GENERAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION

This concerns a boarding incident which took place 12/13/72, wherein Wilt Chamberlain, Los Angeles Laker basketball team star, made inflammatory remarks prior to boarding a Trans World Airlines (TWA) flight on route from Chicago, Illinois, to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. These remarks were brought about after a lengthy plane delay, and the passengers being subjected to a pre-boarding screening by Customs Security Officers. Customs Air Security Supervisor told Officers at gate no violation and to advise TWA officials of remarks and verify that TWA did not regard remarks as threat to aircraft. TWA Passenger's Service representative on scene advised and requested to speak with Chamberlain and Laker's coach relative to the remarks he had made. Chamberlain, when confronted in jetway, became belligerent, used profane and obscene language and left the boarding area. Chamberlain subsequently flew to Philadelphia via United Airlines. U. S. Customs did not notify Chicago Office at time of incident since they did not consider remarks possible violation. There were no Bureau Agents present at time of incident. FAA aware of incident. Chicago Office instructed to present facts to United States Attorney, Chicago, Illinois, for prosecutive opinion.

Tall Story: F.B.I. Finds A 7-Foot Hijack Suspect

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 13 (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers center, Wilt Chamberlain, got into a squabble with Trans World Airline officials and Federal agents in Chicago today after making a remark about a gun.

While the rest of the team flew on to Philadelphia for tonight's National Basketball Association game with the 76ers, Chamberlain took a later flight on another airline.

T.W.A. officials and a reporter traveling with the team said the Lakers were delayed about three hours in Chicago — where they had defeated the Bulls, 106-105 Tuesday night — because their plane had mechanical troubles. Another plane was obtained and as the players lined up in the boarding area, a Federal customs agent searching their duffel bags said, "I know you guys are O.K., but I have to do this."

Chamberlain said he then commented to Jerry West, "the way I feel right now, if I had a gun in my bag, I might shoot somebody."

The center said he boarded the plane and 10 minutes later a T.W.A. agent came on and asked him to step outside, where he said, Federal Bureau of Investigation agent accused him of talking about hijacking. Other agents cleared him, he said but he retrieved his bags from the plane and left to catch another.

A T.W.A. spokesman confirmed that he left voluntarily.

Chamberlain said he was annoyed not only with the handling of that situation but also with a previous T.W.A. incident that he said caused him to miss playing in a benefit game in New York.

He said he had no quarrel with anti-hijacking procedures as such.

"I fly 500,000 miles a year and I appreciate the fact these guys have to do this job," he said.

TWA Pulls Chamberlain

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 13 (AP) — Los Angeles Lakers center Wilt Chamberlain squabbled with Trans World Airline officials and federal agents in Chicago today after making a remark about having a gun.

While the rest of the team flew on to Philadelphia for last night's game with the 76ers, Chamberlain took a later flight on another airline.

TWA officials and a reporter traveling with the team said the Lakers were delayed about three hours in Chicago because their plane had mechanical troubles.

Finally, another plane was obtained and, as players lined up in the boarding area, a federal customs agent searching their duffel bags said, "I know you guys are okay, but I have to do this."

Chamberlain said he himself then commented to Jerry West, "The way I feel right now, if I had a gun in my bag, I might shoot somebody."

Chamberlain said he boarded the plane, but 10 minutes later a TWA agent came on and asked him to step outside where an FBI man accused him of talking about hijacking. However, other agents cleared him, he said, but he retrieved his bags from the plane and left to catch another.

A TWA spokesman confirmed that he left voluntarily.

Chamberlain said he was annoyed not only with the handling of that situation but also with a previous TWA incident which he said caused him to miss playing in a benefit game in New York.

Chamberlain said he had no quarrel with anti-hijacking procedures as such.

Logical informants of the Las Vegas Office have been contacted in an effort to determine if they have any knowledge of anyone "placing an order" outside of Las Vegas for any large amount of money which would substantiate the allegation concerning bets made [REDACTED] CHAMBERLAIN. No substantiation has been developed by the Las Vegas Office and further the informants contacted have advised that no large amounts of money were bet on the Lakers in the Las Vegas area.

On November 2, 1966, [redacted] advised that during the previous week he heard rumors of a possible "fix" concerning the Philadelphia-Boston Celtics basketball game which occurred October 29, 1966, at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Informant stated he received this information from [redacted]

[redacted] indicated to informant that word had been received prior to the game that Philadelphia was to win. The point spread during the week was Philadelphia and five points. On the evening of the game, the game was "off the boards" in Boston except that bets were being accepted on the Boston Celtics. Informant noted that contrary to the usual procedure, Boston bookmakers [redacted] who were "in the know," were not laying off bets on the Celtics but were "pocketing them."

Informant advised on November 3, 1966, that he had received information through [redacted] WILT CHAMBERLAIN had bet on the above-mentioned game in New York. Informant also learned through [redacted] Philadelphia but either [redacted] or this amount was for [redacted] Boston Celtics [redacted]

Informant was advised to closely follow this matter and attempt to learn of any additional attempts to either shave points or throw games, particularly the Philadelphia - Boston Celtics game scheduled at the Boston Garden on Saturday, November 5, 1966.

was quoted as saying, "They'll say RUSSELL is slipping on defense." CHAMBERLAIN thought RUSSELL played "wonderful" game. CHAMBERLAIN played 42 minutes, got four out of seven field goal tries, five out of ten foul tries for thirteen points. Made 31 rebounds, nine assists. RUSSELL played 41 minutes, got four of eleven field goal tries, four of seven foul tries for twelve points. Made 19 rebounds, five assists. For Boston, SAM JONES was out with injury and HAVLICEK out after 22 minutes with injury.

In reporting game of 11/5/66 at Boston, the "Bulletin" said Boston defense crowded front court making pass-offs from CHAMBERLAIN impossible. GREER got nine points and WALKER nine, for Philadelphia. CHAMBERLAIN forced to shoot and in 47 minutes got 8 of 16 field goal tries, 10 of 22 foul tries for 26 points. Made 23 rebounds, 3 assists. HAVLICEK and SAM JONES each scored 29 points for Boston.

The "Bulletin" also pointed out Philadelphia played St. Louis at Pittsburgh on 11/3/66, San Francisco at Philadelphia, on 11/4/66, and Boston at Boston, on 11/5/66, with Philadelphia reportedly showing effects of three games in three nights in three different places.

New Haven, New Orleans, New York and Philadelphia are requested to immediately contact logical sources, specifically informant [redacted] and informant [redacted] concerning all information they have regarding the opening line and all changes up to game time on Philadelphia - Boston Celtics games of October 29, 1966 and November 5, 1966.

It should be noted the Boston opening line for the October 29th game, which was played in Philadelphia, favored Philadelphia by six points. Then, a rumor circulated that CHAMBERLAIN was not going to play because of a leg injury and the line quickly dropped from 6 to 5 to 4. The game went off the boards two hours before game time. The Boston informant who reported this information based same on [redacted]

It is to be further noted that CHAMBERLAIN did play the game but wore a leg brace.

b2/b7c
According to the same informant, the November 5th game, which was played in Boston, had no significant point change. [redacted]

Philadelphia - [redacted] in favor of [redacted]

It is believed that any significant change in point spread, not attributable to the injury of a key player or other legitimate reason, would indicate an abnormal amount of money was being played to change the odds. Thus, the change in odds by the wagering of an abnormal amounts of money might indicate or substantiate a possible fix.

The feasibility of suggested interviews of WILT CHAMBERLAIN, [redacted] is not recommended at this time, pending receipt of national line information by this office.

It is suggested the Bureau consider the feasibility of obtaining on a weekly basis the opening lines and closing lines on all national pro sporting events for each week since such information, barring weather and key injuries or other legitimate reasons, might indicate or suggest a fix. It should be noted that when these offices furnish any specific point spread change, they should also offer a reason for the point spread if same is known - such as, injury to a key player.

Boston will continue to follow closely the activity of above-named subjects.

[redacted] should be so directed as to insure that any information coming to his attention concerning wagering activity on the part of Chamberlain, [redacted] or any other member of the Celtics or opposing teams, is immediately furnished you. Additionally, inquiry should be made of this informant as to whether he has any knowledge that [redacted] performance is or has been such as to effect the outcome of any particular game in which he plays.

As you know, the fact that players bet on a game or games in which they are involved, does not in itself constitute a violation of the Sports Bribery statute. The Bureau; however, desires to be furnished any information concerning wagering activity on the part of those engaged in professional sports. As you know, it is extremely important that the Bureau be advised in the event information is received indicating that an individual or individuals in any way offered a bribe in connection with the outcome of a particular athletic contest.

[REDACTED] WILT CHAMBERLAIN, the well known professional basketball player.

[REDACTED] a very important game was played involving the Philadelphia team, and there was a considerable amount of gambling money paid on the game. CHAMBERLAIN is alleged to have twisted his knee in practice just prior to the game or the day before the game. This resulted in a very poor performance during the game. As a result of CHAMBERLAIN's poor performance a heavily one-sided score was made against Philadelphia. As a result of this score, much gambling money is alleged to have changed hands.

While reviewing hotel registration records at Caesars Palace on 3/21/68 on an unrelated matter [REDACTED] reviewed a list reflecting complimentary (free) guests at Caesars Palace during January, 1968. Although this list was not made available for review by SA [REDACTED] it was noted that the name WILT CHAMBERLAIN [REDACTED] (probably Philadelphia 76ers) appeared on the complimentary list as guests of the hotel during January.

Philadelphia is requested to attempt to verify a professional basketball game occurring wherein CHAMBERLAIN played while injured resulting in a one-sided score. Contact reliable sources in an attempt to determine if any information can be developed regarding a sports bribery on the part of the subjects.

FROM: SAC, PHILADELPHIA (172-12) (C)

SUBJECT: [REDACTED]

WILTS CHAMBERLAIN
POSSIBLE SPORTS BRIBERY

ON 2/12/68 [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] telephonically advised the Philadelphia Office that [REDACTED] (previously reported as [REDACTED]) had information concerning [REDACTED] CHAMBERLAIN which may be of interest to the Bureau.

[REDACTED] advised on 2/14/68, that [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] Philadelphia "76 ers" team play in the National Basketball Association (NBA).

He furnished the following:

In June 1968, [REDACTED]

CHAMBERLAIN [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] further advised that on 2/9/68, the "76 ers" were at Madison Square Garden, New York, playing the New York "Knickerbockers". The "76 ers" were defeated by a large score and CHAMBERLAIN complained of a bad knee and indicated to the press that he would probably not be able to play against the St. Louis Hawks in Miami, Fla.,
