Far-Right Extremism After the Jan. 6 Capitol Attack

By Erroll G. Southers

FBI(21cv558)-8707

After the deadly violence at the U.S. Capitol last week, terms like protest, riot and sedition are being used to describe what occurred. Make no mistake, it was a terrorist attack.

An American mob constructed a gallows outside the Capitol, carried a Confederate flag through the sacred halls of democracy and placed improvised explosive devices at the headquarters of the Republican and Democratic national committees. Inside the Capitol, windows were smashed and offices ransacked. One attacker brought 11 Molotov cocktails and an assault rifle, another stalked the Senate floor with a fistful of flex-cuffs. Ultimately, a police officer was killed and dozens of other officers were hurt.

The hundreds of Trump supporters who stormed into the Capitol were a fraction of the thousands who had marched there after the president exhorted them to do so. But their actions, and the presence of white supremacists and anti-government extremists scattered among those who remained outside, made manifest the documented and dangerous threat these domestic extremists have posed for decades. The discussions they are having online suggest this attack was intended to be "independence day" and the beginning of a second civil war.

Biden Inaugural is Not the Finish Line

While images of the U.S. Capitol being overrun are terrifying, we should not be too surprised. Extremist groups have been discussing and planning audacious attacks for some time. Most recently, in October, the FBI stopped a plot by white supremacist and anti-government extremists to kidnap the Michigan and Virginia governors.

These and other wicked ideas are increasingly pervasive in online forums. Extremists participating in these virtual communities are gleeful over the Capitol attack and are using it to recruit members in advance of violence on Inauguration Day.

As a country, however, we should not see the inauguration of President-elect Joe Biden as a finish line, after which the extremist threat might seem to stand down. There is no finish line in homeland security. Even when every person who participated in the Washington, D.C., attack is identified, arrested, charged and convicted in accordance with the existing president's own executive order, extremists will remain.

While the U.S. Capitol was invaded, ominous protests in state capitals revealed the scope of this extremism. In Salt Lake City, 400 people converged on the Utah Capitol and a photojournalist was attacked. In Georgia, about 100 people, some of them armed, prompted the secretary of state and his staff to evacuate. In St. Paul, 500 people descended on the Minnesota Capitol, where a protester characterized the day as 1776 — the start of the American Revolution.

Protests in other states were largely peaceful, and it would be incorrect to presume every person who participated was an extremist. Therein is our national challenge. How can we distinguish between those expressing a constitutionally protected political opinion, those who might be susceptible to violent extremist action, and those who are already planning for their next attack?

There are necessary policy and legal discussions to identify and address the scale of white supremacy and anti-government extremism in the United States. Security will come not just through mitigating the threat but also diminishing it.

Public Trials for the Capitol Attackers

Radicalization to violence does not occur overnight, and likewise coaxing someone back from extremism is not a simple endeavor. Nor is it always successful. Judging by the clothing patches donned on Jan. 6, the flags they waved, the coded hand signals they flashed to one another and, for some, their known affiliation with hate groups, the Capitol attack included people adhering to multiple violent ideologies. It is reminiscent of the 2017 "Unite the Right" rally in Charlottesville, Virginia, which was perplexing in part because right-wing extremist groups typically do not collaborate in that way.

As a nation, we need a nuanced strategy for addressing each violent ideology, hybrid derivative and group. Part of that effort will be shoring up trust in information sources, public leaders and our very democracy. People need to understand where opinion ends and extremist ideology begins, and right now that is a nebulous line for too many. Some American leaders have progressively dumbed down a significant portion of the American public, mixing news spin with half-truths and half-baked conspiracies. When people have no interest in education, "real" news, conducting research and inviting discussions with people of opposing views, they become the sheep for the violent shepherds' extremism.

We also need to make an example of those who attacked the U.S. Capitol. They must receive the full measure of justice to show that violent action will always fall in the face of law and order. Those who stormed the Capitol by force in a bid to prevent or delay the business of the United States government, in this case affirming Biden's election win, should bear the full weight of prosecution for seditious conspiracy. Their trials should be public, demonstrating the enduring strength of democracy and our legal system.

Throughout U.S. history, there are only a handful of dates that live in infamy, as President Franklin D. Roosevelt said of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor. Jan. 6, 2021, is now one of them. But it is also a day that showed a violent mob, adaptive adversaries and a disgraceful, appalling president cannot bring down our democratic system.

Self-styled militia members planned on storming the U.S. Capitol days in advance of Jan. 6 attack, court documents say

Self-styled militia members from Virginia, Ohio and other states made plans to storm the U.S. Capitol days in advance of the Jan. 6 attack, communicating in real time as they breached the building on opposite sides and leading dozens in a hunt for lawmakers to make “citizen’s arrests,” according to new court documents filed Tuesday.

U.S. authorities charged an apparent Oath Keeper leader, Thomas Edward Caldwell, 66, of Clarke County, Va., in the attack, alleging that the U.S. Navy veteran helped organize a ring of what became 30 or 40 people who “stormed the castle” to disrupt the electoral vote confirmation of President-elect Joe Biden’s victory.

“We have about 30-40 of us. We are sticking together and sticking to the plan,” co-defendant Jessica Watkins, 38, a U.S. Army veteran, said while the breach was underway, according to court documents unsealed Tuesday.

“You are executing citizen’s arrest. Arrest this assembly, we have probable cause for acts of treason, election fraud,” a man replied, according to communications recovered from her phone, the FBI alleged.

“We are in the main dome right now. We are rocking it. They are throwing grenades, they are fricking shooting people with paint balls. But we are in here,” a woman believed to be Watkins said, according to court documents.

A man then responds, “Get it, Jess,” adding, “This is ... everything we f-----trained for!” The extraordinary real-time narration of parts of the assault on the Capitol came as investigators made public new details of events in unsealed conspiracy charges in which thousands of pro-Trump supporters forced the evacuation of lawmakers and triggered violence that left five people dead.

FBI probes possible connections between extremist groups at heart of Capitol violence

FBI charging papers against Caldwell, Watkins and a third man, former U.S. Marine Donovan Cowl, 50, allege that Caldwell and others coordinated in advance to disrupt Congress, scouted for lodging and recruited Oath Keepers members from North Carolina and like-minded groups from the Shenandoah Valley. Participants both anticipated violence and continued to act in concert after the break-in, investigators said in court documents.

Attempts to reach attorneys or relatives of Caldwell, Watkins and Crowl have been unsuccessful.

Federal prosecutors in Washington have charged more than 100 defendants in the past 13 days. But arrests this weekend of several people with alleged ties to extremist groups, including the Oath Keepers, Proud Boys and Three Percenters, have offered evidence that the riot was not an entirely impulsive outburst of violence but an event instigated or exploited by organized groups. Hours of video posted on social media and pored over by investigators have focused on individuals in military-style gear moving together.

“This is the first step toward identifying and understanding that there was some type of concerted conspiracy here,” said one senior official with the U.S. attorney’s office for Washington D.C., which is leading the investigation.

“Whether everyone else just happened to be there and got caught up in the moment, or if this is just the tip of the iceberg, how much this will grow at this point I can’t tell you, but we are continuing to investigate aggressively,” the official said, asking for anonymity to discuss a pending investigation.

In charging papers, the FBI said during the Capital riot, Caldwell received Facebook messages from unspecified senders updating him of the location of lawmakers. When he posted a one-word message, “Inside,” he received exhortations and directions describing tunnels, doors and hallways, the FBI said.

Another message read, “All members are in the tunnels under capital seal them in. Turn on gas,” the FBI added.

Other arrests Tuesday also underscored law enforcement’s concerns for threats to elected leaders, particularly since so many of the participants in the Jan. 6 chaos are still unidentified.

In New York, a Queens man who worked in the state court system was accused Tuesday of making threats to murder Democratic politicians, including suggesting another attack on the Capitol timed to President-elect Joe Biden's inauguration

Brendan Hunt of Queens, N.Y., is described in the documents as a part time actor and full-time employee of the New York State Office of Court Administration. Authorities said Hunt was not at the Jan. 6 riot, but made threatening remarks about Democratic politicians beforehand that intensified in a video he posted two days later, titled, "KILL YOUR SENATORS."

Several members of the National Guard to be removed from inauguration duty

"We need to go back to the U.S. Capitol," Hunt said in the video, according to the FBI. "What you need to do is take up arms, get to D.C., probably the inauguration ... put some bullets in their f----- heads. If anybody has a gun, give it to me, I'll go there myself and shoot them and kill them."

Caldwell's group appeared motivated by a similar animus. In a Jan. 1 reply to a Facebook comment cited by the FBI, Caldwell referred to the military oath to support and defend the Constitution against all enemies foreign and domestic, saying he had done both, but "they have morphed into pure evil even blatantly rigging an election and paying off the political caste."

"We must smite them now and drive them down," Caldwell said. An FBI charging affidavit said Caldwell was recorded outside the Capitol on a YouTube video posted Jan. 8, motioning to the building and shouting "Every single [expletive beeped in original] in there is a traitor. Every single one."

In Caldwell's charging papers, the FBI said that it is reviewing communications between

Caldwell “and other known and unknown Oath Keepers members.”

An FBI agent in court records said Caldwell helped organize a group of eight to 10 individuals led by Watkins, a bartender who founded the “Ohio State Regular Militia” in 2019. Members of the group are seen on video wearing helmets and military-style gear moving purposefully toward the top of the Capitol steps and leading the move against police lines, court records said.

A search warrant of Watkins home in Ohio found numerous firearms, cellphones, pepper spray, radio, a bag with a helmet and respirators, paintball guns, pool cues cut down to baton size, and zip/cable ties, as well a camouflage hat and jackets, the FBI said.

The FBI said without elaboration that it also recovered a document titled, “Making Plastic Explosives from Bleach,” redacting the instructions in a photo exhibit. The FBI noted in court records that Watkins runs a bar named the Jolly Roger, and is believed to operate a Facebook account under that name, the same name as the pseudonym of the author of bomb making instructions widely available on the Internet.

NATIONAL ISSUES

QAnon: OPA – Media inquired about a Washington Post story saying intelligence was shared with partners about the possibility individuals who subscribe to QAnon conspiracy theories might impersonate members of the National Guard. The story said the intelligence did NOT include any specific threats to the inauguration. OPA did not comment on the specific story and referred media to the director’s statement last week that the FBI has seen an “extensive amount of concerning online chatter.”

National Guard Vetting: OPA – Media asked various questions about the vetting of National Guard members assisting in inaugural security, including whether it is accurate a small number were removed from their assignments after the FBI found derogatory information. OPA referred media to the National Guard. OPA also reminded reporters on background that when the FBI assists with background checks we provide information to the agency we are assisting and do NOT adjudicate decisions.

U.S. CAPITOL VIOLENCE

Albany – Received several requests for information about the arrest of Brandon Fellows over the weekend. PAS directed reporters to the DOJ link tracking information on the investigations into violence at the capitol.

Albuquerque – PAO coordinated with WFO on a news release announcing the arrest Sunday of Couy Griffin, 47, of Tularosa, N.M., in Washington, D.C. FBI Albuquerque issued an arrest warrant for Griffin for his alleged role in the Jan. 6 Capitol riots. PAO received national and local media calls after the announcement.

Boston – Announced the arrests today of two Massachusetts residents for their alleged roles in the siege on the U.S. Capitol. FBI Boston’s JTTF arrested Mark Sahady, an organizer of the controversial Straight Pride Parade held in Boston in 2019, and Suzanne Ianni, a Natick Town Meeting member, on charges stemming from their participation in the attack. Reporters were given charging documents and information about their initial appearances. Requests for on-camera interviews were declined.

Detroit – The NBC affiliate interviewed PAO about the U.S. Capitol billboards. PAO provided information about the nationwide placement of billboards requesting information about individuals involved in violence at the U.S. Capitol. The story airs tomorrow.

Houston – Provided the following response to a Lake Charles, Louisiana, reporter’s request for an interview about what the FBI is looking for in response to signs in that area stating that the FBI is seeking information on the Capitol riot: “Lake Charles, LA, falls within the FBI New Orleans area of responsibility and FBI Houston is not providing interviews on this case since it is being prosecuted out of Washington D.C.”

Houston – FBI Houston and Houston Police Department received inquiries requesting updates about the status of charges that may be filed against a Houston police officer at the U.S. Capitol riot. FBI Houston referred the reporter to the established DOJ website and replied: “Per DOJ policy, the FBI does not confirm or deny the existence of an investigation.” Per the USAO–Southern District of Texas, PAO Jones also referred the reporter to contact DOJ’s main office.

Indianapolis – Multiple national and state outlets asked about the Sunday arrest of Jon Schaffer in connection to the Jan. 6 incident at the Capitol. Schaffer, the founder of the heavy metal band Iced Earth, was allegedly among rioters who sprayed Capitol police with bear spray. PAO confirmed Schaffer turned himself in, provided a list of charges, and directed media to the DOJ page for further information.

Indianapolis – A reporter with a northern Indiana newspaper asked how many people from Indiana have been charged to date in the Jan. 6 incident. The reporter asked specifically if anyone from the paper’s five-county coverage area has been arrested. PAO told reporter only one Hoosier has been charged as of today and provided the link to the DOJ page listing all those charged to date. PAO also provided a statement from SAC Keenan: “Mr. Schaffer’s arrest should send a clear message that those who participated in the breach of the Capitol will be held accountable for their actions. But, we aren’t done—there will more arrests to come. If you were involved, it would be in your best interest to turn yourself in now then to have FBI agents knocking on your door.”

Louisville – Continued to receive inquiries related to charges against and arrests of individuals who took part in the violence at the U.S. Capitol. PAS referred them to the DOJ and FBI websites dedicated to tracking this information and reiterated that the investigations are being led by WFO. For inquiries related to subjects who have not been arrested, PAS stated that we can neither confirm nor deny the existence of any investigation.

Miami – Local broadcast outlets requested confirmation of an arrest this morning in Coral Springs related to the breach of the U.S. Capitol. Miami made the following statement: “FBI Miami has arrested an individual this morning without incident in Coral Springs, FL. Another individual was also arrested in South Florida. Both were arrested on charges related to their alleged role in the breach of the U.S. Capitol on January 6, 2021. The charging documents are sealed until initial appearance. For any further information, please contact the U.S. Attorney for the District of Columbia or check PACER.”

Newark – Received numerous inquiries about the arrest of Timothy Hale-Cusanelli of Colts Neck for his involvement at the Capitol. PAS confirmed the arrest by the FBI Newark Joint Terrorism Task Force and NCIS.

Norfolk – Received significant local media interest in [REDACTED]

b7E -1,2

Omaha – PAO released a press release on the arrest of a Cedar Rapids, Iowa, man on federal charges related to the siege of the Capitol. Several media outlets asked for interviews on the release. PAO declined because of the holiday.

Omaha – Three local media outlets in Iowa asked about billboards asking for tips on the Capitol siege: how many billboards were in Iowa and the cost to the FBI. PAO responded with NPO talking points, including, “by using electronic billboards, the FBI is able to reach the public by using a tool that reaches audiences who might not use social and traditional media. Digital billboard companies are offering the billboard space as a public service. There is no cost to the FBI.”

Washington Field – PAOs fielded scores of media calls from across the country asking to confirm the arrests of multiple subjects associated with the Capitol riots. PAOs confirmed or denied as appropriate and told reporters about DOJ’s “Investigations Regarding Violence at the Capitol” web page.

OTHER LOCAL STORIES

Multiple field offices – Field offices continued to receive media inquiries about expected armed protests in all 50 states and other possible violence. Reporters also asked about security plans for state capitols; some outlets had more specific questions. Boston, El Paso, Indianapolis, Las Vegas, Pittsburgh, Sacramento, Salt Lake City, Seattle, Tampa, and Washington Field reported related inquiries.

Albany – Received multiple follow-up requests for information after reports of FBI activity at two separate locations in Syracuse. PAS provided the standard “court-authorized activity” comment.

Albuquerque – SAC Langenberg provided a quote for a field office news release announcing that FBI Albuquerque and the USAO–District of New Mexico are working with federal, state, and local partners to prepare for any potential violence in New Mexico related to the recent unrest in Washington, D.C., and the upcoming presidential inauguration. Langenberg: “Our focus is not on peaceful protesters, but on those individuals who may want to incite violence and engage in criminal activity. The public can help by contacting us if they are aware of anyone planning to commit acts of violence or damage to government buildings.” The acting U.S. attorney also was quoted.

Boston – Several media outlets asked about tomorrow’s inauguration and if there were any specific or credible threats in our area. PAO provided a written statement using the talking points sent out last week.

Boston – A reporter with WJAR-TV in Providence, Rhode Island, is doing a story tonight about New Bedford Police union’s financial troubles and wanted a comment from the FBI after the police union president told him the FBI is investigating their books. PAO advised that the FBI cannot confirm or deny the existence of an investigation.

Boston/NY – SAC Bonavolonta provided a quote for a press release issued by the USAO–EDNY announcing yesterday’s arrest of Kaveh Lotfolah Afrasiabi, of Watertown, Massachusetts, for allegedly acting as an unregistered agent of the Iranian government. Reporters were referred to charging documents and the press release. Bonavolonta: “Our arrest of Kaveh Afrasiabi makes it clear that the United States is not going to allow undeclared agents of Iran to operate in our country unchecked. For more than a decade, Mr. Afrasiabi was allegedly paid, directed, and controlled by the Government of Iran to lobby U.S. government officials, including a Congressman; and to create and disseminate information favorable to the Iranian government. The FBI will continue to do everything it can to uncover these hidden efforts and hold accountable those who work for our adversaries to the detriment of our national security.” Sweeney: “Anyone working to advance the agenda of a foreign government within the United States is required by law to register as an agent of that country. Mr. Afrasiabi never disclosed to a congressman, journalists or others who hold roles of influence in our country that he was being paid by the Iranian government to paint an untruthfully positive picture of the nation. Our laws are designed to create transparency in foreign relations, and they are not arbitrary or malleable. As today’s action demonstrates, we will fully enforce them to protect our national security.”

Buffalo – A local anchor with Rochester station WROC-TV interviewed ASAC Bell for a story about the FBI’s role in investigating hate and extremist groups. Story will air Friday during the anchor’s weekly series called, “Adam Interviews.” The request for the interview came in mid-December but was delayed due to the holidays.

Detroit – The NBC affiliate interviewed PAO about fake COVID-19 vaccines. PAO provided warning signs of potential vaccine distribution scams and encouraged anyone interested in obtaining the vaccine to contact their preferred healthcare provider, their county health department, or the Michigan State Department of Health with questions about vaccine availability or to schedule appointments. The story aired yesterday.

Detroit – A Columbus, Ohio, TV affiliate interviewed SA Callaghan about the felony lane gang, which commits theft, ID theft, and additional crimes. Callaghan discussed Detroit's efforts to prosecute members of the gang and the ongoing efforts by the FBI and law enforcement agencies across the country to bring these thieves to justice. The story airs this evening.

El Paso – Received media inquiries about two National Guardsmen that were removed from the Inaugural detail due to ties to extreme right groups. PAO declined comment and referred inquiries to the National Press Office.

El Paso – SAC Quesada participated in a Skype FBI interview about the press release sent out last Friday about public safety and threats to the El Paso AOR. Quesada discussed FBI El Paso's posture locally and in Midland, the FBI's stance on peaceful protests and the First Amendment, tips received, individuals arrested for the insurgence at the U.S. Capitol, domestic terrorism, and where members of the community can submit tips to the FBI. The interview was conducted in English and Spanish for the El Paso, Las Cruces, Midland/Odessa, and Juarez markets and will air today.

Indianapolis – After receiving media inquiries about security threats in Indiana stemming from the Inauguration and the Jan. 6 incident at the Capitol Division, FBI Indianapolis issued this statement: "FBI Indianapolis, along with every FBI field office, remains on high alert regarding any threats targeting the Inauguration, as well as any threats stemming from the Jan. 6 attack on the U.S. Capitol. For Indiana, we have no direct, articulable, or credible threat targeting the state; however this could change at any moment, so we remain vigilant. The public is reminded that if you see something, say something. Submit any information about real or potential threats of violence at any upcoming demonstrations or events by calling 1-800-CALL-FBI or online at tips.fbi.gov."

Las Vegas – The NBC affiliate interviewed SAC Rouse about violent protest concerns in the Las Vegas area. Rouse stressed partnerships with our law enforcement partners and sharing intelligence. He also emphasized the importance of the public's response to our request to be participants in their own public safety by identifying those involved in the assault on law enforcement officers at the U.S. Capitol. The segment will air tonight.

Miami – Miami helped the Pembroke Pines PD with a kidnapping investigation Sunday that resulted in the arrest of the subject, Jaddier Sanchez, and the recovery of the 18-year-old victim. Miami assisted with publicity by amplifying PPPD messages through Twitter, supporting their press conference, and responding to numerous press queries.

Pittsburgh – KDKA Radio and WPXI asked SAC Christman about preparations locally ahead of the Inauguration this week. Christman stressed our coordination with state and local partners, our 24/7 command post, and that as of right now there are no credible threats in our area. He encouraged people to be vigilant and say something if they see something.

Pittsburgh – The Tribune newspaper asked about our local city council considering legislation to ban no-knock warrants and what impact that would have on federal cases. We deferred to USAO–Western District of Pennsylvania, which did not have a comment on pending legislation.

Sacramento – SAC Ragan participated in Zoom and telephonic interviews in the Bakersfield, Fresno, Sacramento, and Chico/Redding markets on Friday to reinforce the messaging of the statement issued Thursday about violence. Ragan reiterated thanks to the public for continued support and tips about violence and criminal activity and threats of either in the Sacramento AOR. Ragan also stressed the ongoing collaboration with local, state, and federal law enforcement partners to help keep the communities we serve safe. Ragan declined to comment about specific individuals who reside in the Sacramento AOR—named by the press—who may have been involved in the incidents at the U.S. capitol.

Salt Lake City – An Idaho reporter asked if the FBI has received any intelligence about protests or threats of violence at the Idaho Capitol tomorrow. PAO provided a statement based on NPO-approved talking points and directed the reporter to Director Wray's remarks on inauguration security.

Salt Lake City – An ESPN producer asked for any FBI records related to the 2003 felony enticement case against Melvin Shawn Rowland. In 2018, Rowland fatally shot University of Utah student Lauren McClusky before fleeing from authorities and killing himself. PAO directed the producer to FOIA.

b7E -5,8

San Juan – Last Wednesday, the FBI San Juan VCAC squad conducted the exigent circumstances arrest of a man who sexually abused his 8-month-old daughter and shared images of the abuse online through a KIK chat. [REDACTED] subject was in custody. VC and VCAC SSA Burdick gave coordinated interviews to Telenoticias (Telemundo) and Noticentro (WAPA), both of which aired Friday. The interviews generated interest in the incident and PAO drafted and issued a press release Saturday in coordination with the USAO–District of Puerto Rico.

Seattle – The CBS affiliate interviewed ASAC Nichols about the local perspective related to the Capitol violence on Jan. 6, to highlight the importance of FBI Seattle's law enforcement partnerships, and to amplify the tips line to help gather information from the public.

Seattle – Over the weekend, FBI Seattle fielded multiple inquiries and participated in a press conference with the Seattle Police Department about a bomb threat near the Seattle field office. On Saturday afternoon, the driver of a pick-up truck pulled up outside the FBI office and said there was a bomb inside. Seattle Police Department took the subject into custody. Explosives were not found in the truck. Acting SAC Camp made remarks at the press conference, thanking our partners and addressed a question regarding the Bureau's posture ahead of the inauguration.

Tampa – A reporter with an Orlando newspaper asked about FBI Tampa's posture for the inauguration. PAS provided the approved language from NPO and emphasized the importance of public cooperation with law enforcement in exposing potential threats of violence.

Washington Field – Received requests from cable news networks asking for WFO executives to go on air to discuss FBI vetting of National Guard members, inauguration prep, and Capitol riots investigative updates. All requests were declined for the near term. Also, WFO and NPO worked on multiple media requests today about the FBI's role in name checks of National Guard members serving on the inauguration security detail.

Washington Field – PAOs provided a quote from ADIC D'Antuono for a news release issued by the acting U.S. attorney from the Eastern District of Virginia about inauguration security: "FBI agents, analysts, and professional staff are working around the clock with our partners to identify, investigate, and respond to any threats that might arise in the National Capital Region. While the FBI respects the rights of individuals to peacefully exercise their First Amendment rights, those who wish to use this freedom to instigate violent and destructive behavior will not be tolerated and will be held to account for their unlawful actions."

Hey [REDACTED]—

The Marshals Service has a program for crisis counseling, mental health services etc where deputies are deployed in the aftermath of terrible events (shootout where DUSMs or TFOs are killed, suicide of an officer, etc). This is not EAP, more so law enforcement trained to handle crisis services for other law enforcement officers. Does the FBI have a program like this and if so, who is the POC? The Capitol Police are grappling with handling the aftermath of Wednesday's events and I've been asked to reach to my agencies to pass along any POCs who might be able to assist with connections to other resources.

Thanks!

MURIEL BOWSER
MAYOR

January 5, 2021

The Honorable Jeffery Rosen
Acting United States Attorney General
950 Pennsylvania Ave, NW
Washington, DC 20530

The Honorable Ryan D. McCarthy
Secretary of the Army
101 Army Pentagon
Washington, DC 20310

The Honorable Chris Miller
Acting Secretary of Defense
1000 Defense Pentagon
Washington, DC 20301

Dear Acting Attorney General Rosen, Secretary McCarthy, and Acting Secretary Miller:

As the law enforcement agency charged with protecting residents and visitors throughout the District of Columbia, the Metropolitan Police Department (MPD) is prepared for this week's First Amendment activities. MPD has coordinated with its federal partners, namely the US Park Police, US Capitol Police and the US Secret Service—all of whom regularly have uniformed personnel protecting federal assets in the District of Columbia. This week, MPD has additional logistical support of unarmed members of the DC National Guard, who will work under the direction of, and in coordination with, MPD.

The District of Columbia Government has not requested personnel from any other federal law enforcement agencies. To avoid confusion, we ask that any request for additional assistance be coordinated using the same process and procedures.

We are mindful that in 2020, MPD was expected to perform the demanding tasks of policing large crowds while working around unidentifiable personnel deployed in the District of Columbia without proper coordination. Unidentifiable personnel—in many cases, armed—caused confusion among residents and visitors and could become a national security threat with no way for MPD and federal law enforcement to decipher armed groups.

To be clear, the District of Columbia is not requesting other federal law enforcement personnel and discourages any additional deployment without immediate notification to, and consultation with, MPD if such plans are underway. The protection of persons and property is our utmost concern and responsibility. MPD is well trained and prepared to lead the law enforcement, coordination and response to allow for the peaceful demonstration of First Amendment rights in the District of Columbia.

Sincerely,

Mayor

BLUF: the NYT is likely to run a story this weekend criticizing POTUS and the former AG for stoking fear over ANTIFA, and contributing to the violence of January 6th. OPA expects them to cite DOJ and FBI officials' objections to federal resources being diverted towards it as opposed to focusing on the higher priority, RMVE threat. Additionally, the NYT may posit that the violence of 1/6 is in part due to LEO being "distracted" and "missing" the real threat. The NYT did not ask for a comment from OPA, and at this time OPA does not believe that FBI officials will be named.

Additional background:

- The NYT will likely dedicate specific attention to the amount of federal resources dedicated to combatting violence and criminal activity in Summer 2020.
 - They will probably cite public congressional testimony by the D and other officials that clearly identifies RMVE as the FBI's priority DT threat, and juxtapose that against "resources being surged to protect statues."
 - In particular, they could draw a comparison between "command posts being stood up to protect statues" vs. LEO preparations ahead of and presence on 1/6.
 - While OPA does not think this will be included in the final piece, the NYT did make mention--as a relevant illustration of a misalignment of threat priorities--of a reference the DD made to 9/11 in a Summer 2020 email sent to the field.
- However, they are likely to characterize the activity of Summer 2020 as being directed by the former AG, and note that several DOJ and FBI officials voiced their objections and concern. They could also characterize this as a rare politicization of the national security branches of both DOJ and FBI.
- Re: POTUS, they may cite reports of 1/6 protestors claiming they were fighting against ANTIFA as evidence that POTUS's rhetoric in part fueled the violence seen on 1/6.

External SITREP

Jan6SitRep-FINAL.docx

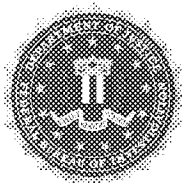

Good evening,

Please find attached the 6 January 2021 National Crisis Coordination Center SITREP related to the violence associated with lawful protests.

Please note that this document is Unclassified//~~Law Enforcement Sensitive~~ (U//~~LES~~) and should be shared accordingly with law enforcement, intelligence, and homeland security partners.

Thank you.

(U) National Crisis Coordination Center Update: Preventing Violence and Criminal Activity, January 2021

1900 6 JANUARY 2021

(U//~~LES~~) This update was compiled by the Joint Inter-Agency National Crisis Coordination Center in the FBI Strategic Information Operations Center. Information is accurate as of 1500 EST on 6 January 2021. The following agencies contributed to the development of this SITREP: ATF, DOD, DOJ, DHS, and USMS. Responses provided after the cut-off time will be included in the next SITREP.

(U) The information marked (U//~~LES~~) in this document is the property of the FBI and may be distributed within the Federal Government (and its contractors), U.S. intelligence, law enforcement, public safety or protection officials, and individuals with a need to know. Distribution beyond these entities without FBI authorization is prohibited. Precautions should be taken to ensure this information is stored and/or destroyed in a manner that precludes unauthorized access. Information bearing the ~~LES~~ caveat may not be used in legal proceedings without first receiving authorization from the originating agency. Recipients are prohibited from subsequently posting the information marked ~~LES~~ on a website or an unclassified network.

(U//~~LES~~) Under FBI policy and federal law, no investigative activity may be based solely on First Amendment activity. The FBI does not investigate, collect, or maintain information on U.S. persons solely for the purpose of monitoring activities protected by the First Amendment. Moreover, the FBI will "maintain no record describing how an individual exercises rights guaranteed by the First Amendment unless expressly authorized by statute or by the individual about whom the record is maintained or unless pertinent to and within the scope of an authorized law enforcement activity." Privacy Act of 1974, section (e)(7).

(U//~~LES~~) DIOG Appendix I further restricts the collection of information regarding First Amendment protected activity: the FBI may only collect information relating to the exercise of a First Amendment right if (1) the collection is logically related to an authorized investigative purpose, (2) the collection does not materially interfere with the ability of an individual or a group to engage in the exercise of constitutionally protected rights, and (3) the method of collection is the least intrusive alternative that is reasonable, based upon the circumstances of the investigation. Respondents are reminded that information including tweets, Facebook posts, and "likes" are First Amendment protected speech and "following" and "friending" on social media may be an exercise of the First Amendment freedom of association. The collection of such information therefore requires human review to determine it is pertinent to and within the scope of an authorized law enforcement activity.

(U//~~LES~~) Within this legal, and policy framework, the information requested from field offices in this communication is intended to provide timely information to appropriate law enforcement and/or public safety personnel who are authorized to protect facilities, personnel, and the public from imminent threats of violent and/or criminal activity. This document is meant as a summary of significant investigative highlights and NOT as a comprehensive review of ongoing investigations. The information contained in this communication is NOT to be incorporated into any formal or informal written document nor further disseminated without the authorization of the FBI Headquarters, SIOC. Unauthorized use of this information may jeopardize sensitive national security and/or criminal investigations, result in the possible identification and/or physical harm of human sources, or create undue notification into the FBI's interest of intended targets.

(U) This communication is intended to provide timely information to appropriate law enforcement and/or public safety personnel who are authorized to protect facilities, personnel, and the public from imminent threats of violent and/or criminal activity. It is related to and within the scope of an authorized law enforcement investigation or investigative activity. Under FBI policy and federal law, no investigative activity may be based solely on First Amendment activity. The FBI does not investigate, collect, or maintain information on U.S. persons solely for the purpose of monitoring activities protected by the First Amendment.

Happy New Year! Welcome to 2021!

I would like to check in about the 6 January planned First Amendment events that:

- 1) Nobody is tracking any credible threat information at this stage;
- 2) And local LE should have it well in hand.
- 3) Is there any additional info we should know?

Boss:

Just wanted to let you know that during the FBI press conference that just took place, ADIC Dantuono told anyone watching that if they were at the capitol and wanted to call the FBI to let us know that they were there, they could do so. If you had any part in making sure that they did so based on my e-mail below, thanks. I do think that we'll see more self-surrenders or calls by people who had no idea that things would turn out the way that they did.....Mike

Great points Mike. Have you talked to Hale about point #1.. the AG is giving a presser today and not sure what input we have but may be worth floating to him and for Jill in CTD on point #2. They have a ton of wanted posters out on folks of interest in the capitol too.. give Jill a shout and see what [REDACTED] can do on that front

Also, last night there was [REDACTED] on [REDACTED] by the name of [REDACTED] was telling [REDACTED] that he has been doing extensive reporting about [REDACTED] etc and he could help police probably identify a lot of the people committing crimes in the capitol riot because he has done stories on them as they've moved across the country. I think it would be worth a lead to have someone talk to him.

Let me know if you need me to do anything else regarding this e-mail.....Mike

In light of the most current information re the investigation of Officer Sicknick's death, we may need to re-consider the wording in our sitreps. The most recent one says "related to the killing of Capital Police Officer...." Maybe go with "the death of...."

TRANSITORY RECORD

Colleagues,

Good morning. In addition to the information provided during this week's ALL SAC call, I wanted to ensure you had the attached talking points, which I apologize for not getting to you earlier. One is written in a script form and one in more of a bullet format. Feel free to reference these and use them to guide your discussions with your JTTF executive partners. Additionally, these are the talking points both myself and the DD have used on the Hill, so they would be appropriate for conversations with the members in your AOR.

All- I just wanted to pass on the information from DD from quick closeout....

- [REDACTED] are tracking request from [REDACTED] and will have it covered... no further action needed.
- Definitely start thinking about visuals/charts/timelines that can be built out and updated with the data we are getting. Charts and pictures definitely provide easy snapshot for executives. b7E -1,5,13
- EAD is asking if we can add info from WFO regarding [REDACTED] etc. Although they are canceling and cutting back inauguration events, are we still seeing large numbers coming to the NCR. Can we add this info to the executive summary in the morning?
- Can we work out the visual from [REDACTED] I know this is a 101 for the users but need to ensure all are aware of [REDACTED]
- The hard request is to try to determine sentiment/intent.... Are we seeing any potential movements catching fire.... Are there flashpoints that occur and could spread. The DD has tactical responsibility for US and wants to be able to make decision on surging or adjusting resources.
- EAD is good with mid-day email of updates to himself and Stanley.... Make sure to include Di lead in CP as well as DI DADs and above to update for shared awareness.
- Admin is getting an EAN for anyone that will be working CP and may have difficulty getting in and out of the city. I would like exec staff team to make those reservations for those making the decision to stay at hotel in an effort to not burden those working the CP.
- EAD asked if we want to assign an IA to be with Stan Meador over the next week to ensure we are prepping/obtaining material that the DD needs. I think it is a good idea as I believe it will make are job easier and save time on requests.

All for now....

Hey Boss

FYI on the below from our briefer [REDACTED] The OPE (LES) version of the sitrep for Jan 11 was picked up by the PDB briefers and they (the other briefers) want to be able to see and brief to their principles. I told [REDACTED] to go forward with today (with yesterday's version) for the principles. It is not the internal version, only the OPE version that is scaled down. It would be good to keep the principles up to speed. If you or others feel different please advise.

FYI - House briefing moved to 1pm. We can dial in from JEH. Looks like the call is time limited so thaya helpful, but I would block 1-2p just in case. I recommend the DD cut his remarks to a minute max or just offer to answer questions and not give opening comments.

Thanks for being so flexible and accommodating this week.

Thanks.

(U) National Crisis Coordination Center Update: Preventing Violence and Criminal Activity January 2021

1700 16 JANUARY 2021

(U//~~LES~~) This update was compiled by the Joint Inter-Agency National Crisis Coordination Center in the FBI Strategic Information Operations Center. Information is accurate as of 1400 EST on 16 January 2021. The following agencies contributed to the development of this SITREP: ATF, DEA, DOD, DOJ, DHS, US Park Police, and USMS. Responses provided after the cut-off time will be included in the next SITREP.

(U) The information marked (U//~~LES~~) in this document is the property of the FBI and may be distributed within the Federal Government (and its contractors), U.S. intelligence, law enforcement, public safety or protection officials, and individuals with a need to know. Distribution beyond these entities without FBI authorization is prohibited. Precautions should be taken to ensure this information is stored and/or destroyed in a manner that precludes unauthorized access. Information bearing the ~~(U//LES)~~ caveat may not be used in legal proceedings without first receiving authorization from the originating agency. Recipients are prohibited from subsequently posting the information marked ~~(U//LES)~~ on a website or an unclassified network.

(U//~~LES~~) Under FBI policy and federal law, no investigative activity may be based solely on First Amendment activity. The FBI does not investigate, collect, or maintain information on U.S. persons solely for the purpose of monitoring activities protected by the First Amendment. Moreover, the FBI will "maintain no record describing how an individual exercises rights guaranteed by the First Amendment unless expressly authorized by statute or by the individual about whom the record is maintained or unless pertinent to and within the scope of an authorized law enforcement activity." Privacy Act of 1974, section (c)(7)

(U//~~LES~~) ~~DOJ~~ Appendix I further restricts the collection of information regarding First Amendment protected activity: the FBI may only collect information relating to the exercise of a First Amendment right if (1) the collection is logically related to an authorized investigative purpose, (2) the collection does not materially interfere with the ability of an individual or a group to engage in the exercise of constitutionally protected rights, and (3) the method of collection is the least intrusive alternative that is reasonable, based upon the circumstances of the investigation. Respondents are reminded that information including tweets, Facebook posts, and "likes" are First Amendment protected speech and "following" and "friending" on social media may be an exercise of the First Amendment freedom of association. The collection of such information therefore requires human review to determine it is pertinent to and within the scope of an authorized law enforcement activity.

(U//~~LES~~) Within this legal, and policy framework, the information requested from field offices in this communication is intended to provide timely information to appropriate law enforcement and/or public safety personnel who are authorized to protect facilities, personnel, and the public from imminent threats of violent and/or criminal activity. This document is meant as a summary of significant investigative highlights and NOT as a comprehensive review of ongoing investigations. The information contained in this communication is NOT to be incorporated into any formal or informal written document nor further disseminated without the authorization of the FBI Headquarters, SIOC. Unauthorized use of this information may jeopardize sensitive national security and/or criminal investigations, result in the possible identification and/or physical harm of human sources or create undue notification into the FBI's interest of intended targets.

(U) This communication is intended to provide timely information to appropriate law enforcement and/or public safety personnel who are authorized to protect facilities, personnel, and the public from imminent threats of violent and/or criminal activity. It is related to and within the scope of an authorized law enforcement investigation or investigative activity. Under FBI policy and federal law, no investigative activity may be based solely on First Amendment activity. The FBI does not investigate, collect, or maintain information on U.S. persons solely for the purpose of monitoring activities protected by the First Amendment.

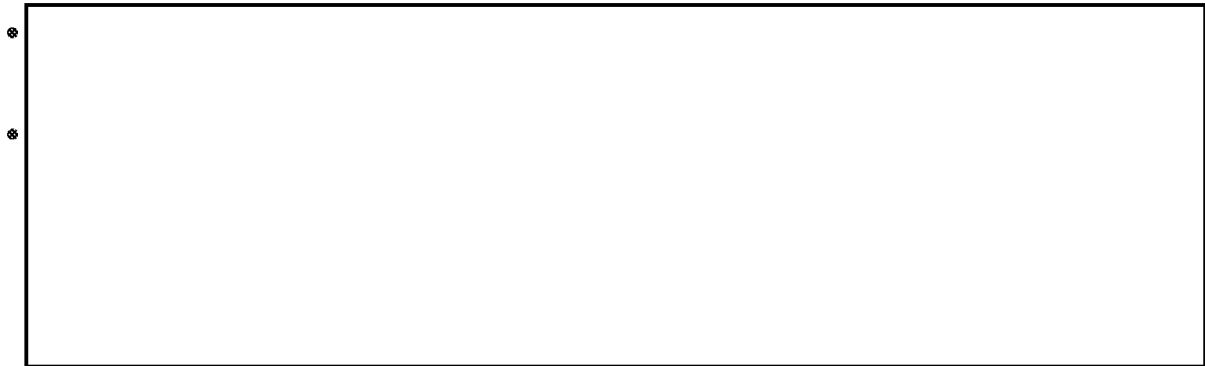

(U) National Crisis Coordination Center (NC3) Executive Summary

(U//~~FOUO~~) THE FBI, IN CLOSE COORDINATION WITH ITS FEDERAL, STATE, AND LOCAL PARTNERS, CONTINUES TO MONITOR AND RESPOND TO EVENTS RELATED TO THE VIOLENCE ASSOCIATED WITH LAWFUL PROTESTS.

While we have no intelligence indicating an insider threat, we are leaving no stone unturned in securing the capital. This type of vetting often takes place for significant security events – particularly when individuals are in proximity to the President. However, in this case the scope of military participation is unique. The D.C. National Guard is also providing additional training to service members as they arrive in D.C. that if they see or hear something that is not appropriate, they should report it to their chain of command. We appreciate the support of the FBI in assisting with this task and for each of the more than 25,000 Guardsmen who answered their Nation's call and rapidly deployed to the NCR."

Thank you Jill,

If you want to proceed with this, my office will be happy to offer some options to them on dates/times. We can also handle the location. VP-E has been working out of the Commerce Transition space. We could request a virtual brief to save you, or your representative, time.

Please allow me to coordinate your response so we can adequately document the interaction.
