in smaller American units by measuring them against the total force involved in an engagement even though much or in many cases most of the total force had not fired a shot or been fired at." (N.Y.T., Dec. 7, 1965)

PHONY PEACE OFFENSIVE

The resumption of bombing against North Vietnam after Johnson's latest "peace offensive" indicated the sheer hypocrisy of his "peace" talk. While he was talking about "unconditional negotiations" he stepped up the bombing raids and attacks in the south. He called the United Nations into special session while convoking a council-of-war in Hawaii to discuss new plans for annihilation and destruction and to bolster the regime of General Ky. He flew his ambassadors around the world while increasing the deployment of troops to Vietnam.

WE HAVE NO STAKE IN WAR

Americans have no more right in Vietnam than the British had in America at the time of our own revolution. Johnson and his administration have consistently pursued a policy designed in effect to assure that the U. S. would determine the future of Vietnam rather than the Vietnamese, and this had led the U. S. into a war whose sole purpose is to prevent the people of Vietnam from choosing their own way of life. That is why the war is so brutal and oppressive. It is a war against the Vietnamese people.

The majority of Americans have no desire to intervene in other countries. They have no stake in supporting a brutal and unjust war against the Vietnamese people. Neither South nor North Vietnam have attacked or committed any other act of aggression against the U. S. What do Americans have to gain by killing thousands of Vietnamese and creating hundreds of thousands of refugees? What does the ordinary American win by backing up a military dictator whose self-proclaimed hero is Adolph Hitler?

The American youth who die in Vietnam are victims of Johnson's policy as much as the Vietnamese. To prevent the slaughter of thousands of innocent Americans and Vietnamese, the U. S. must get out of Vietnam and bring the troops home now.

Humphrey Tells Colleges: Avoid Isolation

By WILLIAM H. DE LONE
Of the Philadelphia Star
 Vice President Hubert H.

...in universities to abandon
 ...
 Speaking at Temple University's 8th convocation ceremony in the P. D. Civic Center Convention Hall, Humphrey said:

"The university is the place where the light of knowledge is brought to the community. It can be the center of progressive activism."

Honorary Degrees

Humphrey was one of seven persons receiving honorary degrees at the exercises. A class of 2,189 received degrees.

Humphrey arrived in an Air Force plane at International Airport at 10:15 A. M. after a 20-minute flight from Washington. Three minutes after the plane landed, the Vice President drove to Convention Hall in a parade of some seven automobiles led by a police motorcade.

Peace Picket

...pickets on the ... from the ...
 ...pickets said they were representatives of peace groups, the Philadelphia Area Committee to End the War in Viet Nam, the Temple University Student Committee for Peace in Viet Nam and the Women Strike for Peace.

One picket said he was Eugene Bloomfield, 43, of Wernersville, Pa., father of a Temple undergraduate. He carried a sign reading: "Draft Humphrey Not People."

After receiving a doctor of philosophy degree, Humphrey stressed the need for involvement of the university and the community in solving social problems. "American universities have a duty to give to American cities and our cities have a great duty to give in return," he said. "There are many community programs which would benefit from research than from argument, and the university should be in the midst of all of them."

Isolation Scored

He urged universities to get away from the English ideal of colleges "isolated from life by acres and acres of well-tended lawn."

Rather, he asked that the university use the community as an important "laboratory."

At the same time, Humphrey stressed the need for "a new grammar in speaking and writing about poverty."

In that grammar, he said "the poor are the subjects, the people who act, rather than the objects, the people who are acted upon."

...involvement of community action councils in the war on poverty is essential, he said, because the poor are the ones who can best tell us what is wrong with their education. "Why urban renewal is not really eliminating slums and why welfare programs are not breaking the cycle of dependency."

Action Is Needed

Community action is needed, Humphrey said, for "the most important but most intangible" aspect of the antipoverty program—"the enhancement of human dignity."

"That is why the participation of the poor in the development and management of these programs is absolutely vital," Humphrey said.

"For the essence of human dignity is the right of people to have a say in determining their own future."

Humphrey said that "we have ample reason today to heed Aristotle's grim warning that poverty is the parent of revolution and crime," by examining American cities.

Humphrey left the hall at 11:40 A. M. as soon as he had completed his address, and flew back to Washington.

Others receiving honorary degrees at the ceremony were A. Livingstone, financial editor of The Philadelphia Record; doctor of letters, actor Alfred Lunt and James F. Johnston, doctor of husbandry, and Milton S. Eisenhower, director of 721 Corp., who gave the closing letters.

Stanley Axinn, a philosopher, was at Temple presiding over the ceremony.

Memorandum

TO : The Director

FROM : N. P. Callahan

SUBJECT: The Congressional Record

DATE: 8-10-66

Herbert Humphrey

Pages 17832-17836. Senator Harris, (D) Oklahoma, spoke concerning an address delivered by Vice President Humphrey before the National Association of County Officials in New Orleans on July 18th. He stated "After receiving some letters from people who were concerned about some news reports that the Vice President had encouraged violence, I contacted the Vice President's office about this matter. I was furnished a complete transcript of the Vice President's speech. I found the two paragraphs which had caused the trouble, and I found that the Vice President had also stated that he deplored and did not condone violence." Mr. Harris placed in the Record excerpts from the speech and a statement issued by the Vice President. Mr. Harris pointed out that he had been furnished a copy of the commencement address of the Vice President at the 77th session of the FBI National Academy in which Mr. Humphrey appealed to every American to respect and honor law enforcement procedures. Mr. Harris stated "This speech of the Vice President has been reprinted in the August 1966 issue of the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin, and I ask unanimous consent that that article and the speech be printed at this point in the Record." They were set forth in the Record.

VICE PRESIDENT HUBERT H. HUMPHREY

BANQUET, UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA,
GAINESVILLE, FLORIDA, OCTOBER 28, 1966

"The Florida Times-Union", a daily newspaper in Jacksonville, Florida, dated May 17, 1966, carried an article which stated a man walked into the office of the Socialist Workers Party in Detroit, Michigan, on May 16, 1966, and shot three young men in the office after stating, 'You're all Communist'. The article stated that Jan Edward Garrett, age 22, was wounded and that Garrett's father is Edward K. Garrett who resides in Gainesville, Florida. According to this article, a spokesman for the Socialist Workers Party advised Garrett is a member of the Young Socialist Alliance. 65

The May, 1960, issue of the "Young Socialist" (YS), page 1, column 3, disclosed that during April 15-17, 1960, a national organization entitled "The Young Socialist Alliance" (YSA) was established at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. This issue stated that this organization was formed by the nationwide supporter clubs of the publication YS.

The above issue, page 6, set forth the Founding Declaration of YSA. This declaration stated that the YSA recognized the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) as the only existing political leadership on class struggle principles, and that the supporters of the YS have come into basic political solidarity with the SWP on the principles of revolutionary socialism.

[REDACTED] that the original YSA was an organization formed during October, 1957, in New York City by youth of various left socialist tendencies, particularly members and followers of the SWP. The leaders of this group were the guiding forces in the establishment of the national organization. b7d

[REDACTED] that the YSA is dominated and controlled on a national basis by the SWP through having SWP members comprise exclusively the National Executive Committee (NEC) and through an official SWP representative at all YSA NEC meetings. The YSA, in reality, is the youth and training section of the SWP and the main source of new SWP members.

The headquarters of the YSA are located in Room 631, 41 Union Square West, New York City.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

Ladies and Gentlemen, I am honored to appear before this convention today to talk with you for a few moments and to share a few thoughts concerning modern law enforcement and its intricate but essential relationship to modern society. As a proud American, I salute you and the profession you represent. You are a knowledgeable and dedicated group; you accept the obligations of your job courageously and without hesitation; and you adhere to a truly professional code of ethics.

The service you render to your communities is achieved only at great personal sacrifice to you and your families; it is achieved by your selfless devotion to duty; it is achieved despite the widespread apathy of the American public which all too often takes for granted the high level of law enforcement enjoyed in this country.

We are living today in the most progressive period of history. Everything is in a state of dynamic change. Every facet of our existence is dramatically affected by the marvelous and sometimes awesome developments in the fields of science and technology. Law enforcement is no exception. In fact, tomorrow's socio-economic climate will demand a more learned, capable kind of law enforcement leadership to keep in step with the other advancing elements of our society.

You folks are by no means alone when you face increasing complexities in your dally work. Not too many years ago, the farmer cleared his land, sowed his seed, hoed the weeds from around the plants, and reaped his harvest as fortune provided it. Today, farming has become a highly scientific enterprise, replete with fertilizers, insecticides, and complex machinery which he must master in order to operate efficiently and productively. Not too long ago, a mechanic could repair a Model T Ford with a pair of pliers and a loop of bailing wire. Today, in order to do a good job, he must continually attend training courses and read technical materials to keep up with the sophisticated technology being introduced each year into the new car models. In like manner, the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker are all confronted with new materials and techniques which they must master. It is only logical to expect that in such a changing society, law enforcement must also become more professional in its knowledge and conduct. This profound, accelerated upheaval is not confined to this country alone. It presents a challenge to law enforcement organizations throughout the world--a challenge which can be met only by the united efforts of law enforcement, civic and government organizations, and the public.

There is nothing particularly new about this idea of cooperation, but its need becomes more apparent as we consider some of the current adverse trends which challenge law enforcement today. The trends I speak of involve a changing population, the mobility of the offender, and the increase in repeated criminal acts as shown by an analysis of criminal career records.

In 1901, approximately two-thirds of the population of this country was spread throughout the rural areas. By continual migration from rural areas during the past 65 years, this situation has been reversed. Today more than two-thirds of the population of the United States is located in urban areas. Our rising crime rate can be correlated almost directly with the urbanization of our national population. Crime in the United States continued its upward trend with a six-per cent rise during the first three months of 1966 as compared to the same period in 1965, according to the figures recently released in the FBI's Uniform Crime Reports. Cities which have populations in excess of 100,000 had an over-all increase of four per cent as a group. I might also add that this crime rise is not exclusively an urban problem since there was noted during the same period a nine-per cent increase in suburban communities and an eight-per cent increase in rural areas.

In addition to the mobility of the general population, we are also aware of the mobility of the criminal offender which has a direct relationship to law enforcement in the control of crime and the performance of related police services. In January, 1963, the FBI initiated a detailed study of the criminal histories of individual offenders. At the close of the calendar year 1965, over 150,000 such offenders had been included in this study. Approximately 25 per cent of the offenders were arrested in two states and 22 per cent in three or more states. This, I think, is substantial proof that the criminal does not operate exclusively in his own backyard. Today's criminal travels more frequently and faster because of modern transportation media and a shrinking world. It is no great problem for a criminal to commit a crime in one city and be swallowed up in the population of another before law enforcement is even aware of the crime.

This same study of criminal offenders revealed that three out of every four offenders were repeaters; that is, each had a prior arrest on some charge.

President Johnson is deeply concerned about the crime increase in metropolitan areas. Only last January, when he submitted his Message on American Cities to the Congress, he said, "So let us begin -- begin now, this year -- so that a decade from now our cities may be what we have dreamed them to be -- the masterpieces of our civilization."

Crime, of course, was not the only consideration when the President set forth this challenge. He is deeply concerned over the amount of poverty which exists today and is attempting to eradicate this situation through his War on Poverty. Bitterness, anger, and frustration breed quickly where there is poverty, and the end result is frequently an increase in crime and lawlessness. This administration is also deeply concerned with the slum areas of our cities. Here again we find not only a deterioration of the buildings and physical surroundings in such localities but also a deterioration of the people living within them. These poverty areas also contribute quite substantially to the law enforcement problem.

This administration recognizes its responsibility to promote and support effective assistance to law enforcement organizations. A tremendous boost was given to the efforts of law enforcement when the Law Enforcement Assistance Act of 1965 became a reality. Millions of dollars of Federal funds are being made available to Federal, state, and local police to improve and strengthen the administration of law enforcement at all levels. The President's concern also resulted in the establishment of the President's Commission on

Law Enforcement and the Administration of Criminal Justice. It is our sincere hope that the findings of this Commission will be of substantial value and assistance to you in your efforts to stem the steady rise of crime and lawlessness.

I am also aware, that while your responsibilities include crime prevention efforts and the apprehension of criminal offenders, you are also challenged as law enforcement executives and managers with the efficient operation of your respective departments.

The Twentieth Century, which will be remembered for many things, has brought with it a revolution in management and organization science. The business community has long recognized that the success of an enterprise is directly related to the quality of its management. The country needs innovators who will use this new management technology, including computer applications, to meet the needs and demands of a rapidly growing and changing society. There has been an information explosion in management with the result that much of our knowledge, including some recently acquired, is rapidly going out of date! What was adequate yesterday may be inadequate today and totally disastrous tomorrow. The men and organizations who do not keep up with these changes will find themselves obsolete in facing the problems of the future.

The American police service, if it is going to make its full contribution in a changing world, must constantly re-evaluate its management and organization procedures. New approaches in the fields of business administration and public administration must be studied, analyzed, and adapted to the needs of the profession of law enforcement. The police manager must be aware of current trends in the behavioral sciences to equip himself to handle and counsel employees in these days of prosperity when workers may have several job opportunities available, many of which may be more enticing from a salary standpoint than a career in law enforcement if economics were the only consideration.

Employees in all organizations are looking to management to satisfy their needs and aspirations. If law enforcement expects to recruit and retain qualified personnel, you must establish the reputation that a police organization is a good place to work because management encourages each officer to develop to the fullest extent of his capabilities. Management must provide the opportunity for training and professional development, both on the job and in the classroom, to assist individual officers to reach their potential and to enhance the composite value of law enforcement services to the community.

The law enforcement manager must be aware of the short-range and long-range goals of his department, his local government, and certainly of the national government so that the policies and actions of his department may be responsive to the social and cultural needs of the whole society. Law enforcement is the most important arm of government in protecting the lives, rights, and property of the individual. The well-managed police department of today, staffed by dedicated officers, is an impressive task force in combatting the mounting crime problem. Crime poses a grave problem to the development and aspirations of our great American society.

Law Enforcement like society, also has its share of grave problems. My informants, both professional and otherwise, advise me that you are deeply concerned with the effect of recent court decisions in the field of criminal law. While I do not consider myself capable of solving your technical problems in this area, permit me to suggest several attitudes you might cultivate in your approach to these problems.

First, there have been a number of recent court decisions which have extended the protection of the Constitution of the United States to all citizens against whom police action of any kind is directed. These decisions, however, are not the first changes in the history of criminal law in the United States or in English law from which our system is primarily derived. Long ago a person arrested on a criminal charge had no right to counsel for assistance in his defense. He had no right to a speedy trial. In fact, years might pass before the King's judges heard the case, and in some instances prisoners died in filthy dungeons before the trial date. Once it was the law that there was no right to bail, no matter how innocent the accused might prove to be nor how severely the family might suffer from loss of the services of their breadwinner.

We are on the elevator of history, and the changes taking place in the criminal law today are only a continuation of a long history of innovation in the law. I suggest that there is at least some tangible evidence that you, with your obvious zeal and dedication, can conform your practices to the requirements laid down by the recent court decisions.

Second, although I readily admit that many of you lack the public support which you deserve, I hope and believe that some improvement is on the way. New attention is being given to the criminal law and the problems of law enforcement in areas where only a few years ago this subject was left virtually untouched. I have not the time to name all those who are participating in this renewed interest in the enforcement of the criminal law but I urge you to remember that the President of the United States, acting through the Attorney General, has set up special task forces to study crime and the criminal law in all the significant ramifications of those problems. It is my hope and belief that through these studies there will come a new and more appreciative recognition of the problems of the law enforcement officer and his urgent need for assistance scientifically, educationally, technically, and otherwise.

An expanded FBI Academy to be constructed at Quantico, Virginia, is a direct result of President Johnson's request of Congress in March, 1965, to provide means for more Federal help for training and technical assistance to local and State law enforcement personnel. This training facility will increase sixfold the number of qualified law enforcement officers, a total of 1,200, who can attend the FBI National Academy each year. Specialized training courses of two or three weeks' duration will also be available to as many as 1,000 additional police officers each year. I am sure that training of this type will be a valuable asset to you and your fellow law enforcement officers.

Much as been said recently about the "image" of law enforcement. A favorable image, like a good reputation, must be earned. Law enforcement must prove to the public and to the courts that it is fully cognizant of its responsibilities to society and is making every effort to handle those responsibilities in a professional manner. Law enforcement is not dealing with the abstract concept of crime and crime prevention. It is dealing with human beings--with society as a whole. As such every law enforcement officer must be conscious of human relations in dealing with individuals and community relations in dealing with the public.

A concentrated effort must be made to enhance the police image, and every member of the profession must do his part in meeting the public more than halfway. The chief of police is no longer a figure isolated in an office; he is truly a community leader and has to interact, coordinate, and cooperate with the various groups and organizations which make up his community. He and the members of his department must work to gain stronger public support for the law enforcement function.

If we take a hasty look at our situation today, we might be inclined to believe that we are temporarily backed into a corner. This is not really true. Do not be negative in your approach. Do not be disappointed. Do not be discouraged. Do not be pessimistic. These attitudes will not help one bit. We must be positive in our approach, in our thinking, and in our actions. We are in a changing society--we must change with it! I echo the feelings of President Johnson and his administration when I say that I have the greatest confidence in your ability to successfully meet these challenges. I am also sure that as you achieve greater confidence and incorporate the best of science, training, and technology in your profession you will find that you have earned the undying thanks and lasting respect of a grateful America for your outstanding service to humanity.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

"YOUTH AGAINST WAR AND FASCISM
P. O. Box 372
Buffalo, New York 14205

"September 8, 1966

"FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

"Youth Against War and Fascism protests the visit of Vice-President Humphrey to Buffalo on September 8 to attend the State Democratic Party Convention.

"We feel that the greatest threat to the American people -- and to the youth in particular -- is the continuing, mad adventure being pursued by the Johnson-Humphrey Administration in Southeast Asia -- an adventure which could very easily lead to World War III.

"'Liberal' Hubert Humphrey -- Johnson's Travelling War Salesman and Big Business' War Hawk -- cannot gloss over the genocidal nature of U. S. aggression in Vietnam.

"----- YOUTH AGAINST WAR AND FASCISM PROTESTS the continuing use of napalm, poison gases and chemicals, the destruction of vital food crops and the indiscriminate bombing of the civilian population in Vietnam by the United States!

"----- WE PROTEST the sending of American youth to Vietnam to die in an undeclared war 7,000 miles from home!

"----- WE PROTEST U. S. intervention in a just struggle being waged by the Vietnamese people against Western colonial oppression!

"----- WE PROTEST the increasing American casualties in Vietnam that are a result of the aggressive Johnson-Humphrey foreign policy -- according to Pentagon sources as of August 20, 1966 over 5,000 GI's killed and over 26,000 wounded!

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

"---- WE PROTEST the recent deliberate and barbaric bombing of the dikes and water works in North Vietnam which, if destroyed, could cause the death by drowning of millions of men, women and children!

"---- WE PROTEST the increase in the cost of living and the higher taxes resulting from U. S. Big Business' expansionist aims in Asia!

"It is the youth of America -- and our families -- who are paying for this war while the perpetrators of this mad adventure either sit back comfortably in Washington or take to the road in an effort to use super-salesmanship to sell their program of genocide in Southeast Asia.

"But the ever-increasing struggle and opposition to the war reveals a growing awareness on the part of American people -- and the youth in particular.

"YOUTH AGAINST WAR AND FASCISM CONDEMNS THE VICE-PRESIDENT FOR THE CRIMES OF THE JOHNSON-HUMPHREY ADMINISTRATION IN VIETNAM! HE STANDS GUILTY BEFORE THE EYES OF THE WORLD -- BEFORE HUMANITY!

"STOP THE WAR IN VIETNAM! BRING THE GI's HOME NOW!"

"POLICE ATTACK FREE SPEECH

"On Saturday, August 6, 1966, William Sander was arrested by Buffalo Police while taking part in a march to protest the Vietnamese war. Sander alleges that he was unjustly arrested and that he was injured by the police.

"The arrest of Sander has raised in Buffalo, as have similar arrests elsewhere in the nation, the question of the right of free speech exercised in criticism of the institutions and policies of this capitalist society. Free speech in one or another form is a value that most people have held or have attempted to hold from time immemorial. Free speech is most needed by most of the people and is most resisted by some people in periods of social change. Capitalists when they fought against feudalism to build their society claimed the right of free speech. Capitalism now faces its time of truth and critics of it look forward to a new society. They must have the right of a people's free speech.

"Capitalism threatened by change is using its legal structure and the police enforcement of it to suppress its critics. The arrest of Sander, the denial of his right of free speech, is just one example of police suppression to maintain this unjust society. In his arrest for protesting against the murder of Vietnam we see:

as the inhabitant of a black community sees in the behavior of a Mississippi sheriff or the shooting of McDuffie

the use of the police to maintain an unjust society:
as a worker on strike sees in the arrest of his union leaders and the harassment of his picket lines

the use of the police to maintain an unjust society:
as a student sees in the arrest of draftresisters and in the expulsion and beating of those protesting poor education

the use of the police to maintain an unjust society.

"Free speech must be defended. Police repression must be stopped.

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] The
organization as of February, 1966, had no active membership as such. However, four or five individuals appeared to be the nucleus of the organization as it exists at this time in Buffalo, New York. [REDACTED] the name Buffalo Chapter, YAWF, is used to sponsor picket demonstrations which are in reality sponsored by the Buffalo Branch, WWP.
The primary purpose for using the name Buffalo Chapter, YAWF, is to prevent students and other demonstrators from being frightened away by use of the name WWP.

VISIT OF VICE PRESIDENT HUBERT H.
HUMPHREY TO BUFFALO, NEW YORK,
SEPTEMBER 8, 1966

APPENDIX

WORKERS WORLD PARTY

[REDACTED] advised that on February 12, 1959, a Socialist Workers Party (SWP) minority group, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] this minority group, referred to as the Marcyites, after many years of program and policy differences on varied issues concerning tactics and interpretation of political events split from the SWP on the grounds that the Party was liquidating itself by departing from the Marxist precepts of LEON TROTSKY and retreating from the fight for the world socialist revolution. The final issue which ultimately forced the split was the minority's opposition to the SWP regroupment policy which involved cooperation with the Communist Party (CP) periphery - individuals characterized by the minority as petty-bourgeois. b7c

The minority program, [REDACTED] advocates unconditional defense of the Soviet Union and has as its goal the building of a revolutionary party with a complete proletarian orientation for the purpose of overthrowing capitalism in the United States and throughout the world.

[REDACTED] advised this minority group had chosen the name Workers World Party.

[REDACTED] advised the Workers World Party, which maintains headquarters at 46 West 21st Street, New York, New York, supports the People's Republic of China in its ideological dispute with the Soviet Union.

The SWP and the CP have been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~
