It was noted the magazine section "Parade" of "The Washington Post" issue of May 14, 1961, contained an article entitled, "We Will Finish the Job," by Frank Fiorini, as told to Jack Anderson. Fiorini was described as an American born Castro supporter who split with Castro and played a prominent role in the April, 1961, landings in Cuba. In this article it is stated "I intercepted a telegram to one Castro agent, [redacted], who was registered at Miami Beach's Surrey Hotel. The wire, obviously in code, was addressed to 'Lieutenant' [redacted] and was signed by [redacted]. I remember [redacted] well from my service with Castro in the Sierra Maestra. She was probably closer to Fidel than any other person." This telegram was not further described in the article.

b6
b7C

It has also been reported to the FBI that Drew Pearson in his radio broadcast on April 1, 1961, made the following statement:

FBI PHONE

Attention the FBI:

[redacted] (Phonetic) [redacted] registered at the Surrey Hotel, Miami Beach, has received a very interesting telegram from Havana. It's addressed to Lieutenant [redacted] and is signed by [redacted]. [redacted] is the name of Fidel Castro's [redacted]. The message, in Spanish, appears to be in code.

Assistant Attorney General
Herbert J. Miller, Jr.

Another source advised this Bureau of the interception of a Western Union Telefax message from Havana, Cuba, by an anti-Castro organization which appears to be identical with the above-referred to telegram. The original message as translated was as follows:

b6
b7C

"Lt. [redacted]
Curry Hotel
44th and Collins Ave
Miami, Florida

"Collected today 347.81 dollars to pay monthly 92.95 dollars Advise if received it.

"Affectionately
/e/ [redacted]

It has been determined that "Lt.," is a Western Union code for a letter-telegram. [redacted] has been interviewed concerning the contents of the telegram. This is furnished for your determination as to whether this interception of a telegram constitutes a violation of Federal law. No action will be taken by this Bureau in the absence of further instructions from the Department.

b3
b7E

NOTE:

Bufiles [redacted] and [redacted] contain the Bureau inquiry on this matter under [redacted] character. The recipient of the telegram states that the message refers only to his wife's mother's pension. Matter referred to Division Six by Division Five. It is being brought to the attention of the Department for consideration as to a possible UPUC violation. It would appear that Fiorini, or someone working with him, intercepted the telegram and it was then given some publicity in Anderson's article as well as on Pearson's broadcast, although the telegram was not quoted in verbatim in either instance. File reflects the caption used on the "Parade" section of "The Washington Post" is only the "Washington Post."

RE: CUBAN REVOLUTIONARY ACTIVITIES

T-1, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on November 24, 1958, that "El Fronterizo," a local Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico, newspaper, dated November 22, 1958, contained an article that stated that seven Cubans and one North American were arrested in Apatzingan, Michoacan, Mexico, by Agents of the Secretariat of Government (Secretaria de Gobernacion) and by Agents of the Attorney General (Procuraduria General), both Agents of the Government of Mexico. This article stated that the eight foreigners landed a "C-46" airplane at Apatzingan and were under arrest for instigating a plan to carry arms via air from Mexico to the Cuban rebel leader, FIDEL CASTRO, via Venezuela. (S)

T-1 advised that he had read a similar article in "Novedades de Mexico," a Mexico City newspaper dated November 21, 1958, and that this article had indicated that among the foreigners arrested in Apatzingan was one FRANK FIORINI. (S)

Regarding the above articles, T-1 advised that on November 13, 1958, a "C-46" airplane bearing Number N 1849M landed at the Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico, airport for a Mexican Customs inspection and to obtain gas. T-1 advised that this airplane was piloted by one [redacted] who had Commercial Airman Certificate Number C 332627. T-1 advised that instant airplane had as its passengers two Cubans, names unknown, and one FRANK FIORINI, who stated that he was the owner of instant airplane. T-1 advised that instant "C-46" was listed as a private airplane with flight originating in El Paso, Texas, and destination Vera Cruz, Mexico. T-1 advised that instant aircraft was searched by Mexican Customs upon landing at the Juarez airport and there was no cargo aboard the aircraft on this date, November 13, 1958. T-1 advised that FRANK FIORINI apparently had large sums of money in his possession and paid for 1,575 liters of gas for instant aircraft with two $100.00 bills from a large roll of undetermined denominations. (S)

On November 25, 1958, a perusal of the tourist permits issued by Mexican Immigration authorities on November 13, 1958, reflected the following information concerning individuals possibly identical with the occupants on the above-described "C-46": (S)

The Declaration of Temporary Sojourn filed with the Collector of Customs, El Paso, Texas, on November 13, 1958, reflected that an aircraft identified as a Curtis "C-46" (N 1849M), bearing markings blue, gray, natural, did on or about November 13, 1958, depart from the United States at the Customs port of EL Paso International airport on a Temporary Sojourn abroad and would return to the United States on or about sixty days from November 13, 1958. The entry records were checked as of 4/17/67, with no record found of the entry into Mexico of the 1958 Cadillac.

General [redacted] gave orders that he is personally interested in this case and gave orders to report to him personally night or day if this 1958 Cadillac with Florida license plates appears. He said that he would "take the Cadillac apart" looking for secret compartments and might detain the occupants pending an investigation. He advised that the only "probable cause" needed by him is his own pleasure in the matter. General [redacted] was advised that the FBI was not making any request that the car and occupants be detained and that it was a Mexican matter within the General's jurisdiction and that we had no suggestions to make as to how he should handle such problems.

Florida license 19829, by two associates of BOSCH at Cuban garage in Miami. Also four C4 detonators were hidden in plastic bag under dashboard.

On night of 4/8/67, FIORINI, [redacted] and Unsub identifiable as [redacted] left Miami enroute to Mexico.

They entered México at Reynosa at Noon, 4/11/67, and checked into Mante Hotel in Ciudad Mante on night of 4/11/67.

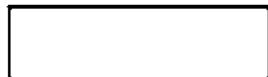

On 4/12/67, they toured Tampico. On 4/13/67, they lounged at Mante Hotel. On 4/14/67, they drove to Tampico, ate in restaurant-hotel on Tampico Beach, where they rented boat through a waitress. Boat owner named [redacted] and a helper took three subjects up river to dock area where FIORINI observed British freighter "The London" which he selected as target. [redacted] refused to help and returned to Mante Hotel by bus on night of 4/14/67.

On 4/15/67, FIORINI called [redacted] from Tampico to advise regulator trouble with car would delay return to Mante until 4/16/67.

About 3:00 A.M., 4/16/67, FIORINI and [redacted] arrived at Mante Hotel and FIORINI said he could not place bombs on ship because the Cadillac is too risky for successful getaway.

On 4/17/67, they stayed at Mante Hotel. During their stay at the hotel, FIORINI called Miami and received $200 by wire from ORLANDO BOSCH. [redacted] made telephone call from Mante Hotel to girl friend in Radford, Va.

On morning of 4/17/67, subjects left Ciudad Mante enroute to Texas. About one-half way between Mante and Ciudad Victoria, believed to be between kilometers 643 and 644, they parked car at a lookout point with view of large valley on one side and hillside with trees on the other. On this hillside among the trees about 50 yards from the road they dug five shallow holes and placed a bomb or a magnet and the four detonators together in each of the holes. [redacted] took photos of the area, which are being enclosed to Bureau for transmittal to Legat Mexico City.

Subjects then proceeded to Brownsville, Texas, arriving about 10:00 P.M., 4/17/67. Their car was thoroughly searched and [redacted] was arrested because he had false identification.

[redacted] is angry with FIORINI for having used [redacted] Texaco Credit Card for over $300 in charges on this trip with no effort to reimburse [redacted] is the [redacted] FIORINI, but was [redacted]

[redacted] is willing to testify to the foregoing, however, he intends to depart Miami on 4/21/67, in order to avoid confrontation with FIORINI. He furnished [redacted] address of girl friend, [redacted] College, as person who would know his whereabouts. [redacted] stated FIORINI had taken moving pictures of the British Freighter "The London" and he believed these were taken on Sears Roebuck Movie film, and sent to New York for processing. Sears processing is handled through Post Office Box 546, Rochester, New York.

The Bureau is requested, through Legat Mexico City, to attempt to locate the bombs, magnets and detonators utilizing enclosed photographs. Will also attempt to develop details of subjects activities at Mante Hotel and in rental of boat at Tampico.

REPORTED PLAN TO BLOW UP
CUBAN SHIP AT MEXICAN PORT
POSSIBLY AT VERA CRUZ

The following information was furnished the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Brownsville, Texas, by Customs Agent [redacted]

On April 17, 1967, at about 8:15 p.m., a white 1958 Cadillac four-door hard-top, bearing 1966 Florida license LWV-19829, arrived from Mexico at the B & M International Bridge in Brownsville, Texas. The vehicle was occupied by three males, who declared three quarts of liquor, three pots, and a pair of earrings to Customs Inspector [redacted]. Although the lookout called for a black Cadillac, Inspector [redacted] noticed that the driver of the vehicle fit the description of Frank Fiorini, also known as Frank Anthony Sturgis, and referred the vehicle to secondary inspection.

The subsequent inspection conducted by Customs Inspector [redacted] was negative, but it was learned that the driver of the vehicle was Fiorini and the Office of Investigations, Bureau of Customs, was notified, per instructions on the lookout notice.

The investigation conducted by Customs Agent
[redacted] and [redacted] revealed the following:

The driver and owner of the car was identified as Frank Anthony Sturgis of 2515 Northwest 122nd Street, Miami, Florida. He stated that his original name was Frank Angelo Fiorini, but as a result of court action

On 5/2/67, [redacted]

Eastman Kodak Company, 365 Ridge Road, Rochester, New York, furnished a copy of the first reel of film which had been duplicated from the original. He advised the contrast of the duplicate reel will be increased somewhat; however, the color and lighting are substantially identical to the original. [redacted] advised their plant in Rochester has no facilities for duplicating any particular frame from the reel of film; therefore, no individual prints were prepared.

FD-302a regarding investigation conducted at Rochester and Brockport, New York, are being prepared and will be forwarded to Miami Division. The duplicate film is being furnished the Bureau at this time and final disposition should be determined by the Bureau. Since it appears time is of the essence, a determination can be made whether to print individual copies of selected frames or furnish the complete film to the Legat, Mexico City, to assist in the location of the boats and related items supposedly buried by subjects in Mexico.

The film should be eventually furnished the Miami Office, the Office of Origin, as being of possible evidentiary value.

As the Bureau and Miami are aware, on 5/3/67 a bomb of low power was apparently thrown into the courtyard of the Cuban Embassy at Mexico, D.F., and exploded underneath the automobile usually occupied by the Cuban Ambassador to Mexico JOAQUIN HERNANDEZ ALIAS. The DFB is of the opinion that the bombing is the work of some exile group very likely based in Florida and on this basis a telephone call was made by the Mexico City Office to Miami on 5/4/67 and as a result DFB could be assured that FRANK FIORINI was in Miami on that date. Investigation in this matter was predicated upon information received on April 12, 1967, from a confidential source, who has furnished insufficient information to judge his reliability. The source advised that an individual, believed identical with FRANK FIORINI, had stated during the week prior to April 7, 1967, that he and three other persons would travel to Mexico by way of Brownsville, Texas, for the purpose of blowing up a Cuban ship, possibly in the Port of Veracruz, Mexico. FIORINI had indicated that he would be accompanied by three other persons and it was believed that he would travel in a 1958 black Cadillac sedan. The group, including FIORINI, was supposed to enter Mexico about April 12, 1967, and return immediately to Miami upon completion of its mission.

On April 13, 1967, the same confidential source identified a photograph of FRANK ANGELO FIORINI, FBI No. 948 362C, born December 9, 1924, in Norfolk, Virginia, as the individual involved in the plan to blow up a Cuban ship in Mexico. He said that FIORINI claimed that his Cadillac was an "outfit car," meaning a hoodlum car with possible hidden compartments.

On April 18, 1967, [redacted] U. S. Customs, Miami, advised that on that same date, he was informed by the U. S. A check of the records of the Dade County Auto License Bureau, Miami, Florida, revealed that 1966 Florida license 1WW-19829 was registered to FRANK STURGIS, 2515 N. W. 122nd Street, Miami, Florida, on a 1958 four-door Cadillac.

At approximately 10:00 A.M., April 21, 1967, a telephone call was received by Special Agent [redacted] at the Miami Office of the FBI from an individual who declined to furnish his name, but who stated he possessed information concerning a plan to place bombs on a ship in a Mexican port. He stated he knows the location of the bombs and the detonating devices which were to be used for the bombing of the ship, which he described as being a "London" ship. He said he was motivated to furnish information concerning this plot because he felt he had been "used", in that expenses amounting to about $350.00 had been made on his credit card in connection with the travel to and from Mexico.

[redacted] stated he had been living in [redacted] until the latter part of [redacted] having been employed there by the [redacted] and he came to Miami about [redacted] and stayed at the [redacted] FRANK FIORINI, at 2515 N. W. 122nd Street, Miami. He related that during the first week of April, 1967, he accompanied FIORINI around Miami and ascertained that FIORINI was involved with a Cuban, Doctor ORLANDO BOSCH, in a plan to blow up a Cuban ship in Mexico. He stated that on three occasions during the first week of April, 1967, he accompanied FIORINI to the Golden Fountain Restaurant, W. Flagler Street, Miami, where FIORINI met with BOSCH. He said he himself did not sit at the table with FIORINI and BOSCH because FIORINI instructed him to sit apart from them, but in conversation with FIORINI after the latter's meetings with BOSCH, he ascertained the nature of their plans concerning the bombing of a ship in Mexico. He said that on each occasion in the restaurant, BOSCH was accompanied by an individual whom FIORINI referred to as [redacted]. He said [redacted] works for a [redacted] at Miami which is [redacted].

[redacted] was also BOSCH.

[redacted] stated that although [redacted] FRANK FIORINI, he had not seen FIORINI until [redacted]. He said that at that time he was [redacted] when he saw an article concerning FIORINI which appeared in "Parade", the Sunday supplement which appears in many newspapers in the United States. He stated that his [redacted]

FIORINI was overseas in military service. He stated that after the war FIORINI did not return to Norfolk, Virginia, [redacted]. He stated that he knew of FIORINI, however, from photos [redacted], and upon seeing the article in "Parade" magazine, he contacted the author, JACK ANDERSON, at Washington, D. C., and through the latter made contact with FIORINI in Miami and subsequently came to Miami and visited him. He said he has visited FIORINI several times since but they have not [redacted].

He stated that FIORINI is very military-minded and considers himself to be the military General for ORLANDO BOSCH.

[redacted] stated that he [redacted] FIORINI on the trip to Mexico which FIORINI had explained to him because he considered it to be a joy ride and did not seriously consider the idea of putting a bomb on a ship. In any event, he did not consider it too grievous a plan if a bomb were placed on a Cuban ship. [redacted] stated that FIORINI spent considerable money in preparing his 1958, four-door Cadillac for the trip to Mexico, even had the car repainted white in color. He stated that much of the work was done at Bob's Friendly Texaco Station in Miami, and FIORINI made use of [redacted] Credit Card, stating that ORLANDO BOSCH would reimburse them for any expenses incurred in the operation to bomb the ship in Mexico.

Following the preliminary discussion of the bombing plot involving ORLANDO BOSCH and FIORINI, [redacted] checked out of the Howard Johnson Motor Lodge, and the interview was continued in the Miami Office of the FBI. [redacted] furnished the following signed statement at the Miami FBI Office, [redacted] having been advised of his rights, as reflected on an executed warning and waiver form:

At this time Frank told me about a plan to go on an anti-Castro mission for Dr. Orlando Bosch of Miami. I've seen Dr. Bosch about three times and Frank talked to him at the Golden Fountain Restaurant on each of these "occasions during the first week of April, 1967. I did not talk to Bosch as Frank Fiorini did not want me in the conversation. A Cuban known to me as [REDACTED] was with Bosch each time. Frank told me the plan discussed at these meetings was to blow up a Cuban ship in a Mexican port.

"On Thursday evening, I'm quite certain it was on Thursday, April 6, 1967 I went with Frank Fiorini in his 1958 Cadillac, 4 door sedan, to a garage and tire shop located across from the Riverside laundry near the Miami river. A man named [REDACTED] operates this garage. The person I know as [REDACTED] was also there. [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] proceeded to take the panels off the rear doors of Frank's Cadillac and they put a bomb and a magnet in each door. Frank told me that all that was necessary was to unscrew a plug from the end of each bomb and insert a pencil detonator and that's one less ship doing business with Castro, or a statement similar to that. After putting a bomb and magnet in each door, wrapped in tire tubing, [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] put the panels back on the doors. [REDACTED] also gave Frank four detonators and these were put up under the dashboard of Frank's car.

"Frank told me he had another fellow named [REDACTED] who would go along with us to Mexico. Frank said we'd go to Tampico or Vera Cruz.

"The next Saturday, April 8, 1967, Frank and his wife brought [REDACTED] to the house and that same night about 8 PM we started driving to Mexico. Frank had put an inflatable raft in the car trunk before we

"On Tuesday morning, April 11, 1967 we crossed into Mexico, just about noontime, at Reynosa, Mexico. We arrived in Ciudad Mante and checked into the Mante Hotel about 11 PM, April 11, 1967.

"The next morning the three of us drove to Tampico and looked around.

"The following day, Thursday April 13, 1967, we just lounged around the Mante Hotel.

"Friday, April 14, 1967, we went to Tampico again. We ate in a restaurant next to the beach and Frank arranged through a waitress to rent a boat. The owner of the boat and his helper then took us up the river at Tampico where the ships dock. Frank saw a British ship named "The London", a freighter, and he took a lot of movie pictures of this ship. After we got back to the beach, where we had rented the boat, Frank told me the British ship was the one to be bombed. I told Frank I didn't believe in blowing up a London ship and that I thought he'd blow up any ship. He asked me if I realized they were shipping to North Viet Nam. I told him I was going back to the hotel in Ciudad Mante. Frank and [redacted] stayed in Tampico and I took the bus to Mante arriving there about 10 PM.

"We stayed all day, Sunday, April 16, at the Hotel Mante.

"The next morning, April 17, 1967, we left Ciudad Mante enroute to Texas. About half way between Ciudad Mante and Ciudad Victoria we parked the car near a lookout parking area on the highway. There [redacted] and Frank took the bombs and magnets from the rear floor of the car and the detonators from under the dash and they buried them on the hillside by the road, putting the 5 items in 5 different holes dug with the stand for the car-jack. I took pictures of the area with my camera.

[redacted] further stated that the four pencil detonators were furnished by ORLANDO BOSCH for use with the bombs, and they were observed by [redacted] to have white tabs, which FIORINI explained were indicators that the detonators had a delay period of one hour before exploding when the tabs were removed. [redacted] stated that the detonators were silver in color, but he said he was not certain whether they might be U. S. military detonators or may have been home-made. [redacted] described the two bombs as about two feet in length, about a foot wide and about two inches in thickness.

[redacted] stated he had not known the individual who accompanied him and FIORINI on the trip to Mexico until this individual arrived at FIORINI's house on the night they started the trip to Mexico. He said he was not certain what previous friendship existed between FIORINI and this third individual whom he referred to as [redacted]. He became aware that [redacted] lived at the Aida Motel in Miami and that he was involved with a girl named [redacted] (Last Name Unknown), who was [redacted].

[redacted] stated that the rubber raft they had brought in the trunk of FIORINI's Cadillac was left in a locker at the bus station in Brownsville, Texas, before they entered Mexico because FIORINI thought it might be suspicious if the Mexican authorities found the raft in the trunk of the car. On return from Mexico, they took the raft out of the locker and brought it back to Miami.

[redacted] stated that FIORINI uses his legal name in most official matters, such as crossing the border or registering at a hotel. He said FIORINI's legal name is FRANK STURGIS. He said that he believed it was under this name that FIORINI received the $200.00 telegraph money order from ORLANDO BOSCH after having made a long distance telephone call to BOSCH from Ciudad Mante.

[redacted] stated that the hotel restaurant in Tampico, Mexico, where they ate and then rented a boat is located next to a Naval monument where a soldier is continually stationed on guard duty. The boat that they rented through the waitress at the restaurant belonged to a Mexican called [redacted] who apparently hired out regularly to take people on cruises. [redacted] said that when they went up the river at Tampico, FIORINI observed an Algerian ship which he thought would be a proper bombing target but this ship appeared to have guards on duty and, therefore, FIORINI decided against an attempt on this ship.

[redacted] stated that after FIORINI selected the ship named "The London", which [redacted] recalled had a home port in northern England, name of port not remembered, FIORINI explained that they would place the bombs on the ship at the water level using the magnets they had brought. [redacted] stated it was at that point that he told FIORINI and [redacted] that he wanted no part in attacking a British ship, and it was then that he returned to the Mante Hotel by bus.

[redacted] described [redacted] the individual operating the garage and tire shop in Miami where the bombs, magnets, and detonators were hidden in FIORINI's car prior to the trip to Mexico, as a man about [redacted] years of age, who speaks fair English. He said the other Cuban person at the garage during the installation of the bombs and magnets in the rear doors of FIORINI's Cadillac was [redacted] whom he described as slim and able to speak good English.

[redacted] upon being advised of his rights, executed a Warning and Waiver Form and furnished the following signed statement, which is translated from the Spanish language as follows:

I, [redacted], make the following statement voluntarily to [redacted] and [redacted] who have identified themselves to me as Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

b7E

I am [redacted] years of age and live with my family at 6437 Southwest 32nd Street, Miami. I am the owner of the [redacted] Miami.

I have known Mr. FRANK FIORINI for about ten years as he is a client of my garage for those years. About the first week of April, 1967, FRANK brought to my garage his 1958 white Cadillac. He wanted various repairs on the car before making a vacation trip. He did not tell me where he planned to go.

FRANK was accompanied by a friend about [redacted] or more years of age, taller than FRANK. I did not see this youth more than this one time.

It was about 4:00 or 4:30 p.m. when FRANK and his friend arrived. FRANK indicated he planned to leave on vacation in a few days. I worked about three hours on the repair of FRANK's car. He and his companion may have left to eat, but they remained around the garage until I finished the work. That was about 7:00 or 7:30 p.m.

About 6:30 p.m., more or less, there arrived in their personal cars Dr. ORLANDO BOSCH and [redacted] known as [redacted]. I have known Doctor BOSCH for a couple of months, having been introduced by [redacted]. I have known [redacted] since 1957.

I do not know if they were called to my garage by FRANK as he was accustomed to use the phone in my garage. They--FRANK, Doctor BOSCH, and [redacted]--had a conversation of fifteen or twenty minutes while I was working on FRANK's car. I did not hear their conversation.

I made repairs to the generator, the brakes, the windshield wipers, the voltage regulator, and the drive shaft universal. I asked FRANK if he wanted me to repair the windows of the rear doors. He told me no. I did nothing to the rear doors, neither repairing them nor removing the panels from them.

I did not put any package, any item of military equipment, nor any foreign object in FRANK's car.

FRANK next returned to my garage on Friday and Saturday the 21st and 22nd of April, for repairs to his wife's Falcon. He did not tell me where he went on his trip, although he told me that the generator in the Cadillac had burned out, and he may have told me he had to replace the regulator and perhaps that he had trouble with the radiator.

I have seen FRANK together with ORLANDO BOSCH one time, that night in the beginning of April, in my garage. I have seen FRANK with [redacted] several times.

I have read this statement of four pages, and it is the truth and correct to the best of my knowledge.

Mr. [redacted] stated that he has done repair work for FIORINI through the years and that, at present, FIORINI still owes him approximately $60 for work, including that done on the Cadillac in the beginning of April, 1967. He stated that FIORINI's Cadillac had been green in color but had been painted white at some other garage shortly before April, 1967.

[redacted] stated that he had only seen the companion of FIORINI, who accompanied FIORINI to the garage on the occasion of the first week of April, 1967, that one time and did not know his name. He did not believe this individual spoke or understood Spanish. He did not recall whether this individual was included in the conversation which took place at the garage between FIORINI, BOSCH, and [redacted]" He said FIORINI speaks and understands Spanish.

[redacted] stated he had asked FIORINI if he wanted the rear windows repaired on the Cadillac because he found they did not open when he pressed the buttons which electrically operate the windows. He said he pointed out to FRANK that the car would be hot on a long trip if the windows could not be opened, but FIORINI said it did not matter.

[redacted] stated that neither ORLANDO BOSCH nor [redacted] had any work to be done on their cars on the night they met with FIORINI at the garage while FIORINI was having his car repaired by [redacted]

[redacted] recalled that BOSCH came in his 1953 green Chevrolet, and [redacted] came in his 1964 or 1965 white Falcon. He recalled that BOSCH and [redacted] left the garage before FIORINI's car was ready. He did not think that BOSCH or [redacted] had brought any packages to the garage. He did not believe they had put anything in FIORINI's car.

He was certain they had not removed the panels of the rear doors of FIORINI's car. He denied that BOSCH or [redacted] had given him any bombs, magnets, or pencil-type detonators to be hidden in FIORINI's car. He stated that while he did not consider the meeting at his garage between BOSCH, [redacted] and FIORINI to be normal, he figured they had some political matters to discuss concerning the Cuban situation in which he knows the three to be interested.

[redacted]

[redacted] stated he is not a member of the MIRR, i.e. the organization headed by ORLANDO BOSCH known as the Movimiento Insurreccional de Recuperacion Revolucionaria.

He stated that he knows [redacted] to be a close friend of BOSCH but could not say if [redacted] is active in the MIRR. He stated that [redacted] works for the [redacted] at Miami.

He stated [redacted] is the godfather of [redacted] son, and he has known [redacted] since 1957, when the latter was in exile in Miami from the Cuban regime of FULGENCIO BATISTA.

[redacted] stated that he does not believe FRANK FIORINI is employed because he comes to the garage at any hour of the day, sometimes just to use the telephone.

He said FIORINI once told him he worked at a hotel in Miami Beach. He said he has met FIORINI's wife. He said FIORINI did not tell me if his wife or anyone else went on the trip, which he said he was taking in April, 1967.

Mr. [redacted] was advised of his rights as reflected on an executed Warning and Waiver Form.

He stated that he is the only mechanic at his garage, and he does not allow others to do their own work in his garage.

Mr. [redacted] checked his address and telephone number book, which he maintains at the garage, and advised that the telephone number of [redacted] whose correct name is [redacted] is HI 6-7118. He also located the telephone number and address of FRANK FIORINI in his address book and advised that FRANK's telephone number is 688-3388, and his residence address is 2515 Northwest 122nd Street, Miami.

Mr. [redacted] with the assistance of his wife, who handles paper work at the garage, reviewed billings for garage work performed by [redacted] in an attempt to locate a bill for work done on the 1958 Cadillac of FRANK FIORINI.

Review of these bills for the month of April, 1967, revealed no billing in the name of FIORINI.

[redacted] stated that he, nevertheless, had performed such work about the first week of April, and he recalled that no bill was made out at that time, but rather in April he completed work that was listed on a previous bill.

Mr. [redacted] then located a bill bearing No. 2462, dated March 28, 1967, which listed no name or car description but which [redacted] recalled as the bill he had prepared for FRANK. This bill listed a column of charges totalling

This same bill indicated a balance of $137.64, and Mr. [REDACTED] explained that $67.07 had apparently been paid on that bill by FIORINI. He said FIORINI paid him by personal check and recalled that subsequent to the payment of $67.07, FIORINI gave him two checks each for $50, thereby further reducing the balance owed.

[REDACTED] stated that these payments were not shown as credited against the balance of $137.64 because FIORINI also owed him money on other past work.

[REDACTED] stated he did not know what amount FIORINI actually owed him, and he pointed out that FIORINI was his friend, and for this reason he did not keep accurate figures on FIORINI's bills.

[REDACTED] stated that in the past, FIORINI's personal checks have always been good, although FIORINI has asked him on occasion to delay before depositing his checks.

_____ was interviewed at the _____ where he resides and where his father, MICHAEL ROCHE, is the caretaker.

_____ was advised of his rights as reflected on an executed Warning and Waiver Form.

He stated that he has known FRANK STURGIS, whom he has on occasion referred to as FRANK FIORINI, for about the past two years. He said he had met FIORINI at the bar or coffee shop of the Vagabond Motel, located on Biscayne Boulevard, and has maintained a friendship with him since that time. He stated that inasmuch as he planned to get married in mid-April, 1967, FIORINI suggested that they go together on a "bachelor party" to Mexico. He said this was decided upon the day before they set out for Mexico, which he recalled to be about April 7, 1967.

He said that a _____ FIORINI by the _____ went along on the trip to Mexico. This _____ is known as _____ _____ stated that he, himself, has been unemployed for several months, his last employment having been at the _____ in the Florida Keys, where he worked as a _____

He said he had developed a hernia while at the Ocean Reef Hotel and was operated on about the beginning of February, 1967. He has not been employed since that time and has stayed at the Alda Motel during that period.

He stated that he did not know what, if any, employment FIORINI had, but said that FIORINI had "hit the dogs" and, therefore, had enough money for the expenses for the trip to Mexico.

[redacted] stated that he has visited FIORINI's house on only one occasion and that was the night they left on the trip to Mexico about April 7, 1967. He said that he had supper at FIORINI's house that night, and after supper they set out for Mexico, driving continuously and rotating the driving between the three of them. He said they drove straight through to save the expense of staying in motels in the United States.

b6
b7C

He said when they arrived at Mante, Mexico, about midnight of the second day following their departure from Miami, they checked into the Mante Hotel.

He said they originally planned to drive to Tampico, but upon reviewing the "Triple A Handbook" on motel and hotel accommodations decided it would be less expensive to stay in Mante, which is not a great distance from Tampico.

He stated that most of their time was spent in drinking, using the pool at the Mante Hotel, and in sightseeing both in Mante and in the surrounding countryside.

He said they drove to Tampico on the day before San Sebastian Day, which he described as an Italian Holiday celebrated in Tampico. He said that on the visit to Tampico, they drank in various bars and also rented a boat at a restaurant motel located at the beach in Tampico near the mouth of the river that flows through Tampico. He said this boat was operated by the brother of the woman who ran the restaurant at the motel.

He said they went up the river in the boat as far as the City of Tampico, which is not built down to the ocean; FIORINI took moving pictures of ferry boats crossing the river and of themselves "clowning around."

He said FIORINI mailed this film from Tampico to the United States because it was feared the heat would damage the film. He said they returned to the City of Mante after this visit to Tampico.

He said a day later, FIORINI and himself again drove from Mante to Tampico, but [redacted] remained in Mante because he was sick with dysentery.

He stated they had considerable trouble with FIORINI's white 1957 or 1958 model Cadillac while in Tampico, and he recalled it was on a Sunday, believed to be April 16, 1967, that they had the car trouble because most garages were closed, and they had a lot of trouble finding a mechanic.

He said they had to stay overnight in Tampico and stayed at the largest hotel there, which he thought was called the Imperial. He said it cost 75 pesos total for him and FIORINI to spend the night at this hotel.

He said they had work done on the voltage regulator and generator of the Cadillac.

He said that during this trip to Tampico, while [redacted] remained in Mante, they visited lounges and took pictures of sights in the streets.

[redacted] stated the expenses of operating the Cadillac were higher than anticipated due mostly to the repair work which also included a flat tire in the City of Victoria, Mexico.

He said that because of the extra expenses, FIORINI called Miami, presumably his wife, and had money sent to him at the Hotel Mante by telegram. He said he did not know what amount FIORINI received.

[redacted] stated that altogether, the trip for the three of them cost about $200 to $275, plus operation of the car. He said they all had a good time, and it was purely for this purpose that they made the trip to Mexico.

He stated that the Mexican trip was suggested to him by FIORINI on the day prior to their departure, and he agreed to go because nothing ties him down, and if he feels like it, he goes where he pleases.

[redacted] stated he did not know Dr. ORLANDO BOSCH nor did he know any Cubans named [redacted] or [redacted] the latter a Cuban mechanic with a garage near downtown Miami.

He said he is aware that FRANK FIORINI talks about having lived in Cuba, and FIORINI claims to have been "a big man" in Cuba, but he pays little attention to these claims by FIORINI.

[redacted] stated he, himself, has no Cuban contacts and that he has no sympathy for the Cuban exiles who keep coming to Miami. He stated that his association with FIORINI is based only on the fact that they occasionally go to a bar together. He said FIORINI, in fact, does not drink much but will sit in a bar and take Coke.

[redacted] denied that he had gone to Mexico with FIORINI accompanied by FIORINI's [redacted] for the purpose of placing explosives on a Cuban ship or any other ship in the Mexican port of Tampico.

He denied any knowledge that FIORINI had any explosive devices in the Cadillac in which they travelled to Mexico. He said he did not believe FIORINI had any such material in the Cadillac because on their return to the United States at Brownsville, Texas, the Customs authorities thoroughly searched the car and found nothing.

[redacted] denied that he and/or FIORINI and [redacted] might have left the explosives in Mexico before arriving at Brownsville.

[redacted] stated that he was arrested at Brownsville and held from Tuesday until Friday by the police at Brownsville because he possessed false identification at the time he identified himself to the Customs authorities at Brownsville. He said the identification which he had was in the name of [redacted] or [redacted] which he claimed to have bought for $25 from an unknown individual on skid row in Miami.

He said he bought the identification, which included a driver's license and other cards, because he needed a driver's license to help with the driving on the trip to Mexico.

He stated that it was determined by the Customs officers at Brownsville that the identification was not his because the driver's license reflected a description which included brown eyes, whereas his own are blue.

[redacted] stated that after his release from jail in Brownsville, he telephoned FIORINI at Miami, and the latter sent him a total of $75 by wire so that he could return by bus to Miami.

He said that since his return to Miami, FRANK has come to the Alda Motel to see him in order to bring some earrings and some other items which he had bought in Mexico and which were left in FIORINI's Cadillac.

He stated he has also lived in common-law with one woman. Date May 4, 1967

[redacted], also known as [redacted] was interviewed at his place of employment, the [redacted] Company offices, [redacted] Miami, Florida.

He was advised of his rights against self-incrimination as reflected on an executed Warning and Waiver Form.

[redacted] stated he resides with his wife and four children at [redacted] Miami, and is employed by the [redacted] Company as a [redacted]. He advised that he is a [redacted] having come from Cuba to Miami on August 25, 1958. He stated that prior to coming to the United States, he had been the [redacted] in the City of Santiago de Cuba in eastern Cuba.

[redacted] who is [redacted] years of age, stated that he belongs to no particular anti-FIDEL CASTRO organization but assists whatever organization he believes needs or deserves his help. He stated he does not believe in certain anti-CASTRO action, such as placing bombs outside of Cuba with a view toward some indirect harm to the CASTRO Government.

He stated he is a friend of Dr. ORLANDO BOSCH, head of the anti-CASTRO group known as the "MIRR," and during 1966, was picked up with BOSCH by authorities near Naples, Florida, while they were transporting bombs from Miami to the airport at Naples. He stated that the plan of BOSCH at that time was to drop the bombs within Cuba, and this is the type of action of which he, [redacted] approves in the anti-CASTRO movement.

[redacted] stated that he has been acquainted with FRANK FIORINI since about 1958 because FIORINI has been involved in Cuban revolutionary matters since that time, as has been [redacted]

He stated he did not know where FIORINI was employed, or if he had employment. He said he did not know where FIORINI resided in Miami.

[redacted] stated he was also acquainted with [redacted] who operates a garage at [redacted] and [redacted] Miami, and he knows [redacted] as a result of having taken his car to that garage for repair.

[redacted] denied that he had any knowledge of a plan involving BOSCH and FIORINI to place bombs on a ship in a Mexican port as an anti-CASTRO action. He claimed that this was a type of action which he opposed because it could result in the injury of innocent persons, and he, himself, as the father of four children, considers such a bombing plan to be irresponsible.

He stated that if a plan involving bombing within Cuba or of Cuban ships off the coast of Cuba were considered, he would support such action.

[redacted] stated he has, on occasion, met Doctor BOSCH and FIORINI at the Golden Fountain Restaurant on West Flagler Street, in Miami, inasmuch as he, on occasion, has taken his meals there, and FIORINI and BOSCH also occasionally eat at the restaurant.

He denied that they had ever met at the restaurant by appointment or for the purpose of discussing military plans.

[redacted] further denied that he had met with BOSCH or FIORINI by appointment at the garage of [redacted] in Miami during an evening in the first week of April, 1967.

He stated that inasmuch as all three use the garage for car work, it is possible they met there by coincidence.

He denied any knowledge of the installation of bombs or other explosive devices in the car doors of FIORINI's old white Cadillac, or in any other part of the Cadillac. He said he believed any information that such activity had occurred at [redacted] Garage to be false, inasmuch as he knows that [redacted] Garage closes at 6:00 p.m. each night, and further, that it is such a public place that bombs would not be handled there. He stated that he, himself, does not know how to fabricate bombs.

[redacted] stated he had no knowledge of any trip by FRANK FIORINI to Mexico during April, 1967. He said it had been about three weeks since he last saw FIORINI, and it had been ten or twelve days since he had seen BOSCH.

He stated he occasionally visits at the residence of BOSCH, who lives with his mother at about 35th Street in the northwest section of Miami.

Date 5/8/67

FRANK FIORINI was located at the United Motors Sales, 9001 N. W. 7th Avenue, Miami, where he is currently employed as a used car salesman. Mr. FIORINI was advised of his rights as reflected on an executed warning and waiver form.

FIORINI stated that as of the beginning of April, 1967, he was not employed although he has, in addition to occasionally working in the used car business, operated his own business called the Hampton Roads Salvage Company. He said that this business at one time had an office on Northwest 17th Avenue, about 14th Street, in Miami, but in recent years he has conducted business from his home. He explained that in the Hampton Roads Salvage Company of which he is the only employee, he has engaged in the brokerage of small boats at Miami.

FIORINI stated that inasmuch as he was not working as of the beginning of April, he decided to take a vacation trip to Mexico, and he talked to a friend whom he referred to as [redacted] and whom he further identified as being [redacted] who resides at Alda Motel in Miami. He said at the time his [redacted] the latter now deceased, was visiting at his residence in Miami and agreed to make the trip with FIORINI and [redacted]. He said [redacted] is named [redacted] and [redacted] is from [redacted] where he was [redacted]. FIORINI stated that the motivation for the trip to Mexico was not because of the fact that either [redacted] or [redacted] were about to get married.

Mr. FIORINI stated that he is acquainted with Dr. ORLANDO BOSCH, whom he knows to be the head of the anti-Castro organization called the MIRE (Movimiento Insurreccional de Recuperacion Revolucionaria). He stated he had not seen Doctor BOSCH for several months. He denied that he ever had any meetings with Doctor BOSCH in the Golden Fountain Restaurant on West Flagler Street, Miami, although he has occasionally seen BOSCH in that restaurant. He specifically denied that he had met with Doctor BOSCH and/or a Cuban alien known as [redacted] whose correct name is [redacted] at the garage of [redacted] on [redacted] at [redacted] in Miami, during the first week of April, 1967. He stated that he has known [redacted] since about 1958 because both he and [redacted] have been active in Cuban revolutionary activities since that time. He stated that on occasion he has seen both [redacted] and Doctor BOSCH at [redacted] garage because they all happen to have mechanical work done on their cars by [redacted]

FIORINI said he believed he did have some work done on his 1958 Cadillac shortly before making the trip to Mexico in April, 1967, but he could not recall what work was done. He said he definitely had no pre-arranged meeting with BOSCH at the garage of [redacted]. FIORINI said he wished to make clear the fact that he has been opposed to the United States position on Cuba for the past eight to ten years. He said he first became involved in Cuban matters in mid-1950's when his [redacted] married a Cuban woman and had to leave Cuba because of the oppression of the Cuban regime of FULGENCIO BATISTA. FIORINI stated that he has always been an anti-Communist and he spoke of his exploits in Mexico and Cuba with FIDEL CASTRO as of 1958 and 1959 prior to and subsequent to the overthrow of the BATISTA government. He stated that he has many friends among the Cubans and many still in Cuba. He stated he would help by revolutionary activities of a military nature if he had the opportunity. He pointed out that he is a friend of former Cuban President, CARLOS PRIO, and he escorted PRIO to a reception for President JOHN F. KENNEDY in Miami Beach shortly after President KENNEDY's election. He stated he himself is involved to some extent in local politics at Miami and on May 1, 1967, he had spoken to Dade County Commissioner [redacted] and mentioned to [redacted] his three and one-half hour detention by authorities at Brownsville, Texas, when he returned from his trip to Mexico on or about April 17, 1967. He stated that he considered it improper that he, as an American citizen, should have been detained by the authorities at the port of entry at Brownsville.

FIORINI stated that he considers himself a loyal American and stated that he has served in the United States Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps. He said he had been a pilot having learned to fly as a civilian in Virginia. He claimed to have owned a B-25 at one time but said he does not have a current pilot's license.

He stated that he believes that Cuban exiles should be permitted to conduct raids against the CASTRO regime, and that he would assist in such raids but would not admit his participation to authorities because of the fact the United States Government looks toward prosecution of persons involved in such activities.

FIORINI stated that on his trip to Mexico he and his two companions stayed at the Mante Hotel in the city of Mante, Mexico. He said he and [redacted] went to Tamnico on one occasion where they did some fishing but [redacted] did not accompany them because he did not like fishing. He said that he has known [redacted] that is [redacted] for about a year and a half; he said [redacted] was a boat captain in the Florida Keys.

b3
b6
b7C
b7E

FIORINI was asked if ORLANDO BOSCH had sent him any money while he was in Mexico and he answered a Cuban friend, not BOSCH, had sent him $100 and that his wife had also sent him $100, the latter to Alabama, on the return trip to Miami because expenses with the car had depleted their funds.

FIORINI stated that he took no explosives into Mexico and that he had not gone there for the purpose of sabotaging any ship. He denied that the rear doors of his 1958 Cadillac were used to hide explosives during transportation. He said the electric motors which operate the windows of the back doors do not work but as far as he knows, the motors are still in the doors.

RE: FRANK ANGELO FIORINI; ET AL

On May 4, 1967, a confidential source abroad, advised that through the aid of the photographs which [redacted] had turned over to the Miami FBI Office, Mexican authorities were able to locate the site where the explosives had been buried as described by [redacted]. The source stated that Mexican authorities had, in fact, located explosives at the site.

On May 16, 1967, Mr. [redacted] [redacted] Florida, employed as [redacted] with the office of [redacted], stated that it was on or about March 31, 1967, that he discovered his secretary-type wallet missing from his residence. He stated the wallet contained his driver's license, a Gulf Credit Card in his wife's maiden name, a Publix check cashing Ident. card, a University of Florida student card, his draft classification card and other miscellaneous papers and pictures. He stated he was very certain the wallet had been taken from his residence although nothing else was missing from his residence at the time, because, after an absence from his residence on March 31 - April 1, 1967, he and his wife upon their return found the door to their residence ajar.

b7C

He said he had not at that time reported the loss of his wallet to the Coral Gables Police Department. He stated that about April 17, 1967, he was contacted by the Coral Gables Police Department and also by the Brownsville, Texas Police Department, concerning the possession of his identification by an individual whose name was not furnished to him but who was detained by authorities at Brownsville, Texas.

Mr. [redacted] stated that he had been advised the Brownsville Police Department would forward his identification papers to him but thus far they have not arrived.

The confidential source who furnished the information on which investigation was predicated, as cited on Page 1 of the LHM, is PCI [redacted] who stated he would not testify to the information furnished.

The confidential source abroad referred to on Page 34 of the LHM is Legat, Mexico, which advised Miami that Mexican authorities who had found the explosives in this case heard telephone call from Legat to Miami relative to bombing of the Cuban Embassy, Mexico City, May 3, 1967.

The roll of 8 millimeter colored movie film received by Miami from the Bureau per Bureau airtel dated May 9, 1967, was reviewed at Miami and found to contain pictures of subjects FIORINI, [redacted] and [redacted] evidently taken in Mexico and other scenes in Mexico, none of which appear to be of evidentiary nature.
