Synopsis: This EC serves to update WFO management on the status of the captioned investigations and provides a discussion of proposed investigative steps, including setting a lead to Chicago for WFO case agents to travel to Chicago and interview [redacted] b6 b7C b3 Per CIA [redacted] This EC also discusses a planned WFO simultaneous interview of [redacted]

1,2,3 B61

Details: Recent developments in the captioned matters have led WFO and Chicago case agents to believe a joint WFO/Chicago interview of [redacted] and a WFO interview of [redacted] b6 b7C b3 Per CIA are necessary, as discussed below.

Chicago is continuing to move toward indicting [redacted] and several others as part of their police corruption/organized crime investigation. In [redacted] was confronted by WFO agents, served a FGJ subpoena, and invited to submit to an [redacted] refused [redacted] Since that time, [redacted] has elected not to provide significant information to Chicago regarding his Chicago or Washington, DC activities. b6 b7C b3

RECEIVED

Chicago AUSAs have had contact with [redacted] defense attorney, but there has been little progress toward convincing [redacted] to cooperate in the Chicago investigation. The Chicago case agent believes [redacted] fears for his physical safety if he were to inculpate his Chicago OC associates. b6 b7C

[redacted] was served with another Federal Grand Jury subpoena which commands [redacted] at FBI-Chicago on [redacted] The purpose of this appearance is [redacted] As discussed below, [redacted] should again be confronted by the same WFO agents, advised of the Washington, DC based allegations against him, and again invited to be [redacted] while at FBI-Chicago. b3 b6 b7C

At WFO, investigation of [redacted] possible interception of sensitive grand jury, White House, and law enforcement information has not revealed significant new information over the last several months. The investigation has been limited to review of subpoenaed and public records. In summary, WFO and Chicago have confirmed the following facts:

1. There exists a direct link between [redacted] and [redacted] an ex-CIA official in the Washington, DC area who now runs his own investigation/security company. [redacted] is believed to be the [redacted] LNU [redacted] according to Title-III intercepts of [redacted] A Chicago review of telephone records revealed [redacted] has been in frequent contact with [redacted] and CLAIR GEORGE, another former, senior CIA official. b6 b7C b3 b3 Per CIA

2. In a recent WFO interview of [redacted] on an unrelated FCI matter, [redacted] on a business project which involved the interception of e-mail traffic overseas. b3 Per CIA b6 b7C

3. WFO has also been in contact with Whitewater Office of Independent Counsel, Deputy Independent Counsel [redacted] who advised the Wall Street Journal is working on a story about the investigative activities of CLAIR GEORGE, another senior ex-CIA official, and a known [redacted] b6 b7C b3 Per CIA

In a related matter, it now appears likely that [redacted] will be prosecuted by the Eastern District of Virginia on illegal wiretapping charges. [redacted] has [redacted] CLAIR GEORGE and [redacted] in the past for investigative work. Prosecution of [redacted] may encourage him to provide information b6 b7C b3 Per CIA about the activities of GEORGE, [redacted] and possibly other private investigators in the Washington, DC area, such as [redacted]

b3 Per CIA
b6
b7C

At this point, all logical investigative steps have been taken, short of interviewing [redacted] on their Washington, DC based activities. WFO case agents consider it appropriate at this time to conduct simultaneous interviews of [redacted]

b6
b3 Per CIA

WFO's investigation of [redacted] possible interception of sensitive US Government information has been extremely discreet, and appropriately so, given the sensitivity of [redacted] alleged conduct. However, due to [redacted] refusal to be interviewed or cooperate with the Chicago AUSAs, WFO has been unable to convey to [redacted] the FBI's awareness of his Washington, DC activities. This has kept compelling information from [redacted] that we believe would encourage him to cooperate.

b7C

[redacted] interview is planned for February 9, 1999, while he is at FBI-Chicago. [redacted] attorney and Chicago AUSAs will be present. During this interview, WFO will play the Title-III tapes in which [redacted] will be advised that the FBI is aware that [redacted] has illegally received this information, and that his cooperation in this matter will help his situation in the Chicago OC case. WFO will make no mention of Whitewater grand jury interceptions. Chicago and WFO case agents believe such a scenario is the best way to get [redacted] to cooperate because he would not need to divulge information about Chicago OC figures.

b3

[redacted] should also be interviewed on February 9, 1999. The interview strategy with [redacted] would be different from [redacted] [redacted] is a former high ranking CIA official, and he still enjoys considerable access to law enforcement/intelligence community officials. It is believed [redacted] reputation and access among law enforcement/intelligence community officials is very important to him personally and to his business. To take advantage of this situation, FBI Agents will approach [redacted] in a non-confrontational manner, as "colleagues", asking for his assistance with respect to [redacted] This was the technique used during the previous FBI interview of [redacted] and it elicited valuable information from him. [redacted] will be told that [redacted] will be indicted for serious crimes in Chicago, which will probably be news to [redacted] He will be told that as a result of indices checks on [redacted] and [redacted] previous FBI interview, the FBI is soliciting any additional information regarding [redacted] in [redacted] possession. [redacted] will be asked non-threatening questions about what he knows about [redacted] and any information

b3 Per CIA
b6
b7C

[redacted] has obtained. Later, [redacted] will be asked if he has ever provided [redacted] any information, including U.S. Government information. b3 Per CIA b6 b7C

If it is later determined that [redacted] was not truthful in answering these important questions, he would be confronted during a subsequent interview with lying. Such lies, with their implications to [redacted] business and continued good reputation at FBIHQ and CIAHQ, along with the possibility of criminal charges, should prompt [redacted] to then disclose the true nature of his involvement with [redacted] including the possible theft or interception of sensitive government information. b3 Per CIA b6 b7C

It should be noted that the above strategy of interviewing both [redacted] and [redacted] does not include disclosing the most sensitive aspect of this case - the FBI's receipt of allegations regarding [redacted] possible involvement in the compromise of Whitewater grand jury information. Since all logical covert investigative steps have been taken, this strategy appears to be the best way to move the investigation forward. b3 Per CIA b6 b7C

Accordingly, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] will travel to Chicago to interview [redacted] as discussed above. In addition, WFO Agents will re-interview [redacted] as described above. b6 b7C b3 Per CIA

George Pleads Not Guilty in Iran-Contra Case

By George Lardner Jr.
Washington Post Staff Writer

Clair E. George, former chief of covert operations at the CIA, pleaded not guilty in federal court yesterday to charges that he made false statements, perjured himself and obstructed congressional and grand jury probes of the Iran-contra affair.

George, 61, submitted the plea in a loud, firm voice before U.S. District Judge Royce C. Lamberth and was released on his own recognizance.

The judge gave George's lawyer, Richard A. Hibey, until Oct. 3 to meet with Iran-contra prosecutors and get a sense of the extent of the classified records they will need. Even though George was head of the CIA's clandestine service in the mid-1980s, Hibey said "my client is possessed of no documents with respects to the issues in this case."

George was indicted Sept. 6 on 10 felony counts accusing him of giving false testimony to three congressional committees that investigated early aspects of the scandal in the fall of 1986 and of lying again to a federal grand jury last April about his role in preparing testimony for one of the committees.

Lamberth was assigned to preside at the request of prosecutors for independent counsel Lawrence E. Walsh who said the case's complexities and length could rival those in the cases against former White House aide Oliver L. North and former national security adviser John M. Poindexter.

North's case was in progress downstairs on an extraordinary remand proceeding before U.S. District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell to determine whether televised testimony North gave Congress in 1987 under a grant of immunity from prosecution was used against him at his trial 20 months later.

The first witness, former national security adviser Robert C. McFarlane, said Wednesday that his trial testimony had been "colored" by watching North's widely televised performance. McFarlane returned to the witness stand yesterday to describe how closely he followed North's testimony, watching for hours each day with his lawyers, taking notes, clipping every news story about it from The Washington Post and the New York Times until, he said, it became a part of his memory.

McFarlane also told North lawyer Brendan V. Sullivan that he learned "new information" from listening to North. That appeared to conflict with McFarlane's repeated statements Wednesday that there were no identifiable facts he learned for the first time from North's testimony.

A federal appeals court ordered North's 1989 felony convictions set aside until the review is completed. Gesell expressed exasperation at the mandate, saying it was loaded with verbs and adjectives "that wander all over the place," telling him to review testimony that might have been "affected" or "motivated" by what North said. Gesell predicted that his decision would end up in the appeals court, no matter how he rules.

Memorandum for The Director
RE: LIAISON WITH CIA

Assistant Director Jim Geer has scheduled semi-regular meetings with the Deputy Director of Operations, Clair George, at which time current developments will be discussed.

As in the past, Assistant Director Geer will attend and brief the FR Station Chiefs conference which will afford him the opportunity to speak to all U. S. based CIA Station Chiefs. It is also noted that there is an on-going program wherein INTD management provides briefings to all outgoing CIA Station Chiefs at which time they are afforded appropriate information concerning INTD and the Bureau's mission. (S) (U)

INTD frequently arranges briefings by CIA for outgoing FBI SACs, ASACs, and Supervisors who are departing FBIHQ for field assignments when it is likely they will have frequent contact with the CIA. Recent INTD-arranged briefings (S) by CIA include SA [redacted] William Wells, and ASA [redacted] I. C. Smith. (S) b1 Per CIA b3

Director of Security [redacted] was afforded a detailed briefing of INTD responsibilities in early September, 1986. (S) [redacted] was briefed to emphasize the channels of communication to be used concerning possible penetration cases wherein the CIA has a staff employee who may be an operative of a hostile intelligence service. In a follow-up to this meeting [redacted] (S) Deputy is scheduled to meet with INTD Section Chiefs to discuss penetration cases. (S) (U)

(S) [redacted] executives have regular and frequent contact with the Director of CIA's Counterintelligence Staff, and a regular flow of information is furnished to [redacted] concerning items of interest between the Bureau and the Agency. (S) (S) (U) b1 Per CIA b3

The above is set forth to demonstrate INTD's efforts to improve its liaison contacts with the CIA.
