OBSERVATIONS IN REGARD TO THE RECEPTION, TWO-DAY OPEN MEETING, BANQUET, AND PARADE HELD IN COMMECTION WITH THE CELEBRATION OF THE 10TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE FOUNDING OF THE PEOPLE'S MEPUBLIC OF CHINA

Tho Reception

On the afternoon of Coptember 23, 1959, there was a reception for leading members of Communist Party delegations in Poking for the colebration of the 10th Anniversary of the founding of the People's Copyress Hall. This hall was built in a period of ten months, with approximately 30,000 workmon. While some help was obtained from Russian architects and technicians, it was designed and constructed mainly by the Chinese.

None of the delegates from the Soviet Union were observed at the recoption. The purpose of the reception was to permit the representatives of other Communist Parties to meet the leadership of the Communist Party of China. At first, some members of the Standing Committee of the Political Eureau circulated among the delegates from the other Parties. Later, the very top leadership of the Communist Party of China, including MAO Tre-tung, blu Shao-chi, CHOU En-lai, TUNG Pi-wu, and CHER Yi, circulated among the delegates. Badam/SUN Yat-sen was escerted to this reception by LIU Shao-chi. At the reception, CHOU En-lai drank a teast to the American Communists.

Two-Day Open Meeting

The two-day open meeting in connection with the colebration began after the reception on September 28, 1959. This meeting was also held in the People's Congress Fall.

The Chinese delegates were seated on the left side of the hall. The delegate from the Communist Party - USA, and possibly other delegates whose identities could not be announced, sat with the Chinese delegates.

At this meeting, the Chinese tried to initate the proceedings at the 21st Congress of the Communist Party of the Soviet, Union. A preciding committee was elected. The chairmanship was rotated between LIU Shao-chi, CHOU En-lai, TUNG Pi-wu, and CHU Toh. LIU Shao-chi made the introductory speech. Other Chinese, including 100 -428011-509 -1-ENCLOSURE non-membors of the Communist Party of China, spoke. Representatives of the other Parties then spoke. HIKHAIL SUSLOV, of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, was the first spoker representing another Communist Party. The list of speakers from other Communist Parties appears on pages #11 and #12 of the October 6, 1959, issue of the "Peking Review". SUSLOV spoke for about fifteen to twenty minutes; however, next of the speeches lasted for only five minutes. A special anniversary issue of the "Poking Review" will carry the speeches. There were simultaneous translations of the speeches into twolve different languages. Speakers from the smaller Communist Parties were treated as equals of the speakers from the larger Communist Parties, and it is the policy of the Communist Party of China to encourage small Communist Parties.

Tho Danquot

The barquet was held on Esptember 30, 1959. It was not limited to Communist Party members. The diplomatic corps in Poking were in attendance. The barquet was held in the People's Congress Hall. There were five thousand persons in attendance. Three orchestras played in the balconies surrounding the hall.

The representatives from the Communist Party - USA again sat at a table with several Chinese, mostly military people. TAUG Hing-chao was ceated at this table, along with two delegates from the Communist Party of Cypress and the Deputy Organization Secretary of the Communist Party of China, who is a woman. A representative of the Communist Party of Eudan was also at this table.

linny exetic dishes were served. The Chinese use theppticks not only to eat, but also use the same chepaticks to recove the food from the corving dishes to their plates.

attraction at the banquet was the appearance of MIKITA-KHRUSHCHEV.

This was the first public appearance of KHRUSHCHEV during the colobration. While KHRUSHCHEV received a fairly good greeting, much of the applauce came from other than the Chinese delegates, although the Chinese applauded politely. While the Chinese people are not unenthusiastic, they did not show much enthusiasm for KHRUSHCHEV. Ey way of opinion, it is believed that KERUSHCHEV would have received twice the evation and applause in almost any other country. Also by way of opinion, MAO TSO-tung should have introduced HIKITA KHRUSHCHEV, but he did not do so. While both ChOU En-lai and HIKITA KHRUSHCHEV carry the same title -- Premier -- Communists know that their rank is not the same.

MIKITA KURUSECHEV was the only speaker at the banquet. After speaking for about five to ten minutes, KHRUSECHEV just stood as the translator concluded the speech, which emphasized peace and peaceful co-existence. In the main, the applicate during the speech came from other than Chinese delegates. If the audience had been composed only of Chinese, the applicate would have been reduced to a fraction of what it was. KHRUSECHEV's speech was of the type which could have been delivered in any country in the world.

The Parado

On the evening of September 30, 1959, slegans in electric lights were displayed on every important building in Poking. The trees were decorated with lights. Those who were to participate in the parade on the following day were practicing.

On the morning of the parade, most of the streets lending to the Square of Reavenly Peace were blocked out. Belogates from other Communist Parties had been given official invitations and badges for the reviewing stand. People lined the streets by the thousands and cheered as each car carrying delegates to the reviewing stand passed by them.

The first tier of the reviewing stand was restricted to such individuals as MAO Tco-tung, LIU Shao-chi, NIKITA KURUSECHEV, and MIKEAIL SUSLOV. Fost of the delegates from the other Communist Parties were conted in the second tier.

The parado bogan with the reading of the order of the day by Marshal LIN Pigo, the new Dofonso Minister. To is called a scientific parshal by the Chinege, since he is modern and is paying attention to science in regard to the armed forces.

The parade started with men from all branches of the armed services parading by the reviewing stand. Tanks, artillery, antiaircraft, guns, armored vehicles, and radar trucks were also in the parade. Not all of the equipment looked now. The militia in gray cover-alls and the Young Pieneers also marched. The civilian part of the parade was very impressive and very colorful. They shot fireworks and released balloons which carried slegans. From time to time, hundreds of pigeons were released. There were huge dragons in the form of balloons. Also in the parade were women pushing baby buggles.

On the reviewing stand, there was a person who shouted slogans to the marchers as they passed the reviewing stand, and the marchers shouted the slogans back to him. Host of the slogans praised and pledged allegiance to MO Toc-tung. There were about forty planes, equally divided between jet fighters and beabers, flying in formation everbead. The Chinese have stated that they are now building their own planes. The cerial displays were impressive. The Panchen Lama was all ever the first tier of the reviewing stand taking photographs.

A hugo poster, with photographs of Chinese leaders and MARK, ENGELS, LENIN, and STALIN, faced the reviewing stand. No photographs of KURUSECHEV were seen anywhere, and it is to be noted that currently no photographs of STALIN are seen in Moseow. Most of the photographs of the Chinese leadership emphasize that MAO Tee-tung is the leader. It appears that another cult of the personality is being built in China in regard to MAO Tee-tung, who everyone quotes.

The parade lasted until about 3:00 P.H. It was said that approximately one million people passed through the Square of Ecavenly Peace. Lest of the participants in the parade were young people.

On the evening of the parade, there was a large fireworks display. There was public dancing in the Equare of Reavenly Peace. Various theatrical groups performed in the streets. The public dancing continued on October 2, 1959, and amateur groups from schools and other organizations put on theatrical performances.

Committe of CG 5824-8*

In so prominently displaying photographs of STALIN, the idea is clear that the Communist Party of China is telling the rest of the Communist movement that it is following Marxism-Leninism-Stalinism. STALIN, because no other leader lived through most of the Communist revolution and laid the foundation for Socialism.

One goth the improveien that the Communist Party of China has things well in its hands in China, and has the people well organized and supporting the Party and its lendership. The youth are working hard and enthusiastically, and are following the Party. There are about fourteen million members in the Communist Party of China, and another two million are candidates for membership. That the people are well organized is demonstrated by the huge buildings which have been creeted in Poking within a few menths time, such as the People's Congress Hall, the Luseum of Revolution, the new railroad station, and a new House of Rationalities. Lost all of this is accomplished entirely through manpower, without the use of modern machinery.

ATTENDANCE OF COMMUNIST PARTY, USA, FUNCTIONARY AT 10TH ANHIVERSARY OF LEBRATION OF FOUNDING OF THE PROPLE'S REPUBLIC OF CHINA

A leading functionary of the Communist Party, USA, traveled extensively in Soviet Russia and Red China during September and October of 1959. This Communist Party, USA, functionary was the official delegate of his Party to the 10th anniversary celebration of the founding of the People's Republic of China in Peking, China, and participated in the following ceremonies in connection with this celebration:

Reception for Leading Communists:

On the afternoon of September 28, 1959, the Communist Party, USA, functionary attended a reception held in the People's Congress Hall for leading members of Communist Party delegations in Peking for the 10th anniversary celebration. This reception was held to afford the representatives of other communist parties the opportunity of meeting the leadership of the Communist Party of China. He related that the very top leadership of the Communist Party of China attended this reception including Mac Tae-tung, chairman of the Communist Party of China; Liu Shao-chic, president of the People's Republic of China and vice-chairman of the Communist Party of China; Chou En-lai, premier of China; and Tung Pi-wu, member of the standing committee of the political bureau of the Communist Party of China.

This Communist Party, USA, functionary thought that it was quite pertinent to note that no delegates from the Communist Party of the Soviet Union were observed at this reception.

The Communist Party, USA, functionary noted that the Chinese attempted to imitate the proceedings at the 21st Congress of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union in the organizational netup for this meeting and specifically in the method of selecting presiding officials.

Utkhail Suslov, member of the Presidium of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, was the first speaker representing other communist parties and spoke about 15 minutes. The Communist Party, USA, leader observed that the speakers from the smaller communist parties were treated as equals of the speakers from the larger communist parties and noted that it is the policy of the Communist Party of China to encourage the small communist parties.

The Banquet:

This banquet which was held on September 30, 1959, at the People's Congress Hall was attended by about 5,000 persons. It was not limited to Communist Party members but included members of the diplomatic corps in Peking. The Communist Party, USA, representative was seated at the same table as Tang Ning-chao, a representative of the International Liaison Department of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of China.

The main attraction at the banquet was Nikita Khrushchev. Khrushchev was the only speaker at this banquet and following his speech, which emphasized peace and peaceful coexistence, it was noted by the Communist Party, USA, functionary that Khrushchev received only polite applause from the Chinese. They showed very little enthusiasm for Khrushchev and it was the opinion of the Communist Party, USA, functionary that Khrushchev would have received at least twice the ovation and applause in almost any other country. In addition, it was noted that the applause during Khrushchev's speech came from other than Chinese delegates.
The Communist Party, USA, functionary was of the opinion that Khrushchev was slighted to a degree inasmuch as he was introduced to the audience by Chou En-lai rather than Wao Tse-tung who is the acknowledged leader of China.

The Parado:

The parade held during the 10th anniversary celebration featured Red China's military might. There were approximately 40 planes equally divided between jet fighters and bombers flying overhead. The Chinese, according to this Communist Party, USA, functionary, state that they are now building their own planes.

Photographs of Chinese Communist Party leaders and of Marx, Engels, Lenin and Stalin were prominently displayed during this parade. However, there was no photograph of Khrushchev on display. There were a great many photographs of Mao Tse-tung, emphasizing his position as the most powerful man in China.

The fact that there was no photograph of Khrushchev on display indicated to this Communist Party, USA, functionary the Chinese displeasure with Khrushchev's peaceful coexistence line. He believed that photographs of Stalin were prominently displayed to let the various communist parties know that the Communist Party of China is following the strict teachings of Karxism-Leninism-Stalinism.

The Communist Party, USA, functionary gained the impression that the Communist Party of China has the Chinese people well organized and its leadership has the support of the people. He noted that the young Chinese are working hard and enthusiastically and are supporting the Party. He determined that there are approximately 14,000,000 members of the Communist Party of China and there are an additional 2,000,000 individuals who are candidates for membership.

That long after the return of MORRIS CHAIDS from Poking to Moscow on or about October 17, 1959, MIKOLAZ MOSTOVETS, Mond of the Morth and South American Section of the International Department of the Control Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CPSU), and his assistant, ALEKSEL GRECOMENLY, asked CHILDSif he would assist them in pursuading William Weinstone to return to the United States. CHILDS asked if WEINSTONE had returned to Moscow from a sanitarium in the Crimea. They replied that WEINSTONE had roturned to Boscow, was visiting a clinic overy day, but that the physicians had told him that they cannot do much more for him. HOSTOVETS and GRECHUKHIN said that they would approciate it if CHILDS could influence WEINSTONE to go home, since they do not want many known Communist Party - USA (CPUSA) members hanging around Moscow.

CHILDS replied that EUGENE DENNIS and GUS ALL had asked him to have WEINSTONE return to the United States. Furthermore, that if he does not return home before November 1, 1959, they would suggest that he stay in Russia until after the 17th National Convention is completed. CHILDS asked that WEINSTONE be brought to his apartment, and this was done.

CHILDS told WEINSTONE what DEINIS and HALL had asked him to toll WEINSTONE. CHILDS did not toll WEINSTONE what LOSTOVETS and GRECHUKHIN had said. When WEINSTONE showed an inclination to remain in the Soviet Union and even to ask for a job in the Soviet Union, CHILDS stated that it might be good for the CPUSA if WEINSTONE roturned to the United States. Knowing that WEINSTONE is anti-EEN DAVIS, CHILDS said that perhaps WEINSTONE could play a role in the National Convention if he returned home. Furthermore, it might be the best thing to do in view of the new relationships between the United States and the Soviet Union.

After a couple of telephone calls between CHILDS and WEINSTONE, he finally agreed to leave hussia for the United States, He left Noscov on November 1, 1959, and planned a stop-over in Paris. Franco.

WEINSTONE know that the CPSU would pay for his return trip fare to the United States, but he wanted CHILDS to ask the CPSU to reimburse him for his fare from the United States to the Soviet Union. CHILDS did not do this. However, LOSTOVETS and GRECHUKIIIN stated that they had given WEINSTONE some money in addition to his fare back to the United States. They also gave him gone shoes and clothing. They also gave MONETTE WEINSTONE some financial assistance while sho was in Russia.

HIPORMATION CONCERNING STATEMENTS BY A HIGH-RANKING OPPICIAL OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY OF CZECHOSLOVAKIA IN PRAGUE, CZECHOSLOVAKIA

Sources which have furnished reliable information in the past to the FBI have reported that Gustav Soucek, head of the International Department of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of Czechoslovakia, made the following statements in Progue, Czechoslovakia, during the month of November, 1959.

Guatav Soucek stated that the Communist Party, USA, and the Communist Party of Czechoslovakia should strive for closer contacts and pointed out that the methods of making contacts must be improved. He stated that general information concerning Communist Party matters could be exchanged between the Communist Party, USA, and Czechoslovakia through a news agency rather than through the Czechoslovakian Embassy in the United States. He explained that the Czechoslovakian Information Agency sends press releases to bourgeois newspapers and these press releases could also be sent to the Communist Party, USA, furnishing the latter information such as the general development of the economy in Czechoslovakia. He indicated that the Czechoslovakian Information Agency is controlled by the Communist Party of Czechoslovakia.

Soucek continued that as a result of the defection of Lieutenant Colonel Frantisck Tigler, the former Czechoslovakian military attache in the United States, on July 25, 1959; the former contacts in the United States with the Communist Party, USA, have been "spoiled" and the Czechoslovakians have broken all previous contacts with the Communist Party, USA. He said that Ticler's contacts with the Czechoslovakians to make hard and dwoceing changes. Soucek remarked that the Czechoslovakians now have a new ambassador in the United States, Miloslav Ruzek, when he was characterized as a very capable comrade and diplomat. Ruzek is going to change the entire personnel at the Czechoslovakian Embassic in the United States and he has been instructed to change the method of making contacts with members of the Communist Party, USA, and to use illegal channels only when absolutely necessary.

It was believed that Soucek was referring to the nature of contacto between the Communist Party, USA, and Czechoslovakia and was not referring to intelligence on illegal agents for Czechoslovakia living in the United States. Soucek added that in view of the reorganization of the Czechoslovakian Embansy in the United States, direct contacts between the Communist Party, USA, and the Communist Party of Czechoslovakia in the United States must be very carefully considered. He suggested that the best method might be to have a contact in Prague and an occasional contact in the United States.

union delegations between the United States and Czechoslovakia. He said that a large number of international meetings are held in Prague, Czechoslovakia. He noted specifically that there are a number of trade-union meetings in Prague in connection with the World Federation of Trade-Unions. However, American trade-unionists rarely come to Prague. He mentioned that the Czechoslovakia General Council of Trade-Unions has many contacts in the United States and that it hopes to chlarge its contacts and extend its influence in the United States. Soucek observed that approximately three years ago some trade-union delegates from the United States visited Czechoslovakia and certain of the members of this delegation were of Czechoslovakia and certain of the members of this delegation were of Czechoslovakia and certain of the members of this delegation were of

In regard to contacts in the United States by Czechoslovakian Embossy officials with former Czechoslovakian eltizens who are members of the Communist Party, USA, Soucek related that these contacts resulted in the development of a bad relationship. However, he added that the Communist Party, USA, should understand that the Czechoslovakians desire to have friendly relationships and contact with former Czechoslovakians and Slovaks who are now residing in the United States. Soucek mentioned that Czechoslovakian diplomatic personnel in the United States have been in contact with Communist Party functionaries from the Illinois and Ohio Districts of the Communist Party, USA.

Sourch stated that Czechoblovakia had a special institution for the spreading of international contacts and relationships which combines cultural with other forms of exchange. During the past year, 3,000 Americans mainly of Czechoblovakian and Slovak descent yisited Prague. They came to Czechoblovakia with all kinds of prejudicos. They expected to see the churches destroyed and real property taken over by the state. However, when they arrived, they found the treasures intact. They observed that the stores were well stocked with food and the people were living well. Soucek stated that among the visitors were bankers of Grechoslovskian descent who were amazed at the banking facilities and the fact that there were so few bank guards. Soucek continued that the Crechoslovskians want those people to visit Crechoslovskian origin visited their hand towns and compared the present conditions with those 30 years ago. They changed their opinion of Crechoslovskia and of socialism, and the Communist Party of Crechoslovskia can utilize these individuals for propaganda purposes. Soucek emphasized that the astablishment of contacts and arranging for towalsts from the United States to travel to Crechoslovskia can and must be done legally because Crechoslovskia wants to improve its relationship with the United States.

Dougek stated that Czechoslovakia has Various groups traveling abroad. He mentioned that a Czechoslovakian gircum traveled in Japan and the Czechoglovakian Philharmonic Orchestra traveled to India, Duran and Austrolia. He stated that these groups are used to improve contacts in the countries visited. They create good will and are indirectly propagands. He related that when the Czechoslovakian circus was in Tokyo, Japan, the performers violated instructions and made a sectarian mintake by joining in the colebration of the anniversary of the Communist Party of Japan. He added that in regard to cultural exchanges, the Czechoslovakians are thinking of broad mass contacts and not just contacts with Communist Party members in other countries. Soucek stated that the Czechoslovakian Philharmonic Orchestra would be willing to accept an invitation to the United States and added that he would be interested in non-Communist Party members in the United States who would be interested in promoting Czechoslovakian -· American cultural exchanges.

In regard to the Communist Party, USA's attempt to establish an international campaign for defense of its "legal rights," Equeck stated that although the Communist Party of Czechoglovakia is willing to do its share in this campaign, he believes it would be more effective to start this campaign in capitalist countries.

Concerning the internal cituation in Czechoslovakia, Soucek ptated that there has been a rapid improvement in economic conditions with an increase of 11 per cent in production during the first 10 months of 1959. He stated that the problem facing Czechoslovakia is agricultural production. While it has been improving steadily, it is not improving fast enough. He explained that the farms are divided into small plots of land which is neither effective nor economical. Sough said the Czechoslovakians will attempt to push deoperative and collective farm movements on a scientific scale. It will attempt to step up production of agricultural machinery and fertilizers together with the introduction of power and electricity on the farms. In regard to communes, Sough remarked that while they may be good for China, Czechoslovakia cannot force any such rapid collectivization.

Soucek related that the Czechoslovakian Communist Party was successful in its revolution at a most crucial moment because it had the majority of people on its side. The Czechoslovakian Communist Party had the workers support and was able to convince the majority of the formers and the middle class that the communists were fighting for their interests. He continued, "You do not know how close American importalism came to dominating Czechoslovakia in 1948. However, we best them because we had good relationship with all strata of our population."

Soucek remarked that a big problem facing the Communist Party of Czechoslovakia today is convincing the working class that the standard of living which is rising rapidly cannot continue to rice without increased productlyity. Plants are constantly being mechanized and some automation is being introduced. The younger Norker is quite productive. However, the older worker expects to get proportional and constant pay increases as productivity increases. This cannot continue. Soucek stated that the Communist Party of Czechoslovakia is carrying on a tromendous ideological campaign designed to convince the majority of the workers that all of the increased productivity connot go merely to increase the standard of living and more of it has to be used for greater capital investment in industry. Soucek complained that many of the workers in Czechoslovakia measure the standard of living by how much meat; butter and milk they receive. He said that accompanying the ideological campaign, the Communist Party of Czechoslovakia is corrying on an additional compaign organized by scientists, doctors and dietitions to convince the population that overedting is not . boog

SUBJECT SOLO INTERNAL SECURITY - C

This matter pertains to liaison activities of our highly Holloman — placed informant, CG 5824-S, between the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA) and the Communist Parties of the Soviet Union, Red China, and other Iron Curtain nations. Informant returned to United States on 11-11-59 following seven-week stay in Russia and Red China. By airtel 11-27-59 Chicago Control furnished information concerning informant's conversation with Sanzo Rozaka, chairman of the CP of Japan. This conversation took place in Peking, China, on or about 10-15-59.

Nozaka advised informant he desired to work out a program between CPs of Japan and the United States calling for a campaign against United States military bases on Japanese soil as these bases are designed for use against Soviet Russia.

Nozaka stated CP of Japan has developed a powerful movement in form of a united front with the Socialist Party of Japan directed against renewal of security treaty between United States and Japan. He said this is most important political problem facing Japan today inasmuch as a new treaty could lead to war. He related that although leaders of the Socialist Party of Japan do not agree publicly with Japanese CP's fight against renewal of this treaty, they secretly meet with the leadership of the CP of Japan. He added the CP of Japan is supported in this campaign by a national alliance consisting of over 300 local alliances or committees composed of Socialist Party members and others.

Nozaka requested that the CPUSA attack the proposed security treaty and added that this is of particular significance in view of scheduled visit of Japanese prime minister to United States December, 1959.

In regard to the CP of Japan, Nozaka stated that its internal situation is very much improved. The sectarians have been ousted, the factional fight stopped, and some persons who were expelled have been returned to the Party. He added the CP of Japan publishes a paper with daily circulation of 50,000 and Sunday circulation of 50,000.
