are not subjects of the investigation. Their prints are being sent for elimination purposes only.

The investigation has revealed that the threatening remarks may have been written by a unknown postal employee who may work at the Raleigh postal processing plant. Postal Inspector advised that all postal employees are fingerprinted as part of their hiring process. Once a latent print is identified and compared to an individual, it is hoped that a handwriting analysis can also be done on that same individual.

The Latent Fingerprint Section is requested to obtain any fingerprints from the envelope and compare them with any postal employees fingerprints that may be on record. The Handwriting Analysis Section is asked to preserve or photograph all threatening statements in the event that a comparison may be done in the future.

Results of Examinations:

Three self-adhesive, thirty-two-cent stamps depicting the American flag, dated 1996 and probably removed from a coil(s), are affixed to Q1. Although undamaged self-adhesive stamps such as these cannot usually be positively associated with one another and/or their source(s), perforation characteristics were observed which indicate that the Q1 stamps may have been adjacent to one another on a single coil.

The Q1 envelope bears the trademark "Columbian". It is a product of the Westvaco Corporation Envelope Division, located in Springfield, MA (telephone number 413-736-7211). No additional trademarks/watermarks, indented writing, or other physical characteristics which might indicate the source of Q1 were observed.

A photocopy process, available on numerous brand-name copiers and printers, was used to prepare the Q1 address.

Information from Q1 has been searched through the Anonymous Letter File with negative results. Appropriate entries have been made to the file for future reference. This envelope has been forwarded to the United States Secret Service for search through their Forensic Information System for Handwriting (FISH). Should this search yield positive results, you will be subsequently notified.

The submitted evidence has been photographed for possible future hand printing comparisons with respect to Q1. If such examinations are desired, known writing in the same wording and format as the questioned entries should be obtained from logical suspects and submitted to the Laboratory. Blank envelopes may be used. The writer should not be allowed to see Q1 prior to the exemplars being taken and, upon completion, each should be removed from his/her view. A sufficient quantity of exemplars to account for natural variation in the writing should be obtained. In addition, undictated known hand printing from the same individual(s) would also be useful. Possible sources of suitable hand printing include bank transaction and/or other forms, licenses and invoices.

Synopsis: To close case. /

Details: The handwriting analysis and latent fingerprint examination sent to the FBI Laboratory in Washington, D.C., both came back with negative results. The automated latent fingerprint search that was conducted was not able to identify any matches on the prints. All handwriting analyses have been photographed for possible future handprinting comparisons with respect to this investigation.

A thorough review of the captioned file reflects no outstanding investigation. A careful review of all pending matters in the Charlotte Division failed to locate any positive information regarding the written threats against Senator Helms. Source information from the Charlotte office of the FBI was negative regarding captioned matter. Coordination with local law enforcement agencies have failed to generate any new leads.

All evidence in this matter will be transferred into a 1A envelope.

In view of the above; this matter is being placed in a closed status.
