FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date of entry 05/24/2016

On May 11, 2016, Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) Special Agent (SA) [REDACTED] Illinois State Police (ISP) SA [REDACTED] and ISP SA [REDACTED] conducted spot checks in the area of Rosiclare, Illinois and nearby Shawnee National Forest. The purpose for the spot checks was to attempt to locate subject Dracy Clint Pendleton.

b6
b7C

At approximately 1:00 p.m., a blue tent and a large amount of smoke were spotted at a campsite off Trailhead 1736, located at approximately 37°29'2.90"N, 88°19'23.30"W. Agents confirmed no roads or off-road trails passed near the campsite. Agents secured the ISP vehicle on Trailhead 1736 and approached the campsite. SA [REDACTED] noted a small white trash bag which appeared to be full of trash was located adjacent to the campsite. It took approximately 40 minutes for Agents to approach the campsite. Once Agents arrived, no individuals were present at the campsite. The fire was still smoking but mostly extinguished and contained multiple items, to include baked bean cans, batteries, a large blue plaid flannel cloth appearing to be from a shirt or pair of pants, Fortuna brand cigarette cartons and cigarette butts, paper towels, and various other items. Near the campfire and tent, two other bundles of gathered sticks were noted. The tent was empty. A single tire track approximately the width of a dirt bike tire was located in the mud between the campsite and the trash bag. SA [REDACTED] used SA [REDACTED] cellular phone to take eight pictures of the campsite, which are attached hereto and made a part of the digital 1-A portion of the case file.

b6
b7C

SA [REDACTED] then collected the following items from the campsite fire and trash bag:

b6
b7C

1. Crumpled paper towel with possible trace evidence;
2. Fortuna cigarette carton, ripped, with multiple cigarette butts;
3. Burned blue plaid flannel contained in baked bean can; and
4. One crumpled packet of effervescent denture cleanser tablets.

The spot check was concluded at approximately 2:30 p.m. CST.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date of entry 05/26/2016

[redacted] Golconda, Illinois [redacted] home telephone number [redacted] Sulphur Springs Missionary Baptist Church located at the corner of Eddyville Road and Sulfur Springs Road mid-way between Eddyville, Illinois and Golconda, Illinois. [redacted] was contacted at his home at about 12:30am this date regarding a reported break-in to his church. After being advised of the identities of the interviewing Agents and the nature of the interview, [redacted] provided the following information:

b6
b7C

[redacted] advised the last time he, without a doubt, cleaned the church and locked the doors, was Wednesday the 11th at 9pm. The next time to his knowledge that anyone entered the building was at about noon, Friday the 13th. [redacted] stated that [redacted] was in the building for a short time, but she did not recall seeing anything out of place. [redacted] did mention to him that the air conditioner seem to have been turned up and she turned it down.

Later that evening, at about 4pm, [redacted] returned to the church. This time [redacted] noticed a paper plate that had been left out on one of the tables in the dinner hall. When [redacted] opened the garbage can near the door to throw away the plate, he noticed several food items and other trash that should have not been there. Upon looking around, [redacted] realized that someone had been in the building and had removed and eaten certain food items.

Because there was no phone in the church, [redacted] returned to their home to call the Sheriff's Department. [redacted] advised that sometime between 6pm and 6:30pm a deputy arrived and they searched the building together. After concluding no one was still there, the deputy left with the contents of the trash can in a bag.

[redacted] was asked about several buildings in the field behind his church. [redacted] advised the buildings are normally empty, as one of them was the residence of [redacted] who is now deceased.

[redacted] advised that [redacted] and [redacted] now own the buildings and live only a short distance from [redacted] discovered and that [REDACTED] suspected that the person who broke into the church was PENDLETON. Some of the evidence collected by [REDACTED] included a maxi-pad with blood on it that [REDACTED] believed was used as a bandage. [REDACTED] also checked sinks where he suspected that [REDACTED] may have cleaned up but found not sign of blood or other evidence. [REDACTED] left the Silver Springs Church after [REDACTED] finished collecting the evidence.

b6
b7C

Sometime between 8:00 and 8:30 pm, [REDACTED] arrived at the Command Post and gave the evidence he collected from the Silver Springs Church to ISP Lieutenant [REDACTED]

On May 14, 2016, at approximately 10:30 am, [REDACTED] returned to the Silver Springs Church after receiving a call from [REDACTED] telephone [REDACTED] requesting that [REDACTED] check a trailer that they believed had been forced open. The trailer was located 300-400 yards from the Silver Springs Church. One of the SWAT teams cleared the trailer owned by the [REDACTED] with negative results. While [REDACTED] was at the church, he spoke with [REDACTED] who reported that the backdoor of the church had been forced open after [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] left the night before. [REDACTED] notified a SWAT team and it was discovered that there were paint chips on the floor and a cabinet against the door had been forced over. [REDACTED] left the building open for the SWAT team to clear and gave his number so that he could be contacted after the building was secured. [REDACTED] also left the location and had not been at the Silver Springs Church since that time.

b7C

[REDACTED] reported that he had dealt with PENDLETON before, approximately [REDACTED] earlier. PENDLETON could often be seen on his three wheeler, transporting gasoline for the generator at his trailer. After shooting at the [REDACTED] confronted PENDLETON and asked him his side of the story. PENDLETON told [REDACTED] "If they have a warrant, then you better kill me because I am going to kill you." [REDACTED] questioned PENDLETON on this statement and PENDLETON backed down, saying that he did not mean it.

b7C

By the time that a warrant was available for PENDLETON's arrest for the [REDACTED] shootings, [REDACTED] was wary of PENDLETON because of his statements and behavior. [REDACTED] was heading out to serve the warrant on PENDLETON but was unable to because PENDLETON was already in his car leaving the area, thus the warrant was not served by [REDACTED] named [REDACTED] as a person who might have known the whereabouts of PENDLETON, but warned that his credibility was questionable.

ISP CID [REDACTED] digitally recorded the interview with [REDACTED]. The notes from the interview were attached to the 1A section of the file.

released from the traffic stop. Pendleton drove to his residence and parked in the driveway. Pendleton exited his vehicle and walked directly to [redacted] and began striking [redacted] without provocation. [redacted] deployed a taser with no apparent effect. Pendleton produced a .380 caliber pistol and fired, hitting [redacted] in the arm. [redacted] returned fire, striking Pendleton in the left thigh. Pendleton fled into his residence. b6

Pendleton's truck was found at Mid-America Sand & Gravel on 250 County Road 2050 N, Mahomet, Illinois 61853. Pendleton broke into the business office and stole a white, two-door, GMC 2500 pickup truck, Illinois registration number 165533B.

The stolen GMC pickup was located at a residence in rural Pope County, Illinois, approximately 230 miles south of Pendleton's residence. Driving time was approximately four hours. The Illinois State Police secured the area and requested the assistance of the Federal Bureau of Investigation with the apprehension of Pendleton. A Federal Bureau of Investigation fugitive investigation was opened.

On May 15, 2016, Federal Bureau of Investigation Agents and Illinois State Police Officers were directed to a two story residence located at 363 Eddyville Road, Golconda, Illinois. The residence had evidence on the exterior indicating a break in. The Illinois State Police contacted the owners of the residence who advised the residence was not occupied and gave consent to search the residence. While clearing the second story of the residence, Pendleton was located. Pendleton was hiding in the attic of the residence. Without warning Pendleton fired the AK-47 assault rifle at Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Officers from the Illinois State Police. As a result, one Federal Bureau of Investigation Special Agent

 Re: 89B-SI-7717141, 06/09/2016

The Agents subsequently interviewed [redacted]
 [redacted] DOB: [redacted] at [redacted]
 [redacted] IL [redacted] confirmed that [redacted]
 [redacted] Martin, passed away in 2013. The Agents subsequently advised [redacted] that they were trying to track down paperwork regarding a firearm (D C Industries model NDS-1 caliber 762 rifle, serial number [redacted] believed to be in [redacted] possession as of 2008. [redacted] advised the Agents that it was not uncommon for [redacted] to purchase firearms at the Gold & Diamond Exchange Pawn Shop in Urbana, IL in order to fix them up and sell them for profit. [redacted] stated that [redacted] kept detailed records of his firearms transactions and that any records [redacted] [redacted] left behind would be located at his [redacted] house, [redacted] [redacted] IL. [redacted] offered to search his house for any paperwork related to the firearm in question.

b6
 b7C

[redacted] then departed the business and returned a short time later with a stack of documents. After searching through the documents, [redacted] located one particular document containing handwritten notes about the firearm in question. The notes read as follows: "Transferred AK 47 to Gold & Diamond Serial No. [redacted] Jan 09 or Dec 08." A copy of the document is attached digitally for reference. The original was retained by [redacted]

b6
 b7C

The Agents then traveled to the pawn shop, located at 1004 W.
 University Avenue, Urbana, IL, in an attempt to verify that Martin Kropp transferred the firearm back to the pawn shop in December 2008 or January 2009 (after initially purchasing the firearm from the pawn shop in March 2008). The Store Manager, [redacted] advised the Agents that the current owner of the pawn shop purchased the building in 2012 but did not purchase any of the inventory in the shop at the time of the building purchase, to include firearms. Thus, the current owner did not retain any inventory or transfer records related to transactions processed by the previous owner. In addition, [redacted] advised the Agents that the name of the pawn shop was changed from Gold & Diamond Exchange Pawn Shop to Pawn King. [redacted] then provided the Agents the telephone number for Pawn King's corporate office, 314-525-7115.

SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] then traveled to [redacted] [redacted] IL to interview [redacted] [redacted] advised the Agents that [redacted] was not home but would be returning from Champaign soon. SA [redacted] left a business card with [redacted] containing his contact information. Later in the evening, [redacted] called SA [redacted] from telephone number [redacted] advised SA [redacted] that the ATF in Springfield, IL took all of his records when he sold the pawn shop (Gold & Diamond Exchange Pawn Shop) in 2012. [redacted] stated that he kept detailed records of all firearms transactions, which should still be in the ATF's possession.

All possible investigative actions in the FBI Champaign Resident Agency's AOR have been completed. It is recommended that FBI Springfield contact ATF Springfield to locate/search the pawn shop records for any information related to the D C Industries model NDS-1 caliber 762 rifle, serial number [redacted]

Appendix A: Methods, Limitations, and Interpretations

Friction ridge skin consists of ridges, which are raised portions of skin, and furrows, which are the valleys in between the ridges. Friction ridge skin is found on the fingers, palms, and soles of the feet. A friction ridge print is a transfer of the ridge arrangements from the friction ridge skin onto an item. Items of evidence submitted to the Latent Print Operations Unit for examination may be examined visually, examined with various light sources, and processed with chemicals and powders to detect the presence of friction ridge prints. The specific sequence of examinations and processes depends upon the nature of the evidence.

Friction ridge print examinations are conducted using Analysis, Comparison, and Evaluation (ACE) (1), which includes an assessment of the quantity and quality of the information present. The steps of ACE are applied to friction ridge prints as appropriate.

Analysis is the assessment of a friction ridge print by a qualified examiner, accounting for the quantity and quality of the features detected in the print. An examiner will assess the types of features and the spatial relationships of the features to one another, which may be affected by factors such as pressure and movement when the print is transferred (2) (3). The print is deemed to be of value when the examiner determines that sufficient reliable information is present, such that, when compared to another print from the corresponding area of the same source, an identification decision can be reached. A thorough analysis is conducted on friction ridge prints prior to conducting comparisons. Analysis is documented by marking observed information in accordance with the Latent Print Operations Unit's standard operating procedures (4).

During Analysis, an examiner designates a friction ridge print as one of the following:

- A fingerprint, coming from any part of a finger
- A palm print, coming from any part of the palm area of a hand
- A toe print, coming from any part of a toe
- A footprint, coming from any part of the sole of a foot
- An impression, whose anatomical region cannot be determined and may have come from any of the above sources

Comparison is the direct side-by-side observation of friction ridge prints of value to determine whether the information observed during Analysis is in disagreement or agreement between two prints. When determining if features correspond, an examiner accounts for variation in the appearance of the friction ridge prints due to factors such as pressure and movement (2).

Evaluation is the formation of a conclusion based on the examiner's observations, assessments, and documentation generated during the analysis and comparison of the friction ridge prints. Decisions that may be reached are as follows:

- Identification is the determination that two friction ridge prints originated from the same source because there is sufficient quality and quantity of corresponding information. While an identification to the exclusion of all others is not supported by research, studies have shown that as more reliable features are found in agreement, it becomes less likely to find that same arrangement of features in a print from another source (5).

- Exclusion is the determination that two friction ridge prints did not originate from the same source because there is sufficient quality and quantity of information in disagreement.
- Inconclusive is the determination that an identification or exclusion decision cannot be reached because there is insufficient quality and quantity of corresponding information between the two prints.

While the examination process is subjective in nature (6), the Latent Print Operations Unit has quality assurance measures in place to minimize variability and reduce the chance of error. Examples include but are not limited to verification and blind verification, which are implemented in accordance with the Latent Print Operations Unit's standard operating procedures (4) (8).

- Verification is the independent application of ACE to a friction ridge print by another qualified examiner.
- Blind verification is the independent application of ACE to a friction ridge print by another qualified examiner with limited awareness of the details of the case and no knowledge of the conclusion of the primary examiner.

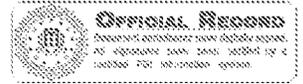

There is no meaningful predictive rate of error for the entire comparison process (9) (10); however, recent studies have demonstrated that examiners reach accurate and reliable conclusions under specific test conditions (7) (11) (12).

The presence of a friction ridge print on an item of evidence indicates contact was made between the source and the item. The presence of a friction ridge print alone does not necessarily indicate the significance of the contact or the time frame during which the contact occurred.

Due to a variety of factors, the recovery of friction ridge prints on items of evidence is not always successful. A lack of friction ridge prints on an item or the exclusion of a friction ridge print from a given source does not necessarily mean that the given source did not come into contact with the item.

OFFENSE Burglary
SUSPECT Dracy "Clint" Pendleton
VICTIMS Sulphur Springs Church [REDACTED]

The following evidence was submitted to the Springfield Forensic Science Laboratory by [REDACTED] on May 14, 2016:

EXHIBIT	DESCRIPTION

Blood indicated in three (3) stains on Exhibit 2 (feminine napkin). Portion of one (1) stain preserved for DNA analysis.

One (1) of the swabs from Exhibit 3 preserved for DNA analysis.

One (1) swab collected from head and bristles of Exhibit 7 (toothbrush) and preserved as Exhibit 7A for DNA analysis.

Laboratory Case #S16-003986

Swab (1) from edges of screw cap of hydrogen peroxide bottle preserved as Exhibit 8A for DNA analysis.

DNA from portions of all seven (7) band aids in Exhibit 1, one (1) stain from Exhibit 2 (feminine napkin), one (1) swab from Exhibit 3, swab from toothbrush (Exhibit 7A) and swab from edges of screw cap of hydrogen peroxide bottle (Exhibit 8A) was amplified using the Polymerase Chain Reaction (PCR) and profiled at the D8S1179, D21S11, D7S820, CSF1PO, D3S1358, TH01, D13S317, D16S539, D2S1338, D19S433, vWA, TPOX, D18S51, D5S818, FGA and Amelogenin loci.

A human male DNA profile was identified from all seven (7) portions of band aids from Exhibit 1, portion of stain from Exhibit 2 (feminine napkin) and Exhibits 3, 7A and 8A.

The male DNA profile identified in all exhibits in this case was compared to the male DNA profiles previously identified in Metro-East Forensic Science Laboratory F16-2408 (Exhibit 1, swab from center partition of sink) and Springfield Forensic Science Laboratory case S16-3843 (Exhibit 1, swab from top of basement stairs). The male DNA profile identified in all exhibits in this case and the male DNA profiles identified in the two above mentioned cases are consistent each other and could have originated from the same individual.

REQUESTS

Please submit a known standard from Dracy Pendleton for comparison.

If you have any questions regarding this report, please feel free to contact me.

EVIDENCE DISPOSITION

Exhibits 7 and 8 were turned over to the Latent Print section of the laboratory and were the subject of a separate report.

Please note that Exhibits 7A and 8A were consumed in analysis. Extracted DNA remains for further testing.

Any analysis conducted is accredited under the laboratory's ISO/IEC 17025 accreditation issued by ANSI-ASQ National Accreditation Board (ANAB). Refer to certificate #AT-1703 and associated Scope of Accreditation.

Respectfully submitted,

Re: Officer Involved Incident/Dracy Pendleton
FBI file number 297-HQ-A7717110

Dear

I have completed my review of the file and all accompanying documentation that was made available to me regarding the death of Dracy Pendleton in Pope County on May 15, 2016. Based on that review, I see no evidence of any wrongdoing on part of any of the officers involved in the fatality of Pendleton and no basis to pursue prosecution in this matter.

Should any additional evidence be received by my office that is relevant to this matter, I will consider it for review.

Very truly yours,

CLINICAL HISTORY

The clinical history is that the patient was a 34-year-old male, date of birth October 6, 1981, with residence address of 504 South Vine Street, Mahomet, Illinois. He was reportedly martially-separated, and had children. His next-of-kin is listed as [REDACTED]. This individual worked as a construction worker. The clinical history is that this individual was apparently involved in a traffic stop altercation with police officers in Mahomet, Illinois on May 7, 2016. In the course of this traffic stop, gunshots were fired. He apparently fled the area. He was subsequently found to be present at residence address 363 Eddyville Blacktop Road, Golconda, Illinois. This individual apparently took refuge within the residence and fired at police officials. He had a shootout with police officers, and his body was subsequently found deceased in an upstairs bedroom. The vehicle in which this individual was traveling was found to be present about five miles from this residence. The residence is reportedly owned by [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] who were not present at the time. The incident of gunfire exchange was at approximately 7:00 AM of Sunday, May 15, 2016. He was pronounced deceased at the scene by the coroner at 4:10 PM, May 15, 2016. This individual's body was found with an AK-47 rifle and 7.62 ammunition. Police returning fire apparently used .223 ammunition. This individual may have received two gunshot wounds in the original, earlier traffic stop altercation with police on May 7, 2016. At that time he may have been shot with a .40 caliber police weapon. A Taser was reportedly used on this individual without effect at the traffic stop incident of May 7, 2016. His body was placed in a sealed body bag at 6:00 PM, May 15, 2016. The coroner placed this body under refrigeration at his funeral home facility and he was subsequently transported to the Williamson County Morgue in Marion, Illinois on this date prior to the autopsy examination.

EXTERNAL EXAMINATION

The body is received within a sealed, silver, plastic body bag. The remains are those of a young Caucasian male. This individual is of a slim build. He is about 71 inches tall. He is estimated to weigh about 170 pounds. The body is cold due to post-mortem refrigeration. Rigor mortis is present and well established in the extremities and livor mortis, posteriorly. Dried blood is present on the body. A small white kitchen towel with absorbed blood is present with the body. He is dressed in a white, long-sleeved shirt, a gray pullover-type tee shirt and a white pullover-type undershirt. He is also dressed in green camouflage pants, a black leather belt with silver-colored buckle, and black lace-up boots. White socks are present on the feet. Two fenestrations of fabric material of the left sock noted. Fenestration is present on the inside edge of the left boot, and a second disruption is present along the shoe string closure of this boot. A bullet-hole fenestration is present on the posterior fabric material of the right boot, and a bullet-hole fenestration is present in the sock, off of the right foot. Photographs are taken. A headlight is present on his head. Absorbed and dried blood is present on the upper body regions. A black plastic gun sling with carbineers is present on the upper body regions. Examination of the shirt reveals three rounded bullet-hole fenestrations with surrounding soot deposition present on the left shoulder area of his white, long-sleeved shirt. An AK magazine clip is present in the left front pants pocket. A flashlight with strap is present in the left pants leg pocket. A small, metallic beer opener is attached to a belt loop on the right front of these pants. Present in a right front pants leg pocket is a AAA battery, a pocketknife, an aerosol can of possibly pepper spray, a disposable lighter, two medicine bottles, a wrapped up set of nylon cord and a separate loose nylon cord. Present in one of the right pocket medication bottle are two disposable cigarette lighters, $20 paper currency, a plastic bag, and a cigarette paper sleeve. Present in the smaller medication bottle are six AAA-sized batteries. The clothing is removed. The scalp hair is brown, less than 1 cm in length. The eyes are blue; pupils are 0.6 cm in diameter, bilaterally. No petechial hemorrhages of conjunctivae or sclerae seen. Maxillary and mandibular teeth are present. Electrical monitor pads are present on the posterior left shoulder, left side and right side regions. External genitals are those of a young Caucasian male, light brown pubic hair, circumcised. External examination reveals multiple gunshot wounds in this individual. A gunshot entrance wound is present on the left heel of this individual with bullet tract to the sole of the left heel. No evidence of bullet exit from the boot is seen, such that the bullet is likely contained within the heel portion of his boot. A gunshot entrance wound is present on the posterior heel portion of the right foot. No evidence of bullet exit wound is seen. Dissection is made of the right foot revealing a bullet present within the tarsal bones. A rounded, gunshot entrance wound is present on the medial-anterior aspect of the mid left thigh and is associated with a Band-Aid. This bullet is tracked to extend posteriorly through an exit wound of the left posterior thigh where another Band-Aid is present. This most likely represents a gunshot wound that he sustained in the original traffic stop altercation with police. A gunshot entrance wound is present on the anterolateral left hip and is probed in a posterior direction. The track extends into the subcutaneous tissue within the posterior left hip region. A gunshot entrance wound is present on the right forearm with probed bullet track extending to the right elbow. Dissection in this region reveals bullet or bullet fragment recovered. A rounded gunshot entrance wound is present on the lateral aspect of the right shoulder with probed bullet tract which extends into the proximal right humerus and right shoulder joint. Dissection of this bullet tract reveals fragmentation disruption of the proximal right humerus. No intact bullet fragment is recovered from the right humerus/right shoulder region. A gunshot entrance wound is present to the left shoulder. A grazing gunshot entrance wound is present on the lateral aspect of the left upper arm. Bullet exit slit-like fenestrations are present on the right base of the neck, the top of the right shoulder and the top of the posterior right shoulder. A rounded gunshot entrance wound is present on the left side of the neck, and is probed and noted to be associated with a gunshot exit wound of the left back of the neck. This gunshot wound also shows Band-Aids applied to the skin surface, and is also consistent with a wound sustained in the original traffic stop altercation with police authorities. A gunshot entrance wound is present to the right posterior neck region. A gunshot entrance wound is present in the left occipital scalp region and is associated with fenestration of the left occipital bone, and associated bullet fragment placement within the underlying left occipital lobe of brain. Two shrapnel-type skin fenestrations are present in the midline frontal scalp region, one of which is associated with an underlying copper metallic fragment. An atypical appearing gunshot wound is present to the right side of the face with probe placement revealing a downward tract into the right base of the neck region. This gunshot wound is noted not to enter the cranial vault. Present on the right back are four rounded gunshot entrance wounds. These apparently extend into the right chest cavity. Multiple, subcutaneous placed bullet or bullet fragments are collected at the time of the autopsy with locations documented by autopsy photographs. In addition, two bullets are present within the body bag after removal of this individual from the sealed plastic body bag. Occasional skin scratches and abrasions are present on the forearm and hand regions.

PRIMARY INCISION

The usual Y-shaped anterior primary incision is made and skin flaps are reflected superiorly and laterally. Opening of the peritoneal cavity reveals pink, smooth and glistening peritoneal surfaces. No evidence of increased blood or fluid accumulation is seen. The liver is present in the right upper quadrant. The spleen is subcostal in the left upper quadrant. The urinary bladder is present beneath the symphysis pubis and contains a moderate volume of clear yellow urine. The cecum is present in the right lower quadrant with unremarkable cecal vermiform appendix present. The usual wedge-shaped anterior rib plate is removed, revealing bluish-gray discolored pleural surfaces. The right lung is poorly aerated. A small accumulation of liquid blood is present within the right pleural space. No pleural fibrous adhesions are noted. Manipulation of the pericardial sac reveals a quantity of liquid blood present within the pericardial sac. Opening of the pericardial sac reveals 350-400 cc of liquid and clotted blood to be present. Examination of the surfaces of the heart and pericardial sac in situ reveals there to be present a bullet-hole fenestration of the ascending aorta, which is the apparent origin of the hemopericardium. Examination of the inner aspect of the right chest cavity reveals multiple bullet-hole fenestrations to be present. Examination of the surface of the right lung reveals six discreet bullet-hole fenestrations to be present. These are present in the upper and lower lobe regions. The fenestrations to the right side of the chest are associated with multiple rib fractures including fractures of the right-anterior first rib, and the right-posterior fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth, and tenth ribs. The bullet-hole fenestrations to the right chest wall appear to be predominantly related to gunshot wounds to the right back. Inspection of the right posterior pleural reflection and inspection of the thoracic vertebrae reveal two bullet-hole fenestrations to the right lateral thoracic spine. The thoracic spine is subsequently unroofed in this region with the recovery of a bullet projectile from within the lower thoracic spine region. A second bullet projectile is not recovered, related to the more superior impact to the right side of the thoracic vertebrae. This bullet may have passed through the spine into the left back region.

ORGANS OF THE NECK

The usual anterior skin flap is reflected superiorly revealing underlying subcutaneous tissue and anterior neck musculature. No evidence of interstitial hemorrhage or disruption is seen. The hyoid bone is intact. The thyroid cartilage, cornu of thyroid cartilage and trachea are normal in their position and relationships. No evidence of foreign body material is noted within the trachea. The cervical esophagus appears intact. The thyroid gland is in the usual anatomic location, has pink-red, smooth and glistening appearance and weighs approximately 25 grams.

HEART

The heart weighs approximately 360 grams. The epicardial surface contains the usual amount of yellow adipose tissue. The coronary ostia are normal in their position and relationships. Sectioning of the left anterior descending, left circumflex and right coronary arteries reveals these vessels to be open and patent. The aortic, mitral, tricuspid and pulmonic valves are thin, pliable and competent. The ascending aorta reveals a 0.5 cm diameter bullet-hole fenestration with associated interstitial recent hemorrhage to be present on the right side of the aortic arch. The arch, thoracic, abdominal aorta and the major branches of the aorta otherwise appear unremarkable. The superior and inferior vena cava appears unremarkable. Sectioning of the myocardium reveals it to be firm and pink-red throughout. No evidence of pink-white myocardial fibrous replacement or hemorrhagic myocardial discoloration is seen. Right ventricle thickness 0.2 cm. Left ventricle thickness 1.5 cm.

LUNGS

The right lung weighs 350 grams. A total of six bullet-hole fenestrations are present to the posterior and lateral aspect of the right lung. They are associated with moderate degrees of interstitial recent hemorrhage. The left lung appears intact. Sectioning of the lungs reveals no evidence of purulent changes, abscess formation, consolidation, cavitations, cysts, tumors or masses seen.

DRACY CLINT PENDLETON

MEDIASTINUM AND RETROPERITONEUM

The mediastinum is not displaced. The thymus is an atrophic remnant. No cysts, tumors or other abnormal masses are seen. The retroperitoneum contains the usual amount of yellow adipose tissue. The diaphragms are normally placed and appear intact.

LIVER

The liver weighs approximately 1,530 grams and has the usual reddish-brown, smooth and glistening capsular surface. The gallbladder is at the inferior right lobe of the liver and contains a small to moderate volume of golden green bile without stone formation. The gallbladder mucosa has a green velvety appearance. Sectioning of the liver reveals reddish-brown parenchymal tissue. No evidence of fatty change or cirrhosis is seen.

SPLEEN

The spleen weighs approximately 130 grams and has the usual blue, wrinkled, capsular surface. Underlying, dark red-brown, hemorrhagic parenchymal tissue reveals normally prominent trabecular markings. No focal splenic lesions are seen.

PANCREAS

The pancreas is present in the usual retroperitoneal periduodenal location and has the usual tan multilobular appearance. No acute or chronic inflammatory changes, fat necrosis, cysts, tumors or masses seen.

KIDNEYS

The right kidney weighs 160 grams. The left kidney weighs 170 grams. The capsules strip easily from underlying pink-red, mildly congested-appearing, smooth and glistening cortical surfaces. Cortex averages 0.7 cm in thickness and is well demarcated from the underlying medullary regions. The calices, pelvises and collecting system have an ivory colored mucosa which is free of stones, cysts, tumors, masses and other abnormalities. The ureters have a pink mucosa, intact muscular wall and follow a normal course.

URINARY BLADDER

The urinary bladder is present beneath the symphysis pubis and contains a moderate volume of clear yellow urine. The mucosa is light gray. The muscular wall is intact.

ADRENAL GLANDS

The adrenal glands are of the usual size and shape with yellow cortex and gray medulla of the usual thickness. No focal adrenal lesions are seen.

GASTROINTESTINAL TRACT

The esophagus is straight and follows a normal course through a diaphragmatic hiatus of usual width. The mucosa is pink. The muscular wall is intact. Opening of the stomach reveals it to contain a moderate volume of brown, watery to mucoid fluid. No identifiable food fragments are seen. The underlying gastric mucosa is pink, smooth and glistening. No evidence of gastric, pyloric, or duodenal ulcerations is seen. The duodenum, jejunum and ileum have a pink mucosa, intact muscular wall and contain small amounts of green mucoid material within the lumen. The cecum is present in the right lower quadrant. The cecum, ascending, transverse and descending colons have a pink mucosa, intact muscular wall and contain small amounts of poorly formed brown fecal material within the lumen. The sigmoid colon, rectum and anus appear similarly intact and unremarkable in appearance.

BONES, JOINTS AND MUSCLES

Examination of the inner aspect of the axial skeleton including the cervical, thoracic, lumbar and sacral spinous regions reveals evidence of rounded bullet impact to the right side of the ninth thoracic vertebrae, and a separate bullet impact to the interspace region of the right side of T10-T11 vertebrae. As previously noted, this segment of vertebrae is unroofed, revealing the presence of a bullet within the bony tissues of the more inferior bullet tract. Examination of the rib cage reveals evidence of multiple bullet fenestrations to the right side of the chest. Associated with fenestrations are fractures in the right anterior first rib and right posterolateral fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth, and tenth ribs. The pelvis bones show no fracture, deformity, dislocations, or hemorrhages. Examination of the extremities reveals the long bones to be freely movable at the joints. As previously noted, gunshot entrance/exit is present in the heel of the left foot, and gunshot entrance is present to the heel of the right foot with recovery of bullet from within the underlying tarsal bones. Dissection of the right shoulder reveals compound fracture disruption of the right proximal humerus and underlying right humeral head. The musculature appears to be normally developed for sex and age.

HEAD

The usual semilunar shaped intra-auricular scalp incision is made and skin flaps are reflected anteriorly and posteriorly. Two shrapnel wounds are present on the skin of the midline frontal scalp region. One of these is associated with a small metal fragment recovered from the underlying dermal and subcutaneous tissues. A bullet entrance wound is present in the left occipital skull region and is associated with some compound fragmentation in that region. A linear skull fracture is also present, extending from this entrance wound. No evidence of other scalp or cranial interstitial hemorrhages or fragmentation seen. A bony calvarial plate is then removed by means of a Stryker saw revealing underlying pink, smooth and glistening meningeal surfaces. A few cc of liquid blood is present within the left subdural space region and appears to be associated with focal disruption of the cortex of the left occipital lobe by bullet impact and penetration. A bullet fragment is recovered from the brain tissue, approximately 1.5 cm from the meningeal surface within the left occipital lobe of brain. Inspection of the inner table of the skull reveals typical beveling of the inner table of the skull as seen in a gunshot entrance wound. The brain is removed and noted to weigh approximately 1,400 grams. Focal disruption of cerebral cortical tissue and the left occipital lobe is present as described. No evidence of flattening of the gyri or narrowing of the sulci seen. No evidence of cortical contusions is noted. The inferior surface of the brain shows no evidence of uncal, cerebellar or cingulate gyrus grooving. The vessels of the Circle of Willis appear intact. No evidence of berry aneurysm is seen. The brain is then serially sectioned in the coronal plane in the fresh state revealing essentially symmetrical cortical gray and white matter. The ventricular system is not dilated. No evidence of intraventricular or intracerebral hemorrhage is seen. Sections of the pons and cerebellum reveal a similarly symmetrical, intact and unremarkable appearance. The dura is then stripped from the base of the skull and from the bony calvarial plate revealing homogeneous pink-white bony surfaces.

RETAINED EVIDENCE: Multiple tissue biopsy specimens including heart, coronary artery, lung, liver, gallbladder, spleen, pancreas, kidney, adrenal gland, gastric mucosa, trachea, thyroid gland and brain biopsy tissues are placed in formalin for fixation. The formalin fixed tissue biopsy specimens are submitted for histologic procedures.

RETAINED EVIDENCE: Specimens of pericardial blood, urine, vitreous fluid, bile, gastric content, and liver tissue are collected during the course of the autopsy examination and are forwarded to consultant laboratory for toxicology screens. The results are pending at this time.

COMMENT: This is the case of the death of a 34-year-old male found deceased after a shoot-out with police authorities. Two of the gunshot wounds are associated with Band-Aid placement consistent with wounds inflicted in a previous police traffic stop altercation. Multiple gunshot wounds to the right side of the chest associated with lacerations of the right lung are not associated with a significant accumulation of blood within the right chest cavity. The gunshot wound to the heart with laceration of the ascending aorta resulted in fairly rapid filling up of the pericardial sac with blood with subsequent cardiac tamponade. This gunshot wound to the heart in and of itself would likely result in unconsciousness within a minute or two. The gunshot wound to the left occipital scalp region penetrates the cranial vault and is likely associated with an immediate unconsciousness. The gunshot wound to the right side of the face is an atypical gunshot wound which is in a downward direction into the right side of the neck; it does not penetrate the cranial vault. The most immediately lethal gunshot wound noted is the gunshot wound to the heart.

The cause of death is listed as hemopericardium with cardiac tamponade due to laceration of aorta, due to multiple gunshot wounds. The manner of death is homicide.

Item 2-1 Twenty-five cartridges from Item 2 (1B48, E5086861)

Item 3 Cartridge case recovered from Item 1 (Item #3) (1B49, E5086862)

Item 5 FTU Secondary Evidence (8 bullets, 10 cartridge cases)

The results of the firearms examinations and national database searches are included in this report.

Results of Examinations:

Item 1 is a 7.62x39mm DC Industries semiautomatic rifle, Model NDS-1 (AKM variant). The Item 1 rifle functioned normally when tested in the Laboratory with the Item 2 magazine.

Item 2-1 are twenty-five 7.62x39mm cartridges that bear the headstamps of Wolf, Barnaul, and Vympel ammunition and have the physical characteristics of functional ammunition.

Item 3 is a 7.62x39mm cartridge case that bears the headstamp of Wolf ammunition and was identified as having been fired in the Item 1 rifle.

A query of the eTrace database for the Item 1 rifle returned a result that can be found under the Trace number T20160147977. A query of the National Crime Information Center (NCIC) database was performed and no records were found at this time.

An image of a test-fired specimen from the Item 1 rifle was entered into the National Integrated Ballistic Information Network (NIBIN) at the FBI Laboratory in Quantico, Virginia, and searched against the region that includes Illinois. No associations were found at this time. Additionally, if future NIBIN searches are requested for this evidence, the NIBIN server containing the FBI Laboratory will need to be selected as part of the search.

Methods:

Association

Association examinations compare the physical and class characteristics of evidence items. An association conclusion is reached if the observable or measurable physical dimensions and design features of two items are in agreement, or are "physically consistent." If these dimensions and features are clearly different, an elimination conclusion is reached. If there is a lack of observable design features or measurable dimensions, the result is inconclusive.

Firearms

The make, model, and caliber of a firearm are normally determined by directly observing manufacturer markings on the firearm in question. When these are not present, published materials and firearms in the Laboratory's Reference Firearms Collection may be used to make determinations.

Unless otherwise noted, submitted firearms are test fired:

- 1) in the condition they are received in the Firearms/Toolmarks Unit,
- 2) with ammunition from the Laboratory's Reference Ammunition File,
- 3) in a manner that allows for testing of available modes of fire such as manual safety engaged, manual safety disengaged, single action, double action, semi-automatic, fully automatic, etc.

NCIC/eTrace

The serial number from a firearm is queried against the Department of Justice National Crime Information Center (NCIC) stolen gun record and electronic tracing system (eTrace) internet-based databases. These databases contain records on stolen, lost, and recovered firearms and firearms used in the commission of crimes. Additionally, eTrace can provide systematic tracking information for a firearm from its manufacturer or importer to its point of purchase and recovery.

NIBIN

When a NIBIN entry is performed for a submitted firearm, an image of a test-fired cartridge case from that firearm is entered in the NIBIN database. An image of a representative sample of any submitted cartridge cases that have not been associated with a specific firearm are also entered in the NIBIN system. Entries are searched against the appropriate regional database(s), and correlation results are viewed to determine possible associations.

Limitations:Association

Association examinations are used to determine if two items are from a restricted group source and cannot be used to determine whether two items are from a unique source.

Firearms

The results of firearms function examinations describe the operating condition of the firearm as it was received in the Firearms/Toolmarks Unit.

NCIC/eTrace

The NCIC stolen gun record and eTrace databases will only return a record if the serial number queried matches a database entry and the information is available. Additionally, an NCIC and eTrace search may return a record containing information that does not match the description of the firearm being queried.

NIBIN

Due to a number of variables regarding image capture and data entry, NIBIN searches may not always locate entries that were fired in the same firearm.
