answered somewhat generally the description of Dr. Moran. It is the recollection of the writer, from previous investigations, that Dr. Joseph P. Moran allegedly had in his chest a small piece of shrapnel of the approximate size of a green pea. If there is a possibility of the body in question being that of Dr. Moran it is believed that an exhumation and complete autopsy would result in the finding of the piece of shrapnel. This matter is being covered in a separate communication to the Bureau.

During conversations with Joe Roscoe mention has been made of Captain George Timiney and Detective Art Langendorf of the Toledo Police Department. Roscoe would not say anything of a derogatory nature concerning either of these officers, but did advise they were both good friends of his and that he frequently went on fishing trips with Langendorf; further, that both officers hung out from time to time at the 42nd Street Cafe.

Roscoe advised that he was born in Genoa, Italy, and came to the United States in about 1904, when fifteen years of age, with his mother, Antoinette Rosasco, through the Port of New York. His father, Louis Rosasco, had already emigrated and was located in Cleveland, Ohio. His father operated a saloon in Cleveland until his death in about 1920. His mother died in 1916. He advised that he attended St. Johns Parochial School in Cleveland, Ohio, through the eighth grade. He served fourteen months of an indeterminate sentence at the Ohio Reformatory, Mansfield, Ohio, in about 1915 on a charge of receiving stolen property. Roscoe advised that he went to Toledo, Ohio, after his release from the Ohio Reformatory and worked on freight steamers during the summers and in factories during the winters for possibly three or four years.

At about this time he opened two cigar stores in Toledo, in which he operated "books" with Mike "Babe" Johnson as a partner, and he stayed in business with Johnson until the time of the Dempsey-Willard fight, at which time he opened a place of his own in Point Place, Ohio, known as the Golf Links Athletic Club, where he ran a gambling joint. He advised that during prohibition he operated in whiskey at Middle Island in the Canadian waters of Lake Erie, and sold whiskey on a wholesale basis to bootleggers for importation to the United States.

Roscoe stated that he now is part operator of the Jovial Club, 631 St. Clair Street, Toledo, where gambling is run in conjunction with a restaurant; and that he is also connected with the 42nd Street Cafe. He was formerly in partnership with Jimmie Hays at the Jovial Club. He operates the 42nd Street Cafe with his father-in-law, John Broadway, on a partnership basis. He stated the ownership of the Jovial Club is split up in fifths; that he owns one-fifth; Mrs. Jimmie Hays has one-fifth; Ed Warneke has one-fifth; Joe Morrisey has one-fifth; while the other fifth is cut up between three floormen at the Club named Hack, Simoff and Fay.

In response to questions, Roscoe advised that he could possibly raise between twenty and thirty thousand dollars in cash at the present time through cash which he has in safety deposit boxes, bank accounts and brokerage accounts. He advised that he has real estate, unincumbered, with a market value of between ninety and one hundred thousand dollars.

Davis: What they have in mind Leo, is this - they're trying to impeach the Judge down there. We'll also take care of that in the Senate.

Major: If you feel good tomorrow, come on over here and we'll talk this thing over -

Davis: I better not take I get this cold -

Major: All right, I'll call you tomorrow at about eight.

NOTE: Ed Davis is Secretary of the State Racing Commission appointed by Governor Bailey. Apparently he is also a member of the State Senate.

Campbell: Hello.
Major: Been impeached yet?
Campbell: No. not yet.
Major: What's going on over there?
Campbell: Not a thing - everything looks good for me.
Major: What was that message you sent - you sent to me thru R-you - Forget it.
Campbell: About Houston Enemy.
Major: Oh yes, I remember now.
Campbell: I thought I would tell you that there is anything to it, before you go ahead + start something on it. I will give you the straight on it + I proved it on to Houston R-you for you. I misunderstood the first of it.

Magor: I believe this is going to be a wholesome thing. I think the committee is beginning to realize that this daily-hoo is just a political fight.

Campbell: I think so too — I talked with Bransford this morning, + he indicated that the Committee is going to stamp the investigation into the Attorney General's office.

Magor: That'll be fine —

Campbell: Magor is going to be with me on it.

Magor: I think that Magor is a good, honest fellow, + will give me a square deal on it.

Campbell: Yeah - he's all right. I'll keep in touch with Bransford, + keep you advised.

Magor: If they turn that over to the Attorney General's office - it will be a hodge-podge + square way of handling it. Jesse Holt will be fair in it.

Campbell: Yeah. Jesse is all right.

Magor: I'll be over there Thursday and will see you then.

Sonny Davies = Is that so?

Mayor = I don't know why Earl (Pitt) has so much faith in him! He doesn't know that Wooton runs up and down to Scott Hood all day.

Sonny Davies = Well, time is a great healer anyway. The preachers over at Searcy are trying now to get an investigation over there. They claim that there is a lot of gambling and drinking going on - and — maybe some diddeling!
