Rebulet to Albuquerque May 8, 1950, requesting that Albuquerque advise in more detail what records were checked concerning travel and leave records at Los Alamos.

The University of California payroll for the month of December, 1944, was used as a means of determining who was employed by the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory in the latter part of 1944. This payroll should have included all technical area employees at that time with the exception of military personnel. It appears from the information [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] in the event that he was employed in the LASL, which seems probable, his name should have appeared on the December, 1944 payroll of the University of California unless he was a member of the U.S. Army.

The University Business Office maintains a separate file on each employee. The files of all employees whose names appeared on the December 1944 payroll were checked and a record was made of the number of days leave that was taken by each employee during each of the months of November and December, 1944 and January 1945. Only the number of days leave taken during a particular month are shown and not the exact days leave was taken. It was noted that in several instances an employee had reported leave all in one month when other records show that it was probably taken part in one month and part in another month.

Leave records of the University for approximately 65 employees for the years 1943, 1944, and 1945 had been destroyed. Nearly all of these individuals whose leave records have been destroyed are presently employed by the LASL at Los Alamos. Their University personnel file does not show leave taken by them.

The AEC Security files were checked on all individuals who, according to the University Business Office records, had leave during November or December, 1944, and January, 1945, and also on all individuals whose University leave records had been destroyed.

~~XX~~ Dr. EDWARD ~~TELLER~~, Associate Director for Weapon Development, LASL, is again suggested as a most logical suspect for Soviet Agent ~~_____~~ for the following reasons: (TS)

~~XX~~ 1. Dr. TELLER was a close associate of EMIL JULIUS KLAUS ~~FUCHS~~ at Los Alamos. Mrs. TELLER made a trip to Mexico City with FUCHS in the latter part of 1945. The TELLERS had FUCHS at their home for dinner when FUCHS returned to this country in 1947. Dr. TELLER had considerable contact with FUCHS in England in the summer of 1949. FUCHS has admitted Soviet espionage activity.

~~XX~~ 2. Dr. TELLER recommended THEODORE ALVIN ~~HALL~~ as a good prospect for the graduate school at the University of Chicago in about January 1946 and stated that they had worked together at Los Alamos. HALL has been identified as a Soviet espionage agent while at Los Alamos.

~~XX~~ 3. As early as October, 1944, Dr. TELLER had expressed concern over the status of his and his wife's relatives in Budapest, Hungary, as the Russians were about to enter Budapest. ~~_____~~

~~XX~~ ~~_____~~ Dr. TELLER's name may have appeared on this list as he held a high position at Los Alamos at that time. As HALL was an associate of Dr. TELLER at Los Alamos, he may have mentioned his name as a possible prospect to furnish information when he was in New York City in October, 1944. 61

~~XX~~ 4. Dr. TELLER has not been eliminated as the EDWARD TELLER who taught at the Worker's School in New York City in 1941.

PURPOSE

To recommend that we conduct an interview with an individual by the name of Thomas A. Fineberg, whose name, according to David Greenglass, was suggested to Harry Gold as a possible recruit at Los Alamos.

DETAILS

When Harry Gold met David Greenglass in Albuquerque, New Mexico, in June, 1945, and was provided with certain information obtained by Greenglass from the Los Alamos Laboratory, Greenglass also suggested to Gold certain persons who could be recruited. One of these persons was Thomas A. Fineberg. Gold stated he rejected completely the suggestion of Greenglass for security reasons. However, it is believed desirable to interview Fineberg for information concerning his knowledge of Greenglass and to determine whether he ever has been approached by the Soviet Intelligence Service. The background of Fineberg is as follows:

Fineberg was born in St. Paul, Minnesota, on May 22, 1923. He lived in St. Paul until 1938, when his family moved to Chicago. He attended the University of Minnesota from 1940-1942, the University of Chicago from 1942 to 1943, and attended the Ohio State University from June, 1943, to September, 1944, under the Army Students Training Program. He was inducted into the United States Army on November 3, 1942, and was assigned to Los Alamos in June, 1944. During the period he was at Los Alamos an informant of the Manhattan Engineer District Intelligence Branch reported he received, by mail, editorials from the "Daily Worker." (116-1486-2) Fineberg is reported to be presently living in Chicago, and to have been a member of a Communist club in the summer quarter of 1947 at the University of Chicago. He was active in the Young Progressives of America as of October, 1948, which organization allegedly is controlled by the Communist Party. He was also a subscriber to the "Daily Worker" during 1941.

RECOMMENDATION

Notwithstanding the Communist activities on the part of this individual, it is believed advisable to interview him, and there is attached hereto for your approval a letter to the Chicago Office instructing them to conduct this interview.

From Percy Wiley,
To; Everett M. Grantham, U.S. Attorney,

Re: David Greenglass

Agents of this office have been advised by Mr. Ralph C. Smith, Assistant Director for Classification and Security, Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory, University of California, Los Alamos, New Mexico, that the sketch drawn by David Greenglass for agents of our New York Office, which Greenglass described as being of a "high explosive lens mold," was classified by the Military during the year 1945 and that this sketch is still classified as Restricted Data by the AEC. He further advised that the AEC is presently considering the declassification of this subject matter.

Mr. Smith has advised that he can testify that the sketch prepared by Greenglass was classified during the year 1945 and at the time of the arrest of Greenglass, but that unless the subject matter to which this sketch pertains is declassified prior to the trial of this case, he cannot elaborate as to what the sketch describes, either on direct or cross-examination.

It is suggested that you might desire to discuss the question of what information is considered as Restricted Data under the Atomic Energy Act with Mr. Smith and Mr. W. J. McElwreath, Director, Office of Security, Santa Fe Operations Office, U.S. Atomic Energy Commission,

Los Alamos, New Mexico, prior to the trial of this case.

Very truly yours

Subject: THOMAS FEINBERG
INTERNAL SECURITY - R

We have previously furnished you information concerning Thomas Feinberg in connection with our investigation of the espionage activities of David Greenglass and Julius Rosenberg. In connection with that investigation we also furnished you the results of an interview of Thomas Feinberg.

We recently interviewed William Alexander Brown who presently resides at 320 Rossell Avenue, Richland, Washington, and he stated he is presently employed with the General Electric Company as a supervisor in the Process Control Group, Hanford Operations Office, Richland, Washington. Mr. Brown said he had been stationed as a soldier in the Special Engineers Detachment, Manhattan Engineer District, at Los Alamos, New Mexico, from March, 1944, to February 7, 1946, when he was discharged. He returned as a civilian and was employed from March 1, 1946, to September, 1946, when he resigned to enter the Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago, Illinois. He began employment with the General Electric Company at the Hanford Operations Office on June 28, 1948.

Mr. Brown said he was quartered in the same barracks with Feinberg during the entire year 1945 and up until February, 1946, when he (Brown) was discharged from the service. He said that during this period he had an opportunity to become acquainted with the philosophy of Feinberg and on this basis he believed that Feinberg "was pro-Russian and if there was a Communist in the bunch he was it." Mr. Brown stated that if Feinberg was not actually a Communist he was undoubtedly a fellow traveler. He remembered that there were many political arguments and discussions in which Feinberg would consistently side with the Russian view, stating Russia had received the brunt of the fighting during the early years of the war and had undergone great losses and he was in favor of assisting Russia as much as possible. Mr. Brown said he considered Feinberg to be a "rabble rouser who was against free enterprise and desired a Totalitarian system with maximum governmental control."

Mr. Brown said he did not recall David Greenglass other than to remember he had been at Los Alamos. He said he recalled Feinberg was at a test site exploding "the lenses" which were made in molds produced in the machine shop where Greenglass was employed. Mr. Brown said he was not sure of the relationship between Greenglass and Feinberg but stated that the latter was in a splendid position to give Greenglass information concerning the measurement of "waves" set off from detonations.

The foregoing is furnished to you for your confidential information and in view of our previous investigation regarding Feinberg we do not intend to take any further action regarding this matter.
