Fifteen of the latent fingerprints are not identical with the fingerprints of the following individuals: (u)

Mont Wesley Swearingen, FBI #791970D
James Warren Jones, FBI #70597N2 (Deceased)
Charles S. Garry, FBI #180493B (u)

Nor the elimination fingerprints of Special Agents, as follows: (u) b7C

Robert John Oglesby, Jr. (u)

The two remaining latent fingerprints, which are impressions of the extreme side areas of fingers, are not identical with the comparable areas of the available fingerprints of the aforementioned individuals. No palm prints are contained in the Identification Division files for these persons. (u)

The specimens have been forwarded to SA [redacted] of the Laboratory Division for examination and disposition. (u)

[REDACTED], a seven year old black female, was interviewed upon her arrival at the John F. Kennedy International Airport (JFKIA) from Jonestown, Guyana. After being apprised of the identity of the interviewing agent and Special Agent (SA) [REDACTED] of the United States Secret Service who was present during the interview, [REDACTED] provided the following information: (u)

Discipline at Jonestown was known as "PSU", which was the Public Service Union. [REDACTED] was once placed on PSU and she had to cut grass for three days with a cutlass, even when she developed diarrhea. [REDACTED] was placed on PSU because she was accused of slapping another girl, TRATRICE AUDUBERRY. (u)

[REDACTED] stated that some of her teachers at Jonestown were CHRISTINE LUSEANTUS (PH), a white female, young, short with blonde hair, a female referred to as "C" (possibly Curlstyle (PH), RONDA PAGE and DENISE LA QUINTA (PH). PAGE and LA QUINTA taught socialism. [REDACTED] believed LUSEANTUS was dead. (u)

[REDACTED] resided in Cottage [REDACTED] with a group of youngsters and four supervisors, SCOTT THOMAS, LINDA THOMAS, CORLISS BUTAY (PH) and MARK BUTAY. [REDACTED] did not live with her parents, but they could see each other when they wished.

[REDACTED] also worked at the Senior Center. (u)

[REDACTED] noted that members of the Security Force at Jonestown were the two "TIMS", one black and one white and JOHNNY COBB. [REDACTED] never heard the term "angels." [REDACTED] stated that weapons at Jonestown were kept in Cottage 14 and JOHNNY COBB JONES had the key. [REDACTED] once went to Cottage 14 with her Aunt [REDACTED] (her mother's sister) and [REDACTED] saw guns there. [REDACTED] recalled that members of the Security Force poked the seniors at Jonestown with their weapons to wake them up if they fell asleep at meetings. Some of the members of the Security Force were also on the basketball team. (u)

67C
Regarding her escape from Jonestown, [REDACTED] stated that her parents said they were going to the "Piggery," the place where animals were kept, and escaped through the bush. [REDACTED] recalled hearing gunfire while in the bush. [REDACTED] saw the following individuals in the bush: (u)

House-West was where EVETTE, EVA and STEPHANIE JONES resided. House-East was JIM JONES' house. JONES lived alone and told people he was ill. [REDACTED] thought JONES was Indian. JONES had a gun at meetings. (u)

During an "alert", everyone was required to go to the Pavilion and hide under tables. JONES called alerts by using the intercom system. (u)

[REDACTED] stated that "suicide" was when you were sent into the bush. [REDACTED] recalled that KAY ROSA was sent into the bush and a tiger bit her face. When suicide was discussed at meetings, [REDACTED] was asleep. She thought, however, that suicide meant being disobedient to JONES. (u)

Regarding the visit to Jonestown by Congressman LEO RYAN, [REDACTED] stated that JONES' daughter accompanied RYAN around the camp because she was turning against JONES. [REDACTED] believed that JONES' daughter resides in the United States. (u)

[REDACTED] noted that her parents had a little money in Guyana that her grandmother had sent them from the United States. (u)

[REDACTED] stated that the bosses at Jonestown were JIM JONES, CHRISTINE LUSEANTUS (PH), EVA JONES, JUDY ARNES or IRONS (PH). JONES' bodyguards were DALE PARKS and [REDACTED] helped to protect JONES at meetings. (u)

BQ

[REDACTED] noted that grown-ups were also assigned to PSU where they had to wash floors, cut grass and clean JONES' house. When one was good, one was given special treats such as fudge, cake and cookies. Punch was distributed at special dinners, not at alerts. (u)

According to [REDACTED] when someone died at Jonestown, their body was sent to the United States, so their parents could have them buried. (u)

When asked if she had ever seen anyone killed at Jonestown, [REDACTED] replied that she had not. She stated, however, that she had heard that JIM JONES had killed his mother, VANETTA, because she was smoking. [REDACTED] observed the grave where JONES' mother was buried. (u)

Regarding JIM COBB, [REDACTED] advised that his real name is JIMMIE JONES. COBB is a black male, tall, who lived in Jonestown and [REDACTED] believed he could be trying to escape. (u)

[REDACTED] stated that she heard her parents talk about injections. [REDACTED] parents stated that when people at Jonestown were given injections, they went to sleep and never woke up again. (u)

Regarding the manufacture of dolls, [REDACTED] stated that they were made at Jonestown by MARY GRIFFITH and the latter stated that they were to be sold. (u)

[REDACTED] provided the following information regarding the below noted individuals: (u)

STEVE JONES

JIM JONES' son; Did as he pleased; Not on Security Force; On basketball team; White male. (u)

TIM JONES

White male; On Security Force.

BQ

JIM JONES, JR.	aka Jimmy; Black male; On Security Force and basketball team.
LOU JONES	Drum player; Not related to JIM JONES; Not on basketball team or Security Force; White male.
CALVIN DOUGLAS	On basketball team and Security Force; Black male.
JOHNNY COBB JONES	On Security Force and basketball team; Black male.
JOHNNY JONES, JR.	On Security Force and basketball team; Black male.
DOUG SANDERS	On Security Force; Not on basketball team, as he is too short.
HERBERT NEWEL	Black male.
JOE WILSON	On Security Force; A feared individual; Not on basketball team, LESLIE WILSON's husband; Deceased; Black male.
LEE INGRAM	White female.

[REDACTED] did not know her date of birth, and she believed she was born in San Francisco. [REDACTED] will be staying with her grandmother, [REDACTED] in San Francisco. (u)

[redacted] advised that he [redacted] stated that he was among numerous news media people who were assigned to cover a trip to Jonestown, Guyana and to travel with U. S. Congressman LEO J. RYAN (Democrat, California) and several relatives of members of the Peoples Temple. Prior to the Guyana trip, [redacted] was among a group of people who attended a presentation concerning the Peoples Temple put on by the Peoples Temple in California. The two attorneys who represented the Peoples Temple were also present at the time of the presentation. (u)

67C [redacted] he flew from California to New York on Monday, November 13, 1978, and then from New York to Georgetown, Guyana on November 14, 1978. The two attorneys for the Peoples Temple met with Congressman RYAN and the rest of the contingent from the United States on Wednesday evening or Thursday in Georgetown and, on Friday evening, November 17, 1978, they got the "okay" from Attorney LANE to proceed to Jonestown. [redacted] they all then flew from Georgetown to Jonestown where they were delayed at the airstrip for one to two hours before receiving permission to proceed to the Jonestown proper. The whole contingent was transported to Jonestown via truck and the trip took between 45 minutes to an hour, placing them in Jonestown at approximately 7:00 p.m. The temple people put on a big ceremony and "God Bless America" was sung. Many of the people appeared to be happy, however, that evening, a slip of paper was passed to NBC Correspondent DON HARRIS by someone who wanted to leave the settlement and return to the United States. None of the visitors were permitted to stay overnight there, so they all left and returned the following day, Saturday, at approximately 10:00 a.m. On Saturday at Jonestown, an older woman grabbed DON HARRIS and indicated she and her family wanted to leave the compound and return to the United States. HARRIS brought this woman to Congressman RYAN and she and her relatives stated on voice recorded tape that they wished to leave. (u)

Congressman RYAN then interviewed the Reverend JONES on tape about alleged tortures, disciplinary measures, etc., used against members of the Peoples Temple at Jonestown. Reverend JONES denied all allegations and additionally stated that the only guns in the compound were used strictly by the hunters to obtain food for the members of the church. (u)

When the whole contingent was getting ready to depart the compound for the airstrip, approximately 15 other church members suddenly wanted to "defect". The visiting contingent and the "defectors" were driven to the airstrip where there were two airplanes waiting. Shortly after the arrival at the airstrip, [REDACTED] a tractor pulling a flatbed truck with canvas over the top. Three men got off the tractor and flatbed, walked toward the reporters and asked which airplane the Peoples Temple members were leaving on. No one responded to this question and a short time later, these individuals pulled weapons from the flatbed and opened fire on the people standing on the airstrip. [REDACTED] as he remembers it, the people from the temple who were on or near the tractor when the unprovoked shooting began were one black man named "STANLEY" (driver of the tractor), one white male who was approximately 45 years old and appeared to be the leader of this group, and three other Negro males. One woman "defector" was killed as she was about to board one of the airplanes. The engine and tires of one of these airplanes were shot out and, although there were embassy people in the area, the people doing the shooting seemed to convince their shooting to the contingent from the United States. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] The cameraman was moaning when one of the temple people walked up to him and shot him in the head, killing him. [REDACTED] stated that he remained motionless [REDACTED] feigning death, when he was shot again; an apparent attempt to make sure he was dead. [REDACTED] stayed, laying face down on the airstrip, for approximately one-half hour, and he heard an airplane engine start amongst the noise of people crying. He then ran into the thick brush surrounding

[REDACTED] was interviewed on November 19, 1978 at the Malcolm Grow Medical Center, Andrews Air Force Base, Maryland, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] born [REDACTED] had just flown to Andrews Air Force Base from Guyana, South America, having arrived only a short time previous. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED], telephone [REDACTED] he has been so employed since January 22, 1978. The first knowledge he had of his assignment to travel to Guyana was on Thursday afternoon, November 9, 1978, when he was assigned to travel there by [REDACTED]

He said this came about on the assumption [REDACTED] who has written a number of stories about the Peoples Temple, would not be permitted to make the trip. He explained that the [REDACTED] had just learned at that time of a trip planned by Congressman LEO J. RYAN from California to travel with a party to Guyana. (u)

He was to cover RYAN's visit to Guyana and to see Jonestown if possible. He flew from San Francisco to New York, where he met Congressman RYAN and his party, and they departed New York about 3:30 p.m. on Monday, November 13, 1978. Congressman RYAN was representing the House International Relations Committee to check on conditions in Jonestown. He recalled that also present on this airplane flight from New York to Guyana were eight other media people in addition to himself, as well as Congressman RYAN and his Administrative Assistant K. JACQUELINE SPEIERS. In addition, JIM SCHOLLART of the House Committee Staff was also present. They flew to Trinidad and subsequently to Georgetown, Guyana arriving there Tuesday night, November 14, 1978, about midnight. (u)

All of the members of the media, except [REDACTED] were permitted to enter the country, [REDACTED]

The appropriate formal request was made at the U. S. Embassy and [REDACTED] delayed approximately 12 hours at the Immigration Office. (u)

at the Timheri Airport in Georgetown until the matter of his permit could be resolved. Subsequently, his permit was received and he was permitted to enter Guyana for five days. (u) b7C [redacted] Congressman RYAN had been negotiating for an invitation to Jonestown, but that he was given a list of conditions which would have to be met in order to visit there. These conditions included that Attorney MARK LANE be present, that members of the Black Caucus be present and that the Reverend JIM JONES would choose the members of the press to go there. Congressman RYAN, however, did not agree to these conditions. Subsequently, Congressman RYAN reached an agreement with Attorneys MARK LANE and CHARLES GARRY, who is the attorney for the Peoples Temple, permitting them to travel to Jonestown. [redacted] there was a logistics problem involved due to the planes and the landing strip available. (u)

A group of people calling themselves Concerned Relatives, totaling 13, were interested in accompanying Congressman RYAN to Jonestown. This group of people consisted of individuals who had been in the Peoples Temple, were temple dropouts or were people with relatives in Jonestown. (u) b7C [redacted] the press media paid a part of the cost of the plane trip, the Concerned Relatives paid a portion and Congressman RYAN also paid a portion of the expenses for the plane to fly to Jonestown. The plane was an 18 seater and present on the flight were Attorneys LANE and GARRY, four members of the Concerned Relatives group only as the entire group was too large to take and it was decided these four would represent their group, and a number of the media. [redacted]

[redacted] as well as Congressman RYAN and his Administrative Aide, K. JACQUELINE SPEIERS. (u)

[redacted] Congressman RYAN had said that he was not pre-judging anything and had an open mind concerning his visit to Jonestown and was representing constituents (u) from his district in California in view of the interest of people there in the Peoples Temple and their concern for friends and/or relatives. (u)

Their plane left the Georgetown Airport and arrived at Port Kaituma in the late evening of Friday, November 17, 1978. They then proceeded via truck or a land rover into Jonestown, which is about six miles away, which six miles consisted of deep, red mud. (u)

67C A sergeant RUDDER, a local Guyanese constable, and his deputy met them at Port Kaituma. RUDDER said that he had instructions that only SHARON AMOS could proceed to Jonestown, however, AMOS was back at Georgetown and not a member of the party. [REDACTED] SHARON AMOS as being a current member and leader of 50 to 60 people living in a house in Georgetown where supplies were received by the Peoples Temple and subsequently forwarded to the Peoples Temple in Jonestown. Attorneys LANE and GARRY could not understand RUDDER's orders and some members of the Peoples Temple, about five or six, arrived on a red tractor. They entered into negotiations and subsequently, agreed that LANE and GARRY could go on in first to Jonestown and negotiate for the Congressman. They walked to a nearby telephone or transmitter and after an apparent conversation, came back and said that the entire party could travel to Jonestown. LANE, GARRY and Congressman RYAN were among the occupants of the first truck to travel into Jonestown, along with the other people [REDACTED] temple people. The truck then returned for the press and the four people representing the Concerned Relatives group. (u)

67C Congressman RYAN had been there approximately 20 to 30 minutes when [REDACTED] group arrived there. They went to a central location, which place was an open air meeting place with a corrugated tin roof, a stage and seats. They were welcomed and served iced tea. The people were very hospitable, although [REDACTED] he had heard that this had been staged for their benefit. They were told that the people there wanted to entertain them and they had dinner and entertainment, which consisted of singers and a rock band. [REDACTED] the NBC personnel filmed this. The entertainment ended about 11:00 p.m. that night. [REDACTED] the room was charged with emotion. Congressman

b7C RYAN gave a speech explaining that he was an impartial observer there and elaborated along this line, that it appeared that some people were happier there than ever before. There was great cheering, however, [REDACTED] he again later heard that the people had been instructed to do this. When the time came to leave, there were no accommodations there, but a cottage was obtained for Congressman RYAN, Attorneys LANE and GARRY and possibly SPEIERS, with the remainder of the people renting the home of a person where they spent the night. (u)

The following day, Saturday, [REDACTED] things were doubly tense. Congressman RYAN was interviewing people in Jonestown privately, some of whose names had been given to him by members of the Concerned Relatives group. The previous evening, DON HARRIS of NBC had received a note from a young man with three names on it, which note asked for help in getting these people out of Jonestown. (u)

[REDACTED] Congressman RYAN as he wanted to see parts of Jonestown for himself. After a conference with Attorneys LANE and GARRY, an agreement was reached that the media could roam around the grounds. He was subsequently refused entry into the "Jane Pittman House" on the basis they wanted to protect the privacy of the people inside who were elderly. He said he believed the actual reason was because the women occupants of the home were packed in "like sardines" and that there were 65 people stacked in beds there. He noted there was an allegation of funding of the Peoples Temple through Social Security checks of the elderly, such as the people there. One of the leaders of the Peoples Temple went into the Pittman House and requested permission for them to enter, which was granted. As they went inside, however, many of the women inside left. [REDACTED] talk to several women and all of them said they liked it there. (u) b7C [REDACTED] his tour of the grounds and the people preparing to leave started reporting to the central assembly area. When he returned there, he saw some women with Congressman RYAN who wanted to leave. He noted in particular that the PARKS family was present with Congressman RYAN and wanted to leave. Other people then joined Congressman

RYAN and this group. [REDACTED] the time to leave had arrived as the airplane in which they were to depart was arriving at a certain time. The press got into the first truck which was leaving. He said that some of the media were going to film Congressman RYAN as they were leaving. Congressman RYAN was remaining behind to stay with and give protection to members of the Peoples Temple who had expressed an interest in leaving with RYAN, but who could not get onto the first truck due to it being crowded. Attorneys LANE and GARRY were remaining at Jonestown and not traveling to the airport. (u)

[REDACTED] he had interviewed the Reverend JIM JONES and JONES said he had always permitted people to leave who wanted to, but that if people did try to leave, he would say "Father has failed his people". He tried to talk women out of leaving when they expressed an interest to leave. One of the women involved in this was EDITH PARKS of the PARKS family. [REDACTED] at this time, everyone was embracing one another and everything was on friendly terms. (u)

The truck on which [REDACTED] and other individuals were riding proceeded about 100 yards before it became stuck in the mud. He then heard a loud cheer, saw a commotion and people running. About five to ten minutes later, Attorney LANE came up the path to the truck hustling Congressman RYAN with him. Congressman RYAN's shirt was pulled up to his waist and there was blood on the left side of the shirt, however, it was later learned it was not the blood of Congressman RYAN. (u)

Congressman RYAN got into the truck and said someone had thrust a knife at him. The truck then traveled to the airport, but the plane on which they were to depart had not yet arrived. Congressman RYAN and the others sat down in a little shed and Congressman RYAN told them what happened to him back at Jonestown. He said a young white male had lunged at him with a knife, that he had fallen back and that MARK LANE, who had been his opponent in this matter, had saved his life, as he had wrestled the knife wielder to the ground. The knife wielder was cut during this attack and it was apparently his blood that was on Congressman RYAN's shirt. (u)

he was riding pulled away from Jonestown to drive to the airport, a Negro male got onto the truck and clung to the side of it staring at him. A female temple member inside the truck identified this individual as being JOE WILSON. [REDACTED] WILSON's wife and child had left Jonestown earlier that date trying to make their way to Port Kaituma. WILSON rode all the way out to the airstrip on this truck with them. (u)

[REDACTED] there were possibly 32 people milling around in the area by the airport waiting for the planes to take them away from there. He said the truck on which he and other members of the press and others had traveled to the airport must have returned and brought back a second group of people. BOB BROWN of NBC was filming the activities there. [REDACTED] they were receiving many hostile looks and that the members of the press gathered together. The two airplanes had landed during this period of time. One plane was a small, single engine plane with a capacity of about four to five people. (u)

[REDACTED] the larger airplane, an Otter. He later learned that a LARRY LAYTON, who was one of the last people to get on the first truck including [REDACTED] and the media as it pulled away, had gotten onto the small single engine plane. He explained that when LAYTON got onto their truck that the Temple People who were riding on the truck, and leaving Jonestown, crowded together and away from LAYTON and said not to let him on, that he was a traitor and would hurt them. As a result, while on the truck, [REDACTED] started interviewing LARRY LAYTON, who was very nervous. [REDACTED] the temple people were adamant that LAYTON should not be permitted to go with them and that they were afraid of him. (u)

At the airport, Congressman RYAN, DICK DWYER, Deputy Chief of Missions of the U. S. Embassy at Guyana and others were frisking people to make certain they did not have firearms before boarding the airplanes. LARRY LAYTON, whom he described as pale and "hyper" said he had to get on the first plane, referring to the small plane. RYAN was on one side of the small plane and LAYTON apparently went to the other side and climbed into the plane. (u) b7c [REDACTED] he described as a truck and a tractor with the truck partially concealing the tractor, drive over to the area where they were congregated. This was during the period of time that they were still milling around and frisking people. (u)

Subsequently, approximately three to five males came walking over swiftly from the direction of the truck and tractor and JOE WILSON was one of them. [REDACTED] then standing beside the larger airplane [REDACTED] saw several people coming at him armed with rifles. He was then standing by [REDACTED] the airplane. BOB BROWN, the NBC cameraman, was nearby filming this sequence of events. Firing commenced [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] fell to the ground and moved behind the airplane for protection as did BOB BROWN. He was trying to take cover behind the airplane tire and he heard additional shots. He said the shooting possibly lasted five minutes or less.

[REDACTED] looked behind him. He saw DON HARRIS of NBC trying to get behind the tire of the plane, as was Congressman RYAN. He heard later another individual was also trying to get behind the plane tire for protection. He saw an individual come around the side of the airplane. He saw BOB BROWN lying on the ground and believed he was hit, but not dead as his body was moving some. He also saw DON HARRIS on the ground with his body moving and believed him to still be alive. An unknown individual then came up and placed his rifle by the head of DON HARRIS and fired, administering what he called the "coup de grace". Either this same individual or another individual did the same thing to BOB BROWN, both of whom were on the ground. (u) b7c [REDACTED] was then possibly 10 to 15 yards away and who had been trying to make up his mind as to whether to play dead or run for it, then decided to run. He got up and ran across the airplane field into a tropical rain forest area. He ran into this dense undergrowth as far as he could. He had a camera bag, which he dropped on the runway and he dropped his Nikon camera in the swampy area as he went into it. (u)

27C [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] He saw a pasture, which he proceeded through, and subsequently, he made his way around the perimeter of the airport. He then saw people and recognized among them [REDACTED] He went over to them. He said this was possibly 4:30 p.m. (u)

He observed that the larger twin engine Otter plane was disabled as the tires had been shot out. The small plane managed to take off and he was told that it had one passenger, a female temple dropout member. He was not certain as to when the small plane took off, but understood it summoned help. (u)

He observed Congressman RYAN's body as well as the bodies of HARRIS, BROWN, GREG ROBINSON, San Francisco Examiner photographer, and the body of a woman beside the plane. He said he could not see who shot Congressman RYAN [REDACTED] (u)

27C [REDACTED] he believed that the individual who shot DON HARRIS was a young black male, possibly a teenager or in his 20's and perhaps a little taller than [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] He said it all happened so fast that he cannot be positive that the individual who [REDACTED] was a black male, however, he believed him to be. (u)

[REDACTED] heard from several people there, including one of the dropouts, possibly DALE PARKS, that LARRY LAYTON got into the small airplane while Congressman RYAN was standing beside it, at which time the truck and tractor containing the men who did the shooting were proceeding toward them. LAYTON had, or was handed, a revolver and started shooting. He said he might have been handed the revolver through the window, but he also had a satchel with him which had not been checked, to his knowledge, for weapons due to their inexperience in such things. The revolver was a six cylinder and [REDACTED] LAYTON apparently shot five times as there were five empty chambers when the revolver was recovered following the shooting. He said (u) that he suggested to DWYER that since he was a government official that DWYER should take custody of this revolver and he did. LAYTON was detained by other Guyanese civilian males. He was also told by he believed DALE PARKS that PARKS, after LAYTON started shooting at the people in the small plane, had wrestled LAYTON for the revolver and they fell out of the plane, that PARKS pointed the revolver at LAYTON and it either misfired or was empty when he tried to shoot LAYTON. (u)

27C [REDACTED] LAYTON as a white male, age 25 to 30, 5'6" to 5'7", 140 to 150 pounds, with short curly hair and "spacy" looking. (u)

[REDACTED] he had heard nothing to indicate any type of conspiracy to assassinate Congressman RYAN or any other government official. He noted that he had no knowledge of the Peoples Temple and its activities prior to receiving this assignment as previously stated. Later, while in Jonestown, he heard from dropouts there that JONES was preaching that the media or Congressman RYAN had guns and were coming there to get them. He said he did not then understand what this actually meant. He knew that conditions were tense following their arrival and at the time of their departure, but knew nothing as far as any plans to commit violence on the part of the Reverend JONES or members of his temple. (u)

[REDACTED] he had made notes concerning his trip to Guyana and Jonestown and he recorded later in his notes following the shooting of Congressman RYAN and the other members of his party, the names of the individuals responsible for the shooting as furnished to him by different dropout members from the temple that he interviewed. All of this information is recorded in his notes [REDACTED] (u)

[REDACTED] In order to continue the story he was dictating as to what transpired at the airport. (u)

Following receipt of this information, the interview was terminated [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] (u)

On November 20, 1978 [REDACTED] was re-contacted in [REDACTED] by SA [REDACTED] and SA [REDACTED]. He advised at that time he had already told SA [REDACTED] the names of the individuals responsible for the shooting. He said these individuals were as follows: (u)

1. TOM KICE
2. ALBERT TOUCHETTE
3. JOE WILSON
4. LARRY LAYTON

He also advised that a STANLEY GIEG was the driver of the tractor or truck which brought the individuals to the airport who did the shooting, although GIEG himself was not identified [REDACTED] as being one of the individuals doing the shooting. (u)

b7C [REDACTED] KICE may be a middle aged white male with a crewcut and a rough, hatchet type face, whom he saw at Jonestown, but he is not certain concerning this as the individuals who gave him the information that KICE was involved in the shooting did not furnish his race to him. He understood that KICE was seen shooting a handgun, possibly a .45 automatic, and was one of those on the truck or tractor. (u)

Concerning ALBERT TOUCHETTE, he did not know this individual's race, but heard that he had some kind of a rifle and was firing at people. (u)

67C Concerning JOE WILSON, [REDACTED] this individual he had previously discussed with SA [REDACTED] and WILSON is a Negro male, age 21 to 23 with short corn rows and people said he did participate in the shooting, further details unknown. (u)

Concerning LARRY LAYTON, previously described, [REDACTED] DALE PARKS said LAYTON shot one of PARKS' daughters on the plane. (u)

[REDACTED] he compiled this information identifying the above individuals as being involved in the shooting from the DALE and EDITH PARKS family, JIM BOGUE and family, except for one daughter, who chose to remain in Guyana and from HAROLD CORDELL, who has been a member of the Peoples Temple for 25 years and was former head of the temple security in California. CORDELL went to Guyana about eight to twelve months previous when the JONES group did, however, he fell into disfavor with JONES and had decided to leave and was attempting to leave and was at the airport at the time of the shooting. (u)

[REDACTED] the shooting actually commenced about 4:15 p.m. on Saturday, November 18, 1978 and that the shooting sounded like pops or small arms fire primarily to him. He did not know where JACKIE SPEIERS was during the shooting. He recalled that when their plane evacuating the wounded departed Guyana that some of the more seriously wounded got off the plane at San Juan. Included among those people was ANTHONY KATSARIS, Concerned Relative member who was shot up, as was his father, STEVE KATSARIS. BEVERLY OLIVER, a Negro female, age about 47, and a member of the Concerned Relatives group had her ankle taped. Her husband, HOWARD, age 57, who was in the Concerned Group there, had remained behind at Georgetown while the others went to Jonestown and they were evacuated as he apparently had a stroke and according to medical personnel, needed help immediately. (u)

67C [REDACTED] traveled via TWA jet from Georgetown. Also, [REDACTED] stayed at Georgetown and was not on the plane with them. (u)

[REDACTED] never interviewed by anyone connected with the Guyanese government concerning this shooting at the airport. (u)

[REDACTED] home telephone [REDACTED] was interviewed for any information he could provide of the People's Temple Agricultural Mission in Guyana, South America. (u)

[REDACTED] advised that he was a hand radio operator and that on five occasions during, 1978, three in January, 1978, one in April, and one in October, he had talked to an individual operating a "ham" radio in Georgetown, and Jonestown, South America. (u)

[REDACTED] advised that the person on the radio always seemed to be in good spirits and seemed to be pleased with the operation in Jonestown, South America. He stated that the radio operator always was cheerful and indicated that the people in South America, were friendly to the United States. (u)

[REDACTED] stated that he had received two postcards from the people in Jonestown, South America. He advised that one card was received on August 4, 1978, and the card indicated that the area was a beautiful country, and that the people were friendly and that the People's Temple was doing a fine job. This card was signed by AL and SARAH. (u)

[REDACTED] further stated that on October 1, 1978, he received a card from LEE and AL thanking him for the encouragement and also mentioning that they had a free medical clinic. [REDACTED] could furnish no further information concerning the People's Temple Agricultural Mission, in Jonestown, South America. (u)

ON DECEMBER 27, 1978, [REDACTED] NEW YORK RADIO

AS FOLLOWS: (u)

REC 27

EX-113

89-4286-1482

THE AMERICAN RADIO RELAY LEAGUE'S DAILY BULLETINS HAVE ADVISED ALL HAM RADIO OPERATORS THAT THE FBI IS INTERESTED IN ANY TAPES OR TRANSCRIPTS OF CONVERSATIONS BETWEEN AMERICAN HAM RADIO OPERATORS AND PEOPLE'S TEMPLE HAM RADIO OPERATORS IN GEORGETOWN AND JONESTOWN, GUYANA. THE BULLETINS WERE SPECIFICALLY INQUIRING ABOUT CONVERSATIONS WITH THE TWO INDIVIDUALS WITH 22 JAN 2 1979 HAM RADIO OPERATOR LICENSES "WB6MID" AND "WB6MNH." [REDACTED] HAS NO

KNOWLEDGE OF SUCH TAPES AND INDICATED THAT UNAUTHORIZED COPYING OF HAM RADIO CONVERSATIONS WOULD BE A VIOLATION OF THE COMMUNICATIONS ACT OF 1934. (u)

FCC'S CONDITIONAL CALL BOOK FOR THE YEAR 1976 WHICH INDICATES THAT LICENSE WB6MID IS LISTED TO ALBERT TOUCHETTE, 37-47 ROAD D, REDWOOD VALLEY, CALIFORNIA, AND WB6MNH IS LICENSED TO PAULA J. ADAMS, 1664 PAGE STREET, SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA. NYO BELIEVES THAT ONLY ADAMS IS STILL ALIVE. BOTH OF THESE LICENSES WERE ORIGINALLY GRANTED AS "CLASS C" LICENSES. [REDACTED] BELIEVES THAT IT IS EXTREMELY COINCIDENTAL THAT THE TWO FCC HAM RADIO LICENSES ISSUED TO PEOPLE'S TEMPLE MEMBERS IN THE SAME YEAR WOULD BE "CLASS C" LICENSES. IN ORDER TO OBTAIN A "CLASS C" LICENSE, THE APPLICANT MUST HAVE A PHYSICAL DISABILITY THAT WOULD PRECLUDE HIM FROM TRAVELING TO THE NEAREST FCC TESTING OFFICE. IN SUCH A CASE, THE APPLICANT MUST HAVE A DOCTOR'S CERTIFICATION OF THE PARTICULAR DISABILITY AND MUST LOCATE A LICENSED HAM OPERATOR WHO IS WILLING TO VOLUNTEER HIS TIME TO GIVE THE TEST AT THE APPLICANT'S RESIDENCE. (u)

[REDACTED] ADVISED THAT THE RECORDS FOR THE 1976 "CLASS C" LICENSES ARE MAINTAINED AT THE OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR, AMATEU

PAGE THREE U N C L A S

LICENSING DIVISION, FEDERAL COMMUNICATION COMMISSION, GETTYSBURG, PA. FCC FORM 610 WOULD CONTAIN ALL THE INFORMATION NECESSARY FOR AN APPLICANT TO OBTAIN A "CLASS C" LICENSE. [REDACTED] BELIEVES THAT IF THE FCC FORM 610'S ARE REVIEWED FOR THE YEAR 1976 AND FOR THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA, THE FBI MAY DETERMINE THAT OTHER PEOPLE'S TEMPLE OPERATORS ALSO RECEIVED "CLASS C" HAM RADIO OPERATORS LICENSES WITH THE SAME DOCTOR'S CERTIFICATION AND THE SAME VOLUNTEER EXAMINER. IF THE APPLICANTS WERE NOT IN FACT DISABLED TO THE EXTENT OF NOT BEING ABLE TO TRAVEL TO THE NEAREST FCC LISTING OFFICE, THEN THESE LICENSES MAY HAVE BEEN GRANTED FRAUDULENTLY. ALL 1976 "CLASS C" LICENSES ARE NOW CONSIDERED GENERAL LICENSES DUE TO CHANGES IN THE FCC REGULATIONS MAKING IT EXTREMELY DIFFICULT TO OBTAIN "CLASS C" LICENSES BECAUSE OF PREVIOUS OPPORTUNITIES FOR FRAUD. [REDACTED] BELIEVES THAT THE PEOPLE'S TEMPLE MAY HAVE KNOWN THAT 1976 WAS A GOOD YEAR TO OBTAIN "CLASS C" LICENSES FOR HAM RADIO OPERATORS. (u)

[REDACTED] FURTHER ADVISED THAT HE BELIEVED THERE WERE APPROXIMATELY NINE RADIO OPERATORS OPERATING AT DIFFERENT TIMES IN GEORGETOWN AND JONESTOWN. HE REFERRED THE NYO TO, [REDACTED] [REDACTED] TELEPHONE CALL [REDACTED] A HAM

RADIO OPERATOR WHO SPECIALIZES IN SOUTH AMERICAN CONTACTS. ON DECEMBER 27, 1978, [REDACTED] ADVISED THE NYO THAT HIS UNDERSTANDING OF THE FCC'S "CLASS C" LICENSING PROCEDURE IS THE SAME AS ABOVE AND THAT THERE IS A GOOD OPPORTUNITY FOR FRAUD IN THE YEAR 1976. THE FCC IS EXTREMELY UNDERSTAFFED AND UNABLE TO ADEQUATELY INVESTIGATE ALLEGATIONS OF FRAUD IN THE GRANTING OF HAM RADIO OPERATORS LICENSES. [REDACTED] HAD BEEN IN CONTACT WITH TWO HAM RADIO OPERATORS ASSOCIATED WITH THE PEOPLE'S TEMPLE IN GUYANA. ONE WAS ALBERT TOUCHETTE AND THE OTHER WAS SARA (FNU). SARA WAS AN ACCOMPLISHED OPERATOR WHO APPEARED VERY DEDICATED AND ONLY USED THE HAM RADIO WAVES FOR LEGITIMATE CONVERSATIONS. SHE WOULD FREQUENTLY CALL [REDACTED] OR OTHER AMERICAN OPERATORS ON MEDICAL EMERGENCIES. FOR INSTANCE, IF THE DOCTOR AT JONESTOWN HAS A DIFFICULT PROBLEM WITH A PREGNANT WOMAN, SARA WOULD ATTEMPT TO LOCATE A OBSGYN SPECIALIST TO GIVE IMMEDIATE CONSULTATION TO ASSIST THE JONESTOWN DOCTOR. [REDACTED] ONCE ASKED HER WHAT THE PEOPLE'S TEMPLE WAS AND SHE MERELY REPLIED, "A CHURCH GROUP." (u)

b7C

NEITHER [REDACTED] OR [REDACTED] HAVE ANY INFORMATION THAT WOULD INDICATE THAT THE PEOPLE'S TEMPLE HAM RADIO OPERATORS IN GUYANA WERE USING THEIR HAM RADIOS IN THE FURTHERANCE OF ANY CRIME. TO

(u)

PAGE FIVE U N C L A S

THEIR KNOWLEDGE, NO HAM RADIO OPERATOR IN THE NEW YORK AREA TALKED TO THE PEOPLE'S TEMPLE IN GUYANA IMMEDIATELY PRIOR TO THE ASSASSINATION OF CONGRESSMAN RYAN. (u)

PHILADELPHIA AT GETTYSBURG CONTACT LOCAL FCC OFFICE AND REVIEW 1976 "CLASS C" CALIFORNIA HAM RADIO OPERATORS LICENSE (WB6 LICENSE) APPLICATIONS (FCC FORM 610) TO DETERMINE IF TOUCHETTE AND ADAMS WERE CERTIFIED BY THE SAME DOCTOR AND LICENSED BY THE SAME VOLUNTEER. b7c [REDACTED] contacted at John F. Kennedy International Airport (JFKIA) subsequent to his arrival aboard Pan American Airlines flight number 228. [REDACTED] advised of the identity of [REDACTED] as a Special Agent (SA) of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) and the identity of [REDACTED] as an agent of the United States Secret Service (USSS). It was explained [REDACTED] by Agent [REDACTED] that the FBI and the USSS were conducting a joint interview as a result of the murder of Congressman LEO RYAN in Guyana on November 18, 1978. (u)

[REDACTED] prior to his departure from Guyana on this date, he and the other returnees were told that they would be represented by an attorney upon their arrival at JFKIA whom he identified as [REDACTED] (phonetic). [REDACTED] he desired to contact the attorney or speak to a fellow returnee whom he identified as DALE PARKS before making any statement to the interviewing agents. [REDACTED] he was willing to cooperate with the US Government, but however desired to contact either PARKS or the attorney prior to furnishing any information. (u)

SA [REDACTED] advised [REDACTED] his request would be honored and asked [REDACTED] would have any objection to furnishing background and descriptive data concerning himself. [REDACTED] he did not have objection and descriptive data was obtained which is hereafter set forth at the end of this (u)

Subsequent to obtaining the descriptive data, DALE PARKS met [REDACTED] and in the presence of the interviewing agents advised [REDACTED] he (PARKS) had discussed the nature of the interview with the attorney and [REDACTED] if he desired, should offer his cooperation to the interviewing agents. [REDACTED] at this point, that he consented to be interviewed and furnished the following information: (u/

[REDACTED] he first became acquainted with the Peoples Temple (PT) church in late 1977 through [REDACTED] whom he knew when he was residing in Ukiah, California. He stated that the PARKS family was involved in the PT church for several years. [REDACTED] DALE PARKS, had been in the PT church for several years prior and that he had left the church some time in the middle part of 1977. He advised that DALE PARKS was persuaded by MARCELINE JONES, wife of PT church leader JIM JONES, to rejoin the church in late 1977. It was at this point, according to [REDACTED] that he decided to join the church [REDACTED] and in the beginning of 1978, he made his first visit to the PT headquarters in San Francisco, California. [REDACTED] on one such visit, which he described as a recruiting effort, a black male he named as HUGH FORSTSON made a presentation to a group of approximately 100 to 200 potential new members and described the church program. [REDACTED] after two to three more visits to the San Francisco church, he decided to join the church movement when [REDACTED] were leaving for the PT settlement in Jonestown, Guyana (u/

[REDACTED] in early 1978, he furnished to the church approximately $450, which he stated was his (u/

Internal Revenue Service refund for the year and in turn was provided transportation to Jonestown, Guyana by the church. (u)

b7C [REDACTED] he arrived in Guyana in early April of 1978. [REDACTED] He stated that upon his arrival in Guyana, he resided for approximately one week at a church facility in Georgetown. Approximately one week later, he and other members [REDACTED] departed Georgetown for Jonestown aboard the church vessel the "Cudjole". (u)

[REDACTED] the "Cudjole" crew consisted of the captain, TIM SWEENEY, DAVID SOLOMON, and DON SLY. Aboard the "Cudjole" were two Russian nationals who were husband and wife. [REDACTED] the male was a correspondent for the Soviet news agency Tass. The two Russians stayed in Jonestown for a period of two or three days after their initial arrival. [REDACTED] said that he was housed in cottage number [REDACTED] at Jonestown and was immediately assigned to [REDACTED] at the Jonestown facility. (u)

[REDACTED] shortly after his arrival in Jonestown, he noticed the presence of individuals who were armed with shotguns and rifles walking around the Jonestown camp. It was initially explained [REDACTED] that these individuals were the Jonestown security force who were guarding the members from outside invaders. [REDACTED] advised that JIM JONES continually told the Jonestown residents that the security force was needed to protect JONES and the PT followers from mercenaries employed by the Central Intelligence Agency and the FBI. (u)

b7C [REDACTED] two members of the security force were TIM JONES, white male and adopted son of JIM JONES, and CALVIN DOUGLAS, black male. [REDACTED] the members of the security force seem to have certain privileges not afforded other members of the Jonestown camp, explaining that they were not forced to do any menial labor and existed primarily to discipline other Jonestown members. [REDACTED] the security force administered beatings to other Jonestown members for such infractions as not working or expressing displeasure with the unfavorable living conditions at Jonestown. [REDACTED] the term "angels" had no significant meaning to him. (u)

[REDACTED] Jonestown was a structured environment wherein most of the church members were forced to do hard physical labor and a few select individuals close to JIM JONES lived rather well and were excused from the hard physical labor forced upon the other members. [REDACTED] the following individuals as being close to JIM JONES and whom he considered to be JONES' privileged few: (u)

TERRY BUFORD

TIM CARTER

STEVEN JONES

JIM JONES, JR.

TIM JONES

PAULA ADAMS

DEBBIE TOUCHETTE

SHARON AMOS

1070 [REDACTED] he had heard from other individuals at Jonestown that a few of the female members of JONES' advisory staff who included SHARON AMOS, PAULA ADAMS, and DEBBIE TOUCHET had compromised local Guyanese government officials. He said that he had heard that the above individuals had granted sexual favors to these government officials and that they in turn were indebted to JONES. [REDACTED] it was also alleged that various members of the US Embassy in Guyana were also under JONES' control and the allegation was that they too had been compromised by the use of sexual favors or financial gain. [REDACTED] JIM JONES at one of his frequent talks to the entire Jonestown community once advised them that if any member of the Jonestown camp attempted to escape and leave the country, that an official from the US Embassy in Guyana would immediately notify JONES. [REDACTED] JIM JONES would often brag about the influence that he had and that one of the officials whom JONES was in good standing with, was Lieutenant Governor DI MALLEY (phonetic) of California. (u)

[REDACTED] from the day he arrived in Jonestown, the living conditions were terrible. He said that he lived with 14 other people in a wood building, approximately 12 feet by 20 feet, barracks style. He said that the food fed to the Jonestown community was extremely bad and consisted primarily of rice and gravy at each meal. He said that the only exception to the adverse living conditions came about when the camp would house visitors. [REDACTED] JIM JONES put on a propaganda effort and that the living conditions, being shorter work (u)

hours and better food would last for the duration of the visitor's stay. [REDACTED] throughout his stay in Jonestown, the presence of the Jonestown security force was a governing factor in his desire to keep his feelings to himself. (u)

[REDACTED] in September of 1978, Jonestown was visited by officials from the Soviet Embassy in Guyana. He stated that one of these visitors was a Soviet physician. [REDACTED] JIM JONES, at this time, was talking about moving everybody in the PT church to the Soviet Union. [REDACTED] was of the opinion that JONES had no intention to do so. (u)

[REDACTED] With respect to the weapons seen at Jonestown, he advised he saw only shotguns, rifles, and cross bows. He said that it was his belief that the weapons were stored in the cottage where JIM JONES, JR. resided. (u)

Concerning any contingency plans made by JIM JONES in the event that the PT church was attacked, [REDACTED] related that meetings held by JONES known as "white night" consisting of the entire Jonestown community were held. JONES would advise his followers that should a government invasion of the PT church take place, mass suicide would be the response of the community. (u)

[REDACTED] such a "white night" was called by JIM JONES during the period that Congressman LEO RYAN's party was in Guyana in November of 1978. At this "white night", RYAN advised the Jonestown assembly that Jonestown was in imminent danger of being invaded and at the meeting had a number of Jonestown individuals and the security force on constant alert for these outside invaders. [REDACTED] the only other (u)

"white night" that he attended during the duration of his Jonestown stay occurred in May of 1978, when a former Jonestown member, DEBBIE BLAKELY, defected from the church. At this "white night", JONES denounced BLAKELY and accused the FBI and the US Government as being responsible for her defection and transportation out of Guyana. [REDACTED] the following information concerning the events of November 18, 1978 and the shooting at the Port Kaituma airstrip where Congressman RYAN and others were killed or wounded: (u)

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED] had told a female aide of Congressman RYAN, JACKIE SPIER (phonetic), that they wanted to leave Jonestown. SPIER made arrangements for [REDACTED] to leave and they departed Jonestown for the Port Kaituma airstrip in a dump truck driven by ED CRENCHEW. [REDACTED] advised that one LARRY LAYTON had accompanied them as defectors and that almost all of the Jonestown party warned SPIER and the other individuals traveling to Port Kaituma that LAYTON was a close associate of JIM JONES and should not be trusted. [REDACTED] some of the individuals traveling to Port Kaituma were all of the PARKS family, the BOGUE family, VERNON GODSBY, HAROLD CORDELL, and JIM COBB. [REDACTED] COBB had come down with the RYAN contingent in an unsuccessful attempt to persuade members of his family at Jonestown to leave the PT church movement. (u)

When the defectors and the RYAN party arrived at the Port Kaituma airstrip, they began to board one of two aircraft. One of the aircraft was a small plane that carried six passengers, the other a larger aircraft which was owned by the Guyanese Government. During this period, LARRY LAYTON kept insisting that he wanted to board one of the aircraft first. [REDACTED] (u)

b7c [REDACTED] started to board the larger aircraft and when he got seated, he observed that the Jonestown dump truck and the trailer pulled by a tractor which had brought them to Port Kaituma had re-appeared and were heading towards the aircraft. (u)

[REDACTED] in the trailer, he saw the following individuals: (u)

JOE WILSON

TOM KICE

RONNY JAMES

RONNY DENNIS
[REDACTED]

He stated that he saw the above individuals pick up rifles and begin to fire at the RYAN party and the defectors. He stated that PAT PARKS, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] suffered a head wound and was killed instantly. He advised that PAT PARKS was shot in the head and stated that "her brains were blown all over the plane and himself." He stated that the other passengers in the plane lied down on the floor and when the opportunity presented itself, they departed the plane and ran into the jungle where they stayed for approximately three days. (u)

[REDACTED] it was his opinion that the following surviving members of the PT church are capable of carrying out any contingency plan of JONES if in fact one does exist to include the assassination of public officials or church defectors: (u)

TERRY BUFORD

STEVEN JONES

TIM JONES

JOHN JONES

JOHN COBB

JIMMY JONES, JR.

CALVIN DOUGLAS

EUGENE SMITH

Concerning EUGENE SMITH, [REDACTED]

b7c
he and the other returnees had heard that SMITH allegedly had the responsibility of killing himself and the other returnees and therefore did not want SMITH returning aboard flight 228 with them. (u)

When asked specifically about the original source of the allegations concerning SMITH, [REDACTED] advised that he could not furnish any further information, but that the word was that SMITH was given the responsibility of killing himself and other church defectors. (u)

[REDACTED] the following information concerning other PT church members or individuals affiliated with the PT church: (u)

A leader of the Jonestown security force. (u)

BQ 89-495

JIMMY JONES, JR.-	Member of the Jonestown security force.
ED CRENSHAW -	Driver of the dump truck that took RYAN party and Jonestown defectors to the Port Kaituma airstrip.
JOHNNY JONES -	A close confident of the late Rev. JIM JONES.
MARK CORDELL -	Worked as a kitchen helper in Jonestown and a member of the basketball team.
JIM MAC ELVANE -	Black male, head of PT security in the US. (1
BILLY OLIVER -	Black male, member of the security force.
STEVEN JONES -	Son of the late Rev. JIM JONES picked members of the Jonestown basketball team and according to [REDACTED] more dangerous than his late father. Current being held by Guyanese officials in Georgetown, Guyana.
TIM TUPPER JONES -	Member of the Jonestown security force.
LEE INGRAM -	Black male, Jonestown basketball coach, close confident of JIM JONES, did a lot of speaking at meetings to assembled Jonestown members.

67C

CALVIN DOUGLAS -	Black male, member of Jonestown security force.
MIKE PROKES -	White male, described [REDACTED] [REDACTED] as a public relations man for JIM JONES.
TIM CARTER -	White male, [REDACTED] [REDACTED] CARTER returned to the US from Jonestown investigating the activities of concerned relatives of Jonestown members two months prior to the mass suicide in Jonestown.
SANDRA BRADSHAW -	White female, close adviser to JIM JONES.
CLAIRE JANARO -	White female. This individual may have come down to Georgetown looking for any surviving family members after the mass suicide.
RICHARD JANARO -	Crew member aboard the PT church vessel "Albatros" located in Barbados.
CHUCK BEIKMAN -	White male, resided in the same cottage with [REDACTED] described as not too smart. BEIKMAN sold the possessions of Jonestown members that were confiscated upon their arrival. The profits realized by BEIKMAN were turned over to the PT church movement.

67C

CHARLIE TOUCHETTE - Crew member on the "Albatros".

MIKE TOUCHETTE - Operated bulldozer at Jonestown.

STANLEY CLAYTON - Worked in the Jonestown kitchen, lived in cottage number 45.

ODELL RHODES - Black male, present at Jonestown during the mass suicides, escaped, currently in Georgetown, Guyana.

TIM CARTER - Described as public relations man for JIM JONES, operated the radio facility.

JIM COBB - Former PT church member who defected approximately five years ago, member of the RYAN party who unsuccessfully attempted to persuade remaining members of his family to leave Jonestown. Present at Port Kaituma airstrip at time of shooting, escaped with other defectors.

67C MARK LANE - [REDACTED] MARK LANE was present in Jonestown on at least two occasions where he stayed for more than a day or two as a guest of JONES since April of 1978. [REDACTED] the first visit that he knew about concerning LANE was one where the food and living conditions got better during LANE's stay. However,

b7c

[REDACTED], at a later visit of LANE to Jonestown, the food and living conditions did not improve. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] he ascertained that LANE was introduced to JIM JONES by LANE's former publisher, DONALD FREID. It is the impression [REDACTED] that LANE knew about the suicide drills and was close to JONES' attorney, CHARLES GARRY.

An examination of personal papers found [REDACTED] prior to his interview, noted the following names and addresses: (u)

JAMES RESTON, JR.

tical' Error Jeopardizes First Major Post-Bakke Case

ex-Faced at the High Court

It's Time To Slice

AMAR LEWIN
Law Journal Staff Reporter

INGTON, D.C. — It's a lawyer's name — a one-word clerical error may have changed the course of term's most important post-Supreme Court case. In a ruling oral argument Dec. 5 of Los Angeles v. Davis (77-1001), the justices were far more concerned about what one lawyer kept calling "a mere oversight" than they were about the constitutionality of racial quotas or whether intent to discriminate is a necessary element of liability under U.S.C. Section 1981 — the two broad issues the Davis case was expected to resolve.

The oversight was that the most important plaintiffs were left out of the case — a class action charging that the Los Angeles Fire Department had used a written exam that black and Hispanic applicants did badly on. The last time the test was used to rank applicants was in 1969.

The plaintiffs included in the class pears from the questioning that there is a consensus on the Supreme Court that the plaintiffs didn't have any standing to sue for that relief because none of them were "past" applicants who had been hurt by the test.

A. Thomas Hunt of the Center for Law in the Public Interest in Los Angeles, arguing for the class, admitted under questioning that, strictly speaking, the case was on shaky legal ground.

'Hard to justify'

"We must concede that the scope of this action did not include past job applicants," he told the court. "And we must concede that the named plaintiffs suffered no injury. And injuriously from

Mark Lane: Harlem to Dallas to Guyana

By MARTIN FOX

Special to The National Law Journal

WHERE THERE is death and tragedy, horrors of unimaginable proportions that tear at the very fabric of American society, there Mark Lane is likely to be found.

During the past 15 years, beginning with the assassination of President Kennedy that launched him on the national scene with accusations of conspiracy, through the mass suicide-murder of Peoples Temple cultists at Jonestown, Lane has managed to weave himself into the public's consciousness.

There are very few episodes of national importance over the past two decades in which the flamboyant attorney has not been involved in one form or another.

Persons who remember him from his early political days in New York City, after graduating from Brooklyn Law School in 1951, see no difference in his modus operandi then and now.

On the Scene

"All Mark was interested in in those days was to pick up an issue and run with it," recalled New York State Supreme Court Judge Bentley Kassal, a former colleague. "He was mostly interested in sensationalism, everything else became secondary. He'd pick up an issue and milk it for all it was worth, then forget about it."

His critics maintain nothing has changed, referring to him as a clever opportunist devoid of any altruistic or benevolent purpose, embarked upon a never-ending journey of egotistical and financial self-aggrandizement. They point to the riches that have come to the fifty-one-year-old attorney through his books, substantial fees earned on the lecture circuit, radio and television appearances, promoting whatever issue is presently fashionable that will give him public exposure.

One former New York politician — a frequent antagonist of his when both served in the New York State Assembly in the early 1960's, asked whether there was substance to reports that Lane was preparing to write a book on Jonestown.

Books Appear

The inquiry is not surprising, because in every controversy he has been involved, a book invariably followed. First there was "Rush to Judgment," in 1966, the best-seller which castigated the Warren Commission's findings on the assassination of President Kennedy, which later became the basis for a film of the same title which Lane helped to produce.

A second book arising out of the Kennedy assassination was "A Citizen's Dissent," in 1968, in which he charged the communications media with engaging in a conspiracy to keep him from telling the American people the truth about the murder of the President. After his involvement in the defense of the "Chicago 7," the trial of leaders of the demonstration and violence at the Democratic National Convention in 1968, a book followed, "Chicago Eyewitness."

Move to Memphis

His role in the Vietnam anti-war campaign produced a book, and only last year, he wrote "Code Name Zorro," dealing with the assassination of Martin Luther King and the role of James Earl Ray. It was his representation of Ray that led him to shift his home and business interests to Memphis, Tenn., far from his residence at 339 East 77th Street in Manhattan when he was an assemblyman. In Memphis, he operates a small law firm although not a member of the Tennessee Bar. (He is a member of the New York Bar only.)

MARK LANE's most recent burst upon the public scene, before Jonestown, came last month representing James Earl Ray before the Housing Assassinations Committee. Is Lane now involved in a "Rush to Judgment" — on Guyana?

It was his constant agitating that he had "new information" to uncover "conspiracies" in the murders of Kennedy and King that led to the House Assassinations Committee reopening the cases. The committee sustained the Warren Commission findings concerning the deaths of Kennedy and Oswald. In the case of the King assassination, the evidence introduced to clear James Earl Ray failed to show that he had not in fact killed the civil rights leader, although investigators found evidence that a bounty had been offered for King's murder.

Rights & Indians

In his defense, Lane has espoused causes at the time unpopular which ultimately turned the nation in a new direction. His work on behalf of the civil rights movement in the South in the early '60s, his involvement in the anti-war movement and Indian rights come to mind. His efforts in bringing attention to the possibility that conceivably more than one individual acting on his own was responsible for the slaying of national leaders also must get their due.

But more often, he has joined a movement already in motion and proceeded to graft himself to it, by using to the maximum his "talent for publicity," as one observer phrased it, to make him and the cause synonymous and as one.

This instinct for the spotlight has caused critics to call Lane everything from a "demagogue" to a "charlatan." New York Times columnist Anthony Lewis said he was the "chief ghoul of American assassinations," and Mary McGrory called him a "scavenger."

Typical of a Lane operation, critics insist, came in 1970 after he published "Conversations with Americans," a book of interviews with Vietnam veterans. James Simon Kunen, in his book "Standard Operating Procedure, Notes of a Draft-Age American," writes that the Lane book "became the target of some criticism when it was found that some of his sources had never been where they said they'd witnessed crimes."

Todd Ensign, a leader in the Vietnam Veterans Against the War, said Lane wanted to hold mock trials "as a way of legitimizing himself and promoting his book." Ensign, along with another movement leader, is quoted as saying "they felt Lane had given the whole business of war-crimes revelation a bad name." The obvious question is whether Lane was more interested in the cause or his royalties.

The Jonestown tragedy is the latest example of what his opponents see as this uncanny ability to occupy the limelight and begin a personal exploitation. His words and deeds — or lack of the latter — before and after the suicides and murders there are being used as ammunition by those determined to prove that Jonestown will reveal the true nature of the man.

Ironic Twist

In pushing for some formal bar investigation to determine whether he violated a basic ethical tenet that may have resulted in the needless deaths of hundreds, critics note ironically that this stems from efforts to extricate himself from a self-made dilemma.

For reasons not yet fully clear — perhaps because of their joint activity in the past on behalf of blacks and Indians — Lane became counsel to

James Jones, the demented leader of the Peoples Temple. Because of his association with Jones, Lane, along with San Francisco attorney Charles Garry, went along with Representative Leo Ryan on the ill-fated fact-finding trip last month to Guyana that touched off the "holocaust."

What the anti-Lane elements want the legal profession to investigate are his statements immediately before and after the world learned of the mass deaths of the cultists.

Before Jones led or forced his followers to take their own lives, Lane was quoted as saying that the "American intelligence community," among other government entities, was conspiring to destroy the Peoples Temple. In October, a press release issued by the cult attributed the following quote to Lane:

"It makes me almost weep to see such an incredible experiment with such vast potential for the human spirit and soul of this country to be cruelly assailed by the intelligence operations."

And then, in what opponents call vintage Lane, he added this media-grabbing vow, via a talent honed to a fine perfection: "Before the dust settles, we are going to learn a great deal about the conduct of the conspirators against this organization and against this experiment in Jonestown."

But after the activist attorney barely escaped with his life — by hiding out in the jungle in Guyana for two days after Congressman Ryan and four others were gunned down at the airport by Jones' followers — Lane now had a different version. Although an investigation by his own "Citizens Commission of Inquiry" earlier had found nearly utopia-like conditions in Jonestown, Lane was now saying, hold it. I knew this was coming. Jones was crazy, his followers were being held against their will. I knew something terribly bad was going to happen.

Lane was quoted in The New York Times as stating: "Jones turned to look at me and I'm telling you I saw a death warrant in his eyes."

And how did Lane manage to escape? According to the version he gave to newsmen, he convinced one of the guards holding him to let him go so "that I will be able to tell the world about the last minutes of Jonestown."

According to critics, the ethical problem from all this is that Lane — if his after-the-fact statements are to be believed — might have been concealing information of a crime to be committed. Lane was quoted as saying he gave this information to Ryan, but to no one else.

Efforts to interview Lane for this article were unsuccessful.

Lane antagonists are wary of anything he has to say based upon his words and deeds of the past and what they think motivates the man — an insatiable desire or obsession to be out in front. "His attitude is me first," recalled Todd Ensign of his days with Lane in the anti-war movement.

Russell D. Hemenway, the executive director of the Committee for an Effective Congress, remembers Lane from when the latter was beginning in politics in the East Harlem section of Manhattan, a neighborhood then and now made up primarily of the poor.

"It was obvious then that Mark was marching to a different drummer," he said. "Even then there was a conspiratorial air about him. He was a loner. He was always looking for a handle to get publicity."

Hemenway emphasized another factor about Lane that acquaintances agree has validity: "He didn't care much for the facts, as long as he could ride the crest."

Hemenway said that Mark Lane

was not his real name. He believed his surname was the anglicized version from Russian or Polish. As for the first name of Mark, Hemenway said he took it for political purposes, because the highly popular congressman in the area had been the late Vito Marcantonio, commonly known as "Marc" in the community, and an intimate of Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia. "I think Lane even spelled his name as M-A-R-C," Hemenway reminisced.

Evidence, to support Lane's penchant for "high visibility," as a former colleague put it, for newspaper and television television coverage, dates back at least to 1960 when he successfully ran for a seat in the New York State Assembly as a reform candidate of the city's Democratic party. During the campaign he charged threats were made against three of his aides and demanded police protection. Later that year, when two men were arrested at a political rally for what they claimed, was booing Governor Rockefeller, Lane jumped in as their defense counsel and immediately served a subpoena on the Governor to testify at their trial.

For the next two years, in and out of the Assembly (mainly out, detractors recollect, saying he had a high rate of absenteeism), Lane made a lot of noise representing tenants in widely publicized lawsuits against landlords, a solid issue in a tenant-oriented city; getting himself arrested in Mississippi for trying to integrate facilities at an airport; making headlines by announcing an investigation of the arrest of "Freedom Riders." He also took part in ban-the-bomb demonstrations and represented protesters who were arrested.

Lane's political support began to deteriorate when colleagues sensed what his mission apparently was. Bentley Kasal, now a New York State Supreme Court justice, who was active in Democratic reform circles with Lane and an Assemblyman at the same time, said Lane was interested "only in building up his own little constituency, his own little group."

Kasal, like others interviewed, said they were not the least surprised by Lane's promotion of his conspiracy theory in the Kennedy assassination or his other activities, including Jonestown.

Assembly Confrontation

The incident still vivid in many minds is his attempt to have the Assembly Speaker, Joseph Carlino, censured for an alleged conflict of interest arising out of his ties to a company building fallout shelters. He charged Carlino, one of the state's most powerful political figures, had concealed this interest in supporting legislation for a program of fallout shelters statewide as a civilian defense necessity.

The Assembly Ethics Committee found no basis for a conflict, and its findings were adopted by the full Assembly by a 143-1 vote, with Lane being the only dissenter.

Kasal remembers Lane telling him he had no intention at all of seeking a censure of the Speaker and was primarily interested in the publicity it was generating. His intent may have been detected by his referring the case to the State Commission of Investigation, whose jurisdiction is only over criminal matters. The SCI referred the case to the Assembly Ethics Committee, where it should properly have been brought in the first place since no criminality was alleged.

Carlino, who has since retired from elective politics and is an attorney and skilled lobbyist on Long Island and in New York City, said the image is still vivid of Lane's "opportunism." He added, "All he wanted to do was grab publicity."

In 1962, Lane sought the Democratic nomination for Congress, but never garnered sufficient reform backing to make it to the primary. He did not seek election to the Assembly.

Little was heard from Lane until late 1963, following the assassination of President Kennedy. He showed up in Dallas, a move with repercussions that have yet to end. Observers credit his arrival to his talent at "being where the action is" and being able to sense that a conspiracy theory could get widespread publicity.

He first made his presence felt when he petitioned the newly formed Warren Commission to have an attorney named to defend the interests of "Rush to Judgment," published in 1966, castigating the Warren Commission's conclusions on the murders of Kennedy and Oswald. It became a best seller, and earned Lane substantial royalties.

Lane was attacked from various quarters for his book, leading to him being called "a literary scavenger."

The Reporter called the book "transparently malicious or ignorant." The New Republic described Lane's defense of the book and his "ceaseless attacks on the mass media" as "a search for personal publicity."

But with each outburst of criticism at Lane and "Rush to Judgment," sales increased. And Lane fueled the promotion by, from time to time, issuing statements or holding news conferences alleging "powerful forces" caused until "Wounded Knee" became a national issue. In the subsequent trial of the leaders Lane overshadowed his clients by alleging various nefarious deeds by the government, including an assault on his person. At one point during the trial, he and other defense attorneys vociferously challenged a judge's ruling and were physically removed from the courtroom.

Following "Wounded Knee," Lane attempted to resurrect an old chestnut with a timely new development — the disappearance and presumed murder of former Teamster president Jimmy Hoffa. His "Citizens Commission of Inquiry," of which he was director, alleged that the slain union leader might have had ties to Jack Ruby, the killer of Lee Harvey Oswald.

The next year, he caught the public attention with the accusation that Ruby worked for the FBI and Oswald may have also, a crucial link to his conspiratorial theory on why the FBI failed to properly investigate the assassination.

As conspiratorial theories continued to flourish concerning President Kennedy and Martin Luther King, thanks in no small part to Lane, the House Assassinations Committee began an extensive investigation based upon allegedly "new information" it had received. The information, it was reliably reported by committee sources and the media, came mainly from Lane. There was no evidence to dispute that Oswald and James Earl Ray were the killers.

The intriguing aspect of the reopening of the King assassination was that Ray was now being represented by Mark Lane. How did Lane get himself another controversial client? The pair managed to capture some prime-time television exposure on the nightly news and page 1 stories in many newspapers when the committee held its hearings earlier this year.

Lane's involvement with Ray produced the book, "Code Name Zorro," published last year.

Lane detractors and cynics point out his latest exploits, in connection with the Jonestown deaths, fit nicely into his old pattern of startling, media-grabbing headlines. Newspaper reports said a woman — described as Jones' chief administrator with access to millions of dollars in People Temple funds until her defection in October — had been placed in hiding by Lane as protection against cultists. The disclosure was made as reports circulated that the cult had $10 million in secret bank accounts around the world.

The Cult's Money

Lane followed this up by stating that he learned from this defector, Terri Buford, that all the money had been put in the name of a woman who died in the killings and suicides. The woman's heir, a son, was said by Lane to want to use the money "to help the surviving members come back." Lane said he would represent the unidentified heir and turn over his fee to "survivors' relatives so they can use it to get the bodies back home."

Two other reports emanating from the Jonestown deaths and his presence there seem to fit a familiar pattern.

One has it that Lane, a day after his escape, was interviewed on the telephone by a Washington, D.C. radio talk show. An effort to begin a new promotion?

A second says that Lane is preparing to begin a lecture tour on his experiences in Jonestown and his relationship to Jones, in conjunction with a forthcoming book.

Russell Hemenway reflecting on Lane's new role in relation to Jonestown, remarked, "It looks like a lot of the same old thing, doesn't it? Is it here we go again?"

A report says Lane is preparing to begin a lecture tour on his experiences in Jonestown, in conjunction with a book.

Lee Harvey Oswald. He also suggested that Oswald's mother bring suit against Dallas for the death of her son while in police custody, although he reportedly stopped short of publicly stating he would like to represent her. In any event, Mrs. Oswald subsequently retained Lane to represent her son before the Commission. A sudden switch?

Allegation after allegation, some outlandish, some incredible, some immediately denounced as false, began to flow from Lane, who used the publicity to promote a series of fee-producing lecture tours here and in Europe. The proceeds, he said, would go to the Oswald family, although little evidence was reported that such actually occurred.

Among Lane's accusations to support the theory that Oswald did not shoot the President was a statement attributed to Oswald's mother that she had been told by Oswald's wife that the gun used to kill the President did not belong to her husband. The Oswald widow immediately denied this.

Lane then charged the FBI investigation was inadequate and was failing to get to the heart of the "conspiracy." Later, he told a news conference (much of Lane's accusations over the years were made at news conferences, including one recently following the Jonestown massacre) that he had a tape of a conversation with an eyewitness to the assassination who said the shots were fired from in front of the President's car, not from the Texas Schoolbook Depository, which had been conclusively proven.

Lane detractors maintain that no substantial evidence has yet to be uncovered that anyone other than Oswald killed the President. But with a public stunned and having difficulty believing that an act of such ignominy could be carried out by one individual by himself, the theory of a conspiracy became fascinating news, and also provided Lane with the image of "an expert" of sorts.

With his reputation growing, Lane proceeded to plant other conspiratorial seeds such as that the testimony of Oswald's widow was "a classic example of brainwashing by the Secret Service and the FBI," evidence that Oswald fired the fatal shots, another eyewitness, this one claiming that someone not fitting Oswald's description killed J.D. Tippett, the Dallas policeman killed by Oswald shortly after the assassination.

The net result of Lane's involvement in the investigation was the book were blocking the truth about the assassination. The "powerful sources" were never revealed.

In 1968, cashing in on the media publicity generated by his first book, Lane wrote "A Citizen's Dissent." That, too, reportedly, had respectable sales.

Anti-War Movement

It was at this point that, with the public's appetite for conspiratorial theories beginning to diminish, Lane turned his attentions to the anti-war movement, particularly the reports of atrocities being committed by Americans. The campaign was well under way when Lane arrived. He started slow but came on very fast.

Todd Ensign, who was a leader of the Vietnam Veterans Against the War, is still bitter seven years later about Lane's role. He became associated with the movement, he remembered, because Lane had become "some kind of legal adviser to actress Jane Fonda," one of the most prominent and outspoken of the war's critics. "As a result, we were stuck with the guy," he explained, "but we weren't comfortable with him. He was a loner, arrogant, with an imperial attitude."

The fallout resulted from Lane's book, "Conversations with Americans," purportedly reporting actual atrocities by veterans. Ensign said the book was "unsubstantiated," adding, "He was oblivious to reality or facts, just completely reckless with the issues. It was an ego thing." Veterans quoted by Lane were outraged by what he attributed to them.

"Anybody familiar with combat knows this wasn't the way things were done," Ensign said. He said in an interview that when Lane was asked to disassociate himself from the movement, he became belligerent and hostile. "I'm gonna crush you," Ensign quoted him as stating.

At one point, with the movement in financial difficulty, Ensign remembered, "Lane refused to give us a dime even though he had just received a substantial advance for his book."

Ensign, now a New York attorney, added, "I'm not quite sure he isn't the total entrepreneur."

In 1973, he turned his attention to the problems of the American Indians, mainly in the "Wounded Knee" incident in which a band of 250 armed Indians seized a government reservation in South Dakota. Lane proceeded to become an outspoken advocate of Indian rights, although there is little evidence he expressed interest in their

HIS RESIDENCE, [REDACTED]

ADVISED THE FOLLOWING: (u)

HE IS FATHER JONES AND REFERS TO HIMSELF AS A SPIRITUAL ADVISER. HE HAS CONTRACTED TO RECORD A TWO AND ONE HALF HOUR SHOW SEVEN DAYS A WEEK WHICH IS A POPULAR RECORD CALLED GOODIE TRAIN RECORD PROGRAM. HE USES THREE DISC JOCKIES AT DIFFERENT TIMES FOR THIS SHOW. HE CONTACTS THROUGH GILBRAITH ASSOCIATES, HOLLYWOOD, CALIFORNIA, FOR HIS SHOW WHICH IS AIRED ON RADIO STATION XEG 1450 AM ON THE DIAL 1300 WATTS, MONTEREY, MEXICO. HE HAS HAD HIS MINISTRY OVER THE XEG RADIO STATION FOR APPROXIMATELY SEVEN YEARS. DURING THE SHOW WHICH PLAYS POPULAR RECORDS HE HAS COMMERCIALS FOR FATHER JONES. (u)

HE ADVISED HE KNOWS NOTHING ABOUT THE PEOPLES TEMPLE AND THE FIRST TIME HE HEARD OF THE PEOPLES TEMPLE OR JIM JONES WAS RECENTLY WHEN HE READ ABOUT IT IN THE NEWSPAPER. HE ADVISED HE MONITORS ALL HIS SHOWS AND HE HAS NEVER HAD A BROADCAST WHERE THE STATEMENT WAS MADE "FATHER JONES IS STILL ALIVE AND WELL" OR IS AN "INTERNATIONAL PROFIT". (u)
