As a result of testimony given at public hearings of the so-called Kefauver Committee in Miami during May and July of 1950, Sheriff WALTER CLARK of Broward County, Florida, was removed from office by Governor FULLER WARREN and his successor was AMOS HALL. As a result of these hearings, the grand jury for that county undertook an investigation of gambling activities and indicted 22 persons for violation of the statute.

NY 92-660

The Grand Jury found that the Colonial Inn was the largest and most successful gambling casino that Broward County has ever had and in scope of operation it is said to compare with or exceed any gambling establishment known. The club was operated by the same LANSKY group which has also operated Club Green Acres with a few additions. Principal new partners in the current operation were MERT WERTHEIMER and RUDY MATHIS, of Detroit, HENRY RENO, of the "Miami Herald," has listed the principal new partners of this operation as FRANK COSTELLO, JOE ADONIS, FRANK ERICKSON, JACK and MEYER LANSKY, BUGS SIEGEL, JOE MASSEY, LEFTY CLARK, MERT WERTHEIMER, WILLIE MORETTI, and a man named BERNSTEIN from Detroit. One BURT BRIGGS and other lesser employees have claimed an interest in this place

[redacted] b7D

LANSKY and WERTHEIMER were the actual operators of the club. An elaborate floor show was presented which WERTHEIMER alleged cost $40,000.00 to costume and which featured such stars as HARRY RICHMAN, BERT WHEELER, JANE FROMAN, JOE E. LEWIS, CARMEN MIRANDA, and XAVIER CUGAT.

On October 12, 1950, LANSKY appeared before the Senate Crime Investigation Sub-Committee, accompanied by his counsel MOSES POLAKOFF. He admitted associating with FRANK COSTELLO, JOE ADONIS, FRANK ERICKSON, and CHARLES FISCHETTI, but refused to elaborate on this association. He admitted travelling to Italy in 1949, but refused to admit whether or not he had contacted LUCKY LUCIANO.

On September 15, 1952, DREW PEARSON in his syndicated column stated that FRANK COSTELLO had not been deported because he had friends in high places. He stated that COSTELLO'S lobbying tactics included the entertaining of Congressmen at various dinners and parties, and that MURRAY OLF, a former prison mate of GREASY JAKE GUZIK occupied a suite at the Congressional Hotel where he held court for Congressmen. In additon the nations top mobsters were alleged to use his apartment overnight and LANSKY utilized the hotel garage and charged his bill to OLF'S account.

The "New York Daily News" for December 2, 1954, reflected that LANSKY was with ABNER "LONGY" ZWILLMAN, EDDIE MC GRATH, ALBERT ANASTASIA, CORNELIUS "CONNIE" NOONAN, and others at the Riviera Motel in Fort Lee, New Jersey, to discuss current problems along the New York, New Jersey waterfront.

1. Gambling

[redacted] b7D the Senate Crime Investigating Committee. He testified that he had conducted an investigation of gambling places in Saratoga, New York, in 1947, and found that gambling was "wide open." He added that he had submitted a report concerning these conditions to his superiors. However, the report was not discussed with him afterward.

He then described some of the gambling equipment and gambling places in Saratoga. He described the Piping Rock Club, as one of the "plush places" which could not be patronized by the ordinary individual who desired to gamble.

He admitted that he had heard from various sources that MEYER LANSKY had an interest in the Piping Rock Club, but denied that he had ever heard that COSTELLO had any interest in the club. He also stated that he had heard through confidential sources that in 1947 JOE ADONIS and MEYER LANSKY did have interests in the Arrowhead Inn.

Rerep of SA [redacted] dated at New York 12/26/58, and Bulets to New York dated 11/27/57 and 1/15/58.

Bulet of 1/15/58 points out common deficiencies in reports submitted in this program. Many of these deficiencies are present in this report, and in future reporting, this situation should be rectified. Under appropriate captions, suggestions are being made following a review of rerep.

PERSONAL HISTORY AND BACKGROUND

Information in rerep regarding the immigration to this country of Lansky and his family was obtained from the INS file. All of this information should be verified and complete details obtained. Verification should be obtained from an actual examination of the entry and court records of each step of the naturalization process.

CRIMINAL RECORD

It is noted that rerep sets forth items contained in local law enforcement agency records concerning Lansky which do not appear in the FBI identification record. All such items should be submitted to the Identification Division so that the records there on this top hoodlum will be complete.

LEGITIMATE ENTERPRISES

EX-135 REC-24 92-2831-7

Numerous so-called legitimate enterprises which Lansky has been engaged in the past are set forth in rerep. Records and persons connected with these enterprises may form the basis for investigation which will lead to present and past illegal activities on the part of Lansky. As you are aware, successful hoodlums, such as Lansky, carry on their associations as clandestinely as possible and conduct all of their illegal activities in a surreptitious manner. Therefore, it is often necessary to begin a probative type of investigation from a starting point which at first glance appears to be remote, both as to time and place. An example of the value that can accrue from such a starting point is the case of [redacted]

b7C

Because of the great notoriety and obvious stature of Lansky in the field of top hoodlums, every effort should be made and no lead overlooked in developing information and possible evidence against him in actual violations of law.

INFORMANTS

The great notoriety of Lansky will present handicaps in active investigation of his activities. These handicaps highlight the desirability and necessity of [redacted]

The fact that Lansky currently is out of your territory should not deter you from conducting a continuous, assiduous and imaginative investigation into his background and activities. So much of his background and past operations are centered in the New York area, it is incumbent upon you personally to see that this case is given top priority.

2. Education

Records of [redacted] another governmental agency maintaining personnel-type records, reflect that the subject advised that he completed eight years of grammer school and was graduated. The school was not identified.

The subject was examined under oath on December 10, 1953, in the United States Attorney's Office, Southern District of New York, New York City, by Assistant United States Attorney (AUSA) ROBERT W. SWEET, in the presence of MOSES POLAKOFF, Attorney for the subject. This examination was conducted in connection with the denaturalization proceedings then pending against the subject. Hereafter in this report, information attributed to this examination, will be referred to as the examination by AUSA SWEET in 1953.

In the above examination, the subject stated that he graduated from Public School 34 in the lower east side of Manhattan in 1916 or 1917. He attended this school under the name of MEYER LANSKY.

3. Employment

(a.)Current

b7D [redacted]

The subject's other interest in various business will be set forth later in this report under the caption, "Legitimate Enterprises."

(b.)Previous

Subject, in examination in 1953 by AUSA SWEET, advised he may have been employed part-time as a grocery errand boy for some grocery store on the lower east side of New York prior to his graduating from grammer school. His first job was with the D. and L. Tool Company, as an apprentice machinist. This company was first located on Centre Street near Canal Street, which was then about 1917 until 1922 or 1923. The company employed about eight to ten persons. The only other employee he recalls was his supervisor, MAX LANSKY, who was also the subject's cousin. This company later moved from this location when World War I began and became a larger concern. He did not know the address to which they moved but it was located somewhere around Grennwich Street.

The subject related that after the war, he must have been "let go" because the die and tool business fell off. He later then worked in several other places as a machinist, but he does not recall these concerns names. He did recall that he later worked for the Sullivan Shipyards and the R. Hoe and Company. He did not recall when he worked for these two organizations but he worked for the R. Hoe and Company just before they left Manhattan.

The subject stated that sometime prior to his marriage, he was working in Brooklyn, New York, in the building trades, "down in the new sections of Brooklyn." He did not recall for whom he was employed, but added he acquired the job through some friend of his father's. He did not recall the friend's name or address. His job had something to do with hardware work such as handling tools like, "putting things on windows, locks." Sometime after 1928, he stated he was employed and had an interest in the Richard Mirror Company, also known as the Richard Mirror Works. They were located somewhere on Green Street, Manhattan.

The subject stated he later worked for the Lansky Food Corporation, whose address was about 500 Broad Street, next to Haines Department Store, Newark, New Jersey.

b2 Records [redacted] reflect that in about May, 1942, the subject stated his present job was that of Vice President of the Krieg S. Pector and Citron Company at 727 Monroe Street, Hoboken, New Jersey. He indicated he had spent seven years at this type of work, which he began in 1934. His duties of this position consisted of looking after operation of sales and the employment situation.

These records reflect that the subject stated that he had had four years experience as a machinist on lathe and shaper or drill press from 1917 ending in 1921.

b2 Records [redacted] also reflect that about July, 1942, the subject stated he was employed as a manager of a dog racing track. It is further noted in July, 1942, the subject stated he was connected with the Dodge Kennel Club, Council Bluffs, Iowa.

The records [redacted] reflect that in November, 1943, the subject may have been connected with the Manhattan Simplex Distributing Company, Inc., the distributors of Wurlitzer Automatic Phonographs, 525 West 43rd Street, New York City. b2

The subject, in examination before AUSA SWEET, in 1953, stated he at one time had been employed by Embee Distributing Company.

During the examination, the subject referred to his Social Security Card number 109-03-8534, which reflected it was issued on December 17, 1936. On the back of this card was typewritten, Lansky Food Corporation, 100 Beacon Street, Boston, Massachusetts, which subject stated was where he once lived.
